ASSEMBLES FACE SPLIT ON SOCIAL SERVICE

Objection to National Protestant Platform May Act as Bar to Presbyterian Marger.

By REV. CHARLES STEZLE. Will the Southern Presbyterian assembly organically unite with other Presbyterian denominations and other fraternal relationships with all other protestants? This is the question which its commission probably will be compelled to answer while the Assembly is in session in Atlanta. There is little doubt that the Southern Assembly will combine with the United Presbyterian Church, but it is possible that it will have no connection with the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America. The Federal Council included practically the combined Protestant forces of the United States, representing 80 different denominations, which have a membership of over 100,000,000. One of the chief reasons for those who favor the separation is their objection to the social service platform adopted by the Federal Council.

Another small consideration of importance was that Miss Margaret Wyatt, of Pittsfield, Mass., who formerly was employed at the social factory, was employed at the social factory. Another small consideration of importance was that Miss Margaret Wyatt, of Pittsfield, Mass., who formerly was employed at the social factory, was employed at the social factory.

When asked later what the basis of the report that Detective Burns was coming to Atlanta to take charge of the investigation, Detective Burns declared that he had absolutely no knowledge of the report. He stated that he had been in the city for some time and had been in the city for some time and had been in the city for some time.

The Grand Jury probably will hold an extra session this week to discuss the Phagan case when it is presented by Solicitor General Hugh M. Thayer. The Grand Jury probably will hold an extra session this week to discuss the Phagan case when it is presented by Solicitor General Hugh M. Thayer.

NEW THEORY IS OFFERED IN PHAGAN MYSTERY

Detectors Not Centering All Their Efforts on Frank and Lee Now.

Detectors in the Phagan mystery are not centering all their efforts upon Frank and Lee. New theories have been advanced, new clues examined and every possible theory is being investigated. It was because of these rumors on the streets today that a report was spread that an entirely new lead was being followed by Detective Dorsey that might eliminate both Frank and Lee.

There are no developments so far, he said, which would tend to avert the prosecution from its present course. The case of the two men held will be placed before the Grand Jury as soon as the evidence against them can be properly shaped, unless other developments justify a change. New Theory Investigated.

SHRINE MEET CONCEDED TO ATLANTA BOOSTERS

Barring Tennessee, Every State Bordering on Georgia Wants Gate City to Land Council.

By JAMES B. NEVIN. DALLAS, TEXAS, May 13.—Forrest Adler filed with the Imperial Council today official notification from Atlanta for next year's session from Governor Brown, Governor-elect Stanton, Mayor Woodward, the City of Atlanta, Transportation University and Piedmont Driving Clubs and many other social and business organizations and persons in Atlanta.

There seems to be nothing left that might have been done to induce Atlanta's winning the bid price of the session in Dallas. About the Atlantic and vicinity is generally conceded that Atlanta will win.

The parade of the petitioners to-day, securing the Imperial Council to Atlanta, was about 100 persons. The petitioners to-day, securing the Imperial Council to Atlanta, was about 100 persons.

At the Texas session, the only plan of interest to the public was the election of William W. Lewis, of Wheeling, 35-year-old Imperial Council member, as president for the next year. He will preside in Atlanta and he left today that the fact was particularly gratifying to him.

ATLANTA LEADER IN SHRINE RACE TWO TO ONE

South Backs Gate City in Fight for 1914 Council—Decision Tomorrow

Glendale (Hutchison) have been placed in hands here, I never get the fight for Atlanta, and when the end is made up and passed around, it is in a large share of both, along with Mr. Adair.

Mr. Adair expressed himself to be today as particularly gratified with the help extended the Atlanta movement by the Imperial Commanders.

"I have been a Shrine member for nearly two years, and I have never been so pleased as when I was elected to the office of Imperial Council meeting next year, and I have done that about 100 times since I have been here. I never get a reply that does not make some reference to the great financial support. The Imperial Council seems to be that it is possible of doing anything, no matter how big."

"Don't Worry, Atlanta." In the hotel lobby one sees Atlanta newspapers everywhere. The great Atlanta talk everywhere. The heart 12 hours' haste. Atlanta made to raise the funds for the purchase of nearly $100,000 is talked of by everybody. Whenever I buttonhole a stranger and ask him about that Imperial Council meeting next year, and I have done that about 100 times since I have been here. I never get a reply that does not make some reference to the great financial support. The Imperial Council seems to be that it is possible of doing anything, no matter how big.

Gets Proposal by Phone at Breakfast And Weds by 9 A. M.

To arise hereafter, to receive a proposal before breakfast, to the telephone and to be married 9 o'clock—that's what happened to Miss Emma Wofford, 28 Alaska Avenue, Columbus, Tuesday morning.

Now she is the bride of Dr. John H. Smith, of Douglas, Ga., and her friends are just learning of her marriage.

Dr. Smith and his bride long had been friends, but the subject of matrimony had never come up. When the physician came to Atlanta Monday on a business trip he called Miss Wofford over the telephone and after a few minutes' conversation asked her if she would marry him.

Mrs. Smith formerly was an employee in the Pittsburg Plate Glass Company's Atlanta office.

Advertising Agents Honor Massengale

Mr. H. M. Massengale, head of the Massengale Advertising Agency and one of the best known publicity men in the country, was today elected director at a meeting in Chicago of general advertising agents from throughout the country. Plans were discussed for forming a permanent organization.

Mr. Massengale probably will make arrangements to open a branch office of the Massengale Advertising Agency in Chicago. This job is made necessary by the rapid growth of the largest advertising agencies in the United States.

Wilson and Cabinet Discuss Alien Law; Johnson Will Sign

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The Japanese situation was discussed for the greater part of two hours at the meeting of the President with his Cabinet, but at the conclusion of the conference absolute silence was maintained regarding the subject.

SACRAMENTO, May 12.—A reply by Governor Johnson to the message of Secretary of State Bryan, advising against his action in the California case, was received here today. The Governor announced that he would not discuss the subject until he had replied to Secretary Bryan, which likely would be today.

It is reported that he would sign the Webb anti-alien law bill, but that he would delay action on it until the House bill is passed. It is the State will appeal to the Governor to veto the bill.

In his farewell message to the legislature Governor Johnson said: "I would like to have mentioned the land bill with the others that I consider worthy accomplishments in legislation this session, but I refrained from so doing because it would not be courteous to say anything in advance of my reply to Mr. Bryan's message."

PHOENIX, Ariz., May 12.—An amendment by the Senate to the House anti-alien bill makes it necessary for the measure to be passed on by a conference between the two houses before it is sent to the Governor. It is predicted the conference would agree on the bill today.

The Governor's attitude is not known, although his close friends say he will sign it. It is expected that the House bill of the State will appeal to the Governor to veto the bill.

SENATORS' CLASH ON TARIFF BILL IN BALANCE

Contest Over Open Hearings Indicates Strength of Opponents to Underwood Measure

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The fate of the Underwood tariff bill in the Senate was in the balance today while the Republicans and Democrats debated the bill. The House has already passed the measure to hold open hearings on the measure. The Senate will not vote on the bill until the real strength of the supporters of the Underwood bill is known.

It is on the sugar and wool schedules that the debate is being held. Democratic leaders anxiously watched the debate to see how far the debate would go. The House measure was brought from the floor today. It is expected that the Senate will vote on the bill today.

BIBB GRAND JURY PROBES VICE DISTRICT IN MACON

MACON, Ga., May 12.—The Grand Jury in this town is investigating the restricted district, as the result of a complaint made by Dr. W. N. Adams, former president of Wesleyan University. Dr. Adams, who is chairman of the district, a negro church was forced to abandon the first part of the district, and this fact aroused the ire of the white citizens of the town. ### Smith Reported in Custody at El Paso Report that J. W. Smith, formerly head of the Commercial Loan and Discount Company of Atlanta, is being held in El Paso, Tex., for return to this city to answer charges of embezzlement.

A dispatch from Austin, Tex., tells of the arrest of a Georgia banker. Smith already had honored a requisition for the extradition of Smith and that J. H. Hamilton, the agent of the Fulton County, Ga., authorities, was on a route to El Paso to take charge of the prisoner.

Smith departed suddenly from Atlanta two years ago, leaving the affairs of the Commercial Loan Company in a chaotic condition. It is alleged that he secured large sums of money from the bank during his absence.

Reports of his capture were denied in El Paso.

OUR COUNTRY ABSOLUTELY Requires Forty-Eight Battleships by 1915 to Hold Its Place of Safety.

England carries an unsolved and serious difference with our country over the free passage of American coastwise vessels through our own Panama Canal.

It is impossible to see how our country, in dignity and honor, can meet England's demands along this line.

Japan has sprung a serious issue with our country over the right of California to protect the interests of race and the safety of the citizen by a law regulating the alien and in time hostile ownership of her lands.

Neither England nor Japan would be willing all alone to precipitate a conflict with the United States over the impossible issues they have raised.

In the Far East the myriads of Russia and the millions of Austria and Germany front each other behind the gathering antagonism of Pan-Slavism and Germanism.

Western Europe has just emerged from one of the fiercest and bloodiest wars of history in the Turko-Balkan struggle.

Italy has recently concluded a blood-fought peace with the armies of the Sultan.

The war spirit is in the spirit and blood of nations on both sides the sea.

And yet the American Congress, with an apathy that is blind and with a parsimony that is worse than narrow, refuses to equip the American Navy with strength and power to keep the peace in these tremendous times.

The General Navy Board, without a dissenting voice, makes public its declaration that not one of our thirty-three battleships is ready for war if war should be declared.

France is ready to-morrow with thirty-eight battleships, and Japan holds in instant readiness thirty-six battleships, while England's mighty navy overshadows them all.

For a hundred years no nation has initiated war with England because of England's awe-compelling navy.

THAT ENGLISH NAVY IS THE MIGHTIEST PEACE-MAKER AND PEACE-KEEPER THAT THE WORLD HAS EVER KNOWN.

One hundred years ago it sailed up the Chesapeake and Potomac and burned our capital at Washington.

The Georgian is as ardent an advocate of disarmament and universal peace as any newspaper published in America.

But The Georgian has held, and holds to-day, that as long as other nations build big navies we must build a big navy to keep ourselves sufficiently formidable to discourage attack and to protect ourselves if we are assailed.

But the proposition went unheeded. England and Germany and Japan are building battleships, and the United States must build battleships, too.

The naval experts that we select and pay to tell us what our country needs tell us explicitly that to hold its place of safety OUR COUNTRY ABSOLUTELY REQUIRES TO HAVE FORTY-EIGHT BATTLESHIPS BY 1915.

THEREFORE THIS NEWSPAPER, WHICH IS ABOVE ALL THINGS AN AMERICAN NEWSPAPER, FOR THE AMERICAN PEOPLE, UNHESITATINGLY PLANTS ITSELF IN WHOLE HEARTED AND PERSISTENT ADVOCACY OF FORTY-EIGHT BATTLESHIPS BY 1915.

Rev. John E. White Writes on "Was Pierpont Morgan a Christian?"

He Was as Good a Christian, He Says, as His Circumstances Permitted, But His Training and Environment Were Against Him.

Written for The Georgian By REV. JOHN E. WHITE, Pastor, Second Baptist Church.

Editor of an influential religious paper in Missouri has raised the question about the Christianity of J. Pierpont Morgan.

It may be regarded a venture upon ground of doubtful delicacy to question publicly the religious views of one recently deceased, and particularly to suggest a doubt about the Christianity of a man who made the confusion of his personal Christian faith the most conspicuous feature of his life and testament.

He simply asks whether the Morgan of absolutely orthodox creed, emphasis of humble dependence and devotion and attachment to the Saviorhood and Lordship of Jesus Christ can be harmonized with the character and career of the Morgan who was a man of the world known among just as bold, severe, unscrupulous, calculating, and whose life was absorbed in financial ambition, in personal assertion and in laying up treasures on earth for himself and those who helped him in his plans.

It is easier to criticize this editor for raising such a question on the ground of bad taste, than to deny the point of his question on the ground of Christianly truth. The high man's Religion. The absolute standard of Christianity is in its founder. The record of whose life and teaching is in the New Testament. He incarnated, defined and illustrated the ideal Christian character.

of his soul, is a matter of open knowledge. But the state of mind in modern Christianity is far from encouraging explicit and personal applications of these early principles to the rich Christians of the world.

One cannot help wondering how Jesus Christ would have fitted that situation into the scheme of the Kingdom of God on earth, and how he would have dealt with one of his disciples who insisted on playing that ambitious role.

We know at least that the rich man of Jerusalem was not entirely comfortable about the Sermon on the Mount, Nicodemus with a measure of money at that time.

Perhaps, Nicodemus is the luminous exposition of our question, though Mr. Morgan was a more pronounced champion of Christ than ever Nicodemus dared to be, and his creed was as correct as Peter's, and his personal conduct as irreproachable as the rich young ruler's, who had kept the commandments from his youth up.

Mr. Morgan as a Symbol. There is nothing more of strange in Mr. Morgan's relation to Christianity. He symbolizes to extraordinary advantage the type of the modern millionaire Christian. In his creed and private life he was in possession of all the Christianly circumstances would permit.

So for his example is a distinguished one and stands as a rebuke to many with far less fortune who profess Christianity with far less to show for it. But the issue relating to Mr. Morgan personally in fairness deserves this independent. He was as good a Christian as his training and environment made possible.

bulk of it not for education, not for sending the uttermost of the Attonment to the innermost parts of the earth, not for printing Bibles, not for feeding, clothing and housing the poor; but to his son to perpetuate the great house of Attonment and its power in the world of finance and make to itself other millions.

One cannot help wondering how Jesus Christ would have fitted that situation into the scheme of the Kingdom of God on earth, and how he would have dealt with one of his disciples who insisted on playing that ambitious role.

We know at least that the rich man of Jerusalem was not entirely comfortable about the Sermon on the Mount, Nicodemus with a measure of money at that time.

Winifred Black Writes on "In Love With Love and Not With Anybody"

Being a Little Talk With a Girl Who Thinks That There Is No Joy in Life Because a Certain Young Man Has Ceased to Care For Her.

By WINIFRED BLACK.

NOW, my dear girl, why don't you face the truth, the disagreeable, embarrassing truth; look it fairly in the face, and be done with it once and for all!

The man does not care for you. Put all idea that there may be some "misunderstanding," etc., out of your puzzled little head. A man who loves a woman doesn't let any misunderstanding come between him and the girl he loves.

He's tired of you and wants to get rid of you. Why do you pursue him? He is free, white and a right to love whom he pleases. He acted as if he loved you! Well, if he did he certainly does not love you now, and what are you going to do about it?

Don't Run After Him!

Write to him again, go and see him? Never, never again. You are miserable with out him you say. Well, if you run after him you will be miserable also and lose your own self-respect in the bargain.

Don't do anything that will make the girl you see in the glass ashamed, to look you straight in the eye.

Your heart is broken? No, it isn't! It isn't even cracked. Just twenty, poor thing and nothing to live for! Why, it's a joke. A jiffy little joke, but a joke nevertheless. In a year from now you'll laugh at it yourself.

Every day a broken heart will tell you're forty and see what a laugh, ready to hear heart you really have and be glad of it!

This man you are sighing for, isn't one you'd be perfectly miserable with if you did get him. Almost any woman of thirty and past can say, you can't take the man you're in love with, who she loved, who she was twenty.

WINIFRED BLACK

super, too, and rather gaily at that. I met the dark-haired youth just the other day. He looked by me rather more than common-place, and how I had ever admired those hollow eyes and that narrow, stupid face! I can't imagine.

You'll Get Over It.

His wife was with him and she did not seem especially happy. They say she is a bit of a nagger. I suppose she has been more than a bit of a nagger. It had been tied up for life to that miserable failure of a man. No such for that, my dear, and I'm afraid you'll be disappointed.

No, my dear, you are not in love with this poor man that you want to follow and write to and call upon the whole. You aren't in love with him at all. You are in love with love, that's all. You'll get over it and smile to think it over some sane, comfortable day.

You're just twenty, little girl; only twenty. What an early do you know, even about yourself! Get acquainted, get acquainted with that little person you see every day in the mirror. How do you know what she may turn out to be?

What! Throw her at some runaway man's head, let her make a goose of herself over some one who can't appreciate her? Don't you do it, little girl. Don't even think of doing it.

And, why not, don't you see, your secret to a soul? Keep it to yourself, whatever you do, and have it to think of when the moon shines and there's just a little playing somewhere. Hug your toothy grin to your breast and be nice and miserable for a while. It will do you good.

She Oried Too. Your mother, Oh, you haven't told me to her? Why, not? She wouldn't understand! What makes you think that? She's probably the one person on earth who would understand perfectly.

Would it surprise you to learn that when your mother was twenty, before she met your father, she had her romance? Get her to tell you about it to-night when your two are alone and the house is still. You'll be surprised to find that she really is a big man being this mother of yours.

Oh, yes, she cried, too, and beat her breast and wringed to get, and the man didn't look at all like the one she married, either.

Come, come, you are not the only human being who ever was hopelessly in love at twenty. Millions of others have lived through it like yourself. It isn't important to be happy. It is important to be sensible. Make up your mind to that and soon you'll be astonished to find that you can't remember whether that heart-breaking wave of his hair was on the right or the left side of his head.

So, it's over the heartache, and the misery and the long, long days and you are all right, you're having lived through it.

BURNS TO TAKE UP PHAGAN CASE 250 SHRINER VOTES OUT OF 460 PLEDGED TO ATLANTA "TAG DAY" SECURES LARGE SUMS FOR UNFORTUNATE CHILDREN

At the left, Judge W. T. Newman, of the United States Court, is shown being tagged by Mrs. Kneipp; in the center is Mrs. Frank Meador; at the right, Mayor "Jim" Woodward appears tied to death that for a change he doesn't have to use the veto power.

MORE THAN HALF OF SHRINE VOTE PLEDGED FOR ATLANTA; BOOSTERS SURE OF VICTORY

By JAMES B. NEVIN.
 DALLAS, TEXAS, May 12.—Atlanta now claims, as pledged, 250 of the 460 votes in the Imperial Council for the 1914 meeting place. Memphis still is alive and the fight has seemingly narrowed down to the two cities.
 If Atlanta should lose the committee's recommendation the Georgians will carry the fight to the convention floor.
 Patented "Patrol" Attair declares it is all over but the shouting. "Atlanta will be the Shrine Mecca in 1914, unless I am very badly mistaken," he said.
 The first cheering news received by Atlanta when the defendant arrived Sunday morning was that the secretary had "revised" the Memphis "tag" list.

U. S. to Prosecute Firms Cutting Pay As Tariff Revenge

"They'll Land Behind Bars if They Try to Intimidate Congress," Says Senator Williams.
 WASHINGTON, May 12.—The criminal clauses of the 87-man anti-trust act and the prosecuting powers of the Department of Justice will be used in defense of the reductions in duty prescribed by the Underwood tariff bill.
 If combinations are found among employers to restrain trade and intimidate Congress by cutting wages and closing factory doors, criminal suits will be instituted.
 This is the frank intimation made by Senator John Sharp Williams, of the Senate Finance Committee.
 "The projected interests are coming to me with the same old plea that they are threatened with ruin," said Senator Williams. "They threaten to cut wages or assert that it will be necessary to cut them. This is plain intimidation in legislative Congress. If it should be discovered the interests are combining to this purpose, the Sherman act must be sufficiently broad to cover such acts, and we must find a way to show gentlemen behind the bars."

TAG DAY RECEIPTS CERTAIN TO ESTABLISH NEW RECORD; ATLANTA GIVES LIBERALLY

Atlanta capitulated Monday to an irresistible force of the city's fairest young women. It was a willing, but costly surrender.
 Each of the thousands of captives, as a token of surrender, gave up some part of his or her hard-earned money and received a tag which indicated the money was for the benefit of the Sheltering Arms Orphan's Home.
 One of these tags was supposed to insure the "tagger" against being surrounded again by a group of the fair soldiers and submitting to another detention of his exchequer.
 The person who had any amount of property was a marked man.

Mayor Declares He Earns Pay Watching Council Politicians

Makes Hot Reply to New Attack by Thomson—Breath Continues to Grow.
 "If I did nothing more than watch the Council I would more than earn my salary," declared Mayor Woodward Monday in answer to Albert Thomson's charge that the Mayor's office had become a nonentity in the city government.
 "As a matter of fact," continued Mr. Woodward, "the charges are not worth the waste of breath in answering them, still I want to assure the people of Atlanta that I have my hands full watching the politicians, and I am going to continue to watch them and their activities."
 Councilman Thomson's attack on the Mayor, the second he has made within a fortnight, has been much more discussed than his first, because it follows a further indication of the omens accused of graft.
 Politicians assert that the breach between the Mayor and a number of the Counciling is beyond hope of reunion.

CALL DETECTIVE BURNS TO UNRAVEL PHAGAN MYSTERY; HURRIES BACK FROM EUROPE

William J. Burns, the world-famed detective, probably will take charge of the Phagan case.
 The man who unearthed the dynamic outrages and brought the McNamara brothers to justice, will in all probability come to Atlanta within the next few days and lend his efforts toward clearing up the mystery of the death by strangulation of Mary Phagan.
 This information was made public Monday following correspondence between Colonel Thomas B. Felder and Mr. Burns since the discovery of the body in the pencil factory.
 Mr. Burns is now on his way from Europe, and will arrive on Tuesday or the following day. Upon his arrival in New York he will confer with Detectives there and then proceed to Atlanta.
 Credit Largely Due Felder.
 The services of Mr. Burns have been secured largely through Mr. Felder's efforts, it has developed. Upon Mr. Felder's relation by the citizens of Maryland and relatives of the slain girl to work off the case is assigned to New York for a conference with Navy Short of Coal, Battleships and Men.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Alarming developments at the State Department and the White House following the delivery of Japan's protest against the California alien land bill, regarded generally as an ultimatum, has called attention to the unpreparedness of the Navy.

Summarized, the unpreparedness of the United States, as obtained from these sources, consists in the following items:

First, There is only a deceptive appearance of fighting readiness in ships on the Pacific coast.

Second, There is not coal enough in the Pacific coast stations to maintain a battle fleet one month on cruise.

Third, No preparation has been made by the Navy Department since the Japanese situation became acute to remedy the deficiencies by establishing a sufficient number of coal stations outside the limits of the United States.

Fourth, The United States will be forced, in case of hostilities in the Pacific, to make its base of operations in the Hawaiian Islands, and it has not one-fifth the equipment that would be required.

Fifth, The Navy Department has a working arrangement with five trans-continental railroads by which they could be utilized in emergency, but, so far, no specific contract for the shipment of coal in the Pacific Coast.

Sixth, The total coal on hand in the navy on July 1 was 381,781 tons. There are contracted for 62,000 tons. Since that time, according to officials of the Navy Department, no effort has been made to acquire coal.

ASSEMBLIES FACE SPLIT ON SOCIAL SERVICE

Objection to National Protestant Platform May Act as Bar to Presbyterian Merger.

By REV. CHARLES STEZLE.

Will the Southern Presbyterian Assembly, assembled in Atlanta, Georgia, on Monday, with one Presbyterian denomination and cut off fraternal relationships with all other Protestants?

This is the question which its commissioners probably will be compelled to answer when the Assembly is in session in Atlanta.

There is little doubt that the Southern Assembly will combine with the United Presbyterian Church, but it is possible that it will sever its connection with the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

The Federal Council, includes practically the combined Protestant forces of the United States, representing 30 different denominations which have a membership of 16,000,000. One of the chief reasons given by those who favor the separation is their objection to the social service platform adopted by the Federal Council.

Platform of Council.

Here is the platform of the Council to which exception has been taken:

- The church must stand:
- For equal rights and complete justice for all men in all relations of life.
- For the rejection of the family, by the single standard of purity, uniform divorce laws, proper institution of marriage and proper husbandry.
- For the fullest possible education for every child, especially by the provision of proper education and recreation.
- For the abolition of child labor.
- For such regulations of the conditions of all for women as shall safeguard the physical and mental health of the community.
- For the prohibition of the sale of alcoholic liquors and the prevention of poverty.
- For the protection of the individual and the social, economic and moral waste of the liquor traffic.
- For the conservation of health.
- For the protection of the worker from dangerous machinery, occupational disease and mortality.
- For aiding workers.
- For the right of all men to the opportunity of self-maintenance, for safeguarding this right against encroachment of every kind, and for the protection of workers from the hardships of enforced unemployment.
- For suitable provision for the old age of the workers, and for those incapacitated by injury.
- For the right of employees and employers alike to organize for adequate means of conciliation and arbitration in industrial disputes.
- For a more equitable division of the national income.
- For a release from employment one day in seven.
- For the abolition and reasonable reduction of the hours of labor to the lowest practicable point, and for that degree of uniformity in every industry, and for the highest wage that each industry can afford.
- For a more emphasis upon the application of Christian principles in the acquisition and use of property, and for the most equitable division of the product of industry that can ultimately be devised.
- For the maintenance of the highest standards of the United States.

Advertising Agents Honor Messengers

St. Elmo Messengers, head of the Messengers Advertising Agency and one of the best known publicity men in the country, was to-day elected director at a meeting in Chicago of general advertising agents throughout the country. Plans were perfected for forming a permanent organization.

Mr. Messengers probably will make arrangements to open a branch office in the Messengers Advertising Agency in Chicago. This step is made necessary by the rapid growth of the agency which handles some of the largest advertising accounts in the United States.

BRADY HOPE OF CRACKERS AGAINST TURTLES

Barwald's Home Run in First Inning Gives Memphis an Opening Lead.

Score by innings:

ORAKERS	0 1
TURTLES	1 0

MEMPHIS, May 13.—Billy Smith's Crackers went out to the field this afternoon intending to reverse the defeat they had handed them yesterday by the Turtles.

The Cracker manager sent Brady in to do the hitting for his team, while the locals banded their change of fielder. Wally Smith got back in the game at third base.

FIRST INNING.

Long grounded out Brady to Alperman. Asier grounded to Butler and was safe on Butler's error. Alperman flied to left.

Love; no advance. Welcheski singled left. After went to third. Bates grounded out. Harrell to Abstein. ONE HIT, NO RUN.

Shanley grounded out. Ireland to Agger. Barwald hit a home run to the left field bleachers. Love fanned. Ward popped to Brady. ONE HIT, ONE RUN.

SHRINER MEET CONCEDED TO ATLANTA BOOSTERS

Barring Tennessee, Every State Bordering on Georgia Wants Gate City to Land Council.

By JAMES B. HEVIN.

DALLAS, TEXAS, May 13.—For the last time filed with the Imperial Council to-day official invitations from Atlanta for next year's term from Governor Brown, Governor-elect Blanton, Mayor Woodward, the Capital City, Transportation, University and Piedmont Driving Clubs and many other social and business organizations and persons in Atlanta.

There seems to be nothing left that might have been done to insure Atlanta's winning the big prize of the election in Dallas. About the hotels and streets it generally is conceded that Atlanta will win.

The parade of the entire city today, escorting the Imperial Council to its opening session, was beautiful and served to fan the breeze with spectators almost to suffocation. They were about 100 patrol in line, wearing silver 800 caps, 20 brass bands, and a civic procession of some 1000, and a civic procession of some 1000, and a civic procession of some 1000.

Borden Heiress in West With Mother

LOS ANGELES, May 13.—Ramon Borden, daughter of Carl Borden, millionaire New York milkman, who killed her family and friends a few weeks ago by disappearing from an Eastern manumission, 210, today arrived in Los Angeles with her mother.

The girl had away because she wanted to live in the country instead of hotels and sanitariums.

Dr. Neill Leaves U. S. Labor Bureau

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Dr. Charles P. Neill, United States Commissioner of Labor, since 1905 and recently made commissioner of labor statistics in the new Department of Labor, resigned today to take a position outside the Government service. He was prominently identified with the arbitration of many noted wage disputes under the Erdman act.

FIRST WOMAN IS INDICTED AS SLAYER IN MUSCOGEE

MUSCOGEE, Okla., May 13.—The May term Grand Jury of Muscogee Superior Court has indicted Mrs. Jennie Mae Redford and Bill Green, both white, of murder charges.

Mrs. Redford, the first white woman ever indicted in Muscogee County for murder, is charged with the death of her husband, Over-At Redford, a merchant, April 12. Green is indicted for killing "Ole B. Jackson," an Indian agent.

H. M. Flagler Dying; Plans for Funeral Already Under Way

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 13.—Word was received here this afternoon from West Palm Beach that Henry M. Flagler is rapidly growing weaker and is now unable to take nourishment. Arrangements for the funeral are being made in St. Augustine. He is not expected to live through the day.

Dr. Alfred R. Badger, pastor of the Memorial Presbyterian Church in St. Augustine, Mr. Flagler's pastor, now is in Atlanta to attend the Presbyterian Assembly.

When asked today what the cause of his illness was, Mr. Flagler said he had a cold which he had contracted in the morning and made an erroneous statement which he had made.

Dorsey will Wednesday afternoon to the great extent of his fortune was that made by the Florida land boom and was made by the Florida land boom.

Movie Men, Perhaps Edison, to Visit Here

Charles H. Rowley, general manager of the Thomas A. Edison Company, New York, and possibly the electrical wizard himself, will arrive in Atlanta Thursday with a party of about 100, according to a dispatch received Tuesday by Benjamin B. Barker, commercial agent of the Southern Railway.

The party will stop at the Georgian Terrace Hotel and make scenic views of the city for the Edison Company.

The telegram intimates that Mr. Edison is desirous of coming if he can arrange business matters in New York.

NEW THEORY IS OFFERED IN PHAGAN MYSTERY

Detectives 'Not Conferring' All Their Efforts on Frank and Leo Now.

Detectives in the Phagan mystery are not considering all their former suspects Frank and Leo. New theories have been advanced, new clues examined and every possible theory is being investigated.

It was because of these rumors on the new theories that the report was spread that an entirely new lead had been followed by Solicitor Dorsey, that might eliminate both Frank and Leo.

Solicitor Dorsey said very little at length of the report.

There are no developments so far, he said, which would tend to prevent the prosecution from its present course. The case of the two men would be placed before the Grand Jury as soon as the investigation has been completed. It is possible that other developments will be revealed.

New Theory Offered.

The new theory advanced in the Phagan mystery is that the man who was killed by the Phagan family was not the man who was reported to have been followed by Solicitor Dorsey, but that the man who was followed by Dorsey was the man who was killed by the Phagan family.

It is believed that the man who was followed by Dorsey was the man who was killed by the Phagan family.

An important affidavit was filed Tuesday to the great extent of his fortune was that made by the Florida land boom and was made by the Florida land boom.

Another affidavit, considered of importance was that made by the Florida land boom and was made by the Florida land boom.

When asked today what the cause of his illness was, Mr. Flagler said he had a cold which he had contracted in the morning and made an erroneous statement which he had made.

Before coming to Atlanta, he was with the National Motor Company, of Brooklyn. He is a Cornell graduate.

The arrival of William J. Burns in Atlanta on Tuesday afternoon was announced in The Georgian Monday. The great detective has been engaged to work personally upon the Phagan mystery. He is expected to come here at the solicitation of Colonel Thomas H. Palmer, who is representing the friends and relatives of the slain girl.

Colonel Palmer interviewed Raymond Burns, son of the former detective, in New York, and a cable was at once dispatched to Atlanta, where Burns had been looking for Wilberforce Martin, the wealthy Memphis whose mysterious disappearance stirred two continents. Burns quickly found that Martin was safe and unharmed and withdrew from the case. South Backs Gate City in Fight for 1914 Council—Decision To-morrow.

At the Texas session, the only thing done of interest to the public was the election of William W. Irwin, of Wheeling, W. Va., to imperial position next year. He will preside in Atlanta and he told me today that the fact was particularly gratifying to him.

He has been outspoken in his support of Atlanta for the honor of retaining the Shrine of 1914. He said Forrest Adair are great cronies, and have been at many sessions of the Imperial Council. The Shrine Imperial Council members were advanced in relation, say is customary in the order.

There was a mighty careful checking up of names and counting of noses along somewhere after midnight last night. The Shrine workers did not quit talking Atlanta till the end of creation out here had gone to bed. Along about daylight Forrest Adair figured that Atlanta had it on Memphis by about two to one. Maybe it is more than that, but we do not look good enough anyway.

Memphis is putting up the gamiest sort of fight. The Tennessee city has a big bunch of rosters here and the town has been flooded with literature, and in the matter of pure unadorned eloquence, has been doing very well. Since last Wednesday she has had a number of quiet, and finally she resumed her duties with the help of the expressed it. To make home like it used to be, if possible. He declared that only the strength and vigor that has always been hers could be relied on to withstand the blow that had fallen here.

"Mary and I were very much alike," she said, "strong and healthy. Mary would have been 14 years old on June 11, but she was only 13 and 20 years old for her age. She often passed for 16. Her birthday is nearly here. It will be so different this year."

"I hear from Mr. Hearst's personal appeals and his newspapers' work for next year's big meeting as all turns. His publications, especially in the West, have helped tremendously in bringing support to Atlanta. If Atlanta wins, as I expect, we will owe much to Mr. Hearst."

Wilson and Cabinet Discuss Alien Law; Johnson Will Sign

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The Japanese situation was discussed for the greater part of two hours at the meeting of the President with his Cabinet. At the conclusion of the conference absolute silence was maintained regarding the subject.

SACRAMENTO, May 12.—A reply by Governor Johnson to the message of Secretary of State Bryan, advising against his action in the California anti-alien law legislation, was expected today. The Governor announced that he would not discuss the subject until he had replied to the message of Secretary Bryan, which likely would be today.

He estimated that he would send the Webb anti-alien bill, but that he would delay action out of respect to President Wilson's wishes. In his small message to the Legislature Governor Johnson said: "I would like to have mentioned the land bill with the others that I consider worthy accomplishment in legislation this session, but I refrained from so doing because it would be courteous to say anything in advance of my reply to Mr. Bryan's telegram."

PHOENIX, ARIZ., May 12.—A slight amendment by the Senate to the House anti-alien bill, which is necessary for the measure to be passed on by a conference between the two houses before it is sent to the Governor, it was predicted the conference would agree on the bill this afternoon. The Governor's attitude is not known, although his closest friends say he will sign it.

FEARS UPPUSH SENATOR RIVAL HE SAYS STOLE BRIDE

Edward Brown, Angry but Small, Swears Vengeance, Then Calls Police.

An angry husband waited for three hours at the Terminal Station Tuesday morning determined to wreak vengeance on a man who, he said, had enticed his 17-year-old bride of four months from his home and gone with her to Macon, Ga. He waited at the station at 7:50 o'clock, when a train late into Atlanta from Macon, he said, arrived. He was there when he saw Edward Brown, a little man, and he surveyed the well-built real estate man doubtfully. Then he accosted him as follows:

"He's a pretty big," he said. "I won't who him as a man, who, he said, had enticed his 17-year-old bride of four months from his home and gone with her to Macon, Ga.
