

The Weather Today:

Local showers Sunday and probably Monday; moderate south winds.

HEARST'S SUNDAY AMERICAN

Atlanta Edition of The American... BE SURE TO GET THEM ALL

VOL. I, NO. 7.

Copyright, 1913, by The Georgian Company.

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, MAY 18, 1913.

***

PRICE FIVE CENTS

JAPS DEMAND FULL RIGHTS WITH WHITES AS CITIZENS

Meeting at Tokio Condemns Efforts of Agitators To Start Complications.

U. S. REPLY IS PREPARED

Wilson Takes Charge of Statement Following Long Conference With Bryan.

Special Cable to The American.

TOKIO, May 17.—Representative Terakao Hinata and Kenzo Hayashi protested against the discrimination shown by the alien land ownership bill and condemned the lack of land and agricultural classes in the existing treaty.

U. S. Reply to Japs In Wilson's Hands.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The complete reply of the United States to the protest of Japan against the California alien land law is in the hands of the President and, according to a statement, may be delivered to the Japanese Ambassador at any time.

This status of the strained relations between the United States and Japan was announced after a prolonged conference between Secretary Bryan and the President at the White House.

The negotiations with Japan were that left to Mr. Bryan dependent for their solution, peaceful or otherwise, on the answer Japan may make to the suggestion by the United States for further diplomatic negotiation.

Expect Unfavorable Answer.

Summed up to this point, no official statement has been made in opposition to the crystallized belief that the United States is expecting an unfavorable answer from Japan.

Washington to Bar 'September Morn'

Canvass That Shocked 'Bathhouse John' Must Be Suppressed, Decries Morals Committee.

SIXTY PATIENTS, MENACED BY FIRE, SAVED BY NUNS

MATCHESTER, N. H., May 17.—Sixty patients were thrown into panic at the Notre Dame de Lourdes Hospital in West Manchester this afternoon when an explosion of gasolene afforded a lively blaze.

Strikers Threaten To Wipe Paterson Off Map if Beaten

I. W. W. Agitator Says Judge Knows as Much of Law as Pig Does of Electricity.

PATERSON, N. J., May 17.—"We will win this strike or the city of Paterson will be wiped off the map. This remarkable statement was made to-day at a mass meeting by Patrick Quinn, the I. W. W. agitator, who was convicted last week.

Mrs. Lincoln's 'Bitter Letters' To Be Sold

Collection Reveals Resentment Toward Congress for Not Providing for Her.

NEW YORK, May 17.—What are known as Mrs. Lincoln's "bitter letters" are to be sold at auction here next week. The collection consists of twelve letters written by the widow of the martyred President in the years just following his assassination.

Irish M.P. Prosecutes Militants in Court

Suffragettes Attack Home of John Dillon in Early Morning. Many Are Arrested.

DUBLIN, May 17.—John Dillon, member of Parliament, appeared in the police court to-day against the militant suffragettes who were arrested after attacking his house early this morning.

Washington to Bar 'September Morn'

Canvass That Shocked 'Bathhouse John' Must Be Suppressed, Decries Morals Committee.

SIXTY PATIENTS, MENACED BY FIRE, SAVED BY NUNS

MATCHESTER, N. H., May 17.—Sixty patients were thrown into panic at the Notre Dame de Lourdes Hospital in West Manchester this afternoon when an explosion of gasolene afforded a lively blaze.

The heroic work of two nuns, who saved the lives of the patients, was the subject of a dramatic play, which was being rehearsed at the hospital when the explosion occurred.

KIPLING'S HERO SUES TO REGAIN $1,250,000 GEM

Action Against Indian Nizam Is Sequel to Amazing Diamond Transaction Years Ago.

STONE FINEST IN WORLD

Plaintiff, Now Poor Man, Once Was the Rich 'Uncrowned King of Simla.'

LONDON, May 17.—One of the most sensational and romantic lawsuits ever heard in India will be tried in Calcutta shortly. Action has been brought by a Mr. J. Kipling, late of Simla, now living in Bombay, against the present Nizam of Hyderabad.

The suit is a sequel to an amazing transaction, almost 21 years ago, by the late Nizam of Hyderabad and Kipling over the imperial diamond, now in the possession of the new Nizam.

Special Cable to The American. LONDON, May 17.—One of the most sensational and romantic lawsuits ever heard in India will be tried in Calcutta shortly.

Special Cable to The American. LONDON, May 17.—One of the most sensational and romantic lawsuits ever heard in India will be tried in Calcutta shortly.

Special Cable to The American. LONDON, May 17.—One of the most sensational and romantic lawsuits ever heard in India will be tried in Calcutta shortly.

Special Cable to The American. LONDON, May 17.—One of the most sensational and romantic lawsuits ever heard in India will be tried in Calcutta shortly.

BROWN OPENS WAR ON LYNCHING RULE IN STATE

Governor Offers Reward of $100 for Conviction of Persons Behind Death of Negroes.

'LAWS MUST BE ENFORCED'

'Anarchy Shall Not Supplant Officials of Georgia,' Declares Chief Executive.

Atlanta, Ga., May 17.—Governor Brown today opened a new chapter in his war on lynching by offering a reward of $100 for each and every person against whom evidence could be furnished sufficient to convict him of participating in the unlawful killing of a Negro.

The action was taken by Governor Brown on his own initiative and without a request from any interested source. It was to manifest, in an unmistakable manner, his approval of the State for any act of lawlessness or for any attempt to usurp the functions of the courts and penal system by unauthorized persons.

Special Cable to The American. LONDON, May 17.—One of the most sensational and romantic lawsuits ever heard in India will be tried in Calcutta shortly.

Special Cable to The American. LONDON, May 17.—One of the most sensational and romantic lawsuits ever heard in India will be tried in Calcutta shortly.

Special Cable to The American. LONDON, May 17.—One of the most sensational and romantic lawsuits ever heard in India will be tried in Calcutta shortly.

Special Cable to The American. LONDON, May 17.—One of the most sensational and romantic lawsuits ever heard in India will be tried in Calcutta shortly.

SHRINERS FETED ON RETURN Start Preparations for Meet Here Adair Maps Record Entertainment

Potestatic Forrest Adair, of Yaarab Temple, on his return from his victorious campaign in Dallas. Mr. Adair was given a spontaneous reception at the Terminal Station and is here shown giving vent to his joy by leading the cheering for Atlanta. Just behind Mr. Adair is seen J. D. Hardwick.

BUSINESS HALTS FOR TECH PARADE

Students in Night Shirts Celebrate Baseball Victory With Snake Dance in Streets.

Atlanta, Ga., May 17.—The fact that for the past two weeks he has averaged less than five hours' sleep a night, Potestatic Forrest Adair, of Yaarab Temple, returned to Atlanta Saturday afternoon before he had had his coat rolled up his sleeves and plunged into the work of planning for the entertainment of the imperial court when it meets in Atlanta in 1914.

Mr. and Mrs. Hearst Guests at Dinner of Gov.-Elect Clayton

Party of Sixteen Entertained at Beautiful Country Place in Honor of Publisher and Wife.

Governor-elect and Mrs. John Marshall Clayton entertained a dinner party of sixteen at their country place last night, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William Hearst.

The guests were seated at an elegant table, decorated in rose-pink carnations and white sweet peas.

At the banquet from North Avenue into 'Teachter' street, they linked arms and started the picturesque snake dance, which they continued to the edge of the crowd along the sidewalk into the heart of the city.

GREAT FIRE IN BUDAPEST LEAVES 8,000 HOMELESS

Special Cable to The American. BUDAPEST, HUNGARY, May 17.—Eight thousand people were made homeless, one child was burned to death and two others were injured by a great fire in the center of the city today.

The flames started in the upper floor of a large building, and, caused by a strong wind, quickly spread to several blocks of houses which were destroyed.

Special Cable to The American. BUDAPEST, HUNGARY, May 17.—Eight thousand people were made homeless, one child was burned to death and two others were injured by a great fire in the center of the city today.

Special Cable to The American. BUDAPEST, HUNGARY, May 17.—Eight thousand people were made homeless, one child was burned to death and two others were injured by a great fire in the center of the city today.

WHITEWASH OF FIRE QUIET IS SCORED BY WOODWARD

All Charges of Mismanagement and Craft Against Cummings Proved, Declares Mayor in Scorching Message to Council.

Will Gladly Furnish the Proof

the Grand Jury if That Body Should Desire It. He Adds: 'You Hold the Vindication Report.'

Controversy Over Fire Inquiry Old Recalled—Tells of Habits Formerly Used on Hose Which Were Turned Over to the City

Mayor Woodward Saturday made public a scorching message to Council in which he terms the "whitewashing" of Fire Chief W. B. Cummings and the conduct of the fire department as "a disgrace to the city." He declares that the charges of mismanagement and graft were proved, and that the "whitewashing" committee of the city council had deliberately concealed all the evidence.

He adds that he will gladly furnish the proof if the grand jury should desire it, but that he would be glad to furnish the proof if the grand jury should desire it.

The message, a veto of the report, and a scorching message to Council in which he terms the "whitewashing" of Fire Chief W. B. Cummings and the conduct of the fire department as "a disgrace to the city."

He adds that he will gladly furnish the proof if the grand jury should desire it, but that he would be glad to furnish the proof if the grand jury should desire it.

The message, a veto of the report, and a scorching message to Council in which he terms the "whitewashing" of Fire Chief W. B. Cummings and the conduct of the fire department as "a disgrace to the city."

He adds that he will gladly furnish the proof if the grand jury should desire it, but that he would be glad to furnish the proof if the grand jury should desire it.

The message, a veto of the report, and a scorching message to Council in which he terms the "whitewashing" of Fire Chief W. B. Cummings and the conduct of the fire department as "a disgrace to the city."

He adds that he will gladly furnish the proof if the grand jury should desire it, but that he would be glad to furnish the proof if the grand jury should desire it.

The message, a veto of the report, and a scorching message to Council in which he terms the "whitewashing" of Fire Chief W. B. Cummings and the conduct of the fire department as "a disgrace to the city."

He adds that he will gladly furnish the proof if the grand jury should desire it, but that he would be glad to furnish the proof if the grand jury should desire it.

The message, a veto of the report, and a scorching message to Council in which he terms the "whitewashing" of Fire Chief W. B. Cummings and the conduct of the fire department as "a disgrace to the city."

He adds that he will gladly furnish the proof if the grand jury should desire it, but that he would be glad to furnish the proof if the grand jury should desire it.

The message, a veto of the report, and a scorching message to Council in which he terms the "whitewashing" of Fire Chief W. B. Cummings and the conduct of the fire department as "a disgrace to the city."

He adds that he will gladly furnish the proof if the grand jury should desire it, but that he would be glad to furnish the proof if the grand jury should desire it.

The message, a veto of the report, and a scorching message to Council in which he terms the "whitewashing" of Fire Chief W. B. Cummings and the conduct of the fire department as "a disgrace to the city."

He adds that he will gladly furnish the proof if the grand jury should desire it, but that he would be glad to furnish the proof if the grand jury should desire it.

The message, a veto of the report, and a scorching message to Council in which he terms the "whitewashing" of Fire Chief W. B. Cummings and the conduct of the fire department as "a disgrace to the city."

He adds that he will gladly furnish the proof if the grand jury should desire it, but that he would be glad to furnish the proof if the grand jury should desire it.

The message, a veto of the report, and a scorching message to Council in which he terms the "whitewashing" of Fire Chief W. B. Cummings and the conduct of the fire department as "a disgrace to the city."

BURNS, CALLED IN AS LAST RESORT, FACES 'COLD' TRAIL IN DAFFLING PHAGAN CASE

World's Most Famous Detective Must Disregard All Theories Advanced Thus Far and Must Evolve His Own Solution of the Mysterious Slaying.

By AN OLD POLICE REPORTER. Can William J. Burns solve the Phagan mystery? I certainly hope so, as does everybody else who would like to see the guilty person in this extraordinary case brought to justice.

Unless Burns and his assistants are successful, I fear we shall never know who actually committed the crime. In my article in The Sunday American on May 4, I said: "At present, on the evidence now before the public, there is little or nothing to lead to the belief that the mystery has been solved. Will it ever be solved? My own guess is that it will not."

What can Burns do that has not been done? Everything, of course. He will begin at the beginning. He will take up the case as a medical diagnostician takes up the case of a new patient, with out any reference whatever to reports of previous experts. It is sometimes said in criminal circles, after a case has been solved by a man who has been called in as a last resort, that "the trail is cold," meaning that so much may have happened beneath the commission of the crime and the period in which now men begin work, that everything is very much against the unraveling of the mystery.

This is not necessarily true, however. A cold trail is sometimes the best of all. Mediocre detectives, like mediocre medical men, often get very fixed ideas and refuse to see new angles, new loopholes, new clues, or to examine new theories.

Very good medical men have pronounced patients incurable, or suffering from this, that, or the other disease, when a real expert brought into the case has seen the matter from a radically different point of view, told them the true source of trouble, and remedied the evil.

WILL DISREGARD OTHER THEORIES. It is a common error to suppose that a man will not consider any of the testimony or evidence collected so far until he has first studied out the location of the crime, and from the moment the body was found, he will follow every clue, old or new, on his own line of investigation, without any reference to what may have been developed by the city detective or at the coroner's inquest.

After he has built up his own Frankenstein, he will take the reports of the various detectives, compare them with his own, and find that two reports he may be able to construct an entirely new and different case.

It does not follow that because nothing very positive has yet been discovered the mystery may not be solved; or, if it is not solved within the next few weeks, that it will not be solved within a year, or two years, or more.

Burns is a realist man. He knows no fear. No pull or power can influence him. He never forgets nor forgives. He never lets his horizon be broad. His imagination is strong; it is possible that some slight clue, overlooked by any city detective, may start him on a line of investigation that will solve the mystery. I hope so yet I am doubtful.

He has talked with Thomas F. Feltner, the Atlanta attorney, about the Phagan case and Burns' proposed connection with it. Feltner has been employed to help bring the murderer of Mary Phagan to justice. He is one of the most intelligent lawyers in Georgia. Feltner takes great pride in his work. He is not a man who is content to be a lawyer, but he is a man who is content to be a detective.

Feltner takes great pride in his work. He is not a man who is content to be a lawyer, but he is a man who is content to be a detective. He has no large fee at stake, but he evidently is profoundly interested in the problem submitted to him.

Feltner takes great pride in his work. He is not a man who is content to be a lawyer, but he is a man who is content to be a detective. He has no large fee at stake, but he evidently is profoundly interested in the problem submitted to him.

Feltner takes great pride in his work. He is not a man who is content to be a lawyer, but he is a man who is content to be a detective. He has no large fee at stake, but he evidently is profoundly interested in the problem submitted to him.

Feltner takes great pride in his work. He is not a man who is content to be a lawyer, but he is a man who is content to be a detective. He has no large fee at stake, but he evidently is profoundly interested in the problem submitted to him.

Feltner takes great pride in his work. He is not a man who is content to be a lawyer, but he is a man who is content to be a detective. He has no large fee at stake, but he evidently is profoundly interested in the problem submitted to him.

Feltner takes great pride in his work. He is not a man who is content to be a lawyer, but he is a man who is content to be a detective. He has no large fee at stake, but he evidently is profoundly interested in the problem submitted to him.

Feltner takes great pride in his work. He is not a man who is content to be a lawyer, but he is a man who is content to be a detective. He has no large fee at stake, but he evidently is profoundly interested in the problem submitted to him.

Feltner takes great pride in his work. He is not a man who is content to be a lawyer, but he is a man who is content to be a detective. He has no large fee at stake, but he evidently is profoundly interested in the problem submitted to him.

Feltner takes great pride in his work. He is not a man who is content to be a lawyer, but he is a man who is content to be a detective. He has no large fee at stake, but he evidently is profoundly interested in the problem submitted to him.

Feltner takes great pride in his work. He is not a man who is content to be a lawyer, but he is a man who is content to be a detective. He has no large fee at stake, but he evidently is profoundly interested in the problem submitted to him.

Feltner takes great pride in his work. He is not a man who is content to be a lawyer, but he is a man who is content to be a detective. He has no large fee at stake, but he evidently is profoundly interested in the problem submitted to him.

J. Wiley Smith's Own Story of Adventure Stranger Than Fiction

Atlanta, Ga., May 17, 1913. To Whom It May Concern: I have sold the story of my adventures in Mexico exclusively for publication in the Hearst newspapers in Atlanta.

Any other articles said to be written by me are pure fabrications. (Signed) J. WILEY SMITH.

The Georgian will begin the publication on Monday of J. Wiley Smith's own story of his remarkable adventures in Mexico. It is a thrilling tale of how this fugitive from justice in Atlanta fought his way against tremendous odds, escaped death in many forms, and finally returned to Atlanta "to die," as he says, and "to pay the price" for his share in the responsibility of the failure of the Commercial Loan and Discount Company.

The first of these articles by J. Wiley Smith will be published in The Georgian on Monday. Watch for them; they are worth reading.

many more results that are substantial and practically logical in the detection of crime. At what may be more or less a seeming digression from the point primarily in mind, it will be well to remember that the man being an actual person, famous in fact and not in fiction, and that Sherlock Holmes really is a highly interesting creature of the wonderful brain of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, novelist and short story writer.

In digging into Burns' remarkable history as an unraveler of criminal mysteries, Feltner found one case in New Jersey almost exactly parallel to the case of Mary Phagan in Atlanta.

There a 15-year-old girl was found at the head of a "blind alley" in Jersey City, her throat cut from ear to ear, and her body rudely concealed. Local detectives worked on the case for months; suspects were rounded up, and it was shown that this and so "might have" committed the crime. But nothing came of these investigations and suspicions.

After a time, public interest in the case began to wane, and when it had all but died, Burns was called in. He undertook its solution. In his own way and after his own fashion.

In an astonishingly short period of time Burns had fixed the crime upon a degenerate youth in Jersey City, therefore utterly unsuspected by the police.

Burns had staked upon a little bit of a circumstance, entirely overlooked by others who had preceded him, and, finding himself on the right trail, rapidly pursued it to its inevitable end.

There wasn't much of a fee in it for Burns, but his interest had been whetted by the baffling phases of the case, and when once the Burns interest is whetted it is rapacious.

Again, Feltner cites the case of Wilberforce Martin, a rich cotton broker of Memphis, Tenn. Martin disappeared in London, supposedly with a large amount of money on his person. The owner of Scotland Yard was put on the case, and every effort to locate Martin was exhausted.

Finally, the Scotland Yard detectives, being unable to locate Martin anywhere on the face of the earth, proceeded to locate him somewhere beneath the surface thereof, and they reported that he had been killed by the laffing phases of the case, and when once the Burns interest is whetted it is rapacious.

Again, Feltner cites the case of Wilberforce Martin, a rich cotton broker of Memphis, Tenn. Martin disappeared in London, supposedly with a large amount of money on his person. The owner of Scotland Yard was put on the case, and every effort to locate Martin was exhausted.

Finally, the Scotland Yard detectives, being unable to locate Martin anywhere on the face of the earth, proceeded to locate him somewhere beneath the surface thereof, and they reported that he had been killed by the laffing phases of the case, and when once the Burns interest is whetted it is rapacious.

Again, Feltner cites the case of Wilberforce Martin, a rich cotton broker of Memphis, Tenn. Martin disappeared in London, supposedly with a large amount of money on his person. The owner of Scotland Yard was put on the case, and every effort to locate Martin was exhausted.

Finally, the Scotland Yard detectives, being unable to locate Martin anywhere on the face of the earth, proceeded to locate him somewhere beneath the surface thereof, and they reported that he had been killed by the laffing phases of the case, and when once the Burns interest is whetted it is rapacious.

Again, Feltner cites the case of Wilberforce Martin, a rich cotton broker of Memphis, Tenn. Martin disappeared in London, supposedly with a large amount of money on his person. The owner of Scotland Yard was put on the case, and every effort to locate Martin was exhausted.

Finally, the Scotland Yard detectives, being unable to locate Martin anywhere on the face of the earth, proceeded to locate him somewhere beneath the surface thereof, and they reported that he had been killed by the laffing phases of the case, and when once the Burns interest is whetted it is rapacious.

Again, Feltner cites the case of Wilberforce Martin, a rich cotton broker of Memphis, Tenn. Martin disappeared in London, supposedly with a large amount of money on his person. The owner of Scotland Yard was put on the case, and every effort to locate Martin was exhausted.

Finally, the Scotland Yard detectives, being unable to locate Martin anywhere on the face of the earth, proceeded to locate him somewhere beneath the surface thereof, and they reported that he had been killed by the laffing phases of the case, and when once the Burns interest is whetted it is rapacious.

Again, Feltner cites the case of Wilberforce Martin, a rich cotton broker of Memphis, Tenn. Martin disappeared in London, supposedly with a large amount of money on his person. The owner of Scotland Yard was put on the case, and every effort to locate Martin was exhausted.

Finally, the Scotland Yard detectives, being unable to locate Martin anywhere on the face of the earth, proceeded to locate him somewhere beneath the surface thereof, and they reported that he had been killed by the laffing phases of the case, and when once the Burns interest is whetted it is rapacious.

Again, Feltner cites the case of Wilberforce Martin, a rich cotton broker of Memphis, Tenn. Martin disappeared in London, supposedly with a large amount of money on his person. The owner of Scotland Yard was put on the case, and every effort to locate Martin was exhausted.

Finally, the Scotland Yard detectives, being unable to locate Martin anywhere on the face of the earth, proceeded to locate him somewhere beneath the surface thereof, and they reported that he had been killed by the laffing phases of the case, and when once the Burns interest is whetted it is rapacious.

BURNS SLEUTH MAKES REPORT IN PHAGAN CASE

Progress of Investigation Into Girl's Slaying Very Rapid, Declares Feltner.

After 24 hours on the scene of the Phagan murder, the head of the department of criminal investigation of the Burns Detective Agency made his first report to his client, Thomas D. Feltner, last night.

The report was so satisfactory that Colonel Feltner announced more had been accomplished in the 24 hours of the Burns investigation than in the 24 hours of the investigation by the first lieutenant who had the 24-hour mandate.

The report was so satisfactory that Colonel Feltner announced more had been accomplished in the 24 hours of the Burns investigation than in the 24 hours of the investigation by the first lieutenant who had the 24-hour mandate.

The report was so satisfactory that Colonel Feltner announced more had been accomplished in the 24 hours of the Burns investigation than in the 24 hours of the investigation by the first lieutenant who had the 24-hour mandate.

The report was so satisfactory that Colonel Feltner announced more had been accomplished in the 24 hours of the Burns investigation than in the 24 hours of the investigation by the first lieutenant who had the 24-hour mandate.

The report was so satisfactory that Colonel Feltner announced more had been accomplished in the 24 hours of the Burns investigation than in the 24 hours of the investigation by the first lieutenant who had the 24-hour mandate.

The report was so satisfactory that Colonel Feltner announced more had been accomplished in the 24 hours of the Burns investigation than in the 24 hours of the investigation by the first lieutenant who had the 24-hour mandate.

The report was so satisfactory that Colonel Feltner announced more had been accomplished in the 24 hours of the Burns investigation than in the 24 hours of the investigation by the first lieutenant who had the 24-hour mandate.

The report was so satisfactory that Colonel Feltner announced more had been accomplished in the 24 hours of the Burns investigation than in the 24 hours of the investigation by the first lieutenant who had the 24-hour mandate.

The report was so satisfactory that Colonel Feltner announced more had been accomplished in the 24 hours of the Burns investigation than in the 24 hours of the investigation by the first lieutenant who had the 24-hour mandate.

The report was so satisfactory that Colonel Feltner announced more had been accomplished in the 24 hours of the Burns investigation than in the 24 hours of the investigation by the first lieutenant who had the 24-hour mandate.

The report was so satisfactory that Colonel Feltner announced more had been accomplished in the 24 hours of the Burns investigation than in the 24 hours of the investigation by the first lieutenant who had the 24-hour mandate.

The report was so satisfactory that Colonel Feltner announced more had been accomplished in the 24 hours of the Burns investigation than in the 24 hours of the investigation by the first lieutenant who had the 24-hour mandate.

The report was so satisfactory that Colonel Feltner announced more had been accomplished in the 24 hours of the Burns investigation than in the 24 hours of the investigation by the first lieutenant who had the 24-hour mandate.

The report was so satisfactory that Colonel Feltner announced more had been accomplished in the 24 hours of the Burns investigation than in the 24 hours of the investigation by the first lieutenant who had the 24-hour mandate.

The report was so satisfactory that Colonel Feltner announced more had been accomplished in the 24 hours of the Burns investigation than in the 24 hours of the investigation by the first lieutenant who had the 24-hour mandate.

The report was so satisfactory that Colonel Feltner announced more had been accomplished in the 24 hours of the Burns investigation than in the 24 hours of the investigation by the first lieutenant who had the 24-hour mandate.

The report was so satisfactory that Colonel Feltner announced more had been accomplished in the 24 hours of the Burns investigation than in the 24 hours of the investigation by the first lieutenant who had the 24-hour mandate.

The report was so satisfactory that Colonel Feltner announced more had been accomplished in the 24 hours of the Burns investigation than in the 24 hours of the investigation by the first lieutenant who had the 24-hour mandate.

The report was so satisfactory that Colonel Feltner announced more had been accomplished in the 24 hours of the Burns investigation than in the 24 hours of the investigation by the first lieutenant who had the 24-hour mandate.

The report was so satisfactory that Colonel Feltner announced more had been accomplished in the 24 hours of the Burns investigation than in the 24 hours of the investigation by the first lieutenant who had the 24-hour mandate.

The report was so satisfactory that Colonel Feltner announced more had been accomplished in the 24 hours of the Burns investigation than in the 24 hours of the investigation by the first lieutenant who had the 24-hour mandate.

The report was so satisfactory that Colonel Feltner announced more had been accomplished in the 24 hours of the Burns investigation than in the 24 hours of the investigation by the first lieutenant who had the 24-hour mandate.

The report was so satisfactory that Colonel Feltner announced more had been accomplished in the 24 hours of the Burns investigation than in the 24 hours of the investigation by the first lieutenant who had the 24-hour mandate.

'Live Wires' Needed, Says J. D. Jr. Business World Wants Active Men

Loafers Filling Many Places Now

Young Millionaire Addresses Men on Qualities Necessary for Success in Modern Competition. Three Classes Are Named.

NEW YORK, May 17.—There never was a greater need of men who are "live wires" than there is today, according to John D. Rockefeller, Jr. From his own observations, he said, there were three types of men—those who "drift," those who "vandalize," and those who "arrive."

In order to ascertain the different characteristics of these three kinds of men, Mr. Rockefeller said, he had made a list of men who he called "vandalizers," whom he provided with a boat, a motor, a compass, a rubber compass, and perhaps a chart. The first man might be possessed of capability and intelligence, but he was indifferent to and uninterested in life. He therefore never found occasion to use his instruments of navigation, but rather lay back in the stern of his boat, his face to the sky, his only object being enjoyment.

He illustrated this type. "You are familiar with this type of man," said Mr. Rockefeller. "He is the man who arrives at the office first, but who never gets on his feet until he has been in the office for half to three-quarters of an hour. He usually makes a very bad impression on his associates, and he is interested in doing work only in such a manner as will accept a promotion."

"The man who is the man who drifts along. You know him well. He usually makes a very bad impression on his associates, and he is interested in doing work only in such a manner as will accept a promotion."

"The man who is the man who drifts along. You know him well. He usually makes a very bad impression on his associates, and he is interested in doing work only in such a manner as will accept a promotion."

"The man who is the man who drifts along. You know him well. He usually makes a very bad impression on his associates, and he is interested in doing work only in such a manner as will accept a promotion."

"The man who is the man who drifts along. You know him well. He usually makes a very bad impression on his associates, and he is interested in doing work only in such a manner as will accept a promotion."

"The man who is the man who drifts along. You know him well. He usually makes a very bad impression on his associates, and he is interested in doing work only in such a manner as will accept a promotion."

"The man who is the man who drifts along. You know him well. He usually makes a very bad impression on his associates, and he is interested in doing work only in such a manner as will accept a promotion."

"The man who is the man who drifts along. You know him well. He usually makes a very bad impression on his associates, and he is interested in doing work only in such a manner as will accept a promotion."

"The man who is the man who drifts along. You know him well. He usually makes a very bad impression on his associates, and he is interested in doing work only in such a manner as will accept a promotion."

"The man who is the man who drifts along. You know him well. He usually makes a very bad impression on his associates, and he is interested in doing work only in such a manner as will accept a promotion."

"The man who is the man who drifts along. You know him well. He usually makes a very bad impression on his associates, and he is interested in doing work only in such a manner as will accept a promotion."

"The man who is the man who drifts along. You know him well. He usually makes a very bad impression on his associates, and he is interested in doing work only in such a manner as will accept a promotion."

"The man who is the man who drifts along. You know him well. He usually makes a very bad impression on his associates, and he is interested in doing work only in such a manner as will accept a promotion."

"The man who is the man who drifts along. You know him well. He usually makes a very bad impression on his associates, and he is interested in doing work only in such a manner as will accept a promotion."

"The man who is the man who drifts along. You know him well. He usually makes a very bad impression on his associates, and he is interested in doing work only in such a manner as will accept a promotion."

"The man who is the man who drifts along. You know him well. He usually makes a very bad impression on his associates, and he is interested in doing work only in such a manner as will accept a promotion."

"The man who is the man who drifts along. You know him well. He usually makes a very bad impression on his associates, and he is interested in doing work only in such a manner as will accept a promotion."

"The man who is the man who drifts along. You know him well. He usually makes a very bad impression on his associates, and he is interested in doing work only in such a manner as will accept a promotion."

"The man who is the man who drifts along. You know him well. He usually makes a very bad impression on his associates, and he is interested in doing work only in such a manner as will accept a promotion."

"The man who is the man who drifts along. You know him well. He usually makes a very bad impression on his associates, and he is interested in doing work only in such a manner as will accept a promotion."

"The man who is the man who drifts along. You know him well. He usually makes a very bad impression on his associates, and he is interested in doing work only in such a manner as will accept a promotion."

INDIAN PRINCE SUEVED FOR COST OF FINEST GEM

OF FINEST GEM

Continued From Page 1. and ornaments, was the most fashionable in Simla, the story of the fateful imperial diamond began.

Amazing story. The case had been stopped by the late Nizam of Hyderabad to purchase for him the famous imperial diamond, then on sale in London. Jacob obtained the stone and offered it to the Nizam for $1,500,000. The Nizam accepted and paid Jacob $150,000 on account. It took the stone and never paid another rupee.

The case had been stopped by the late Nizam of Hyderabad to purchase for him the famous imperial diamond, then on sale in London. Jacob obtained the stone and offered it to the Nizam for $1,500,000. The Nizam accepted and paid Jacob $150,000 on account. It took the stone and never paid another rupee.

The case had been stopped by the late Nizam of Hyderabad to purchase for him the famous imperial diamond, then on sale in London. Jacob obtained the stone and offered it to the Nizam for $1,500,000. The Nizam accepted and paid Jacob $150,000 on account. It took the stone and never paid another rupee.

The case had been stopped by the late Nizam of Hyderabad to purchase for him the famous imperial diamond, then on sale in London. Jacob obtained the stone and offered it to the Nizam for $1,500,000. The Nizam accepted and paid Jacob $150,000 on account. It took the stone and never paid another rupee.

The case had been stopped by the late Nizam of Hyderabad to purchase for him the famous imperial diamond, then on sale in London. Jacob obtained the stone and offered it to the Nizam for $1,500,000. The Nizam accepted and paid Jacob $150,000 on account. It took the stone and never paid another rupee.

The case had been stopped by the late Nizam of Hyderabad to purchase for him the famous imperial diamond, then on sale in London. Jacob obtained the stone and offered it to the Nizam for $1,500,000. The Nizam accepted and paid Jacob $150,000 on account. It took the stone and never paid another rupee.

The case had been stopped by the late Nizam of Hyderabad to purchase for him the famous imperial diamond, then on sale in London. Jacob obtained the stone and offered it to the Nizam for $1,500,000. The Nizam accepted and paid Jacob $150,000 on account. It took the stone and never paid another rupee.

The case had been stopped by the late Nizam of Hyderabad to purchase for him the famous imperial diamond, then on sale in London. Jacob obtained the stone and offered it to the Nizam for $1,500,000. The Nizam accepted and paid Jacob $150,000 on account. It took the stone and never paid another rupee.

The case had been stopped by the late Nizam of Hyderabad to purchase for him the famous imperial diamond, then on sale in London. Jacob obtained the stone and offered it to the Nizam for $1,500,000. The Nizam accepted and paid Jacob $150,000 on account. It took the stone and never paid another rupee.

The case had been stopped by the late Nizam of Hyderabad to purchase for him the famous imperial diamond, then on sale in London. Jacob obtained the stone and offered it to the Nizam for $1,500,000. The Nizam accepted and paid Jacob $150,000 on account. It took the stone and never paid another rupee.

The case had been stopped by the late Nizam of Hyderabad to purchase for him the famous imperial diamond, then on sale in London. Jacob obtained the stone and offered it to the Nizam for $1,500,000. The Nizam accepted and paid Jacob $150,000 on account. It took the stone and never paid another rupee.

The case had been stopped by the late Nizam of Hyderabad to purchase for him the famous imperial diamond, then on sale in London. Jacob obtained the stone and offered it to the Nizam for $1,500,000. The Nizam accepted and paid Jacob $150,000 on account. It took the stone and never paid another rupee.

The case had been stopped by the late Nizam of Hyderabad to purchase for him the famous imperial diamond, then on sale in London. Jacob obtained the stone and offered it to the Nizam for $1,500,000. The Nizam accepted and paid Jacob $150,000 on account. It took the stone and never paid another rupee.

The case had been stopped by the late Nizam of Hyderabad to purchase for him the famous imperial diamond, then on sale in London. Jacob obtained the stone and offered it to the Nizam for $1,500,000. The Nizam accepted and paid Jacob $150,000 on account. It took the stone and never paid another rupee.

The case had been stopped by the late Nizam of Hyderabad to purchase for him the famous imperial diamond, then on sale in London. Jacob obtained the stone and offered it to the Nizam for $1,500,000. The Nizam accepted and paid Jacob $150,000 on account. It took the stone and never paid another rupee.

The case had been stopped by the late Nizam of Hyderabad to purchase for him the famous imperial diamond, then on sale in London. Jacob obtained the stone and offered it to the Nizam for $1,500,000. The Nizam accepted and paid Jacob $150,000 on account. It took the stone and never paid another rupee.

The case had been stopped by the late Nizam of Hyderabad to purchase for him the famous imperial diamond, then on sale in London. Jacob obtained the stone and offered it to the Nizam for $1,500,000. The Nizam accepted and paid Jacob $150,000 on account. It took the stone and never paid another rupee.

The case had been stopped by the late Nizam of Hyderabad to purchase for him the famous imperial diamond, then on sale in London. Jacob obtained the stone and offered it to the Nizam for $1,500,000. The Nizam accepted and paid Jacob $150,000 on account. It took the stone and never paid another rupee.

The case had been stopped by the late Nizam of Hyderabad to purchase for him the famous imperial diamond, then on sale in London. Jacob obtained the stone and offered it to the Nizam for $1,500,000. The Nizam accepted and paid Jacob $150,000 on account. It took the stone and never paid another rupee.

The case had been stopped by the late Nizam of Hyderabad to purchase for him the famous imperial diamond, then on sale in London. Jacob obtained the stone and offered it to the Nizam for $1,500,000. The Nizam accepted and paid Jacob $150,000 on account. It took the stone and never paid another rupee.

The case had been stopped by the late Nizam of Hyderabad to purchase for him the famous imperial diamond, then on sale in London. Jacob obtained the stone and offered it to the Nizam for $1,500,000. The Nizam accepted and paid Jacob $150,000 on account. It took the stone and never paid another rupee.

The case had been stopped by the late Nizam of Hyderabad to purchase for him the famous imperial diamond, then on sale in London. Jacob obtained the stone and offered it to the Nizam for $1,500,000. The Nizam accepted and paid Jacob $150,000 on account. It took the stone and never paid another rupee.

The case had been stopped by the late Nizam of Hyderabad to purchase for him the famous imperial diamond, then on sale in London. Jacob obtained the stone and offered it to the Nizam for $1,500,000. The Nizam accepted and paid Jacob $150,000 on account. It took the stone and never paid another rupee.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, Jr., who says that men of action are needed in the world of business at the present time.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, Jr., who says that men of action are needed in the world of business at the present time.

He is applying his subject Mr. Rockefeller explained that a "live wire" must have a source for a power, and finally some definite end, through which its power was expressed. He did not hesitate in saying that the source of all power is Almighty God, said Mr. Rockefeller. "It is further strengthened by his saying that only recently the head of the new Chinese Republic had sent out a request for all Christian people to pray that strength and power might be given that government."

There is a greater need of men who are live wires today than ever before, said Mr. Rockefeller. "I don't see a dot. I will refund the loan."

He is applying his subject Mr. Rockefeller explained that a "live wire" must have a source for a power, and finally some definite end, through which its power was expressed. He did not hesitate in saying that the source of all power is Almighty God, said Mr. Rockefeller. "It is further strengthened by his saying that only recently the head of the new Chinese Republic had sent out a request for all Christian people to pray that strength and power might be given that government."

There is a greater need of men who are live wires today than ever before, said Mr. Rockefeller. "I don't see a dot. I will refund the loan."

He is applying his subject Mr. Rockefeller explained that a "live wire" must have a source for a power, and finally some definite end, through which its power was expressed. He did not hesitate in saying that the source of all power is Almighty God, said Mr. Rockefeller. "It is further strengthened by his saying that only recently the head of the new Chinese Republic had sent out a request for all Christian people to pray that strength and power might be given that government."

There is a greater need of men who are live wires today than ever before, said Mr. Rockefeller. "I don't see a dot. I will refund the loan."

He is applying his subject Mr. Rockefeller explained that a "live wire" must have a source for a power, and finally some definite end, through which its power was expressed. He did not hesitate in saying that the source of all power is Almighty God, said Mr. Rockefeller. "It is further strengthened by his saying that only recently the head of the new Chinese Republic had sent out a request for all Christian people to pray that strength and power might be given that government."

There is a greater need of men who are live wires today than ever before, said Mr. Rockefeller. "I don't see a dot. I will refund the loan."

He is applying his subject Mr. Rockefeller explained that a "live wire" must have a source for a power, and finally some definite end, through which its power was expressed. He did not hesitate in saying that the source of all power is Almighty God, said Mr. Rockefeller. "It is further strengthened by his saying that only recently the head of the new Chinese Republic had sent out a request for all Christian people to pray that strength and power might be given that government."

There is a greater need of men who are live wires today than ever before, said Mr. Rockefeller. "I

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, MAY 18, 1913.

President Yuan Shi Kai Cables Appreciation from New Republic of China

Honorable William Randolph Hearst, New York, N. Y.

I thank you heartily for your cablegram (congratulating China on its recognition as a Republic by the United States.) Our citizens, as well as myself, feel highly gratified at the lead taken by President Wilson and the people of the United States in the formal recognition of the Republic of China.

Our National Assembly, having perfected its organization, is now in session. The Provisional Government, while approaching the expiration of its legal term, has not slackened its efforts to promote peace and order in the country and to do all that lies in its power to strengthen the foundation of the new Commonwealth. We appreciate highly the cordial and sympathetic expressions contained in your cablegram.

YUAN SHI KAI, President of the Republic of China.

LAS COLORADAS MINE HOLDERS SUE ON STOCKS

Georgia Men Lead in Action to Recover Investments in Silver Claim Development.

DENOUNCE WHOLE PROJECT

History of Company Is Told in Action Begun in the Fulton Superior Court.

Stockholders in the Las Coloradas Mining Company are suing in the Superior Court to recover their investments.

They charge that an abandoned silver mine was bought for $400,000 and sold to the Las Coloradas Mining Company for $100,000.

With the $400,000 "held in the ground" in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico, as set out, the Las Coloradas Mining Company was organized with a capitalization of $5,000,000.

No mining ever was carried on. No satisfactory report of the condition ever has been made.

The promoters took over the "mine" on the ground that the company had no money with which to pay the taxes, and that they personally paid the taxes, the property reverted to them under the laws of Mexico.

The whole scheme was intended simply to defraud investors.

James J. Hightower, Jr., of Atlanta, is one of the stockholders, who says he put $1,000 into the venture and wants it back. John Rowland, of Macon, Ga., also has filed suit. His ax is out $1,250.

J. T. Pittard, of Winterville, Ga.; William Eberhart, of Cornelia, Ga.; and O. E. Barron, also of Cornelia, started a similar suit, but were paid $4,000 to fall silent of their claim, and dropped the litigation.

Other Georgians to sue in Atlanta are being prepared and soon will be filed for Sam P. Thompson, president of the Bank of Covington, Ga.; P. A. Stanton, president of the Bank of Social Circle, Ga.; Judge Samuel H. Sibbey, of Union Point, Ga.; L. E. Green & Co., of Wadsworth, Ga.; R. L. Fox, of Marietta, Ga.; J. N. McClure, of Norcross, Ga.; J. L. Chapp, of Lithonia, Ga.; and H. I. Danahy, of Lithonia, Ga.

These and a few others invested about $40,000 in the Las Coloradas Mining Company for something like 150,000 shares of stock.

Among the defendants named are W. M. McCann, president; W. W. ...

THIS WEEK'S PENNANT PRINCETON

Regulation colors: Orange and black, with mascot tiger head, in four colors. Size, 12x30 inches.

An attractive addition to The Sunday American pennant series.

The series now includes Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Georgia Tech, Georgia University and Auburn.

The Pennant Coupon on page 8, City Life Section, of to-day's Sunday American, will entitle you to any of these handsome pennants at the special reduced price.

Your newsdealer can get them for you, or write to us, Address: HEARST'S SUNDAY AMERICAN, 75 East Alabama St., ATLANTA.

Parcel Post Service Costs One Cent More

Figures Compiled by Department Show Delivery Has Added Little to Expenses.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Figures available to-day at the Postoffice Department show that the cost of the delivery on parcel post packages for the 10 largest cities in the United States is less than 1 cent additional to the cost of each package above the ordinary cost of service. A total of 1,841,499 packages were delivered in these cities in the six days between April 14 and 18 at a cost of a ninth of a cent a pound.

Automobile deliveries prove to be the most expensive, notably in San Francisco and Cincinnati, where the cost is almost 18 cents a parcel. In the 10 cities the average cost is 5.53 cents a package.

The 100 average rate on all deliveries is 1.14 cents a pound. Most of the packages are delivered by carrier, where little additional expenditure is necessary.

Search Is Renewed For J. D. Mattford

Wealthy Citizen Wanted on Charge of Kidnaping Warwick Children. Mrs. Jeter Also Sought.

Renewed efforts were made Saturday to effect the capture of John D. Mattford, wealthy citizen and Mrs. Mattford, held bookkeeper of the Exposition Cotton Mills, whose wife and children disappeared several weeks ago at the same time as Mattford and Mrs. Jeter. Indictments against the couple were returned by the Grand Jury yesterday.

A satisfactory report of the condition ever has been made. The promoters took over the "mine" on the ground that the company had no money with which to pay the taxes, and that they personally paid the taxes, the property reverted to them under the laws of Mexico.

The whole scheme was intended simply to defraud investors.

James J. Hightower, Jr., of Atlanta, is one of the stockholders, who says he put $1,000 into the venture and wants it back. John Rowland, of Macon, Ga., also has filed suit. His ax is out $1,250.

J. T. Pittard, of Winterville, Ga.; William Eberhart, of Cornelia, Ga.; and O. E. Barron, also of Cornelia, started a similar suit, but were paid $4,000 to fall silent of their claim, and dropped the litigation.

Other Georgians to sue in Atlanta are being prepared and soon will be filed for Sam P. Thompson, president of the Bank of Covington, Ga.; P. A. Stanton, president of the Bank of Social Circle, Ga.; Judge Samuel H. Sibbey, of Union Point, Ga.; L. E. Green & Co., of Wadsworth, Ga.; R. L. Fox, of Marietta, Ga.; J. N. McClure, of Norcross, Ga.; J. L. Chapp, of Lithonia, Ga.; and H. I. Danahy, of Lithonia, Ga.

These and a few others invested about $40,000 in the Las Coloradas Mining Company for something like 150,000 shares of stock.

Among the defendants named are W. M. McCann, president; W. W. ...

Court Reform Aim Of Legislative Bill

Measure Defeated Last Year Will Be Reintroduced This Year—Has Justice Approval.

A bill giving the criminal court judge in Georgia legal authority to suspend sentence and giving counties the right to appoint probation officers will be reintroduced this year in the Legislature. The bill was defeated last year by a narrow vote.

The measure has the sanction of the Probation Association of Georgia and the endorsement of all Superior Court judges in the state.

Defendants are contained in the measure. No person convicted of a crime, the maximum penalty of which is more than ten years imprisonment will have the right to benefit by the act.

... to match in earnest was the Atlanta Dental Society regarding the necessary funds for the new building. The members stood the expense of the work on the new building. The Dental Society, furnishing the necessary funds, are now in the process of erecting the building. The material at least is being secured.

DENTISTS WAR ON CHILDREN'S FAULTY TEETH

Free Brushes, Paste and Mouth Wash Weapons to Be Used in Combating Evil.

ALL SHOULD BE INSPECTED

Recent Tests at Two Schools Showed 95 Per Cent Were Defective.

Teeth brushes, tooth paste, mouth wash, distributed free, if necessary, to the school children of Atlanta, are the weapons which the city dentists would bring into play in the fight against defective teeth. Compulsory care of the mouth among school children is urged, today, by Dr. George B. Tigner, who yesterday told of the cooperative campaign being conducted by the Chamber of Commerce, the Atlanta Dental Society, and the public school authorities, to bring about such an end.

"Dentists of Atlanta have for a long time recognized the danger of defective teeth among school children," said Dr. Tigner. "Teeth and efficiency are related. Bad teeth make for bad scholarship and bad health in more ways than one. And the great proportion of the school children of Atlanta have defective mouths."

He told of a recent inspection of the teeth of children of the Crew Street and Bell Street schools, and Mrs. Jeter, who volunteered their address to the Chamber of Commerce in the work inaugurated by that institution to remedy deficiencies in the teeth of the children.

"The first inspection," he related, "revealed the fact that 95 per cent of the children had defective mouths. They were taken to seek remedial care in the dental hospital. So effective was the impromptu campaign, that a second inspection in the two schools revealed a great improvement in the condition of the teeth of the children. A third inspection will be made shortly."

The two schools were selected for the experiment as being representative institutions. The effect of the work, Dr. Tigner said, points to the urgent need for established dental inspections among all the school children.

A city ordinance probably will be necessary. In the law, Dr. Tigner explained, should be provisions for nurses and dentists to instruct the school children in the care of their teeth, and for the distribution of the necessary material in cases where the parents of the children lack the means of purchasing it. He even hinted at the efficacy of a dental hospital "in Boston," he explained, "the Forsyth Dental Hospital, established and sustained at a cost of millions, is the answer to the question. In Atlanta the nearest approach to a public institution of this kind are the clinics of the two dental colleges, the Atlanta and the Southern."

These clinics, he said, possess a wonderful power for doing good, and already have accomplished much. There is material in Atlanta for great work in this line.

At least one out of every four school children, from two colleges, here, has another Southern city," he declared. "There is possibility in the clinic for great service among the school children. This possibility and power is being realized, with much hope."

The graduating classes of the two dental colleges here, he said, numbered 60 to 70 young dentists each year, and he urged that they be trained to match in earnest was the Atlanta Dental Society regarding the necessary funds for the new building. The members stood the expense of the work on the new building. The Dental Society, furnishing the necessary funds, are now in the process of erecting the building. The material at least is being secured.

... to match in earnest was the Atlanta Dental Society regarding the necessary funds for the new building. The members stood the expense of the work on the new building. The Dental Society, furnishing the necessary funds, are now in the process of erecting the building. The material at least is being secured.

White House Phone Mystery Unsolved

Secret Service Men Unable to Find Boy Who Called Up President's Daughter.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—It is the talk in Atlanta, today, of the telephone. Secret agents, it was learned at the Capitol today, have been unable to discover the identity of two page boys in the House who several times were called up by a female Wilson, the President's daughter, and made the foregoing remark on the telephone. The call was put in while the House was in session at night from one of the booths in the Democratic club room. After the call was in the boy disappeared. The White House operator traced the call to the Capitol.

The boys, it is said, called Miss Wilson merely as a joke.

Mrs. J. J. Astor III Needs Outdoor Life

Titanic Baby in Best of Health Because It Has Always Had Fresh Air.

NEW YORK, May 17.—Mrs. John Jacob Astor III and is preparing to leave for the country, where it is hoped the return to out-of-door life, of which she is very fond, will restore her former splendid health.

"The baby," said Mrs. Astor, "has practically lived out of doors since it was born, and is a fine, big healthy child. We call him the 'fresh air baby' because he has certainly thrived on that sort of life."

... to match in earnest was the Atlanta Dental Society regarding the necessary funds for the new building. The members stood the expense of the work on the new building. The Dental Society, furnishing the necessary funds, are now in the process of erecting the building. The material at least is being secured.

Peace Union Would Cede England Land

Joint Bill to Be Introduced in Congress Affecting Canadian Coast Strip.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—A proposal to cede to Great Britain the coast strip of Southeast Alaska, 150 miles long, and in some places eight or ten miles wide, was made in a joint resolution introduced today by Representative Stephens, of Texas, at the request of the National Peace Union at Philadelphia.

The resolution proposes that the President should be authorized to negotiate with Great Britain for a cession to investigate the possibility of ceding the boundary of Southeast Alaska, for the benefit of both parties.

It sets forth that the border should be adjusted to follow the "natural boundary" which British territory is shut out from the sea by the American coast strip, and suggests that such a move would set an example in the policy of mutual concession that would constitute a "serious achievement in history."

Atlantans to Figure in Citizenship Meet

Ministers Will Take Part in Conference of 20,000 Delegates at Portland, Oregon.

Atlanta ministers will take a prominent part in the World's Christian Citizenship Conference to be held in Portland, Oregon, June 1 to 10.

Atlanta ministers will take a prominent part in the World's Christian Citizenship Conference to be held in Portland, Oregon, June 1 to 10.

Atlanta ministers will take a prominent part in the World's Christian Citizenship Conference to be held in Portland, Oregon, June 1 to 10.

Atlanta ministers will take a prominent part in the World's Christian Citizenship Conference to be held in Portland, Oregon, June 1 to 10.

Atlanta ministers will take a prominent part in the World's Christian Citizenship Conference to be held in Portland, Oregon, June 1 to 10.

Atlanta ministers will take a prominent part in the World's Christian Citizenship Conference to be held in Portland, Oregon, June 1 to 10.

Atlanta ministers will take a prominent part in the World's Christian Citizenship Conference to be held in Portland, Oregon, June 1 to 10.

Atlanta ministers will take a prominent part in the World's Christian Citizenship Conference to be held in Portland, Oregon, June 1 to 10.

Atlanta ministers will take a prominent part in the World's Christian Citizenship Conference to be held in Portland, Oregon, June 1 to 10.

Atlanta ministers will take a prominent part in the World's Christian Citizenship Conference to be held in Portland, Oregon, June 1 to 10.

Atlanta ministers will take a prominent part in the World's Christian Citizenship Conference to be held in Portland, Oregon, June 1 to 10.

Atlanta ministers will take a prominent part in the World's Christian Citizenship Conference to be held in Portland, Oregon, June 1 to 10.

Atlanta ministers will take a prominent part in the World's Christian Citizenship Conference to be held in Portland, Oregon, June 1 to 10.

Atlanta ministers will take a prominent part in the World's Christian Citizenship Conference to be held in Portland, Oregon, June 1 to 10.

Atlanta ministers will take a prominent part in the World's Christian Citizenship Conference to be held in Portland, Oregon, June 1 to 10.

Atlanta ministers will take a prominent part in the World's Christian Citizenship Conference to be held in Portland, Oregon, June 1 to 10.

Atlanta ministers will take a prominent part in the World's Christian Citizenship Conference to be held in Portland, Oregon, June 1 to 10.

ATLANTA BANKER IN NEAR FIGHT AT STATE MEETING

A. P. Colles and Hartwell Attorney Almost Clash Over Finance Park, Who Retains Place.

16 OPPOSE HIS RE-ELECTION

L. P. Miller, of Macon, Is Made President and Haynes McFadden Secretary of Ass'n.

MACON, Ga., May 17.—After the liveliest and most personal controversy in the history of the Georgia Bankers' Association, Officer A. P. Colles this afternoon was re-elected general counsel for the association in the 20th annual meeting of the association of the State conference.

Sixteen bankers led by A. P. Colles and Carl H. Lewis of Atlanta, fought Mr. Park's nomination. Mr. Colles spoke for nearly an hour, and once nearly had a personal encounter with L. P. Miller, of Macon, who was the only one to hold the floor as long. At the end of the hour, Mr. Colles was elected general counsel for the association.

Mr. Lewis demanded the right of personal privilege to declare to the convention that he would not vote for Mr. Park under any circumstances.

"His usefulness as attorney for this association has expired," declared Mr. Lewis.

Mr. Colles declared that if the convention took away from the executive council the right to elect the general counsel, not only would the president of the association be broken but the convention would commit a disgraceful act.

Mr. Park drafted a bill for the Legislature but would not confer with the legislative committee of the bankers and that for that reason the Legislature did not pass the bill.

Four times the convention of the Atlanta delegation on parliamentary points were upheld by the chair, W. Hunt presiding, and four times the convention overruled the chair.

There were only two speakers present and a majority of them were Mr. Park's friends and mostly Macon bankers.

L. P. Miller, the heavy state elected president, led the fight for Mr. Park, who he said, had been a great help to the state.

Mr. Park's criticism on how to control the Legislature were spoken in jest and would not be aimed against him.

The convention ignored Atlanta for the 1914 convention of the American Bankers' Association.

Ben Putt on Politics. A resolution to thank President Wilson for the appointment of W. J. Harris as Central Director was adopted on the ground that it favored of politics.

An agricultural committee was created to promote closer and friendlier relations between farmer and banker and a sum was appropriated for agricultural extension work in Georgia.

Joseph A. McCord, of Atlanta, made a report on his recent visit to Washington in regard to the tariff bill, with special regard to the income tax feature. He said that the bankers secured an important amendment to this bill.

Other bills elected by the association to-day are: President, L. P. Miller, Macon; first vice president, L. D. Cougle, Savannah; second vice president, R. O. Barakadd, Washington; third vice president, C. A. Shelton, Brunswick; fourth vice president, J. H. McCall, Savannah; fifth vice president, J. H. McCall, Savannah; sixth vice president, J. H. McCall, Savannah; seventh vice president, J. H. McCall, Savannah; eighth vice president, J. H. McCall, Savannah; ninth vice president, J. H. McCall, Savannah; tenth vice president, J. H. McCall, Savannah; eleventh vice president, J. H. McCall, Savannah; twelfth vice president, J. H. McCall, Savannah; thirteenth vice president, J. H. McCall, Savannah; fourteenth vice president, J. H. McCall, Savannah; fifteenth vice president, J. H. McCall, Savannah; sixteenth vice president, J. H. McCall, Savannah; seventeenth vice president, J. H. McCall, Savannah; eighteenth vice president, J. H. McCall, Savannah; nineteenth vice president, J. H. McCall, Savannah; twentieth vice president, J. H. McCall, Savannah.

YUAN SHI KAI, PRESIDENT OF CHINA

Broyles to Speak At School Closing

Atlanta Recorder Accepts Invitation to Deliver Baccalaureate Address at Dalton.

Recorder Nath Broyles will deliver the baccalaureate address before the Dalton High School on May 18. Judge Broyles has announced his acceptance of the invitation, which was presented by prominent officials and citizens of Putnam County.

The Atlanta Recorder's fame as a public speaker has spread rapidly throughout the State, and he is now much in demand. He has spoken before large gatherings at several different places during the past few weeks.

CINCINNATI PRIEST WILL PREACH AT ST. ANTHONY

Rev. Father Flavian Larher, a Franciscan priest from Cincinnati, will preach at the Novena to St. Anthony this year when the exercises open at St. Anthony's Rectory, West End, on May 20.

Confirmation will be administered by Rev. Father Flavian Larher, a Franciscan priest from Cincinnati, will preach at the Novena to St. Anthony this year when the exercises open at St. Anthony's Rectory, West End, on May 20.

Confirmation will be administered by Rev. Father Flavian Larher, a Franciscan priest from Cincinnati, will preach at the Novena to St. Anthony this year when the exercises open at St. Anthony's Rectory, West End, on May 20.

Confirmation will be administered by Rev. Father Flavian Larher, a Franciscan priest from Cincinnati, will preach at the Novena to St. Anthony this year when the exercises open at St. Anthony's Rectory, West End, on May 20.

Confirmation will be administered by Rev. Father Flavian Larher, a Franciscan priest from Cincinnati, will preach at the Novena to St. Anthony this year when the exercises open at St. Anthony's Rectory, West End, on May 20.

CHINA GIVES ITS THANKS THROUGH HEARST

Message Completes International Exchanges Which Began When Wu Tingfang Made Appeal for Aid When Freedom Was Won

Yuan Shi Kai, President of China, presents through THE SUNDAY AMERICAN the thanks of the new republic of the East to the American people for the recognition which the United States was the first to accord to the youngest member of the brotherhood of Free Popular Governments.

It is a message of peace and good will which complements a similar chapter in the history of the twentieth century.

By his message to Mr. Hearst, President Yuan Shi Kai brings to the attention of the American people the international internationalism which has been the people of China have made their successful struggle for freedom. Foreign Minister Wu Tingfang appealed to Mr. Hearst to transmit to the civilized world the new republic's plea for recognition and came to a happy end when, following the passage by Congress of a resolution in favor of recognition, the recognition was accorded by the Washington Government.

President Yuan Shi Kai now commends the chain in his cable to Mr. Hearst.

The Hearst papers are proud to have been the medium of this friendly exchange in advance of all other organs of the world, the recognition by the United States of the Oriental Republic.

China's First Appeal. It was on November 16, 1911, following the flight of the last emperor, that the Chinese people had, in the eyes of the long unbroken dynasty, and established a Government of their own. Like Mr. Wu Tingfang, long Chinese Minister at Washington and fully informed as to the widespread indignation of the world's newspapers, called Mr. Hearst from Shanghai, imploring him to aid in securing recognition for the new Government.

"An one who is a steadfast lover of liberty" wrote Mr. Wu, who had been given the post of Foreign Minister in the new republic, "I have ever earnestly fighting the battle of the oppressed, may I ask you to transmit to the civilized world the appeal for the new republic of China, as written by me as Director of Foreign Affairs."

Mr. Wu, born in the midst of revolutions, extends friendly greetings and congratulations to the new republic, and immediately after the ceremony to accept an appointment in one of the leading hospitals there.

WIFE HELD FOR SLAYING ALLEGED AFFINITY FREED

CHICAGO, May 17.—The coroner's jury, after deliberating three hours on the murder of Mrs. Mary Jane Kelly, yesterday returned a verdict of guilty to the murderer of Mrs. Kelly, who was held for slaying.

The coroner's jury, after deliberating three hours on the murder of Mrs. Mary Jane Kelly, yesterday returned a verdict of guilty to the murderer of Mrs. Kelly, who was held for slaying.

The coroner's jury, after deliberating three hours on the murder of Mrs. Mary Jane Kelly, yesterday returned a verdict of guilty to the murderer of Mrs. Kelly, who was held for slaying.

The coroner's jury, after deliberating three hours on the murder of Mrs. Mary Jane Kelly, yesterday returned a verdict of guilty to the murderer of Mrs. Kelly, who was held for slaying.

The coroner's jury, after deliberating three hours on the murder of Mrs. Mary Jane Kelly, yesterday returned a verdict of guilty to the murderer of Mrs. Kelly, who was held for slaying.

The coroner's jury, after deliberating three hours on the murder of Mrs. Mary Jane Kelly, yesterday returned a verdict of guilty to the murderer of Mrs. Kelly, who was held for slaying.

The coroner's jury, after deliberating three hours on the murder of Mrs. Mary Jane Kelly, yesterday returned a verdict of guilty to the murderer of Mrs. Kelly, who was held for slaying.

The coroner's jury, after deliberating three hours on the murder of Mrs. Mary Jane Kelly, yesterday returned a verdict of guilty to the murderer of Mrs. Kelly, who was held for slaying.

The coroner's jury, after deliberating three hours on the murder of Mrs. Mary Jane Kelly, yesterday returned a verdict of guilty to the murderer of Mrs. Kelly, who was held for slaying.

The coroner's jury, after deliberating three hours on the murder of Mrs. Mary Jane Kelly, yesterday returned a verdict of guilty to the murderer of Mrs. Kelly, who was held for slaying.

The coroner's jury, after deliberating three hours on the murder of Mrs. Mary Jane Kelly, yesterday returned a verdict of guilty to the murderer of Mrs. Kelly, who was held for slaying.

The coroner's jury, after deliberating three hours on the murder of Mrs. Mary Jane Kelly, yesterday returned a verdict of guilty to the murderer of Mrs. Kelly, who was held for slaying.

Man Makes Nature His Slave

Copyright, 1912, by the Star Company. Great Britain: Rights Reserved.

FRED DANA MARSH, one of whose paintings we reproduce here by permission, has succeeded in putting on canvas the real battle and the real triumph of men in our century.

That is to say, he has painted the battle against Nature, and the triumph over material difficulties.

Such pictures as Marsh paints should be hung up in every school, in every library, to make children and grown people realize what the real fight of men is today, AND WHAT THE REAL GLORY OF THE HUMAN RACE IS TO BE IN AGES TO COME.

This painting shows one of many giant steam shovels at work, digging out a great railroad excavation in the city of New York.

It shows the leaning monster of steel ripping up rocks, dirt and sand, every mouthful filling a wagon, every groaning and grunting of the engine deepening the hole and hastening the task.

Only yesterday the work done by this giant of iron and steam must have been done painfully by the feeble hands of men.

Until our day all the work of the world has been done painfully by men, miserable slaves attached to the soil, stunted by labor, bodies merely fed and worked, and then worked and fed again, and at last put away in a shallow grave dug by some other working body.

Where a hundred men, getting in each other's way, bending their backs and wearing themselves out, would have worked throughout an entire day with picks and shovels, ONE MAN now sits in the big steam shovel slave, directs the work of the monster with a slight movement of his hand, and in a minute pulls up from the earth's depth into the wagon huge rocks that men could not lift. Every minute this monster does a day's work of half a dozen men. And no one suffers, no one is tired, no one is driven—science that found men slaves of each other and afraid of nature is setting men free, free of slavery, free of superstition and terror—AND MAKING NATURE AND HER POWERS SLAVES OF MAN.

...the great accomplishment and glory of this age.

This Reproduction of a Painting by Fred Dana Marsh, Illustrates as No Other Artist Has Done Man's Conquest of Nature and Man's New Power.

The Great Engine Doing Without Pain or Fatigue the Work That Men Did Slowly and in Sorrow Is the Greatest Triumph and Hope of the Human Race Today. Here You See Men BEGINNING to Do Their Work in the Right Way.

You See in the Slave That Works for Them With the Power of Steam the Agent That Will One Day Conquer the Globe and Set All Men Free.

Man uses Nature's forces and conquers Nature. Only a short time ago Nature's forces frightened man.

Civilization must progress in the years ahead of us with a rapidity inconceivable. FOR THE MINDS AND THE BODIES OF MEN ARE SET FREE TO THINK.

While men were physical slaves real thought was impossible, except to the rare man.

Athens was the intellectual centre of the world twenty-five centuries ago, because the Athenians employed slaves in great numbers. Every Athenian citizen learned to think because he had leisure. The citizens thought and developed a national intellect that no nation of our day pretends to equal. The greatest Greek thinker, Aristotle, said that civilization and progress could not exist without slavery—and he was right.

But he did not dream that men one day would use the giant slave of steel and steam that you see on this page in Marsh's painting.

This century and centuries to follow will surpass the Athenians in intelligence and in the possession of slaves.

Our slaves will be of metal, without nerves. The power of the lightning, of steam, of the tides and of the great sun itself will be the power of these slaves of civilization.

Slave women spun and wove slowly the clothing of the Athenians and of the Romans.

Our clothing is made by slave fingers of steel. Great machines, gigantic looms, turn out in a day enough to clothe every citizen of Athens.

The slaves carried their masters in palanquins in Roman days. Steam and the lightning are the slaves that carry us to-day.

Huge fair-skinned captives from Gaul and Germany did the digging twenty centuries ago.

The slave on this page digs for us to-day, and those that worked tied to the shovel and the pick until yesterday will soon be free to stand straight AND THINK, AND BE MEN.

It was glorious in the old days to see a strong nobleman's tower on a hill protecting the serfs and slaves at work in the valley below. That tower meant that the poor toilers were protected and kept free from marauders and from murderers.

It is infinitely more glorious to see a great factory above a waterfall in our day, to see the huge power building of Niagara sending over copper wires the invisible electric slaves that work with fearful force in cities miles away.

The old tower of the baron freed the slave from murder and the fear of sudden death.

The modern industrial tower, and such servants of man as the great shovel in this picture, WILL FREE THE HUMAN SLAVE FROM HIS SLAVERY.

And that wonderful accomplishment of the human brain, that conquest of Nature and her powers, that dominion over the earth accomplished purely by man's intellect, is the great glory and hope of the human race.

Go to the great steel mill at Gary, in Indiana, and there you see in wonderful perfection man's use of Nature as his slave.

The great ships bring the ore down the lakes. No man's hand has touched it. Jaws of steel have torn it from the ore bed and dropped it into the ships.

At Gary other steel jaws lift it and carry it to the furnaces.

It is melted and great machines pour it out. It is divided into huge ingots, and these, white hot, are carried to the first part of the rolling mill. Still no man's hand has touched that iron. No slave has toiled under its weight.

The ingot is squeezed by one machine, made longer and narrower, squeezed again and made still longer and narrower.

It starts on its journey along the rollers of the mill, squeezed, pressed, handled, turned over, and shaped as it travels hundreds of yards—no hand touching it.

It arrives at last, a red-hot steel rail, the right shape, cut the right length. Machinery turns it over, slides it on an incline. It has made the journey, changing from a shapeless ingot to a finished rail, handled by machinery, the machines guided and controlled by one or two mechanics sitting aloft, pressing levers or buttons, AND WATCHING.

Finished at last and almost ready, the rail slides down the incline, and for the first time a man deals with it. He is a young Scandinavian giant, six and a half feet tall, with yellow hair and a clear gray eye. With huge pincers he turns the rail, and, standing at one end, runs his eye along it. He is no slave, but a well-paid worker. Ten dollars a day is his pay for the use of that true eye. As he looks along the rail he sees the defects, moves the left or the right hand, and another man controlling the straightening machine straightens the rail as he ordered.

And there you have side by side ten rails perfectly straight, and more always coming down the incline to meet the glance of that gray eye.

Do tired, hard-worked men come now to lift these heavy rails and stagger under their weight?

Not at all. They are turning black, but still too hot for any man's touch.

A man sitting in his little tower touches a button, and along overhead rails there comes gliding a great electric magnet—on a giant scale—the same as the magnet with which you used to draw little tin ducks across the water.

The magnet slides along, drops down upon the ten rails that weigh thousands of pounds, the electrician presses a button, turns on the current, and man's electric slave glues the rails to the magnet. The ten are lifted at once, as easily as a child would lift a pin; they are carried to a flat car, lowered on to the car, the current is turned off, releasing the rails, and the magnet travels back to get another load.

To realize what progress the human race has made, remember that the race lived for more than two thousand centuries not knowing how to use iron, and then see that giant magnet at Gary loading a car with steel rails, brought from an ore bed one thousand miles away, changed from the ore into the finished rail, AND NEVER TOUCHED BY A MAN'S HAND EXCEPT AS THE MAN WITH THE CLEAR EYE TURNED THE RAIL AND ORDERED THE MACHINE TO STRAIGHTEN IT.

There is SLAVERY, and the ideal slavery that will free the whole human race, by making Nature's power MAN'S SLAVE.

When you see the picture on this page, when you know what man has done since the days when slaves toiled to build the pyramids under heavy loads and under the lash, you cannot doubt that man's conquest and freedom will be absolute.

You cannot doubt that man on this earth will be the absolute ruler of his planet, shaping it, remoulding it as he will, free and powerful—and the poverty and the horror of to-day will have become a memory as dim and as distant as the stone age is to us.

With the Corseted Suffragettes of 3000 Years Ago

Interesting Discoveries in the Ancient City of Hercules which Seem to Prove the Legend of the Greatest Strong Man's Slavery to Sively Queen Omphale only a Memory of Woman's Oldest Conquest of the Ballot

An Edify of the Snake-Goddess of Tiryns, the Ruler of All the Gods.

A Woman Leader of Ancient Tiryns

This remarkable wall painting, the first complete picture of a woman of the advanced Cretan civilization of 3000 years ago, has recently been discovered on one of the ruined palace walls of ancient Tiryns. The corset and flounced skirt are astonishingly like our fashions of yesterday. Women ruled in Tiryns, it is believed, and this ancient lady is seen carrying an offering to the Snake-Goddess, the dominant deity of this vanished civilization. The legend of Hercules and Omphale is thought to be a record of a militant suffragette uprising of the women of the city and also those of old Crete.

THE German society now digging among the ruins of the ancient civilization of Crete has just unearthed evidence of a successful militant suffragette movement at least 1200 years before our era, and probably 2000 years before it. The discoveries which lead the Germans to the conclusion that women on that distant date strove for their rights, and got them, were made at Tiryns, on the Greek mainland. Tiryns, in its heyday, was one of the greatest cities of the Cretans. It has been famous for centuries as the birthplace of Hercules, the greatest strong man and most vigorous demi-god of legend. Tiryns is now, and has been for centuries, a mass of ruins, mostly deep in earth. The sheep of the Greek shepherds have grazed above its palaces and temples for ages.

The conclusions of the scientists throw a strong new light on this legend of Hercules and his city. The famous story of his enslavement by Queen Omphale is only, they say, a fanciful presentation of the important fact that a great woman's suffrage movement which swept over and conquered Crete began and was first successful in Tiryns. The method is one perfectly familiar to all students of legend and mythology.

The Cretan or Minoan language has never yet been read. No Rosetta stone, by which the hieroglyphics of the Egyptians were first deciphered, has been found to give the clue to the Minoan characters. But at Tiryns there was uncovered a mass of wonderful wall paintings, jars and vases and mosaics, most of which bore in pictures the story of this women's uprising and its consequences so plainly that there can be little doubt that the German scientists have read their meaning rightly.

These were not Greeks who built Tiryns and who erected the magnificent palace now being uncovered. The builders had come from Asia Minor, they were of the same old Minoan race as the Trojans. It was the might of the barbarian Greek city of Argos, a neighbor, which brought about the destruction of the Minoan cities, and with them Tiryns, about, perhaps, 500 B. C. The very ancient Greeks did not hold women in very high regard, and so they felt that it would never do to admit that woman had ever ruled, or there might be danger of the Greek women setting up their "rights" to dominate the State and society. Thus came about the peculiar twist in the Hercules legend which none has been able to explain hitherto.

It has been recognized as a Lydian part of the story, which means that it comes from Asia Minor, and this adds to the value of the new interpretation. As the story goes, the hero Hercules is entrapped by Queen Omphale, and devotes himself to pleasures, losing himself in the society of women so far as to put on feminine attire, while his lively lady Omphale takes up his skin-pants, it on, and with the club of Hercules in her hand flaunts herself before the degenerate hero, and proves herself the real hero.

him completely at her mercy. In the astonishing wall paintings at Tiryns the signs of the mastery of the women in all the religious rites first aroused the interest of the scientists. Upon one wall is a whole row of women bearing their offerings to the great patron goddess of the city and the sex—Juno, or Hera, as the Greeks called her. She was symbolized both in Tiryns and in Crete as the great snake-goddess, the patroness of marriage and the ruler of men, for in her hand is always shown the scepter of dominion. Juno was known in later times even as Juno Regis, the Queen Goddess, a relic of the age in which the primeval woman of the older stock ruled mankind, and she is always depicted with that prominent chin which betokens power and determination, and the high forehead, expressing great intellectual powers.

Queen Omphale Making Hercules Spin Cloth. Original, from Tiryns & Argos.

The Little Pet Dog of a Fashionable Lady of Ancient Tiryns

WHY CRIME DOES NOT PAY

Sophie Lyons—the "Queen of the Burglars"

No. 7 of the Series of Extraordinary Revelations

Written by SOPHIE LYONS

The Most Famous and Successful Criminal of Modern Times, Who Made a Million Dollars in Her Early Criminal Career and Lost It at Monte Carlo, and Has Now Accumulated Half a Million Dollars in Honorable Business Enterprises

Written by Sophie Lyons.

Copyright, 1913, by the Star Company.

There is any familiar adage that its every criminal in the underworld it is "Easy come, easy go." Surely there is a curse on stolen money. More than once in my former life I have received $50,000 as my share in a Sunday morning bank burglary—and by the next Saturday night not even a two-dollar bill remained.

Professional thieves are rich one day and poor the next. The fact that more money is always to be had without the hard labor which brings honest reward makes thieves as imprudent as children. All thieves are gamblers—scarcely in all my acquaintance can I recall even one exception. Sometimes the entire proceeds of a robbery are lost in a gambling house within twenty-four hours after the crime.

And this is how it has come about that all over the world in every big city there are "backers" of thieves; men, and sometimes women, who take the stolen goods out of their hands, find hiding places for criminals who are being pursued, advance money to them when they are out of funds and even pay the expenses of their families when the burglars get into prison.

Some of these friends of thieves are really promoters of criminal enterprises. They name the banks and jewelry shops that are to be robbed and select the residences of wealthy persons that are to be entered. They are like the backers of theatrical enterprises who put up the money for the necessary expenses and advance the salaries of the actors; they are like the promoters in the mining world who pay for the work, the rock animals and the "drab-able" the mine to be out-fitted on prospecting tours in the mountains.

QUEEN OF THE THIEVES

Curiously enough the greatest crime promoter of modern times was a New York woman, "Mother" Mandelbaum. Alas! I knew her well too well. A hundred, yes, perhaps nearer five hundred transactions I have had with her, little and big. Many were entirely on my account, sometimes I dealt with her in behalf of thieves who were in hiding or in need of help or were in jail.

Nobody anywhere did such a wholesale business in stolen goods or had such valuable associations among big criminals. "Mother" Mandelbaum, of course, cracked no safes, she did not risk her skin in house burglaries, her fat hand was never caught in anybody's pocket, no policeman's bullet was ever sent after her fleeing figure. Here, then, we have a dealer in crime pretty shrewdly protected from the dangers that best criminals. And yet I shall once again prove to my readers and from this very woman who was the unaccredited "Queen of the Thieves," rich, powerful and protected by the police—from this very "Mother" Mandelbaum I shall again show that CRIME DOES NOT PAY!

But was this woman exceptionally lucky? No. I will confess to you also the career of John D. Grady, the most remarkable rival in the same field of criminal promotion—the man who financed the great $3,000,000 Manhattan bank robbery and had the famous Jimmy Hoon and his band of expert crackmen in his employ. From Grady I will also prove the great moral truth that surely CRIME DOES NOT PAY!

"Mother" Mandelbaum's real name was Mrs. William Mandelbaum. She was born in Germany of poor but respectable parents. As a young woman she arrived in America without a friend or relative. But her courage, heavy features, powerful physique and penetrating eyes were sufficient protection and chaperone for anyone. It is not likely that anyone ever forced unwelcome attentions on this particular immigrant.

Arrived in New York she was compelled to pawn one or two gold trinkets while looking for work. This brought her in touch with the flourishing pawnshop business.

Encouraging Pickpockets

The pawn shops were practically unregulated by law in those days and the German girl's painful experience as a customer, instead of making her angry, impressed her with great admiration. There was a field for an ambitious person and if ambition is a virtue none was over more virtuous in that particular than "Mother." But how to enter this profitable industry was the question. To be a pawn broker has always been a lowly occupation. That is, it always has for anyone but this woman, who had none. She made a hurried survey of the pawn shops along the Bowery and elsewhere, and among others noticed the place of one William Mandelbaum.

William was unmarried, rather weak and fat for a man of his calling, and afflicted with chronic dyspepsia. He cooked his own meals over a kerosene lamp, which was undoubtedly the cause of his indigestion. "Mother" Mandelbaum introduced herself as Fredericka Goldberger and offered to cook and tend store at nominal wages.

The "nominal wages" Iron secured her the position and the cooking made her firm in it. Within a week, William's dyspepsia was better than he could ever remember since boyhood; he had gained seven pounds in weight and business was growing beautifully on account of the capable Fredericka.

ver and disguising jewelry and other merchandise out supposedly honest merchants were willing to buy her wares and ask no questions.

It must always be born in mind in these articles that crime cannot be carried on by individuals, requires an elaborate permanent organization. While the individual opportunities and adventures of bank burglars, come and go, working from coast to coast, they must be affiliated with some permanent substantial person who is in touch with the police. Such a permanent head was "Mother" Mandelbaum.

The field of usefulness to thieves of the big "fences" like "Mother" Mandelbaum and Grady are infinite. Suppose you are a burglar and last night's loot resulted mostly in jewelry and silverware, you would have neither the time nor the place to melt down the silver and disguise or unsell it. "Mother" Mandelbaum would attend to all that for you on about a 75 per cent commission.

This wonderful woman kept certain persons busy on salary melting down silver. Others worked at disguising, unsetting and substitution of jewelry.

What would you do with a stolen watch while busy on your hands? You could not take the name and address of its rightful owner? You might melt down the case and jewel it into a watch, usually into a watch and well disguised that its former owner may pay for a ride in it without suspicion.

The force of artifice and mechanics employed in the fruits of burglaries and pocket picking is several thousand in a city like New York or Chicago.

Robbing-Tiffany

Of all the stolen things brought into her shop, Mrs. Mandelbaum preferred diamonds. She rapidly became an expert on stones and they presented few difficulties.

A stone once outside its setting usually bears "marks" by which it can be identified. Nothing is so easily hidden nor so imperishable as a diamond, and, as everyone knows, they have an unfailing market. She exhorted her pickpocket customers to specialize on stickpins, and doublets they did their best to please her.

made, for there was nothing missing this time. An hour later she handed the $5,000 gold bullion to Mandelbaum. The following morning the man who polished the counters at Tiffany's found a piece of chewing gum wedged under the counter where nobody would see it.

This first robbery planned by "Mother" Mandelbaum was so delightfully successful that the pickpocket industry seemed very by comparison. The chewing gum trick could not be worked again, because the jeweler's association had notified all the members of the new scheme. It was a short step from jewel-stealing to sneaking and confidence men began to frequent the back rooms of the Mandelbaum establishment.

Dry Goods Store Thieves

On the other hand, timid but shrewd and observant persons frequently saw chance to steal which they dared not undertake. Servants of wealthy New York families were especially attracted to the store to find a job suited to their particular talents.

Next came employees of wholesale and retail dry goods stores.

They stole from the shelves and counters, fur coats and other bulky but valuable merchandise presented new problems. To handle these articles, Mandelbaum established a larger quarters. She retained the pawnbroking department, but added miscellaneous stores.

"Mother" Mandelbaum always sat inside of a window which was protected by strong steel sash. The door to the room was of heavy oak. It was impossible, thus protected, for anybody to make a sudden rush and catch "Mother" Mandelbaum off her guard.

The Secret of the Chimney

"Mother" Mandelbaum had a special chimney built in her den, where she kept a little wood-burning during the winter and kept the fireplace filled with old trash during the hot season. This chimney was peculiarly constructed, and had a false back behind the fire and in this cavity was hidden a little dumb-waiter. In front of the dumb-waiter was a false chimney back on a hinge that could be let down. She constructed a special brick wall so that it appeared to be the regular wall of the house.

"Mother" Mandelbaum was never seen in the front room, where a clerk was always kept on guard. She kept out of reach in an inside room, behind the window with the steel sash. Her false chimney and secret dumb-waiter arrangement, as already explained, was in this room. In another room "Mother" Mandelbaum owned under another name.

In an adjoining room were kept bulky articles and stolen goods, such as fur coats, etc. Here, too, the price tags, labels, etc. were removed from stolen furs, lace and silks. One of the back rooms contained beds, where thieves were lodged when occasion demanded. Still another room was a store room where crates and cases of stolen goods were packed up for shipment to her customers.

Gradually "Mother" Mandelbaum's clientele of crooks increased in number and importance until she had only one rival, John D. Grady, known as "Old Super" and "Blaze".

Grady had a more distinguished body of bank burglars under his sway than had "Mother" Mandelbaum. He was the architect of the underworld, just as pickpockets are the lowest.

When the Manhattan Bank robbery was planned and executed "Mother" Mandelbaum was much humiliated that she could not command the financing and planning of the splendid project. It was Grady's funds which financed the undertaking and "Mother" lost her own part and star.

"Western" George Howard in many ways was the greatest of bank burglars and was rated by many as superior to Grady's Jimmy Hoon. Last week I told you how "Western" George made the Manhattan Bank robbery possible and then was murdered.

After Grady's tragic death "Mother" Mandelbaum was the undisputed financier, guide, counselor and friend of crime in New York.

Mrs. Mandelbaum's Special Devices for Dealing with and Secret Trap-Door Escape.

"Mother" Mandelbaum was never seen in the front room (B) where a clerk was always kept on guard. She kept out of reach in an inside room (A) with the steel sash. Her false chimney and secret dumb-waiter arrangement was at the point (C) in the room (D) where "Mother" Mandelbaum kept two or three employes busy removing stolen jewelry and clothing and engraving designs to cover up and hide monograms and identification marks.

The Tragic End of Grady, the Burglar

Grady, the "Fence," having the every arrangement to escape with the glass full and a woman he loved, was trying to poison him. "Do it, murder you want—do it!" she screamed and plunged for him. He seized her arm. "You would first have my way with the strength of despair, twisted the arm out of Grady's grasp. He fell back, his eyes turned to the chair while the furniture was scattered about him. Grady was dead; heart disease had overcome him."

For twenty-five years she lived on the proceeds of other people's crimes. During that time she made many millions. For special meals in the desperate and sent part in bribing, fixing and silencing people. It just happened that Jimmy Hoon was an old woman when the blow fell. Mary's brook, a shopkeeper and old-time ally of her, Mandelbaum, had a serious row with her. This row was the beginning of her end. She and Herman Flood were arrested.

"Abe" Hummel and course, applied for help from the district judge, and sent her for jail, for special meals in the desperate and sent part in bribing, fixing and silencing people. It just happened that Jimmy Hoon was an old woman when the blow fell. Mary's brook, a shopkeeper and old-time ally of her, Mandelbaum, had a serious row with her. This row was the beginning of her end. She and Herman Flood were arrested.

"Abe" Hummel and course, applied for help from the district judge, and sent her for jail, for special meals in the desperate and sent part in bribing, fixing and silencing people. It just happened that Jimmy Hoon was an old woman when the blow fell. Mary's brook, a shopkeeper and old-time ally of her, Mandelbaum, had a serious row with her. This row was the beginning of her end. She and Herman Flood were arrested.

"Abe" Hummel and course, applied for help from the district judge, and sent her for jail, for special meals in the desperate and sent part in bribing, fixing and silencing people. It just happened that Jimmy Hoon was an old woman when the blow fell. Mary's brook, a shopkeeper and old-time ally of her, Mandelbaum, had a serious row with her. This row was the beginning of her end. She and Herman Flood were arrested.

Reaction, marked in the room (B) where a clerk was always kept on guard. She kept out of reach in an inside room (A) with the steel sash. Her false chimney and secret dumb-waiter arrangement was at the point (C) in the room (D) where "Mother" Mandelbaum kept two or three employes busy removing stolen jewelry and clothing and engraving designs to cover up and hide monograms and identification marks. In the room (B) where a clerk was always kept on guard. She kept out of reach in an inside room (A) with the steel sash. Her false chimney and secret dumb-waiter arrangement was at the point (C) in the room (D) where "Mother" Mandelbaum kept two or three employes busy removing stolen jewelry and clothing and engraving designs to cover up and hide monograms and identification marks.

