Bandits and Police In Pistol Battle in New York Streets

NEW YORK, May 21.—A running fight in the streets of New York today, accomplished a job which four armed Italian bandits attacked James J. Wilson, a bank messenger, who was carrying $10,000 in cash from his bank to the Nathan Manufacturing Company. Before Wilson could produce a reason he had been twice wounded.

Sergeant Alesandri and Patrolman Finnegan, the first officers on the scene, opened fire on the robbers, wounding two of them. The other two fled, bringing at the policemen with them.

Wilson was taken to the Harlem Hospital, where it was found his condition was critical.

First Concert of Year at Piedmont Park Next Sunday

The first outdoor musical concert of the season will be given at Piedmont Park Sunday afternoon from 2:30 to 5:30 o'clock. Music will be furnished by the First Regiment Band.

"Whether these concerts will be permanent depends on the action of Council in providing funds," said J. C. Cochran, president of the park board. "We can secure private subscriptions if council only will begin the movement."

"We hope to have music in Grant park, Piedmont park, several times a week and every Sunday through the summer."

Woman Badly Hurt By Fall on Street

Miss F. Perry, of 84 Boulevard, was painfully injured last Thursday afternoon when she slipped and fell from her hat while passing the Whitehall Street viaduct.

Police Officer W. Payne, who was on duty from the Police Station, picked up the prostrate woman and, with the assistance of other passersby, carried her to the Southern Railway office, where she remained while she was given temporary medical attention and when she revived was taken to her home in an automobile. Her injuries are not thought serious.

City Officials Take University Course

MADISON, Wis., May 21.—Mayor Blensborg, of Philadelphia, secretary of the City Club of Philadelphia and Mayor Ridge, of Atlantic City, today began their three-day term as students at the University of Wisconsin, where they expect to learn many things about municipal economy. They heard their first lecture by Dean Louis Raber this morning.

Several educators who came with the party began studying college methods originated by the University of Wisconsin.

Verlet in 30 Seconds. MACON.—It took exactly 30 seconds for a jury in the Bibb Superior Court to find H. S. Lockhart, a young white man, not guilty of the charge of murder. He shot and killed a negro, with whom he had a quarrel.

Chinda Gives Notice He Will Renew Protest

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Viscount Chinda, Japanese Ambassador to the United States, today gave notice on the State Department that next week he will resume the official discussion of the controversy arising from the California land law.

It was learned that Ambassador Chinda will take up the American reply at length when he calls upon Secretary Bryan. It is understood here that the Japanese official has received instructions from his government to lay particular stress upon the Japanese contention that the proposed situation is an infringement on treaty obligations.

Government dispatches from Tokio today pointed out that the Japanese Corner Office considers the American reply to the Japanese protest as an infringement on the rights of the United States to the California land law.

It is admitted here that the American reply was quite frank, as was the protest of Japan, but administration officials say they do not intend to discuss the entire note at which the Japanese should be offering a reply.

Grand Jury Won't Hear Leo Frank or Lee

Understood That Cases Will Be Brought Separately, With One Accused as Accomplice.

Solitor General Hugh M. Dorsey announced Thursday afternoon that he was prepared to go before the Grand Jury Friday morning with his strongest evidence in the case of Leo Frank and New Lee, held in custody with the murder of Mary Phagan.

Although Mr. Dorsey would not discuss the facts in which the cases would be presented, it was plain that they would be heard separately and the charge against one would be that he was an accessory to the act.

Neither of the defendants will go before the Grand Jury until after the Grand Jury Friday morning with his strongest evidence in the case of Leo Frank and New Lee, held in custody with the murder of Mary Phagan.

"Whether these concerts will be permanent depends on the action of Council in providing funds," said J. C. Cochran, president of the park board. "We can secure private subscriptions if council only will begin the movement."

Wilson Orders Mission to Chicago

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Acting under orders of President Wilson, Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes today gave notice that the American reply to the Japanese protest as an infringement on the rights of the United States to the California land law.

It is admitted here that the American reply was quite frank, as was the protest of Japan, but administration officials say they do not intend to discuss the entire note at which the Japanese should be offering a reply.

The Issues Between Japan and This Country Constitute Essentially a World Question.

On the very day on which Governor Johnson of California signed the alien land bill came unmistakable evidences that the sentiment of the entire world of Occidental civilization is sweeping in to support not only of the State of California, but of the United States in upholding the action of that great Commonwealth.

The emphatic declarations of the Hearst newspapers are being echoed and indorsed wherever it is being recognized, as already both in Great Britain and Germany, that the issues between Japan and this country constitute "ESSENTIALLY A WORLD QUESTION."

These four words from Sir Valentine Chirol, who not so long ago was received in Tokio with almost diplomatic honor and domiciled in a wing of the Japanese Foreign Office, have not been penned lightly.

"No useful purpose," he tells the British public, "can be served by blind condemnation of the tendencies of public opinion in the Western States. They do not spring so much from race hatred as from the instinct of self-preservation. The time has come when Japan is disposed to challenge the very essence of the attitude of Western nations toward Asia."

There need be no doubt at all that Sir Valentine is entirely in touch with official British opinion. For twenty years he has been listened to with attention as a responsible exponent of Eastern problems. Only last year he was a member of a Royal Commission on such a subject.

The suggestion, therefore, that "Japan will do well to remember that her claim to enter a neighbor's garden can at best be only quietly pursued" carries with it the utmost significance. For Great Britain, the ally of Japan, has precisely the same problem to solve, and in more quarters of the globe.

Japan can not demonstrate to the world a civilization equal to the best of Occidental civilizations by forcing a suicidal war on her best customer in the world's markets. That would be an act of practical barbarity that would, as is already indicated, instantly focus on this country the moral support of all white nations. And Japan is perfectly aware that without the moral support of at least some of the white nations she could not have prosecuted her war against Russia, even close to home as it was.

What is now becoming plain to all nations was plain to this newspaper at the beginning and was plainly stated. California is right. It is a WORLD QUESTION. If this country is to be forced to settle this world question for the rest of the world, as the result of an act which is already recognized abroad as an act only of self-protection, then at least the United States is assured of the moral approval and support of all white nations.

Valuable Report on Vice Conditions

The report on vice conditions in New York City, issued by the committee of which John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is at the head, will furnish a basis for the work of every organization whose purpose is to make its home city a better and a safer city.

The report is remarkably exhaustive, and proves that those who were associated with young Mr. Rockefeller in making it spared neither time nor expense in getting the actual facts, instead of collating hearsay evidence and jumping at sensational conclusions.

The makers of newspapers understand something about the difficulties of getting exact facts. This report means that many men have worked hard and long at disagreeable tasks. It means that they have been brave enough to face the most dangerous element of municipal life, and that they have been clear-headed enough to find out what was going on rather than to make guesses that would have proved utterly useless if put to the test.

Young Mr. Rockefeller has freely given his money—of which he has abundance—and his time—of which he has far less than the average man—to the making of this report. It is his everlasting credit that it is so complete and that its results are so available for every organization whose business it is to help in stamping out a cruel, torrid and nefarious traffic.

It is a hopeful indication of the future of this country that the Rockefeller fortune will some day fall into the hands of a young man whose earnestness, sincerity and desire for the welfare of the community in which he lives is so well proven by this great work which his initiative set on foot and which his energy, plus his great means, has so well accomplished.

TRUE CHARITY

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

I HAVE a beggar from my little store Of well earned gold. He spent the shining ore And came again; and yet again, still cold And hungry, as before.

I have a thought, and through that thought of mine, He found himself the man, supreme, serene. Fed, clothed, and crowned with blessings manifold And now he begs no more.

... Dorothy Dix Writes on "Suffrage" ...

By DOROTHY DIX. MR. ARTHUR DODGE, the leader of the anti-suffragists and our greatest unconscious humorist, is out with a broad new explanation of why women want to vote. She says that the suffrage question is nothing on earth but a sex disturbance, and that in trying to get the ballot women are only making a sex appeal to men.

One down into the pit carries the other into the abyss. We are the wives, and sisters, and daughters of the man who wants low tariff or high tariff; our husbands, and our brothers, and our fathers are manufacturers, or farmers, or merchants; our fortunes will be affected just as much as men's by currency laws. We are bound to men by every...

What the Antis Say. The antis say that women do not need to vote because they can persuade men to vote the way they want them to. They contend that it is easier to jolly a man into doing what you want him to do than it is to do it yourself, and less labor to work him than to do the work with your own hands.

She is going to strike the chord of sex with a hand that practice has made uddering in its touch. She's going to use every coquetry, and blandishment, and caress, and wit that have come down from the days of Eve and Delilah to the present moment, and because she may be doing it for a good cause, doesn't alter its character one whit.

GRAND JURY WOULD HEAR LEO FRANK OR LEE

Understood That Cases Will Be Brought Separately, With One Accused as Accomplice.

Hollister General Hugh M. Dorsey, announced Thursday afternoon that he was prepared to go before the Grand Jury Friday morning with the strongest evidence in the case of Leo M. Frank and Nest Lee, both in connection with the murder of Mary Phagan.

Neither of the defendants will be before the jury, Mr. Dorsey said, in the event any move was made to introduce evidence for the defense. He was prepared to block it. He said he had looked up the evidence in the files on this question, because the grand jury was asked to indict on the charge of murder of Mary Phagan. The jury in this case was asked to indict on the charge of murder of Mary Phagan.

The opinion of 11 of the grand jury members is that the evidence is sufficient to indict the other two. The grand jury was asked to indict on the charge of murder of Mary Phagan. The jury in this case was asked to indict on the charge of murder of Mary Phagan.

JAPAN RESISTS UNITED STATES' REPLY

CHINDA GIVEN ORDERS TO INSIST ON CLAIMS

Baron Chinda Told to Urge Upon Bryan Japan's Interpretation of Existing Treaty.

REFERENDUM PROPOSED DISPLEASES ORIENTALS

This Government, It is Revealed, Refuses to Test Alien Law in Supreme Court.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. TOKIO, May 21.—The reply of the United States Government to the representations of Japan relative to the anti-alien land law in California is considered unfavorable. This was learned today at the Foreign Office. Part of the reply to-day became known. It denies any intended infringement of Japanese treaty rights. The United States Government refused to initiate any action in the Supreme Court to test the validity of the action of the California Legislature and Governor Johnson, who signed the law. The Japanese government has sent instructions to Ambassador Chinda to press vigorously the claims of the Japanese.

In a communication to the Japanese Ambassador the Foreign Office urged the necessity of impressing upon the Secretary of State Bryan Japan's interpretation of the existing treaty between this country and the United States. Another feature of the reply, which was to submit the anti-alien land law to a referendum vote in California.

Chinda Gives Notice He Will Renew Protest.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Vicecount Chinda, Japanese Ambassador to the United States, today served notice on the State Department that next week he will renew the official discussion of the controversy arising from the California law. It was learned that Ambassador Chinda will take up the American reply at length when he calls upon Secretary Bryan. It is understood here that the Japanese official has received instructions from his Government to lay particular stress upon the Japanese contention that the present situation is an infringement on treaty obligations.

Government dispatches from Tokyo today pointed out that the Japanese Foreign Office considers the American reply to the Japanese protests as unfavorable inasmuch as it stated the right of the Orientals to hold land in the United States, despite the existing treaty.

Wilson Orders To Omit 'War Talk.'

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Acting president Wilson today issued a Representative House of Representatives to-day went over the rough draft of a speech to be made by the speaker to be delivered in the House tomorrow, carefully expurgating all the "war talk." The President wanted nothing that the speech might contain might of a military nature, and Wilson is getting out all remarks which are not in line with his policy. Several Republican members have demanded to question him about his position on the question of an additional navy, and it is possible that they may have a hard time of it. Wilson has been asked to issue a statement in the House, but he has declined to do so. It is believed that the House will meet tomorrow.

B. SANDERS WALKER, JR. Macon banker dead from poison he took by mistake a week ago.

Death From Poison Comes to Macon Man Just One Week After Fatal Mistake. BRAVE FIGHT FOR LIFE STIRS MEDICAL WORLD. Battle is Given Up Only When He Lapsed Into Coma Which Preceded the End.

Iowa Man Dying As Walker Did

SIMON CITY, IOWA, May 21.—Small hope was entertained today for the recovery of Robert Palmer, a cattle salesman and member of a prominent Iowa family, who swallowed three bicarbonate of mercury tablets. He has been reading newspaper accounts of the slow death of B. S. Walker, the Macon, Ga., banker, by the accidental swallowing of the same poison.

Ball Trust Inquiry Resolution Not Dead

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Representative Gallagher, of Illinois, denied that his resolution for an investigation of the so-called baseball trust was dead. There have been reports, Gallagher admitted, that the House Rules Committee, to which his resolution has been referred, was hostile. He declared, nevertheless, that he would press for a public hearing. "I have some evidence that will open their eyes," he declared.

Son Near Death From Kissing Dying Mother

FORT SCOTT, KANS., May 21.—Carl Heckelwhite, a young farmer of this county, is near death in a hospital at Wichita, as a result of kissing his dying mother good-bye. The mother died of blood poisoning. When her physicians announced death was approaching, her son embraced and kissed her. The next day the young man was taken ill, eruptions appearing on his body. Physicians pronounced the case blood poisoning contracted by the father. Carl and Heckelwhite was buried in Wichita for treatment.

LIST WORDS OF WALKER TELL WIFE OF LOVE

By FRANC MANQUIM. MACON, Ga., May 21.—D. Sanders Walker's last words were tenderly addressed to his wife, who sat at his bedside, holding his hand, until the end came Thursday morning at 1:35 o'clock. Wednesday afternoon, in his last moment of consciousness when he roused from the heavy stupor in which he had lain all day, Mr. Walker pressed his wife's hand and said, faintly: "I love you, Marie." He never spoke again. During the night he again roused, and about 1 o'clock this morning the death agony began.

Hurrah! the Piedmont Swimming Season's Here Rising Sun Finds the First 1913 Bather—a Girl

Miss Lillian Smith and Miss Frances Smith, 47 Piedmont Place, among those who opened swimming season at Piedmont Park Thursday.

Crowds Rush to Beach Opening of Atlanta's 'Beach'—Jennie Perkinson's Title Threatened.

Just as the sun shot his golden rays above the horizon, two dull splashes in the limpid waters of Piedmont park sounded, marking the formal opening of that resort for the summer. Pretty Lillian Smith and her fair sister, Frances, in their bathing costumes plunged downward from the springboard in the new lake. The water shot upward high for the first time, and thus was re-chronicled the pond which will form Atlanta's playground for the summer months. "The Return of Jennie," Jennie Perkinson, the park superintendent, soon arrived and began to look for Jennie Perkinson, the little girl who won the championship as a swimmer last season. "Jennie will be here," he said, "she could not stay away to save her life from what I have heard from some of the likely-looking prospects who have been out this spring. She is going to have a hard time holding her title this summer." "Look at that little girl over yonder in the middle of the lake. Her stroke is equal to Jennie's now. Look, she dives like a diver." "My 'j' which I was a boy again" but his thought was interrupted by a laugh. "Look at Zola Smith, 56 of the Waterworks, he had this lake filled up, and as a swimmer, he is about to splash it all out." Dan Carey on Honeycomb. As the young day grew, the crowd increased. Spectators began to gather on the grassy banks. Various persons began to ask for Dan Carey, the General Manager of Park, who started the public bathing three years ago. Dan Carey assuredly.

BURNS AIDE IS REPORTED TRAVELING A NEW MAN

Detective Tobie May Leave City to Seek Youth Seen With Slain Girl.

FINGER-PRINT EXPERT HAS VALUABLE CLEWS

More Than 100 Witnesses Subscribed to Appear Before the Grand Jury Friday.

It was said Thursday that C. W. Tobie, chief criminal investigator for the Burns detective agency, may leave Atlanta on the trail of a new and important witness, whose identity he is carefully guarding. The man is wanted to have been with the girl before she went to the hotel factory Memorial Day and to have left the city that day. The detective is intimating that the man had not been named because he did not care to be a witness.

It was reported Thursday that P. A. Cook, noted finger-print expert with the Burns detective agency, has been called to the grand jury which takes up the case Friday. With the Bollicor and city authorities, the expert will spend Wednesday night voluntarily examining the clothing worn by the slaying girl, the 190 and 1910, in the basement and other articles that have been unearthed since the Bollicor took over the case. Finger prints that had been scraped off the girl's clothing were clearly brought out by the use of chemicals. It was said.

Burns Forces Augmented.

The Burns forces have been augmented by the arrival of several other writing experts and another detective. The three were closed with the Bollicor for the case. The Bollicor was examined Wednesday. Neither would discuss the interview.

Department and Pinkerton Detectives are conducting a relentless search for the missing man.

Department and Pinkerton detectives are conducting a relentless search for the missing man. The search is being carried to the factory where he received her pay. It is found they expect to have one of the most important bits of evidence for the state.

City Detectives have been advised the task of locating the young man.

City detectives have been advised the task of locating the young man. The task is being referred to in Mrs. A. A. Smith's letter to The Georgian. Mrs. Smith said she had a young man who lived in Whitehall Street, say she was with Mary Pagan at a 1 o'clock Memorial Day afternoon.

have been misinterpreted, and this explains of my failure to work with the Atlanta detectives was due in a misapprehension. He explained his position in the following statement to The Georgian:

"When I came here, I started to work on the investigation without getting any information from Atlanta detectives. I have been criticized, but I think the criticism was unjust. I was not egotism, but delicacy, that kept me from going to them.

"They had been working on the case over three weeks. Then I came. If I had gone to them and said, 'Gentlemen, please give me all the information you got in your three weeks' work, don't you think that would result in an unusual amount of news?"

Dennis He Made Criticism.

There were working on the case, and after three weeks a detective from another place should come to me and ask for all the information I would think he had lots of. It was not egotism on my part—it simply required the other men than I had in the case.

"I am not criticizing anybody for not looking into the foot prints, but after the murder, I had not made a single print. I had only two prints, but I did not say they had passed the finger prints and thumb prints were overlooked, providing the thumb prints and finger prints were not checked, but, mind you, I do not say they were not taken up. The fact is I do not know to-day whether they were or not."

Mrs. Longstreet Appears to Have Flattened Postoffice Department Statement

By JAMES B. NEVIN.

Whatever may be the merits of the question of Mrs. Helen D. Longstreet's removal as postmaster of Gastonia, the contention that her administration was inefficient seems to have fallen pretty flat, and, to that extent, sympathy with her apparently is observed among political observers throughout Georgia.
