ASSERTS CRUSADE AGAINST

Woodward's Actions Encourage
Law Violations, He Says--Cities
Liquor Cases as Proof.

That Mayor Woodward is striking a blow at justice and crippling the courts by his pardons and remissions of fines and costs by his pardons of persons involved in the violation of the law, is the charge made by Recorder Nash R. Broyles, in a statement to a Georgian reporter Friday morning. The interview was given out by the Recorder following a series of pardons issued by the Mayor, in cases which had been sustained by the Court of Appeals. "The action of the Mayor in these matters, and the remissions of fines and costs, is a serious matter," declared Judge Broyles. "We can not enforce the law against blind tigers unless they have fought their cases through all of the courts and lost. The Mayor presents them with a pardon, which reduces the amount of their fines. The sentences in these blind tiger cases were justified by the facts, and the higher courts have sustained them."

Says He Cripples Courts. "Such a course," says the Mayor in following: in crippling the courts in the efforts to enforce the law, and in an effort to enforce the law, is the charge made by Recorder Nash R. Broyles, in a statement to a Georgian reporter Friday morning. The interview was given out by the Recorder following a series of pardons issued by the Mayor, in cases which had been sustained by the Court of Appeals. "The action of the Mayor in these matters, and the remissions of fines and costs, is a serious matter," declared Judge Broyles. "We can not enforce the law against blind tigers unless they have fought their cases through all of the courts and lost. The Mayor presents them with a pardon, which reduces the amount of their fines. The sentences in these blind tiger cases were justified by the facts, and the higher courts have sustained them."

Such interference and leniency not only cripples the courts, but encourages the unlawful ones to further violate the law. Mayor Woodward has acted on many of these cases and granted pardons and reductions in fines without even consulting me. In but one instance has he taken any action regarding a case. That several weeks ago the day of the Court of Appeals sustained my decision in the Griff Freeman case. Mayor Woodward called me over the telephone and told me the attorneys for Freeman had requested him to grant a pardon. I told the Mayor that Freeman was one of the most noted blind tiger operators we had to deal with, and urged him not to interfere with the sentence.

Grant Freeman Pardon. "The Mayor," said Broyles, "is in a case that comes up before I want information, anyway, so I will tell the attorney I can not do anything for the matter." Despite this, however, Mayor Woodward has granted a pardon of the 30-day sentence imposed on Freeman and reduced his fine from $500 to $150.

"Such interference with the courts will have assumed a serious stage, and unless it ceases the cause of justice will be dealt a blow from which it will require a long time to recover."

Case Which Brought Praise. Griff Freeman was arrested in November, 1911, for operating a blind tiger. He has been arrested several other times on a similar charge, but in each case he was released. Judge Broyles' remarks. Freeman is characterized by Broyles as being "the matter." Despite this, however, Mayor Woodward has granted a pardon of the 30-day sentence imposed on Freeman and reduced his fine from $500 to $150.

De W. D. Roper, a druggist at Pryor and Wall Streets, was convicted of selling liquor in his store for six months and fined $500 or 30 days. He was convicted on a charge of selling cocaine, which case is still pending on appeal. Two months ago the Court of Appeals sustained my decision in the Griff Freeman case. Mayor Woodward called me over the telephone and told me the attorneys for Freeman had requested him to grant a pardon. I told the Mayor that Freeman was one of the most noted blind tiger operators we had to deal with, and urged him not to interfere with the sentence.

UNTERMYER, the Man Who Made Organized Money Sit Up and Answer Questions.

Samuel Untermyer did useful work in persuading the big men of money to tell the PEOPLE of the United States something about the management and control of the MONEY of the United States.

It was a good thing for the people to know that a dozen man controlled most of the big banks, and through them the little banks.

And it was enlightening to discover that big money managers couldn't remember within "a few hundred millions" the amounts they turned over.

Untermyer is the first man in the United States who has succeeded in letting the people know what happens to the money of the country—which is the industrial and commercial life blood of a nation.

Among other public services rendered by Untermyer is the identification in a very simple way of the newspapers that organized money controls.

Make out a list of the editors who have been attacking Untermyer ever since he compelled the big money men to answer important questions and you have a list of the editors and newspapers that are controlled by organized capital, and not by their readers' interest.

The investigation and understanding of the organized power and concentrated action of money in this country is as important as any enterprise of the century. The work has only been begun. Untermyer deserves the credit for making the beginning of the investigation EFFECTIVE.

It is to be hoped that the attacks upon him by a highly organized capitalistic press bureau will not discourage him in future work.

There could be no greater menace to the nation's material welfare than the concentration of money, AND THE ABSOLUTE CONTROL OF CREDIT IN THE HANDS OF A FEW MEN.

Money is POWER. If a nation—that is to say, the whole people—controls the nation's money, power is national, and prosperity is national. If a few individuals control the country's money and extend credit only to a few favorites, then power is individual and prosperity will be only individual.

It is a satisfaction to those who have viewed with apprehension the control of the ablest lawyers by organized capital, to find such a man as Untermyer—at least as able as any man in the country—retained by the United States Government, and making a courageous and intelligent fight for the Government, regardless of the hatred of powerful men whom lawyers usually struggle to please—for big fees to come.

It is amusing to see corporation newspapers that bow-humbly before every corporation legal jargon attacking Untermyer because he has seen fit to crown his career by a conspicuous service to all the citizens of the nation in which his success has been built up.

Untermyer is able to fight for himself, but in view of the attacks and false statements of which he has been the victim, by the newspapers that organized money controls, it is just as well to tell what kind of a man Untermyer is.

Has been what is called "a corporation lawyer." And he probably will remain a corporation lawyer. Only corporations can pay the biggest lawyers the fees that they want.

But Untermyer never organized or represented a corporation declared unlawful, or attacked by the courts.

And long before he became the lawyer of the Government in investigating individual control of national finances, Untermyer was taking the side of honest investors against individual exploiters.

It was Untermyer who, backed by the Hearst newspapers, made the fight against the United States shipbuilding swindle. In that case he revealed the dishonorable scheming which included many of the biggest men in Wall Street, and which included among other things the revelation that all the stock was to be in a voting trust held by John W. Gates, and the stock owned by one individual, for which he had not paid a dollar, was to be sold ahead of all other stock.

Untermyer was a leader in the fight for the policyholders of big insurance companies against dishonest management. In this fight, which improved conditions for all policyholders throughout the country, Untermyer spent nearly a quarter of a million dollars of his own money.

We mention these incidents in Untermyer's career for the benefit of the young lawyers of today who will be "the great lawyers" of to-morrow.

It is a good thing to know that it is possible as Untermyer has proved, to be one of the ablest and most successful lawyers at the bar, and at the same time to sympathize with and faithfully represent the public interest, as the Government's legal fighter.

It is also a pleasure to give to the truths concerning Untermyer a circulation very much greater than that commanded by corporation newspapers that lie about Untermyer, in order to curry favor with the arrogant rich, whose illegal acts he has exposed.

WHAT'S THE USE?

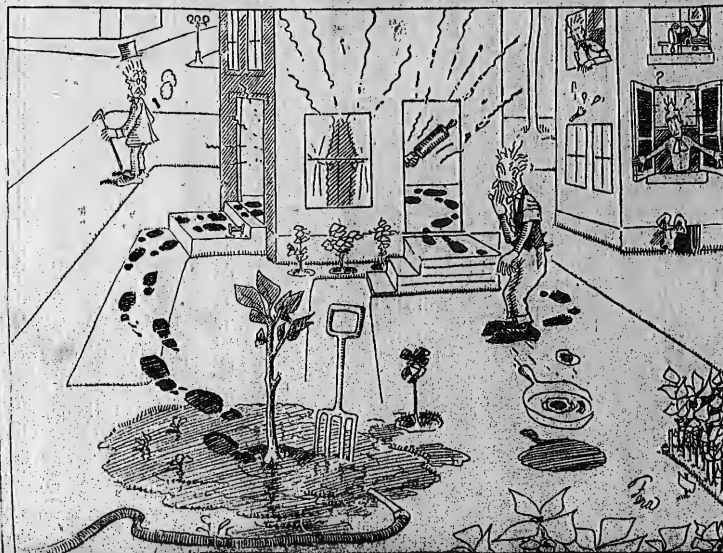

Here he is. You know him. The fellow who says "It's all been done." What's the use of barking your shins scrambling over the rough places? Do JUST ENOUGH to hold your job and get fat. You know him, of course. And you've seen the other fellow, too, the one who doesn't know that it's all been done, and goes right ahead as though everything was new. The fellow who does more than he's paid for, who is on the job all the time, and trying. After awhile he goes ahead while the fellow in the picture stands still. Suddenly the lazy guy thinks, "Gee, there IS something in real work and real interest," but by that time he's miles behind. The hours and days that he wasted in moaning and grumbling don't come back. Those hours and days are the WHITE HOPES of existence. THEY NEVER COME BACK—TAD.

Writes on Might and Mystery of Radium

Source of Power Which Enables It to Hurl Projectiles a Hundred Thousand Miles Per Second Explained.

I HAVE often wanted to ask you to tell us something about radium in a special article. I mean, tell us in such manner as lay mind can understand. No encyclopedia does. What, for example, is the meaning of its power, whence derived? What is radio-activity? What are these emanations so much talked about and how do they act? Please tell us. If so, how can they be especially powerful in any particular instance? If so, it because the compression in the particle is so great, so imponderable, that the molecules beginning to separate—"emanating," as I imagine—can continue to create or to emanate for years and years and years with no salubrious diminution of the particle? Won't you kindly resolve the whole theory and make it plain as possible? How is it possible for anything in nature? Would a particle of gold or some other metal give off emanations, if emanations be what I imagine, namely, disintegration? J. M. W.

By GARRETT P. SERVISS.

THE answer to these questions must be almost as compressed as the inductor suggests a particle of radium to be. Radio-activity is a recently discovered property of the atoms of matter which causes them to emit or continuously, and of their own accord, streams of radiation, some of which consist of almost infinitely small particles (very much smaller than average atoms themselves), while others are, apparently, only vibrations in the ether, in which respect they resemble waves of light and of electricity. One result of radio-activity is that the atoms of matter affected by it gradually disintegrate or disappear. Only a few substances are known to be radio-active, and it has been conjectured that all substances may possess this property in a degree at present undetectable, and thus the universe may be slowly dissolving.

Known Radio-Active Bodies.

The known radio-active bodies are the substance called "uranium" and "thorium," together with certain elements derived from them, the most famous of which is "radium." All of these substances are remarkably radioactive, and it is a fact, they are the densest, or heaviest, in existence—heavier than lead, gold, or platinum. Three kinds of rays are given off by these substances. Those called "alpha" rays consist of particles of about the mass of an ordinary atom of hydrogen (the lightest known atom), and moving with a velocity of about 20,000 miles per second. These called "beta" rays also consist of particles, but much smaller than the others, and moving with velocities of more than 100,000 miles per second. The third kind are called "gamma" rays, and these appear to be not streams of particles, but vibrations, resembling the X-rays, and propagated through the ether in the same manner as light. All of these penetrate solid matter in varying degrees. The "alpha" rays have the least penetration, being stopped by a single sheet of paper. The "beta" rays have about a hundred times more power of penetration, while the "gamma" rays are so penetrating that they pass through several inches of lead. In consequence of the disintegrating effect of radio-activity, a bit of radium, left to itself, gradually disappears, but its atoms are the particles shot off, and so great is the proportion of them that simply hang together in the atom without immediately escaping, that it has been estimated that about 2,000 years are required for the complete breaking up of an atom of radium. The energy set free by this slow process is so great that a single gram of radium compound emits, in one hour, sufficient heat to raise its own weight of water from the freezing to the boiling point. It was once estimated that supplies of radium, instead of having to be created, with the one or two grams that exist in all the laboratories, the light that we might look with perfect indifference upon the rapid exhaustion of the coal fields. Now, whence comes this mysterious energy? It has been found that the heat is probably derived from the internal bombardment of the radium atom itself by the Alpha particles. The only answer possible, at present, is that there is a gigantic store of energy locked up in some unknown way, in the atom, and it has its outlets, sends the particles flying, and their collisions produce heat. As far as potential energy is concerned the mightiest explosive ever invented by man is probably weak compared with the explosive force contained in everything about us!

Energy Implies Motion.

The problem of the origin of the inter-atomic energy involves the whole question of the nature of matter.

Suppose we look at it in this way: Matter is energy in a particular form, but energy implies motion, or the ability to produce motion. To create an atom of matter energy must be looked up. Apparently it disappears in the atom. As long as the atom exists as such, the inter-atomic energy is imperceptible to us. Some think that an atom resembles a minute solar system, in which individual particles are in swift revolution around the center of the atom, and the matter is in revolution around the sun.

Something, in the case of radio-active substances, interchanges with the regular motion of the particles, or electrons, and the atom goes to pieces, or is transformed into a new atom of a different kind, and a great amount of energy is released. More slowly, the same process may affect all the matter in the universe, and, in the course of time, every world may be exhausted, and disappear, but the energy locked up in these worlds reappears in the formation of new ones.

The "emanation" given off by radium appears to be something different from any of the three kinds of rays that have been mentioned. Some regard it as being a kind of gas. It has the power of imparting its energy to other substances, and it is a fact that the hands and clothes of the experimenters, but the emanation is not so active as the other two. One of the most wonderful things about the emanation is that it has been found to change, or its own accord, into helium, an element entirely different from radium, as if nature were giving us a bit of that dream of the ancient alchemists that base metal might change into gold was not without foundation.

The tendency of all things to give off emanations, of one kind or another, is not a new discovery. There is probably nothing that does not thus affect its surroundings, in ways unperceived. Living beings radiate emanations upon everything around them. THE DOG FOLLOWS HIS MASTER THROUGH ALL THE INTERSTICES OF CROWDS.

ON ACCOUNT OF HIS PERCEPTION OF SOME EMANATION NOT PERCEPTIBLE BY HUMAN SENSES.

Dr. Latham has suggested that the power of some animals to see in the dark is due to the presence of emanations. This is the case in the darker nights, by virtue of some 'halo' produced around our bodies by vital action, and phosphorescent materials are similarly explained. WHAT WAS ONCE KNOWN AS 'ODIC FORCE', PRODUCING AN AURIC LUMINOUS NUBB, SURROUNDED A HUMAN BEING, WOULD, BY THIS HYPOTHESIS, BE ACCOUNTED FOR AS THE RESULT OF AN EMANATION. WHEN THE SUBJECT WAS UNDEVELOPED, INVESTIGATION MANY YEARS AGO, IT WAS REMARKED THAT RELATIVELY FEW PERSONS EXHIBIT THE PHENOMENON IN A STABLE FORM. THEY ARE THE INDIVIDUALS WHICH SHOW NO PERCEPTIBLE RADIO-ACTIVITY, ALTHOUGH THE PROPERTY MAY ASSIST IN IT, WHILE THOSE WHO EXHIBIT THE RAY'S RESSEMBLE REFINEMENT, WHICH COULD BE DEDUCED FROM BOTH RAY'S AND RADIO-ACTIVE EMANATION.

The woman added that when she lived at St. Armstrong Street, Frank was a frequent visitor to her place and had brought her there.

Chief Lanford's theory, as outlined Friday morning, is that the girl had been knocked unconscious when the alleged telephone call was made to secure a room, and the plan was to remove the girl to a place where she could be given medical attention without suspicion.

"When it was seen that Mrs. Phagan would not testify in a room," Chief Lanford's theory was that she could be disposed of. Dead bodies are not found in the city.

The corridors of the Thruway hotel were thronged with witnesses before 10 o'clock this morning, the hour for the grand jury to assemble.

George W. Parrott, a well-known business man, has written the following letter in the interest of Frank: As I presume know by many, I am interested in the National Phagan Case and I have, with interest, noted from time to time, news and information that Mr. Frank has missed and that interested female employees of the factory.

To this end, on Wednesday, together with other gentlemen likewise interested in the factory, I interviewed every employee of the factory both male and female.

GRAND JURY DON'T HEAR LEO FRANK OR LEE

Understood That Cases Will Be Brought Separately, With One Accused as Accomplice.

DORSEY PLANS TO BLOCK ANY DEFENSE TESTIMONY

Prosecutor Ready to Present the Strongest Evidence—Vote of Twelve to Decide Action.

Collector General Hugh M. Dorsey announced Thursday afternoon that he was prepared to go before the Grand Jury Friday morning with his strongest evidence in the case of Leo M. Frank and Mrs. L. Lee in connection with the murder of Mary Phagan.

Although Mr. Dorsey would not discuss the form in which the case would be presented, it was widely stated they would be heard separately and the charge against one would be that he was an accessory to the fast.

Neither of the defendants will go before the jury. Mr. Dorsey said that in the event any move was made to introduce evidence for the defense he was prepared to block it. He said he had looked up Supreme Court decisions on the question, because when the Grand Jury was asked to indict, Dr. W. H. Gilman for hearing W. H. Johnson the jury in his absence had allowed Dr. Gilman to come before it, which, he said, was contrary to all the rules in Georgia.

The opinion of 12 of the 12 jurors will govern the action of the jury. There can be no minority. It is the collector's duty to present the evidence to the jury. It is of the jury to decide whether the evidence is sufficient to return a verdict. He said that he would present the first day, and if the jury considered it sufficient, he would return an indictment without hearing the other evidence.

One Finger Print Evidence. He said for the last two days cases had been complete with the exception of preparing the testimony of the witnesses and some important facts brought out by fingerprint and handwriting experts. Several witnesses, whose identities were carefully guarded, would give evidence that no one outside of his office was aware of, said the collector.

U. W. Tobbs, of the Burns Agency, stated Thursday afternoon that he was making the most satisfactory progress. He said it was only a question of a few more days when he would have the case in a finished, ready-to-go shape.

The collector would not discuss the findings of P. A. Flak, the fingerprint expert from New York, other than to say that nothing had developed from it that would make his completion a change in the plan to present 15 cases to the Grand Jury Friday.

Burns Agency Augmented. The Burns force has been augmented by a fingerprint and handwriting expert and some important facts brought out by fingerprint and handwriting experts. Several witnesses, whose identities were carefully guarded, would give evidence that no one outside of his office was aware of, said the collector.

DICTOGRAPH RECORD USED AGAINST FELDER

Affidavits and an alleged dictograph record made public Friday afternoon, accuse Colonel Thomas B. Felder of offering to C. C. February, a bribe of $1,000 for possession of police records of the Phagan case.

These affidavits and the dictograph record are sworn to by A. S. Colyer, Jr., of Nashville, and February, who is stenographer to Newport Lanford, Chief of the Atlanta Detective Department. The Georgian on Wednesday published the fact that there were rumors on the streets that connected the name of Colonel Felder with the Phagan case in a sinister way.

Colony Felder made a statement to a Georgian reporter to the effect that these rumors were false.

At that time, however, the police department was engaged in the effort to entrap Colonel Felder and bring against him a charge of bribery.

From developments Friday, it would seem that Colonel Felder was engaged in an effort to entrap Lanford and Beavers.

Colony Felder has issued a statement to that effect. A statement from Mayor Woodward tends to corroborate it.

Chief of Detectives Lanford stated Friday afternoon that the premature publication of the affidavits had thwarted his plans and had defeated justice, and that he did not know what his future course would be as regards Colonel Felder.

No Mention of Case Except About Graft

Mayor Woodward Friday afternoon admitted that he had had conversation with Colonel Felder on Monday. No mention of the Phagan case was made by the attorney, however, except in reference to police graft.

Colony Felder said that he had run across a great many evidences of police graft in near beer saloons and resorts during the Phagan investigation," declared the Mayor. "He suggested that this evidence be gathered up in an effort to unearth crookedness in the police system. I asked him how the matter could be gone about and Mr. Felder replied that it would take a good deal of money; that he would have to get the evidence in shape first."

The Mayor denied that Felder was accompanied by C. C. Jones as has been stated. He said that Felder was alone. The Mayor's assertion was borne out by Frank Hammond, the official secretary.

Colony Reported Long Talk With Felder

On Monday Colony reported that he had had long and confidential talks with Felder and C. W. Tobie, the Burns investigator who was working here on the Phagan case under the direction of Felder. He reported that Colony Felder expressed extreme hostility to Chief Beavers and Lanford, cursed them and intimated that he would like to get possession of an affidavit the police were said to have secured from Mary Phagan's parents denying that they had secured Colony Felder to enter the case and setting forth that they had refused proffers made by Felder.

He also reported that he had informed Felder he knew G. C. February, Lanford's secretary, quite well and that he was sure he could frame up with February to secure a transcript of the police records and the Coleman affidavit. He said Felder said he would give February $1,000 for them.

On Monday Night, It is Stated, Colyer and February Went to Colony Felder's Office and Were in Conference There With Felder for Something More Than Half an Hour.

Colyer reported Tuesday that at this conference an arrangement was made for another meeting between February and Felder, the latter promising to give February $1,000 for the Coleman affidavit and the transcript of the police records of evidence in the case.

According to an affidavit made public Friday afternoon, a meeting was held Wednesday afternoon in the Williams House in North Forsyth Street between Colony Felder, February and Colyer. It is stated a dictograph was placed in the room and that the city detective department now has in its possession alleged dictograph conversation in which Colony Felder was quoted as offering February money to secure the Coleman affidavit.

It is charged by Colyer that Felder offered $1,000 for the affidavit and other police records of the Phagan case.

Colyer Submits Report To Chief Lanford

Monday morning Colyer made a written report to Chief Lanford, the substance of which was as follows:

"I met T. B. Felder at 8:15 o'clock Sunday night at the Marion Hotel and went with him to his law office in the Equitable building, and had consultation with him until 9:15 p.m. In the meantime, G. W. Tobie, manager of the original department of the Burns Agency, dropped in in response to a telephone call. I was introduced to him and made an appointment with him for Monday morning at 10 o'clock in room 300 at the Richmond Hotel.

"I find that Mr. Tobie is a former Pinkerton detective and that he was discharged from that agency, as they allege, for corrupt practices. He is now posing as the confidential man of W. J. Burris.

"In my conversation with Mr. Tobie this morning, he said he would have the murders of Mary Phagan within ten days, and that he had been on the scene long enough to know that the reason he had not been discovered before was on account of jealousy, politics and money.

"In my conversation with T. B. Felder, he stated that he had some thirty or forty clients, among whom were G. C. Jones, the Henderson Hotel and other liquor clients, who were willing to raise a fund of $25,000 to impouch James L. Beavers and Newport A. Lanford, as both of them were corrupt, and that Beavers was at the present time living in open adultery with a prostitute, and was drunk half the time, and that Lanford missed his calling when he quit the farm, and threatened to go before the Board of Aldermen and file articles of impeachment against both them, and that he would have the backing of J. G. Woodward, Mayor of Atlanta, that Carlos Mason and two others of the police board had already gone back on Beavers because he was a fanatic.

"He said that he was employed to prosecute the Phagan murder by J. A. McCall and other citizens of Atlanta, and that his employment had been ratified by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coleman, and that he intended to have them arrested for perjury and could prove the same."

(This reference to perjury is based on the affidavit made by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coleman that Felder's employment in the case was without their consent.)

"In my conversation with him on Monday morning in the club rooms on the eighth floor of the Walton Building he told me that he was very anxious for me to meet C. C. Jones, and that he could get me big money if I would help him secure the evidence that would throw Beavers and his bunkey, Lanford, out of a job, and that he already had the assistance and cooperation of Henry Jennings, former Chief of Police."

Said Affidavit Would Raise a Mob

Further in his conversation this morning he said that the police department was at loggerheads, and that Pat Campbell was giving Chief Beavers and Lanford the double-cross and that before the week was out, Beavers and Lanford would find that the good people of this city were indignant at their course in the Phagan case, and that the moment they published the affidavit signed by J. W. Coleman and wife, reflecting on his moral character they would go to jail, and that he could speak one word at this time, and raise a mob that would hang Beavers and Lanford to a telegraph pole.

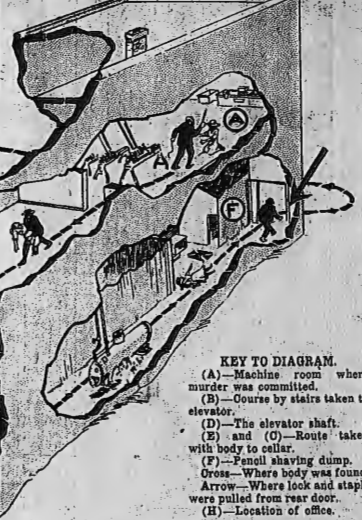

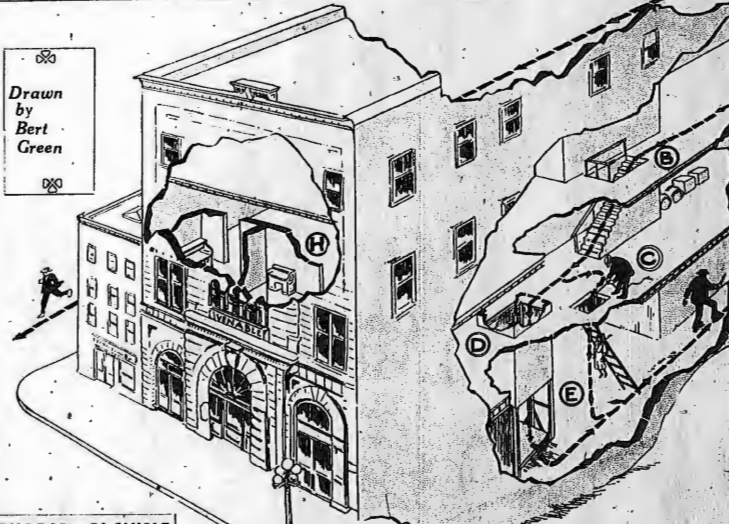

He further said that if I would go to work for him he would give me $10,000.

Coleman Swear That They Refused to Hire Felder

Here follows the affidavit made by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coleman... that they refused to employ Mr. Felder as a lawyer in the case.

The affidavit is in the employ of the City of Atlanta in the Sanitary Department.

The affidavit, while at the police station during the Coleman's arrest, the exact day he does not remember, was accompanied by a man somewhat under the influence of liquor...

"I am working for the law firm of T. B. Felder, and I would like to have you on my side, as he wants to see you, and I advise you to employ him."

him. He went off and came back in a few minutes with Felder. Colonel Felder then said: "I want you to employ me to prosecute this case. It will not cost you a cent, as certain people have promised to pay for my fee. You will have to have your consent to the employment before I can get into the case."

The affidavit told him he did not want to employ him, and did not want to have anything to do with him, as the affidavit did not employ him, nor did the affidavit's wife employ him, and the affidavit informed the affidavit over and over that he was employed was what he read in the newspapers.

"Felder has many good neighbors and he appreciates their sympathy for him and his broken-hearted wife, but he can not see how they would come to employ Colonel Felder without his knowledge and consent."

"I think not the affidavit on the street and offered him one dollar to go upon the force of this affidavit, but he declined to accept it, and told the party he had not employed Felder."

Felder is thoroughly satisfied with the great work done by Chief of Police Beavers and Chief of Detectives Lanford and the able men working under them, as he believes, as thousands of others do in Atlanta, that they have the real murderer in jail, and the affidavit can not recognize himself to the credit of Colonel Felder, who is posing as a prosecuting attorney and wanting $5,000 from the people of the city, as set out in the affidavit papers, to bring a noted defective being, and according to the press of the city, large amounts have been subscribed by people the affidavit does not believe are anxious to prosecute the man under arrest."

The affidavit means no reflection on the press of the city and the citizens of Atlanta who are in favor of justice and fair play. Affidavit will ever appreciate the sympathy that has been shown him and his family by these good people, and he asks them if they have any money to spend to punish the murderer of his sweet, innocent child to stand behind the Atlanta police department and let no man stand there."

J. W. COLEMAN, MRS. J. W. COLEMAN, Sworn to and subscribed before me this 17th day of May, 1913. HAROLD HILTON, Notary Public, Fulton Co.

DICTOGRAPH RECORD USED AGAINST FELDER

IS ASKED

Great Mass of Evidence Carefully Prepared by Solicitor Submitted to Grand Jury.

The Phagan case is now in the possession of investigation by the Fulton County Grand Jury.

After being in session for nearly three hours, the grand jury adjourned until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock when the Phagan case will be taken up once more.

The grand jury studied carefully an elaborate statement drawn by David Dumas, one of the Phagan's best artists, and setting forth in black and white the prosecutor's theory of how the murder was probably committed. Intense interest was displayed in the drawing.

After being in session for nearly three hours, the grand jury adjourned until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock when the Phagan case will be taken up once more.

Whether the actual testimony of Mrs. Fanny Fomby, 499 Phipps Avenue—or Nina Fomby, at the woman says her name is—will be introduced at the grand jury trial, is a matter of doubt.

DICTOGRAPH RECORD USED AGAINST FELDER

The Georgian on Wednesday published an exclusive story that Colonel Thomas B. Felder was involved in the Phagan murder case in a manner that would at least require a very explicit explanation.

Developments Friday would seem to indicate that the police officials intend to bring the whole matter before the Grand Jury for a thorough investigation of Felder's attitude for attempted bribery.

He is accused by A. S. Colyar, Jr., of offering G. C. February, Chief Clerk to Newport Lanford, $1,000 for an affidavit made by J. W. Coleman and wife denying that they had engaged Felder in the Phagan case.

Chief of Detectives Lanford, in commenting on the charges made against Colonel Felder, said:

"Premature publication of this matter has so upset my plans that at this time I can not say what action I will take. Justice has been thwarted. I will have to think the situation over. I shall not arrest Colonel Felder at present."

The sensational charges against Colonel Felder grow out of a plan entered into by Chief of Police Beavers, Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford, his secretary, G. C. February, and A. S. Colyar, Jr., of Nashville.

For nearly a week Lanford and Colyar have been working on the theory that they could develop the situation which would enable them to make a charge of bribery against Colonel Felder.

Colyar had worked in South Carolina with Colonel Felder at various times in the past, he claimed, and enjoyed Colonel Felder's confidence. He informed Chief Lanford that Mr. Felder had failed to pay him money due for his work in South Carolina and that he intended to get revenge.

Colyar Reported Long Talk With Felder

On Monday Colyar reported that he had had long and confidential talks with Felder and C. W. Tobie, the Butts investigator who was working here on the Phagan case under the direction of Felder. He reported that Colonel Felder expressed extreme hostility to Chief Beavers and Lanford, cursed them and intimated that he would like to get possession of an affidavit the police were said to have secured from Mary Phagan's parents denying that they had asked Colonel Felder to enter the case and setting forth that they had refused proffered money by Felder.

He also reported that he had informed Felder he knew G. C. February, Lanford's secretary, quite well and that he was sure he could frame up with February to secure a transcript of the police records and the Coleman affidavit. He said Felder said he would give February $1,000 for them.

On Monday night, it is stated, Colyar and February went to Colonel Felder's office and were in a conference there with Felder for something more than half an hour.

Colyar reported Tuesday that at this conference an arrangement was made for another meeting between February and Felder, the latter promising to give February $1,000 for the Coleman affidavit and the transcript of the police records of evidence in the case.

According to an affidavit made public Friday afternoon, a meeting was held Wednesday afternoon in the Williams House in North Forsyth Street between Colonel Felder, February and Colyar. It is stated a dictograph was placed in the room and that the city detective department now has in its possession alleged dictograph conversation in which Colonel Felder was quoted as offering February money to secure the Coleman affidavit.

It is charged by Colyar that Felder offered $1,000 for the affidavit and other police records of the Phagan case.

Colyar Submits Report To Chief Lanford

Monday morning Colyar made a written report to Chief Lanford, the substance of which was as follows:

"I met T. B. Felder at 8:15 o'clock Sunday night at the Marion Hotel and went with him to his law office in the Equitable building, and held consultation with him until 9:15 p. m. In the meantime, C. W. Tobie, manager of the criminal department of the Bureau Agency, dropped in in response to a telephone call. I was introduced to him and made an appointment with him for Monday morning at 10 o'clock in room 300 at the Piedmont Hotel.

"I met that Mr. Tobie is a former Pinkerton detective, and that he was discharged from that agency, as they allege, for corrupt practices. He is now posing as the confidential man of W. J. Burns.

"In my conversation with Mr. Tobie this morning, he said he would have the murderer of Mary Phagan within ten days, and that he had been on the scene long enough to know that the reason he had not been discovered before was on account of jealousy, politics and money."

"In my conversation with T. B. Felder, he stated that he had some thirty or forty clients, among whom were G. C. Jones, the Henderson Hotel and other liquor clients who were willing to raise a fund of $25,000 to impeach James L. Beavers and Newport A. Lanford, as both of them were corrupt, and that Beavers was at the present time living in open adultery with a prostitute, and was drunk half the time, and that Lanford missed his calling when he quit the farm, and threatened to go before the Board of Aldermen and file articles of impeachment against both them, and that he would have the backing of J. G. Woodward, Mayor of Atlanta; that Carlos Mann and two others of the police board had already gone back on Beavers because he was a fanatic."

"He said that he was employed to prosecute the Phagan murder by J. A. McCall and other citizens of Atlanta; and that his employment had been ratified by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coleman, and that he intended to have them arrested for perjury and could prove the same."

"(This reference to perjury is based on the affidavit made by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coleman that Felder's employment in the case was without their consent.)"

"In my conversation with him on Monday morning in the club rooms of the Fifth Floor of the Walton Building, he told me that he was very anxious for me to meet G. C. Jones, and that he could get me very big money if I would help him secure the evidence that would throw Beavers and his flunky, Lanford, out of a job, and that he already had the assistance and cooperation of Henry Jennings, former Chief of Police."

"Said Affidavit Would Raise a Mob"

"Further in his conversation this morning he said that the police department was at loggerheads, and that Pat Campbell was giving Chief Beavers and Lanford the double-cross, and that before the week was out Beavers and Lanford would find that the good people of this city were indignant at their course in the Phagan case, and that the moment they published the affidavit signed by J. W. Coleman and wife reflecting on his moral character they would go to jail, and that he could speak one word at this time and raise a mob that would hang Beavers and Lanford to a telegraph pole."

"He further said that if I would go to work for him and C. C. Jones in an effort to overthrow those _____, he would not only guarantee me good money, but would pay me a large sum in advance, and I said to him: 'Suppose I get arrested, and he said: 'To _____ with great Jim Woodard will turn you loose so quick it will make your head swim, and no matter who you are or what crime you commit, such as getting wild of private papers and documents they might have in their possession to overthrow them, you will never be indicted, for Hugh M. Dorsey, Solicitor General, and I understand each other thoroughly."

"This was the sum and substance of the conversation I have had up to the present time with T. B. Felder and C. W. Tobie. I am to have another meeting with both of them to-day, and Felder, in to arrange a meeting between G. C. Jones and myself in regard to paying me $500 corruption fund, in his desperate effort to overthrow the police department."

"I left the Piedmont Hotel at 10:55 a. m. and Tobie went from thence to Felder's office, as he is informed me, to meet a committee of citizens, among whom were Mr. Hirsch, Mr. Myers, Mr. Greenstein and several other prominent Jews in this city."

"P. S.—T. B. Felder told me last night that Solicitor Dorsey had no confidence whatever in Lanford, and believed absolutely that he was trying to give him the double-cross in the Phagan case, and that Lanford had been trying to get the solicitor to get him a dictograph for several days, and that Dorsey had been putting him off, and that he would play getting a dictograph, and he went from this conference to Dorsey's home, where he remained until 11:30 Sunday night, and reached home about midnight, as I was talking to him over the phone at five minutes past 12."

"Following this written statement, according to Chief Lanford,
