ACCUSED MAN'S WIFE MAKES FIRST PUBLIC STATEMENT IN CASE

Following the complete denial by Minola McKnight, cook in the household of Leo M. Frank, of the statements she is alleged to have made in the sensational police affidavit given out Wednesday, Mrs. Leo M. Frank Thursday made her first public statement on the Mary Phagan mystery.

Mrs. Frank makes an eloquently pathetic defense of her husband and attacks Solicitor General Dorsey's methods in the securing of evidence, charging torture and a deliberate determination to distort facts. Mrs. Frank denies absolutely that her husband in any way demeaned himself so as to indicate he had been involved in a tragedy on the day Mary Phagan was slain or any other day. Here is Mrs. Frank's complete statement.

Editor The Georgian.—Sir: The action of the Solicitor General in arresting and imprisoning our family because she would not voluntarily make a false statement against my innocent husband brings a great deal of patience, this wrong is not chargeable to a detective under the necessity of shielding his own reputation against attacks in newspapers, but of an intelligent, trained lawyer, whose sworn duty it is to protect the innocent as to punish the guilty. My information is that the Solicitor has admitted that no crime is charged against this cook and that he had no legal right to have her arrested and imprisoned.

The following statement from The Atlanta Journal undertakes to give the history of the arrest up to the time the motion was carried to the police station in the patrol wagon, weeping and shouting in a hysterical condition:

The negro was arrested at the Bell residence shortly after noon Monday upon the order of Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey.

She was carried to the Solicitor's office and that official with Detectives Campbell and Starnes examined her for more than an hour. The woman grew hysterical during the vigorous examination, and finally was led from the Solicitor's office to the police patrol, weeping and shouting: "I am going to hang and I don't know a thing about it."

They tortured her for four hours with the well-known third degree plan, and with the result, stated in The Atlanta Constitution of June 4, as follows:

Her husband, who was also carried to the police station at noon, had been a short while before his wife left the prison. He was present during the third degree of four hours under which she was placed in the afternoon.

After she had been to a point of exhaustion, Secretary C. C. Feby, attached to Chief Landorf's office, was summoned to note her statement in full.

It was the longest statement made by a woman since her connection with the mystery. It will be used, probably, in the trial.

Attacks Solicitor Dorsey.

That the Solicitor sworn to maintain the law, should thus falsely arrest one against whom he has no charge and who does not even suspect, and torture her contrary to the laws, to force her to give evidence tending to smear away the life of an innocent man, is beyond belief.

Where will this end? My husband and my family and myself are the innocent sufferers now, but who will be the next to suffer? I suppose the witnesses tortured will be confined to the class who are not able to employ lawyers to relieve them from the torture in time to prevent their being forced to give false affidavits, but the lives of many may come from any day.

It will be noted that the plan is to apply the torture until the desired affidavit is wrung from the sufferer. Then it ends, but not before.

It is to be hoped that no person can be convicted of murder in any civilized country on evidence wrung from witnesses by torture. Why, then, does the Solicitor continue to apply the third degree to produce testimony? How does he hope to get the jury to believe it? He can have only one hope, and that is to keep the jury from knowing the methods to which has resorted. Of course, if he can torture witnesses into giving the kind of evidence he wants against my innocent husband in this case, he can torture them into giving evidence against any other man in the community in either this or any other case. I say only one hope, and that is, to let the public know exactly what this officer of the law is doing, and trust, as I do trust, to the sense of fairness and justice of the people.

Says Signing Is Not Surprising.

It is not surprising that my cook should sign an affidavit to relieve herself from torture that had been applied for four hours, according to The Atlanta Constitution, "to a point of exhaustion." It would be surprising if she would not, under such circumstances, give an affidavit.

This torturing process can be used to produce testimony to be published in the newspapers, and to prevent anyone from knowing the facts favorable to the accused, because as soon as the Solicitor finds out he can arrest the witness and apply the torture. It is hard to believe that practices of this nature will be countenanced anywhere in the world outside of Russia.

My husband was at home for lunch and in the evening as the hours he has stated on the day of the murder. He spent the whole of Saturday evening and night in my company. Neither on Saturday nor Sunday night, nor on Monday, nor at any other time, did my husband, by word or act, or in any other way, denounce himself otherwise than as an innocent man. He did nothing to know the slightest thing about the Phagan case, and nothing to know the slightest thing about the Phagan case, and nothing to know the slightest thing about the Phagan case.

ALL HUSBANDS IN PAINTER MYSTERY ON TEST

Action Delayed Until Chemists Report on Search for Poison in Vital Organs.

By COLE E. MORGAN.
JACKSONVILLE, June 5.—Every step in clearing up the Painter insurance mystery now hangs on the reports of chemical and pathological analysis of Painter's vital organs by Baltimore chemists, and to-day matters are at a standstill at the Jacksonville and neither the Coroner, insurance agents, the family nor the S. C. Painter Fertilizer Company is making a move and none in respect until Baltimore is heard from. A veil of secrecy seems to shroud developments in Baltimore.

The will of Painter will be filed into this afternoon. The will, however, will not be filed until the will of Painter is filed into this afternoon. The will, however, will not be filed until the will of Painter is filed into this afternoon.

Coroner C. D. Abbott declared today that he had received no positive information as to when the chemists would report. He will not act until a report is made.

Painter's organs were expressed to Baltimore in the name of Dr. P. C. Perry, who represents the family. Currier Abbott telegraphed and prevented a delivery to anyone but the chemist designated by the Coroner.

The physicians who performed the autopsy here and went to Baltimore on the same train with the corpse shipment were not permitted to examine the organs until they were in the hands of the chemist authorized to examine them.

This partly explains the reported disappearance of the organs in Jacksonville. State agents of several of the insurance companies interested were in conference yesterday afternoon, but took no action because of the failure to hear from Baltimore, planning to meet again when the report comes.

Painter's place in two civic bodies has been filled by the election of Zach Anderson as Port Commissioner and Dr. W. H. Slaughter on the Board of Trade's foreign commerce committee.

Pinkerton detectives have just completed a detailed investigation into the death of E. O. Painter and have forwarded their reports to interested parties.

The insurance companies do not seem to know their hand until after the Coroner's report is concluded next week. They are awaiting the report of the Baltimore chemists, but hearing before publicly questioning their plan of action.

JUDGE GUARDED AT THE TRIAL OF MILITANTS

Police Throng Court When Merchants' Suit Against Suffrage Leaders is Called.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. LONDON, June 5.—With the court hours guarded by policemen and Justice Darling accompanied by detectives, the suit of a number of West End merchants against Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst and other industrial members of the Women's Social and Political Union for damage to windows and other property, growing out of the militant suffragette violence campaign, began today before a special jury.

The extraordinary police precautions gave rise to a report that Justice Darling had been threatened with death.

Emily W. Davison, the militant suffragette who was badly hurt yesterday when the trial for breaking up the Derby on Espans Down by grasping the wheels of King George's horse, Alexander, gained consciousness between 1 and 2 o'clock this afternoon, having lain in a state of coma nearly 22 hours. She was able to utter encouragement and hope was revived among her friends that she would pull through.

The Women's Social and Political Union, of which the Davison woman is a member, sent flowers and delicacies to the hospital today and engaged a special apartment and special doctors and nurses to care for the woman, who has nearly made a recovery of herself.

Jacky H. Jones probably will not be able to file again for half a year, Queen Mary, who witnessed the tragic incident from the royal balcony, was greatly distressed.

Arguments Ended in Alabama Rate Case

Arguments in the rate case in which the E. and N. and the State of Alabama are at loggerheads over a proposed 1-1-2-cent passenger fare closed Thursday afternoon. Judge Grubb having issued a restraining order, a temporary injunction is sought by the railroad. Whether the decision in this hearing will be appealed to the Supreme Court or whether the case can be tried on its merits so as to get it to the Supreme Court just as quickly is the only question. In one form or another the case will go to the highest tribunal.

FEARFUL CASE OF PILES CURED

Suffered Intensely. Resinol Brought Instant Relief.

The same soothing, healing, antiseptic medication that makes Resinol so remarkably successful for skin troubles, affords immediate relief in the most distressing cases of itching, painful and bleeding piles. Miss Marie Russell, 1254 N. Gay Street, Baltimore, writes: "April 24, 1912, 'I had a most govern case of piles. I suffered day and night. I could not sleep or even lie down, and everyone told me the only relief for me would be an operation, and that I dreaded. I was almost wild with pain. I tried Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, and Resinol Ointment and sent for samples. The first application gave me instant relief. After using only two jars of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, I can truly say that Resinol completely cured me. I am now free from all my troubles. I can never say enough in praise of Resinol. It has done more than I even claimed for it." (Signed) Marie Russell.

"Your Ribbons Are the Prettiest in Town"

We have heard this not once, but many times these last few weeks since the season for sashes and ribbon trimmings has opened in earnest. And not only are they the prettiest, but they are most remarkably priced, due to some smart buying that we did right in front of the season. But see for yourself, therein lies better proof than all that we or our friends could say. See these—

- Broaded and Flowered Ribbons at 49c a yard, doubtless the most unusual values we have known at this price. Six and eight inches wide, the flowered ones in colorings that seem hand-painted and the broads are rich—pinks, light blues, lavenders, Nile, mais and white.
- New Bulgarian Sashes, $2.00 to $4.50, fringed and embroidered ends, wanted right now to add a touch of color to white frocks and for trimming hats.

- Warp Print Ribbons at 35c a yard. Compare them with ribbons you have formerly considered splendid value at 50c a yard. They are five and six inches wide and the colorings and patterns are exquisite.

MRS. FENK IN BITTER ATTACK ON SOLICITOR

Innocent suffers now, but who will be the next to suffer?
The Atlanta Constitution, "A point of exhaustion" it would be surprising if she would not, under such circumstances, give an affidavit.

This torturing process can be used to produce testimony to be published in the newspapers to prejudice the case of anyone the Solicitor sees fit to accuse. It is also valuable to prevent anyone stating facts favorable to the accused, because as soon as the Solicitor finds it out he can arrest the witness and apply the torture. It is hard to believe that the tactics of this nature will be countenanced anywhere in the world outside of Russia.

My husband was at home for lunch and in the evening at the hours he stated on the day of the murder. He spent the whole of Saturday evening and night in my company. Neither on Saturday nor Saturday night, nor on Sunday, nor at any other time, did my husband, by word or act, or in any other way, demean himself otherwise than as an innocent man. He did nothing unusual and nothing to arouse the slightest suspicion. I know him to be innocent. There is no evidence against him except that which is produced by torture. Of course, evidence of this kind can be produced against any man in the world.

I have been compelled to endure without fault, either on the part of my husband or myself, more than 100 days in the last of most women in this city. Hands have been circulated in the community to the effect that my husband and myself were not happily married, and every conceivable insult has been made against my husband and me, and he has been in prison, in spite of the fact that all my friends and neighbors know that my husband is a man actuated by lofty motives that forbid his committing the crime that the detectives and the Solicitor are seeking to fasten upon him.

"I Know My Husband Is Innocent."
I know my husband is innocent. No man could make the good husband of a woman that he has been to me and be a criminal. All his acquaintances know he is innocent. Ask anyone who knows him and you see if you can find one that will believe he is guilty. If he were guilty, did it not seem reasonable that you could find some one who knows him and who will believe him guilty?

Being a woman, I do not understand the tricks and arts of detectives and prosecuting officers, but I know Leo Frank, and his friends know him, and I know, and his friends know, that he is utterly incapable of committing the crime that these detectives and this Solicitor are seeking to fasten upon him. Respectfully yours, MRS. LEO M. FRANK.

AFFIDAVIT
REPUDIATED
BY WIFE

Her repudiation of the affidavit which she was alleged to have sworn to in connection with the case of Leo Frank, indicted for the murder of Mary Phagan, was made Thursday by Minnie McKnight, sister of the accused.

The woman denies absolutely every statement attributed to her by the Solicitor, and denies that she ever signed the paper made public by the press.

The Georgian presented the McKnight affidavit to its readers with the understanding that it was not to be accepted as credible evidence until passed on in a court of law.

The affidavit was so full of strange inconsistencies and the need for some elaboration was so apparent that a further investigation was decided upon.

The wife's statement, giving the case a new and startling turn, therefore presented just as the police affidavit was—what it is worth and as evidence. It is in every part a complete repudiation of the affidavit printed Wednesday and which she swore to by her.

She repudiated the alleged affidavit as a whole and in every particular.
There was no hesitation in her denial. Her first denial was of the affidavit "repudiated" a complete and absolute denial of the truth.

Her statements were made at her home in the rear of 351. Palladium street. She was accompanied by Minnie McKnight, and the Georgian reporter. The wife's statement was made in the presence of Mr. Gordon, Solicitor General.

The McKnight woman even went so far as to say that she had no attendance. The affidavit she is alleged to have signed is alleged to have been signed in the presence of Mr.
Gordon, your attorney?

"Yes, Mr. Gordon," the McKnight woman declared that she did not know any lawyer, "and that she did not know any lawyer, and that she did not know any lawyer, and that she did not know any lawyer."

"Did you sign any affidavit in the presence of Mr. Gordon?" the Georgian asked. "I did not sign any affidavit in the presence of Mr. Gordon," she replied.

"Where did you get all that stuff, then?" the Georgian asked. "I don't know," she replied. "I don't know where I got it. I don't know where I got it. I don't know where I got
it. I don't know where I got it."

Two resolutions touching the re-

MRS. FRANK DEFENDS HUSBAND

"I know he is innocent . . . No man could make the good husband to a woman that he has been to me and be a criminal. . . I know and his friends know that he is utterly incapable of committing the crime that these detectives and this solicitor are seeking to fasten upon him."

 A man from Washington dropped off the train in Atlanta to-day and stepped into a drug store.

 "Say it again!"

Fill the glass just half full of grape juice. Then pour in the ginger ale, as fast as possible. Olive it a couple of whisks with the spoon, drop in a little crushed mint, and then—"hook your elbow!"
 "Twenty-five cents, for you!" said the clerk, as the man snatched his tips.

FRANK'S COOK DEFENDS
ALL OF THE AFFIDAVIT GIVEN OUT BY POLICE
 After repudiation of the affidavits which she was alleged to have sworn to incriminating conversations with the home of Leo M. Frank, indicated for the slaying of Mary Phagan was made Thursday by Minnie McKnight, negro cook for the accused factory superintendent and his wife's parents.
 The woman denies absolutely every statement attributed to her by the police, and denies that she even signed the paper made public by the police.
 The Georgian presented the McKnight affidavit to its readers with the distinct admonition that it must not be accepted as credible evidence unless passed on in a court of law. The affidavit was so full of strange incoherencies and the need for some explanation was so apparent that a further investigation was decided upon.
 The cook's statement, giving the case a new and startling turn, is therefore presented just as the police presented it, without a doubt, and not as evidence. It is an utter and absolute repudiation of the affidavit printed Wednesday and which purports to have been signed and sworn to by her.
 She denied unequivocally that she had made the startling statements in the alleged affidavit which might send Leo Frank to the gallows could their truth be established beyond a doubt.
 She repudiated the alleged affidavit as a whole and in detail. She made her denials willingly and emphatically. There was no hesitation in her replies. Her first comment on the alleged affidavit constituted a complete and absolute denial of its truth.
 Her statements were made at her home in the rear of 551 Polkman Street. Only her husband, Albert McKnight, and the Georgian reporter were present. No number of the Frank family was about to influence her replies in any manner. If any influence could have been exerted it would be supposed to have been from the opposite direction, as it was her husband who was said indirectly to have furnished the information which resulted in her arrest and the three hours "third degree" in the office of Chief Lanford.

 Sensations in Grand Jury Probe

 Following the complete denial by Minnie McKnight, cook in the household of Leo M. Frank, of the statements she is alleged to have made in the sensational police affidavit given out Wednesday, Mrs. Leo M. Frank Thursday made her first public statement on the Mary Phagan mystery.
 Mrs. Frank makes an eloquently pathetic defense of her husband and attacks Solicitor General Dorsey's methods in the securing of evidence, charging torture and a deliberate determination to distort facts. Mrs. Frank denies absolutely that her husband in any way demanded himself so as to indicate he had been involved in a tragedy on the day Mary Phagan was slain or any other day. Here is Mrs. Frank's complete statement:
 Atlanta, Ok. June 5, 1913.
 Editor The Georgian:—The action of the Solicitor General in arresting and imprisoning our family cook as she would not voluntarily make a false statement against my innocent husband brings a limit to patience. This wrong is not chargeable to a detective acting under the necessity of abridging his own reputation against attacks in newspapers, but of an intelligent trained lawyer, whose sworn duty is as much to protect the innocent as to punish the guilty. My indignation is that this Solicitor has admitted that no crime is charged against this cook and that he had no legal right to have her arrested and imprisoned.
 The following statement from The Atlanta Journal undertaken to give the history of the arrest up to the time the woman was carried to the police station in the patrol wagon, weeping and shouting in a hysterical condition.
 The progress was arrested at the 24th residence shortly after noon Monday upon the order of Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey.
 She was carried to the Solicitor's office and that official with Detective Campbell and Starnes examined her for more than an hour. The woman grew hysterical, the wretched situation and finally was led from the Solicitor's office to the police patrol, weeping and shouting: "I ain going to have child! I don't know a thing about it!"
 She tortured her for four hours with the well-known third degree process, in the manner and with the result stated in The Atlanta Constitution of June 4, as follows:
 Her husband, who was also carried to the police station at noon, was freed a short while before his wife left the prison. He was present during the third degree, of four hours under which she was placed in the afternoon.
 After she had been released to a point of exhaustion, Secretary C. C. Feibury, chairman of the Chief Lanford's office, was summoned to the bar statement in full.
 It was the longest statement made by the woman since her connection with the mystery. It will be used, probably, in the trial.
Attacks Solicitor Dorsey.
 That the Solicitor, sworn to maintain the law, should thus raise a specter against women he has no charge and whom he does not even see, and torture her contrary to the laws, to force her to give evidence tending to smear away the life of an innocent man, is beyond belief.
 Where will this end? My husband and my family and myself are the innocent sufferers now, but who will be the next to suffer? I suppose the witnesses tortured will be confined to the cells who are not able to employ lawyers to relieve them from the torture in time to prevent their bodies from being ruined, but who will be the next to suffer away from any day.
 It will be noted that the plan is to apply the tortures until the desired affidavit is wrung from the sufferer. Then it ends, but before it is so it is to be hoped that no person can be convicted of murder in any civilized country on evidence wrung from witnesses by torture. Why then, does the Solicitor continue to apply the third degree to torture the testimony? How does he hope to get the jury to believe it? He can have only one hope, and that is to keep the jury from knowing the methods by which he has tortured. Of course, if he can torture witnesses into giving the kind of evidence he wants against my innocent husband, in this case, he can torture them into giving evidence against any other man in the community in either this or any other case. It is as easy as blowing and that is to let the public know exactly what the office of the law is doing, and trust, as I do trust, to the sense of fairness and justice of the people.

Clark Denies That Politics Is Corrupt
 WASHINGTON, June 5.—"If you are going to have anything to do with politics, don't let the pessimists lead you to believe that everybody and everything connected with American politics is corrupt. There is no truth in it."
 This was the advice given by Speaker Champ Clark to the Women's National Democratic League here.
 "I know the 484 other Representatives in Congress like a book," declared the speaker. "I don't believe that there is a man in the House whose vote can be influenced by the use of money."
 Mr. Clark's remarks were made in a speech before the Women's National Democratic League here.

 Mr. Neil recently was placed in charge of the labor problems of the American Smelting and Refining Company.

Doomed by Pellagra, Girl Drowns Herself
 MACON, GA., June 5.—Miss Kittie Trayer, 20 years old, jumped in the river and drowned herself at 3 o'clock this morning because she had been told by physicians that she had pellagra and could not recover.
 After stopping all clocks in the house and writing a note, saying her body would be found in the well of the next-door neighbor, she crept from the house to her death.

Georgia Moonshiner Has a 'T. R. Defense'
 COLUMBUS, GA., June 5.—That his doctor had prescribed home-made whiskey, was the excuse advanced by Tom Ledford, of Meriwether County, when arrested by Deputy United States Marshal W. D. Owens, on charges of illicit distilling.
 Two others were arrested near Durand and Woodbury on a charge of moonshining.

Insurance Man Awaits Tests.
 Suite agents of several of the insurance companies interested were in conference yesterday afternoon, but took no action because of the failure to hear from Baltimore, planning to meet again when the report comes.
 Painter's place in two civil bodies has been filed by the election of Zach Anderson as Port Commissioner and Dr. W. H. Silson on the Board of Trade's foreign commerce committee.
 Pinkerton detectives have just completed a detailed investigation into the death of E. O. Painter and have forwarded their reports to interested insurance companies. On the information gathered by them will be based the probable cause of the insurance on Painter's life. They have gone into every angle of the insurance mystery and the reports are most comprehensive in detail.
 The insurance companies do not mean to show their hand until the coroner's inquest is concluded next week. They are awaiting the evidence to be brought out in that hearing before publicly outlining their plan of action.
 It is known, however, that the investigation made by the detectives has been painstakingly complete and lends additional color to the suicide theory.
 The death certificate signed by the family physicians reads: "Cause of death unknown. Will report later."
 These physicians, like the insurance companies, are awaiting the results of the analysis.
 The wonderful City Life Section of The Sunday American will be better than ever on Sunday's Matt and Jeff, and Powers, the great cartoonist, with dozens of other fun-makers, will have exclusive features.

CLARK CHALLENGES FELONY TO PROSECUTE IN CHARGE

Attorney Reiterates Graft Accusations Following Landlord's Defense—Offers More Proof.

Newport, A. Landford, Chief of Detectives, issued a statement Thursday morning charging Colonel Thomas M. Feller, or anyone, to substantiate the charges of graft made against him and his department in the Grand Jury probe of vice conditions and alleged corruption in the detective and police departments.

"I defy Feller, or anyone, to prove to the Grand Jury that 'penny graft has never gone into the detective department and I defy him to substantiate one of his blackmailing utterances against me. He can't do it, and he knows he can't."

Colonel Feller, in turn, reiterated Thursday morning every charge of corruption he has made against Landford and his detectives. He said he had presented a great amount of evidence along this line to the Grand Jury and was in readiness to present more when that body called him at its session today.

"I have given the Grand Jury a great number of facts in this matter and I think they are beginning to see things about like a great many people in Atlanta are," he said.

"In next Sunday's issues of the Atlanta press I will issue a statement setting forth in full the foundation for every statement I have made and showing the people how corrupt they are," he said.

Clark Denies That Politics Is Corrupt

WASHINGTON, June 5.—"If you were to have anything to do with politics, don't let the pessimists lead you to believe that everybody and everything connected with American politics is corrupt. There is no truth in it."

This was the advice given by Speaker Champ Clark to the Women's National Democratic League here.

OUT OF US URGE BOND ISSUE OF 5 MILLION

Every Department Chief to Make Request for Heavy Appropriation for Work.

A bond issue of nearly $5,000,000 for what are declared to be imperatively needed improvements is urged in recommendations made to W. C. Humphrey, chairman of the Finance Committee, by heads of city departments.

The Finance Committee, it was understood, intended to recommend the issuance of from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000, but the needs of the city as shown by department heads aggregate at least $4,500,000, possibly $5,000,000.

Captain J. Z. Smith, manager of the waterworks, wrote a letter to Chairman Humphrey, setting out needed improvements in the waterworks system which call for a million dollars.

Captain R. M. Clayton, Chief of Construction, laid a foreign report on the ground that it recommended how much money should be expended, but he was willing to let the other department heads make their own estimate.

Several Councilmen advocate $1,000,000 for schools, Hospital work and other contemplated work sends the total total well past the $4,500,000 mark.

Insist on New Schools.

School authorities insist at least half a dozen ward buildings be built, particularly in the Fifth, Sixth, Eighth and Ninth Wards. At least two are wanted in the Ninth. These schools have been estimated to cost $1,000,000. A new English Commercial school, costing not less than $150,000, is in the list, and a boys' high school and a girls' high school, costing something like $100,000 apiece.

Aside from building new schools, the Council will be called on to enlarge and rehabilitate old structures, so that the cost of granting all these requests will be $1,000,000.

Sewer extension work, Captain Clayton pointed out, would take in Butler and Crane Streets, Capital Avenue, Druid Hill, and West End. The county has agreed to do the work on all these streets.

Dr. Hill, as the city furnishes the material, but "by lack of money the material has not been furnished. The Dr. Hill sewer work alone would cost $500,000. Captain Clayton's annual estimate for a Georgian reporter was $1,000,000 for sewer work of all descriptions.

Taking up road and street work, the bridging of Pryor Street and Central Avenue alone calls for an outlay of $425,000. Whitehall Street grading would involve $150,000. Closing the Forsyth Street underpass would mean at least $40,000. Resurfacing of Spring Street is another important project. Official estimates of street and road work call for approximately $1,000,000.

W. Z. Smith told a Georgian reporter he not only needed $1,500,000 for the waterworks, but that he expected to get it and that, too, out of the very next bond issue. "I expect to get every cent of a million dollars," he said, "because I receive no salaries."

New Pumps Needed.

"If we get the pumps we must increase the pumping capacity, one for each station, which with their necessary accessories, will cost $200,000 apiece. We are bound to have them, to meet pressing needs of to-day. The pumps we have now are old and to the gridiron's again. We are making 2,500 connections yearly, and in three years we have laid 100 miles of pipe. But we have done nothing to increase our water supply."

"If we get the pumps we must increase the pumping plant. This will cost at least $150,000, and the connections $200,000 more."

"We have only one 48-inch siphon pipe from the river to the pumping well. This ought to be duplicated, not only to insure increased water supply, but to insure the safety of the city."

DETECTIVES PAINTER Mystery REPORT

Furnish Facts for Probable Insurance Contest—Report on Analysis of Organs Awaited.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 5.—Pinkerton detectives have just completed a detailed investigation into the death of E. O. Painter and have forwarded their reports to interested insurance companies. On the information gathered by them will be based the probable contest over the $100,000 life insurance policy on the painter's life. They have gone into every angle of the life insurance mystery and the reports are most comprehensive in detail.

Most of the special agents and inspectors sent here by the insurance companies have completed their work, so far as it is possible at this time, and have left Jacksonville. The companies are now awaiting the results of the analysis of Painter's vital organs, a report on which is expected here to-morrow afternoon from Baltimore.

The insurance will not do them to show their head until after the coroner's inquest is completed. They are awaiting the evidence to be brought out by the hearing before publicly outlining their plan of action.

It is known, however, that the investigation made by the detectives has been satisfactorily complete and lends additional color to the suicide theory.

Thus far the Painter family have filed no claim for the insurance carried by the dead man, nor has his will been probated.

The death certificate signed by the family physician reads: "Cause of death unknown. Will report later." These physicians, like the insurance companies, are awaiting the results of the analysis.
