

SEGREGATION UP TO COUNCIL ON MONDAY

Ordinance Is Approved by Police Committee After Many Appeals in Its Behalf.

The Ashley segregation ordinance, which was passed by the Police Committee Thursday, will come up for consideration by the General Council next Monday.

The ordinance was unanimously approved by the Police Committee after heated addresses by citizens pleading for speedy relief as a preventive of racial violence.

The only objection against approval of the ordinance was made by Councilman A. Rucker, a negro who formerly was a deputy Atlanta police collector in Atlanta, and who is influential among negroes.

He urged that the ordinance be dropped and that the city should be left to its own devices.

What is a Hero? Usually a Life Saver

You Can Be a Life Saver Very Easily BY KILLING FLIES

You should kill flies. THE FLY IS THE MOST DANGEROUS INSECT ON EARTH. IT IS MORE DEADLY THAN THE COBRA. MORE DANGEROUS THAN THE TIGER.

Place kill flies. EVERY AUTUMN THERE IS A RISE IN THE DEATH RATE FROM TYPHOID. THIS RISE IS TRACED BY THE SCIENTISTS DIRECTLY TO THE FLY.

The fly causes more blindness in children than all other causes combined.

The fly spreads every known disease to children and to adults, for it frequents every disease breeding spot and hunts purposely for filth.

Early in the season KILL FLIES. In the middle of the Summer KILL FLIES. And in the Autumn and in the Winter, if you can find them, still KILL FLIES.

Treat the fly as our ancestors in the old days treated the red Indians and the wolves.

First, shut them out of your house, make sure that they won't get in; then kill them off as rapidly as possible and pray for the day when you will no longer have to protect your house against them.

Screen your windows. Screen your doors.

New fly screens made of wire netting that will not rust are more important than a new coat of paint or a new automobile, for fly screens means protection for children.

Protect your food supplies from the flies as absolutely as possible. Protect your house and protect your babies' faces separately.

As the child lies asleep, keep mosquito netting over it. Keep your sugar bowl, butter dish and food supplies covered.

Don't forget that if you see flies their breeding place is nearby filth. It may be behind the door, under the table, or in the cuspidor.

There is no dirt or filth there will be no flies. If there is a nuisance in the neighborhood write at once to the Health Department.

Do not allow decaying material of any sort to accumulate on or near your premises. All refuse should be removed at once or covered with lime or kerosene.

Keep all receptacles for garbage carefully covered and the cans cleaned or sprinkled with oil or lime.

See that your sewerage system is in good order. Pour kerosene into the drains.

Cover food after a meal. Burn or bury all table refuse. Screen all food offered for sale. Buy no food that has been exposed to flies.

It is only by earnest intelligent co-operation that the fly can finally be abolished.

The citizens should combine, the national, State, city and village governments should combine with them to wipe out the unclean enemies of man, the flies that carry all the diseases of very nearly all, and the mosquito that alone infects men with malaria and yellow fever.

THE THING CAN BE DONE, for it has been done by governments in Cuba, in New Orleans.

The trouble is that the country will not take the matter seriously.

Darwin told that one single pair of flies in forty-eight hours—the quick-breeding African fly—will lay enough and breed enough maggots to devour a lion, leaving nothing but the white bones.

A fly surviving through the Winter start the plague afresh the following year.

And one careless citizen leaving a breeding ground for mosquitoes supplies enough to infest the whole country.

Fortunately, for two or three years the people have been alive to the fact that their enemies are the fly and the mosquito and the invisible disease germs—enemies more deadly and dangerous than ever wore the great monsters of prehistoric times or the wolves and lions of our day.

Discussion has begun, newspapers have taken it up and offered prizes. A few public officials have at last TRIED to do something. But only a beginning has been made.

The country must realize the danger and the duty. Children must be taught that the killing of flies is a good and necessary act, painful as it is to take life.

Do what you can to arouse public feeling for the sake of public safety.

And in the meanwhile DO WHAT YOU CAN INDIVIDUALLY.

Kill the flies.

"We Must Better the Mothers to Better the Race"

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX. A BRIGHT woman named Mrs. B. Kellor has taken me to task for some verses which I wrote as the mother, in need of failing in her duty. Mrs. Kellor quotes the final line of the poem and her criticisms follow: "We must better the mothers to better the race."

"Yet your cry is for MOTHERS to do their duty better. What in the world do you expect of the mother? If men had the race responsibility laid at their door, the whole world would undergo a revolution. Men are only HIG CHILDREN—and they OUGHT to be MEN. Then they read your plea to WOMEN and they begin to see where their own aches, the struggling mother of a band of seven or eight tots, is deficient and stragglery she is belittled in their eyes and they pat themselves on the back for doing TIDBIT duty. Dear mother, the male man is already an egoist, already a spoiled child, without needing a word, woman can give to make him more so."

Garrett P. Serviss

Writes on New Light on the Descent of Man The Ancestors of Spiders and Scorpions Give Birth to the Family of Vertebrates.

By GARRETT P. SERVISS.

THE affirmation of science that apes and monkeys are our collateral relatives, sprung from the same ancestral stock, was once very offensive to many good people, some of whom still obstinately refuse to accept it. They think that it robs man of his dignity.

Accordingly, he went back millions of years and fixed his assumptions upon the mysterious marine animal, ostracoderm, which, although it was related to the marine arachnids, arachnids had been trapped by the sudden plunging of the land back in geological time.

He believes that their heads were turned against a gentle current of water, because the tips of all the foetal forms found in the water had been pointed in nearly the opposite direction. Was there ever so dramatic a picture of life on this earth couplet ages ago? And he thinks that the "trapped" creatures had been the only representatives of their kind, the great race of the vertebrates might have been extinguished in its cradle.

Many of the specimens were so perfectly preserved that the discoverer was able to ascertain the position of their principal organs, of their jaws, gills, stomach, etc., and their mode of locomotion, mode of feeding, and the nature of their food. For nearly three years he has worked upon these specimens in his laboratory, gradually disclosing their internal structure, until now he is able to affirm that the ostracoderm was neither a vertebrate nor an invertebrate, but intermediate between the two. In other words, it is the long-missing link, and it shows that the marine arachnids, the great-grandfather of the spiders and the scorpions, gave rise to a race of creatures in whom nature made her first experiments toward the production of a backbone, which so true arachnids was ever to possess, but which, when set free in man, was topped with a brain that has made its possessor the master of the world and its secrets.

to have his liberty and be trusted to obey the terms of this court, then considered as a witness only, he ought to be discharged and limited he should not have been imprisoned at all. But in such case to exact the force in the court's presence of releasing the negro and immediately return him to his present confinement at the police station would resemble child play.

2. That if the solicitor believes that one of a number of witnesses, whose statements made by this negro may, if properly preserved, be made valuable in the prosecution of Frank and that the negro may destroy its value if left free to talk, and in order to stop his mouth it is necessary that the detectives should keep him in charge, then we think we have the right to protect against an order of a court of justice that he be set at a purpose.

Release Not Considered.

2. We are constrained to the conclusion that it is not the purpose for this court to release this negro, but by obtaining his order here we continue the present illegal confinement.

But Frank is himself deeply interested in this proceeding. That the consent of the solicitor and the will of the negro is not sufficient to reverse the will of the law is a proposition which no one has the right to ignore. The law is not a mere privilege to be exercised at will, but a principle which must be observed in every case. The law is not a mere privilege to be exercised at will, but a principle which must be observed in every case. Suspended Sentence Movement Active in Behalf of Wayward Youth in Prison Here.

An effort to gain the release from prison of Paul H. Vandusen, 19 years old, who several months ago forged a postal savings certificate in Atlanta, is being made by industrial citizens throughout the United States who are active in the suspended sentence movement.

United States District Attorney Tamm, who has been petitioned by twenty petitions asking that Vandusen be given another chance.

Vandusen several months ago lived in Georgia with Roy Substanten. The two boys took much alike. Roy Substanten had a postal savings account at the local postoffice. On two different occasions Vandusen took the account books of Substanten to the postoffice and forged a total of $18 in Substanten's name.

Soon afterward Vandusen went to Georgia, where he held a position with the Western Union Telegraph Company as a telegraph messenger. In some manner he appropriated $22 of the company's money and was arrested.

Lucky '13 Follows President Wilson All of Hoodoo Day

WASHINGTON, June 13.—As usual, the faculty of the number 13 followed President Wilson on this Friday, June 13. The President awoke this morning to the realization that this was "Hoodoo day."

The hands of the simple alarm clock which he awoke to awaken the President to the fact that this was "Hoodoo day" were exactly one hour and ten minutes past twelve when he awoke. The President said he was surprised that the hands of the clock were so near to the point of coincidence.

Thirteen names in connection with the Industrial Commission were proposed by Secretary of Commerce Redfield, who arrived at 10:30 (add the figures). The cabinet session was usually held at 11:15 before the President called the meeting to order, noting that five of the men named were from the South.

PLAN BOULEVARD ON NORTAUST AVENUE

City Council Approves and Anticipates Agreement to Esso Concession

Ivy Street for a boulevard and Piedmont Avenue for double track car service was the plan tentatively favored by the street railway commission of the General Council of the Board of Public Safety, at its meeting Thursday afternoon.

Pending grading and paving, Ivy Street has been stripped of tracks, and the street railway company has been ordered to remove its tracks from the street.

The double track service on Piedmont would extend from East Pine Street to Decatur. It would take care of traffic from all of North and Northwest Atlanta, affording relief from congestion to Pine Street.

The Ivy Street boulevard proposition, came up from President Wright asked the Street Railway Commission for two franchises, one on Piedmont Avenue from Decatur to the intersection of North Avenue and one on Ivy Street from Decatur to Atlanta.

MEGEE FREED BUT JAILED AGAIN ON SUSPICION

Rosser Declares Gibbering Statements Point Out Sweeper as guilty of Slaying.

James Conley, self-confessed accessory after the fact in the murder of Mary Phagan, Friday was discharged by Judge L. R. Ransom entirely from the custody of the State on the petition of Solicitor Dorsey.

Technically free, Conley was at once arrested and held by the police on suspicion in the murder mystery. The action of Judge Ransom constituted a victory for Solicitor Dorsey, who was fighting to prevent the authorities returning Conley to the Tower, from which he had been taken on the representation of his attorney, William M. Smith, that the negro was threatened and intimidated in the Tower.

Luther Z. Rosser, attorney for Frank made a bitter protest against the liberation of the negro, which, in the opinion of Judge Tamm, in the opinion of Judge Tamm, is the best alternative of returning him to the county jail. He made a still stronger protest in a formal written statement placed on file as a record in the case.

Accuses Conley as flyer. In this he charged that the negro's series of "gibbering and incoherent statements," together with the attendant circumstances of the crime and Conley's subsequent actions, pointed to him as guilty of the murder beyond any reasonable doubt.

Friday, the 13th, Ends Atlanta Jinx; Big Pump Working

Friday, the 13th, was a lucky day for Atlanta, viewed from the angle from which "Booze" Smith, manager of the fireworks, looked at the situation. The day brought nothing but good luck to him, and he walked into his office at the City Hall wearing a smile like unto the one worn by the gentleman in the moon.

"Why shouldn't I smile?" he asked, when questioned about the cause of his ultra-pleasant disposition. "Then I answered the question in the affirmative, 'If you had not the same big 10,000-gallon pump at the river is working to-day, the first time since April. If you had not the same big of trouble lifted from you that I've had lifted from me, you'd be smiling, too!'"

The big 10,000-gallon pump not only got out of work in April, but it almost went to pieces.

GRAND JURY IS RESUMED BY GRAND JURY

Action Creates Surprise, as Probe Was Thought at End—R. R. Jackson on Stand.

The Grand Jury again took up an inquiry into the vice situation Friday afternoon when a number of witnesses were called to ascertain the exact methods used by the Atlanta police department in their endeavor to stamp out vice.

The announcement that the Grand Jury would probe deeper into the vice situation came as a complete surprise, for it was stated several days ago that the Grand Jury had finished with this question.

R. R. Jackson, a former justice of the peace, now a member of the law firm of Goble & Jackson, was summoned to appear before the Grand Jury together with John H. Conner, a former bailiff, who is now employed in Jackson's office.

Mr. Jackson stated that he knew of no reason why the Grand Jury should call him. He admitted, however, that for many years he represented in an official capacity many women of questionable character, and that his knowledge of the residents of the tenements at one time was fairly accurate.

It is now thought that the Grand Jury will uncover the exact condition of vice in this city previous to the coming of the houses, for the purpose of determining whether conditions are worse now than they were at the time the houses were closed down.

GEORGE SPEER RECORD IS PROBED

Inspector of Department of Justice in Macon Investigating Official and Private Character.

MACON, Ga., June 12.—The entire official record of Judge George Speer is being investigated by a special agent of the Department of Justice. It is said that an attempt is being made to learn an exact list of State Attorney General's office, and a personal representative of Attorney General McPherson, has been in this city for a week engaged in this work.

Not only the official acts, but also the personal character of Judge Speer is also being scrutinized, with the view of determining if there is any foundation for charges of an impeachable nature.

It is said that the investigation was prompted by the charges made last year by Colonel W. A. Huff, who has since been found guilty for sending to Judge Speer the letters which contained the accusations. However, the Huff civil case does not, it is said, refer to any great extent to the investigation, the probe being concerned with the record for the past year.

District Attorney Alexander Akerman declines to make any statement as to the investigation, referring inquiries to the Attorney General for information. Mr. Lewis also refuses to discuss the matter.

It is believed here that Congressman Bartlett was approached by the Department of Justice with regard to the investigation of Judge Speer, and that he did not oppose it. Colonel Huff states that regardless of the activity of the Department of Justice in this regard, he has no objection to the investigation of Judge Speer, who he has slight connection with his case, but did almost altogether with other people which he implied to Judge Speer.

JUDGE SPEER UNDER FIRE; RECORDS PROBED

Inspector of Department of Justice in Macon Investigating Official and Private Character.

MACON, GA., June 13.—The entire official record of Judge Emory Speer is being investigated by a special agent of the Department of Justice. J. T. Lewis, an assistant in the United States Attorney General's office, and a personal representative of Attorney General McCreynolds, has been in Macon for a week engaged in this work. Not only the official acts, but also the personal character of Judge Speer is being scrutinized, with the view of determining if there is any foundation for charges of an impeachment nature. Judge Speer is fully informed as to the purpose of the visit of Inspector Lewis to Macon. Started by Huff Charges.

It is held that the investigation was promoted by the charges made last year by Colonel W. A. Huff, who has since been found guilty for sending to Judge Speer the letters which contained the accusations. However, the Huff civil case does not, it is said, figure to any great extent in the investigation, the probe being concerned with the judge's record for the past 15 years. Inspector Lewis has interviewed numerous Macon attorneys, court officials and citizens, and has been seen in the taking of affidavits. Newspaper files are also being consulted.

District Attorney Alexander Akers has sent to make any statement as to the investigation, referring inquiries to the Attorney General for information. Mr. Lewis also refused to discuss the assignment. Not Opposed by Bartlett. It is believed here that Congressman Bartlett will be approached by the Department of Justice with regard to the investigation of Judge Speer, and that he will oppose it. Colonel Huff states that regardless of the activity of the Department of Justice in proceeding with the plan of petitioning Congress to investigate charges which will make against Judge Speer, he says that he has always been in connection with his case, but that he does not intend to get involved with his case. He is expressing a visit from Inspector Lewis, and he says he will try to get the special agent all information that he has in his possession. The disclosure that Judge Speer's case has caused a genuine sensation here.

Painter Analysis Goes to Coroner

BALTIMORE, MD., June 13.—The analysis of the organs of E. O. Palmer, the late fertilizer man of Jacksonville, was completed today by Dr. Charles Glaver, a chemist of this city. The report was mailed to Coroner C. D. Abbott, at Jacksonville, this afternoon. Although refusing to discuss in any way his findings, Dr. Glaver let drop remarks that intimate that a large portion of the organs were found to be diseased.

Lucky '13' Follows President Wilson All of Hoodoo Day

WASHINGTON, June 13.—As usual, the forty of the month 13 followed President Wilson on the Friday, June 13. The President awoke this morning to the realization that this was his "lucky day."

The hands of the simple alarm clock which serves as "Wake Up Call" Chief Executive pointed to 7:13 o'clock as he arose. Exactly one hour later the President sat down to breakfast, and 8:13 marked his entrance to the executive offices, where he found that Joseph T. Murphy (13 letters) had placed 13 roses in his bouquet.

Thirteen names in connection with the industrial Commission were presented by Secretary of Commerce Redfield, who arrived at 10:33 (403 the figure). The cabinet session was unusually late, it being 11:13 before the President called the meeting to order, noting that five of the men assembled (William J. Bryan, Franklin K. Lane, David C. Houston, William Wilson and William McAdoo) each had 13 letters in his name.

VICE INQUIRY IS PRESUMED BY GRAND JURY

Action Creates Surprise, as Prob Was Thought at End—R. R. Jackson on Stand.

The Grand Jury again took up an inquiry into the vice situation Friday afternoon, when a number of witnesses were called to ascertain the exact methods used by the Atlanta police department in their endeavor to stamp out vice.

The announcement that the Grand Jury would probe deeper into the vice situation came as a complete surprise, for it was stated several days ago that the Grand Jury had finished with this question. Mr. Jackson, a former Justice of the peace, now a member of the law firm of Ocker & Jackson, was summoned to appear before the Grand Jury, together with John H. Gossett, a former billiard, who is now employed in Jackson's office.

Mr. Jackson stated that he knew of no reason why the Grand Jury should call him. He admitted, however, that for many years he represented in an official capacity a number of questionable characters, and that his knowledge of the residents of the neighborhood at one time was fairly accurate. It is now thought that the Grand Jury will uncover the exact conditions of vice in this city prevalent to the closing of the houses, for the purpose of determining whether conditions are worse now than they were at the time the houses were closed.

NEGRO FREED BUT Jailed AGAIN ON SUSPICION

Rosser Declares Gibbering Statements Point Out Sweeper as Guilty of Slaying.

James Conley, self-confessed accessory after the fact in the murder of Mary Phagan, Friday was discharged by Judge J. S. Rosen, entirely from the custody of the State on the petition of Solicitor Dorsey. Technically free, Conley was at once rearrested and held by the police on suspicion in the murder mystery. The action of Judge Rosen constituted a victory for Solicitor Dorsey, who was fighting to prevent the authorities returning Conley to the Tower, from which he had been taken on the representation of the Attorney, William H. Smith, that the negro was threatened and intimidated in the Tower.

Luther Z. Rosser, Attorney for Lee Frank, made a bitter protest against the action of Judge Rosen, and the opinion of Judge Rosen was the only legal justification of returning him to the County Jail. He said that still stronger protest in formal writs for his liberation must be made as a result of the action of Judge Rosen.

It is in this opinion that the negro's return to the County Jail, under the circumstances of the case, and the fact that the negro is still in the jail, as guilty of the murder beyond any reasonable doubt. Attorney General Rosser said these highly suspicious circumstances in detail and went on to say that there being no other evidence, the negro should be regarded as a scapegoat for the negro, as could be brought to the attention of the Grand Jury.

Less than an hour after his arrest in the disposal of the case, Judge Rosen did not read either the statements of Attorney Rosser or that of Attorney Smith, who submitted the reasons for which he filed a writ of habeas corpus. The statement which the petition was intended to be a complete surprise. A protracted hearing had begun and had been suspended.

Judge Rosen said he was without authority to hold the negro in the custody of the State so long as he had no formal application from either side. The Solicitor had made application for the release of the prisoner, and Attorney Rosser had characterized his statement only as a suggestion.

Attorney Smith's statement to the court charged intimidation and that intimations unlawfully to Conley, and friendly to Frank were at the back of the movement to transfer Conley back to the jail. He alleged that, finally, the interests of justice for the interests of Conley would be safeguarded by removing Conley from the police station.

Edward Manning branded as an infamous lie the charges that the interests of Conley could not be safeguarded in the County Jail, and that had not been safeguarded. The defendant involved in the charges of aiding and abetting the release of Conley, and that the charges were unfounded and untrue, and that the charges were unfounded and untrue, and that the charges were unfounded and untrue.

to have his liberty and he treated to obey the subpoena of this court, then considered as a witness only, he should be discharged and indeed he should have been imprisoned at all. But in such case to exact the force in the court's presence of releasing the negro and immediately return him to his wife's nurse at the police station would resemble child's play.

2. But if the collector believes that one of a number of contradictory statements made by this negro may be truthfully preserved, he would be unable in the prosecution of Frank and that the negro may destroy its value if left free to talk at will in order to stop his mouth it is necessary that the detective should keep him in custody, then of public law he should be confined to a cell.

3. We are constrained to the conclusion that the best course for any reason to release this negro, but by obtaining the order here sought and giving the present legal confinement.

JUDGE SPEER UNDER FIRE; RECORDS PROBED

Inspector of Department of Justice in Macon Investigating Official and Private Character.

MACON, Ga., June 12.—The entire official record of Judge Emory Speer is being investigated by a special agent of the Department of Justice, J. T. Lewis, an assistant in the United States Attorney General's office, and a personal representative of Attorney General McReynolds, has been in Macon for a week engaged in this work.

Not only the official acts, but also the personal character of Judge Speer is also being scrutinized, with the view of determining if there is any foundation for charges of an impeachment nature.

Judge Speer is fully informed as to the purpose of the visit of Inspector Lewis to Macon.

It is said that the investigation was prompted by the charges made last year by Colonel W. A. Huff, who has since been found guilty for sending to Judge Speer the letters which contained the accusations. However, the Huff civil case does not, it is said, figure to any great extent in the investigation, the probe being concerned with the judge's record for the past 28 years.

2 Deatur Children Failed to Attend School in 12 Months

Deatur probably is the only town on the Georgia map that really does not need a compulsory education law, as proposed by Representative Fulbright, of Burke County, for there are only two children between the ages of 8 and 14 that have not attended school since the past 12 months, an investigation just completed shows.

And this is not all—Deatur hasn't a single illiterate white child and she has a hundred negro school children than any other Georgia town of equal size. A building permit for a new school building, costing $12,000, has been issued, also.

These and other things, including Deatur's progressiveness, indicative statement of Deatur's building record increase of 56 per cent over last year, are being scattered broadcast in the State.

Miss Morgan, niece of J. Pierpont Morgan was one of last season's debutantes.

Mr. Gardner is a member of the class of 1911 of Harvard University. No date has been set for the wedding.

It is believed here that Congressman Bartlett was approached by the Department of Justice with regard to the investigation of Judge Speer, and that he did not oppose it.

CASH BUYING BOOSTS BUSINESS IS GOOD

Retail Dealers Report Big Sale Increases Over Last Year, With Good Collections.

Retail trade in Atlanta is making a remarkable showing. Nearly every Wholesale Street merchant reports an increase of sales over 1912, good collections and a remarkable amount of cash trade.

But he sent me the box of Havana you see on my desk. He had his accounting department run a list of all sales, and wrote me a note saying it was worth the cigars to get cured of the blues. His sales month, it is estimated the sale amount of boots and shoes will total $20,000,000.

Mr. Parker, "at noting the considerable increase in cash business, 1912 and a large proportion of this is cash over the counter. Atlanta certainly has no cause for complaint at trade."

Hot Race on for Presidency of Georgia Senate

Allen and Anderson Both Claim Victory Is Sure

Claims of Pledged Votes Are Heard With Doubtful Ears by Political Experts.

The most interesting race for political office in Georgia is the contest between John T. Allen, Senator from the Twentieth District, and J. Randolph Anderson, Senator from the First District, for the Presidency of the Georgia Senate.

Both men claim to have sufficient votes already pledged to elect, but the impression is that neither man really has.

JUDGE ROAN TO DECIDE CONLEY'S FATE

Chief of Detectives Lanford Receives No Order to Take the Negro Sweeper to Court.

A more explicit accusation of murder against Jim Conley, negro sweeper at the National Penitentiary, than has yet been made since his name has been connected with the Phagan mystery, was expected Friday morning when Luther S. Rogers, attorney for Leo Frank, was to appear before Judge L. R. Roan to combat Solicitor Dorsey's move to sweep Conley at the police station half way from the tower.

The probability that Conley, according to Frank, accused, would be brought face to face at the hearing was lessened when it was learned that Chief of Detectives Lanford had no order to take the negro into court and had made the statement that he would not bring the negro out of the station without an order to that effect.

The hearing Friday morning was understood to be largely the outcome of a persistent demand on the part of Frank's attorney that Conley, a self-confessed accessory after the fact of Mary Phagan's murder, and possibly the actual principal, should be removed from the police station and held in the tower.

His removal is probable. Judge Roan, following the application, decided that he had possessed no authority to remand the negro to the police station, but that he should be taken to the tower. To execute the transfer back to the tower, Solicitor Dorsey petitioned that Conley be freed, representing that the need for holding him as a material witness no longer existed.

Conley's attorney, William M. Smith, was at the hearing before Judge Roan and in his possession an affidavit signed by Conley in which the negro said that he was at the station of his own free will and offered to stay there, rather than at the jail. He contended that he had been coerced in no way by the detectives.
