DORSEY AIDE SAYS FRANK IS FAST IN NET

Attorney Hooper Declares State Is Prepared for Any Move the Defense May Make.

Frank A. Hooper, the well-known criminal lawyer who has been engaged to assist Solicitor General M. Frank for the alleged murder of Mary Phagan, said Monday that the case was complete and was ready for presentation to court at any time.

Mr. Hooper asserted that the attorneys interested in the prosecution had investigated every angle of the mystery thoroughly and fortified their case so completely that Frank will present, that practically nothing remained to be done until the case was called for trial. The defendant's attorney, however, for a week's vacation, he said, was in full indication of the preparedness of the prosecution.

No new developments are expected by the defense, according to Mr. Hooper. All of the stories and rumors have been run down in their original source. The defense, in his opinion, will be able to spring no surprise that had been anticipated by the prosecution.

Mr. Frank Gives Interview.

The American pressman engaged in an interview with Mr. Frank, whose husband, Leo M. Frank, is under indictment charged with the murder of 14-year-old Mary Phagan. It was the first interview that Mr. Frank had permitted himself to be interviewed since the Coroners' Jury a month ago recommended that the Grand Jury hold her husband for trial.

He broke her silence to tell the thousands who have been gripped by the remarkable murder mystery just what she knew about the crime and positive that Frank could not have been the author of the terrible deed. She made no plea for sympathy, but expressed a desire to be left alone to the processes of the law, even though they temporarily caused her the greatest sorrow and kept her husband behind bars. Her story was accepted as one of the most sensational crimes thinkable. The loyal wife said that she was able to bear the present belief because of the assurance of Frank's ultimate and complete vindication.

Why She Believes Husband.

On the fact that she comes from her home to the unexpected scenes that any gross or unusual act is utterly apart from her nature, she has much of her belief in his entire innocence.

She said, in part:

"In all the year and a half of our engagement, and the happy knowledge we had of each other, I was Leo's 'best girl' and he was my one and only boy. If I went to a party, it was conceded that I should be the best girl there. I was invariably sent with me. You know the people of my faith do those things that way—why we're betrothed is all that is needed as a marriage itself."

"For the past my husband has been man and wife for two years and a half. I state it as a circumstance showing how well we get along. Our life has been good, and not a thing I could mention ordinarily, that during all the two and a half years of our wedded life not once has Leo been away from the night before he came home. One month ago, he attended the meetings of the Jewish Order of B'nai Brith, of which he was the president of Atlanta, and he came home at midnight."

In His Power, Staying Home.

"He might have gone but in the evenings, perhaps, without my knowledge, but he did not do so. He has gone, so far as my friend may have, so far as a factor in his going. I must cite it as a definite fact that he was not elected to go. He seemed rather to prefer staying home with me. Naturally, that made

PRESIDENT IN PERSON TO SPUR HOUSE

Wilson Will Read Message Urging
His 'Hobbleless' Currency Reform Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—President Wilson will call his currency committee to Congress in person, it was announced at the White House prior to the newspaper conference at which the President discussed the bill at length with the Washington correspondents.

"The President believes that his plan of monetary placing before the nation is sound and can be carried out without difficulty, such as currency and the tariff, insure greater attention and more marked interest from the country at large than did the former practice of sending messages to Congress and having them read by a clerk.

General Principles Are His.

Man Running for Train Is Hit by an Engine; Dies in Hour

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., June 14.—Samuel Brown, 12 years old, of Sesser Mountain, was struck by a switch engine of the Georgia Railroad early Monday morning and received injuries from which he died an hour later. He attempted to board the passenger train to Atlanta alone.

C. B. Bishop, of Roswell, Brown's companion, had boarded the train and turned on the switch steps to call to his friend.

Brown was running across the yards in the darkness, failed to see the approaching switch engine. He was struck by the engine's coupler and was thrown to the ground.

Two Great Railroads Show Increase Earnings Last Year.

Stirring confirmation of the truth of the reports about the solidity of the financial situation of the South is furnished today in the following dispatch from Louisville:

LOUISVILLE, June 17.—The South is enjoying a period of great prosperity as indicated by the evidence presented.

The report of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad shows that the gross earnings for the fiscal year, which ends July 1, will show an increase of more than $4,000,000 over the same period last year.

The statement of the Southern Railway, whose fiscal year ends July 1, also shows an increase in the first week in June its earnings have been $6,429,404, an increase of $1,000,000 over the same period last year.

This makes it certain that, for the current fiscal year, these two great railroad systems of the South will show an increase in earnings over the last year that will exceed $7,000,000.

Also, James J. Hill, the empire builder, declines to do business in the South, but he has sold his interest in Wall Street is not well founded; and he points out that the United States will derive $10,000,000 of new wealth out of the ground that was added to the country's money held for ten years.

The Georgia during the past week published interviews with many business men of Atlanta and on Sunday Dr. S. S. Anderson, Atlanta Laborator interview with Asst. Senator, in which they all declared that the financial situation in the South is strong, and they warned against the pessimistic writers of Wall Street.

HILL Says All Is Well.

OTTAWA, ONT., June 17.—James J. Hill, the empire builder, president of the New York State Bankers Association here, has taken keen interest in recent Wall Street developments. Speaking of the general financial situation, he said to a correspondent:

"What is the matter with Wall Street anyway? Are they going crazy? Every time I see a headline in the papers, I have to pause and think what they are about. All those people have to do in times like these is keep a clear head and avoid getting carried away. Everything will come up all right."

Money Hard to Get.

"Yes, I know money is hard to get, but I don't think it's so bad. I am doing all the things we used to do in obtaining loans at a time when time-money rates were apparently easy. But the question is, does the issue of capitalization inconvenience the notes happen to mature in a day or two? That could be a situation where the bank would not want to give you a loan. In cases where the borrowing road has the security to offer."

"The money market is a good deal of a problem, but it will work out all right."

"Why, these nervous fellows in Wall Street, who get worked up because they are afraid of losing their money, the stock market is going down, ought to realize the United States will do well in the long run. There is a lot of the ground this year, a sum total of the world's gold production for ten years."

I want to say, too, that the Washington and Birmingham people talk, you would suppose that the financial situation was something on unsettling things. That is perfectly foolishness."

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Atlanta and Georgia—Generally fair Tuesday and Wednesday.

Two Great Railroads Show Immenses Earnings Increase Over Last Year.

Striking confirmation of the truth of the reports about the solidity of the financial situation in the South denounced today in the following dispatch to The Georgian:

LOUISVILLE, June 17.—That the South is enjoying a period of great prosperity indicated by the earnings of her railroad systems. The report of the Louisville Railroad shows that the gross earnings for the fiscal year, which ends July 1, will show an increase of more than $2,000,000 over the same period last year.

The statement of the Southern Railway, whose fiscal year ends July 1, shows that the gross earnings for the first week of June were $4,141,414, an increase of the same period last year of $4, 887,377.

This means it certain that for the current fiscal year, there will be great railroad systems of the South, will show increases in earnings over last year that will exceed $1,000,000.

John A. Hill, the empire builder, declares in an interview in The Georgian to-day that the passenger of Wall Street is not well founded; and he points out that the Southern Railroads derive $10,000,000 from new wealth off the ground of their railroads or a sum to exceed the world's gold production for ten years.

The Georgia State Journal has just published interviews with many business men of Atlanta, and on Sunday The Sunday American published an elaborate interview with a man who, in view of all the facts disclosed that the financial situation in the South is strong, and they warned against the pessimistic writers of Wall Street.

Hill Says
All Is Well.

OTTAWA, ONT., June 17.—James J. Hill, who is attending the convention of the New York State Bankers Association here, has been kind enough to speak with The Sunday American. Speaking of the general financial situation, he said to a correspond-

"There is no master with Wall Street anymore! Are they going crazy there? Every one is as bad as Indigo, and half the people do not know what they are about. All that you hear is that the negroes there have kept a clear head and stayed getting ratified; then everything will come out all right."

"Yes, I know money is hard to get. I alluded some time ago to the difficulty the railroads were experiencing in obtaining loans at the time when the limit rates were imposed. Selling short-term notes issues is apt to occasion inconvenience when the notes happen to mature in a day or two. The railroads have probably done the best they could do in a situation where it has been difficult to sell bonds, even in case when the bond market had to be decimated."

"The money market is a good deal of a problem. But it will work out all right."

"Why, those nervous fellows in Wall Street will get worried again. Money rates are going up or because the stock market is going down, ought to realize that the United States will derive vast sums of money from the sale of the ground this year, or a sum which exceeds the world's gold production for ten years."

"I am sure, too, that the Washington situation is all right. To hear some people talk, you would suppose that the Administration was bent upon upsetting things. That is perfect foolishness."

A great throng of fashionably dressed women struggled with militants and supporters outside. Among those present were Miss Violet Asquith, daughter of the Prime Minister, and Mrs. Winston Churchill, wife of the First Lord, of the Admiralty.

The defendants were allowed to address the court in their own behalf, and Miss Annie Kenney, one of the "bold" leaders, told the women's political and social Union, that she was an impassioned and dramatic orator.

In conclusion she railed her "fists above her head and shouted: "If I have got to die to get the vote, then I am willing to die right now."

Dr. Cook, of Polar fame, is going north again—in other words, he has an "itching of the feet and a trembling of the hands, rest signs of wanderlust," according to a statement to the Hotel Astor Monday afternoon.

"The fever has me again," said the general doctor. "It always strikes about this time of the year, but I'm not in real bad shape."

Dr. Cook, who is to make another expedition to the North Polar regions, where there remain many world to be done, will make an extended trip to Mount Everest, about which there is a great deal to be learned."

Dr. Cook said he had planned to go to the Arctic region to see what could be done to until the Polar controversy had been settled, as he owes this debt to his family and to his good name.

"The questions fired at me now by newspaper men and citizens are vastly different from those which used to be asked by the general public," he said.

"But there are some, extremely funny ones yet."

"Did you get a hole at the pole?" he was asked. "That's a question which has interested me a thousand times."

"Did you get very cold at the pole?" he was asked. "That's another familiar one."

"Can you freeze anything up at the pole?" he was asked.

"Do you feel your observational at the pole, do you really think the world is round?" he was asked by one of the old timers.

"I repeat that I did get to the pole for what's the good of it? Can they dog meat live up there?" he was asked.

"Are the Eskimo women good looking?" he was asked. "They are, but they are not as good looking as the women of the world."

Women Outrage About Babies.

"Perhaps the most interesting questions, however," said the doctor, "are those which citizens want to know how the Eskimo babies manage to live and thrive in such a cold country."

In commenting particularly on the "interviewing methods" of the newswoman of the world, Dr. Cook said to the French reporter always wanted to know the personal life of the doctor, and when she asks him something, something along sentimental lines.

"The German, he said, manifestly interest in the material things, while the Englishwoman reporter, at times, was more interested in the national scenery and the like."

"And the Englishman?" queried the reporter.

"He," replied Dr. Cook, "was to have it written out for him."

SHIPPING TIE-UP THREATENED BY COTTON MEN

Conference Over New Rules for Foreign Bills of Lading Expected to Develop Fight.

Cotton buyers, commission owners, railroad men, and the representatives of the ocean steamship lines meet in Birmingham Wednesday for a conference which will attempt to settle one of the most important questions which has arisen regarding the movement of the cotton crop in the South.

The membership here have announced that they will put into effect within a month strict regulations governing the baling and marking of cotton. They intend to make known to all the bills of lading describing the condition of cotton whether wet or not, properly covered, for instance. Their aim is to avoid the heavy claims and damages which have been made upon these years past by the cotton shippers on the other side who received cotton in bad condition.

The railroads announce that such notes are put on bills of lading which will be sent through bills from interior points to destination in Europe, but will issue bills only to ship.

Banks Would Suffer

The banks cannot possibly finance the cotton crop unless through bills of exchange. On the other hand, if the strength and condition of cotton are liable for damage as periles to the merchandise transaction, when their risk is increased.

A. P. Cole, one of the questioners, said:

"Why should the banks care? The smaller banks, I am told, are in selling exchange, buy a lawsuit."

On the other hand, it has been held in Atlanta on the subject, at which the steamship interests were not in agreement.

In Birmingham, a desperate effort will be made to keep the cotton market admitted that the cotton trade of the South had improved so much that it was time to open up the cotton less bidding, second-hand bidding, and so on.

It is pointed out, though, that these practices cannot be reformed from the top down, but must come from the planter. Education of the cotton grower is the best method to bring the flat of the steamship companies can bring about such a result.

Cole to Speak

Mr. Cole, vice president of the Cotton Exchange and Trust Corporation, probably will make one of the principal addresses at the Interstate Commerce Convention which he believes covers the entire field of cotton. He also governs the demurrage charges on cotton.

In effect, it says that while the Commission cannot force the railroads to do what they want, it can compel the practice of the railroads to do what they want. It is a favorite policy of the Interstate Commission which it cannot compel through bills of lading, but it can do so through bills of all other commodities.

Mr. Cole proposes to threaten laying the case before the Interstate Commission, and then to seek a request for a parallel ruling if the matter is not settled.

Letters from the National City Bank of New York City, the Quayle, Burt, and Company, the Blythe & Bonner, exchange brokers, and the like, show that $100 million dollars' worth of cotton this year, express their opinion that the cotton market will be unbreakable, and may, too, that the price will go up.

SIDELIGHTS ON GEORGIA POLITICS

By JAMES B. NEVIN.

SENATOR BACON will be introduced to the Senate on Saturday evening for the introduction of bills.

This will call for the first election under the new Federal amendment.

SENATOR BACON will be seated as his own successor without opposition.

While the percentage of inexperienced membership in the new House is greater than in the old, the new membership coming over from the last session is not.

The Senator is kept pretty busy taking folks and assuring them of his appreciation of their evident interest in him, but upon the arrival of Senator Bacon he remains as silent as the Sphinx.

There is a distinct impression abroad that the Governor and the Legislature intend disappearing.

While he has made no statement as to his purpose in the game of politics he is seen every day now in the hotel lobby, and from the intention to try for the United States Senate in this year's primaries.

He is a brief and glorious man, one, Wednesday, June 13, Brown

The Governor's retiring message is about ready to transact in the Legislature, and it is ready to turn over the affairs of his office to his successor, John H. Bishop, at any moment.

It is said that one of the very first bills to go on the House calendar will be one providing the annual state audit of the state's financial condition.

It is also expected that the Senate will be in session on June 13.
