Dr. Hurt Says That Undigested Cabbage Does Not Prove Time of Death

EXPERT FOUND NO SKULL FRACTURE; SIRE GIRL WAS STRAGGLED TO DEATH

FOREMAN OF FACTORY AN IMPORTANT WITNESS

N. V. Darley, witness by the State, proved to be one of the most important witnesses in the trial of Frank.

Important case. You will have to be extremely cautious and extremely careful. You are to try this case from the evidence and from nothing else. It has been suggested that you have been told to see some papers in the newspapers or some writings in the newspaper which may have influenced you in your judgment on this case. I desire to tell you that you are the ones trying this case, and I desire to warn you again that nothing you see in the newspapers or the streets or in the courtroom should have any influence upon you either in respect to the case or in respect to that of the defense. Let the case proceed.

The examination of witness proceeded. The defense called sharply Saturday in a vigorous and impressive manner on the sensational testimony of Dr. H. P. Harris, who declared Friday afternoon that Mary Phagan was strangled within a half-hour after she ate dinner April 26, and that she came to her death by strangulation.

From one of the State's own witnesses, Dr. A. W. Hurt, County Physician, DeKalb, Arnold obtained the important admission that the time it takes to digest cabbage depends on the individual and that the only way to determine with certainty if strangulation is the cause of death is by an examination of the lungs. He admitted the lungs were not examined.

Attacking the testimony of Dr. Harris, who collapsed while testifying in the stand Friday, Arnold asked the witness if Dr. Harris' statement that Mary Phagan had come to her death within a half-hour of the time she ate her meal was not the wisest conclusion of a sane physician. He asked his conclusions on the fact that the cabbage he had found in her stomach had undergone only the slightest digestion.

Arnold then showed the specimen of cabbage taken from the stomach of the murdered girl, and called attention to the fact that it had not even been masticated, and that there, too, it might have been in her stomach for several hours before she was killed.

Dr. Hurt accompanied this statement by the one, equally vital, that no examination was ever made of the murdered girl's lungs. From this testimony the defense will be able to prove that the State has no substantial foundation for its charge that the girl was strangled to death.

Arnold also forced Dr. Hurt reluctantly to admit that it was impossible for him to state positively whether the blow on the back of Mary Phagan's head had produced unconsciousness or that, on the other hand, it might not have been the actual cause of her death.

He testified that a conversation did take place with Mary Phagan and an employee of the factory, who was the first witness to be called when court resumed Saturday morning. The greatest crowd of the year headed for the courthouse salom for admission.

Pay Refused. Solicitor Dorsey examined Miss Ferguson. Witness said she was an employee of the factory. Q. Where you at work at the factory Friday, April 25-A. Yes. Q. Did you work that day or just go there-A. I went to the office about 10 o'clock.

Will 5 Ounces of Cabbage Help Conyict Leo M. Frank?

Are five and a half ounces of cabbage the principal factor in sending a man to the gallows? It is the question that will be asked by the jury in the trial of Leo M. Frank charged with the murder of little Mary Phagan.

It remains, however, for the State to show exactly how the cabbage was obtained and how it was obtained. It is only fair to the State to call that cabbage into question and to ask the jury to call that cabbage into question.

LUTHER ROSSER EXEMPLIFYING THE GENTLE ART OF CROSS-EXAMINING

Rosser gently starting a battery of questions

To the casual spectator who feels no personal interest in the outcome of the Frank trial, the one great feature of the courtroom is the cross-examining of the State's witnesses by Luther Z. Rosser. DR. HARRIS SHOWS FRANK HAD CHANCE TO KILL GIRL

By JAMES B. NEVIN. The testimony of Dr. Roy Harris, chairman of the State Board of Health, and one of the most learned and approved physicians in Georgia, was dramatic, both in its substance and in the manner of its delivery. The exhibition of a portion of the contents of the dead girl's stomach, for the purpose of approximating the time of her death, had been the packed courtroom—and the fainting of the physician during the progress of this testimony gave a final touch of melodrama to the trial that thrilled the audience as nothing else has thus far.

ing a mainly wild statement to get up here and state that a piece of undigested cabbage had not been in a stomach.

Qualification of the jury, this is an important case. You will have to be extremely cautious and extremely careful. You are to try this case from the evidence and from nothing else. It has been suggested that you have been able to see some headlines or some writings in the newspapers which may have influenced you in your deliberations. I desire to tell you that you are the ones trying this case, and I desire to warn you again that nothing you see in the newspapers or the press or in the courtroom should have any influence upon you either in respect to the case of the State or that of the defense. Let the case proceed.

N. V. Darley, presented by the State, proved to be one of the most important witnesses in the trial of Frank.

of the defense called Saturday in a vigorous and impressive attack on the sensational testimony of Dr. H. P. Harris, who testified Friday afternoon that Mary Phagan was killed within a half-hour after she ate dinner on April 11, and that she came to her death by strangulation. From one of the State's own witnesses, Bascom Dr. J. W. Hurt, County Physician, Heuben Arnold obtained the important admission that the time it takes to digest cabbage depends on the individual and that the only way to determine with certainty if strangulation is the cause of death is by an examination of the lungs. He admitted the lungs were not examined. Attacking the testimony of Dr. Harris, who collapsed while testifying on the stand Friday, Arnold asked the witness if Dr. Harris' statement that Mary Phagan had come to her death within a half-hour of the time she ate her meal was not a wild sort of a guess. Harris had based his conclusions on the fact that the stomach had been empty and that the stomach had undergone only the slightest digestion.

Q. What time did you have there? A. I asked for Mary Phagan's money and was told that I could not find it. I talked to Mr. Frank. Q. Did you ever get her pay before? A. Yes, but not from Mr. Frank. He took the witness on cross-examination. Q. Did you know who paid off? A. No. Q. Did you ever get Mary Phagan's money from Mr. Frank? A. No. Q. What I know in the metal department with Mary? A. Yes. Q. Attorney Rosser raised an objection to Wagner on account of his having been in the courtroom for two minutes Wednesday. Wagner stated that he had heard nothing, and Judge Ross allowed him to testify. Q. Where were you Tuesday, April 11? A. Across the street from the National Bank. Q. What did you see? A. I saw Frank come to the window, wipe his hands and looking down. He did not look at me. Q. Was he nervous or composed? A. Nervous. Q. Were you in the automobile when he was taken to the police station? A. Yes. Q. What he nervous? A. Yes. His leg was next to mine. It shook very much.

Q. How long did you work in front of the factory? A. Watching. Q. Did you know whether Frank was arrested? A. He was not. Q. Could you see whether anyone came in the office with Frank? A. Dr. Hurt called to stand. Q. What Mr. Hurt followed Wagner up the stairs? A. Yes. Q. What was your business? A. County physician. Q. How long have you held this position? A. Since January 1. Four years at another time. Q. Where did you graduate? A. I attended the College of Physicians and Surgeons and also studied in New York. Q. Did you see the body of Mary Phagan? A. Yes; Sunday morning April 17. Q. Describe to the jury how she appeared? A. I went to the undertaking establishment. She had a scalp wound on the left side of the head, about two inches long. The right eye was bruised. There were some broken plates on the left side of the head, scratches on the right and left sides and scars on right and left legs below the knees. There was a cord around her neck. It lay open that she died from strangulation.

Chain. Every member of the jury read it; I saw them leaning forward to see it. "I don't want to make a motion for a new trial, but what this jury lack and such explanation made by your honor as will eliminate any harm that might have been done by the jury seeing this paper." Dorsey objected to Rosser's request. "I object to your honor making an explanation as to an isolated instance," said Dorsey. "It is only fair to the State to call that jury back and ask if it had seen any newspaper. It is only fair to the State to call that jury back and ask if it had seen any newspaper. It is only fair to the State to call that jury back and ask if it had seen any newspaper."

Q. Do you think it is possible for a person to become unconscious, does digestion stop? A. I rather think so. Q. If you ate something and went to sleep, digestion would continue? A. Yes. Q. Why, then, does digestion stop when a person is unconscious? A. It is an unknown unconsciousness. Q. Aren't the gastric juices and blood the only things that have anything to do with digestion? A. Yes. Q. Well, do they die when a person becomes unconscious? A. No, but the stomach is partially paralyzed. Q. Didn't you say it was a wild guess to say how long a man was unconscious until the time she died? A. No, I don't think I do. A mass of testimony followed that is unprintable. In the course of it, Dorsey said: "I object to these comparisons." Judge Ross—He has not asked any question that was comparative. Arnold—withdraw the question. Dorsey—thought so. Arnold—then I will withdraw it. Rosser—Don't pay any attention to Dorsey, Ruba. Arnold—In right; I stand with it. The witness left the stand and was followed by Detective R. V. Wagner.

Will 5 Ounces of Cabbage Help Convict Leo M. Frank?

Are five and a half ounces of cabbage to be the principal factor in sending a man to the gallows? The prosecution is warranted in holding it is vital and important importance of the testimony of Dr. H. P. Harris, director of the State Board of Health, this is exactly the outcome to be expected in the trial of Leo M. Frank, charged with the murder of little Mary Phagan. It remains, however, for the State to show explicitly just how the national statement made last Friday afternoon by the medical expert was so clearly correct. The Frank with the gastric juice which will kill the cabbage, the man who will kill the same thing. The testimony of the State is called upon to show that.

Q. How long would you say this cabbage was in Mary Phagan's stomach before death? A. I would say that it was a much shorter time than that which is shown by the evidence. Q. What kind of unconsciousness do you think it was? A. A natural. Q. What kind of unconsciousness do you think it was? A. A natural. Q. CORONER'S PHYSICIAN DAMAGES HARPS' EVIDENCE FOR STATE Dr. Hurt Says That Undigested Cabbage Does Not Prove Time of Death

EXPERT FOUND SKULL FRACTURE, SURE GIRL WAS SPRUNGLED TO DEATH

Dr. J. J. Hurt, coroner's physician, said today that the evidence of Dr. H. H. Harps, who testified that the girl was dead for several hours before she was found, was not reliable because the girl had eaten cabbage shortly before she was killed.

Will 5 Ounces of Cabbage Help Convict Leo M. Frank?

Are five and a half ounces of cabbage to be the pivotal factor in sending a man to the gallows? If the prosecution is warranted in its belief in the vital and disconcerting importance of the testimony of the H. H. Harps, attorney of the State Bar of Georgia, this is a significant question to be expected in the trial of Leo M. Frank, charged with the murder of Miss Mary Phagan.

DOUBLE DEAL REBELS TAKE CHARGE IN REFUGEES TAX BILL

Vohlwender Declares Sheppard Let Amendments Die After Agreeing to Them.
Efforts to obtain a reconsideration of the Sheppard substitute for the tax bill, which was passed by the House of Representatives by a vote of 107 to 89 after an all-day session Friday, will be made within two weeks, and probably before the bill is sent to the Senate.

Representative McMichael of Georgia, whose amendment providing tax discoverers to work with the county boards provided, by Sheppard bill, was defeated, served notice that he will make a motion to reconsider.

An amendment by Mr. Nunnally of Georgia, which makes the State Comptroller General a sort of balance wheel between the taxpayer and the county boards, also is likely to get a new trial.

The State Board Men Favor Move.
It is understood the members of the House who favor the State board idea will support Mr. McMichael in his attempt to get a reconsideration of the bill, and advocates are confident good for the success of the movement. It was the State board advocates who passed the bill Friday.

More of Mr. Sheppard's followers have joined against his bill than voted for it, and without the support of the State board advocates, who acted on the basis that half a loaf was better than no bread, the bill would have been lost.

The inscription among the Sheppard forces was led by Messrs. Wherry of Illinois, Vohlwender of Missouri, and McMichael of Georgia, and was started after Mr. Sheppard gave through two amendments to his own bill, which Mr. Wherry declared was away all powers from the county boards.

Mr. Vohlwender voted against the Sheppard bill and charged Mr. Sheppard with double dealing. He said the situation was this:

Called to Give Signal.
The State board advocates agreed to favor the Sheppard bill as amended by Mr. Sheppard in the hope that could be adequate for the Senate proposed tax revision. The Sheppard bill, which Mr. Wherry introduced, would have given the State board the right to amend the Sheppard bill, but the State board people, realizing the Sheppard bill was probably their only chance for any kind of a revision, changed to the House, called to support.

The State Saturday continued to strengthen the web of circumstantial evidence in which it seeks to ensnare Leo M. Frank by preparing to introduce additional testimony showing Frank's

The way had virtually been cleared for Jim Conley, the negro weaver, to be put on the stand, but according to Solicitor Dorney the negro will very likely be held over until next week.

LUTHER ROSSER EXEMPLIFYING THE GENTLE ART OF CROSS-EXAMINING

To the casual spectator who feels no personal interest in the outcome of the Frank trial, the one great feature of the courtroom is the cross-examining of the State's witnesses by Luther Z. Rosser. Rosser roars, Rosser whispers, Rosser thunders, Rosser pleads, Rosser intimates, Rosser cajoles, Rosser jokes. At the left is Rosser holding his arms out as though to receive and clap to his breast the answer about to come to a difficult question he has put. At the right is Rosser grinning sarcastically. A witness for the State has just said that his memory was as fresh after two years as two days.

Rosser's gently starting a battery of questions.

He said the same of the pay envelopes like the one found by Mary Phagan's mother. He asserted that the envelopes were scattered on every floor of the factory every day. A fringe of meritment was caused when Attorney Arnold, referring to R. P. Barrett and his discoveries of pay envelopes, hand spots and strands of hair, designated him as "Christopher Columbus Barrett."

Will 5 Ounces of Cabbage Help Convict Leo M. Frank?

Are five and a half ounces of cabbage to be the principal factor in sending a man to the gallows? If the prosecution is warranted in its belief in the vital and irremediable importance of the testimony of Dr. H. P. Harris, director of the State Board of Health, this is exactly the outcome to be expected in the trial of Leo M. Frank charged with the murder of little Mary Phagan.

COS SHEET TESTIMONY OF STATE AIDS DEFENSE OF ACCUSED Exceptionally Clear Brain Required on Such Figures, Rosser Shows

JUDGE CHANGES RULING ON EVIDENCE

Permits Defense to Show Nervousness of Others Than Frank After Tragedy.

Continued From Page 2. made up—A. Saturday afternoon. Q. You were interested?—A. Yes, it was my duty to see it. It dealt with the coat of production. Q. What time was it made up—that is, what day of the week did it show last?—A. Thursday. Financial Sheet Introduced. Q. Who makes it up now?—A. One has not been made out since Mr. Frank left. Q. How long did it usually take him to make it out?—A. Always from about 11:30 or 3 until it is closed. Q. Look at this and tell me if this is the sheet you found on his desk Sunday morning?—A. Yes. Q. How does it compare with his regular handwriting?—Dorsey objected. Q. Object, your honor, he said, "The writing is the best evidence." Q. I want to ask you are you familiar with Mr. Frank's writing?—A. Yes, I have been seeing it about five years. Q. Now, I want to ask you one question, but don't answer until we get a ruling. Does this compare favorably with all of Mr. Frank's writing?—Dorsey objected. Ruling on Handwriting Reserved. "The coat says your honor, anyone who is entitled to the very best evidence," the Solicitor said. "This section holds that in any question of handwriting an expert must testify, and the papers or specimen of handwriting on the day in question and on other days should be introduced. The jury might not agree with the witness that the sheet in question and other sheets are similar. They can be produced, and they should be."

FACTORY GIRL CALLED TO STAND BY STATE

Miss Grace Hix, National Pencil plant employe.

The same one he wore on Saturday. Q. Did you see any scratches on it?—A. No. Q. Did you see any scratches on Frank's face or hands when he came to the factory Sunday?—A. No, I did not. Q. What time did Frank leave the factory Saturday morning?—A. About 5:10 o'clock. He started toward Monday. Q. You never saw him any more until Sunday?—A. No. Elevator Found Unlocked. Q. In what condition did you and the elevator Sunday?—A. The lock was in place but it was unlocked. Q. Could anybody else have gone in and out?—A. Anybody who knows how. Q. That elevator and motor made a good deal of noise when in operation, didn't it?—A. The saw made more noise than the motor and the elevator. When the elevator was running, the saw also was running. Q. These cords that have been referred to they were scattered all over the building, were they not?—A. Yes, after the girl was killed. Q. Mr. Dorsey asked you something about this building being closed?—A. Yes, after the girl was killed. Q. It was very dirty on the floor of the metal room, wasn't it, the dirt being about an inch thick?—A. I don't know whether it would average that thick or not, but it was very dirty. Q. The building also was very dark, especially on dark day, wasn't it?—A. Yes. Q. What sort of a day was it on which the little girl was killed?—A. Dripping rain. Q. Is anybody supposed to be in the factory on Sunday?—A. No, sir. It is supposed to be locked up on Sunday. Q. The rope on the elevator has some slack in it, hasn't it?—A. A little. Q. Did Frank catch it with both hands, or with one hand?—A. With both hands. Q. Frank only weighs about 125 or 130 pounds, doesn't he? He is what you would call a little fellow, isn't he?—A. Yes. Q. Is he taller now than he was then?—A. He is about the same. Q. How did you happen to go to Mr. Dorsey's office?—A. He phoned for me. Q. It is never a supposition of you didn't get there?—A. No, sir. Dorsey objected, but Judge Ross overruled the objection. Q. He served two subpoenas on me and phoned me once. Frank Nervous Every Day. Q. Did you know those subpoenas were not worth the paper they were written on?—A. I didn't think I have heard so much. Q. Who was Mr. Dorsey's office?—Dorsey. Chief Lawford, Detective Barnes and Campbell and a stenographer. Q. They asked you questions, except the stenographer?—A. Yes, sometimes. One would interrupt before I could answer, and the other the other. Q. They asked you whether Mr. Frank was a nervous man?—A. Yes. Q. What he had a bad nervous habit who easily got nervous when there was a crowd?—A. Yes, sir. I have never heard of a day passed when Mr. Frank didn't get nervous over some thing. I have seen him run through his hair in an awful way, through his hair in an awful way, through his hair in an awful way. Q. Mr. Frank didn't know any thing about the girl?—A. No, sir. Continued on Page 6, Column 1.

Q. How long have you been working at the factory where there were women, Mr. Dorsey?—A. 24 years. Q. Isn't it a common thing to find blood spots around the women's dressing room?—A. Yes. Q. Did you ever see any blood spots around the dressing room in the factory?—A. (Dorsey hesitated.) Yes, sir, I have. Q. What color was the suit Mr. Frank had on Saturday?—A. Brown. Q. What color suit did he wear on Sunday?—A. Blue. Q. What color on Monday?—A. Blue.

WITNESSES ABOUT ACCUSED OF ENTRAINING THE STATE

Has the State succeeded in thoroughly establishing the fact that Little Blue's death was effected on the second floor of the National Penitentiary in Forsyth street...

Twice the State succeeded in some aspects, are based up and backed up, however, by other much stronger circumstances, they will give the jury, in all probability, little concern in arriving at a verdict.

Thursday the Solicitor General claimed that he had been "entrained" by witnesses and that this with the lamentable fall of John Black the day before served to give rise in the minds of some spectators to a fatal suspicion...

No Help to Defense. There is something strikingly significant and actually sinister in this little word "entrained," however, when buried at a witness in the presence of a jury...

Will Hurt Frank's Case. Just as I thought, and still think, that the State made a mistake in not forcing him to pay the full price, moreover, when on Wednesday he was asked to explain the circumstances of the defense of unfair and grossly illegal methods of bolstering up the case...

Mr. Dorsey failed utterly to bolster up his charge of "related" evidence. He did not fall in anything like the same degree, to say the least of it, in attacking Holloway.

In short, my idea is, as it has been all along: "The public and presumably even more the jury, will resent anything that savors of methods employed either by the State or the defense."

So far, however, the State's witnesses have been introduced. The State's position is gaining ground gradually that the State likely is fighting a losing battle.

DORSEY UNAFAID AS HE FACES CHAMPIONS OF THE ATLANTA BAR

This shows the Solicitor warily noting the moves of an opponent.

Hugh M. Dorsey, Solicitor and prosecutor of Leo M. Frank.

Up Against a Hard Proposition Youthful Solicitor Is Fighting Valiantly to Win Case.

Georgia's law's most prominent ally Leo Frank. A reputation that he cannot be beaten must be sustained by Luther Roser and Reuben Arnold.

He is a man with probably as much as six as any of the hundreds who crowd Judge Rowe's courtroom, with the exception of Frank and his accusers.

High Dorsey is hereby introduced. He is known pretty well in Atlanta without introduction, but as chairman of political meetings instead of telling the audience that the President of the United States is about to seek or that the Secretary of State is endeavoring to earn an additional million to his yearly $1,000, Mr. Dorsey has been placed before the public without fear of violating precedent.

Sherlocks, Lupins and Lecoqs See Frank Trial

There are enough "ah-ha's" about these three aristocrats that mark a new detective tradition.

A stranger whirled from the Terminal Station to Justice Hogan's courtroom would be convinced before he had been in that temple of justice five minutes that all Atlanta earns its living following clew, and that if Sherlock Holmes was made a material being he could beat Jim Wood's record for March by 2,000 votes.

Every since the body of Mary Phagan was found, practically every man of voting age and a lot of those who are not, have been busy with theories as to the crime they have considered.

The disfranchisement bill of Representative Sibley of Muscogee, which was introduced in the House of Representatives on July 1, 1901, and which was passed by the House of Representatives on July 1, 1901, and which was passed by the House of Representatives on July 1, 1901.
