Chief Beavers Confers With Judge Roan in Reference to Taking Conley to Tower to Confront Frank but It Is Told That It Is a Question for Sheriff to Decide—No Effort in This Direction Likely Until Mr. Rosser Returns to City

"Write 'night-watcher.'" The city detective was said to have commanded James Conley, negro sweeper & the pencil factory, in jail Wednesday.

The result is said to have been "night-watcher."

So also the note found below the dead body of Mary Phagan stated that the detective regard this strongly corroborative of Conley's admission that he himself wrote the note found beside the dead girl.

He accused himself of the crime, but he made application to Judge L. H. Roan for a formal order on the sheriff to permit him to take Conley to the jail for the purpose of confronting him with the negro.

Chief Beavers, who had been in the city for some time, was advised by the letter that the judge had granted the order.

Attorney Rosser, Frank's counsel, is at present at Clayton, Rabun county, awaiting the trial of the Phagan murder.

The detective, however, found where he had bought two watches on the installment plan, and had filed out "checks" for them.
