FORT M'PHERSON SOLDIERS GETTING A SAMPLE OF WAR-TIME WORK

Fort M'Pherson soldiers are getting a sample of war-time work. They have been drilled in outpost and reconnaissance, individual cooking, construction of entrenchments, occupying defensive positions, attack and defense of positions, advance and rear guard, convoys of trains, etc.

Toward the latter part of the month the whole regiment of several hundred men will be given field practice, and later they will have some exercises at night.

People living in the neighborhood of the fort have been frequently startled by late at a fusillade of rifle shots, when the minutemen of the regulars have brought them in close proximity to their homes.

They have been drilled in outpost and reconnaissance, individual cooking, construction of entrenchments, occupying defensive positions, attack and defense of positions, advance and rear guard, convoys of trains, etc.

A Card To The Public

We beg to announce that we have disposed of all the contents which have agitated this company for the past several months.

The courts have listened attentively to every charge that has been brought against it, and have rendered judgment that it is properly managed,
and that every policy is backed by hundreds of thousands of dollars of assets above all liabilities.

This company did more business during June
than ever in its history, and since the abandonment
of its life insurance business has made good money
for its stockholders.

With these statements, we beg to assure our patrons and the public that we shall endeavor to merit a continuance of confidence by giving the best attention to every detail of the business, to the end that every policyholder may be fully satisfied with our service.

CITY ALDERMEN IN HOT, WORDY ARGUMENT

Mr. Harwell Tells J. R. Nutting to 'Leave Him Out of His Remarks Hereafter'

At a meeting of the City Board of Aldermen, held on Monday night, the subject of the city's financial condition was discussed. Mr. Harwell, who has been a vocal critic of the city's financial management, made a lengthy and somewhat inflammatory speech. He accused the city's financial officers of mismanagement and called for a complete overhaul of the city's financial system. His remarks were met with sharp rebuffs from other members of the board, particularly J. R. Nutting, who is the city's financial officer. Nutting responded to Harwell's accusations with a calm but firm rebuttal, stating that the city's financial condition was the result of a long and difficult process, and that he was doing his best to manage the city's affairs. The meeting ended with a vote to adjourn, but the tension between Harwell and Nutting remained high.
