SULZER'S ARBITRATION OFFER CALLED BARTER

Both Claimants Endeavor to Perform Duties of Office, and Contest Seems Endless, Mrs. Sulzer Hit

By Associated Press. ALBANY, Aug. 13.—(Special) Special session of the court today heard the case of William Sulzer, governor-elect of New York, and Charles F. Brannan, who claim the office. For the third consecutive day William Sulzer, the incumbent governor, and Charles F. Brannan, the challenger, were heard in the case. Sulzer's attorney, William Sulzer, Jr., called the case a "barter" and said that the incumbent governor was offering to resign if Brannan would accept the office. Brannan's attorney, Charles F. Brannan, Jr., said that his client would not accept the office unless Sulzer resigned. The court adjourned until Monday.

PANTOMIME RE-ENACTMENT AT FACTORY

Sollicitor Dorsey Attacks the Pinkertons, Charging That They Failed to Report Their "Flirt" to Police—Many Young Women Employed at the Factory Testify to Frank's Good Character—Court Adjourns Until Monday Morning

With Mattie Branch, a reporter for The Journal, on a witness stand where he had just described Conley's pantomime re-enactment of his alleged part in the disposal of the body of Mary Phagan, summoned by him as a newspaper man, the trial of Leo M. Frank was adjourned at 1:05 o'clock Saturday afternoon last Monday morning at a signal. Mr. Branch, summoned to testify, testified to the witness stand with Jim Conley at the lower, over the protest of Attorney Lunzer re-entrance, was requested to do so by the solicitor.

Just before court adjourned, Judge Ross addressed a few words to the jury, expressing regret that it was necessary to keep them away from their families another Sunday but stating that he sincerely hoped this would be the last Sunday that they would have to be kept together. Unexpected testimony for the state was drawn from Miss Jackson, daughter of Policeman A. W. Jackson, a former employee of the factory, who had been summoned as a defense witness. On cross-examination Solicitor Dorsey developed testimony to the effect that the girl in the factory was somewhat afraid of Frank, that on one occasion Frank had looked into the dressing room while Miss Emily Adley was partly dressed, and that he had been seen to look into the dressing room on several other occasions.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Rose Frank's testimony, many women employees of the pencil factory took the stand Saturday morning to testify to the character of Leo M. Frank, who had the reputation of the negro in the criminal division of the superior court. The jury was adjourned until Monday morning at a signal. The trial of Leo M. Schlitz in Brown Bottles does not have that disagreeable taste so often found in beer in light bottles. We reprint below an extract from an opinion rendered by another famous scientist:

"Bottles of strong glass should be selected. They should never be of colorless glass, inasmuch as through the influence of light the beer will not only take on a disagreeable odor and taste, but will also become turbid." (Lintner)

This is one of the authorities quoted by Dr. Robert Wahl, President of the Wahl-Henius Institute of Fermentology, to corroborate his own opinion.

Schlitz is made pure and the Brown Bottle keeps it pure from the brewery to your glass.
