

WILSON FLUSHED A BIG COVEY IN THE HUNT FOR A LOBBY

President Either Played in Big Luck or Was Very Astute In Divining Conditions, Is Washington's Opinion

LOBBY-REGULATING LAW MAY RESULT FROM PROBE

Washington Authorities Seem To Think That House Did Noble Work in Probe, While Senate Wrangled

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 23.—That Judge Wilson had big luck or was unusually astute in divining conditions in the general opinion here is reflected in the insertion of the lobby investigation at the end of the cabinet and the discussion with the committee on the part of the senate and house committees.

SOLICITOR HUGH M. DORSEY

High Lights of Dorsey's Speech

Here is a Brief Summary of the Solicitor's Argument, Which Has Already Outlasted Over Seven Hours

SOLICITOR Hugh M. Dorsey, closing the case of the state against Leo M. Frank, charged with the murder of Mary Phagan, addressed the weary jury for a couple of hours Friday afternoon, August 23, and will speak for two or three hours more on Monday morning.

His argument so far is admitted to be one of the notable spectacles in the history of the state.

Some Striking Excerpts from Four Remarkable Speeches

Attorney Arthur A. Hooper: THE defendant, Dr. Frank, was a man of high character. He was a man of high character.

thority for the statement that "any rule would expose society to the most depraved members" for "the most atrocious crimes are committed under circumstances which almost preclude positive proof."

Mr. Dorsey's manner of beginning his long argument was effective. With but a couple of hours available at the end of Friday's session, he knew that he could not hope to complete his argument on that day. He instead of entering into it in detail, he laid the broad foundation for it by explaining the law to the jury.

Mr. Dorsey referred to the Battle case of Virginia and the Nicholson case of Massachusetts.

As a result of the developments in the case on Friday it is understood that Congressman Harwood, of Georgia, who had intended to move the postponement of the trial, will not do so.
