BATTLE IS COMING OVER THE OFFICE OF WARDEN EVANS

Majority and Minority Reports Will Be Made on the Proposition to Establish Board to Have Supervision

MAY GIVE WOMEN PLACE ON SEVERAL CITY BOARDS

Councilman Dallas Urges Election of Police Chief, Tax Assessors, Fire Chief and Others by People.

Thomas Evans, for years the "guardian of Atlanta's poor," will retain the political status of city warden elected by the people, and will not be put under the supervision of a board or elected by the mayor and general council, if his friends can prevent the proposed charter amendment going through the Georgia general assembly.

When the proposed amendment providing for the creation of a "board of municipal charities," composed of five practical business men to spend the meager $13,000 annually appropriated by council to care for the needs of the poor, Alderman James W. Maddox and Councilman S. L. Dallas and Charles D. Alverson went to the defense of Warden Evans and announced that they will fight any attempt in council to take the office out of the hands of the people.

Should Appropriate More.

"Warden Evans has been elected every time he has gone before the people—the last time he was voted into office 35 to against 1," said Alderman Maddox. "If council wants to do the right thing by the warden's office it should appropriate at least $30,000 a year, and if Warden Evans cannot properly spend the money council should provide him with sufficient help."

Councilman Dallas declared that the proposed change in the charter eliminating the people from having a voice in the selection of a warden had the appearance of politics, and gave notice that he will fight the proposed change on the floor of council Monday afternoon.

Joe Logan, secretary of the Associated Charities, appeared before the committee and urged that the city code be changed, or at least that the general assembly be asked to provide for the amendment, placing a board to co-operate with the warden's department. Secretary Logan said that while he was certain that Warden Evans was a competent and efficient official, he believed a board would be a great help to the city in the matter of investigating cases which come to the attention of the warden.

Argue for the Change.

Alderman Albert Thomson and Councilman George Boynton argued strongly for the proposed change. Alderman Thomson took the position that the city's money would be more carefully and intelligently handled through a board composed of practical business men than by one man alone. He offers a copy of the ordinance adopted in Los Angeles, Cal., and explained that many of the features of the ordinance should be put into effect in Atlanta. Alderman Thomson explained that he was certain that the warden's office was efficiently administered by Warden Evans, but he took the position also that it is impossible to keep a record of all applicants and make an investigation of everyone seeking charity at the hands of the city.

"By creating a board the city will be in a position to muster the brains of the best men in the city," Councilman Boynton argued, "men whom the city could not employ otherwise for $5,000 a year."

The proposed amendment will be reported to council on Monday. The favorable report will be signed by Alderman Thomson and Kelly and Councilman Boynton, and the adverse report will be signed by Alderman Maddox and Councilmen Dallas and Alverson.

Amendments Favored.

Amendments which will be reported favorably are:

To amend the ordinance so as to make the smoke zone extend to one mile around the city in all directions.

To authorize council to proceed with the election of a board of trustees in the event the board fails to elect a chairman within sixty days after the date set for such election.

To vest the mayor and council with authority, upon petition of a majority of the owners of property on any street any one block or more, to make assessments for installation of electric wiring.

To authorize the appointment of women on the boards of the carnegie library, park and health by adding five additional members, one from the first and fifth wards, second and third, fourth and ninth, sixth and eighth, and seventh and ninth.

To authorize the election of chief of construction by the mayor and council.

To establish a new salary schedule.

To authorize the granting of salary increases in the same year or in the year preceding the election of the officers applying for such increases.

For Election By People.

Councilman Dallas offered a resolution asking the legislature for a charter amendment whereby the three tax assessors, the chief of police, the chief of the fire department, the superintendent of schools, and the general manager of parks, shall be elected by the people. The committee voted against the resolution, and Councilman Dallas declared that he will offer it as a substitute to the committee report in council Monday afternoon.

The three tax assessors are now elected by council, and the others are elected by the various boards under whom they serve. Some years ago such ministerial officers as the city clerk, electrician, building inspector, marshal, chief of construction, manager of the water works and others were put before the people.

Councilman Dallas maintains that if it is proper for the people to elect these officers it should also be right for the people to elect them all.

EXPECT BIG CROWD AT AD MEN'S GAME

Proceeds of Contest Next Wednesday Will Be Used to Advertise Atlanta at the Toronto Meeting.

The Ad Men's club is calling on the Atlanta public to turn out en masse to the "On to Toronto" ball game at Ponce de Leon park Wednesday afternoon, May 27, the proceeds of which will be placed into the fund now being raised to advertise Atlanta at the Ad Men's convention at Toronto.

The biggest crowd that has ever attended a ball game at Ponce de Leon is the object of the Ad Men for that day, and because of the fact that the movement is another to boost Atlanta it is expected that the aim of the Ad Men will be realized.

The game to be played is a regular game between Atlanta and Mobile and it is expected to be a good one, although it is to that boost spirit which is intended to be advertised in Toronto that the committee is trusting to fill the ball park on May 27.

Big Crowd Certain.

The ball game and preparations for the meeting in Toronto were enthusiastically discussed at the dinner given to Potentate Forrest Adair Thursday. It is assured that a tremendous delegation of Ad Men and other boosters will attend the Toronto convention, and each man who attends will pay his own expenses in order that more money may be applied to the advertising fund.

It was definitely decided that two carloads of Georgia peaches, wrapped in facts about Atlanta, will be carried to the convention and distributed to the delegates there from every city on the North American continent. The barbecue, also, will be held in genuine Georgia style. It has been planned to import the Georgia "atmosphere" to Toronto for the barbecue, and have an exact reproduction of a barbecue there.

To this end only Georgia meats will be served, and they will be cooked by genuine Georgia barbecue artists. And in addition to those features the importation of half a dozen genuine Georgia cornfield negroes with their banjos, and among them two or three first-rate buck and wing dancers, and maybe a little persimmon beer, or properly, 'simmon beer.

The scheme is a family affair for Atlanta and for the boosting of Atlanta, for which the Ad Men are taking the responsibility. No public subscription will be asked for, but the Atlanta public will give its support to the schemes which will be adopted to raise the money and at the same time each man will get his money's worth at first and then again at Toronto by the advertisement of Atlanta.

Game Will Be Special.

Julian Boehm, chairman of the committee from the Ad Men, which has the ball game in charge, is already confident that the game will be a success, and that in addition to a good ball game you will see the biggest crowd of Atlanta boosters at Ponce de Leon park that has ever gotten inside the gates.

Everyone knows that the boost spirit, the Atlanta spirit, has made Atlanta what it is, together with the natural advantages it possesses, and the Ad Men believe in keeping the thing going. And by means of the "On to Toronto" movement to make Atlanta's best bow to North America and assure it that Atlanta has just as much more of quality that it took to handle the Shriners' convention.

You'll be at the ball game, May 27.

Marshall Talks to Masons.

Richmond, Va., May 21.—Vice President Thomas R. Marshall was the guest of honor at a banquet here tonight given by the Scottish Rite Masons. He made a brief address on the principles of the fraternity. Mrs. Marshall, who accompanied the vice president, was the guest of honor at a theater party given by Mrs. J. Taylor Ellyson, wife of Virginia's lieutenant governor.

ATLANTA ELKS BID FOR NEXT MEETING

Exalted Ruler Milner Authorized to Name Committee to Sound Business Men of City on Project.

"Sure, we'll bring the Elks to Atlanta in 1916," declared Exalted Ruler H. H. Milner, of Atlanta lodge No. 78, B. P. O. E., after the lodge adjourned last night. "Everybody seems to want the big meeting, and if Atlanta merchants and business men feel the same way about it, why, there is only one thing to do—go out and get the grand lodge to accept Atlanta's invitation." The project to bring the 1916 meeting of the Elks to Atlanta was launched soldidly at the meeting of the local lodge, and there was not a dissenting voice raised in all the discussions.

Exalted Ruler Milner was authorized to appoint a committee composed of all past exalted rulers and fifteen members to make a canvass among the merchants and business men of Atlanta. This committee will be appointed within the next ten or fifteen days. After the committee has thoroughly sounded the business men, it will make a report, and then the lodge will get busy appointing committees to raise the funds for the entertainment of the visitors.

So enthusiastic are the members of Atlanta lodge over the prospect, many are already busy planning out a campaign. It was stated last night that $100,000 can be raised in a week, if necessary, to help entertain the guests.

The grand lodge will meet in Denver in 1914, and it is expected that more than 200,000 persons will be in that city at that time. The 1915 convention has been conceded to Seattle, and no effort will be made, it is understood, to take the convention elsewhere.

But Atlanta wants the 1916 convention, and will launch a campaign at the Denver meeting.

WOMAN GIVES HER BABY TO SECURE BOARD BILL

Chicago, May 21.—A year-old boy was given in court yesterday by his mother, Mrs. Pauline Hubet, as security for a $33 board-bill. The baby was turned over to Mrs. Rudolph Peterson, with whom Mrs. Hubet was lodged.

By order of the court the mother may call at the home as often as she may not take away the son until the bill is paid.

"I like this baby," said Mrs. Peterson, in answer to an inquiry of Judge Fry. "If she wants to keep the $33 and give the baby that suits me fine."

James M. George Surrenders to Police and Is Given Freedom on $1,000 Bond After Shooting Down Thos. H. English.

Thomas H. English, proprietor of a saloon at 430 Marietta street, was shot down and killed behind his own bar at nightfall yesterday by Deputy Marshal James M. George, of the municipal court, the tragedy being witnessed by three court officials and a number of saloon habitues.

The deputy marshal's shot was fired only after he had wrested one pistol from the fingers of the saloonist, and, according to witnesses, he had reached for another with a threat to kill. Only one bullet was fired. It plowed through the brain. English died without a word.

Many saloon habitues witnessed the tragedy. Some had sought hiding places the moments the pistols glinted from behind the bar. Others were stricken helpless at sight of the desperate fight that was waged before the single shot was fired. As the dead man fell, there was a general scattering for the entrance.

THREE DEPUTIES SEE FIGHT.

Three fellow-marshals, unable to aid George, also saw the shooting. They stood near the doorway. Before they could leap behind the bar the fight was on in a twinkling, and that shot had been fired before possible interference.

Accompanied by Chief Marshal W. T. Buchanan and Deputies L. L. Johnson and David F. Morgan, George had set out from the municipal court to levy upon a cash register in English's bar on a fi. fa. for $75 on which judgment had been rendered against the saloonkeeper some ten days ago.

English was informed that the fi. fa. had been issued, and that the marshals had come to serve it, demanding the cash register. They were told that they could not get the machine. George, who was nearest the bar, stepped behind it and announced that he had taken charge of the register.

Furious at this action, the saloonist grappled with the officer. He reached for a pistol which lay on a nearby table, it is said, grasping it by the butt. Catching sight of the gun George jerked it from the bartender. English then wrested himself free from the marshal, and, it is stated, jumped for

CLAD IN BATHROBE WOMAN SAVES LIFE OF HER SICK SISTER

Men, Women and Children Are Overcome in a Blaze Which Destroys Residence on Forrest Avenue.

Clad only in a bathrobe which she had flung over her shoulders upon stepping from the bathroom when flames spread through her residence at 152 Forrest avenue late yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Ona Brantley was overcome by smoke and was borne upon dragging to the brink of safety the unconscious form of her sister, Mrs. J. B. Sullivan.

Five others were also overcome, three children among them. Ed Williams, a youth, and Emmett Brantley, the young brother of Mrs. Brantley and Mrs. Sullivan, fainted in assisting Mrs. Brantley to carry Mrs. Sullivan from the burning building.

The children, Boyd Sullivan, aged 5, and his brother and sister, J. L., aged 3, and Sara, aged 2, would not leave their mother's side, and were overcome at the same time with Mrs. Brantley and the two men rescuers. All were brought to safety by firemen and pedestrians.

Origin of Flames.

The Brantley home, a two-story frame building, was completely destroyed. The fire is believed to have originated from a plundered gas meter. An investigation is being made by detectives into the theory that a robber, after severing the pipes, struck a match which exploded the gas.

Mrs. Sullivan was removed to the near-by home of Mrs. Commerford, on Forrest avenue. She was reported in a critical condition last night, and it is doubted that she will survive. She was lying in bed at the point of death at time of the fire on account of a serious operation which had been performed only the day before.

Her three children were at the bedside. Mrs. Brantley, who had been nursing the sick woman, had stepped into the bathroom, and was preparing to take a bath. Suddenly one of the children discovered thick volumes of smoke coming up the staircase. She screamed an alarm. It attracted Mrs. Brantley, who, clutching a bathrobe, dashed from the bathroom.

The alarm was also heard by Emmett Brantley, who ran into the house and upstairs. Seeing the smoke and hearing the crackle of flames, which ate their way rapidly through the frame structure, Mrs. Brantley ran to a front window, where she cried for help. Young Williams, walking along Forrest avenue, heard her call and ran into the burning home.

Flames Envelop Building.

The flames had spread from the rear room on the first floor, where the broken gas meter was found, to the second story and the roof, where they had enveloped the building. Mrs. Brantley and the two men rescuers had the sick woman into their arms from the bed. By the time they reached the stairway she lapsed into unconsciousness.

The children were screaming hysterically, but, unheeding the command from Mrs. Brantley to leave the building, remained by their mother's side. Struggling beneath the heavy weight of the inert mother, the three rescuers carried her through the blinding smoke and heat to the foot of the stairway, where they collapsed. The children, seeking the front door, which was obscured by the blanket of smoke, fainted.

Upon the arrival of the fire apparatus, firemen and pedestrians ran into the burning structure, carrying the six persons to the lawn. Mrs. Sullivan soon regained consciousness in the Commerford home.

The loss of the Brantley home is estimated at $2,000. It is partially insured. The litter apartments and the home of Dr. M. E. Cryer, north of which adjoins the burned residence, were also damaged, but only slightly.

Rebels Order Agent To Attend Meetings Of the Peace Makers

ONE MORE BATTLE EXPECTED TO END MEXIC REVOLUTION

Flight of 12,000 Huerta Soldiers From Saltillo Leads Rebel Leaders to Believe War Is Nearly Over.

LAST STAND OF HUERTA PROBABLE AT QUERETARO

Federals Who Fled From Saltillo Are Retreating Towards San Luis Potosi. Saltillo Evacuated Without Fight.

Juarez, Mexico, May 21.—One "last ditch" battle will conclude the present revolutionary movement in Mexico if the news that Saltillo has been evacuated by the federal garrison is true, constitutionalist authorities here say. Official news of the evacuation came to the local junta today in a message from General Philipe Angeles, constitutionalist minister of war.

Queretaro, already twice famous as the spot where periods of unrest have been concluded in Mexico, is the place local officials declare will mark the end of the Huerta regime. Those who pick Queretaro as the next clashing point instead of San Luis Potosi argue that San Luis is not as well adapted for a strenuous defense as Saltillo, and that the federals also may evacuate that point. General Carrera Torres, it is said, already holds a position within the outskirts of San Luis, and it is possible he may occupy the city before the fleeing federals from Saltillo can straggle in.

No word has been received here regarding the entry of constitutionalist troops into Saltillo, and it is not believed an immediate movement to bring the main body of Villa's army to that point will be made. The railroad to Saltillo from Paredon still is in an unsettled condition, and the need of haste is not regarded as pressing.

The next move of Villa's army, it is said, undoubtedly will be toward San Luis Potosi, but that move will not be a hurried one. General Torres is believed to have the situation well in hand, and constitutionalist troops would have to march across 250 miles of desert to reach the town. The constitutionalist troops, according to present reports, will move against San Luis by a round-about railroad route. They will be transported from Saltillo to Monterey, thence to Tampico and from the gulf port to San Luis over the Mexico National railroad.

Preparing for Final Struggle.

Preparations for the final struggle at Queretaro began today when Colonel Feres Romero was ordered to proceed with a strong force from Tuxpan, on the gulf coast, to the state of Queretaro.

General Candido Aguilar, in command at Tuxpan, has been ordered to take the larger portion of his 5,000 troops to the vicinity of Vera Cruz to prevent the troops of General Garcia from San Rubion Navarette from reaching the battlefield at Queretaro or returning to the capital.

The constitutionalists have a tremendous force to hurl against Queretaro. With Saltillo in his hands, General Francisco Villa, with fully 25,000 men, may move southward and, reinforced from Tampico, General Pablo Gonzales, with 7,000 veterans, is preparing to move toward San Luis Potosi. General Francisco Murgia, with a force of 1,000, is moving southward to join his command to that of General Villa.

Aguilar and Colonel Romero are moving in from the eastward with Tuxpan as a base, while the troops under General Obregon have cleared the way for an advance.

To the south of Mexico City, Emiliano Zapata is threatening the capital.

As soon as the news of the evacuation of Saltillo was received here constitutionalist officials telegraphed General Francisco Villa asking news of John R. Silliman, United States consul at Saltillo, who was imprisoned by the federals, but whose release repeatedly has been demanded from Mexico City. No answer had been received up to a late hour tonight.

HUERTA'S TROOPS FLOCK IN SALTILLO.

Juarez, Mexico, May 21.—A telegram was received today from General Felipe Angeles by H. Perez Abreu, head of the constitutionalist information bureau here, stating that Saltillo was evacuated last night by the federals.

The garrison of Saltillo is said to number 12,000 men under General Joaquin Maas. The town was believed to contain large stores of ammunition and supplies and if the report of the evacuation is true, it is probable a large quantity of munitions of war will fall into the constitutionalists' hands.

The only road of retreat open to the federals is said to be south to San Luis Potosi. The 250 miles separating the two towns is an arid desert and it is believed here, that but a small part of the federal garrison will be able to win their way through.

A strong rebel force under command of General Carrera Torres is besieging San Luis Potosi and between the General Carranza Has Reconsidered and Will Be Represented at the Conference Being Held at Niagara Falls.

MEDIATION MACHINERY IS WORKING SMOOTHLY

Members of the Conference Have Exchanged Views and Believe That Entire Mexican Situation Can Be Composed—It Is Believed Huerta's Delegates Have Authority to Present His Resignation.

Washington, May 21.—The constitutionalists are preparing to send a representative to Niagara Falls to confer with the South American mediators, who are endeavoring to settle the Mexican problem. This will be done with the distinct understanding that the representative is to give information as to General Carranza's purposes, without committing the constitutionalists to any plan for the pacification of Mexico that the mediators may determine upon.

The question of taking this step has been the subject of several informal conferences between constitutionalist representatives and representatives of the Washington administration recently, and it is understood that General Carranza has given his consent.

INVITATION TO CARRANZA.

It was reported tonight on apparently reliable authority that another invitation may be sent to Carranza by the mediators to take formal part in the mediation proceedings. For the present, at least, however, it is declared the constitutionalist representative merely would give the mediators information without committing the leaders to any agreement.

Government officials here have argued that the presence of a representative of one of the factions would greatly assist in bringing about a solution of the Mexican question. Secretary Bryan, John Lind and Charles A. Douglas, attorney for the constitutionalists, late today held a conference and tonight Governor Lind met Senor Urquidi, the constitutionalist confidential agent here. Later Senor Zuburan, a member of the Carranza cabinet, now in Washington; Senor Urquidi and Mr. Douglas conferred.

Jose Vasconcelos, now at Montreal on a financial mission for General Carranza, is understood to be the man chosen to go to Niagara Falls. Men in close touch with the constitutionalists said tonight that he would arrive there within the next few days.

DEVELOPMENTS PLEASE WILSON.

That communications are passing between the delegates at Niagara Falls and Washington, and that the machinery of the Mexican mediation conference is working smoothly, was the full extent of information on the progress of mediation given out today in Washington official circles. Secretary Bryan saw the president during the day, and a message of instruction later was sent to Justice Lamar and Mr. Lehmann. Nothing concerning its purport was disclosed here.

Although no statement concerning the president's views of the situation was authorized it was indicated that he is well pleased with developments. Mediation, closely in touch with the situation here made it plain today that the president is determined that the entire Mexican question must be solved.

ed and that no halfway measures or compromises will be acceptable.

Despite conflicting reports regarding the resignation of General Huerta, assurance in official circles persisted that Huerta had placed himself unreservedly in the hands of his delegates at Niagara Falls, and that if necessary as a last resort, they could announce his retirement, though on conditions.

MEDIATORS DISCUSS ACTION OF CARRANZA IN SENDING AGENT

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 21.—Immediately after the receipt of press dispatches from Washington telling of the intention of the constitutionalists to send a representative here, the three mediators went into informal conference to discuss the new development.

The Huerta delegates, who also had been unofficially informed of the constitutionalist intention to send a representative here, later joined the mediators in conference. They were in session long after midnight.

The mediators declined to say what would be their attitude. It is not generally believed here that the constitutionalist representative will be admitted at the negotiations at this stage in the proceedings.

The mediators do not regard the absence of delegates representing General Carranza as a serious detriment to their efforts. At present the chief need is led to the landing at Vera Cruz of American forces. Notwithstanding the military successes of the constitutionalists, the mediators plan to bring about an agreement between the United States and the Huerta government, expecting to obtain acquiescence by the constitutionalists at a later date and through separate negotiations.

Involved in a two-party agreement would be a definite understanding of the kind of provisional government to be established in Mexico City as a successor to the present regime and a guarantee that agrarian and other internal reforms would be put into operation.

Present Plans of Mediators.

While keeping in mind the avowed principles of the constitutionalist movement, the mediators will suggest a plan they hope will be accepted here by two sides to the Mexican controversy, the United States and the Huerta government. Later the constitutionalists will be approached. At present the mediators are endeavoring to adjust differences between the American government and General Huerta which threatened war, and at the same time to get an agreement on a plan for restoring peace in Mexico.

These in brief are the mediators' aims, which, though hedged about by many difficulties, Senhor Da Gama, of Brazil, was hopefully confident tonight would be realized.

The mediators learned from the American delegates in an hour's conference late today that the Washington government had approved the course of procedure outlined last night by Justice Lamar and Frederick W. Lehmann, covering, it is understood, the consideration first of all of the series of incidents growing out of the arrest at Tampico of American bluejackets.

While it realized that the United States will demand reparation for the Tampico and subsequent incidents, it is believed here that the substitution for Huerta of a new government capable of observing international obligations would be acceptable to the Washington government.

The selection of the bluejacket incident at Tampico as the starting point for the discussion is in line with the emphasis placed by the mediators on the purposes of the conference.

First Duty of Mediators.

Recognizing the importance of the constitutionalists in any plan looking to the ultimate pacification of Mexico, the mediators believe their first duty is to reconcile the differences between the United States and Mexico which might have plunged the two countries into a disastrous war. Even if the mediators are unsuccessful in their later efforts to get the constitutionalists to accept their plans for a new provisional government in Mexico they believe their labors will not have been in vain in that they will have prevented a resumption of hostilities with the United States.

ATLANTA'S CITIZENS ENTERTAIN CONFEDERATE VETERANS

Mayor Woodward Delivers Address of Welcome at Auditorium.

Atlanta's citizens entertained the Confederate veterans in the auditorium last night with a program of music and addresses. Mayor Woodward delivered the address of welcome, and Governor Slaton responded. Music was furnished by the Fifth Regiment band.

Mayor Woodward's address was as follows:

"Veterans of the Confederate States of America, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"It is a pleasure to me to welcome you to Atlanta, and to the hospitality of her people. Atlanta is glad to see you, and to have you with us. Your coming is a benediction to us all. Your presence is a blessing to the city. Your visit is a joy to the people.

"Atlanta is proud of you. She is proud of your record. She is proud of your glorious deeds. She is proud of your heroic sacrifices. She is proud of your unselfish devotion to the cause you espoused. She is proud of your unfaltering courage. She is proud of your unflinching fidelity. She is proud of your unconquerable spirit. She is proud of your unsullied honor. She is proud of your unstained name. She is proud of your unbroken faith. She is proud of your unshaken confidence. She is proud of your unwavering loyalty. She is proud of your unquenchable love. She is proud of your undying devotion. She is proud of your unsurpassed valor. She is proud of your unparalleled achievements. She is proud of your unrivaled glory. She is proud of your unmatched fame. She is proud of your unequaled renown. She is proud of your unexcelled reputation. She is proud of your unapproached greatness. She is proud of your unapproachable grandeur. She is proud of your unsurpassable magnificence. She is proud of your unsurpassable splendor. She is proud of your unsurpassable majesty. She is proud of your unsurpassable sublimity. She is proud of your unsurpassable nobility. She is proud of your unsurpassable heroism. She is proud of your unsurpassable manhood. She is proud of your unsurpassable womanhood. She is proud of your unsurpassable childhood. She is proud of your unsurpassable infancy. She is proud of your unsurpassable everything.

"Atlanta is proud of you, and she is glad to welcome you to her hospitality, to her homes, to her firesides, to her hearts, to her arms, to her embrace, to her bosom, to her soul, to her life, to her love, to her everything.

"Atlanta is glad to welcome you to her streets, to her parks, to her public buildings, to her places of amusement, to her churches, to her schools, to her colleges, to her universities, to her everything.

"Atlanta is glad to welcome you to her sunshine, to her flowers, to her birds, to her trees, to her shade, to her fountains, to her springs, to her everything.

"SAVE THE FLAG" SPEAKER DIES

Rev. Sam Small, Famous Orator, Succumbs to Heart Disease.

Rev. Sam Small, famous orator and evangelist, died at his home in Atlanta at 10:30 o'clock this morning of heart disease. He had been ill for several days.

Mr. Small was born in Georgia in 1851, and was a Confederate soldier. He was converted in 1874, and began preaching in 1875. He was a prohibitionist and a Democrat, and was known as the "Save the Flag" speaker.

He is survived by his wife and two children, Mrs. Frank Hawkins and Mrs. Ben Hill Griffin, Jr., of Atlanta.

towns a large force under General Luis Gutierres, called the "Tiger of Conception Del Oro," is waiting to cut off the federal retreat.

El Paso, Texas, May 21.—A message to the rebel junta here from General Angeles confirmed officially the evacuation of Saltillo by the federal forces. No mention was made of the entry of constitutionalist troops into the city.

PANIC WAS TAKEN AFTER BLOODY FIGHT.

On Board U. S. S. California, Mazatlan, Mexico, May 20.—(Via wireless to San Diego, Cal., May 21.)—An army of 8,000 constitutionalists having occupied Tepic, with a loss of 400 killed and an unknown number of casualties among the federals, has begun its advance on Guadalajara. In advance of the moving troops, a flying squadron of cavalry is working destruction to the Huerta lines of communication, its main object being the crippling of the railroad from Manzanillo to Guadalajara.

The capture of Tepic was accomplished after a bloody struggle. Although the losses of the federals are uncertain, it is known 200 were taken prisoners.

another pistol that lay behind the counter.

Threatening to kill, his arm shot out for the gun. George whipped out his own revolver. Before English could get his pistol George had fired. The saloonist toppled and fell to the floor. Death was instantaneous.

FREED ON BOND.

Policemen Dodd and Shumate were sent from police headquarters. Policemen Hood and Daley took to headquarters with George, who was accompanied by Buchanan, Morgan and Johnson. He surrendered to Night Chief E. J. Jett.

Chief Jett sent him to the jail, where bond was assessed at $1,000 on a charge of manslaughter. The bond was signed by Carlos Mason, Harry Poole and W. T. Buchanan. The inquiessed matter was fixed a short time following the shooting.

A number of witnesses were obtained by the police.

English was about 41 years of age. He is survived by one son. He had been a resident of Atlanta for most of his life. At one time he was a member of the fire department. The funeral arrangements will be made later. The body is now at Poole's undertaking chapel.

George is about 35 years old. He has been attached to the municipal court since its organization, and has a good reputation.

PRESIDENT MARTIN CHOSEN MODERATOR

Dixie Presbyterians Honor the Head of Davidson College. Wilson Indorsed.

Kansas City, Mo., May 21.—The General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterians convened here today and William J. Martin, president of Davidson college, Davidson, N. C., was elected moderator to succeed Rev. J. S. Lyons, of Louisville, Ky. Professor Martin, who is a layman, was chosen on the second ballot, and his election then was made unanimous.

In his sermon, Retiring Moderator Lyons declared that "delegations of the federal people will keep on coming to the churches to disturb worship, until after a while they will be arrested by the message they hear instead of by the police."

Mr. Lyons said that the church can well afford to direct energy into a mighty campaign for an effective evangelistic forward movement.

The church, he declared, has long proclaimed that it has the remedy for all the ills of life and the world is turning to the church "with a new willingness to know what the remedy is."

This report of the foreign missions executive committee, presented to the assembly, upheld the policy of the national administration at Washington in the Mexican situation and made an appeal that intervention in Mexico take the form of Christian instruction rather than the force of arms. The committee asked an appropriation of $670,615 to carry on another year's work on the present basis.

Rev. Egbert W. Smith, executive committee on publication and Sunday school work, announced that the publishing house of the church is in a flourishing condition.

ALEXANDER CHOSEN FOR MODERATOR.

Chicago, May 21.—Rev. Maitland Alexander, of the First Presbyterian church of Pittsburg, was chosen moderator of the 126th general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States by the assembly today. His election without opposition came as a surprise and was hailed by the conservative element as a victory, although the progressive faction insisted that Dr. Alexander was entirely satisfactory to its side.

Dr. Alexander's name was put in nomination by Rev. S. J. Niccolls, of St. Louis, the oldest living ex-moderator, who presided over the assembly. As the conclusion of his speech, Rev. Aquilla Webb, of Louisville, who has the backing of southern synods, withdrew from the race, moving that nominations be closed. This move united the votes of the two strongest candidates of the conservatives and the name of Rev. George R. Stewart, president of Auburn, N. Y., Theological seminary, and Rev. Joseph R. Calhoun, of Knoxville, Tenn., candidates of the progressives, were not presented.

BROWN NAMED BY CUMBERLAND.

Wagoner, Okla., May 21.—Rev. P. A. Brown, of Marlow, Oklahoma, was elected moderator and the eighty-fourth general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian church formally organized here today. Tonight addresses welcoming the delegates to Wagoner were delivered.

Mr. Brown, who succeeded Rev. J. H. Milholland, of Charleston, Ill., as moderator, will announce the committees tomorrow. The most important to be appointed include those on missions, education, theological seminary, ministerial relief, Sunday schools, young people's work and publications.

The woman's board of foreign missions convened today with 150 delegates representing thirteen states in attendance.

It is understood that a number of reforms are to be advanced on the floor of the assembly and vigorous debate is anticipated with the presentation of committee reports early next week.

300,000 EXTRA VOTES OFFERED IN CONTEST

to get one of these extra certificates. Subscribers are not limited to one that they may have; gather as many as you possibly can. You can never have too many votes, but it is very easy not to have enough.

It is not necessary for you to hold subscriptions until you have the amount of a club on hand. Send in the subscriptions as rapidly as you get them, and at the end of the offer all new collections made by you are totaled and each time $24 in new yearly subscriptions is shown for you a certificate for three hundred thousand extra votes will be issued to you.

What extra votes mean is that three hundred thousand will be issued in addition to the votes issued on subscriptions according to the printed schedule.

Not Too Late to Enter.

Any wide-awake, energetic person who lives in this section and contiguous territory has the chance of a lifetime to profit largely without the expenditure of a dollar of his or her part.

In the days when history was young in this country, society originated the saying: "The latch string is always out for you."

The contest department has been established solely for the convenience of those who are trying for a share of the automobiles and other awards that are to be distributed in the latter part of June. Its gathering is always out to those who evidence interest in the contest, either personally or through the solicitation of some friend.

More than $25,000 have been expended for free gifts for those who deserve them through their efforts in gathering votes for the next few weeks.

Gifts Offered.

A premium is placed upon energy during this contest. The gifts are offered free, and the time spent in the search of votes will return a very considerable value. Thirteen automobiles, each a handsome, standard model, heads the list of the awards. If a high-class car appeals to you as being a desirable possession, then enter the contest today and obtain one. It is here for you if you will put forth the proper effort. The cars are to be given away, and you might as well be among the fortunate ones at the close of the contest.

Aside from the thirteen motor cars, nine high-grade Ludden & Bates self-player pianos are to be given away, as well as cash prizes to those who fail to win one of the listed prizes. If your name did not appear in the published list yesterday, send it in at once and start a profitable campaign. No trouble, no cost. Start now. A line to the contest department of The Constitution and all information will reach you by first mail, or a representative will call upon you in person. If you have not already registered your name as a contestant, do not hesitate longer, for now is the time to start your campaign.

ROOT SHEDS LIGHT ON CANAL QUARREL

Says Conditions of Treaty Are "Imbedded in Our Title to Canal"—No Favored Nation Clause in Treaty.

Washington, May 21.—Senator Root, republican member of the foreign relations committee, today held the senate's attention throughout a five hours' speech in support of the administration bill to repeal the tolls exemption clause of the Panama canal law. As the New York senator sat down, Senator Kern, democratic floor leader, led the applause from the senate and spectators in the galleries joined in.

The burden of the speech was to prove that the Hay-Pauncefote treaty provided that treatment accorded by the United States to its own citizens in the use of the Panama canal must be the same as that accorded citizens of other nations.

Senator Root declared the United States had always insisted on this broad principle of equality and stated that the understanding of Henry White, Joseph Choate, John Hay and Theodore Roosevelt, who negotiated the treaty, was that the equality mentioned in the convention was the broad equality which had marked American diplomacy.

Taking up the specific question of exemption of American coastwise vessels, the senator said the law of 1912 granting this exemption violated the equality guaranteed by the treaty. This was true, he argued, because no real reservation of the right existed which could pass through this canal, 1,000 miles away, and consequently what the law did was to exempt from tolls American coastwise trade without exempting the like overseas trade of other countries.

Discredited and Dishonored.

The senator declared he was voting for repeal now because in the judgment of senators best able to judge, the senate would not vote to arbitrate the dispute.

"Right or wrong," he said, "if we decide this in our favor and refuse to arbitrate, we are discredited and dishonored. We have repudiated our own principles. Now let any senator who votes against repeal take the responsibility of leading his country into that position. If ever constitutional right was looking forward to lower freight rates I would not so lead my country. But if in spite of all the national hatred taught in my youth, I would not do it."

Senator Root added that the United States should not wait for all the nations of the world to protest against the exemption, because the United States must by the keeper of its own conscience and act on its own judgment without waiting for protests.

SAW 18 COMRADES SLAIN BY MEXICANS

Former Savannahan Hardly Hoped to Escape Being Executed Before He Was Ransomed by British Co.

Savannah, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—Having been ransomed by the British interests along with a number of other employees of the La Fe Mining company at Guadelupe, Mexico, R. Deems Shrivalle, its auditor, and a former Savannah boy, spent yesterday in Savannah before going to Chipley, Fla., to join his wife, who is just recuperating from the shock sustained while in a Vera Cruz hotel during the bombardment of that port by the United States warships.

Mr. Shrivalle's experience and his recital of conditions existing in the strife-ridden country read almost like fiction.

Mr. Shrivalle told of having been held prisoner for several weeks along with 170 other Americans, who were employed there, of having been taken out each morning fearing execution, and of witnessing the execution of eighteen of his comrades before being released. His suffering was terrible, he said, and he did not know but that he would be the next to stand before the firing squad.

Effingham Academy.

Springfield, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Effingham academy yesterday Professor W. L. Sligh was elected principal of the school for next year. Professor Sligh is now teaching at Sasser, Ga., and his acceptance of the place here was conditioned upon Mrs. Sligh being chosen one of the members of the faculty.

Joe Hill Hall Replies To Card by W. J. Harris

Declares He Sticks to Principles, and Advises Harris to Get Another Issue for His Campaign.

In reply to a card by W. J. Harris, published in The Constitution of Thursday, Joe Hill Hall has sent the following communication:

"Editor of The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.—Dear Sir: My friend W. J. publishes in your issue of today what he calls a reply to an interview given out by me to The Macon Telegraph recently in reference to the candidacy of my friend, Nat E. Harris, for governor.

"This interview was not voluntary upon my part, but was given in response to a reporter of The Macon Telegraph, who called on me and requested it for that paper. The principal purpose of the interview was to obtain my opinion as to whether or not it would be legal for the state to lease the Western and Atlantic railroad to the Southern railroad. I gave him the opinion as requested, that a lease from the state of the Western and Atlantic railroad was prohibited by the constitution of the state, as also by an act of the federal congress, which is known as the Sherman law. I took occasion to point out to the interviewer that the state would be in no danger of a lease of its road to the Seaboard Air Line would be because as I stated and now state, that should the Seaboard Air Line be willing to pay the price asked by the state for the lease of the Western and Atlantic railroad, it would be of a certain advantage to the state to lease the road for the lease of the Western and Atlantic railroad to the Seaboard Air Line railroad, and I intended to convey the impression because the only bidder for the Seaboard Air Line railroad was a candidate for governor, or if he should become governor that I did not think that this should prevent the Seaboard Air Line railroad from becoming a bidder for the lease of the Western and Atlantic railroad if it so wished.

Harris Charge Denied.

"I do not see anything in this statement that lays me open to the charge on the part of my friend W. J. Harris of having changed or abandoned any principles for which I have stood in the past. He seems to think that because I am supporting a warm personal friend of more than forty years, and with whom I have associated during the whole of that time on terms of the closest intimacy, for governor, because this friend happens to be a local representative of a railroad company, that I have abandoned what he pleases to term 'the cause of the people against the railroad.'

"I do not recognize that there is at this time any issue between the people of Georgia or the state of Georgia and the railroad companies. I desire to correct the impression that he would seem to make, that I was the cause opposing the railroad control of politics and the governments of the state. In saying that I have abandoned that fight he does me a gross injustice. After the fight to break the control of the railroads in the state had been carried to a successful issue by myself and those men who stood with me in the contest it was taken up by other men who made it a stepping stone for office and place. I did not even abandon it then, but have continued to fight for the same principles that those associated with me fought for before the issue was taken from us and appropriated by other men for their own selfish ends.

Sticks to Principles.

"If I should again take any part in the public affairs, I will be found where I have always been, I hope, fighting what is called the battle of the people, not only against corporations, who, when they seek to control the politics of the state, will always find me in opposition to them, but any other class that are, in my opinion, now a more dangerous menace to the happiness and prosperity of the people of Georgia than the corporations ever were. That is, those people who, through the legislature, by its powers of taxation, are seeking to burden the people with a load of taxation that they are unable to carry for the benefit of certain classes, certain institutions and certain individuals. My fight will be to reduce the burden of the great masses of the people that are attempted to be laid upon them by their state, county and municipal governments. I certainly appreciate the generosity of Mr. Harris in not blaming me for supporting my friend Nat Harris, who, my friend Bill Harris says, no doubt voted for me two years ago when I was a candidate for governor. This statement is true, and another statement is equally true, that my friend Bill Harris did not vote for me, and he was careful to see that I did not get many votes in his county, as the returns show that I only received ten votes in the county of Pulaski. I merely mention this for the benefit of my friend Bill Harris and some other friends whom I have in Georgia.

"As to Mr. Randolph Anderson, I am not for him for governor and never have been. Therefore, I do not think it a good idea to elect Mr. Anderson governor in order to lease the Western and Atlantic railroad to the Seaboard Air Line railroad.

Doesn't Understand Position.

"I do not understand my friend Harris' position as to the connection between the Louisville and Nashville railroad and the Southern railway, because they happened to be jointly interested in a road located mainly, I think, in Illinois and Indiana. If the Southern railway owns any interest in the stock of the Louisville and Nashville railroad or the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad, then, in my opinion, neither of these roads can lease the state's road. I hope this is not true, because it would be a misfortune to the state if the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad could not become a bidder for the lease of the state's road.

"The governor of the state should not have anything to do with making the lease of the state's road except to carry out the terms of the lease as prescribed by the legislature, and I have no idea that the legislature that is called upon to lease the road will allow the governor to have any connection with it except to carry out the terms of the lease as provided by the legislature. If I believed, or if I had any suspicion that the Southern railway or any other corporation in Georgia had any connection with Nat Harris' candidacy for governor or had suggested it, or was encouraging it in any way or had any interest in electing him governor, I should oppose this railroad and Nat Harris as strongly and earnestly as I fought it to break its control of politics in this state. I cannot understand why he is disqualified to receive the vote of the people of Georgia for governor simply because he represents the Southern railway.

"I make one suggestion to my friend, Bill Harris. Find some other issue to run on than the old worn-out issue of the Western and Atlantic railroad. It has been a football for politicians in the state ever since it was constructed. I protest that this property is too valuable to the people of this state to be made an issue in politics by every aspirant for political favor. The Western and Atlantic railroad is in no danger, no matter who is elected governor.

"The lease of the Western and Atlantic railroad does not expire until December, 1919, as I recall. Another governor and legislature will be elected in 1916, and this legislature will convene in 1917, two and a half years before the lease expires. Therefore, I cannot possibly see what the governor and legislature to be elected this year will have to do with the leasing of this road. It would seem that my friend Harris is therefore rather premature in raising the alarm.

"JOSEPH H. HALL.

"Macon, Ga., May 21, 1914."

G. A. GRIMSLEY HEADS LIFE INSURANCE MEN

Thirty-One Representatives From 14 Companies Present at the Conference.

The conference of southern life insurance companies opened Thursday morning at the Piedmont hotel with thirty-one representatives from fourteen companies present. Eight southeastern states were represented.

The following officers were elected: George A. Grimsley, of Greensboro, N. C., chairman; Governor William D. Jelks, of Birmingham, vice chairman; R. J. Mebane, of Greensboro, secretary. The executive committee was made up of the chairman, the vice chairman and Charles Taylor, Jr., of Richmond, Va.; Dr. E. J. Stratling, of Atlanta, and Mr. Coles, of Jackson, Miss.

Subjects affecting southern life insurance companies were discussed. A morning and afternoon session will be held today, and the conference will then adjourn. Robert L. Moore, of Atlanta, will speak this morning upon "Opportunities for and Advantages to Be Derived From Agency Co-Operation."

D. Strudwick, of Richmond, Va., will address the conference this afternoon upon "The Policy Contract."

CHILD WIFE STICKS TO MAN CONVICTED AS WHITE SLAVER

Savannah, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—Raymond H. Smoak, a young Savannah man, was convicted in the United States court today of violating the Mann white slave act by bringing Estelle McCluney, a 14-year-old Jacksonville girl, to Savannah for immoral purposes. He will be sentenced tomorrow.

The McCluney girl testified that she had left home because she was ill-treated and that she expected to marry Smoak. She did not know, she testified, that he was already married.

From Savannah, Smoak, the girl and another young man, named Hudson, went to Charleston. The district attorney presented to the jury copies of hotel registers in Jacksonville, Savannah and Charlestop showing that Smoak and the girl had registered as man and wife. Smoak is 20 years old and had a good position. His child wife has stood by him.

EARLY AND GOOD CROP OF COTTON IN TIFT CO.

Tifton, Ga., May 20.—(Special.)—The acreage in cotton through this section is about five per cent greater than last year. This is due to more land being in cultivation and not to a larger proportion of cotton as compared to other crops. The condition of the crop is about 10 per cent above normal and twenty-five per cent better than at the same period last year. The crop is about ten days earlier than last year and planting is practically over. At least ninety per cent of the crop is up. Stand is fairly good and the plant healthy with seasons very favorable except for the past week, when the cool, dry winds and cool nights have considerably retarded growth. The crops are well fertilized, even better than last year.

FIND STILL IN HOME; WOMAN IS ARRESTED

Federal Commissioner Colquitt Carter yesterday held Mrs. Lizzie Mercer, a resident of Campbell county, to the next session of the United States grand jury under $500. The arrest of Mrs. Mercer was accomplished by United States Deputy Marshal Lee Whatley and Deputy Revenue Collector Hill, Wednesday evening. The federal officers were advised some time ago that an illicit still was being operated at Mrs. Mercer's home.

WOMAN TRAPS MAD DOG WHICH INVADED HOME

Policeman Kills Frenzied Animal After Desperate Fight in Bathroom.

The quick action and pluck of Mrs. William A. Florence probably saved her own life and that of Mr. Florence late yesterday afternoon, when a rabid bulldog invaded their home at 278 Boulevard.

The animal, which had wandered into the residence, snapped at Mrs. Florence and other members of the family, driving them from the building. As he rushed madly through the house, Mrs. Florence drove him into a bathroom, the door of which she locked.

Police headquarters was notified. Motorcycle Policeman J. W. Barfield answered the call. He climbed into the room through a window, a desperate fight ensuing between him and the mad animal.

As the dog leaped at his throat, Barfield fired a bullet into its head. Three more shots were required, during which the officer came near being bitten at each frenzied lunge of the beast. Each bullet took effect.

COMPLETE RETURNS FROM WARE PRIMARY

Waycross, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—Consolidated returns from Ware primary show the following results:

D. W. Pittman for sheriff, J. Berry for clerk, and J. T. Strickland for tax collector are re-elected by a handsome majority, Strickland leading the ticket.

Calvin W. Parker got a majority for representative over five opponents. L. J. Cooper, present representative, and Leonard Hickox will run in the second primary August 12.

No candidate received a majority in the race for treasurer, tax receiver and coroner. John Gibson and John McQuaig will run in the second primary for tax receiver, W. E. Steedly and J. W. Bellinger for treasurer, and Joel S. Walker and R. D. Harris for coroner.

A. M. Knight and J. T. Fleming were elected commissioners in the Waycross district, D. J. Miller losing out. W. T. Daniels was elected county surveyor.

It was decided to have future primaries conducted by the majority plan, as was this year's, the majority plan winning by five votes.

Jesse Cannon was the closest opponent to Pittman for sheriff.

ARRESTED DURING CALL ON HUSBAND IN PRISON

Savannah, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—When she went to the police station today to call on her husband, Tom Bridgeport, who is under arrest yesterday charged with kidnaping the daughter of E. M. Blandford, of Jacksonville, Mrs. Bridgeport herself, was arrested on a warrant charging her with being an accomplice in the kidnaping. Both deny knowing anything about the alleged kidaping or of being acquainted with anyone named Blandford.

The mother of the child alleged to have been kidnaped, Mrs. Louise Manley, has been divorced from Blandford and she is said to be residing in Savannah with Mr. and Mrs. Bridgeport. Blandford is not in Savannah, the arrest having been made on a warrant sworn out by him in Jacksonville.

HARRISON IS DELEGATE TO BEEF CONVENTION

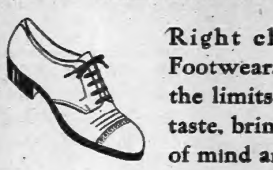

Quitman, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—Colonel George W. Harrison, former Georgia state printer, was today named as delegate to the Georgia Animal Industry convention by special request of the executive committee of the Brooks County Industrial clubs. The Georgia Chamber of Commerce will notify him at once.

Colonel Harrison is well known in Brooks county and has many friends in this section.

Taxes in Effingham.

Springfield, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—Members of the board of tax assessors are working diligently on the tax returns of the county, and their labors will soon be over. The tax returns generally, as fixed by custom and precedent, are low and unequal, and the labors of the board will bring about an equalization of property values between the large property holder and the small owner of lands and realty in Effingham, a state which has never been known before in this county.

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the Othine Prescription.

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by Jacobs' Pharmacy under guarantee to refund the money if it fails. Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

Silk Remnants

We shall clear the decks of the silk section today.

To do it we must enlist your help, to enlist your help we must offer you reward.

We do!

—in the huge variety of remnants—it has been a notable silk season with us, remnants have accumulated as never before, and you know only the wanted kinds of silks become remnants.

—in the values—dress lengths, waist lengths, coat lengths, skirt lengths at such savings that it would be folly for a woman not to look, not to test out the possibilities of this event.

Briefly here is what you will find—

Taffetas, Poplins, Crepes de Chine, Kimono Silks, Crepe Meteors, Foulards, Persian Silks, Satins, Chiffons, Bordered Silks,
Messalines, Moires, Wash Silks, Needle Crepes, Novelty Crepes.

At Savings of One-Third and One-Half

And so varied and representative of the fashions in colors and patterns that it would be hard to imagine a silk want that could not be filled.

Lengths vary from one-half yard to six yards.

The selling starts at 9 o'clock.

Be here at that hour for best choice.

WANT HADEN IN RACE FOR GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Friends Will Ask President of the State Chamber of Commerce to Announce.

Strong pressure is being brought to bear upon Charles J. Haden, president of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, to consent to the use of his name for the general assembly from Fulton county.

Mr. Haden has been out of the city for several days and knows nothing of the movement, but it is said that it is reaching large proportions, and that he will be asked to stand with Judge Spencer R. Atkinson, and later on someone else will be asked to make the third of the trio to stand together for Atlanta and Fulton county.

Mr. Haden has for years been prominently identified with the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, and during the past year has worked incessantly for the development of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, which has brought him in close touch with every part of Georgia. There are few men in Atlanta more generally known throughout the state than Mr. Haden, and if he should consent to become a candidate for the general assembly, it is certain that he will have a very strong following.

Whether or not Mr. Haden will consent to the use of his name remains to be seen, as the matter has not as yet been presented to him.

MAYOR AND COUNCIL ARE ENTERTAINED AT GIRLS' HIGH SCHOOL

A luncheon will be given at the Girls' High school today at 1 o'clock, to Mayor James G. Woodward, members of council and the board of education.

The luncheon is given in recognition of the interest which these gentlemen feel in the public schools of the city. Several speeches will be made and the occasion promises to be one of interest.

ATLANTA GREETERS WILL GIVE A DANCE NEXT WEEK

The Greeters' club will give a dance next week at one of the hotels in the city in order to raise funds to send delegates to Los Angeles, Cal., on June 7 to the annual national convention of the Greeters of America.

The delegates from Atlanta will have the distinction of representing the southeastern Greeters of the seven southeastern states. Assistant Manager Frank Taylor, of the Piedmont hotel, will be one of the delegates.

The Greeters' club, of Atlanta, has about thirty members, or as many as all the other southeastern clubs combined. The southeastern Greeters are entitled to five delegates at the convention.

DEERE PLOW SALESMEN MEETING IN ATLANTA

The southern salesmen of the John Deere Plow company are holding a convention at the Hotel Ansley. About twenty delegates are in attendance.

The convention opened Thursday with a luncheon and a business meeting. William H. Steele, secretary and manager of the Atlanta office, is chairman of the entertainment committee.

PLAN COMPLETED FOR ADAIR DINNER

Governor Slaton, Mayor Woodward and Others Will Make Addresses.

The dinner which the Nobles of Yaarab temple are giving to their illustrious potentate, Ferrel Adair, on the coming Monday, the 25th, will be purely an informal affair.

The nobles are expected to be at the Druid Hills clubhouse promptly at 6:30 o'clock, wearing their business suits and fez.

The committee on arrangements has arranged with the street railway company to have sufficient cars parked directly in front of the auditorium to carry the Nobles out to the Druid Hills clubhouse who have not automobiles. Cars will leave promptly at 6 o'clock.

Notices are being mailed to the members of Yaarab temple who have sent in their contributions that their wives or sweethearts are invited to be at the clubhouse at 7:30 o'clock.

Past Potentate John A. Hynds will make the presentation speech of the remembrance to Potentate Adair, in giving Mr. Adair. At the same time, Mr. C. C. McClelen, representing the citizens' committee, will deliver their gift to Mr. Adair.

Brief remarks will be made by Governor Slaton, Mayor Woodward, James R. Gray, and Ernest Cutts, of Savannah, after which the floors will be cleared and Potentate Adair will lead off with the grand march. The rest of the evening will be spent in dancing.

FINDS THE REASON WHY ATLANTA IS BIG CITY

Robert G. Elbert, special representative of the largest hotel in the world, the McAlpin, of New York, is in Atlanta studying local conditions to ascertain "the reason why" Atlanta is the city that she is.

Mr. Elbert is collecting literature telling of Atlanta's swift climb to the position of metropolis and this will be placed in the information bureau of the McAlpin hotel, which is the only hotel information bureau of its kind and also in the world.

Mr. Elbert declares he is impressed with the thrift and prosperity of Atlanta. "It has," he says, "the three factors required to make a big city—good theaters, good hotels, good newspapers. More people stop at the McAlpin hotel from Atlanta than from any other city in the south."

WILBURN CLEMENCY CASE IS POSTPONED

The clemency plea of Nick Wilburn, which was to have been heard by the prison commission Thursday afternoon, was postponed on account of the absence of John R. Cooper, one of his attorneys.

Wilburn is sentenced to hang May 29 for the murder of James R. King, and he is asking that his sentence be commuted to life imprisonment.

The prison commission will ask that Governor Slaton grant an additional respite of two weeks so that the hearing may be had the first Monday in June.

THOUGHT ATKINSON WILL CONSENT TO RUN

Many Friends Urge Him to Offer for Legislature From Fulton.

While Judge Spencer R. Atkinson has not as yet made any definite reply to the recently presented petition urging him to consent to the use of his name to represent Fulton county in the next general assembly, it is understood that he has consented to become a candidate and that his reply to the petitioners is now being prepared.

It is stated by a close personal friend that the pressure upon Judge Atkinson has been such that it has been impossible for him to resist.

His announcement, therefore, may be expected at any time, and it seems certain that his nomination is assured.

ADDRESSING STUDENTS ON U. S. MILITARY CAMP

In the interest of the United States government's students' military instruction camp at Asheville, N. C., July 6 to August 7, Col. Sandford H. Cohen, manager of the Great Western North Carolina association, is making a tour of the principal colleges and universities of the south and on Thursday spoke before the students of Georgia Tech and of the Georgia Military academy. Thursday afternoon he went to Oxford to address the students of the University of Georgia at Athens. Colonel Cohen has already spoken to the students of Mercer university and of the Alabama Polytechnic institute at Auburn and reports that a large number of students are going to take advantage of the opportunity to get a month's vacation in the mountains of North Carolina with the added advantage of practical military training under United States army officers practically without cost.

MADERO'S PAYMASTER PASSES THRO' AUGUSTA

Augusta, Ga., May 21.—(Special)—Philip Carroll, chief clerk and paymaster of the late President Madero, of Mexico, spent yesterday in Augusta. Mr. Carroll is still in charge of the Madero estate, but was forced to flee from the Mexican federals a few weeks ago. He related thrilling incidents through which he passed when acting as escort for the four daughters of the late President Madero, and exhibited a number of passes issued by various Mexican generals in order to assist in the escape of the young ladies.

Mr. Carroll left this morning for Charleston, going from there to New York, and thence to Paris, France, where he will join the Madero family.

GRAND JURY PROBE WILL BEGIN TODAY

E. A. Stephens, Assistant Solicitor General, Will Present All Bills to Probers This Morning.

It is expected that when the grand jury convenes today the charges growing out of the Frank case against various persons connected with it will be presented for a thorough probe. The solicitor has made no statement to the effect that the probe will be taken up today, but it is known that bills are being prepared, and there is a feeling prevalent at the courthouse that these bills will see the light of day in the grand jury room this morning.

Among the names which are expected to be presented to the grand jury, following the charge to the jury by Judge Ben Hill, are C. W. Burke, who operated extensively as a detective in the defense investigations and who was conspicuously involved in the extraordinary motion hearing; C. B. Reynolds, the minister who admitted he was bribed to make his affidavit; Arthur Thurman, an attorney, who, it is alleged, was involved in obtaining the Reynolds affidavit; C. C. Tedder, sometimes Burns operative; Dan S. Lehon, Burns' right-hand man, and mayhap William J. Burns himself.

E. A. Stephens, Solicitor Dorsey's assistant, will present the bills to the grand jury at the solicitor's direction.

Meanwhile the solicitor is busy with routine matters of the criminal division of the superior court, and is expected to ask for a continuance when the hearing of the Tye motion for the setting aside of the Frank verdict is called on Saturday.

The solicitor has not yet had time for the full preparation of his reply, and, for this reason, it is said, there will be no sessions of the criminal court next week.

Judge Arthur Powell, attorney for William J. Burns and Dan S. Lehon in the contempt proceedings, is expected to return to Atlanta today, and the case will probably be called on Saturday. The action was recently delayed by the absence of Judge Powell.

Picard at Sanitarium.

L. Picard, widely known resident of Atlanta and for years prominent in Atlanta's fuel coal trade, is now a patient at a private sanitarium. Before making Atlanta his home Mr. Picard lived in Houston county, where he was successful in both mercantile and agricultural life. Later he moved to Macon, where he was again successful in commercial life.

INJURED WHILE SAVING LIFE OF YOUNG LADY

E. M. Beard, of Birmingham, Has Leg Broken in an Automobile Accident.

In saving the life of a fair pedestrian, who had unknowingly walked into the path of danger, E. M. Beard, of Birmingham, Ala., was crushed by an automobile yesterday afternoon which plunged into the wall of a building at 7 East Mitchell street.

The machine was being driven by Montefiore Bello, of 901 Washington street. It became unmanageable as Mr. Bello cranked it, and dashed into the wall of the building. Mr. Beard, walking along the street, was near a young woman who had stepped directly in the path of the wild machine.

He shoved her beyond danger, but he was unable to escape. The machine caught his right leg, breaking it in the collision with the wall. He was carried to the Atlanta hospital, refusing to give his name to reporters on the scene.

The rescued young woman disappeared in the crowd, and her identity is unknown.

LUCY COBB TO PRESENT "THE SPANISH GIPSIES"

Athens, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—The annual commencement occasion for Lucy Cobb Institute will begin Friday night with the presentation by the Lucy Cobb chorus, Miss Lucy Logan Desha, director, of the Spanish Gipsies, tableaux chantants by Charles Vincent. The event is to be staged on the Lucy Cobb Woodlawn theater.

Three Atlanta girls are among those taking part, Miss Ruth Reid, Miss Lillian Mitchell and Miss Ellen Wolff. The music is to be exceptional, Miss Willis at the piano, Miss Peacock with the castanets, Miss Hall the triangle, Miss Pink the tambourine, and Mrs. John Morris and Mr. Phil Johnson, violins.

Saturday evening in Seney-Stovall chapel, the annual concert is to be given, Miss Willis directing the work of the department.

Sunday morning the commencement sermon is to be preached by the Rt. Rev. Theodore Bratton, of the diocese of Mississippi, bishop.

Monday evening the graduating exercises take place with the baccalaureate address by Rev. C. B. Wilmer, of Atlanta. The annual reception follows the graduating exercises Monday evening at 9 o'clock.

The alumnae meetings will be held Saturday morning.

6-CYLINDER ELOPEMENT ENDS IN WEE SMA' HOURS

Savannah, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—Justice of the Peace J. I. Kilkorn was routed from bed in the wee sma' hours this morning to put the finishing touches to a romance that started in Concord, N. C., had a brief race across the state in a six-cylinder touring car, and about as many complications as young elopers ever encounter.

Myron S. Yachelson, Jr., whose home is at 15 York street, east, is the man. Mrs. Myron S., who, as pretty Marie Barnhardt, was the belle of Concord, is the lady fair.

While father did not object to her marrying Mr. Yachelson, who is a man something after his own heart, mother said that it would never do and that cupid might as well take up other quarters and leave her sweet little daughter's heart for the affections of the family.

COMPETITIVE DRILLS END PYTHIAN MEET

Macon, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—The closing feature of the annual meeting of the Pythian grand lodge today was the competitive drills at Central City park between three companies, two from Savannah and one from Augusta.

Georgia company, No. 1, First regiment, Savannah, won the first prize of $500, with a percentage of .98. Augusta company, No. 6, Second regiment, won second prize of $150, with a percentage of .94½. The third prize of $100 went to Savannah company, No. 15, First regiment, with a percentage of .87½.

NEGRO IS SENTENCED TO HANG FOR MURDER

Dublin, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—Stokes Baker was sentenced to hang in Dublin on June 27 by Judge K. J. Hawkins in Laurens superior court yesterday morning. Baker was tried Tuesday, his trial consuming the entire day, but the jury returned a verdict of guilty of murder within five minutes after it had retired. An appeal has been made for a new trial for the negro, who killed Early Park at a negro dance on a farm near Dudley a few weeks ago.

A motion for a new trial in the case of S. D. Butler, under life sentence for killing J. M. Williams, postmaster of Rocklidge several months ago, was overruled and the case will now be carried to the supreme court. The case of two negro boys, Luther Kendrick and Will Griffin, who killed a negro on the street a few weeks ago, was called.

W. T. GARRETT TO HEAD SCHOOLS OF DUBLIN

Dublin, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—W. T. Garrett, of Sandersville, was elected superintendent of the Dublin schools last night by the city board of education to succeed Superintendent R. E. Brooks, who goes to Albany for next year. Mr. Garrett comes highly recommended with a splendid record as a superintendent in Sandersville, Griffin, Cedartown and other places in Georgia, and is also a graduate of Yale university. O. G. Bartlett was reelected principal of the Dublin high school, Miss Ruth Rimard was reelected principal of the Johnson street grammar school and Misses Turner Blackshear were elected to fill vacancies in the grade teachers made by the resignation of Misses Bailey and Fortson.

SECOND DISTRICT CALLS PRIMARY ON AUGUST 19

Albany, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—The democratic executive committee of the Second congressional district met here today for the purpose of calling a primary for the nomination of a candidate for the sixty-fourth congress. The meeting was presided over by Chairman H. M. McIntosh and was entirely harmonious.

The primary was called to be held in connection with the state primary, August 19.

Each candidate was assessed $200 to defray the congressional apportionment of the primary. August 1 being set as the date by which all candidates must announce and pay this assessment.

Freight Wreck at Sworde.

Buckhead, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—Through freight No. 15, eastbound, was wrecked four miles below this point, at Sworde, at 9 o'clock this morning. Engineer Wintlock was pulling the train, which was in charge of Conductor Bigsby. The train was made up of thirty-five cars, twenty-two of which left the track. Most of these carried coal. One car of automobiles was turned over, but not smashed. No serious delays to passenger trains has resulted so far. The cause of the wreck is not definitely known.

For Only FIVE Days More

BUT FIVE working days from today will elapse before the closing day which brings to an end the low-price sale of the new Encyclopaedia Britannica, Eleventh Edition.

In the meantime, subscriptions will be accepted, not only at the present low prices, but also for a first payment of only $5.00 down. After Thursday next the cash prices will be increased by $29 to $50 a set, according to the binding. This is a perfectly plain statement of a perfectly plain fact.

Our letter of instructions from the publishers of the new Britannica, the Cambridge University Press of England, reads:

University Press, Cambridge.

London, 21st March, 1914.

Gentlemen:

This is to give you official notification that the sale of the new Encyclopaedia Britannica, 11th Edition, at the present prices must cease on May 28th, next. After that date the present cash prices must be increased as follows:

$29.00 on the Cloth set
$36.50 on the Sheepskin set
$45.00 on the Suede set
$50.00 on the Morocco set

The prices were increased in England on the 20th of December last and the sale in America should have ceased at the same time, but for the fact that you had such a very large territory to cover, and that two-thirds of all the sets sold have been sold in the United States and Canada. Under no circumstances will any extension after May 28th be given, and orders at present prices postmarked after that date must be returned. I am,

Yours very truly,
C. F. CLAY,
Manager.

The issue is a very simple one:
For a few days you may obtain the volumes at

$29.00 to $50.00 less than they will cost after May 28, and for a first payment of only $5.00 in cash; or after Thursday next

you may obtain the same work at the increased price.

The price of the new Encyclopaedia Britannica after next Thursday will be by no means an exorbitant price, for the 29 volumes with their 41,000 articles by 1,500 contributors, with their 15,000 illustrations, 44,000,000 words of text and their 30,000 beautifully printed pages on India paper are well worth $166.75, the price of the cloth binding after the present sale.

But $166.75 is a large price to contemplate paying when you think of it this week, knowing that by subscribing at once, you can obtain the same book for $29 less than that price, and that you can get it for a cash payment of only $5.00 down, the purchase to be completed by monthly payments of $5.00.

If the present cash price, $137.75, seems to you an important sum, it is certainly your wisest course to subscribe upon the present terms, for you will certainly save $29 by acting promptly.

If $137.75 seems to you an unimportant sum, there is even then no reason why you should not subscribe today, while you can secure the most comprehensive, the most authoritative, the most practical library of ready reference in the world.

$5.00 down is all you need to pay now—you get the whole 29 volumes in one shipment complete.

The balance you can pay in 12, 8 or 4 months, or you can pay as little as $5.00 a month.

The New ENCYCLOPAEDIA BRITANNICA 11th Edition

The only book in the world in which is gathered the best knowledge of our day, sifted and elucidated by authorities, on all subjects concerning which an intelligent man or woman may need information.

Every Intelligent Household Needs this Great Storehouse of All Human Knowledge

(1) It can be used as an up-to-date intelligence department in any home.

(2) It has a special appeal for all—mother, father, son or daughter. It is an admirable book for children to grow up with, because it deals only with sound information.

(3) Merely to use it for the pleasure of reading, it is unrivalled, being written in intelligible language which all can understand.

(4) It is more than a mere work of reference, as it affords infinite opportunity for systematic study and thorough mastery of a given subject.

(5) The thin India paper upon which it is printed makes it an attractive book to hold, to use and to consult. It is now a temptation and not a task to read an encyclopaedia.

(6) It is a valuable addition to the largest library, because no library is complete without it.

Once in the Lifetime of an average man a new Britannica, containing all human knowledge down to date, is offered to the public, but never before has it been possible to buy a new edition of this work at such low prices as will be in force until May 28th. Some 65,000 persons have bought it at these prices.

Atlanta Pan-Hellenic Will Run Lyric Theater Thursday

The Atlanta Pan-Hellenic, Atlanta's federation of sororities of college women, have bought the Lyric theater for next Thursday night and will devote the proceeds or the evening's performance to the establishment of a boarding house for business women. The house will be operated under the auspices of the Young Woman's Christian association, and will meet a great demand in that community.

The play on Thursday night is "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," presented by the Lucile LaVerne company. Miss Chaffee, who will take one of the leading roles in the play, is a fraternity girl, a member of the Phi Mu Gamma, which has a large membership in Atlanta.

The benefit will be taken by the heads of the men's fraternities in Atlanta and they will decorate the boxes with their pennants. There will be dancing in the lobby between the acts, in which everybody is asked to participate.

Miss Elizabeth Rempton, president of the Pan-Hellenic organizations in Atlanta, is chairman of the committee in charge of the Lyric benefit.

Stewart-Battey.

Mrs. Caroline Robinson Stewart has issued invitations to the marriage of her daughter, Frances Josephine, to Dr. Hugh Inman Battey, on Wednesday evening, June 3, at 428 West Peachtree street.

To Miss Stewart.

Mrs. Hugh Richardson will entertain at a luncheon Saturday, May 23, at her home on West Peachtree in honor of Miss Frances Stewart, whose wedding to Dr. Hugh Inman Battey will be an interesting event of June 3.

For Visitors.

Mrs. Charlton Barrett will entertain at a bridge luncheon at her home on West Fourteenth street Saturday morning in compliment to her guests, Mrs. W. H. Clary and Miss Ethel Clary, of San Francisco, Cal.

"The Court of Juno."

At the Atlanta theater, May 27, the Hanna school will present the lyrical and spectacular drama, "The Court of Juno." This beautiful Greek play has attracted favorable comment everywhere it has been presented, and although published in 1911, is still popular as a commencement program.

It contrasts the present age with the golden age of mythological times, and illustrates the wonderful changes wrought by the mind of man. Since the play have been introduced many beautiful and attractive features, as songs, choruses, dances and tableaux. The proceeds of this entertainment will go to the Julia Jackson chapter, Children of the Confederacy, and it should therefore enlist the interest and co-operation of all confederate organizations. The school will be assisted by Miss Mayme Clyburn, Miss Whitney, Miss Theocosia Warfield, Miss Vivian Mathis, Miss Helen Atkinson, and Miss Mary Butt Griffith.

The following young ladies will receive diplomas: Miss Christine Burger, Miss Leonie Minnis Helen Dale, Miss Frances Opal Perkins, Miss Rubie Adelaide Sawyer, Miss Tennie Theola and Miss Esther Inglish Pinchbeck. Miss Dorothy Davis, Miss Bennie Kate Marion, Miss Florence Evelyn McCants, Miss Irene Scott McMurry, Miss Maggie Lee Ogletree, Miss Hazel Kirk Rainey, Miss Elsie Amanda Stephens, Miss Lois Weathers.

For Visitor.

Mrs. Charles Marshall was hostess at the first of a series of bridge parties yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Horace Adams, of Birmingham, who is visiting Mrs. Colquitt Cole, was the guest of honor.

Pink and white sweet peas were used to decorate the rooms, and the prizes were hand-painted plates. There were eight guests.

For Mrs. Phillips.

Mrs. Robert P. Jones entertained at a bridge luncheon yesterday at the home of Mrs. Mary Howard Meador, at East Lake, in compliment to Mrs. Sam Phillips, of Knoxville.

A profusion of sweet peas decorated the house, and the bridge scores were painted in sweet peas. The prizes at bridge were a green silk parasol and a pair of silk stockings.

The guests were: Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Thomas H. Paine, Mrs. Lowry Arnold, Mrs. Nash Brevier, Mrs. Charles P. Kline, Mrs. Rees Watkins, Mrs. Julian Chambers, Mrs. Hattie Cole, Miss Ada Alexander, Miss Annie Nutting, Mrs. Goldsby Thrash, Mrs. Ethel Pilcher, Mrs. H. A. Moore, Mrs. Ernest Duncan, Mrs. Stephen Hood, Mrs. Valdemar Gude, Mrs. James Morrow, Jr., Mrs. Ben Craig, Mrs. Rehbert, Mrs. Robert Reid, Mrs. Mary Howard Mendor, Mrs. R. H. Harrell, Miss May O'Brien, Mrs. Joseph Rey and Mrs. Evans.

Mrs. Valdemar Gude entertained at a luncheon at the Capital City club on Wednesday for Mrs. Phillips.

Miss Stephens' Bridge Party

Miss Katherine Houghtaling, of New York, who is visiting Mrs. John A. Hynds, and Miss Nell Phillips, who has recently returned from Florida, where she spent the winter, were all the guests of honor at a delightful bridge party yesterday afternoon given by Miss Nan Stephens at her home in Druid Hills.

The house was beautifully decorated with Easter lilies, sweet william and red roses. Easter lilies and daisies artistically arranged in a basket were the centerpiece of the tea table, and other details of the pretty tea-hie were in pink and white. Mrs. W. T. Stanley served punch in the breakfast room, the punch bowl banked with red rambler roses. Miss Stephens wore a becoming gown of pink taffeta. The guests were Mesdames John Arthur Hynds, W. P. Foster, Herbert Blair Haagen, of St. Louis; Martin Dunbar, David Morgan, W. T. Stanley, Louis Beach, J. W. Mockel, Estelle Garvett Baker, Samuel Boykin Turman, W. R. Lloyd, James T. Prince, Misses Susie Smith, Alma Stanley, Mary Moore, Lulu Sergeant, Dora Cunningham, Anais Hammond, Leslie Dooly, Daisy Martin and Eve Bettner.

For Visitors.

Misses Lula and Harriett Snook will entertain eight friends at bridge this afternoon for Mrs. William E. McGee, of Columbia, S. C., who is the guest of Mrs. Peter Erwin.

Piano Recital.

Professor Oscar Pappenheimer, director of the Southern University of Music, gave a piano recital last night in the banquet hall of the Hotel Ansley to an appreciative audience. He was assisted by Paul Donehoo and W. W. Leffingwell.

For Mrs. Nash.

Mrs. M. Greer entertained twelve friends Tuesday at her apartment on Third street at a bridge party in honor of Mrs. Walter Starnes Nash, of Knoxville, Tenn.

Cooking School.

An interested and enthusiastic class has been in attendence this week at the cooking school now being conducted by Mrs. S. R. Dull under the auspices of the Ladies' Altar society of the Sacred Heart church, of which Mrs. P. J. McGovern is president.

The lesson will be to show how to bone, stuff and bake Spanish mackerel and the making of hot caper sauce and other fish sauces. Besides which the members of the class may ask any suggestions regarding cooking and preparing dishes.

For Miss Walker.

Miss Louise Richardson entertained at a small tea yesterday afternoon at her home on East Lake for Miss Jane Walker, who leaves soon for California.

French Comedy to Be Read.

The French alliance will meet today at 3:30 o'clock at the University club. Five members will read a comedy, each one taking a part. As usual, a quotation will be expected from each member present.

Miss Chapman to Entertain

Miss Rose Belle Chapman will entertain at a garden party Friday afternoon, May 29, from 5 to 7 o'clock, in honor of Miss Gladys Catchings, Miss Louise Nicli, Miss Lebie Ewing and Miss Frances Schneider, all of whom are to be married in June.

For Bride-Elect.

Miss Nora Ingram was hostess at a bridge tea Wednesday afternoon at her home on Washington street for Miss Ellen Lyon, a bride-elect.

Sweet peas decorated the rooms, and the prizes were pieces of hand-painted china. Miss Lyon was given a pair of hand-embroidered pillow cases. There were thirty guests.

To Visiting Delegates.

The Atlanta Association of Registered Nurses entertained the delegates and association at a beautiful tea at the Georgian Terrace yesterday afternoon, the guests served at small tables in the palm room. Pink carnations decorated the tables, and tea and dainty refreshments were served.

Sorority Tea.

The members of the Alpha Delta Pi fraternity celebrated their first year of activity yesterday afternoon at tea at the Georgian Terrace. Refreshments were served in the lounge from tables decorated in the sorority colors.

WILLIAMSON-WILLIAMS.

Brunswick, Ga., May 21.—(Special.) Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Williamson, of Brunswick, announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Fraser, to Mr. Victor Starr Williams, of Oxford, Ga., the marriage to take place in June.

MEETINGS

Atlanta chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will hold its regular meeting this evening at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to attend. Visitors are cordially invited to attend.

The Inman Park Students' club will meet with Mrs. J. R. Williamson, 43 Dixie avenue, Friday, May 22, at 10:30 o'clock.

MRS. FUNK CANCELS ATLANTA ENGAGEMENT

More than 150 Atlanta suffragists and sympathisers, gathered in the senate chamber of the state capitol, were disappoined last night when Mrs. Mary L. McLendon read a telegram from Mrs. Antoinette Funk, of Chicago, stating that she would be unable to attend the Atlanta rally because of illness. Mrs. Funk was one of the principal speakers at the rally in Macon Wednesday night, and as the result of the strenuous meeting and the rather tedious journey from Washington, she became ill in Macon and, off the advice of physicians, cancelled her engagement here.

However, interesting talks were heard from Leonard J. Grossman and Dr. Fred A. Line. Mr. Grossman spoke of the success of the Macon rally, and also spoke of the methods employed by the anti-suffragists. Dr. Line commented on a number of recent suffrage discussions in the magazines.

ENDEAVOR SOCIETIES TO HOLD RALLY TONIGHT

The Christian Endeavor societies of the various Atlanta churches will join in a rally this evening at 8 o'clock at the Central Congregational church.

Atlanta Endeavorers are much enthused over a recent visit to Georgia of a representative of the national society, and several of the state Endeavor officers have been secured to make short addresses to the members of some fifteen live societies in Atlanta. P. T. Samuel, state president, will lead an open discussion on the subject, "Christian Endeavor During the Summer Months."

W. & L. RAILROAD GRANTED A CHARTER

Secretary of State Phil Cook has issued a charter to the Washington and Lincolnton railroad, which will run a distance of twenty-five miles from Washington, Wilkes county, to Lincolnton, in Lincoln county.

It will be capitalized at $100,000 with the privilege of increasing the capital stock to $250,000. The incorporators of the road are: W. B. Crawford, J. E. Cullard, W. T. Florence, C. H. Ward, Carl Hendricks, C. J. Groves, J. C. Perryman and W. G. Powell, all of Lincoln county, and J. R. Dyson, W. T. Johnson, K. A. Wilbert, F. H. Pickins, I. T. Irvin, Jr., William Wynne, Jr., and Garnett Greene, all of Wilkes county.

REV. O'KELLEY TO PREACH AT TIFTON EXERCISES

Tifton, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—The spring term of Tifton public schools closes tomorrow. There will be no commencement exercises, as one grade, the eleventh, has been added to the school term this year, and therefore there will be no graduating class. Friday night the "Tift County Fair" will be presented by local talent at the auditorium.

Sunday the commencement sermon will be preached by Rev. N. D. O'Kelley, pastor of Highland Baptist church, Atlanta. He will preach at the First Baptist church from the subject, "Victory."

THIRD DISTRICT COLLEGE PUTS ON SHAM BATTLE

Americus, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—Commencement exercises of the Third District Agricultural and Mechanical college were inaugurated tonight with a sham battle fought upon the college campus between two companies of the college cadets. Ninety cadets engaged in the battle, storming a masked battery and the night attack was thoroughly realistic.

The Americus college will close this week and had the most successful session since its establishment, with 119 students enrolled.

GOVERNOR ADDRESSES BIG CROWD AT ALBANY

Albany, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—Governor John M. Slaton was the guest of the Georgia chautauqua today, and a large audience heard him deliver a splendid address on education from the platform where, for a quarter of a century, successive chief executives of the state have appeared before chautauqua audiences.

The day brought the biggest crowd of the week to Albany, although the military feature of past assemblies was lacking.

Such a rich golden brown shortcake crust, and so TENDER when made with —the shortening which makes foods that are easily digested by the most delicate stomach. Here's a shortcake you'll be proud to serve—try it.

Cottolene

The wholesomeness of this pure product appeals to careful mothers and housewives. Use it in place of butter or lard in any of your own recipes; remember to use one-third LESS of the Cottolene and a pinch more salt.

STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE

Sift together one pint of flour, one and one-half rounded teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one and one-quarter level teaspoons of salt, and add a level tablespoonful of chilled Cottolene. Make a soft biscuit dough of sweet milk or water, kneading as little as possible. Divide the dough and cut one half in pan and spread with cold soft butter. Then put other half on top and bake in a quick oven and a light brown. When baking, cut in half by running a large knife through where the butter was spread. Cover thickly with a pint and a half of strawberries that have been previously prepared with sugar. Pour what juice is left around the cake and serve with rich sweet cream.

Peaches, raspberries, blackberries and huckleberries can be substituted for strawberries, if desired.

The TENDERNESS of foods cooked in and with Cottolene makes them delightful.

Our FREE Recipe Book, HOME HELPS, written by five of the best cooking authorities in America, tells just how to get perfect results from using Cottolene. Drop a postal and get YOUR copy of this interesting book. Do it now.

Kryptok Bifocals

Why we make Kryptok Bifocals and recommend them. First of all, because of their convenience. They give Near and Far Vision in one solid glass, doing away with two pairs of glasses. They can be more perfectly ground than any other bifocal known, no ugly seams or pieces to blister or come loose. We make them in Toric or Curved form, giving a larger field both for reading and distance. Each pair is made to order, conforming to the face in every detail. Your best friend would never know you have on bifocals. They are absolutely invisible while on the face. They are a joy, not a discomfort. Ask some of our patients how they are pleased.

TECH GLEE CLUB GIVES CONCERT ON SATURDAY

The musical event of this week will be the Saturday evening concert given by the musical organizations of Georgia Tech. The glee club of forty voices represents Atlanta's only permanent male chorus. This season they are better prepared than usual to offer the public a program of real musical worth, and it won't be long before the club can duplicate anything presented annually by visiting clubs from the east.

The Mandolin and Guitar club has about twenty players and several soloists, and challenges any similar organization to charm the maiden heart so well as they. Tech's reliable orchestra will keep the audience good-humored during the evening. Miss Mayme Clyburn, whose voice always delights, will appear with the glee club in a concerted selection.

Harold Rogers is president of the glee club; Mr. Gant, of Macon, manager, and James C. Hardwick, director. Program at 8:30. Tickets, 50 cents.

Thomas Cooper Better.

Thomas J. Cooper, who has been confined to his home, 123½ East Fair street, for the past two weeks, is now convalescing and may be able to appear on the streets within the next few days. At one time Mr. Cooper's condition aroused the apprehensions of his friends.

RATHER DEAD THAN ALIVE

Deplorable Condition of Lumpkin Lady Whose Troubles Multiplied Until Life Became Almost Unbearable.

Lumpkin, Ga.—Mrs. G. W. Booth, of this place, says: "I suffered with dumb chills and fever and was very irregular. Was also nervous and weak, short of breath, couldn't do my housework without it being a burden, and then I began suffering untold misery in my left side and back. I got to where I would rather have been dead than alive.

I tried many remedies, but they failed to help me.

Finally, I purchased two bottles of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and began taking it according to directions. Cardui helped me right away. I believe it saved my life.

I cannot praise Cardui enough to my lady friends. It is certainly the medicine for suffering women and girls."

If you have any of the ailments so common to women, or if you feel the need of a good, strengthening tonic, we urge you to give Cardui a trial. It has helped thousands of women in its past 50 years of success, as is proven by the numerous enthusiastic letters of gratitude, similar to the above, which come to us every day.

Don't delay. This letter from Mrs. Booth should convince you that Cardui is worth a trial. Get a bottle from your druggist today. You'll never regret it.

Cost of Conquering Mexico
Described by M. E. Brewster

"It would take the United States fully three or four years to make any progress in the taking over of Mexico, should the war department fashion such a policy.

"It would resolve a guerrilla warfare which would not only last for years but would cost thousands of lives."

The speaker was M. E. Brewster, a native of, Canton, Ga., and a former employee of The Constitution, who for the past four years has been in the United States navy and who was one of the first men to land at Vera Cruz from the battleship Louisiana.

Mr. Brewster's enlistment has expired and he arrived in Atlanta Thursday on his way to Canton for a visit. Mr. Brewster was at one time employed as an apprentice in the composing room of The Constitution, and the first thing he did on his return to Atlanta was to look up his old companions.

During his four years in the navy he has saved up $1,800, and he intends to go west and start a country paper.

"The sailors and marines from the Louisiana were the first to land at Vera Cruz," said Mr. Brewster. "Two hours after possession had been taken of the customs house, sniping began. Both men and women were engaged in the shooting. There was no fair fighting at all. It was impossible to get at the snipers.

"On the fifth day after landing we went to the cemetery where the Mexicans were supposedly holding a funeral. In reality they were taking up caskets which had been filled with arms and ammunition."

Mr. Brewster was engaged as ship's printer on the Louisiana.

Speaking of the navy, he said that if his services were needed he would go into the marine service.

"The navy is a good place for a young man who has no trade. He has an opportunity to see the world and he can save money if he will."

EPISCOPAL SCHOOL FOR GIRLS PLANNED

Matter Will Be Considered at Council Meeting Held Here Next Week.

One of the most important matters to come up for the consideration of the council of the Protestant Episcopal church, diocese of Atlanta, which meets in the Church of the Incarnation Wednesday and Thursday, May 27 and 28, will be that of the plans of the diocese for the establishment of a school for girls.

The Atlanta diocese already owns a valuable site for the institution, and has considerable funds on hand for the construction of the buildings. A committee, which was appointed at the last meeting of the council in Athens, May, 1913, will report its plans and the progress it has made in raising funds for the school.

The council meeting will be opened Wednesday morning shortly after 10 o'clock by Bishop Nelson presiding. The council session will be of routine business.

All the clergy and one or more laymen from every church in north and middle Georgia will be in attendance.

The Women's auxiliary, which is the missionary society of the church, will hold its annual meeting in connection with the council.

The Daughters of the King, another one of the important organizations of the church, will meet on the Tuesday before council meeting.

60 DENTISTS RECEIVE DIPLOMAS AT ATLANTA

Diplomas were given to sixty graduates of the Atlanta Dental college at the commencement exercises of the senior class of 1914 at the Atlanta theater last night. There was a large attendance to see the future dentists receive their degrees.

The degree of doctor of dental surgery was conferred upon the class by Judge W. R. Hammond.

In the graduating class ten states were represented, not to mention the fact that the membership included three Cubans and one Egyptian.

The program was as follows:

MRS. PUTNAM IS CITED ON CONTEMPT CHARGE

Mrs. L. J. Putnam, of Bainbridge, Ga., has been cited to appear in Fulton superior court, May 30, on a charge of contempt, for refusing to answer questions put by a commissioner appointed to take testimony in the case of the Cole Motor Car company against her husband, R. M. Putnam.

Mrs. Putnam is alleged to have refused to answer the questions upon advice of her attorney, T. R. Felder. Accordingly, J. L. & C. N. Anderson, attorneys for the motor car company, brought a rule for contempt before Judge Pendleton, who, on Thursday, issued the order.

ATLANTA SEEKS MEET OF BUILDING OWNERS

Fred Houser, secretary of the Atlanta convention bureau, met with the Atlanta Association of Building Owners and Managers in the Empire building last Tuesday, when it was decided to attend the next national convention in Duluth, Minn., and make a bid for the 1916 convention for Atlanta.

Fred Houser, representing the Atlanta convention bureau, will carry 500 souvenir natural bolls of cotton, with "Atlanta, 1915," streamers attached, and give one to each visiting delegate, together with several souvenir buttons and booklets advertising Atlanta as the south's greatest convention city.

NEGRO GIVEN 20 YEARS FOR ATTACK ON HOOPER

Sam Reed, the negro who last June attacked Frank A. Hooper, well-known attorney and associate of Solicitor Dorsey in the prosecution of the Frank case, and robbed him of a hundred-dollar gold watch and some money, was convicted Thursday in Judge Ben Hill's court and given the limit of twenty years.

This is the second conviction of Reed, who obtained a new trial on an error of the judge in his charge to the jury at the first trial.

NEGRO CONFESSES HE AND 2 OTHERS KILLED WATCHMAN

Savannah, Ga., May 21.—Aaron Brown, a negro under arrest here, today confessed, according to police officials, that he aided two other negroes in robbing and killing Peter F. Dewberry, night watchman of the Agricultural Chemical company's building here, on the night of May 16. The authorities said that the two other negroes accused by Brown were Peter Alston and Henry Adams, both of whom also are under arrest.

Dewberry's body was found Sunday, and a considerable sum of money he was believed to have carried on his person was missing. Brown is said to have stated in his confession that the watchman was attacked with a heavy iron bar and his body later mutilated with knives.

Baptist Sunday School.

Norcross, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—The Baptist Sunday schools of the Lawrenceville association are here in convention today. Devotional exercises were led by Rev. T. T. Twitty, of Norcross. Dinner was served the numerous visitors on the church grounds, after which the further business of the convention was proceeded with.

Try Skin Absorption Instead of Cosmetics

The constant use of rouge and powder invites a coarsened, roughened condition of the skin, eruptions, enlarged pores and wrinkles. If you've learned this from experience, suppose you quit cosmetics and try the following:

Ask your druggist for an ounce of ordinary mercolized wax and begin using this tonight. Apply like cold cream, washing it off in the morning. Keep this up for a week or two. The wax will literally absorb the coarse, colorless or blemished top skin, but so gradually as not to discommode you at all. Just as gradually the clear, velvety, naturally tinted underskin comes to the surface. And mercolized wax becomes your everlasting friend.

For those wrinkles and large pores, make a face bath by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. This has remarkable astringent and tonic properties, and beneficial results come quickly.—(Adv.)

WOUNDED POLICEMAN; GETS 5-YEAR SENTENCE

For shooting at Policeman W. A. Garrett and inflicting a flesh wound in his arm when the officer placed him under arrest on Decatur street last April, William Britt, a youth of 18 years, was sentenced to five years in the chaingang by Judge Ben Hill on Thursday. Britt pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with intent to murder, and threw himself upon the mercy of the court. Judge Hill stated that he would make the sentence light on account of the youth of Britt.

HIS BUSINESS RUINED, HE SUES FOR DAMAGES

A suit for $10,000 damages was filed against the firm of J. L. Riley & Co., insurance brokers, and others, in the superior court Thursday, by Allen Wilder, who charges that the defendants ruined his business by the use of malicious letters to his customers and by attempt to secure criminal action against him. The criminal action, he says, was a second method employed after civil action had failed.

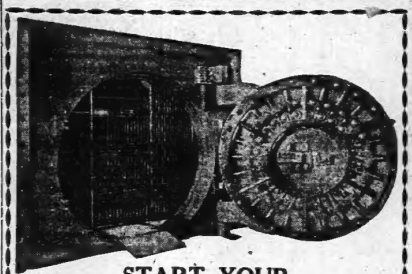

Wilder is represented by Attorneys William M. Smith and E. L. Jarrell.

THURSDAY'S WEATHER WILL BE DUPLICATED

A duplication of Thursday's weather is scheduled for Friday, which was fair with the thermometer hovering around 70 degrees.

Although there is considerable rain further south, there is no sign of a shower for the immediate territory of Atlanta.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York city by 1 p. m. the day after issue. It can be had: Hotaling's Newsstands, Broadway and Forty-second street (Times building corner), Thirty-eighth street and Broadway and Twenty-ninth street and Broadway.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents.

END OR AMEND.

The cotton exchange regulation bill that seems most certain of passage is the one formulated by Representative Lever, of South Carolina, as a substitute to the senate bill.

Lever's bill outlaws most of the features against which The Constitution, voicing the sentiment of southern millmen, farmers and cotton factors, has long protested.

The bill would force all cotton exchanges to adopt the government standard grades and to settle contracts upon the basis of commercial, and not fixed and inflexible, differences. It also bars the fulfillment of contracts with questionable grades, a favorite and damaging practice upon the New York Cotton exchange. In short, it insures, under heavy penalties, that all cotton, spot and futures, shall be bought only upon a "fair and honest contract," the simple definition recently laid down by the Vicksburg Cotton exchange.

It is not quite clear what is meant by the clause in the bill taxing future contracts, the tax to be remitted under certain conditions. No one save ignorant and rabid extremists are against legitimate future transactions, meant for hedging. That is one of the chief functions of any cotton market. If, however, this single clause contemplates undue hardship upon the farmer or the trade, we may rely upon the sound sense of leaders in house and senate to modify it.

The thing that matters most is that action should be taken at this session upon the lines of the Lever or some similar bill, to purge cotton markets of their wanton gambling and manipulative features. When cotton manufacturers and traders themselves testify that these features should be eliminated, congress cannot afford to ignore the situation.

The cotton trade, at both the producing and consuming ends, has long enough been the prey of inexcusable practices. Both today are in a state of uncertainty as to what to expect. Congress can neither afford to protract the uncertainty nor the discredited methods against which revolt is so widespread.

In a spirit of reason and scientific regulation, rather than of baiting and destruction, pure and simple, the exchanges should be put upon formal and final notice that they must amend the evils inherent in them, or end the travesty that a few of the larger ones now make of their legitimate functions.

A FARM CLEARING HOUSE.

"There is enough meat and truck in Crisp county for sale," writes Mr. L. S. Daniel, secretary of the Cordele Chamber of Commerce, "to feed the city of Atlanta and another city of the same size, in addition to supplying our home market demand." And further: "Allow me to suggest the value of a state market agent or marketing bureau. There are millions going to waste in Georgia, for the want of proper marketing."

These statements are almost incredible. At any rate they are highly suggestive. Several Georgia counties, such as Brooks and Cobb, produce an export margin of meat, but it is of sad and too common notoriety that the majority of counties, despite the progress of the past few years, still send outside of Georgia for their beef and, largely, their general food supplies.

There are, however, enough unusually prolific counties in Georgia to make this suggestion worth while.

Why should not the farming interests of Georgia, co-operating through their county and city trade boards at the start, establish in Atlanta a clearing house for all farm products somewhat similar to the Georgia Fruit Exchange, the establishment of which has meant millions to the peach and melon and apple growers of Georgia?

Several years ago the peach interests in Georgia were prostrate, owing to miserable distribution. The Constitution waged a vigorous campaign, as a result of which the Georgia Fruit Exchange was established. That institution has placed the peach industry upon a firm foundation and saved it from possible extinction.

Poultry distribution is the trouble in Crisp and counties similarly situated. The one way to remedy it is through organization and co-operation. With an intelligence office in Atlanta, warehouse and refrigerating facilities at strategic points and the necessary machinery for distribution, there is no reason on earth why a pound of surplus meat or an car of surplus corn should remain on the farms of Georgia. The cheap and quick service of the parcel post and the express companies make the prospects of a farm clearing house even more assured at the start than were those of the fruit exchange.

The Constitution refers this suggestion to the Atlanta and State chambers of commerce. It is not needful at present to organize the system on an extensive scale. But if even six other counties correspond to Mr. Daniel's story of Crisp, then there is at hand the beginnings of one of the most hopeful industries of the state. Such an enterprise, once launched, will stimulate production and home consumption in every Georgia county.

TAKE OFF OR KNOCK OFF.

To the last Huerta shows up as the murderously grotesque figure in opera bouffe. His latest antic, which he may have recanted by the time these words reach print, is to repudiate the authority he gave his Niagara Falls emissaries to eliminate him, should that step advance a solution.

The secrecy with which both Washington and the mediators have accepted this unexpected turn, indicate they do not fear it will prove the most serious obstacle to an amicable settlement. Huerta is, in all probability, engaged in his favorite pastime of endeavoring to "save his face." When that has been done, to his own satisfaction, if not that of civilization, he will probably step down and proceed to Europe to enjoy his hoard, provided he does not fall upon the fate he meted Madero.

The humor of the situation is that Huerta should, with an air of braggadocio, proclaim his intention to stay put while Villa steadily encroaches upon the capital. If Huerta really wants to save his face, much less his neck, he had best take discretion in both hands and beat a retreat before the bloody-minded Pancho is thundering at the gates of Mexico City. Villa it is who, holding a personal grudge against Huerta, declares that shooting is too dignified a mode of exit for the latter. What he proposes is that Huerta shall stretch good Mexican hemp. The punctiliousness with which Villa observes all pledges of this particular nature is convincing, if not precisely soothing to the emotions of his prospective victims.

With Huerta it has come to the stage of "take it off or knock it off." The rather clumsy way in which he is now playing the game tends to corroborate the stories of his chronic inebriety, despite the authoritative denial of Nelson O'Shaughnessy.

SAVAGERY STILL ABIDES.

The Associated Press dispatch of the race riot in Guatemala, Central America, in which more than 164 men were killed, and the conditions under which the riot occurred, remind us that plenty of portions of this hemisphere still harbor barbarity. The story runs that the fighting was between negro laborers and Indians or half-breed Indians. The provocation was an Indian girl, who had figured as the pawn in a dicing game.

Pan-America below the Rio Grande is a terra incognita to the average resident of the United States. We have learned lately some of the atrocities connected with life in Mexico, and the voodoism of the West Indian islands, with its horrible sacrifices, is part of the chronicles of terror. But what else goes on in the "back countries" of these semi-civilized states, where law is weak and its instruments corruptible, we may not more than surmise.

The sterner agencies of civilization have yet much to accomplish.

THE MEXICAN WAY.

What the world may expect in the way of wholesale brutalities should civil war in Mexico go much farther is illustrated in the dispatch in which Villa calmly announces he has executed two federal generals and thirty-two of their staff officers. The dispatches assign no reason for the deed, simply citing it to show the lengths bitterness has already reached.

No better or braver fighting man than Villa has been developed by Mexico since the earlier days of Porfirio Diaz. And it begins to look that Villa is adopting some of the methods of the general. Many of Diaz's victories before his hold on the country was secure were signalized by standing up the leaders of the opposing faction against an adobe wall and perforating them with bullets. He reasoned that violence and sudden death were the one arguments that appealed to Mexicans. At any rate, these were the weapons he employed in subjugate the country and later to keep it in subjection.

After all, that seems to be the Mexican way!

LITTLE GIRL CAUSES BITTER CONTENTION BEFORE PENDLETON

No child character in the sordid tales of wrecked loves that come into the crime report court has so won the sympathies of the court officials and the courtroom spectators as little Jewel Pate, the 7-year-old daughter of A. T. and Louise Pate, who was once more the cause of bitter contention between her parents in Judge Pendleton's court on Thursday.

Even the stern judge, who has had enough and more than enough of the sordid, was moved to exhaust the sources of all tears, was touched by the case of the pretty little girl, and reprimanded her mother for attempting the child to stay up until such hours as when grown-ups are, or should be, tucked away in bed.

Little Jewel is such a child and in such a plight as otherwise the court would not have allowed to pass without a story.

Her parents separated about two years ago. Since the day of separation they have waged an almost continuous fight for the little girl.

Awarded to Mrs. Pate.

The custody of little Jewel was awarded to Mrs. Pate, on the condition that the little girl was to see her father for several hours every two weeks.

Time after time, the father said in court Thursday, he went to the appointed place which was Palmer's drug store, on Peachtree street, near Cain, to see his little girl, but no little girl was there.

At length, he declared, he was forced to bring contempt proceedings against Mrs. Pate and ask the judge to force her to allow him to see his daughter.

The contempt proceedings were the cause before Judge Pendleton Thursday.

Did Not Push Case.

Judge Pendleton did not push the contempt case, but scored the mother for keeping the little girl up at dances and other functions until late at night. The judge declared the hours which this little tot is forced to keep were late than those which would consider necessary for his own health.

In closing the case, Judge Pendleton issued another order, to the effect that every Saturday morning at 10 o'clock little Jewel shall be taken to Palmer's drug store, where her father will meet her. She may stay with her father until 12:30 o'clock, and then must be taken back to Palmer's drug store and returned to her mother.

Mrs. Pate lives at 17 Currier street. A. T. Pate is a street car motorman.

Best Breeds for Georgia's "Scrub" Cattle Discussed By a Breeding Expert

An interesting aftermath to correspondence between B. W. Hunt, of Eatonton, and E. T. Comer, of Macon and Screven county, as to the advantages of pure-bred sires with which to "bring up" Georgia's "scrub" cattle, and published in The Constitution, is contained in correspondence from the C. O. Rutherford, cashier of the Bank of Hampton, Hampton, Georgia.

The farmers of Georgia should get much light on the subject.

Mr. Rutherford's Letter.

Mr. Rutherford's letter, which follows, is self-explanatory:

Editor Constitution: On May 15 there appeared the editorial page of your daily paper a communication headed "Transformed From Scrubs to 'Scrubs' Into Good Beef Cattle." As some statements therein were incorrect and misleading, I wrote a letter, consisting of Aberdeen-Angus cattle on our native scrubs, and as I am very much interested in the improvement of our cattle and from the best information obtainable from the most experienced breeders in the United States, I know that there have been quite a number of Aberdeen-Angus bulls sold to the southern people this spring for the purpose of crossing on native cattle.

For the information of the people of Georgia and the south, I beg to ask that you please print the enclosed letter.

Mr. John S. Goodwin, of Chicago, is one of the most experienced, most careful and most honorable breeders in the United States—and I might say the world—and has an international reputation.

The accompanying couple are just now beginning to try the Aberdeen-Angus cattle and as there is no doubt that they stand at the very top as purebreds and as crosses (I have the records before me), I am very anxious that the people be correctly informed and then go ahead.

J. O. RUTHERFORD.

Hampton, Ga.

Letter to Goodwin.

Mr. Rutherford's letter to Mr. Goodwin follows:

"John S. Goodwin.

"Chicago Ill.

"My dear Mr. Goodwin: I am enclosing a communication between Benjamin W. Hunt and E. T. Comer, both of this state, which appeared in The Constitution recently. May I—You see that Mr. Comer does not favor crossing Angus bulls on the native variety of breed. Now, knowing that you are one of the most successful breeders in the United States, I would appreciate very highly if you would do so kind as to write me what you know of crossing, say an Aberdeen-Angus bull on native scrubs.

"Sincerely yours,

"J. O. RUTHERFORD.

"Hampton, Ga."

Mr. Goodwin's Letter.

Replying to Mr. Rutherford, Mr. Goodwin takes issue with Messrs. Hunt and Comer on several points.

Mr. Comer's statement that the horns of the offspring of the Angus "black polled" cattle come out loose, in all sorts of shapes and growing at all sorts of angles, is not borne out by his personal experience, Mr. Goodwin says.

Continuing, Mr. Goodwin says:

"Ninety per cent of the half-blood Angus calves are born polled, and 10 per cent have a horn, but a few do have what are called 'scurs,' which have no horn core and are seldom over half an inch to an inch in length. The same statement is true of the next generation. The color in more than 90 per cent of the offspring of the Angus bull and Grade cows is black. There may be a little white in the forehead occasionally and some white on the underline, but the latter is permissible and is figured out.

"As to the best cross being a cross between the Shorthorn and the Angus breeds, I can only refer you to the records of the international, under which I have, in fourteen years, the Angus and the Angus Grade have won in the carload championship eleven times and all other breeds and crosses put together have won the grand championship three times. In 1909 the Angus cattle or the Grades won the grand championship at every fat-stock show held anywhere in the world, and this was done in competition with Herefords and Shorthorns.

"At the International the Angus have won championships on carload lots, eleven out of fourteen years, and car-case championship, thirteen out of fourteen years.

"This does not look very much as if some other cross was a better cross than the Angus.

"As a matter of fact, there is only one beef breed in the world, and that is the polled Aberdeen-Angus breed, and the records of the fat stock shows prove this conclusively."

DECENT BURIAL CAN'T BE GIVEN FULTON ANIMALS

Unless Fulton county is able to make some arrangement, which it doth not yet appear what it shall be, the faithful mules, horses watch dogs, spirited horses, kindly milch cows and other animals of meritorious life, upon deceasing, must meet the ignominious end of being deprived of decent burial.

Of course, this sad circumstance has some aspects touching upon sanitary conditions which will doubtless interest human beings enough to relieve the situation. But at present the situation is a very unrelieved state.

The reason for all this comes through the fact that J. A. Couch, who, for some twenty years, has made it his business to see that dead animals in Fulton county have a decent burying-away in a plot of ground in the neighborhood of Center Hill, has been forced to desist from this interesting service of the protest of the Center Hill and other folks of the vicinity.

The city, says John Jentzen, is in position to give deceased beasts within the city limits a grand and glorious funeral pyre at the city crematory.

But animals in Fulton county and outside the city limits are urged not to shuffle off this mortal coil until further arrangements can be made.

Dr. Wu Writes on Women.

"The intellect of the American women is equal, if not superior, to that of the men," says Dr. Wu Ting-fang, late Chinese minister to the United States, in "America Through the Spectacles of an Oriental Diplomat" (Stokes). "American women are good conversationalists, and many of them are eloquent and endowed with 'the gift of gab.' One of the cleverest and wittiest speeches I have ever heard was from a woman who spoke at a public meeting on a public question. They are also good writers, and their work shows profound insight and wide culture.

"Naturally such women cannot be expected to play second fiddle, or merely exercise great influence and when married 'they rule the roost.' It should be mentioned that their husbands submit to this change with pleasure and gladly obey their commands without feeling that they are servants.

"I would advise any husband who has complains of her husband being unruly and unpleasant to take a lesson from the ladies of America."

DAILY GRIST from the STATE'S POLITICAL GRIND

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE WILL INSIST ON VIEWS OF ALL CANDIDATES

The Anti-Saloon League of Georgia is going to insist on an expression from all candidates, for congress, for the United States senate and for governor on the amendment to the constitution of the United States outlawing the liquor traffic. On March 6 the following letter was written to all candidates for congress and the United States senate:

"The tremendous work of the last twenty years has resulted in 71 per cent of the area, a majority of the counties and 47,000,000 of the people of this country outlawing the liquor traffic. This work can never be really satisfactory while any part of the nation is under bondage. Therefore, a committee of 100 from all over the nation, under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon League of America, visited Washington in December last, and through their friends had the inclosed joint resolution introduced in both houses of congress proposing an amendment to the constitution of the United States outlawing the traffic.

"The object of this letter is to ask you the following question: Will you, if elected, work, vote and use all legitimate means to have this amendment submitted to the several state legislatures for their ratification or rejection? Your letter is being sent to all the candidates in your district, and together with answers or failures to an answer will be published in the papers for the information of the voters of the district on this subject. We do not ask that you personally favor the amendment, but that you will clearly refer the question to the several states to be dealt with as they see fit. Won't you kindly favor us at least it by card? We must publish result of this correspondence without delay. Kindly answer.

A similar letter has been written to gubernatorial candidates.

Up to the present time only seven candidates for congress have replied. No answers from senatorial candidates have come in, nor have the gubernatorial candidates as yet replied.

However, the Anti-Saloon League is going to insist on every candidate committing himself. The letters already sent out will be followed by other letters and circulars, and if candidates do not state where they stand on prohibition it will not be the fault of the Anti-Saloon League people. Members of the league want to know just where every candidate stands before they indorse or vote for him and nothing short of an answer, one way or another, will satisfy them.

One of the most interesting of the replies received was from Attorney General Terrell. The letter was given to the Constitution by the secretary of the league, but the name of the candidate is omitted. He says:

Always Voted for Prohibition.

"Some days ago I received a communication signed by you and several others touching an amendment to the constitution about prohibition. I have had so much work to do I have had no time to attend to it, but it is a little strange to me that you, and others who know me in Georgia, should find it necessary to write to me on that subject. I have no doubt I have voted for more prohibition dinners than any preacher in Georgia.

"I have not had time to look into the Hobson proposition; it is not before my committee and I haven't had time to read half of the bills before my committee yet. It is a task equal to the work of his own committee he does pretty well.

"Whenever the committee before which that proposition is pending reports it to the house I shall then look into the subject and try to do right about it, but just what I will say or do now and what will be right in the premises I am unable to say, except that I have no reason to change my life-long conviction and action on every propen occasion against the liquor traffic, but as a practical man I am constrained to call your attention to the fact that while it may be important for Georgia to take up the task of relieving the other states of the Union, the correct and pertinent work for Georgians to do right now is to suppress the illicit traffic. The burning question in Georgia seems to me is the enforcement of the law. The statement that prohibition went prohibit is hackneyed and is true only in one sense, and that is it is not enforced; if it is enforced it will prohibit. I further believe that it is enforced and is one successful as the law against murder, larceny, fornication, cheating and swindling or any other of those forbidden crimes, but its effects are less easily concealed; its abuses are more apparent, and, therefore, more readily subject to criminal effect; in fact, it would be more easily enforced than any of the others. The federal government has no difficulty in finding the blind tigers and making them pay the federal revenue tax, yet people and the state officers and the state officers are incompetent to catch these blind tigers like federal officers have an opportunity to do. I am not willing to extend the scope of prohibition as well as to do locally what the state officers could and should do.

"I am writing thus fully to you because you are my friend—I am not writing anything for publication. I am too busy with my town committee, and it would be impertinent for me to interfere with the business of other committees, but I am writing this letter to you because you are my friend. The causes of righteousness and temperance are so often seized upon for political purposes that I abhor the idea—I go ahead honestly and practically and do my duty as I come to it. I have no objection to your showing this letter to any of your brethren who are in advocacy of prohibition except, but I don't desire that it be published. The fact that I have voted some twenty-five or thirty times in my life for prohibition seems to me ought to be sufficient proof of my position without further professions or protestations.

Hon. J. W. Overstreet, of the first district, writes:

"I am in receipt of your recent letter asking me if I am elected to congress will I work, vote for and use all legitimate means to have the amendment to the several states legislatures for their ratification or rejection, and therefore I can answer your question affirmatively.

Hon. Frank Park, of the second:

Replying to your letter of March 30, signed by yourself and other officers of the Anti-Saloon league, I say that I will support actively and use all legitimate means to have the proposed amendment to the constitution of the United States outlawing the liquor traffic submitted to the several state legislatures for ratification or rejection. I am in favor of restricting human activities, but no effort will be made to eliminate from the lives of men, their wives and children the few remaining pleasures and fortune and unhappiness that come from the intemperate use of strong drink. My experience on the bench convinces me that not less than 90 per cent of the serious crimes are committed from the intemperate use of strong drink and that not less than 80 per cent of the divorces originate from the same cause.

On the Moral Side.

Hon. William Schley Howard, of the fifth:

I am in receipt of your circular letter under date of April 30, which is just to hand.

Since I have been in public life—fourteen years—I have always been on the moral side of every question. I have not given any thought or consideration to the resolution seeking to submit to the several states a proposed amendment to the constitution of the United States prohibiting the manufacture, sale and importation of intoxicating liquors. If it supports the Webb bill, which, if properly enforced, is a great step forward, but I have not made up my mind as to the effect of this proposed resolution and am not in position to say whether I will support it or not, although my impulses lean toward its support.

My reason for not being more positive than I am is not because I want to evade this question, but because I want to familiarize myself with the situation, as I have never made a promise since I have been in public life that I have not kept."

Hon. S. J. Tribble, of the eighth:

Your letter in regard to prohibition received. I am glad to have this expression from you. Same will have due and careful consideration.

Hon. Dudley M. Hughes, of the twelfth:

Replying to letter signed by yourself and other officers of the Georgia Anti-Saloon League, of March 26, which I received April 10, I will state that I have always voted for prohibition in Georgia, have supported the Webb bill in congress and expect to continue to support measures which, I think, will aid the cause of prohibition.

Hon. Charles G. Edwards, of the first:

Prohibition, in my opinion, being a question for each state to settle for itself, and being an ardent believer in 'states' rights,' I do not favor the Hobson resolution, but should be referred to the various states for such action as the people see fit to take, and I will, therefore, support such a movement.

I do not care to say: "I do not favor you personally favor the amendment, but that you will vote to refer the question to the several states to be dealt with as they see fit. Won't you kindly favor us at least it by card?" I am willing, and is not to the merit of the amendment, as I undertake to express my opinion, at the time, upon the amendment, which if referred to the several states will be a question for the congress, but would become a matter to be passed upon by the legislatures of the various states.

HUGH DORSEY CAN SWEEP THE STATE. SAYS R. H. DEAN, OF GAINESVILLE

Hon. R. H. Dean, of Gainesville, was here Thursday in Atlanta. In speaking of the Hugh Dorsey boom, he said:

"As Hugh Dorsey has to do is to write a brief statement to the effect that he favors the enforcement of prohibition, delays in criminal cases, favors more adequate laws to convict perjurers and persons guilty of defalcation, and he can sweep the state. He is too busy to engage in a personal campaign, but that he is in the race for governor. Such a communication would be received in Hall county Thursday signed by 149 persons urging him to make the race. A similar communication was received from Appling county.

GOVERNOR SLATON SPENDS THE DAY AT AMERICUS CHAUTAUQUA

Governor John M. Slaton spent yesterday in Americus, where he went to address the chautauqua. Thousands of answers are coming in from persons who have been appointed on his state-wide campaign committee and his friends are extremely gratified at the high character of the letters thus far.

ATTORNEY GENERAL WARREN GRICE HARD AT WORK ON DUCKTOWN CASE

Attorney General Warren Grice has been served with notice that depositions will immediately be taken in the famous Ducktown Sulphur, Copper and Iron company case, which has been in litigation for months.

When Attorney General Thomas S. Felder resigned to make the race for the United States senate it became necessary for Mr. Grice to familiarize himself with the details of the case. The depositions of fully 1,000 persons will have to be taken, and this means that Mr. Grice will have his hands full during the next ten weeks.

HALL COUNTY IS VERY STRONG IN SUPPORT OF SOLICITOR DORSEY

Gainesville, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—The feeling as expressed in Hall's political situation is to the effect that the candidacy of Hugh M. Dorsey, of Fulton county, announce his candidacy for governor he will carry the county by a handsome majority. Solicitor Dorsey's record as an able lawyer and a man of high character and moral integrity has made for him not only friends in Gainesville, but all over the county, and it is said by many of the ablest and strongest here that he would carry the county by the biggest majority ever rolled up in bloody old Hall county. From his initiation in the solicitorship of Fulton county his record has been closely watched, and he has measured up to the standard.

Bankers Indorse Foote For Class A Director

The bankers of Mississippi appear to be solid for E. N. Foote, active vice president of the First National Bank of Hattiesburg, Miss., for the position of Class A director in the reserve bank No. 6, of which Atlanta is headquarters.

Not only is Mr. Foote being backed by the Mississippi bankers, but at a meeting held day before yesterday at Gulfport, Miss., representatives from that state and quite a number from Alabama and Louisiana, Mr. Koote was enthusiastically indorsed for one of the three Class C directors, F. G. Saunders, of New Orleans, being suggested for Class B director.

Mr. Foote is well-known in Atlanta and has been several times a member of the executive council of the American Bankers' association.

The Hattiesburg News says of his candidacy:

"E. N. Foote, active vice president of the First National Bank of Commerce, of this city, and the genius of that large institution, at the solicitation and upon advice of friends all over the state, allowed, in this and other states, has consented to become a candidate for the office of director of the Central Reserve bank of this district, to be located in Atlanta. The News gives its very cordial indorsement to Mr. Foote's candidacy. We do not believe there is a better qualified man in the state for the place, and believe he is one who has given more intelligent study to the new banking law, and who will give more intelligent execution of that law if he is placed in the responsible position of director of one of the regional banks. And The News says this without any local or personal bias. If he too important a position to give support to a man simply because of personal friendship, and the directors here are considering the question from a purely business standpoint, as they should, if you please, when we say that in our candid judgment Mr. Foote is the best man that can be found for the place than Frank W. Fote."

Interesting People.

(From The Chicago News.)

Mrs. Catharine Gore, who wrote seventy novels between 1824 and 1861, worked on a strange plan. When J. R. Planche visited Paris in the early thirties, Gore left with the Place Vendome writing novels, plays, articles for magazines—almost every description of literature demanded from her intelligible pen. He says: "How do you manage it?" I asked her. 'I receive, as you know, a few friends at dinner every evening. They leave me at 10 or 11, when I retire to my room and write till 2 or 3 in the morning. Then I go to bed till eight, have my breakfast, after which I drive, get and pay visits, entertain at dinner, go to the theater, as soon as my friends have departed I go to work all night again.'"

Dante, the great centenarian English clergyman, the Rev. Philip Carlyon, who was born a weakling, recalls the case of the late Admiral Keppel of the British navy, a sickly nonogenarian, for whose burial in the garden of the house where he was born preparations were made within a few days of his birth. The spark of life was flickering on the verge of extinction when the nurse, thought it might be saved—and the tiny weakling lived to become one of the most vigorous of British seamen.

Carmen Sylva (queen of Roumania) gives a pleasing description of the German prince of Wied, who is to be the first king of Albania. He is a lover of reading. RAILWAY MONOPOLY UNDER U. S. CONTROL FAVORED BY MELLEN

Mellen Says All a Railroad Can Do at Present Is to Doff Hat to Some Government Official.

DEAL WITH C. W. MORSE BLOCKED BY ROOSEVELT

The Colonel, Who Was Then President, Didn't Like Morse — Millions to Aldrich for Trolley Lines.

Washington, May 21.—An absolute monopoly of transportation under government regulations and control, was suggested by Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New Haven railroad, to the interstate commerce commission today, as a solution of the American railroad problem. "To get efficiency and economy," declared Mr. Mellen, "there must be a monopoly, and that monopoly is certain to be the United States government."

Later Mr. Mellen remarked, "Every time a railroad official comes to Washington he has to take off his hat to some government official."

Mr. Mellen appeared to have recovered entirely from his fatigue of yesterday, when he appeared before the commission today in response to his testimony. He responded to interrogatories fired at him by Chief Counsel Joseph W. Folk promptly, never hesitating a second for a word. He told at length the story of his steamship transactions with Charles W. Morse.

Mellen Saw Roosevelt.

Concerning them, Mr. Mellen explained he felt it desirable to confer with Colonel Roosevelt, then president of the United States. He told the president he had received an offer of $30,000,000 from Morse for the New Haven steamship holdings and felt inclined to accept it, because thus the New Haven would be able to turn the property into cash. Mr. Roosevelt, he said, apparently was anxious that Morse should be checked in his ambition to acquire a monopoly of steamship lines, and urged Mr. Mellen not to sell.

Mr. Mellen said at that time he was apprehensive of the enactment of a law by congress to prevent railroads from owning or controlling water lines, but he was assured by Mr. Roosevelt that, so long as the law remained as it then was, the New Haven need have no fear about its water-line holdings.

As to the acquisition of New England trolley lines, Mr. Mellen said he had proceeded on the theory that transportation might better be handled on electric lines than on steam roads. He had been convinced that the diversion of much of the traffic of steam roads to electric lines would be more economical, rates lower, and service generally more satisfactory to the public.

Money to Aid Republicans.

Late in the day the witness' attention again was directed to campaign contributions made by the New Haven to the republican national committee of 1904 and 1908. He reiterated statements he previously had made.

When asked why he relinquished the presidency of the New Haven, Mr. Mellen said he "practically was fired."

Questioned by Mr. Folk as to his present business relations, Mr. Mellen said:

"I have not a dollar's interest today in the New Haven. I disposed of all my stock. I retain a little interest yet in the Boston and Maine and in the Ontario and Western."

"Why did you personally favor the consolidation of the trolleys with the New Haven?"

"Because consolidation would result in better service, lower rates and greater satisfaction to the public. I believe the public is better served by a monopoly of transportation than in any other way. I think, however, that the monopoly should be controlled and regulated by the government."

Might Have Gone to Heaven.

"What do you think railroads generally are doing about the matter?"

"I know of nothing a railroad can do now except take off its hat to some government official."

"If Mr. Morgan had not died, how far would you have gone in this dream of consolidation?"

"To heaven, I suppose."

"Didn't Morgan have more power than any state government under which you operated?"

"He never tried to exercise any such power."

"He was in control of the New England situation?"

"I can best answer that by quoting the old saying, 'When McGregor sits, there is room at the head of the table.'"

"What would the meetings of the directors of the New Haven have been like without Mr. Morgan?"

"About as inane as a lot of cows without a bull."

Mr. Mellen said he was opposed to the New Haven holding and operating steamship lines.

"I always was against the plan. I was afraid of disasters on these tinder boxes."

Mr. Mellen, after testifying regarding an offer of $12,000,000 made by Charles W. Morse for the purchase of steamships owned by the New Haven, said he came to Washington and consulted President Roosevelt in regard to the matter.

Roosevelt Shocked Morse.

"Mr. Morse," he said, "had acquired practical control of nearly all the steamlines of the Atlantic coast. He wanted our holdings and I finally got a definite offer of $20,000,000 from him. I wanted to sell, but I was a great admirer of President Roosevelt and I thought a matter of that kind ought to be laid before the president of the United States. I saw him and he was anxious apparently that Morse should be checked in his acquisition of control of steamer lines. He urged me not to sell.

"I told Mr. Roosevelt that as it was expected the bill being prepared by Herbert Knox Smith, commissioner of corporations, would contain a clause preventing railroads from owning steamships, it would be to our advantage to accept the Morse offer.

"He told me that I was doubtful that we ought to turn down the proposition when by it we could turn our property into cash.

"Herbert Knox Smith and Commissioners Prouty and Knapp were present, having been called in by Mr. Roosevelt. Mr. Roosevelt told me, 'I can only promise you, Mr. Mellen, for myself that I felt you do not sell your lines I will promise you so far as I am concerned, while the law remains as it is, your full experience no trouble from me in your ownership of what you now have.'"

Secret Roosevelt Kept Faith.

"When was the bill put in by Attorney General Bonaparte?"

"I think in 1907."

"Why was the provision preventing the railroads from owning steamers left out?"

"I imagine it was because Mr. Roosevelt kept faith with me."

When Mr. Mellen took the stand, Mr. Folk, taking up the acquisition of the Rhode Island trolleys, asked Mr. Mellen:

"What assurance did Senator Aldrich give you to be transmitted to the New Haven directors?"

"I do not remember any," Mr. Mellen replied.

Mr. Mellen stated that his impression was that when Mr. Aldrich came to him at Stockbridge, he made some allusion to resuming negotiations for the acquisition of the Rhode Island trolleys.

Mr. Mellen further said that the United Gas and Improvement company refused to separate the Connecticut and Rhode Island trolleys. The intimation was that the New Haven had to take the properties in both states in order to get the Rhode Island trolleys.

"Was the deficit that resulted from the purchase of the Rhode Island trolleys ever been made up?" Mr. Folk asked.

"No, but I am confident it will be," said Mr. Mellen.

"So you paid $19,000,000 or $20,000,000 for property worth about $8,000,000?"

"I do not accept your valuation of $8,000,000."

"How do you estimate the value in a case like that?"

"When I value a purchase I consider its prospective value, what it ultimately will be worth."

From One Pocket to Another.

In explaining the purchase of the Rhode Island trolleys, Mr. Mellen said that the price paid was in debenture of the Rhode Island Security company, securities guaranteed by the New Haven railroad.

"As this was an inter-company transaction," said Mr. Mellen, "the price was perfectly immaterial. It simply was the passing of securities between the New Haven and its various subsidiaries. It was the changing of assets from one pocket to another."

Mr. Mellen declared in the Rhode Island transaction he was assisted by various members of the board of directors.

"Was there influence exerted to induce you to acquire these trolley lines?" asked Mr. Folk.

"I never have known," responded Mr. Mellen, "a large transportation matter that was not backed by influence. The fact is that in the acquisition of these electric lines, I was working toward a great principle. Sooner or later, I felt, transportation was to be electricity. I am still confident that my theory was right."

"Do you think control of that kind fair to the public?"

"The control must be such as was contemplated in New England or it must be in the hands of the government," answered Mr. Mellen with emphasis.

"You regard control by one man as a good thing?"

"That is a misnomer. No one man could control it. I had more business when I was president of the New Haven at a salary of $40,000, than when I was a clerk at $50 a month."

"You main force was Mr. Morgan, was it not?"

Morgan Had the Brains.

"The great force in the world is brains and Mr. Morgan had them," replied Mr. Mellen.

"Then control would have gone to one man." Mr. Folk asked.

"If his brains controlled the situation he had a right to that control. Hadn't you, in the light of these events, changed your views?"

"Mr. Morgan's death changed the situation."

In response to a question regarding the acquisition of certain Massachusetts trolley lines, Mr. Mellen said:

"My interest in the Massachusetts trolleys was personal. I bought them myself and paid for them with my own money. I would have lost money if the stock had gone down. It went up and I made money. I made a total of $23,500."

Concerning the control of the Joy Steamship Line by the New Haven, Mr. Mellen said:

"I didn't think it necessary to enlighten the general public regarding the purchase of the Joy line. It was going to compete with the New Haven and independent line."

"What were the reasons for maintaining secrecy concerning the acquisition of the Maine Steamship company?"

"I suppose," responded Mr. Mellen, "it was a desire to keep the matter quiet." The witness smiled broadly. Mr. Mellen said that the Joy line of Boston freight line steamers.

"I wanted to say that I was not $250,000 in cash. I am the only man living who ever got $1 out of C. W. Morse in a business transaction."

Morse Threatened Mellen.

"Did Stevens not tell you on November 26, 1907, that Charles W. Morse would proceed against you if the Joy line were not bought back?" asked Mr. Folk.

"I think I remember that. I never paid a cent to prevent Morse from taking action."

Mr. Mellen said that the Mallory line was finally sold to the New Haven for the purchase of the Boston line steamships in funds and they threatened to bring suit to recover this diverted money.

"What amount did the Mallory line threaten to sue you for?"

"I don't recall. I heard lots of such threats and paid little heed to them. They fell. I understood that Morse had used their funds and they were trying to get their funds. I simply told 'em to follow the funds and do as they liked."

"What was the Metropolitan Steamship company, or New Jersey?" Mr. Folk asked.

"I think it was the company that owned the Harvard and the Yale."

"Did you have a hand in the New Haven interested in the Metropolitan?"

"Yes, but I turned down the proposition. I went to Europe. I met Frisco, and a Mr. McGovern, of New York."

"Didn't you serve on the Metropolitan board of directors?"

Morgan Didn't Like Morse.

"I laid the matter before my people and they opposed it. I was not then a director of the steamship line. I then insisted that my name be withdrawn. Mr. Morgan said that if I had anything to do with Morse I must break with him. I preferred to break with Morse."

A series of questions were asked by Mr. Folk to develop Andrew Carnegie's acquisition of and connection with various New England steamship lines. Some lines were acquired and almost immediately sold. Mr. Mellen denied that any of the lines were ever bought merely as speculations.

Referring to the time when Mr. Merchants and Miners' line, Mr. Mellen said:

"Our purpose in obtaining this line was to get into coastwise trade to southern states."

A letter from Mr. Mellen to Michael Janks, of Baltimore, president of the Merchants and Miners, was offered by Mr. Folk. This letter showed Mr. Janks had in mind a mortgage bond by which a line of steamers could be separated from New England points to Galveston through the Panama canal. Mr. Mellen said in the letter he felt the proposed line could be operated for a time at least only at a loss, and he hesitated, therefore, to impose the line upon the Merchants and Miners' line for the benefit of the New Haven road.

"Now, what was done about that proposition?" asked Mr. Folk.

"The Panama canal act passed by the congress responded Mr. Mellen, prohibited railroads from owning and operating steamship lines. The enactment of that law caused the death of our proposition while it was in 'a-borning'."

Mr. Mellen repeated testimony given by him before Commissioner Prouty in Boston about a year ago regarding $102,000 profit he made on the sale of New Haven stock that was turned over to him to be put on the market so that it could be listed on the New York stock exchange.

Money for G. O. P. Campaign.

"And that was the famous $100,000 that I gave to republican campaign funds," added Mr. Mellen. "The money was sent to Cornelius N. Bliss."

"Did Mr. Meyer have anything to do with getting this money?" asked Mr. Folk.

"He had nothing to do with receiving or soliciting it. I want to say right here that $140,000 of that was my money. I sold the stock, and made a fortune in handling it so that it made a profit. Because of being president of the road I would not take the money and told the directors so. They authorized me to make the political contribution. At that time there was no legal or ethical objection to corporations making political contributions.

Mr. Folk showed Mr. Mellen a memorandum indicating the payment of money as campaign contributions. Mr. Mellen explained that memorandum was said Mr. Mellen. "It was prepared by Mr. Kochersperger, in charge of the finances of the New Haven. I wanted to know what had been paid in political contributions in other years. That memorandum shows that in the Mc-Kinley campaign four years previously $10,000 had been contributed. Based on that, I made the same contribution to the campaign of 1904. I have nothing personally of the McKinley contribution. At that time I was pursuing my peaceful way as president of the Northern Pacific."

"According to this memorandum then" insisted Mr. Folk, "the records of the New Haven, which do not show this contribution, are false?"

"You say that, I do not. You are at liberty to form your own conclusion."

Mellen Fired From New Haven.

"Under what circumstances did you leave the New Haven?"

"I was practically fired," replied Mr. Mellen. He said it was intimated by a man close to the directors that a change was considered desirable.

"As I wanted to change myself," continued Mr. Mellen, "I welcomed the suggestion."

Mr. Mellen testified that a contract was offered him, under the terms of which the New Haven was to retain his services, in an unofficial capacity, to give advice, etc., for five years at an annual salary of $10,000.

"Later," he said, "two members of the committee that had arranged for my retirement called on me and said the matter of compensation was causing embarrassment, and asked me if I would relieve them of this. I then practically made them a present of the $150,000."

Questioned more in detail as to his salary as president of the New Haven, Mr. Mellen said that at the time of his retirement it was $44,000 a year.

"I started at $6,000," he said, "and later this was raised to $40,000. When the salaries of all employees was cut 10 per cent I cut myself to $54,000."

He added that he received at the time of his retirement a lump sum of $60,000 from the Boston and Maine, acting as president of that road three years, and was given in like manner $40,000 by the Maine Central.

"Who was the man that took up with you the question of your retirement?" asked Mr. Folk.

"He was a member of the board of directors."

Mr. Mellen stated that when he became a director he bought 100 shares of the New Haven at 180.

"What was the value of these shares at the time of your retirement?"

"About par."

Reasons for Wreck of Road.

Asked to give the reasons for the demoralization of the road, Mr. Mellen said that it was principally due to a large floating debt, which was caused in great measure by the West Chester transactions, the Boston and Maine purchase, bad investments, the general feeling in New England, and the large expense of improvements to the Grand Central station.

Mr. Mellen said that he attended many of the stockholders' meetings and that little interest was shown in the financial transactions of the road by the holders of its stock. He said he often had to get up and talk just to use up time. The attendance, he said, was generally only about one hundred.

"Did the people of New England show any opposition to the general consolidation plans you have spoken of?"

"Not outside of Boston."

"What was done in Boston?"

"Well, you know, they threw the tea overboard and history repeated itself. Boston 'dumped' everything. Boston is the home of the 'anti'."

"Boston people are thinking people, are they not?" asked Mr. Folk.

"Yes, but they do not think as other people think."

"What was the reason of the unpopularity of the New Haven?"

"The New Haven was a monopoly from its inception. For years it had been the general impression that it controlled the situation in Connecticut and she load of sentiment coming down from the old time stage coach days removed. I believe that the things done by the New Haven, if they had been done by a more popular concern, would have been approved.

"Did you have any relations with public officials?"

"I always tried hard to keep away from them. And I want to say there is not as much effort on the part of railroads to have relations with elective officials as there is on the part of those officials to have relations with the railroads. I think it an absolutely unscrupulous press were at the head of a large railroad and had the knowledge, ability and wherewithal, he could accomplish almost anything. To get efficiency and economy there must be a monopoly, and that monopoly is certain to be the United States government."

His Salary of $80,000 Too Much.

"Do you think your salary of $80,000 was too much?"

"No, indeed. I think $75,000 is enough for any railroad president and if he hasn't the ability to live on that he ought to go somewhere else."

"Why didn't you start that reform yourself?"

"Well, I thought I was entitled to what others were getting when I was given the $80,000. I never asked for the raise to $80,000 and even protested against it."

Mr. Mellen said he firmly believed that Mr. Morgan, had he lived, could have raised one hundred dollars. He declared that it would take $100,000,000 to do it.

"In the legislative work did you not have agents in different states?"

"Yes, we had some."

Mr. Mellen said that General Grayton was the legislative agent in Rhode Island and to the best of his recollection he was paid $6,000 or $7,000 a year.

He said that the money used in Rhode Island generally was to help in electing candidates for office.

"What did Grayton do for you in return for this $6,000 or $7,000 a year?"

"The money was not so much for what he did as to prevent him from doing certain things. He wanted to be let alone."

"General Brayton was called the blind boss of Rhode Island, was he not?"

"Yes."

"Did you ask for any explanation?"

"Comparatively none."

Mr. Mellen said that in Connecticut, Mr. Mellen said, was "J. Henry Rhorback."

Who looked after the interests in New York?"

"Probably did most of that myself. Our interests there were not so very large. The New York corporations already looked after things that affected us, and we had under their shadow."

The meeting was adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Mr. Folk announcing that he had only a few more questions to put to Mr. Mellen.

SEABOARD LINE TIED UP BY BURNING OF TRESTLE

Americus, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—All schedules upon this division of the Seaboard are disarranged this afternoon by the burning of Flint river trestle, twenty miles east of Americus.

The fire started this morning and nearly a hundred feet of the trestle there has been destroyed. The fire was extinguished late this afternoon and a temporary structure will permit passage of passenger trains tonight or early tomorrow morning.

Firemen Make Record.

Cordele, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—The Cordele fire department made a record of responding to three alarms within less than a day's time yesterday. Each of the fires was in the negro residence section and three houses were burned, entailing a loss of several thousand dollars.

TANGO IN MACON STREET ENDS GEORGIA JUBILEE

Historical Pageant and Better Babies' Contest Also Feature Day.

Macon, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—The first annual Georgia jubilee came to a close here tonight with a masquerade tango party on Cherry street, right in the heart of the business district of the city. Society was out in force, and occupied specially-constructed boxes erected on the edge of the sidewalks. Several hundred persons, all masked, participated in the dancing. Two bands furnished music.

The historical pageant showing the attack and defense of Fort Hawkins was the big event of the day. 12,000 people gathering at Coleman's Hill to witness it. The Indian braves, headed by Tecumseh, the settlers and their wives and children, the Indian squaws and papooses and the soldiers were shown in the costume of 100 years ago. Following the pageant the school children gave a playground festival on the Mulberry street parks.

In the baby bathing contest, which closed today, James D. McLucas, jr., 1817 Second street, the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James D. McLucas, was awarded a gold medal for being a perfect baby. In the better babies contests held throughout the United States, two 100,000 babies have been tested, only thirteen have been found to be perfect. One perfect son out of the 104 examined in Macon is a good record, says Miss Emma Stone Richardson, of New York, in charge of the contest.

Alfred, Robert and Richard Cheatham, scoring 97.5 and 98.5 per cent, were given bronze medals for being the best twins entered.

The best girl entered was Lila Louise Hatcher, aged 8 months, of Log Cabin Heights, scoring 98.5 per cent. The prize for the best rural baby, a bronze medal, went to Carlyn Winston Vance, aged 20 months, on a score of 98.5.

Tift Packing House.

Tifton, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—The packing house of the Tift County Truck Growers' association opened for business Monday. Mr. W. S. Harlan, manager, in charge. Every day this week tank cars have been brought to the packing house and has been promptly graded, packed and shipped. Cucumbers and Irish potatoes are practically all the truck moving out with a few squashes and beans.

HE FORCIBLY OPERATED ON WIFE'S ASSAILANT

Greensburg, Pa., May 21.—Dr. Martin E. Griffith, of Monessen, Pa., was convicted here today of committing a misdemeanor in having caused the death of William J. Robinson, a Pittsburg music teacher.

Testimony for the defense was that Dr. Griffith had forcibly operated on Robinson when he alleged had assaulted Mrs. Griffith in her home.

Commission Enjoined.

Cordele, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—By the verdict of a jury in Crisp superior court yesterday afternoon the Cordele bond commission is permanently enjoined from locating a ward school on a site selected by them for the erection of a school for Northern Heights, for which bonds in the amount of $15,000 were voted about two years ago. Citizens brought the suit against the commission on the ground that the site selected by them was not included in the original Northern Heights.

MOTORCYCLES RACE MARATHON TONIGHT

Six-Cylinder Auto to Circle Track—Both Craig, of The Constitution, to Be Mechanician.

Several very attractive features have been arranged by the management of the local Motordrome for the fans this day night, and plenty of thrills are promised those that attend.

Standing out in front of the daring things that will be pulled off by the management will be the attempt by W. O. Edgar to ride his big six-cylinder Marmon around the track. When it is considered that at least sixty-five miles per hour must be developed by Edgar before he can hope to get on the track, it can be seen that this is certainly a dare-devil attempt on the part of Mr. Edgar. Edgar will also carry a mechanician with him on his hair-raising ride, and it will be Britt Craig, of The Constitution, also a very dare-devilish young man.

There will be the 25-mile Marathon race that will be pulled off. The entrance that will be accepted this race is 26 miles and 385 yards, a total of 100 laps that the riders will have to make. All of the ten riders that are at the track now will appear in this race.

The evening's entertainment will open with a race against time by Morty Graves, riding an eight-valve Indian. Graves will attempt to negotiate his one world's record for one mile, which is at the rate of 94½ miles an hour.

The first event will start promptly at 8 o'clock, and the races will be pulled off in fast order from then on.

STATE PREP TRACK MEET AT TECH TODAY

The first Georgia state interscholastic track meet ever held in Atlanta will be on the afternoon at Grant field under the direction of the athletic authorities of Georgia Tech.

Starting promptly at 3:30 o'clock, seven qualifying events will be held. They are as follows: 100-yard dash, shot put, 220-yard dash, high jump, 440-yard dash, broad jump, high hurdles.

The other events that will be held Saturday afternoon, besides the finals in the events above, are as follows: One-mile, Half-mile run, pole vault, hammer throw, Marcard dash, mile run and the relay race.

The schools that will be represented in the meet are as follows: Second District A. & M. School, Second District A. & M. Tennis High school, Boys' High, Grand Rapids and the Ninth District A. & M. School. In each event the high number of points will receive a silver loving cup.

DEAN OF GOLFERS STILL WINNING IN METROPOLITAN

Englewood, N. J., May 21.—At the conclusion of the second round of the metropolitan amateur golf championship tournament today all favorites were still in the running. Jerome D. Travers, formerly of Yale, were among the surviving eight. Travers defeated Davis in the morning defeated Y. M. Rhett, Garden City, 3 up to play, and this afternoon won from Gardiner White, 5 and 4. Travers has now played out the bye holes for a card of 76, which equals the best score made there in so far in the tourney.

Oswald Kirby also won both of his matches today, but in the second he was carried to an extra hole by C. E. Vanvleck, of Baltimore.

Findlay S. Douglas, Apawamis, is another promising candidate for the championship.

George V. Brokaw, the Garden City expert, and Max R. Marston, of Baltimore, last year's eastern interscholastic champions, also are considered to have good chances on their part of the survivors are Gilman F. Tiffany, of Powelton, Pa.; Roy L. Webb, of the local club, and Percy Pratt, of the New York Golf club.

Pelicans Swamp Crackers; Price Wild and Hit Hard; Efird Shows Good Form

By Sam L. Gilbert.

New Orleans, La., May 21.—(Special.) The Pelicans got to Gil Price in the third and fourth innings and when the dust had cleared ten runs were chalked up on the scoreboard.

Efird went to the mound and pitched but good ball generally, but as Buck Weaver pitched fairly well it was a case for the Pelicans to scrunch the crippled Crackers, 11 to 7.

Price was given a three-run lead to rest upon in the second inning when a pass to Long, Hollocher's scratch hit, Jennings' sacrifice and Efird's sacrifice fly flung a tally across the plate. He scored appreciated it very little, it appeared, for after blanking the Birds of Slim and Arthur for a single he ran into a rough house in the third and rode in the fourth.

Nolty Bob Higgins fractured the cocoanut when he pitched Starr in with no center, and Weaver sacrificed Hendrix, tripled and when Starr inflicted our boys had Price's measure. Weaver's two runs and tally by Higgins.

He scaled Sylvester on the shin and then made a wild pitch. He passed Slim and Arthur for a single brought in the pinked one.

Price Is All but Uniform.

The league leaders fairly slaughtered Price in the fourth and stole every moniker from Manch. Frisco Bob himself afterward to see whether they could not scrounge his pretty gray uniform, but the five burglaries committed were all in vain. Price, however, is steady, believe us, and it all happened after two were down.

Barbara sifted to Holland to start. Then Higgins singled and Weaver raised to Wichnow. Wild pitch helped Higgins to second. Hendrix walked after a foul and Higgins made a daring double steal. McConnell bounced Starr's roller and Kircher forced Starr on first and Hendrix on third did another steal pitch, the latter getting home when Jennings held the ball helplessly after pulling down Manch's high throw.

Sylvester was again bumped by the ball and Manch scooped Starr in with a lulu. Lindsay's three-bagger sent in two and after a pass to Holland he scored purloined second. Barbara's safe shot tallied a couple more.

Efird celebrated his debut on the hill at this stage by counting a wild pitch with grace, but after McConnell's second muscles had given Higgins life. He scored on Weaver's single and Kircher's fourth. Higgins loafed laughingly home with the second and third.

A double by Sylvester and Norther's single gave New Orleans a final run in the sixth.

Chance Found Both.

The Crackers clustered up the bases in the fourth on a hit and two passed balls, but Manch fouled out to Sylvester. McConnell's single and Kircher's double in the seventh failed to produce results, and Wichnowe's high one to Northen was the finale.

The Birds had better luck in the eighth, when Holland doubled and scored on an infield single. Barbara walked and Manch doubled, scoring Jennings.

Only three Crackers batted in the ninth, and Wichnowe, batting for them, whiffed for the second time of the day. Holland attempted to make his double to steal. Jennings, Holland and Kircher did most of the hitting for the visitors, and Hendrix made both of his hits and three swipes, was the big beat for the Birds.

Flanagan's illness hurts the team. He is confined to the hotel by a bad attack, and has fever. Holland did very well at third, and Kircher filled Flanagan's boots nobly at that.

The two clubs play a round before the game for October Jones was badly beaned during batting practice, and the Birds are looking for a pitcher to-day. Joe wound a bandkerchief around his head, and though he

Hanlon Springs Surprise On Atlanta Boxing Fans; Stops Perry In Third

Eddie Hanlon, the local welterweight, treated Atlanta boxing fans to the biggest surprise that they have ever had last night when he slipped across a sleep wallop to the jaw of Jimmy Perry, of Pittsburg, in the third round of their scheduled ten-round bout at the Orpheum theater.

Perry ruled as the favorite before the bout, and the sports throughout the city were betting on him, while Hanlon's confident were they that many did not go to the bout, expecting it to be too one-sided.

That Terry Nelson, Billy Hooper and Jake Abel, boys who have boxed with Perry, had the right end when they announced before the battle that Hanlon was the only unmolested boy, is evidenced by the result.

They had scored with Hanlon and they were in position to know how much he had improved. Billy Lolz, Hanlon's manager, visited The Constitution office Wednesday night and predicted that his man would not only stop Perry, but he would surprise local boxing critics.

For once we are forced to admit that Hanlon handed us a big surprise package as anyone else. We acknowledge that we were wrong. We couldn't see Hanlon's chances with a telescope, and we hasten to admit our error this early.

It was a right uppercut with everything that Hanlon possessed behind it that put the favorite away for good and for all. It landed flush on the point of the jaw and Perry was down for the count.

Hanlon had the advantage of the first and second rounds, Perry with a left counter, easing Perry momentarily, but Hanlon in the second round and this was considered even. The third put an end to the boxing for the evening.

Stump Goodwin won the decision over Bill Howard in the eight-round semi-windup. Goodwin brought blood in the second round, and rapidly piled up points thereafter.

Kid Wonder stopped Battling Robinson in the first round of their scheduled six-round bout. Referee Bill Donnelly stopping the bout to save Robinson from needless lacing.

Two dingoes opened the card, which seemed to please the good crowd that was present. The surprise package handed them in the main bout had them all talking when they left the hall.

Price and Efird Will Be Succeeded by New Hurlers Is Latest Dope on Locals

Bill Smith is very silent if he intends to make a move in the game or not, of his team. The sporting editor of The Constitution wired him last night regarding reported changes as published in the Chattanooga papers.

Here is his answer:

"Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor The Constitution: Chattanooga papers don't know more about my business than I do. Will have Price and Efird coming from the American association. Have signed Ethel Jennings and Flanagan as good as any two in the league. Have no trade and Efird home tonight.

"BILL SMITH."

The Constitution's correspondent at New Orleans last night failed to see Bill Smith, and they adjourned to return wire as follows:

"Manager Smith intimates that he will have two new twirlers in the near future, but refuses to divulge their names until the deals are actually closed. Although not saying who the pitchers were that would go to make room for the new men, the fact that he says Price and Efird have been landed makes it apparent that these are the two slated for the can."

Major Callaway, president of the local club, when interviewed last night, referred the Constitution to Manager Smith, though he admitted that the deals were being burned up at the instance of Manager Smith, declining, however, to state just what players were being sought or what positions they would fill.

The supposition is, however, in view of all indications pointing that way, that the Crackers are after two twirlers and a catcher, and there may be some developments when the team returns home next week.

Eddie Hanlon Is Matched.

Eddie Hanlon, the local welterweight, who defeated Jimmy Perry in the third round at the Orpheum last night, has been matched to box Young Kline, of Pittsburg, in a ten-round bout at the Orpheum theater next Thursday night.

Hanlon has been showing up well in his recent bouts, and is considered a good match for Kline, who is a clever boxer and a hard hitter.

QUERIES ANSWERED

Under this year, the sporting editor will answer questions pertaining to baseball to all branches of sports.

Dick Jemison, sporting editor The Constitution: Please state the difference between Chicago and Philadelphia, Lavender was taken out of the box in the seventh inning to allow a pinch hitter to hit for him. The score was 6 to 5 in favor of Philadelphia at the time. The Cubs finally winning 6 to 1. Who gets credit for the victory, Lavender or Cheney?

L. G.

Cheney, for when the pinch hitter was substituted, Lavender was out of the game.

Dick Jemison, sporting editor The Constitution: Please state the standing for the Columbus in the Sally league a relative of the Columbus team in the American league.

L. M. J.

I am under the impression that he is a first cousin.

Dick Jemison, sporting editor The Constitution: Please state what leagues compose the B. I. A. A. Now many teams in the B. I. A. A. and how many games did they play? How many teams games did she win? How many games did she lose? What A. G. U. Rock play and how many did she win?

Answer: Howard, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Tech, Mercer, Central Kentucky, Transylvania, Centre, Sewanee, Tulane, Mississippi A. & M., Mississippi college, University of the South, Millsaps, Citadel, Charleston, Clemson, Wofford, Chattanooga, Cumberland, Vanderbilt, Sewanee, Texas A. & M. Fourteen, winning 12 and losing 2. Fifteen, winning 9 and losing 6.

Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor The Constitution: Catcher drops the third strike, but runs to first base before he is thrown out. First baseman gets a put-out, catcher gets no assist. Should the pitcher get a fly ball out?

Yes, the pitcher gets a strike-out, the batter only another to a passed ball. It is the batter only another to a passed ball. It is the batter only another to a passed ball. It is

ROOSEVELT PLANS GREAT CAMPAIGN

Colonel's Tour to Take Him Into Nearly Every State. He Will Fight Penrose in Pennsylvania.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., May 21.—What Colonel Roosevelt described as "not exactly a literary discussion" was held tonight at Sagamore Hill. It was perhaps the most important political conference in which the colonel has participated since the close of the 1912 campaign. It brought together representatives of New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, the three states in which Colonel Roosevelt probably will do his hardest fighting this fall.

At the meeting were George W. Perkins, chairman of the executive committee of the progressive national committee; Walter Brown, of Ohio, member of the national committee; Gifford Pinchot, progressive candidate for United States senator from Pennsylvania, and E. A. Van Valkenburg, of Philadelphia, one of the progressive leaders in the affairs of the party in that state.

Coast-to-Coast Campaign.

The conference was in session until late. It was decided definitely that plans for Colonel Roosevelt's coast-to-coast campaign trip should be adopted. This tour probably will take the former president into almost every state of the union.

After Colonel Roosevelt had been talking an hour with Mr. Perkins he was interpreted as indicating that in leaders he dictated a statement which one state, at least, would make the fight into the ranks of the republican party by appealing directly to its members to leave their party affiliations and go with the progressives. His statement was made with particular reference to the situation in Pennsylvania, where Senator Penrose is opposed in his fight for re-election by Mr. Pinchot.

Sink Party Differences.

"Unless come up," said Colonel Roosevelt, "it is the duty of the patriotic citizens to sink party differences and stand up against flagrant wrongdoing in public life or against conduct fatal to the welfare of the nation at home and to the honor of the nation abroad. All good citizens on such occasions should stand together without regard to past party differences.

"I have confidence in the integrity of the rank and file of the republican party, and that they will support Mr. Pinchot. The colonel's old neighbors welcomed him back from the jungles today. There were over 1,000 of them nailed to a telegraph pole was a huge sign which read, "1912 and Forward."

Six hundred school children sang a song of welcome. In his speech, Colonel Roosevelt avoided politics.

FOR THE UNIFICATION OF METHODIST BODIES

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 21.—Tentative plans for the consolidation of the three great Methodist bodies in America were approved, connectional officers were elected and a declaration of principles adopted at today's sessions of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. The convention also ordered the withholding of any money now in the hands of the various church boards intended for Vanderbilt university until payments are authorized by the commission appointed to deal with the Vanderbilt situation, and report was made by the commission of recovery that it had fixed the salaries of active bishops at $4,800 a year, superannuated bishops $3,600, and the payments to widows of bishops at $1,000.

The unification plan provides for the merging of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, the Methodist Episcopal church, and the Protestant Methodist church under the name of the Methodist Episcopal Church in America, with one faith, one ritual, and one general conference but with such jurisdictional conferences for the four geographical divisions. Negro members of the three churches and such denominations of that race wishing to unite would be assigned one or more jurisdictional conferences. The Colored Methodist Episcopal church, however, would be permitted to maintain an independent relationship while holding fraternal relations with the united church. The plan was presented by the joint commission appointed to consider the advisability of federation. The commission was requested to work out further details of the plan.

The officers elected include: Publishing agents, Rev. D. M. Smith and Rev. A. J. Lamar; book editor, Rev. Gross Alexander; editor of Christian Advocate, Rev. T. N. Ivey; Sunday school editor, Rev. E. H. Hoppil; missionary secretary, Rev. W. W. Pinson; secretary of church extension board, Rev. W. F. McMurray. The declaration of principles includes equal rights and complete justice for all members; recognition of families by the single standard of purity; proper regulation of marriage; abolition of child labor and provision for the education of children; regulation of the toll for women as shall safeguard the physical and moral health of communities; protection of society from the social, economic and moral waste of the liquor traffic; for the right of all men to the means of adequate maintenance; protection in old age of workers; the right of employees and employers alike to organize; for adequate means of conciliation and arbitration in industrial disputes; for a living wage as a minimum in every industry; for a new emphasis upon the application of Christian principles to the acquisition of property and the equitable division of the products of industry that can ultimately be divided.

Rev. F. S. Parker was elected secretary of the Epworth league, and Rev. Stonewall Anderson secretary of the board of education at tonight's session of the conference.

A resolution providing for the commission on charities and church property to investigate the advisability of adjusting the publishing house affairs at Nashville, Tenn., was adopted and a proposal to allow superannuated preachers who have served, thirty-two years and who have reached the age of 70 years, three-fourths of the salary of an active bishop was referred to the commission on episcopacy. This resolution was designed to increase the allowance of Bishop Wilkinson, of Oregon, several days ago.

When the conference adjourned for the night a report recommending the reorganization of the Sunday school and the incorporation of the Sunday school board was under consideration.

MRS. ELLEN FORD DIES AT HOME IN OSHKOSH

News of the death of Mrs. Ellen Ford, in Oshkosh, Wis., who until fifteen years ago was a resident of Atlanta, was received in Atlanta on Thursday.

She is survived by her grandson, Alfred Ford, of The Constitution's advertising staff. Mr. Ford will leave for Wisconsin today to attend the funeral services which will be held Sunday.

VANDERBILT ESTATE FOR UNITED STATES

86,700 Acres Bought Near Asheville by Government Forestry Commission.

Asheville, N. C., May 21.—Authentic messages received by The Citizen tonight announce the purchase by the United States forestry commission of almost the entire Vanderbilt estate, consisting of about 86,700 acres of the Pisgah forest property, for a total sum of $412,587, averaging $5 an acre. The Vanderbilts retain 900 acres around Buck Spring lodge on Pisgah mountain.

The purpose of the commission is to turn this forest into a national game preserve, and steps have been taken to bring this about as soon as possible. The commission today wrote Governor Locke Craig asking him to formulate with the commission plans to provide for co-operation between the state of North Carolina and the federal government in making Pisgah forest a national game preserve. The name Pisgah forest, by which this tract of land has been known for many years, is to be retained.

The property affected by the purchase lies, for the most part, in Buncombe and Haywood counties. Negotiations for its purchase by the government have been pending for more than a year, following a visit to this section by a member of the commission who went over the property. At that time it was learned the price asked by the Vanderbilts was too high, and the matter was laid aside. Following the death of George W. Vanderbilt in March, it was feared that the forest would be cut by the heirs to the estate, as it was known that Mrs. Vanderbilt did not intend to develop the property. Steps were immediately taken by the federal commission for the purchase the lands, resulting in final approval being given today.

HARRIS IS ON THE WAY TO OPEN HIS CAMPAIGN

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, May 21.—(Special)—William J. Harris, director of the census, left Washington this afternoon for Georgia to open his campaign for governor. He will speak to the voters of Polk county at his home in Cedartown on Saturday at noon.

Mr. Harris will spend tomorrow in Atlanta and go up to Cedartown that night. On Sunday he will go to Rome and will spend Sunday with relatives.

On Monday he will go to Atlanta and will spend Tuesday and Wednesday in Macon at the Odd Fellows' convention.

Senator Claude A. Swanson, Virginia, chairman of the senate committee on the census, on learning that Mr. Harris was going to Georgia, said:

"It is with deep regret that I learn that Director Harris has definitely made up his mind to leave his great work in the census bureau. He has inaugurated a system of work from the start and has been the captain of the ship from the day that he took charge. He has inaugurated economies and systematized every division as a model business concern. I have had considerable experience in observing his executive ability because I have been chairman of the census committee since he was appointed."

ALMA GLUCK COMING FOR CONCERT IN FALL

The Atlanta Musical association, of which Mrs. John M. Slaton is the president, at a well attended and enthusiastic meeting yesterday in the Ansley hotel decided to bring Miss Alma Gluck, the famous grand opera soprano, to Atlanta for a concert in the fall. Miss Gluck is remembered by thousands of opera lovers for the part she sang in Faust during the 1913 season of grand opera.

At the same meeting the association launched plans for a whirlwind campaign to enlist new members, the cost of a year's membership is $16, which entitles the member to hear all the artists and attend all the concerts.

So enthusiastic was the spirit of the meeting that Ben Lee Crew volunteered a $100 forward guarantee fund for the Alma Gluck concert, and this was promptly followed by subscriptions of $50 from Asa G. Harlingen, $100 by W. J. Lowenstein and $100 by Eugene V. Haynes.

Mrs. Slaton presided. Mr. Van Harlingen made a talk on the history and achievements of the association; L. E. Dingler on the aims to a city, both artistically and commercially, of such enterprises as the association is promoting, and Hugh Inman on the new membership campaign; Mrs. Van Harlingen on what similar associations are doing in other cities.

PRICE OF COTTON STILL ADVANCING

Close Steady at Net Rise of Five to Fifteen Points—All Deliveries Make New High Ground.

New York, May 21.—The buying movement became even more active in the cotton market today and all deliveries made new high ground on increasing apprehensions as to the new crop outlook. December contracts sold early at 12.54, or 44.50 per bale above the low point of a week ago but Monday's close was steady at a net advance of 5 points.

The market was somewhat irregular at the start, first prices being 2 points higher on May, but generally unchanged to 1 points lower in sympathy with disappointing Liverpool cables. There were a lot of overnight buying orders against the spring months, and the latter months quickly sold 4 or 5 points above yesterday's closing prices. Heavy realizing was encountered that checked the rise and house with Liverpool connections were active sellers of new crop months on bulges. Prices lost ground in consequence, but quickly rallied on the official forecasts indicating continued dry weather in Texas and further showers in the southwest and Oklahoma. There was again reported unfavorable crop advices from Texas and buying orders were numerous. Offerings were light and the early offerings were so well taken that the commission houses bought on the moderate setback that local sellers, for a reaction, became discouraged and started to cover. The detailed weather report for the Houston district, showing 0.62 inch rain, 0.70 inch general, heavy rains during the past 24 hours, failed to stimulate the selling and as prices worked higher, stop loss orders were quickly uncovered. Trading was relatively easier and old crop months were comparatively neglected in the early list, worked about 13 to 24 points net higher during the afternoon. Realizing checked the upward movement in the level, and closing prices showed reactions of some 7 to 10 points from the best. Wire and commission houses were active during the day.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, May 21.—Fresh buying for long account from outside interests and the covering of large lines of short cotton were responsible for the sharp advance which put prices to new high levels for the season. Trade was on a large scale, there were 1 Sto 20 points over yesterday's last quotations. The south had a holiday and came heavy profit takers and their offerings were readily absorbed. The market closed at a net gain for the day of 8 to 12 points.

The heavy rains in Texas overnight were mainly responsible for the bullish movement. Around the first call there was little or no change, prices being 1 point lower and a small net decline was seen. The decline was short lived, however, as more rain in the west than was indicated on the weather map was reported. Continued rains and the buying that resulted sent prices higher and before the end of the session all the short side.

The cotton firm, unchanged. Middling, 13¼. Sales on the spot, 1,241; to arrive, 1,100. Stock, 114,776. Net receipts, 7,161; gross, 7,161. John F. Black & Co.

New York, May 21.—(Special.)—Every one is looking for a big bull movement in cotton, although the public is not in the market much support. The foreigners who have been buying cotton heavily are said to be needed are much better buyers than they were a few months ago, because the short side for a reaction would not go for more than 100 points. The bulls look for next winter or late in the fall, but there is going to be a big bull move in cotton before it is known that a crop of approximately 15,000,000 bales will be produced. That is what the world needs. Anything less than that will be bullish. There was some profit taking late this afternoon to ease off prices temporarily, but from the way new crop months closed at a new advance of 44 to 50 points, it looks as though the bulls were not going to let go of the long side. This is now the time to buy cotton on declines. How high cotton would go if Texas should have a short crop, Liverpool is due to some 4 to 4½ cents per pound.

Jay, Bond & Co.

New York, May 21.—(Special.)—During the past twenty-four hours as much as 3 and 4 inches of rain has fallen over the southwest Texas, as a result of which picking and ginning of cotton has been unfavorable. The heavy rains have caused overflows and delay in planting, and much replanting will be necessary. The delay to the crop is going to be serious, and a very much smaller crop than usual is in view at present. Reports from Oklahoma also state that rain has occurred today, which advanced prices for the October and December options. The temperature was also unfavorable to the crop in many sections, and a considerable extent of replanting will be necessary. The general tone of the market is strong on the advance of the spring months, and we look for a further advance of 50 points on the new crop months.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, May 21.—(Special.)—Liverpool made a good response to our sharp advance of yesterday but that market sold here early on realizing. Rains in Texas have thereby holding our market in check. Subsequently the publication of the official detailed weather reports from Texas showing the rainfall to be of continuation of heavy rains in the southwest, long enough to cause serious damage to the crop, caused a sharp rally in the market on the theory that it will be the effect of clearing weather in the southwest as to whether or not there will be found that present prices discount the damage done the crop so early in the season. The market depends almost entirely at the moment on the weather in the southwest, although on today's advance the commission houses were realizing and some hedge selling from the Atlantic.

WHEAT DECLINES ON NEWS OF RAIN

Market Closes Heavy 1 1-8 to 1-2 Cents Under the Previous Close—Corn and Oats Also Decline.

Chicago, May 21.—Rain in Kansas and Nebraska, with a prospect of showers over the entire winter crop belt, dispelled today for the time being the fear that Hessian fly damage would be widespread. Wheat closed heavy, 1⅛@1¼c under last night. Corn lost ⅝@⅞c per bu, and oats ¾c to 1⅛@1¼c. In provisions, the outcome was a decline of 5c to an advance of 7½c.

Those bearish factors who believed that the trade had overbought on the continual fly damage reports during the last week were agreeably surprised at the start. With plentiful moisture in prospect, the wheat crowd lost much of the confidence of holders who had taken chances on dry weather, increasing the damage already done by the insect pest. Short sellers and longs competed early and late, so that throughout the day offerings were met with scale kept the market depressed and left prices in the end at virtually the lowest figure of the session.

Bearish sentiment regarding wheat was encouraged by the weekly crop report by the fact that Hessian fly ravages had been reported the same winter crop region, and that accordingly, the possibility of serious damage especially in western Kansas, had not yet by any means disappeared. But the fact that Kansas, Texas and Oklahoma could, at least in part, much of the damage done, was overlooked.

Corn weakened with wheat, and as a result of the rain in the southwest, which would be considerably enlarged, bullish sentiment was greatly counteracted. Country offers were numerous.

Oats broke sharply in consequence of a better weather map for the growing crop. Belief was fairly well restored that the crop yield would be a large amount.

Provisions were but little changed. Grain weakness induced most of the selling.

Report on Hessian Fly.

Topeka, Kan., May 21.—Damage to Kansas wheat from Hessian fly, it is said, is slight, according to a statement today by D. Dorsey, secretary of the state board of agriculture. A few fields in Williamsburg, McPherson and Hodgeman counties have been infested with the fly, he said, but not seriously enough for any loss to result.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

The regular monthly meeting and luncheon of the Atlanta real estate board will be held at the Hotel Ansley today at 1 o'clock. Mr. Jack Glenn of Collins Bros. & Davies, will be the host.

At this meeting a number of important matters are expected to come up for discussion.

The committees recently appointed to round up a substantial delegation to go the realty men's annual national convention in Philadelphia next month, with a view of landing the 1915 convention for Atlanta, are expected to be heard from.

Business Activity Good.

The daily reports of sales of realty show a healthy market. The sales reported on Thursday, for instance, cover a wide variety.

There is a good demand for small investment property as well as for residence building lots and residences.

Cleaning Avenue Paved.

W. L. Harling has sold for J. W. Plunkett to Miss Nellie B. Caldwell No. 242 Georgia avenue, a six-room cottage, now occupied by Mr. Harling.

Mr. Harling has also sold for Mrs. D. C. Morris to a client a vacant lot, 59x200, on Elmira street, for $1,650.

Country Home and Other Sales.

Robert W. Jarrell, Jr., and Harry Farris & Tyson, reports the following sales:

For Dr. E. L. Hoskins to Mrs. R. R. Pace, five acres, near Cooledge Station, on the Stone Mountain railway, upon which is a two-story, twelve-room house and outbuildings, for a consideration of $6,000.

From G. W. Green to Phillip Lounbenstein, No. 41 Orleans street, a five-room house on lot 40x180, for $1,800.

For Mrs. Emma I. Cole to W. H. Middlebrooks, a five-room cottage on Dill avenue, on lot 50x150, for $2,350.

For Mr. Farris to Mrs. Worley, seven lots on Rock Springs avenue, just east of Piedmont avenue and near Rock Springs school, for $1,150, title to be withheld.

Mr. Worley is grading these lots, putting down sidewalks, sewers and will connect with the water mains, going out Piedmont avenue, giving the lots all conveniences.

Farris & Tyson Dissolved.

The realty firm of Farris & Tyson has been dissolved, according to announcement of Robert W. Tyson, formerly of that firm. Mr. Farris, however, is continuing the realty business in old Farris office and is now located in Atlanta National Bank building.

Sale of Residence Exchange.

The B. F. Burdette Realty company has sold for Mrs. Annie E. Armistead to D. W. Meadow the northeast corner of West Peachtree street and Kimball avenue. Mrs. Armistead is a property, consisting of a two-story residence on lot 190x175, valued at $35,500. Mrs. Armistead took as part payment a lot 102x167, on Piedmont avenue, between Peachtree and Roswell roads, known as the Kilmore site, valued at $20,000.

Apartment House Permit.

The permit for the apartment house, which Hamilton Douglas will build on Eighth street, on which work will begin days ago, was applied for on Thursday. The permit calls for a structure costing $25,000.

Permits for Thursday amounted to nearly $40,000. The building figures are rapidly approaching the figures of May of last year, which was the record month of the year.

MASS MEETINGS GALORE ON SUNDAY

Two Great Central Gatherings, One for Men and One for Women, Have Already Been Announced.

Mass meetings in a dozen places in and about Atlanta have been announced for Sunday in the campaign being carried on by the Baptists of the city.

Two great central meetings in the center of the city have been announced, one exclusively for women, which will be held at the First Baptist church, and the other exclusively for men, which will be held in the Bijou Theater. Dr. Lincoln McConnell will speak to the women's meeting, and Evangelist J. H. Daw will speak to the men.

The other meetings will be held at the churches located throughout the city, in the most accessible places, and will be open to both men and women. In addition to the central meetings, there will be the following:

Mass Meetings.

At Edgewood church, Evangelist J. A. Scott; Ponce de Leon church, W. Newlin; Jones Avenue church, W. H. Kendrick; Bellwood avenue, Ralph E. Wright; Woodward avenue, R. E. Neighbor; West End church, T. O. Reese; East Side Tabernacle church, J. W. Hickerman; East Point church, U. S. Thomas; New Antioch church, T. E. McCutcheon; Northside church, J. P. Jackson; Inman Yards church, Ed Smith.

Three mass meetings will be held for the colored churches, and they will be addressed at each of the churches by white evangelists. At Wheat street church, L. C. Wolfe will speak. At Big Bethel A. M. E. church, Ray Palmer will speak, and at Reid Street church, W. F. Fischer will be the leader.

An old-fashioned experience meeting at the First Baptist church will be held Friday morning, and the women has been invited. The meeting will be open, and will be in a measure conducted by the congregation.

At the First Baptist church Thursday morning a new feature of the services there is added, that of special prayer for those who have manifested an interest in the meetings of the individual churches. These are brought to the attention of the meeting by the various evangelists, and prayer for their salvation is offered by the congregation.

Wanted Son Remembered.

A prayer was offered Thursday morning for the son of a broken-hearted mother, who wrote anonymously to Dr. Weston Bruner, pastor of the open air campaign, asking that her son be remembered by the evangelists and Christian workers. He had departed from the teachings of his mother, and gone from under her influence, has become an astray, she said in the letter. The mother herself is not able to attend the meeting, but asks that the prayers of Christian people be added to hers that her boy may return to the paths which he has strayed from.

Special prayer for those in Atlanta who live in boarding houses was offered at the meeting of Dr. Bruner. "They for the most part have broken the home ties, and are facing for the first time, many of the temptations of the city. It is the most critical life that can be found. Pray for them, and try to help them lead a spiritual life as much as you can," said Dr. Bruner.

The sins of the day which are commonly winked at are being denounced daily by the evangelists. The divorce evil was scored in a sermon by Ray Palmer, evangelist, on Public Square.

Afraid to Speak of Divorce.

"It's getting to the point that your preachers are afraid to speak of the divorce evil, for fear that he will hit some pillar of the church who has two or three living wives. You can't hope to bring the world to Christ with an army of crazy widows and widowers," he declared.

The doctrines of Christian Science were also attacked by the speaker, who referred to it as the "hobble skirt" of religion. "The hobble skirt binds a woman's ankles; Christian Science binds the brain of whoever accepts it," he exclaimed.

The theater meeting at the Bijou Theater was well attended, and a forceful sermon was preached by Lewis Wolfe, the lawyer evangelist and street preacher. Mr. Wolfe practices largely the criminal courts many years before he took up the work of evangelism, and his practice in that respect has made him a speaker who holds the attention of his audience from the time he begins his sermon until the time it ends.

His subject at Thursday's meeting was based on the theme "Sow and ye sower a Man Soweth. That Shall He Also Reap." He spoke for only a few minutes, but during that time he drove home the truth so forcibly that many were visibly affected. "You can't do it. It is as sure to overtake you as there is day and night," he declared.

Dr. Bruner, the director of the campaign, reported a gratification at the interest with which the services are being heard, and the promise of a growing revival in Atlanta during the next few days.

Much Interest in Meetings.

"It is remarkable," said he, "that there is so much interest being taken in the meetings, and particularly so early after Atlanta has been plunged into a disheartening period by the war before been seen here. Not that the dissipation was wicked," he hastened to add, "although no doubt there was a great deal of wickedness during those few days, but for the fact that Atlanta was had her mind on other things.

"I believe that there is a revival not far off which will sweep not only the remotest corners of Atlanta, but which will take in the state as well."

The theater meetings, the central meeting at the Peachtree church, and the services at the individual churches will be continued Friday, and it is expected that they will be attended by larger crowds than have been seen so far in the campaign.

DECATUR SCHOOLS HOLD GRADUATING EXERCISES

Decatur, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—The closing exercises of Decatur's public schools were progressing this week. They were ushered in with a play, "Mr. Rob," at the Methodist Sunday school Monday night. This was followed by an entertainment at the Decatur class Tuesday night. The grammar school pupils, with a program of old-time melodies, delighted a large audience at the courthouse Thursday night.

The graduating exercises will take place at the courthouse Friday night.

JUDGE VINSON SPEAKS IN JEFFERSON COUNTY

Wrens, Ga., May 21.—(Special.)—Judge Carl Vinson, candidate for congress, addressed the voters of this there and the surrounding sections Wednesday night at the schoolhouse. A large and enthusiastic crowd came out to hear him. He set forth the platform on which he is running for congress in a lucid and forceful manner which seemed to meet the approval of the people. Judge Vinson seems to be strong in this section.

ADAIR STIRS UP ATLANTA AD MEN

City Will Go After Shriners and Democratic Convention in 1917 and Ad Men of World in 1916.

Forrest Adair's stirring address before the Ad Men's club yesterday morning gave the impetus for active negotiations to obtain three of America's greatest conventions for Atlanta in the democratic national convention in 1917 and the Ad Men of the world in 1916.

Mr. Adair imparted during his address the highly pleasing information that he had been assured already by a majority of the delegates to the Imperial council of the Shriners that Atlanta could win the 1917 conclave in a walkover.

Furthermore, he stated that the Mystic aggregation, which only last week gave Atlanta a reception to rival Berlin's, but outdone it, would be only too happy to come again to the south's most hospitable city.

Winding up his glowing remarks on Atlanta's remarkable success with the Shriners, Mr. Adair told the Ad Man that Atlanta should get the next democratic national convention, which comes three years hence.

And it was right then and there that the Ad Men inaugurated their campaign to follow the lead of the Ysarab potentate and to woke Atlanta up to the fact that the democratic gathering is to be here at its next meeting.

"On to Toronto."

Following all of which, members of the "On-to-Toronto" committee of the Ad Men arose to tell of Atlanta's prospects of obtaining the 1916 convention of the Ad Men of the World, which meets this year in Toronto, Canada. Although no definite steps have been taken thus far, officials of the Ad Men stated after the meeting that an organized effort would be begun at once.

The Atlanta spirit throbbed through the Ad Men's meeting, held in the banquet hall of the Hotel Ansley. The guest of honor was Mr. Adair, and the tables were arranged so that they presented a horse shoe effect, that spread over the spacious hall. Shrine emblems and decorations ornamented the walls and ceiling.

There were numerous and varied other improvements in the style of the meeting besides the procuring of big conventions, one of which was the planning of a big carnival for Atlanta to outrival the justly celebrated Mardi Gras celebration of New Orleans.

Merchants Favor Carnival Week.

It all was inspired by the city's triumph during Shriners' week. Figures recently compiled by themselves jubilantly on record that they would give enthusiastic support to the carnival movement, which will draw thousands of visitors from all parts of the state. It is planned to set aside a week during October of each year for the observance of fall festivities.

The entire downtown territory will be converted into a blaze of festivities that are designed to be equally as frenzied as those of Shriners' week.

Free attractions, such as high divers, balloon and aeroplane ascensions, parachute drops and other thrillers, will happen every few hours or so. The city will burst forth in a flame of light, and throughout the whole week there won't be any such thing as night.

A committee appointed to take charge of this move is composed of Beaumont Davison, chairman; Julian Bond, L. D. Hicks, Fred Houser and St. Elmo Massengale. Mr. Davison is leading merchants in most of them, and is a well-known advertising expert. Fred Houser is guilty of stirring a majority of the state's conventions, and St. Elmo Massengale is one of the dominant figures in most of the big things done for the city. The success of the carnival proposition, therefore, is justly assured. Mr. Adair was also elected to help head the project.

Mr. Adair's speech was the principal number on the program of the Ad Men meeting. He was introduced by Rabbi David Marx, who paid a glowing tribute to Mr. Adair, regarding the Shrine convention. Dr. Marx said:

AT THE THEATERS.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

One of the best combinations of vaudeville ever seen in Atlanta is headed by one of the greatest acrobats of the American stage, an intrepid gentleman of world-wide national fame, is the Forsyth attraction this week. Besides him there are four more chances for local people to see the show, every one of which scores a triumph in the Reisaco productions and who has been in vaudeville at the highest salary paid to a legitimate actor for three seasons. In the bill presenting the wonderful playlet, "Vindication," in this act Mr. Keenan portrays the character of an old confederate veteran. For next week the headliner will be Joe Jesse in Lasky's "Red Heads," with Joseph Carson the comedian. It is a company of clever people in a miniature musical comedy said to be the best of Mr. Lasky's recent Forsyth success, "The Trained Nurses."

Lucille Laverne.

(At the Lyric.)

But three performances remain of "The Escape," the most interesting drama yet presented by the Lucille LaVerne Stock company at the Lyric. The inducement to see this play is strong. It is the first appearance in Atlanta of Miss LaVerne since her recent to the stock organization's work. Next week in addition to the company will remain in Atlanta for a long engagement, presenting "The Big Sister" and "Cousin Mary," a sparkling comedy in which Miss LaVerne will be the principal figure, is under rehearsal.

Shriners' Pictures Score.

(At the Grand.)

The first run of Atlanta's weekly pictures of the Shriners' parade and drills at Piedmont park were exhibited in Atlanta yesterday at the Grand before large audiences. All the principal parts of the parade are shown passing the University club and various points of the course. Forrest Adair, potentate of Yaarab Temple, and other prominent members are seen in poses for Pathe's man. The film in its entirety is a splendid success and was enjoyed immensely by the Grand's patrons yesterday. The big feature, "Orders," continues to prove a big attraction.

W. D. UPSHAW TO MAKE SPEECH IN ALPHARETTA

W. D. Upshaw will speak at noon Saturday at the courthouse in Alpharetta, in Stallings' Flag for America, or Georgia's Part in the Great American Colony.

FATE OF BECKER WITH JURY TODAY

Arguments Are Completed and Judge Charges This Morning—Great Crowd in Court Hears Arguments.

New York, May 21.—The jury which will determine whether Charles Becker conceived the plot that resulted in the murder of Herman Rosenthal will have the case in its hands before noon tomorrow. The last testimony was taken this morning, and this afternoon Martin T. Manton, Becker's chief counsel, delivered his address to the jury. Late tonight District Attorney Whitman completed the presentation of his arguments favoring the conviction of the former chief of the "strong arm" squad of murder in the first degree.

Justice Dowling will charge the jury tomorrow morning.

The crowd that clamored for admission to the courtroom in the afternoon to hear the address of Attorney Manton P. Manton in Becker's defense was the largest, court attendants said, that has appeared at any session of court in recent years. Women predominated.

Denies Becker Is Guilty.

"I wish to say," Mr. Manton said in his address, "that there will be no animated argument. The really guilty is not the man at the bar.

"We don't dispute that Becker worked himself up in the police department. We admit that he was friendly with Herman Rosenthal. But Becker didn't have anything to do with it.

"Was not the man between Becker and the men who did the murder? Rose, Webber and Vallon confessed murderers, thieves and degenerates. Why did they confess? Because they were prosecuted? No; they were sent to the district attorney and got promises that if they would connect Becker they would go free.

"Lefty Louie isn't even a good liar. Rose was inaccurate and uncertain. He says no dates. Why? Rosenthal, in fact, was an officer of the law and could prove where he was at certain times."

Mr. Manton said that Rosenthal had testified that Becker was not at the Harlem game on Feb. 14 and asked the jury to believe them.

Manton then went into Rose's testimony regarding the first talk he had with Becker about Rosenthal's money in Rosenthal's gambling house. He pointed out discrepancies between Rose's testimony regarding the gambling house run by Rosenthal and the interview with Rose published in the morning newspaper.

The Affidavit Made by Rose.

Manton discussed at length the affidavit made by Rose the day after the shooting of Rosenthal in which he said he was the one who had loaned the $1,500 to Rosenthal to help him open his gambling house, and that Becker had nothing to do with the transaction. Rose said in this affidavit that he had borrowed the money for Rosenthal from his friend, Harry Pollok.

"Pollok was on the stand," said Mr. Manton. "Why didn't the district attorney ask him about that? I'll tell you why—because Pollok couldn't stand for it. Becker didn't furnish $1,500 for Rosenthal. Rose was Pollok's money."

Mr. Manton contended that Rose was frightened at tales he knew Rosenthal was spreading about him and feared that the gambler's tongue he determined to silence by killing him.

"Becker's name was brought into it," said the attorney. "After Rose and his confederates had been caught. They looked around for someone to put the blame on and they chose Becker, the man who was responsible for many gambling dens in this city; their natural enemy—a policeman."

Mr. Manton asked the jury not to overlook the fact that Webber and Vallon had guaranteed the Rosenthal killing.

"All Charles Becker and I ask from you," he concluded, "is justice. His wife asks sympathy; just common justice, that's all," said Mr. Manton in concluding.

Court was adjourned at 4 o'clock, at which hour District Attorney Whitman began his address.

Becker Guilty, Says Whitman.

District Attorney Whitman early in his address attacked the motive presented by the defense for the slaying of Rosenthal—that the gambler was in a war among gamblers.

"It is not a gambler who died, but a state's witness, said the prosecutor, and in pattering from the real question to indicate anything else than that Rosenthal was killed because he was about to be such a witness. If Becker
