Harry G. Poole, Owner of the "Funeral Home,"
Enters on Twentieth Year as Undertaker

HARRY G. POOLE.

Today nineteen years ago, Harry G. Poole then a volunteer 18 years of age, began his first work as an undertaker. By a close study of all the better and up-to-date methods in connection with the burial of the dead and by the exercise of patient and sympathetic ministrations to those in distress, Harry Poole has grown to become one of the chief undertakers, not only of Atlanta, but the south, always appreciating to the fullest the financial strain usually attendant upon the living in times of distress. His policy to lighten the burial burden as much as is consistent with fair business methods. This spirit of honest dealing, combined with a liberal policy of payments, word service, efficient transportation to funerals and up-to-date "Funeral Home" at 140 South Pryor street, has built up for Mr. Poole a large and ever increasing clientele in this section.—(Ad.)

CHILD LABOR IN SOUTH CAUSES BITTER CLASH

David Clark Attacks Dr. A. J. McKelway—South Slammered, Clark Asserts.

Washington, January 6.—A sharp clash over conditions under which children are employed in southern cotton mills unfolded today's session here of the eleventh annual conference of the National Child Labor Committee.

Clark declared that until southern states had cleaned up their cotton mills, he would not be able to complain that children under 15 years were permitted to work in cotton mills.

"Plainly speaking, it is none of our business," he said, "referring to complaints from Massachusetts and New York. He charged representatives of the committee with misrepresenting facts in the south, claim against national child labor legislation and in their home states before taking part in the affairs of others. Dr. McKelway, he said, had issued pamphlets only half representing the facts.

Dr. McKelway replied to Clark, as to national child labor legislation, he said only to quote Clark's father, Chief Justice, that the constitution is a living piece of legislation, not a dead letter. He said that the committee, which he said had not exhibited to the public pictures of children living pictures of the effects. He said that the committee had disseminated information that a 4 and 5-year-old child was employed in North Carolina, but he declared federal investigation had shown that the child was not employed in North Carolina, but in the south.

At the final session of the conference tonight, addresses on the general subject of the child as the nation's ward were delivered by James Parham, New York; William L. Sullivan, Baltimore; and Miss L. B. Brown, head of the federal child labor bureau.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE SURE, DECLARES GOV. HOOPER

Nashville, Tenn., January 6.—In a message to the legislature today, Governor H. W. Hooper expressed the belief that women will ultimately vote in every state in the union and that the measure may not be backward as recommended an amendment to the state constitution granting the franchise to women. He is an original and ardent proponent, and said the governor, "I have never been adverse to the woman's franchise. I still feel that it is things in the future, but I believe that the woman's franchise would not be desirable. Taking conditions on the general basis, however, there are strong reasons for the extension of the franchise to women that did not exist 10 years ago. The modern industrial revolution has created a new social and political world. The broadening education and diversified activities of women have made it imperative for the woman's franchise. The government has already expressed itself as not having been satisfied. The message contains recommendations on many other subjects.

CALOMEL DYNAMITES A SLUGGISH LIVER

Crashes Into Your Bile, Making You Sick and You Lose a Day's Work.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with your bile it crashes into it, causing it to ferment and cause nausea.

If you feel bilious, headache, constipated and all kinds of ills, just go to your drugstore and get a 50-cent bottle of Duden's Liver Tonic, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and establish you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just to thank your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow! Besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Duden's Liver Tonic you will wake up feeling great full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.

FROM OLD WOMEN'S HOME MRS. BARCLAY
SENDS HER THANKS

The spirit of a rarely sweet nature is expressed in the attitude of Mrs. Lucy Barclay, widow of the beloved philanthropist, the late John Barclay.

Though an invalid for many years, confined to a rolling chair, her interest in the world around her is lively and cheerful. She has courageously borne the loss of her devoted husband and tried to continue in spirit the great and loving work he did for needy humanity.

A small income, and the comfort of the Home for Old Women, makes it possible for Mrs. Barclay to receive every care. This year she received many evidences of affection from countless friends, and to these she has addressed a note of thanks as follows:

To the Public and to My Personal Friends: The New Year's time for universal sympathy, I chose it as a fitting opportunity to express the gratitude that due my heart for the many blessings which have come to me in the year just past. For these I again thank you from the bottom of my heart. I would wish first of all to thank my heavenly Father, and then the many kind friends who have been the instruments for bringing me comfort and happiness into my life.

I wish to thank the board of management of the Home for Old Women, for the constant and intelligent care which is given me.

Secondly, I would thank my many friends who have made my life pleasant throughout the year, but more particularly those who have contributed generously to my happiness at this Christmas season.

Individually to each one of these I wish to say that it is impossible for me at this time to ask each to accept this as a personal note. The holiday season has been a very happy one for me and my life is better in every respect than it was last year. I thank you all who have contributed to this condition.

Yours truly, MRS. LUCY BARCLAY.

They were carried to a hospital, and there one of the boys, Willie Watkins, has just died. The other pneumonia victims are in a desperate condition, and doctors are doing to keep the remaining members of the family from having to follow the others to the hospital. NINE LOCKER CLUBS SECURE LICENSES

The Police Committee Confers With Mayor Woodward Regarding Recommendations.

Following a brief meeting of the 1915 police committee of council Wednesday, Chairman Edwin P. Johnson and the members of the committee held a lengthy conference with Mayor Woodward. The committee discussed with the mayor the various recommendations he made in his inaugural address touching the regulation of beer saloons, locker clubs and racketeers and other places where intoxicants are served.

Chairman Johnson declared after the conference that it will be the object of the committee to cause a strict regulation of all public places which come under the surveillance of the committee, and he explained that all places about which there is the slightest question will be regulated. Members of the committee said that they will give Mayor Woodward's recommendations their support during the year.

At the business session, the committee acted on nine applications of locker clubs for permits to continue operation during the year. One permit was refused. It was made in the name of the Sixth Ward club and was signed by Oscar H. Starnes, N. A. Chastain and Pierre Minor. The club has been organized and chartered, and its officers proposed meeting at No. 111 S. Marietta street.

The following clubs, which have been holding permits and which have been operating in strict conformity with the law, were granted permits to continue operation: Piedmont Driving club, University club, Atlanta club, Order of Owls, the Metropolitan club, the Order of Raccoons, the Theatrical and Mechanical association and the Standard club.

Members of the committee say that when the matter of renewing saloon licenses comes up the committee will require that pool tables be removed from the saloons. This is one of the recommendations made by the mayor in his message.

SHOT AT OWN HEAD, BUT BULLETS WENT WIDE OF THE MARK

Grown tired of life, G. G. Wells, age 62, sat alone Wednesday morning in the back room of the store of H. H. Butler, on Marietta street, and with a dispirited revolver used his own head in target practice.

Twice Wells fired at his own head, and as many times he missed his aim. The bullets, missing their target, sped through the door to the Butler shop, striking pieces of furniture in the store. The occupants of the store, led by Butler himself, rushed into the rear room and found the would-be suicide standing in the middle of the room, wrapping cotton thread around the chamber of the sackered revolver.

He was turned over to the police, and bound over by Judge Johnson on the technical charge of carrying a weapon. Wells admitted that he was in danger in the drug habit. He will be sent to jail, where he will be given the antiodote treatment.

FOR COLORED SCHOOL RECITAL TO BE GIVEN

The managers of the Gate City Free Kindergarten association, will give a benefit recital at Atlanta university Friday evening, January 9. The association has under its direction and control five kindergarten schools for colored children, for which funds must be raised to carry on the work. It has been a rather hard task to secure enough money for the monthly expenses during the past year, because of the general conditions in the city. Under the leadership of Miss Gertrude Ware, and a group of women associated with her, the work continues. This recital by Miss Angelo-Edwards, of the university, promises to be of a very high order. She will be assisted by other members of the faculty, and the University Glee club. The public is invited to attend on Friday evening, January 9.

OFFICERS INSTALLED BY PYTHIAN LODGE

At an enthusiastic session of Adolph Brandt, No. 23, Knights of Pythias, in their castle hall, Riser building, Tuesday night, the following officers were installed by Deputy Grand Chancellor James F. Knepper: J. L. Foote, chancellor; commander: W. C. Crawley; vice chancellor: W. S. Hess, master of works; J. M. Moffett, master; R. F. Darden, master-at-arms; Alex. Dittler, keeper of records and seal; H. Holman, master recorder; Ray Frank, inner guard; S. Well, outer guard.

W. S. Hess was elected representative to the grand lodge.

The installation was followed by a smoker, during which the annual reports for 1914 were read, showing the lodge had enjoyed a prosperous year. Informal talks were made by the officers-elect, in which opinion was the keynote.

A. S. COLYAR AGAIN IN TOILS OF LAW

A. S. Colyar, lawyer, adventurer and prisoner in many different prisons, is "in again." This time, according to information from Chattanooga, he is being held in that city upon request from officials of Oklahoma City, in which place he is said to be wanted on a charge of obtaining money on false pretenses.

Colyar is the familiar character in the Frank case who sprung such a sensation at the time Frank was indicted by his disreputable episode, in which a number of Atlanta's most prominent civic and legal figures were involved.

RUNAWAY MARRIAGE SURPRISES FRIENDS

Miss Dora Harlan, the 16-year-old daughter of J. M. Harlan, 320 South Moreland avenue, and Marvin McDowell, of Tennesse Park, were the participants Wednesday in a romantic runaway marriage.

Mrs. McDowell is the sister of Mrs. V. V. Moore, 70 Pearl street, with whom the young lady lived. Her family objected to the match on account of her age. They were not surprised, however, when it occurred, as the matter of marriage had been talked over in the household for several months.

NEW GRAND JURY NOW HARD AT WORK

The new grand jury got into action yesterday morning, but during its administration there will be no investigation of the city's locker club system. This much is gathered from the remarks of Judge Ben Hill when he charged the jury Wednesday morning.

"The law requires the grand jury to do all in its efforts to preserve the laws concerning gambling, prohibition and pistol-carrying," he said, "but I have never advised a grand jury to turn detective. The law permits honest, able men to furnish liquor to their members."

An important phase of Judge Hill's charge was his urging the jury to take up as early as possible, the many cases that have accumulated in the past few months. The first work of the jury, therefore, will be upon the numerous jail cases awaiting disposition.

Cutting the Cost of Distribution

Massengale Advertising Agency,
Atlanta, Ga.

Gentlemen:

Your Mr. Hilton, by persistent efforts, induced us to apply the "Massengale Service" to our 1914 advertising campaign. Although International Sugared Feeds are distributed by the most progressive jobbers in the South, the demand was materially stimulated and we brought our feeds to the attention of many large buyers on the markets where we were not represented and got the business.

We were pleased with the results of the campaign and heartily recommend the Massengale Agency for results.

Yours very truly,

INTERNATIONAL SUGAR FEED CO.

SALES HELPS---No. 9

The efficiency in modern manufacturing has reduced the cost of production almost to a minimum, and the lowering of expense in that end of a business is usually small, if practical at all. Distribution, however, is still comparatively crude in most concerns, and it is in that direction that a logical basis for expense reduction is found. Advertising, properly applied, is undoubtedly the most efficacious method of facilitating distribution. Hundreds of cases might be readily cited where the impetus, given distribution by advertising, has resulted in remarkable increases in the rate of turn-over, and resultant increases in profit. The International Sugar Feed Co. has accomplished this through our Service.

SOUTHERN SELLING
SET COTTON DOWNDuring the Session December
Broke Through the 9-
Cent Level, But Offerings
Became Heavy.

New York, January 6.—There was an active session here today, and prices broke sharply, with the close barely steady at a net decline of 9 to 10 points. Part of selling seemed to come from local spot people or southern shippers.

The market opened steady at a decline of 10 to 15 points in sympathy with disappointing cables. A few months were relatively easy, and seemed to be influenced by the fact that the new style January cottons, but the market broke through the 9-cent level, and a renewal of yesterday's selling movement here, with the market turning down, and the price higher during the late forenoon. Some of the later deliveries made very high ground for the movement on the sale of the cotton. The market broke through the 9-cent level, but the appearance of southern selling orders here to great relief seemed to be taken as an indication of increased activity.

Wall street houses who bought on the early rally seemed to be liquidating, and the market broke through the 9-cent level, and a renewal of yesterday's selling movement here, with the market turning down, and the price higher during the late forenoon. Some of the later deliveries made very high ground for the movement on the sale of the cotton. Exports to New Orleans.

New Orleans, January 6.—Cotton fell in the morning, and fell off to a net loss of 12 to 15 cents, closing at the bottom.

Early in the session heavy buying was sufficiently heavy to cause the market to rally after the initial drop in sympathy with poor cables. This brought about a net advance of 3 to 5 points on the strongest month, but the market broke through the 9-cent level, and a renewal of yesterday's selling movement here, with the market turning down, and the price higher during the late forenoon. Some of the later deliveries made very high ground for the movement on the sale of the cotton. The market broke through the 9-cent level, but the appearance of southern selling orders here to great relief seemed to be taken as an indication of increased activity.
