CLARK HOWELL, Editor and General Manager

Directors: Clark Howell, Robt. Robinson, Albert Howell, W. B. Gray, J. M. G. ...

Telephone Main 2000.

Entered at the postoffice at Atlanta as second-class matter.

POSTAGE PAID: United States Mexico - 10 to 12-page papers, 10c to 25-page papers, 20c.

ATLANTA, GA. January 15, 1915.

Subscription Rates: By Mail in the United States and Mexico (Payable in Advance) 1.00 per month, 10.00 per year.

In Atlanta, 10 cents per month or 12 cents per year. Outside of Atlanta, 10 cents per month or 12 cents per year.

STILL "FROM MISSOURI." Discussing yesterday's proposed extension of Atlanta's school hours so that with a recess of one and a half hours, they would average $3.00 a day to a $4.00.

The Constitution has read the statement thoroughly and with thoughtful analysis, and is still "from Missouri" as to the suggested change.

To President Gutin's sincerity, his zeal and his unshakable devotion to the school we subscribe. But the one effect of his argument, so far as The Constitution and, we believe, the overwhelming majority of parents in Atlanta are concerned, will be to confirm the opposing principles set forth in our editorial of yesterday before reviewing his detailed statement.

HOW TRAGEDY PALLS. If a year ago, news had come from Italy that 12,000 persons had lost their lives and 25,000 injured in an earthquake, the whole world would stand aghast.

HECKLING THE PRESIDENT. The house of representatives the other day devoted a good deal of its own and the country's time to a discussion and debate to "heckle" President Wilson.

WILL WAR'S TIDE TURN? Remors that Italy and Rumania will enter the European war on the side of the allies continue with significant persistence.

ing on Germany. Made up of heterogeneous elements, racial and political, Austria's army is not a cohesive fighting unit.

PROSPERITY SIGNALS. The commercial agencies of Dun and Bradstreet are unemotional and judicial. They do not play favorites. They do not lend their solid reputations for accuracy to mere boasting.

"Sentiment in the south is mending. FARM PREPARATIONS SUGGEST LESS COTTON, BUT MORE FOOD CROPS, AND JOBBERS HAVE STARTED DRUMMERS ON THE ROAD FOR TRADE."

These two agencies understate, rather than overstate, the situation; when, therefore, the Dun agency reports a rapidly increasing foreign market for foreign cotton, and the Bradstreet agency, pronouncing that conditions are "mending," takes cognizance of the cotton reduction movement, the sum total is distinctly encouraging.

THE CONSTITUTION is not responsible for advertising matter of out-of-town carriers, dealers or agents.

JUST FROM GEORGIA. When Joy Made Music. Sent wild trouble down the road. With every heavy pack. But on my road to Joy's abode. I met him coming back. Said he: 'We have been friends so long. Farewell to you!'

And then I glimpsed the face of Joy. With all its old-time charm; He walked the pathway to my door— He hid his path to my arm. Said it to trouble 'Haves your way, And you shall sing, and Joy shall play.'

Then trouble, with a solemn face, Sang of lost skies of June. And withered flowers; but merry Joy, In an appreciation of his fate, Our little world with gladness ringed. My music shared with trouble's lament.

"There's a dollar from someone in Lockertie Street. With me plain as print in a handwriting neat. Say 'his size enough, and a sales of joy fleet. Yes, a 'Howdy' to Riley in Lockertie Street."

THE HOLLAND LETTER. Governor Hamilton, of the federal reserve board at Washington, made official announcement a day or two ago that negotiations between Great Britain and the United States had been discontinued.

When the Chancellor of the exchequer of Great Britain, Lord George, sent Sir George Paish to the United States, in October, in response to a request made by him as authority at Washington that a non-official commission be appointed to investigate the impression was general that the result of this mission would be the establishment in London of a central bank for the United States.

Cities That Try Double Sessions Have Night Work. Editor Constitution: In reply to Atlanta's board of education I am sorry that the board is considering what they call the Revision System, which, I feel, will need most careful consideration.

For the sake of one hour more work at the school a day the children are to be kept in school for a longer period, and some instances, means double carfare, and the immediate cost to the school is a most hurriedly called work. This dinner should be the most beautiful meal of the day, eaten without hurry and the fear of being late. Under wrong conditions it would hardly be conducive to good work.

And now comes the principal objection in my mind to the proposed change. In the winter months to play out of doors is a pleasure which should be allowed the early part of the afternoon for play, and not such time remaining, on the playground, until 3:30 o'clock, when they reach their homes.

Mrs. Goldie Robinson Lloyd Marries Dr. Cecil Stockard

Dr. C. C. Stockard, of the First Christian church, officiated.

The informal reception followed the ceremony. The bride's table in the dining room was covered with a lace cloth and the table was decorated with a profusion of white roses and valley lilies resting on a bed of white moss. The silver candelsticks had crystal shades and held the pink and white and green, making a beautiful setting for the ceremony.

The elaborate decorations throughout the handsome home were in white and green, making a beautiful setting for the ceremony. The walls and ceiling were light and airy, and some palms and ferns were in groups through the apartments and tall vases filled with white roses and lilies added their beauty to the decorative effect.

The bride and groom were in a large wedding bed of white roses and valley lilies, which was suspended from the ceiling of the drawing room and on either side of the doorway was massed palms and ferns.

The bride wore a becoming traveling gown of gray cloth, trimmed in fur, the coat opening over a blouse of silver lace and fur. A corsage bouquet of valley lilies completed the costume.

Miss Prue Blinger, of St. Louis, was maid of honor and only attendant. She wore a beautiful gown of yellow chiffon, with a big butterfly bow of black lace in the back and her dress was an armful of Lady Hillington

Beecher Curtis, of the Episcopal church of Columbus, will officiate, and the groom's father will play the wedding march. There will be no attendants. After a wedding trip south Mr. Ferry and his bride will be at home with Mrs. Lewis.

It Isn't the Mills

that make Pillsbury's Best what it is, though the Pillsbury mills are the most up-to-date that have ever been built. It isn't the machinery, though the Pillsbury have the most modern flour making machinery in the world. It isn't the wheat, for the makers of very indifferent flours have access to the same wheat supply.

The thing that makes Pillsbury's Best what it is is the PILLSBURY STANDARD, the PILLSBURY IDEAL, the PILLSBURY LAW that makes it impossible for an ounce of flour ever to leave the mills under the label of Pillsbury's Best until it conforms in every minutest detail with the standard the Pillsburys have set.

That's why Pillsbury's Best is the best flour in the world.

The Correct Corset Must Be

A trifle higher above the waistline—and the natural waistline is in evidence. This is the all-important note for spring, says Fashion. Which brings us to our story:

The New Nemo

Invisible Self-Reducing Corsets, $3

Many women have sacrificed the physical comfort of the Nemo Self-Reducing Corset, because they had the absurd idea that the reducing straps on the outside gave a bulkiness under their costumes.

When the creator of this famous corset was designing his spring models he decided to make the self-reducing straps invisible. At first he fastened them to the inside of the corset's skirt, but that was not successful, for in adjusting them in the various eyelets it caused a fullness in the front. That would never do!

After a number of experiments the model was perfected. And without a doubt it is the most ingenious corset that has ever been created, for this new model gives the same wonderful support to the abdomen; the reducing straps may be adjusted on the inside, and the skirt of the corset is perfectly flat.

The Corset induces the new silhouette for military fashions.

Let us fit you in one of the new models. Price $3.00. Corset Shop—Third Floor.

To Discuss Market Problem At Conference in Albany

Albany, Ga., January 14.—(Special.) Merchants and farmers of southwest Georgia will meet in the chamber of commerce rooms at Albany Thursday, January 15, for a heart-to-heart discussion of the problem of raising and standardizing the marketing of food and feed crops to be raised by Georgia farmers in 1915 on acreage formerly planted to cotton.

If the farmers of Georgia reduce their cotton average one-third in 1915, which is by the most conservative estimate the minimum reduction that will prevent disaster, there will be not less than 1,000,000 acres that must either lie fallow or be planted in food crops. If this land lies idle at least 20,000 farm hands will be forced to seek employment in the cities and towns which are already overflowing with unskilled labor hunting jobs.

The many friends of Mrs. Henry Johnson will be glad to know that she has recovered from a recent illness.

BRYAN SENDS PROTEST TO CARRANZA AGENTS

United States Objects to the Threat to Close the Oil Wells at Tampico.

Washington, January 14.—Secretary Bryan has sent a vigorous protest ultimatum to Carranza authorities at Tampico, against their threat to close the great oil wells in that vicinity because the foreign operators refused to accept a heavy assessment levied by the Mexican government.

Most of the oil plants are owned by American and British capitalists. There have been several complaints against Carranza officials, as well as Mexican owners, for their refusal to permit foreign investment in the oil industry. Carranza officials are reported to have been preparing a summary to shut down all of the plants unless the Carranza government was forthcoming.

It is doubtful as to whether General Guiterrez had been notified by the ultimatum. Carranza officials are reported to have been preparing a summary to shut down all of the plants unless the Carranza government was forthcoming.

His Term About to Expire Blease Resigns to Escape Contest With Legislature

Legislature Very Hostile to Governor, and Had Con- sidered Impeachment Pro- ceedings—Sketch of Gov. Blease's Stormy Career in South Carolina Politics.

Columbia, S. C., January 14.—(Special)—Blease today retired as South Carolina's governor, five days before his second term of two years would have ended. His resignation, sent to Secretary of State Mcowan, was supplemented by a brief message to the general assembly informing the members that it also was tendered to them.

Some members of the house of representatives and senate charged that his resignation was an attempt to escape impeachment proceedings. The governor's resignation, however, was necessary, and by direction of the presiding officers in the house and senate the message was received only as an information.

Legislature Very Hostile to Governor, and Had Considered Impeachment Proceedings—Sketch of Gov. Blease's Stormy Career in South Carolina Politics.

Proposals to impeach. No previous intimation of the governor's action had been given as a reason for it was assigned. The present legislature is chiefly composed of men who are political opponents of Mr. Blease and it was said that proposals to institute impeachment proceedings against him were made at a meeting of legislators Tuesday night, but that no action was taken.

"I hereby resign my office as governor of South Carolina," was the full communication of Governor Blease to the secretary of state. It was written by hand and in red ink. The governor and his friends refused to add anything to the brief statement. The message to the general assembly was equally terse, it simply saying "I hereby tender my resignation to you as governor of the state of South Carolina."

Governor-elect Richard T. Manning will be inaugurated next Tuesday. He has been a political opponent of Mr. Blease and defeated him in the gubernatorial election of 1904.

WHEAT ADVANCED OVER TWO CENTS

May Option Sold at Price Not Equalled in Years. Rye Brought $1.17, Highest in Fifty Years.

Chicago, January 14.—Wheat jumped today to virtually 10 cents a bushel higher than last Monday's record. At the summit the May option brought $1.17, a price not equalled in 50 years. The chief reason was that exporters wanted more wheat than they could buy in American markets. Feeding was much unsettled at the close, which varied from the same as last week to $2.12 1/2 a bushel. Corn finished unchanged to 14th up, oats at gain of 1/4 to 3/4 and provisions down 1/2 to 1.

European demand for wheat is so strong that finding no wheat available, exporters bought thousands of barrels of their home. Reports that depletion of Pacific coast wheat stocks had led to a sharp competition from there on this side of the Rockies helped give bulls almost complete sway over prices. Exports were fairly brisk, a substitute for wheat was called upon for the first time in 50 years. A price beyond anything known in fifty years.

Lower prices of corn kept that crop depressed today. Provisions generally were quiet. Pork and lard receipts proved firmer than corn, owing to buying by export houses.

Call for Old Atlanta Spirit Made by Mayor Woodward At Freight Bureau Banquet

Over 200 members of the Atlanta Freight bureau assembled last night at a sumptuous banquet held at the Piedmont hotel and listened to a number of speeches. The occasion marked the thirteenth annual meeting of the bureau, and was attended by a large number of city officials and prominent business men.

Chairman W. A. Parker opened the meeting with a report covering the work of the organization during 1914.

Governor Stanton made an address, in which he said that if the railroads did not do the people justice it would mean in time state and government ownership.

Calls for Atlanta Spirit.

"It is not characteristic of Atlanta," said Mayor Woodward, to cry "hard times." We are forgetting the old Atlanta spirit. Let us turn our backs on the old logic of hard times. It is up to council to change conditions more than any other set of men. If council will put up the $75,000 for the Southeastern fair, it will change the attitude of the business community, and give the newspapers the right to give the people the good times until men get employment."

Joseph P. Gray, of Savannah, a member of the railroad committee, made an able address on the human side of the railroads. He said that it is impossible to get rid of human selfishness, and that the only way to get rid of it is to enlighten the people. The duty of the railroad commission, he declared, was not to get rid of the railroads, but to get the people, that their combined activities would do to the progress and up-building of the state.

Spooners Welcome In Atlanta Parks, Declares Cochran

Manager of Department Is Already Putting in Swings and Benches for Accommodations of Lovers.

When the last chill days of winter are gone, and the days of spring take their course, it is to be anticipated that the city's parks and recreation centers will be thronged with lovers. To meet this demand, according to General Manager J. Oscar Cochran, who was recently elected head of the park department.

In outlining his plans for 1915 improvements in the parks, Manager Cochran gave him a list of things to be provided for new benches and swings in Grant and Piedmont parks, and he said the aforesaid benches and swings are for spooners.

"I want plenty of benches and swings in the parks for spooners, and I want to take advantage of the attraction of the city's parks for spooners to their hearts' desire in either of the parks, provided, of course, they are spooning in within the bounds of propriety."

Manager Cochran means that the park department is going to allow individuals to go to the parks and regulate the park, and that the park department is going to be abandoned. But I want to emphasize that the park department is to be opened to the masses, and whatever I can do to promote happiness and pleasure to the public will find me willing and ready.

Plans for Department.

Following are some plans outlined by Manager Cochran for the improvement of the parks, playgrounds and recreation spots which are under the control of the park department:

Granting all roads which have not been gutted in the past; new pavement on Fond from Constitution highway to Augusta avenue street drive with concrete walk in front of the lake; cement walk from a point near the lake to the boat house; new concrete stone bridges from Constitution highway to the boat house; new concrete stone bridges from Constitution highway to the boat house; new concrete stone bridges from Constitution highway to the boat house.

HOME OF EWELL GAY ENTERED AND ROBBED

Ewell Gay, a well-known insurance man, returned to his apartments at 21 West Seventh street last night to discover that burglars had entered his home and stolen two gold bracelets set with diamonds, a watch and a pocket watch, a 30-caliber revolver. The burglar also stole a box of clothing and a pair of shoes which they threw all over the place.
