GREAT GERMAN GUN.

St. Omer, France, January 25.—(By Wireless to London.)—The British has destroyed an enormous gun which was mounted on a gun-carriage on Hill about one mile behind their first line of trenches and about two miles from the British front, thus silencing the English howitzers and mortars.

The position of the big gun was marked by a fresh crater, and was found to be a gun which had been demolished it.

The gunners then directed their fire on a group of German artillery which had been posted in a trench a mile further behind, scattering them with a few well timed shells.

The gunners then brought up the German gunners to empty their shells into the British lines all along the eastern battle front.

Munro, manager; and General Lorimer, a director, with misappropriation of funds. "MY HEALTH IS PERFECT"

So Says a North Carolina Lady in Telling What She Owes to Cardu, The Woman's Tonic.

Mt. Alvy, N. C.—Mrs. Ada Hull, of this place, says: "About six years ago I got in very bad health. I suffered terribly, pain in my head, and back. I used to have to see the sun rise and I dreaded to see it set, for I suffered such agony. No one except myself will ever know how badly I suffered. I used to have to sit and suffer as a result of the malaise."

As nothing gave me any relief, I asked the doctor if I hadn't better try Cardu. He said, 'It will help you, and I decided to get me a bottle. At this time I was so weak I could not lift my head, and my voice was so weak, poor, that I could not even say the words when I said, 'I looked so bad and had such a dark color that I looked like a dead woman, and my relatives thought I would never get out.'

I took one bottle of Cardu and it relieved the pain and suffering—so much that my doctor got another bottle, and that relieved me again. I began to strengthen and gradually got well. I have now had better health for six years, than I ever had in my life. I have taken no medicine since then, and my health is perfect. Cardu is the finest medicine a woman could use."

Sterling, Conn.—"I am a girl of 22 years and I have suffered a great deal. I have been bothered a lot with female weakness. I read your little book 'Wisdom for Women,' and I saw how she had been helped by Lydia E. Co-operation

"Bear Ye One Another's Burdens" can be applied with much profit to many phases of our existence—and this practice would make for perfection.

This, however, is not what we are asking. We are endeavoring to make the men, women and children of Georgia realize that we all have a community interest which has a vital bearing on our personal welfare. It is of prime importance to each of us to attempt to keep our money at home—assist in the upbuilding of our Home Enterprises of every character, thus furnishing employment for our Home Labor.

If we buy Home Products, we are reasonably sure of the best in quality at a fair price—we make a good trade to start with---we keep our money where we are apt to get it again---we contribute to the prosperity of our friends, neighbors and State---we put the unemployed in the way of work, and we close out our Charities for the want of an excuse.

TRIAL OF DETECTIVES TO BE HARD-FOUGHT

First Day's Hearing Results in Securing of Only Six Jurors. Testimony to Begin Today.

That the fight of Dan S. Lebow and Carlton C. Tedder against prosecution for perjury and perjury in the W. J. Burns investigation of the Frank case, will be one of the most spectacular of recent legal battles in Atlanta, was indicated by the stubborn progress made in the first day's proceedings.

It was decided that the trial will require the most of this week. Although four panels of twenty-six jurors were empaneled yesterday, only six jurors were obtained yesterday. The hearing of testimony is expected to begin today. Tedder and Thomas, both of Thurmond, a young lawyer, was also arraigned on a similar charge.

R. E. Ragdale, who will be the star witness, was in court ready to take the stand. It was Ragdale's alibi which was the chief point of contention when the case was first called. Judge Arthur Powell, regular trial judge, was called in to overrule the case on account of lack of evidence. The motion was overruled by Judge Hill.

The trial was opened by Judge Powell, John A. Boykin, Marion Smith, of Atlanta, and St. Clair Adams, former chief of police, and O. C. Sorrells, Dorcey, his assistant, E. A. Stephens, Detectives Pat Campbell and John C. McRae, and other special investigators of Dorcey's staff, representing the prosecution.

The half dozen jurors chosen yesterday were: W. C. Lyle, R. F. Mobley, Dr. J. A. Wise, W. A. Simpson and Claude Williamson.
