

DAY BIG WITH FATE FOR THE BALKANS AND FOR EUROPE

Decision to Be Made Whether United Europe or Austria Alone Shall Attempt to Coerce Montenegro.

MONTENEGRO PERSISTS IN DEFIANT ATTITUDE

Austria Is Preparing to Attack Both by Land and Sea—Essad Pasha Calls Self King of Albania.

AGED EMPEROR CONSIDERS OF NEW OFFER TO WAR
London, April 27.—The Vienna correspondent of The Daily Mail writes that after a war council, at which important decisions were taken, Emperor Francis Joseph exclaimed that he had done his utmost to preserve peace, because he wished to spend the last span of his life in tranquility, but that Europe wished to force him into war.

London, April 27.—This is considered the fateful day in the history of the Balkans problem, in which new and difficult complications have arisen. The ambassadorial conference has to decide whether the European concert shall coerce Montenegro or whether Austria shall be left to act alone in compelling the evacuation of Scutari.

The ambassadors of the powers presented a note at Cetinje yesterday formally demanding the evacuation of the city, but the Montenegrin ministers excused themselves from consideration of the note until after the Easter festivities.

It is understood that the reply, when given, will be an emphatic negative. In the meantime King Nicholas has issued a proclamation at Scutari formally taking possession of the town. The report that an Austrian expedition left Trieste has not yet been officially confirmed, but there is great war-like activity in Austria and Archduke Franz, heir to the throne, who is regarded as the leader of the party, has returned unexpectedly to Vienna from a holiday. He had a long conference yesterday with Emperor Francis Joseph.

Essad Pasha's Coup.
Essad Pasha, the hero of Scutari, who has had a picturesque and adventurous career, made a dramatic move in proclaiming himself king of Albania and is said to be marching into the interior of Albania, with 40,000 men. He was received with enthusiasm at Alessio and is proceeding to Tirana to be proclaimed and to take possession.

Essad Pasha is an Albanian chief of the type which earned for the Albanians a reputation for barbaric simplicity, approaching savagery. He was always opposed to the young Turks' repressive measures in Albania. Vienna and Paris, his supporters of Scutari, are now regarded as having been an arranged matter with King Nicholas, who approved his plan to proclaim himself independent prince of Albania.

Arranged to Deceive Europe.
The whole scheme of the alleged uprising of Scutari and the marching out of Essad Pasha's army with their arms is now regarded as a coup, de theatre to deceive Europe. Essad is said to intend to join David Pasha's army of 9,000 men, and if he has the support of Serbia and Montenegro, it would be a severe blow for Austria.

A Belgrade dispatch to The Daily Mail asserts that Essad Pasha's Albanian standing assures his success and that he has an alliance with King Nicholas. The dispatch adds that Essad is approaching Tirana with 25,000 troops, and that David Pasha will become his minister of war.

ABOLISH STRIPES, URGES WHITTAKER

Virginia Warden Declares the Sanitary Conditions in the Georgia Prison Camp Are Horrible—Suggests Change

"The disgraceful sight of working convicts in stripes and shackles in the streets of Atlanta should be done away with," yesterday declared W. H. Whittaker, warden of the convict farm at Occoquan, Va., who had had fifteen successful years in prison work, and is attending the sessions of the Sociological congress.

Together with Louis J. Bernard, the prison expert, and J. L. Strain, of the Sociological congress, Warden Whittaker paid a surprise call at the main white camp in Fulton county Sunday morning, and went through the entire place.

"I think that the fault of the present conditions at that camp should be laid to the indifference of the people, as much as to anything else," he said. "You cannot expect to get efficient men—men who are leaders—to act as guards for $1.50 per day."

Camp Entirely Unsanitary.
The main trouble with the camp that I saw was that it was entirely unsanitary, was not clean in appearance. It needs more whitewash on the outside, more paint on the inside, plenty of flowers and trees to make life at least livable while there.

This was the second general session of the Southern Sociological Congress. Governor-elect John Slaton presided, and previous to the opening of the session, Dr. Starnes, the panelist, rendered several selections of the Auditorium organ.

LEVEE GIVES WAY AND FLOOD ROLLS OVER LOUISIANA

By the Crevasse in the Main Line Embankment Near Ferriday Four Parishes Are Being Flooded.

ABOUT 20,000 PERSONS DRIVEN FROM HOMES

People Warned to Flee Before the Crash and It Is Hoped That No Lives Were Lost. Property Loss Very Heavy.

Natchez, Miss., April 27.—The long-threatened break in the main line Mississippi river levee, along the west bank in upper Louisiana, came at an early hour this morning when the Lake St. John levee, 12 miles north of Ferriday, La., went out, turning the flood waters loose upon the fine farming lands and villages of lower Texas and Concordia parishes.

The flood waters from the break will cover the lower end of Texas parish, practically all of Concordia and a part of Catahoula and Franklin parishes. The water will turn back to the Mississippi through the Black and Red rivers.

The break is now over 1,000 feet wide and 20 feet deep in places. Approximately 20,000 persons will be driven from their homes as a result of this crevasse, which will flood a territory embracing about 900 square miles. The property damage will total several hundred thousand dollars.

People Given Warning.
The break in the levee at Lake St. John developed at 5:30 o'clock this morning. People living in the immediate vicinity of the crevasse and in nearby towns were advised to flee fully two hours before the crash came. It is not believed any loss of life has resulted from the break.

Most of the live stock in the section which is being flooded had been moved to the hills on the Mississippi side of the river and the loss to the planters from this source will not be as heavy as that experienced during the floods of last year in that section.

Six river steamers and a score of motor boats were dispatched to the scene of the crevasse from Natchez and Vicksburg early this morning for use in rescuing people from the flooded district.

Another Levee Threatened.
Vicksburg, Miss., April 27.—News reached here this afternoon that the condition of the Grand levee at East Carroll parish is causing some apprehension. This levee is near the Salem Highway which broke last year. The Mississippi is said to have developed some sandbars, and efforts are being made to prevent any possible chance of a breach. Should a break occur at East Carroll, practically the same territory that flooded when the Salem levee broke last year would be endangered.

Sole Accused of Bribery.
Charleston, W. Va., April 27.—The trial of ten members of the West Virginia legislature, one senator and six representatives, charged with accepting bribes in connection with the campaign of William Payson Bowman for United States senator last February, is set for tomorrow in the Kanawha county intermediate court. Those under indictment are Senator M. A. Smith and Delegates H. F. Ashbury, George E. Van Meter, J. Smith, David E. Hill, S. U. G. Jones and John Jones.

GRAND OPERA SURE FOR NEXT SEASON SAYS W. L. PEEL

President of Music Festival Association Highly Grati-fied Over Success of the 1913 Engagement.

SINGERS AND VISITORS NOW ON THE WAY HOME

Great Credit Is Given Atlanta Police for Excellent Manner in Which Traffic Situation Was Handled.

Complete relaxation from the most strenuous grand opera week Atlanta operators have ever experienced was the program of Sunday.

A few of the thousands of visitors from every part of the southern states remained in the city with friends over Sunday, but most of them left "other Saturday night or on Sunday."

The exodus of the opera people began immediately after Saturday night's performance, and by sunset Sunday they had all gone back to New York to all engagements in other cities.

The directors of the Atlanta Music Festival association and of the Metropolitan Grand Opera company were pleased beyond measure with the brilliant success of the 1913 season, and are confident that the grand opera will be given in Atlanta again next year, and with more success than ever.

Attendance Is Grati-fying.
The attendance of nearly 37,000 people

Caruso Pays Tribute To People of Atlanta For Opera Record

"I challenge the world to duplicate for a similar event audiences of nearly 37,000 for seven performances, with cash sales aggregating over $91,000 and this for a city of 200,000 people."

This is the verdict of Enrico Caruso, the world's greatest tenor, upon Atlanta's grand opera week for 1913, in a letter to The Constitution, thanking the people of Atlanta for their generous support, and courteous treatment of himself and the other members of the Metropolitan Grand Opera company.

GIRL IS ASSAULTED AND THEN MURDERED IN HEART OF TOWN

MULLINAX HELD IN PHAGAN CASE

Former Street Car Conductor Arrested as He Leaves the Home of His Sweetheart on Bellwood Avenue.

As he was leaving the home of his sweetheart, Miss Pearl Robertson, on Bellwood avenue, early last night, Arthur Mullinax, a strikingly handsome youth, was arrested by Detective Roman and carried to police headquarters. He is being detained under suspicion of having been implicated in the slaying of Mary Phagan.

H. R. Santell, a resident of 42 Davis street, came to the office of Detective Chief Lanford Sunday afternoon and was charged with that official for considerable while. When he left the office it was learned that he had told the only thing he had seen Mullinax and the dead girl together shortly after midnight Sunday.

Santell's story, according to the detectives, was that as he was walking down Forsyth street, about 12:30 Sunday morning, he encountered Mullinax and Miss Phagan walking together across Hunter street in the direction of the pencil factory in which she was slain. He recognized both, he said, and crossed under the street lamp.

Mullinax Was Taken Degree.
Chief Lanford also declares that he has other information to the effect that Mullinax was seen by Phagan in the vicinity of the National factory near midnight Sunday. Mullinax was brought immediately to headquarters and at 9 o'clock was arraigned in a third degree in the case of Chief Lanford.

First he was quizzed by the detective chief, by Chief Beavers, then a number of detectives acquainted with the mysterious tragedy. He told a straight-forward story throughout, however, maintaining that he had spent the early part of Saturday night in company with Miss Robertson, the woman whose home he had just left when arrested, and that they had come uptown to a theater.

He and Miss Robertson returned to her home before 10:30 o'clock, he declared, following which they went to his boarding place at 10 Poplar street, retiring for the night. He knew nothing of the murder, he asserted, until reading of it in The Constitution, extra Sunday morning. He also admitted that he had not intimately acquainted with the dead girl, that he had never been introduced to her, and had spoken to her only once during his life.

The time he had ever been in contact with him at police station Mullinax told a story coinciding with the one he told the detectives. He had not been uptown after 10:30 o'clock Sunday night, he said, but upon leaving the home of Miss Robertson he had gone to his own residence.

She Was "Sleeping Beauty."
The only time he had ever been in Miss Phagan's company, he stated, was last Christmas, when she played a role in a holiday entertainment given in the Jefferson street church, on Jefferson street. He also took a part in the performance. The girl played "Sleeping Beauty." He was favorably impressed with her looks. She was adjudged the most beautiful girl of the neighborhood, and was a favorite among her friends.

"I couldn't keep my eyes off her," he said. "She noticed it, and while I was standing near her, she remarked that I looked good with my face blacked. I played a black-face part. I turned to her and replied that I'd keep my face blacked all the time then. That was

Chum Identifies Victim
Mary Phagan, of 146 Lindsay street, Then Swoons. Girl Had Just Resigned From National Pencil Company, in Which Plant Her Body Was Found.

MOTHER AND FATHER STAY UP ALL NIGHT WAITING HER RETURN

Negro Watchman Is Under Arrest on Suspicion—Police Believe That She Was Lured to Building by Three Young Companions, Assaulted Despite Her Vigorous Struggles, and Then Killed to Shut Her Lips.

While mother and father anxiously waited her return home Saturday night, pretty 16-year-old Mary Phagan lay dead in a corner of the dark basement of the National Pencil factory at 37-39 South Forsyth street, the victim of an atrocious murder, following a brutal criminal assault.

Her skull crushed and her neck horribly bruised where she had been choked to death, the body was found at 4 o'clock Sunday morning, several hours after the crime had been committed, and was unidentified until the arrival of a girl chum.

Two suspects were under arrest. One is Arthur Mullinax, formerly a street car conductor. The other is Newt Lee, negro night watchman of the factory building, who found the body and notified police headquarters. He is positively maintains innocence. Detectives believe he was implicated in the crime. A confession from him is expected to lead to the girl's slayer or slayers.

Mother Prostrated With Grief.
She was an employee in the pencil factory, but had resigned last Thursday. She was the daughter of Mrs. J. W. Coleman, of 146 Lindsay street. Her mother was prostrated with grief Sunday morning, and although physicians worked over her through-out the day, her condition was precarious last night.

Two notes were found near the body. Although they purport to have been written by the dead girl, the handwriting has not been recognized as hers. It resembles, however, that of the imprisoned night watchman. The theory of detectives is that both were written to mislead the police.

One note was penciled on order blank of the factory, read: "That negro hired down here did this. He pushed down that hole. A long, negro, black that had it work. Long, lean, tall negro." It is incoherent and hardly legible. The second was written on ordinary tablet paper: "He said he would love me." The rest of the note fails to make sense. Neither note was signed.

The pretty victim was first choked into insensibility, then beaten upon the head with a blunt instrument, presumably a

STRIKE-BREAKERS FLED TO SOUTHERN DEPOT

And Left Asheville of First
Train—Mob Tried to Storm
Hotel Where Strike-Break-
ers Were Quartered.

Asheville, N. C., April 27.—Promoted
a departure by the audibly
of a mob of two thousand pa-
who surrounded the hotel in which were lodged twenty-one strikebreakers brought here this morning by the Asheville Power and Light company for the purpose of taking the
of the striking street car men.
at a hasty retreat to the Southern depot in carriages this afternoon and left the city.

Mayor Pleaded With Mob.
Heretic work on the part of the local police department prevented the storming of the hotel in which the strikebreakers were lodged, and Mayor Rankin had to plead with the mob in person before its members would allow the strike-breakers to enter the carriages in safety. Two men were placed under arrest charged with attempting to incite a riot before the mob would disperse, and even then they followed the carriages down the streets, hooting
and yelling threats at the departing
strike-breakers.

Not a street car was operated in Asheville today, and none will be operated tomorrow. The strike-breakers arrived during the forenoon, but no attempt was made to take them to the depot. Mayor Rankin warned the street car company that it would be dangerous to attempt to operate cars with strike-breakers and that he would be responsible for consequences if it were attempted.

Strikers Orderly.
The strikers, eighty-seven in number, were orderly throughout the day,
but up to midnight tonight had reached no agreement, and the strike remains at about the same status as at the beginning yesterday.

Representatives of the strikers who walked out yesterday, after failing to secure an agreement from the street car company to submit the dispute to arbitration, declare tonight that the stage for arbitration has passed, and that nothing short of the increase in wages demanded, from 21 to 25 cents
an hour, will be considered.

The street car authorities announced
tonight that no attempt will be made to operate cars tomorrow, and it is reported on the streets that a carload of strike-breakers, now on their way to this city, had been ordered to return to Philadelphia.

as a result of dancing too much during her wedding festivities. The Polish custom of dancing with the bride for $1 a dance is responsible for the collapse. She danced with 232 silver dollars constituting the bride's dowry. Mrs. Kuzius collapsed, and could not recover.

LAW OF GOD AND MAN PUT PREMIUM ON MAN

In Address on Florence Crittenton
Home Mrs. Barrett Urges Betterment of Lives Near Us.

The value of human life and need to better the lives of those around us was the subject that was stressed in an address on the work of the Florence Crittenton home, made yesterday morning at St. Mark's Methodist church by Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, one of the delegates to the Sociological congress.

The address was, in part, as follows:
"Human life is the most valuable possession of the state. The first and highest duty of law is its protection.
The law of property is an afterthought. Property derives its value from humanity. The reason that a plot of land of less than a half acre
on Broadway in New York city is worth a million and a half dollars, is because it is in daily access to more than six million people. The reason Peachtree street values run high is because of the people who pass along the street. The laws of God and man place the highest premium upon man."
"One may break the largest plate glass windows on Whitehall street and the stores of their best goods; or,
with vandal hand, destroy works of art, or otherwise break the laws of property, and such violation will be punishable by fine and imprisonment and restitution, but let me raise a question to strike this life from even the most outcast wretch on the street, or
the most helpless and unpromising
of all the people, and the law demands the life of the murderer, no matter how high or great he may be."
"Christ Valued Humanity."

"The Savior put a high estimate upon fallen humanity, for it was to redeem God-likeness to it, that He left a throne of glory and came to earth
as our brother. One of His greatest miracles was the casting out of seven devils from the Magdalene; one of His greatest lessons to Phariseal man
He read to him in his own house
when He allowed the woman of the street to minister to Him. Simon's heart stood aloof from Jesus because he said to himself that if Jesus were a prophet, He would know the character of the woman who had been bathing His feet with her tears and had wiped them with her flowing hair.
So with clear-cut intention He said,
'Thou hast loved somewhat to say un-
toiled,' and then He gave the particulars wherein Simon had failed in the ordinary courtesies of eastern custom,
namely, to bathe the sandalled feet
soiled in the dusty roads; to give the kiss of welcome and make the guest
at home."

She told him how this despised woman had done all these things, not from the requirements upon a host,
but from a pure love and gratitude.
She poured out even upon the feet of the Lord. And when she had done all that, she broke upon him the box of precious ointment to anoint Him with it, and then she gave the particulars of her devotion to Him. The Pharisee stood condemned, and perhaps we, too,
may stand condemned if we despise
women who have fallen, and do not try to give them pure love and grateful life. Mary Magdalene comes as a clarion call down the ages to all women, and to all men, to rise and live again, and even as the alabaster
jar filled with the whole house with its perfume, so has her name and life
perfumed the ages since, and the memorial is told of her wherever the gospel is preached.

Work Started Early Here.
The Florence Crittenton home in Atlanta was the third in the chain of seventy-eight homes, to be established. When it was begun in Atlanta,
Mrs. Crittenton, with Mr. Crittenton, who had just come from the erection of the California home, canvassed the city and the city authorities for funds
and a location.

The city granted a ninety-nine-
year lease to part of the dumping ground for the use of the home, and the foundation was laid. For years
a quarter of a century the work has gone on, seventy-five more homes have been added, three of them in Georgia, and this chain of related charities will continue its reclamation and work of the fallen.

"The work of a night court of New York city says his work could not be done as well as he is now enabled to do in some cases, in which women
are defendants, but for the Florence Crittenton mission."

Mrs. Barrett gave many instances of her own knowledge of the rescue of women and their conversion to a true
new life and rehabilitation of character, made possible by the Florence Crittenton home and methods, which are designed to cover all the reform
work which women are and are confined to no class of cases.

Mrs. Barrett's address made a deep impression upon the large congregation at St. Mark's.
She spoke at St. Luke's at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and last night at the First Christian church on "An Aroused Public Consciousness." She sails this week for Germany on a mission connected with the Florence Crittenton
work beyond the seas.

bined socialists of Atlanta and vicinity

GOULEY IS CAPTURED AFTER LONG PURSUIT

He Fled From Augusta. When Asked for an Accounting by His Girl Ward.

Baltimore, Md., April 27.—(Special.)
Alex J. Gouley, charged with the misappropriation of funds in Augusta, Ga.,
is held here by the police authorities,
pending the arrival of an officer from
the Georgia city to take him back
there.

Sheriff John W. Clark, of Augusta, has been notified of the detention of Gouley and asked to send an officer
for him.

Augusta, Ga., April 27.—(Special.)—
For nearly two years the whereabouts of Gouley has been a mystery unsolved to Augusta. Summer before last, when he was called upon to make an accounting on an estate for which he was the trustee, by the young lady whose guardian he was, Gouley suddenly disappeared and so far as has been known nothing more was heard of him until the information from Baltimore tonight.

Upon the death of George H. Ker-naghan, Gouley was made trustee of the Kernaghan estate and guardian of Miss Agnes Kernaghan.

About two years ago Miss Kernaghan reached the age of 21 years and called upon Gouley for an accounting of the estate in his trust. Instead of rendering the accounting, Gouley
disappeared, and it was then discovered that he had disposed of bonds
and funds of the estate.

Miss Kernaghan, now Mrs. Charles Sweeney, held the Bonding company
responsible for the shortage.
The Kernaghan estate is understood to have been worth about $35,000.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN BURNED IN BARRACKS

San Francisco, April 27.—Two women and three children were burned to death in a fire that destroyed two frame barracks occupied by non-commissioned officers of the Sixth Infantry and their families, at the presidio
here last night.

The victims were members of the family of Sergeant Schall, his wife,
her mother and his three young children. Schall made a frantic effort to save his family, and when at length
he was dragged from the burning building he lost control of himself and was taken to the hospital under guard.

A sentry discovered the blaze shortly before midnight. The barracks, occupied by four families. The flames swept the frame structures with the greatest rapidity, and the sentry was able to warn in time only three of the families. When he reached Schall's quarters they were a mass of flames.
The great rapidity with which the fire spread was caused by the exposed quantity of gasoline in one of the barracks.

BLEASE AND TILLMAN AID COLORED PEOPLE

man have done a good many good things for the colored people of the Carolina," said Dr. James Levy, a colored delegate to the sociological congress, in an extempore address at the First Congregational church, colored,
yesterday morning.

Rev. John E. Ford had finished an excellent sermon on "Practical Christianity," and Rev. H. H. Proctor, the pastor, called upon a number of the delegates to present or read extemporaneous speeches. Among those who spoke were
W. T. Andrews, Sumter, S. C.; Professor Lawson, Washington, D. C.; Professor N. B. Young, Tallahassee, Fla.; Rev.
Dr. Pratt, Tallahassee, Ala., and Secretary Tobias, of Augusta.

At night there was a platform meeting, at which addresses were made by Professor W. H. Holloway, of Tallahassee college, and other by Professor William H. Pickens, of Tallahassee, Ala., gave a remarkable address on "Fifty Years of Freedom," in which he set forth the progress of his race from a material, intellectual and moral point of view. He was optimistic as to an

the south.

PASSING THE PLATE CAUSES CHURCH RIOT

Uniontown, Pa., April 27.—In a dispute over which faction should take up the collection at Greek Easter services
in a local foreign church, twenty-five persons were out and bruised, several fatally, tonight during a free-for-all battle. The police quelled the trouble, and several arrests were made.

$200,000 Loss by Fire.

Baltimore, Md., April 27.—Fire early this morning wrecked a big brick building occupying a block of the north
block of Sharp street, between West
and Ostend streets, causing a loss of Confesses Double Murder.

Sharon, Pa., April 27.—Ernest Dye,
a negro, under arrest here, in a confession to the police, alleges he shot and killed Private Lightfoot, of the United States army, in the Dallas, Texas, riots in 1905, and that he killed a police officer in Winston-Salem, N. C., in 1911. The negro was arrested here when, after he walked into the police station, he attempted to drink poison.

$150,000 for College.

Birmingham, Ala., April 27.—With a burst of enthusiasm a fund of $150,- 000 for Birmingham college, owned by the North Alabama Methodist conference, was completed, here tonight at the First Methodist church. The fund will be used for the extension of the work of the institution, which is located in Birmingham on Owenton
hill.

CHINA'S DAY OF PRAYER DIDN'T PROVE PEACEFUL

Owing to Dissension Over Five-Power Loan—Loan Threatens
to Cause Revolution.

Peking, April 27.—China's day of prayer did not prove entirely peaceful,
due to dissension over the five-power
loan. The loan, which is for $15,000,- 000, was signed just before daybreak,
the Chinese and foreign signatories
having assembled late last night to conclude the details.

A delegation from the senate and house of representatives gathered outside the British bank, where the representatives of the government and the five-power group met. The vice president of the senate acted as spokesman for the delegation, and when an opportunity was given him to confer with the signatories he explained that the majority in the parliament considered
the loan illegal.

Since the dynastic days the question
of a loan has been discussed in various forms, and it threatens now to bring about another revolution similar to that caused by the Hu Kuang loan. The situation is about as follows:

The five-power bankers and the Chinese government have arranged the loan practically for Yuan Shi Kai's cabinet, which Yuan Shi Kai completely dominates. The cabinet contends that the government has a right to conclude such a contract because the permanent assembly has not yet been constituted,
and, therefore, approval of the six-
power loan by the provisional assembly holds good. In addition, the cabinet draws of the United States from the combination, however, other alterations
have been made in the contract since
the assembly approved it.

The Kwo Ming Tang party, which is the dominating political party, would remove Yuan Shi Kai by parliamentary means or force, but neither is possible
while the cabinet controls the republic
at Peking. The adherents of the Kwo Ming Tang party do not desire to withdraw to Nanking for the purpose of establishing a parliament there, because such action would result in disruption between the north and the south.

The deadlock at present is complete.
Members of the Kwo Ming Tang express the view that the power of the representatives in the four Great Britain, France, Germany, Russia and Japan—
now that the loan is concluded with Yuan Shi Kai, may strengthen his hand by securing the republic at an early date. In this connection an interesting question arises as to whether the United States will anticipate these powers, in spite of the fact that the house of representatives has again failed to elect a speaker. It is probable that the southern party will seek to cancel the loan as a test of their strength against Yuan Shi Kai.

New York, April 27.—Churches in this city and throughout the country
joined today the Christian churches of China in praying for that nation, as requested by the present Chinese authorities. The response here was in connection with a world-wide movement to heed the appeal from the new republic, said to be the first that ever came to Christian forces from a non-Christian land.

Points specified by China as being subjects for petitions were the Chinese people, the president to be chosen,
the constitution and its making
and a loan wisely selected for members of congress. To this, in this country, petitions were added that Christians of American birth now in China may act wisely toward that country and that Christians in America may be liberal with money and tolerant in spirit.

Episcopal, Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian and other mission boards appeared to their respective churches to observe today in such petitions. Bishop Greer prepared a prayer which was used in all Episcopal churches in New York and Presbyterian prepared another which was said in concert at a union service held in the Presbyterian
at the brick church on Fifth avenue,
where the address was given by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. William P.
Merrill.

GEN. H. C. COCHRANE OVER GREAT DIVIDE

Philadelphia, April 27.—Brigadier General Henry Clay Cochrane, United States marine corps, retired, who served with distinction in the Spanish-American war, the Cuban and Philippine campaigns and the Boxer uprising in China, died at his home in Chester today. A widow, one daughter and a son, Edward L. Cochrane, a student at the Annapolis Naval academy, survive him.

General Cochrane was 70 years old,
and was appointed to the service in 1861. He served in the civil war and was major of the marine battalion
which held the heights at Guanfamamo, Cuba, in 1898. Later he was appointed temporary governor of Manzanillo.
He commanded the First brigade of marines landed in the Philippines and acted as governor of the peninsula of Cavite. President Carnot, of France, decorated him with the cross of the legion of honor in 1899.

Cotton Oil Plant Burned.

Batesburg, S. C., April 27.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the oil
plant of the Batesburg Cotton Oil company here. The company's ginner and fertilizer plants were also slightly damaged, and 2,000 tons of cotton bolls consumed. The total loss is estimated at from $50,000 to $60,000.
Insurance amounted to $25,000.

PLEADS FOR BETTER SOCIAL CONDITIONS

Rev. F. M. Crouch Asks People of Atlanta to Forget Their Religious Differences.

That the people of Atlanta should forget their religious differences, and, regardless of denominations, plunge into the work of bettering social conditions here, was the contention of Rev. F. M. Crouch, field secretary of the joint commission on social service of the Protestant Episcopal church, of New York, from the pulpit of St. Philip's cathedral yesterday morning.

"The present generation needs a new version of the parable of the Good Samaritan," declared Dr. Crouch. "It is not the single individual to do good in his own way that we need so much as a band of strong men to go along the road to Jericho and wipe out the thieves and robbers that no more travelers may be beaten."

"This is an age of prevention, not of cure."

"In order to achieve this cleaning-up, we must unite. There should be no harsh feeling between the followers of the different religious denominations—everyone has a different means for reaching salvation, anyway, and all of us, Baptist and Presbyterian, Episcopal and Methodist, should get together in one great endeavor to bring a little, at least, of the Magic City to this earth."

BEAVER BUYS STOCK IN RIVERSIDE ACADEMY

Of great interest in preparatory school circles and among prospective students is the announcement made Saturday that Professor Sandy Beaver, of Stone Mountain, has bought a large block of stock in Riverside Military and Naval Academy, and will assume active management of Riverside on the first day of June. Professor Beaver has been elected president, succeeding Dr. H. A. Pearce.

This announcement is one of the most interesting which has been made in preparatory school circles in recent years, for Professor Sandy Beaver is one of the best-known and most popular preparatory school principals in the south. Professor Beaver, a native of Augusta, Ga., was educated in that city, and afterwards graduated at the University of Georgia with the class of 1903.

While a student at the university, Professor Beaver was a leader in athletics, and was elected captain of the famous baseball team of 1901, when only 17 years of age, and thus became the youngest baseball captain in the university has ever had. He was also named all-southern first baseman in 1902. He played for three years on the varsity football team, and was considered one of the leading players of the south, making all-southern tackle in senior year.

Riverside Naval academy, located on the banks of the Chattahoochee river and Lake Warner, conducts the only preparatory naval school in this section, and on account of its splendid water facilities for aquatic sports it has become known as "The Culver of the South." A graduate naval instructor is in charge of the aquatic work in the summer school, and works in conjunction with Riverside's well-known literary faculty, of which Dr. F. L. McCoy is principal.

COMMERCIAL FERTILIZER HAS BIG GEORGIA SALE

Reports from the headquarters of the various fertilizer factories and oil mills, which operate mixing plants in Georgia, located in Atlanta, indicate that the tonnage of commercial fertilizer which has been hauled from the oil mills and warehouses in this state during the week just closing has been one of the heaviest of the season.

The wet weather throughout the spring has put the farmers behind in their plantings, and they realize they must depend, largely, upon a heavy application of commercial fertilizer to have their crop up and fruited in time to escape frost. The number of fertilizer bags sold by the department of agriculture indicates that the demand is expected to increase during the next few weeks. The area under cultivation is not expected to be much greater this year than last, but the productivity, due to increased fertilization, is expected to be larger. Also, the planters are taking hold of the plan of second and even third application of fertilizer in order to supply the necessary plant food to the growing crop. This form of fertilization has proven most rational and demonstrations have shown that at a cost of $5 per acre, for second application fertilizer, the acreage so fertilized has produced 20 per acre more than that fertilized only when the crop was planted.

Solitaire Diamond Engagement Rings

Every girl wants to own and wear a solitaire diamond engagement ring.

CRUISE DOWN POTOMAC PLEASANT FOR WILSON

President Returns From Outing Feeling Stronger—Busy Week Is Ahead.

Washington, April 27.—Rested after two days and a night of abate aboard the Sylph on the Potomac river, completely away from the cares of his office, President Wilson returned to the white house tonight shortly after 5 o'clock.

Tomorrow will mark the beginning of another busy week for him. With the Potomac cruise and the tariff debate to watch in addition to the usual heavy white house routine, the president will have his hands full preparing to get away Thursday for his New Jersey speaking trip.

The cruise down the Potomac was pleasant and uneventful, although today it got rather too cool for comfort. Leaving here yesterday morning, the Sylph steamed down to St. Mary's river and up to the historic St. Mary's landing where she laid up for the night. The return trip began at 2 o'clock this afternoon, the change in the weather upsetting plans for another night on the water.

The president, who was accompanied only by Dr. Cary Grayson, white house physician, his youngest daughter, Eleanor, and a secret service man, gave no attention to business. He carried no official papers with him, and the Sylph's wireless was not used until late today, when a member of the staff notifying the navy yard of the hour of return.

The departure of the Sylph and her return were marked by the absence of the customary president salute. The commandant of the navy had been requested to permit no demonstration of any kind.

CLAN O'HARA TO BURY DEAD THIS MORNING

Clan O'Hara, 400 strong, are flocking to Atlanta from all directions for their annual memorial services in honor of those of their number who have died within the past twelve months. No matter where a member of the clan may die, his body is prepared for burial in Atlanta.

This band of horse traders, and all O'Hara clansmen are horse traders by profession, and by inclination, are long on loyalty and on sentiment. They vow that Atlanta is the only city in the United States good enough to bury their dead, and they go even farther, for they require that Greenberg & Bond company, and none other, shall prepare for burial all departed clansmen, and ever since this company has been in business they have directed the services.

All members of this clan who have died since the last annual burial have been stored in vaults for the interim which will take place today. Father Kennedy, officiating. The ritual will be the Catholic ceremony, and there will be one church service and mass over all the dead in the Church of the Immaculate Conception at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

The bodies will all be laid to rest at West View cemetery, and at the grave there will be a separate ceremony over each body. The following is a list of the dead: Bridget Costello, Blackhawk, Ga.; Bridget Sherlock, Sparks, Ga.; Mrs. Mamie Nelson, Selma, Ala.; Miss Annie Carroll, Alamo, Ga.; Mrs. Anna Sherlock, Baxley, Ga.; Miss Bridget Mack, Thomasville, Ga., and Mrs. Bridget O'Hara, Cobb, Ga.

MAKERS OF CORDUOYS WANT PRESENT TARIFF

Washington, April 27.—(Special.)—Manufacturers of cotton corduroys, velvets and plushes have petitioned Mr. Underwood that the present rates of duty on these articles be continued, saying that the industry is a new one, being practically the growth of the last twelve years, and the total output is now only $7,000,000 a year.

The process of manufacture is a difficult one, according to their statement, and requires a great deal of machinery and material to the finished product, the labor cost being one-half the total cost. The labor cost here is from two to three times that abroad, although the foreign operatives are much more efficient in the process of training local operatives they have imported dyers, finishers and cutters from abroad. They say that today fully one-third of all cotton pile fabrics used in this country are imported, the existing tariff rates are competitive, they say, as shown by imports of over $1,000,000 in 1907 and of $2,274,419 in 1912.

The statement is signed by E. M. Coughlin, assistant treasurer of the Aragon mills, Aragon, Ga., by H. J. Holbrook, treasurer Brookfield Mills, Brookfield, N. C., and New York Mills, Oneida, N. Y.

RAIN WELCOME BOON TO THOMAS FARMERS

Thomasville, Ga., April 27.—(Special.)—The rain here yesterday was a welcome boon to farmers and gardeners, as it was beginning to be very much needed. While the rain throughout the county have been reported in generally good condition, the winds and bright sunshine of the past two weeks have drained off the soil very rapidly, and asked it hard around the tender plants, thus retarding the growth. It has been fine weather for late for chopping cotton, and the farmers have been generally busy at it. While the plant is in good condition, the cool nights and mornings have somewhat kept back the growth, especially where it was planted late. The corn crop is in fine shape, and, unusually advanced for this season of the year. Watermelons and other crops are also looking well, and the old crop, generally, will be a good one.

TWO BANKS OF CAMILLA DECIDE TO CONSOLIDATE

Thomasville, Ga., April 27.—(Special.)—The stockholders of the Citizens' bank and the Planters' bank of Camilla, have decided to consolidate the two institutions under the name of the Planters and Citizens' bank. This will make a strong institution, with large capital and influence and a prestige of a number of the most influential men of Camilla, who are stockholders in it.

The officers elected are from both institutions, G. C. Cochran, of the Citizens', being president, and G. B. Cochran, of the Planters', vice president.

W. E. Hughes, of the Citizens', will be active vice president, and W. C. Faulkner, of the Planters', cashier. H. C. Anderson, teller of the Citizens', will be assistant cashier.

BEDLAM IS CREATED BY THE SUFFRAGETTES

Opponents of Militant Women Try to Duck Them—Police Saved the Women.

London, April 27.—Hyde Park was again turned into a bedlam by the suffragettes and their opponents this afternoon. The women, declining to recognize the police order that no suffragette meetings were to be held in the park, appeared with a wagonette and proceeded to address a small crowd. Immediately youths commenced to gather, and an attempt was made to drag the wagonette to the Serpentine for the purpose of ducking the women.

Mounted and foot police intervened just in time to save the suffragettes, who were escorted from the park followed by a jeering crowd and pelted with turf and street refuse after they entered a cab.

Men supporters of the cause were similarly treated, the crowd refusing to allow any suffragette meeting, militant or otherwise.

The Perthshire cricket pavilion at Piccadilly, together with a collection of valuable photographs and relics, was destroyed by fire today. Suffragettes are suspected although nothing of an incriminating nature has been found.

WELCOME IS GIVEN TO DR. H. S. BRADLEY BY TRINITY CHURCH

Had the leaders of Trinity Methodist church arranged for a public reception in honor of Dr. H. S. Bradley, their former pastor, now attending the convention of the Southern Sociological Society, they could not have been more successful in the welcome that was given him yesterday morning at the close of the services which he led.

As the benediction was pronounced those nearest the pulpit crowded forward to grasp the pastor's hand, and before many minutes a line was formed that took something over half an hour to be exhausted. Dr. Bradley remembered hundreds of his former congregation and called them by name one after another as they shook hands with him.

At the services the church was crowded so that except for a few vacant seats in the balcony there was no seating room in the building. Not only were members of the present congregation there, but numbers of those who, since Dr. Bradley's pastorate, have become affiliated with branch churches in other sections of Atlanta returned for the day.

Dr. Bradley chose his text from Isaiah 44:5 and 6th verses, and preached a strong sermon on the different types of humanity, going into the effect of one life and manner of living upon others in this world.

SPRING SUITS PROVE OUT OF STYLE SUNDAY

The rays of the sun shown on Atlanta Sunday as coldly and feebly as on a day in autumn when winter is beginning to wrest the power from summer time. Rain, drizzle and drizzle, and finally fell in a cool, drizzling shower at 7 o'clock at night, rendering the climate more like that of a typically "mashy" day in London, although there was not superabundance of fog or smoke to beloud the vision.

Straw hats and light spring suits had a decidedly out of place appearance, despite the fact that numbers of Atlanta's youths wore for the first time their new summer clothes when they started forth to Sunday school and church. By the afternoon the crowds on Peachtree and Whitehall looked less and less like a collection of natty clothes predominating, the wrinkled and even slightly frayed out was in evidence, topped by a seedy derby or felt. This was easily traced to the feeling of the day, and the discarded togs of winter to be brought forth for another day's duty.

The mercury hung around in the 50's and even lower during the day, according to the unofficial thermometers. No official figures could be obtained, as the weather man is a stickler for observing the Sunday laws and does not work on the first day of the week.

CHUB WALL IS JAILED FOR TRIAL IN CLAYTON

Chub Wall, son of Mrs. Snyder Hall, one of the largest taxpayers in Rabun county, and himself a man with a college education and all the advantages that could be given one, is in jail at Clayton, Ga., awaiting trial in state and federal courts for felonies alleged to have been committed during the last ten years since his graduation.

"Moonshining" is the federal charge against him, while the state authorities want him for an unfinished sentence in the penitentiary where he went for four years for shooting his uncle. Wall's first entanglements with the law started when he was sentenced to life imprisonment ten years ago for killing a peddler. He was pardoned within a few years and it was then that he shot an uncle who had testified against him. Since his escape from jail he has been chased as far west as South Dakota, where he escaped after a Georgia officer had got him in charge.

He recently returned to north Georgia and started to running an illicit distillery and here he was captured Saturday morning by J. H. Suber, chief of the internal revenue department. The rewards offered are said to run into four figures.

TURPENTINE AND ROSIN STEADY DURING WEEK

Savannah, Ga., April 27.—Turpentine was steady during the past week, closing Friday at 37 1/2, as against 40 last Saturday, and 46 1/4 for the corresponding date last year. Stocks of the week were 2,046, as against 2,451 last year; receipts for the week were 3,517, as against 3,004 last year; shipments for the week were 1,551, as against 1,360 last year; stocks are 19,689, as against 19,353 last year. Stocks increased 1,966 during the week.

Rosin was steady for the week, with selling active. Sales for the week were 4,480, as against 6,564 last year. Receipts for the week were 8,442, as against 7,957 last year. Shipments for the week were 6,174, as against 3,857 last year. Stocks are 64,675, as against 67,629 last year. Stocks increased 2,112 during the week.

FLEW ACROSS ISTHMUS IN HYDRO-AEROPLANE

Carrying a Passenger Aviator Fowler Accomplished Feat. Met Strong Wind Currents.

Colon, April 27.—Robert G. Fowler, the American aviator, made a flight across the Isthmus in a hydro-aeroplane today with a passenger.

Fowler left Panama beach at 9:45 a. m. He circled over Panama City and the entrance to the canal for more than half an hour, ascending to a considerable altitude, and then turned in the direction of Colon. He met strong wind currents over Culebra, but in spite of this was able to carry out various evolutions. Low clouds occasionally hid the earth from view.

The clouds had cleared away by the time he reached Gatun, and a 25-mile breeze was blowing over Colon, where he arrived at 11 o'clock. He crossed over to Cristobal, and the motor began to miss fire and then stopped suddenly, owing to the failure of the gasoline supply. Fowler brought his hydro-aeroplane down gracefully, but it landed on shallow water, over a reef, a hole being torn in the pontoon. The machine otherwise was not damaged.

STINSON MAKES PLEA FOR NEGRO SCHOOL

Philadelphia, April 27.—(Special.)—An educational rally for Atlanta Normal and Industrial college was held in Allen Methodist Episcopal church at Seventeenth and Bainbridge streets today. Bishop B. T. Tanner presided.

Dr. Charles A. Lewis spoke on "Tuberculosis and the Negro Masses."

Rev. Dr. Charles A. Tindley discussed "The Relation of the Church to the Masses of the Negro Race."

Editor R. R. Wright told of "The Attitude of the American Press Toward the Negro and His Betterment."

Rev. Richard D. Stinson, head of the Atlanta school, made the principal address. He said that the institute was founded to teach the negro youth how to do the every-day things of life. He said that $5 per cent of the funds to carry forward the work was given by wealthy white men of Atlanta. He asked the audience to aid in raising sufficient funds to erect a building in which trades of different kinds may be taught and that may be used as a dormitory for students.

"The salvation of our race lay along lines of doing things with our hands, conservative speech and working six days in the week." He declared that the sentiment of the southern press and the best white people is to encourage the negroes who are honestly striving to be of service to themselves and others.

"To that end let us hear more about the good things done in the south than about the bad," he said.

Rev. W. Spencer Carpenter, pastor, took a contribution. Many leading negroes sat upon the platform and in the audience and were evidently interested in the story and work of the Atlanta school.

Bishop Henry M. Turner, in a letter, commended the school, its principal and the white people of the south.

SUCCESSOR TO BRYCE REACHES NEW YORK

New York, April 27.—Sir Cecil Arthur Spring-Rice, K. C. M. G., the new British ambassador to the United States, arrived in New York today aboard the steamer Carmania. The new ambassador was met at the pier by Courtenay Walter Bennett, British consul general in New York; L. M. Robinson, vice consul, and L. David Campbell and Clark Kerr, attaches of the British embassy at Washington.

Through the courtesy of the customs officials, Sir Cecil's baggage was passed and he went from the pier to the home of Lawrence Godkin, where he was a guest at luncheon.

Sir Cecil said that he would meet former Ambassador Bryce tomorrow before the latter's departure for France. The ambassador plans to leave for Washington on Tuesday.

Lady Spring-Rice will come to America within the next few weeks, he said.

DRUGGIST IS ARRESTED FOR DEATH OF WIFE

Selma, Ala., April 27.—Dr. J. D. Summers, a well-known druggist of this place, is held on a warrant sworn out after partial investigation by a coroner's jury into the death of Mrs. Summers on Saturday. Physicians reported finding a great number of bruises on the woman's body, and evidence was adduced to show that she was addicted to alcoholic drinks.

Witnesses testified that, while under the influence of liquor, the man and his wife frequently quarreled, and blows were exchanged. The coroner's investigation will be resumed Monday afternoon.

Several Score Funerals.

Pittsburg, April 27.—Several score funerals of miners, who met death last Wednesday in an explosion in the Cincinnati mine of the Monongahela River Consolidated coal and coke company, were held today at Monongahela, near this city. From dawn until dusk to-night there was almost a steady stream of the sad processions. In some instances coffins were conveyed to the cemetery in wagons.

CASE OF HAWTHORNE UP TO PAROLE BOARD

Board Will Meet in Atlanta on May 5—Hawthorne May Go Free in July.

Washington, April 27.—The question of the release on parole late in July of Julian Hawthorne and Dr. William J. Morton, convicted in New York for misuse of the mails in connection with the promotion of mining stock, will be determined by the federal parole board to meet at the Atlanta penitentiary May 5.

The prisoners entered the penitentiary March 24 and, although the trial judge stipulated that their sentences of one year and a day should date from November 26, when their trials began, the department of justice has decided in an interpretation of the parole law that they must actually serve one-third of the time in prison before they will be eligible for release. If the board finds their cases comply with all the other conditions and restrictions of the parole law, they consequently will be released the latter part of July.

Robert V. LaDow, superintendent of federal prisons and president of the parole boards, will leave Washington this week for the Atlanta meeting. In addition to those of Hawthorne and Morton, the Atlanta board will consider the cases of the many other prisoners who are now eligible to release on parole, or who will be eligible before the last meeting of the board. The parole board at each penitentiary consists of Superintendent LaDow and the warden and physician of the respective prisons. From Atlanta Mr. LaDow will go to the Leavenworth penitentiary for a parole board meeting on May 12 to consider prisoners thereon, and then to McNeil island, Washington, for a similar meeting on May 27.

THORNTON WAS SOUGHT BY THE BURNS AGENCY

Washington, April 27.—(Special.)—Henry M. Thornton, to use his most recent alias, who is in jail here awaiting indictment by the grand jury for passing bad checks, has been sought for more than a year by the Burns detective agency. He was traced to this city by Detective O'Donnell, of that agency. As he was preparing to visit Representative Howard for $200, he was trapped by Howard and Hollins N. Randolph.

His most recent exploit was to defraud President Echols, of the Valley National bank, of Staunton, Va., on a forged letter written on the letterhead of a legal firm in Charleston, S. C. Thornton made a practice of finding letters of introduction from them. In tended victims and then framing up a letter of introduction from them. In 1904 he operated in Georgia and Alabama. As evidence of his nerve, he secured $25 from Representative Howard that year on a forged check and wrote a letter in his office on his stationery, with which he later defrauded J. Howard P. Birmingham, Ala., for $50, and Sayre & Sayre, Montgomery, for $100.

An official of the Lowry National bank, is expected to appear before the grand jury here to testify to the fraud of Henry M. Davis' name on two cashier's checks which Thornton's attempt to cash led to his undoing.

CHURCHES URGED TO AID SOCIAL SERVICE WORK

That the problems now being taken up in Atlanta by the Southern Sociological congress are the problems which concern the churches of Christ, and that no church should stand aloof from the work, was the statement made to the congregation of Moore Memorial church yesterday morning by Dr. A. R. Holderby, the pastor.

"If you will consider the program of the convention and note the subjects to be discussed," said Dr. Holderby, "you will be convinced that these problems of human betterment are the very ones that Christ met and solved while on earth. The church has too long delayed the discussion and solution of these sociological questions under the silly conviction that they did not belong in her province. The church has been preaching a one-sided gospel too long. The social service side has been neglected, and hence the church has not appealed to the masses. If the problems are not part of the work of the church and do not appeal to the church, then I would like to know what her mission is in this world?" he concluded.

FUND OF $3,000 ASKED FOR SOCIAL WORKERS

Effort Will Be Made to Raise Today the Expenses of the Sociological Congress.

"A convention fund of $3,000 before night," is the slogan of the 400 club, which comprises all Atlantans who are in sympathy with the Sociological congress and its fight for the solution of human problems, provided they prove their interest by a contribution.

Every business man in Atlanta is urged to make his subscription to the Constitution today, so the current expenses of the Sociological Congress can be defrayed by a popular fund, instead of resting on the shoulders of a few social workers of Atlanta.

Last Saturday the 400 club was organized, and the first 100 members, enrolled before night had subscribed over $1,000 towards the $3,000 which it is desired to raise.

"The Atlanta spirit which raised a tremendous guarantee fund for the Shriner's convention over night for fostering an entertainment will not fail when it is asked to contribute to another cause, the cause of civic progress and humanity," said the chairman of Atlanta convention committees last night.

The Sociological Congress was brought here by the social workers of Atlanta, a mere handful of men and women, and all citizens who are interested in the betterment of conditions affecting the home and its relations to society have been urged to join the 400 club. The cost of membership rests with you, and every one should make a contribution," said J. C. Logan, secretary of the Associated Charities.

Nearly all officers of the state and nation have endorsed the ideals of this convention, and the things it stands for, and they have all spoken of the wide-spread influence for good which will result to the entire south.

"Money cannot measure what this convention means to Atlanta," said an Atlanta business man. "It comes at a crucial point in the city's affairs, when the conflict between organized vice and public decency is agitating the public mind, and I believe the citizens of Atlanta will respond in proportion to their ability, if they but ponder the usefulness of the convention and the small toll asked in return."

Today an army of girls will, from the homes of many of the leaders of this convention, spend the entire day in a telephone canvass; others will be stationed in offices down town, and a representative of the 400 club will be in the Constitution office all day today and tomorrow to receive contributions.

NORMAL WEATHER PREDICTED FOR SOUTH

Washington, April 27.—Moderately cool weather will prevail the greater part of the week in the northwestern states and early in the week throughout the north central and eastern states, with temperatures averaging near normal throughout the south and southwest, according to the weather bureau's weekly bulletin.

"Frosts are probable Monday and Tuesday in the region of the Great Lakes and the Ohio valley and Tuesday and Wednesday in the north Atlantic states," the bulletin said.

"The precipitation during the week will be generally below normal. A disturbance of moderate intensity that is now in the northwest will move slowly eastward, crossing the great central valleys about Thursday, and the eastern states near the end of the week. It will be preceded by warmer weather and local showers and thunder storms, and be followed by colder weather over the northern half of the country.

GOVERNMENT OF CHURCH WILL BE FORMULATED

The general assembly of the recently organized denominational church among the negroes, of which the Atlanta institution is known as the Emergency Methodist Episcopal church, will be called together in Atlanta during May, at which time the government of the church organized in Georgia will be formulated.

The Atlanta church has recently erected a building at Whitehall terrace and Crumley street, and during the past winter raised $49,900, under the direction of Rev. S. M. Zeigler, the pastor. Rev. J. A. Davis is general superintendent, and Rev. M. H. Dougherty secretary of the conference. The church differs from other Methodist churches, in that they have no presiding elders.

HIS DEATH WAS CAUSED BY ROLLER SKATING

Newbern, N. C., April 27.—The roller skate claimed its first victim here today when Ellis Meekins, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Meekins, a prominent family of this section, died today as a result of injuries sustained several nights ago while skating on the public sidewalk. Young Meekins with several companions were skating on the sidewalk when some one playfully threw a strip of wood in the path of the skaters. Meekins' skate hit the obstruction and the lad was thrown with such force as to break three ribs, his hip and caused congestion of the brain. He never rallied from the fall.

Our Greatest Testimonial

The most gratifying evidence of the public's appreciation of our services is to hear this: "Your firm was recommended to me as a thoroughly reliable place to have my eyes examined and glasses fitted." NEW SHORTSTOP PLAYS TODAY

EDITED BY
Dick Jemison

WHIFFS

May Be Change.

A NEW SHORTSTOP may be in the pastime for the Crackers this afternoon. E. Williams, sent here by Clark Griffith, reported Sunday morning. If he and Manager Smith agree on terms he will be in the game this afternoon against the Vols. It is to be hoped that he does, for he is sure to improve on the present occupant. Little improvement is necessary at that.

Send Him Back.

IF DAYTON wants Dobard back it is our tip to send him back to the Central league. What he based his worth on to make it necessary for him to hold out as long as he did this spring before signing, has not been shown on the ball field. Dobard may eventually get going, but that is not the point. Hemphill said the same thing about Pete O'Brien last season. He never started, and at least thirty games on the right side of the column were kicked away by him.

Hold The Lead.

IT IS EASIER to make the other fellow pull you out of the lead than to try to pull him out. Manager Smith evidently thinks so, too. In securing a new candidate for the shortstop berth he is making efforts to strengthen the biggest gap in the club. And it is wisdom to strengthen while the club is going good and check any decline that might result from one large leak.

Must Come Through.

THE PITCHERS must deliver for the trip that is now starting the Crackers in the face to prove successful. Brady, Price and Musser have delivered. Weaver will, when his arm is fit to hurl a ball game. If neither Bausewein or Becker can show winning form, then the biggest gap in all will be plugged up.

Are Much Better.

THE STAFF is much stronger than their showing to date would indicate. Although the team has been winning regularly and doing all that could be expected of it, the hitting has been doing the work. When the present staff shows the form of which it is really capable, and with the hole at short plugged, the scribes in the other cities will not be talking so "sour grapes" like of the Crackers' winning ball games. The present clip will not be a circumstance to the clip the club will travel when the pitchers deliver regularly.

Pushing Us Close.

MIKE FINN'S Mobile Gulls are pushing us closely. Winning a double-header yesterday from Memphis put them within a half game of the locals. It certainly behooves us to crowd on our full steam in these two remaining games with the Vols and cop them both. Price ought to do it today. If Weaver is able to pitch, he can do it Tuesday.

Two Days Only.

THE MANAGERS of the Southern league clubs have but two days in which to get inside the player and salary limits. If they want to make any experiments, they must do so today and Tuesday. Wednesday they must be inside the limit. Releases will come thick and fast in these two days. Three will be dropped locally in that time.

A Misstatement.

THE NEW LIDS donated to the Crackers players for winning the opening series with the Lookouts were not the gift of President Callahan, but of some enthusiastic local fans who conferred with the major and had him make the presentation. The major's presentation made it appear as if they were personal to the layman. Thus the incorrect impression.

In Fan Colony.

PRESIDENT Woodrow Wilson is now a full-fledged member of the fan colony. His attendance at the games in Washington and his apparent interest in the games and his enthusiasm when the Senators were winning has put him in the good graces of the fan colony of the capital. He has been given an ovation upon every appearance.

Poor Old Hans.

HANS WAGNER is a poor old has been. He has only been able to hit 340 for thirteen years of service. The Pirates need a better hitter. Fans all over the country will be pleased to learn that the great Dutchman is not out of the picture for any great while as first reported.

May Be Crackers' Utility

The Crackers' speedy little infielder, who may be carried as the utility man of the club this season. He showed up so well in left field Saturday afternoon, and has been hitting so timely that if Williams happens to grab off the regular shortstop berth, Keating will probably be retained in utility roles and Dobard and Kernan dropped. Keating goes about his work in such a businesslike manner that he makes a hit with the fans, who have pulled for him every game he has played. They would much rather see him in the game than Dobard.

Crackers Play Volunteers Again Today and Tuesday; Then Off On Long Journey

The Crackers and Volunteers hook up at Ponce de Leon park again this afternoon. This will be the second game of the series, the final game of which will be played Tuesday afternoon.

Southwestern Gilbert Price will be short at the Volunteers by Manager Smith, with Joe Dunn handling his slants back of the platter. Just who Bill Schwartz will send in against the locals is a matter of guesswork entirely. He may send Charlie Case, who only pitched to four batters, back at the Crackers, though it is more than likely that Southpaw Williams will draw the assignment, so as to make it a southpaw duel.

Williams Reports. Shortstop Williams, the youngster sent to the Crackers by Manager Clark Griffith, of the Senators, reported Sunday at noon. He is a tall, slim fellow, built apparently for speed.

With Newark, in the Ohio State League last season, he hit at a .294 clip and if he can keep up that clip in the Southern league, the attack of the Crackers is going to be further strengthened.

There is some doubt, however, of Williams staying here, Manager Smith presented him with a contract. Williams refused to sign at the figure the document showed. Bill told him to sign it or leave it. He has heard nothing from the infielder since.

"I am getting tired of these fellows demanding all kinds of salaries before they show me what they have got," said Manager Smith last night. "If Williams gets in there and delivers the kind of ball I want at shortstop, then I may pay him his figure, but he'll have to sign at my figure first. If he doesn't, he can catch the first train back to Washington."

Bailey's Foot Sore. Harry Bailey's foot was still pretty sore Sunday. The speedy left fielder wrenched the big toe of his left foot in sliding into the bag Saturday. It all depends on how he feels this morning whether Manager Smith will ask him to play in today's game.

The line-up of the Crackers is, therefore, very much up in the air. If Williams does not play and Bailey does, Keating will go to short. If Williams plays and Bailey does not, Keating will go to left. If both fail to play, Keating will go to left and Dobard to short. But Manager Smith believes that both Williams and Bailey will be in the Memphis, Tenn., April 27.—Mobile defeated Memphis in both games of today's double-header—6 to 2 and 3 to 0. In the first game, Robertson and Kroh were both hit hard, but the former had better support in the pinches. In the second contest, Cavet, Mobile's pitcher, was master at all stages. In the first game a sensational catch by Schweitzer prevented a possible Mobile tally. D. Robertson performed like service for Mobile. Love, of Memphis, is credited with five hits of a total of eight times. He also accepted eight chances without an error.

SALLY LEAGUERS MOVING EVENLY

Early Results Find Little for Fans to Base Their Predictions On as to Outcome of League Race.

(By Associated Press.)

The six teams of the South Atlantic Baseball league got into the 1913 pennant race in earnest during the past week, with the result that there was considerable shifting in the percentage column. There were no phenomenal developments, however, and in the outcome of the nine games played by each club to date fans find little upon which to base predictions of what special features the season may bring forth.

Heavy-hitting and numerous errors have characterized the play of all teams. In most cases ragged fielding has been the rule. The fact that errors have been so generally distributed, may be taken to indicate that when the teams round into midseason form, some radical readjustments are like to be made in club standings.

Exceptionally favorable weather has obtained, the first thirty-six scheduled games being played off without a single postponement. Clear skies, too, have brought out unusually large crowds, tending to boost interest in the pennant race early in the season.

The beginning of this week's play finds Jacksonville and Savannah tied for first place, each having won six of their nine games, and Albany last with but a solitary victory to her credit. An unusual number of errors contributed largely to Albany's losing streak, seven being marked up against the club in two instances during the past six days of play. During the week Albany won not a single game.

FOUR LEAGUES OPEN SEASON WEDNESDAY

The New York State league, the Central association, the Tri-State league and the New England league will open their playing seasons on Wednesday. This will leave only a few scattering leagues who have not opened their seasons as yet.

The Georgia-Alabama league will open its season May 5, the Southern Michigan and the Ohio State May 7 and the Empire State May 12.

AUTOMOBILE RUNS HUNDRED MILES IN AN HOUR

There is a difference between running 100 miles in one hour and at the rate of 100 miles an hour, for although the latter has been exceeded by more than 25 miles on at least two or three occasions, the former has just been attained for the first time.

This ambition of automobile-racing enthusiasts was realized recently at the famous Brooklands track, in England, and by a little 25-horsepower car, which is doubly remarkable, since many a much heavier machine has not achieved the 100 miles in an hour with cars up to the 200-horsepower. Several pictures of this car and its driver appear in the May Popular Mechanics magazine.

Empire State League Opens First Season Next Thursday; Great Interest in All Towns

Waycross, Ga., April 27.—(Special.) Next week the Empire league, organized in Waycross last November, begins its first season. The opening games will be played Thursday. Waycross opens in Brunswick, Americus in Cordell and Thomasville in Valdosta. Advance dope from the members of the league report great enthusiasm, and indications are that there will be record-breaking crowds on hand to witness the games. Warm clear days are predicted for the three opening games.

The Managers.

Whitely Morse, formerly of Atlanta, more recently of the South Atlantic league, is manager for Valdosta and has gotten together a speedy bunch of players.

Eddie Reagan is manager for Cordell, and he has also secured strong players—men who will make it interesting for all opponents.

Dudley, who caught for Augusta's Sally league team, is in charge of Thomasville's team, and while he has not said much of his team, those who have seen the players say they are thinking Thomasville won't be there has another thing coming.

Harry Webber is with Americus, and his reputation as a hustler has been borne out by his work in getting together a collection of players that will be heard from.

Bert Kite, formerly of the Carolina association, is at the head of the Brunswick team, and it seems that his team is going to be hard to beat.

Charles M. Wahoo, the well-known graduate of Carlisle and assistant coach for the University of Georgia, is manager at Waycross, and his team is one that will be in the race from start to finish.

Attendance Race.

Waycross, Thomasville and Americus do not have any games at home until May 5, but great preparations are under way for record crowds on this date.

By that time the attendance figures at Brunswick, Valdosta and Cordell will be known, and no effort will be spared to overcome the lead these cities are expected to get on May 1. A handsome silver cup is the prize the citizens are contending for, and each city says they have just as well as won the cup already.

The Empire season comes to a close in August, the last games being played on August 12. The schedule as arranged gives every city a game on July 4, this being made possible by the operation of a few special trains so that morning and afternoon games will be played. A movement is on foot to offer a prize to the city showing the best Fourth of July attendance, and, like the opening day trophy, a lively race will be on for the other prize.

President Enthusiastic.

Discussing the prospects for the season, President C. C. Vaughan, of Brunswick, stated today that everything looked bright. "From what I learn, every city is just as impatient for the season to open as a kid is to get into a circus," he said. "I feel that the season is going to be a success from every standpoint, and while I am not acquainted with the strength of the various teams, I think the salary limit has made it so that all will be well balanced."

The corps of umpires employed will report to President Vaughan in Brunswick early next week. They are Lamar Ham, well known in Georgia baseball circles, Robert Carter, who had signed with the South Atlantic league, but was turned over to the Empire on request, and M. J. McClaughlin, last season with the Appalachian league. The league is not going to stand for any rowdy work at all, and the umpires will be backed by the league officers strongly in an effort to make the season a clean one, and free from any disagreeable disturbances.

WAKE FOREST NINE TO PLAY JACKETS

North Carolina Collegians Will Be Opponents of Tech at Grant Field This Afternoon.

The Tech Yellow Jackets will play their first home game in three weeks at Grant field, the Wake Forest college team will be their opponents on Grant field, the contest starting promptly at 3:30 o'clock.

The Wake Forest team, which is a doubly remarkable, since many a much heavier machine has not achieved the 100 miles in an hour with cars up to the 200-horsepower. Several pictures of this car and its driver appear in the May Popular Mechanics magazine.

A game that will have a direct bearing on the outcome of the race in the Georgia Intercollegiate Athletic association this year will be played at Stone Mountain today.

The Riverside Military academy and the University School for Boys will be the contestants. Neither school has lost a game this season.

He Will Brave the Far North To Study the Blond Eskimos

New York, April 27.—Vilhjalm Stefansson, the Arctic explorer, landed in New York today from the steamer St. Paul to perfect plans for his four years' exploration of the far north under the auspices of the Canadian government. The steamer reached here last night and docked this forenoon.

On his last trip to the northland, Stefansson discovered the blond Eskimos of the plainland. The objects of the expedition would be further study of those people.

"We wonder what they are," he said in a statement. "I think it is probable that they are mixed with Whalers. They may be blond from environment, or they may be related to the blond Eskimos of the north."

In the Stefansson party that will sail in a 347-ton steam whaler for the north the first week in June by the north Pacific coast will be a party of 12 men, including Stefansson himself, including James Murray, the biologist, and Dr. Forbes McKay, a surgeon, who were members of the last Shackleton expedition; Dr. Fritz Johansen, the zoologist; Henry Beauchat, a French anthropologist, and Dr. Edward James, an Australian anthropologist. Dr. H. J. Henshaw, the Canadian director of the Canadian Museum of Natural History, will be second in command. In addition to the scientists there will be a crew of fifteen men.

Much time will be spent in a study of the direction and speed of ocean currents and of salinity. The explorers will also study the life of the land of the blond Eskimos, even winter and take to sledges in exploration work. The course will be from the mouth of the Mackenzie river, and after new land has been gained and a base established the ship will leave the explorers to make their way through the ice north to the pole, difficult.

Washington, April 27.—In a statement tonight Secretary Garrison, pointing to the American army organized in small units throughout the country, impossible of co-ordination for practical purposes in the larger tactical measures of battle, urged the importance of assembling brigades and divisions periodically and temporarily in times of peace for war training, pending the adoption of a governmental policy for the adequate distribution of the army.

Epitomizing his idea, the secretary said:

"I hope that war may never come, but in the present stage of civilization we must recognize the possibility ty; and it is with this idea in mind that I say I believe it will be well well to have our legislators make provision for the annual assembling of at least one division as a school, wherein our officers might be given that practical training which is so much needed by our educated generals and staff officers. We may not need a large army, but it should be one which in organization and training is as nearly perfect as it can be made. The only thing which whatever is spent is not bringing its full efficient return. And this applies to thought, skill and training, as well as to money."

On the Military Policy.

Discussing the question of a future military policy for the United States, Secretary Garrison said it seemed to be agreed that there were entirely too many men at the present time, and that many of them were useless, and they were useful or desirable under the existing conditions:

"Whether this situation should be corrected by our Government concentrating the army into a few quiet, larger posts or into only as many as would permit a regiment at least to be quartered in each, I have not as yet formed an opinion. I have no doubt that the mind. Much may be said effectively upon each side of this question. I hoped when I get the time to give this matter my best and earnest consideration that I should be able to reach a conclusion which is best for the army, which, of course, will be that which is best for the country."

The statement set forth the primary objects which impelled former Secretary of War Stimson to reorganize the army into the existing scheme of brigades and divisions as follows:

"The first object of the reorganization of the army was to place the command of commanders, their staff officers and organization to the higher tactical units which heretofore had always been done in times of stress and confusion and to make the army more ready for the hostilities begun; and, second, the higher tactical training of the commanders, their staffs and the organi-

"The purpose of the order, in so far as the first object is concerned, has been accomplished," the statement continued, "the accomplishment of the second object of the order will not be so easy. The order calls for execution. Owing to circumstances over which the army has no control, and as a result in large measure, of the necessities which in the past may be said to have been vital to the development of our army, the army is in a condition of many parts and in many commands. This scattered condition prevents the practical training of brigades and divisions and their commanders and staff which is essential for war purposes."

"Until some such plan can be worked out, it will readily be seen how important it is that at times the larger units be assembled temporarily for training."

Irrespective of the purpose of the temporary concentration of the present division in Texas, under command of Major General William H. Carter and considered only as a school, the secretary said the expense "will be more than repaid in the practical training received by officers, upon whose shoulders will rest the responsibility for the future of our riders in campaign and their conduct on the field."

No better illustration of the value of divisional organization and training can be given, he added, than to compare the prompt and easy concentration of the present division in Texas with the cumbersome and slow assembling under the old organization of the provisional division sent to San Antonio two years ago.

NEW WATERWORKS PUMP BOUGHT BY VALDOSTA

Valdosta, Ga., April 27.—(Special.)—The city council has let the contract for a new waterworks pump, which will double the capacity of the plant. The new pump was bought from the Platt Iron works, Dayton, Ohio. It is a cross compound Corliss condensing pumping engine, and will have a capacity of 3,000,000 gallons every twenty-four hours. The cost of the engine is $8,241. It is estimated that the new pump will take care of the increased demand of the waterworks system of twenty years or more.

divide of Rhode Island. In 1859 he married Miss Mary Louise Reid, of Wilcox county, and settled on a farm at the mill. At the commencement of the civil war he enlisted in the 47th and 54th Georgia. He was second lieutenant, serving through the war, at the close of which he returned to Wilcox county, where he shortly became engaged in lumbering and mercantile business. He owned and operated a line of steamers on the Ocmulgee river, and later, seeing the need of transportation facilities, undertook the building of what was then known as the Abbeville and Waycross railroad, which became later the Seaboard from Abbeville to Fitzgerald and Ocella, and was the first road to reach Fitzgerald after its location.
