MERCURY REACHED 99.4 ON SATURDAY

Atlanta Experienced Hottest NICARAGUA IS WILLING Weather in 26 Years from 3 Till 4 O'Clock in Afternoon-Cooler at Night.

The hottest day in twenty-six years was recorded in Atlanta Saturday, when at 3 and at 4 o'clock the official weather bureau registered 99.4 degrees, and the heat seemed to rise in sizzling waves from the pavement in the downtown district.

Only once before in thirty-five years of weather bureau history has the high water mark of Saturday been excelled, and that was just twenty-six years ago, on July 19, 1887, when the official record was 100 degrees, or just six-tenths of a degree higher than on

There was a peculiar feature about the extreme heat of Saturday, aside from the fact that no deaths and no serious heat prostrations were reported. The temperature began to rise late in the day. At 8 o'clock in the members of the committee, has been morning the thermometer registered 86 degrees, or just 4 points lower than pronouncement of a general policy on at the same hour on Friday.

Climax at 3 O'Clock. Gradually the heat wave swelled and rose, reaching its climax at 3 o'clock, but not receding then. It was a few minutes after 4 o'clock when the descent started, and as late as 7 o'clock in the evening a temperature of 90 degrees was recorded. Then came the relief forces. A stirring breeze sprang up from the southwest, and forked flashes of lightning appeared all around the four corners of the sky. No official records were made any later than 7 o'clock, but by 9 o'clock the temperature on the streets was decidedly cool and a standard thermometer at Whitehall and Alabama street that had recorded 103 degrees at 4 o'clock, showed that the street-level temperature was only 80 degrees.

While the heat wave was at its height all Atlanta suffered. Citizens ment. weltered as they passed to and fro n the never-failing jam of traffic that crowded the business portion of city, and Atlanta's great dumbpopulation suffered as it probably never suffered before. There were no artificially cooled places for them to resort to for shade and an iced drink, and when they were not toiling beneath the lash they stood in the glare of the pitiless sun, their hoofs resting on an asphalt pavement that blistered.

Drinking Fountains Needed. Drinking fountains for beasts of burden are rarer in Atlanta than oases in the desert of Sahara, and few drivers took the time or trouble Mrs. Pearce's Pocket Skirts, EUROPE WANTS TO KNOW the way to give their beasts a chance to drive half a mile or more out of water that a horse's drinking trough any record in Athens. No prostrations from heat are reported, though several horses and mules were disabled. One hog in the country was reported here this afternoon as dying from the heat, the first case of the kind on record.

The fire department was called to Dearing street this morning to put out a fire which was burning the paving, a Dolaway surface, which has just been put down. A big caldron of tar overturned and caught fire, literally setting the street on fire. It was reported at first that the pitch ignited from the sun exposure.

Plan of the President Is Outlined to Members of Senate Foreign Committee by Secretary Bryan.

TO ACCEPT THE PLAN

Protectorate Similar to That Exercised Over Cuba-Proposal Taken as Indicative of General Policy Towards Central America.

Washington, July 18.—A new policy toward Nicaragua, involving the virtual control of the affairs of that republic by the United States through a protectorate similar to that exercised over Cuba, was outlined today by Secretary Bryan, at a private conference with members of the senate foreign relations committee.

Mr. Bryan's proposal, coming as a complete surprise to most of the taken by many senators as the first the part of the administration to extend American control over the countries surrounding the Panama canal, and to assure that stability of Central American republics and the domination by the United States of their relations with other great powers.

Draft of Proposed, Treaty. Secretary Bryan went before a committee with a revised draft of the proposed Nicaraguan treaty, negotiated first in the Taft administration. by which the United States would secure exclusive canal rights across Nicaragua and a new naval base, in exchange for a $3,000,000 gold pay-

As a new feature of the treaty, wever the secretary of state promed that language similar if not identical with the so-called "Platt amendment" relating to Cuba, be injected in the treaty, giving the United States sweeping control of Nicaraguan affairs and the power to regulate her foreign relations and her finances.

Conditions for Nicaragua. Under the proposed plan Nicaragua would agree in substance: That war should not be declared without the consent of the United

That no treaties would be made with foreign governments that would tend to destroy her independence, or that would give those governments a foothold in the republic. That no public debt would be contracted beyond the ordinary resources of the government, as indicated by the ordinary revenues.

That the United States should have the right to intervene at any time to preserve Nicaraguan independence or o protect life or property. That the United States should have the exclusive right to build a canal across Nicaragua and should have a ninety-nine-year lease to a naval base in the Bay of Fonseca and to the Great Corn and Little Corn islands in the Carribean, with the privilege of renewing the lease. The United States in return would pay Nicaragua $3,000,000 to be used in public works and education. Nicarngua Is Willing. It is understood the Nicaraguan government is willing to enter into the proposed treaty because of the stability it would give to the present Diaz government and to the proposed reorganization of the fiscal affairs of the republic. It is understood a refunding of the Nicaraguan debt, for which about $15,000,000 is required, does not form a specific part of the negotiations laid today before the senate committee. Gov. Slaton and Legislators Shown Over Medical College and Treated to an Old-Fashioned Barbecue.

By T. B. Conner, Special Staff Correspondent.)

Augusta, Ga., July 19.—(Special.)-Augusta has gained one advantage of Macon which is calculated to make the sister city turn green with envy-Augusta has been the state capital, if but for a day.

With the governor of the state, some of the statehouse officials and a large proportion of the legislature within her borders, Augusta claims to have captured the state capitol today and the visitors concede the claim. There were 215 legislators and invited guests who came over on the special train from Atlanta reaching here at 1 o'clock Augusta time. The Augusta people were ready to receive them with open arms, with Judge E. H. Callaway master of the ceremonies and fully equal to all that the occasion demanded.

The train was run right into the grounds of the Medical college, where the visitors were met by Judge Callaway and the members of the Medical college staff. Assembled in the college auditorium, the crowd waited for a sufficient time for Judge Callaway to introduce Mayor L. C. Hayne, who said that Augusta was a city with many keys and he was authorized to turn them all over to the city's Probably none of the visitors who attended the barbecue enjoyed it any more than did Governor Slaton. Next to the pleasure of giving a barbecue himself, he said, was the pleasure of attending one given by Augusta. When all had been fully satisfied and were in the best of good humor Judge Callaway presented Judge Henry C Hammond and Dr. Ashby Jones, who urged upon the legislators that the interest of the Medical college was not a local one, but one of the whole state. Both speeches were well received. Dr. Jones completely captivating his hearers by his strokes of wit and telling anecdotes.

The governor made the concluding speech, in which, while taking occasion to thank the people of Augusta for their entertainment, he also called attention to the pressing needs of supplying sufficient revenue to meet all of the worthy demands of the

"Ought the solicitor general for one moment to be influenced in his advice to the grand jury by any consideration of the effect upon anybody's case? "It is not our understanding that the grand jury is organized to aid the soases in court; their function is a higher one. They investigate every case of probable guilt and return an indictment. It could just as well be argued that the indictment of Frank might have had a mild but undesirable effect on Conley's case, in case Conley had been first indicted.

"The position of the solicitor general in this case has, from the beginning, been most remarkable. It has been heretofore understood that the solicitor was to try cases sent to him by the grand jury, but in this case, detective-like, the solicitor is seeking to determine who shall be indicted. "The solicitor has undertaken in this case to hold certain witnesses in custody. He undertook to do this in the case of the negro Conley; but so fearful was he that the negro might dare to tell all he knew, that he went through the farce of recursting the superior court to no longer incarcerate Conley and to discharge him, and immediately upon obtaining this order of discharge he went through the greater farce of having him loosed upon the streets. and then immediately and illegally returning him to the city station house. where he now is carefully watched, counselled and interviewed by the solicitor, his assistant, Mr. Hooper, and his detective assistants.

"We have no criticism of the former grand jury, but some things happened before it, as reported, that tend at least to provoke serious inqury: "When Leo M. > "LUTHER Z. ROSSER, LUTHER Z. ROSSER, Statement by Conley's Lawyer. "This Phagan case certainly has its surprises." said Attorney William M Smith, Conley's lawyer. "The grand ury breaking all known precedents, setting a new pace in Georgia criminal procedure, and now comes the remarkable proposition to disqualify five thousand good honest citizens of this county from service upon the jury in this case. It is said there are six thousand citizens of this county who are considered by our jury commissioners to the sufficiently 'honest and upright' to serve upon our juries and pass upon the question of the guilt or innocence of Mr. Frank. "Mr. Frank, in his defense, propose: according to the papers, to have his jury selected from the grand jury list alone. It seems he is getting some sympathy from that direction at this ime. There are only about 1,000 on the grand jury list. This seems to nean that the other 5,000 who do not nappen to be in the grand jury list re, therefore, considered by Mr rank, in his decision, to be 'undesirable jurors.

"It is rumored that friends of Mr. Frank are busily circulating among our people, with a view to obtaining from each possible juror, an expression as to the personal opinion each man has as to the guilt or innocence of Mr. Frank. This would be much easier if the list was only 1,000 instead of 6,000 to work up. This is strange news, that in a county such as ours f more than 200,000 population, only 1,000, composed mainly of our wealthier class, are considered * sufficiently 'honest and upright,' by this man, to try his case. "Conley is not begging to be shielded. All he asks is a square deal, and he ought to have it. Let them both render account for their part in this brutal murder before juries selecte! regularly from the 6,000 honest jurors of this county and not from any 'select' juror class. It took twelve Virginia farmers to give a rich white man named Beattle justice in Virginia, and doubt if any one of them was in the grand jury box of their county.

"As to indicting Conley at this time, I have looked over the list today, and I know too many honest men on the grand jury to believe that it will be done, without some fight. Frank may have sufficient friends and influence to put it over, but we will wait and watch the line-up."

Deliberate Selection

in Loose Diamonds

It is our desire to have our patrons know all that any expert can tell about a diamond, and we, therefore, display diamonds loose (unmounted), the only way in which any diamond expert would consider a purchase.

Diamonds come from the "cutters" in "papers" containing many carats of stones of wide variety of color, degree of perfectness and class. Every diamond we handle we buy directly from the cutters in papers aggregating many thousand dollars.

Our president assorts and classes these papers into grades and values, and they are gone over and over with unusual care until every value is absolutely correct.

This is not possible with the jeweler, both because it requires years of experience and an expert, and also a large amount of capital in our one specialty.

After selection, we mount our diamonds in any variety elegant design that our customers could desire, using care that only the most perfect work is delivered.

The certainty of knowing what grade and value you are getting in any purchase has all to do with contented possession, and our price, grade and weight are always marked in plain figures.

Our one, plain-figure price, from which we never vary, necessitates that we be sure that our prices are as low as the same diamonds can be bought for anywhere in the world.

"Our Diamond Book" explains how our diamonds have a guaranteed cash return value, also exchanged at full price, and purchased on partial payments, by good notes running over as much as ten months.

SAY GIRL WAS DRESSED

F. B. Glenn and M. F. Smith Explain Miss Mabel Parker Incident. -

Explaining that Miss Mabel Parker, the chorus girl who suffered hysterics on the stage of the Old Mill theater Wednesday night, was carried to the Grady hospital in a cab while she was clad in part of her stage costume and not in a thin gauze undervest, as alleged at police headquarters. F. B. Glenn, manager of the place, and Mongin F. Smith have issued statements giving their version of the affair which led to their detention on suspicion. The cards state that the girl is employed at the house at a salary of $72 per month and works two and a half hours actual time each day and that her condition was caused by a telegram from Cincinnati stating that her brother was dying.

Further they declare that when she became hysterical that they called in a Dr. Hood, who pronounced her illness an epileptic fit and prescribed chloroform to quiet her. Later, they assert, they had the Grady hospital telephoned and were refused an ambulance, so they carried the girl down in a cab, and that after other girls, members of the company, had taken off the expensive stage dress the sick girl wore they were unable, on account of her spasms, to place another dress on her, but that only her arms were exposed when she was taken there, since she still wore part of the stage costume.

Both men express themselves as highly indignant at the fact that they were taken to police headquarters in. the patrol wagon in company, they claim with a negro prisoner.

1913 Star In The Ascendancy

1913 has been better to us than 1912, and likewise all its predecessors.

This being true, it removes the accepted "hoodoo" of 13, so far as we are concerned: Tho we believe in only such hoodoos as people make for themselves.

The development of a healthy, dignified business is according to certain fixed unvarying principles; coupled with initiative, and subject to the law of adjustment and readjustment. Which is to say principles plus personality.

If we have never changed our rules of business, it is because we have never had to.

Progressive uniformity is the shining element both in individual and business character.

Selling more goods each year is the result of an idea that expands with intelligent and persistent use.

We earnestly endeavor to substitute quality for "Bargains," and adhere tenaciously to one price.

We are doing business for pleasure and for profit.

Work without joy and due compensation is drudgery.

And that is only another name for inefficiency.

Handy Varnish

That Saves Time, Energy and Money

Saves time because it is so quickly applied-just like polishing; and because it dries so quickly.

Saves energy because it is so easily applied with a bit of cheesecloth-no brushes needed, no rubbing required.

Saves money because it eliminates the necessity for a painter; and because it lengthens the life of any wood to which it is applied.

For Furniture and All Interior Woodwork

No matter what kind-oak, cherry, mahogany, walnut-Tacco restores the original beauty of the wood and acting as a protector preserves the material to which it is applied. Chairs, tables, dressers, pianos, doors, bureaus, mantels, plate racks, baseboards, frames-all are brightened and given a new lease of life with a coat of Tacco.

And when it is thoroughly dry you may rub it and scrub it as often as you please without fear. It is so freeruns just like water-that it sinks into the pores of the wood and then spreads in a thin film across the surface. Thus there is really nothing to crack or peel or rub off. And it is impervious to heat, either natural or artificial. which, of course, makes it dust-proof.

Until you have seen the hidden beauties of the wood in an old, age-worn chair spring to life again under an application of Tacco, you can never fully appreciate the value of this varnish. And, remember this, please, a bottle of Tacco goes just three times farther than the same size bottle of any other varnish made. Get a sample and try it!

Conduct First Automobile Funeral in Georgia

Death is a part of the scheme of things. It is something that we all must meet sooner or later, and when it does occur, all too soon and often without warning, we wish to be relieved of all petty details that we may be left alone with our sorrow.

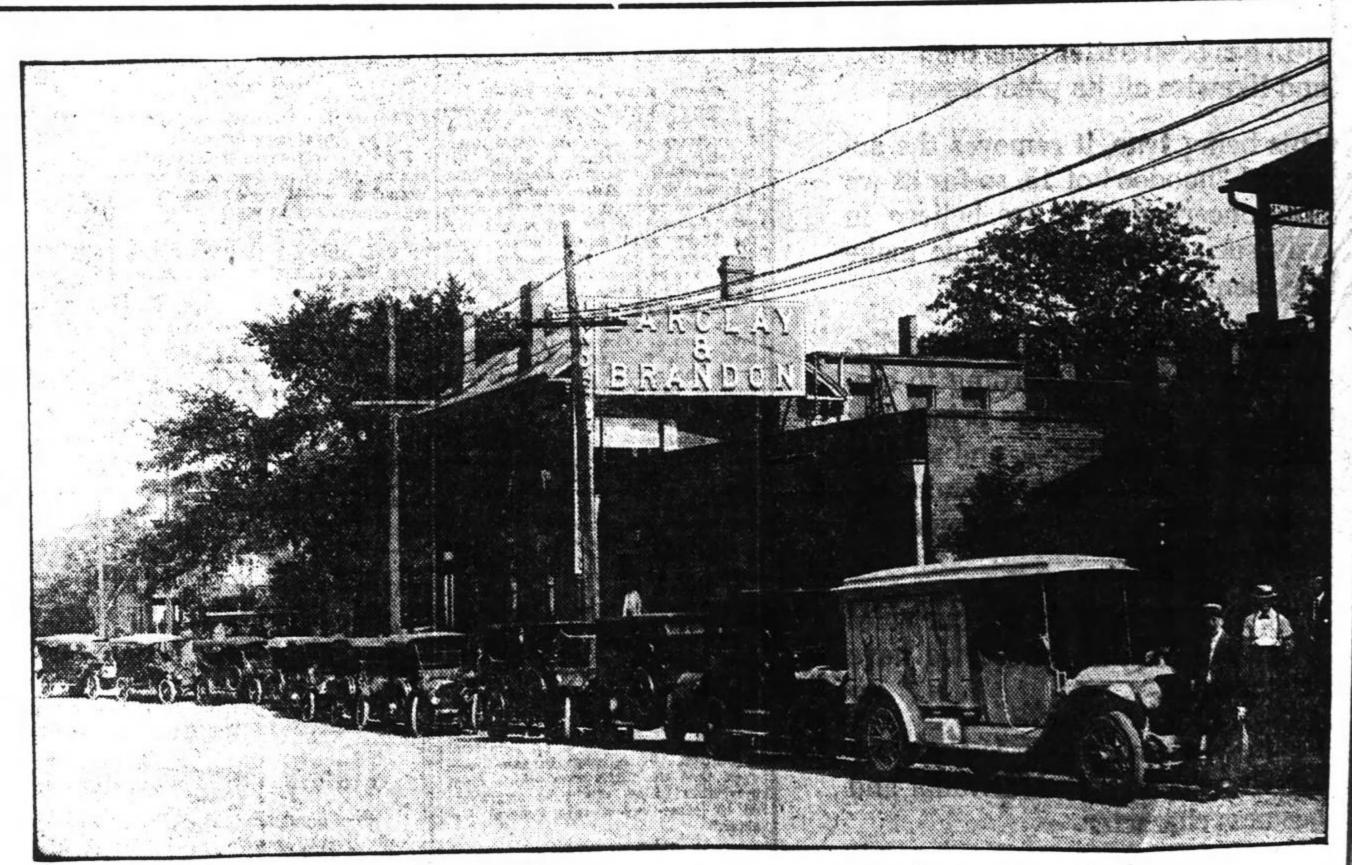

Realizing and appreciating this, the firm of Barclay & Brandon, established in 1886, and well known for its efficient service, not only in Atlanta, but throughout Georgia, have sought every means to improve their methods, and now offer

A Service Complete to the Smallest Detail

In introducing the automobile funeral to Georgia they sought to see just how good a service they could render. They wanted to be able to step in when the call for their assistance came and be able to relieve the bereaved of all details no matter how large or how small. To this end they have recently purchased

A $7,000 Packard Auto Hearse

A magnificent conveyance, wonderfully and beautifully finished, propelled slowly and carefully and offering all known conveniences to the remains of the deceased, to follow and be followed by slow-moving motor cabs.

In case of accident or illness, where the most improved means are necessary to transfer one to hospital or sanitarium, this progressive firm has ready a modern auto ambulance, built not only with an eye to strength and safety, but to easy riding. Every known convenience is employed to make the trip comfortable and safe for the afflicted and his relatives.

HALF-WAY THE SESSION!

Yesterday marked the half-way house of the present legislative session. Beginning with tomorrow, there remain only twentyfive days for legislative work.

What is the promise at mid-channel?

In the first place, there is no doubt whatever that the general assembly as a body has committed itself more thoroughly to sane tax revision than any body since reconstruction.

In the second place, the all-important ways and means committee is likewise tied up hard and fast to some form of tax revision. The committee has irrevocably conceded the principle. That is progress of a tangible sort. It has even agreed on a tentative program—the creation of county boards of equalization. Since that feature is an inevitable part of any scientific system, the development may be classified as encouraging. All elements of the committee have likewise agreed on the principle of a central, equalizing authority, though opinion differs as to the location or scope of that authority.

One contingent believes with perfect sincerity that the central authority should be rather of a perfunctory nature and powers. The other believes with equal sincerity that this central authority should be made really effective. Upon the arbitration of this issue is going to hinge the whole efficacy of tax revision legislation by the present session.

The Constitution believes that there must be a central body for purposes of adjustment of equalizing county returns. There can be no authority in Georgia more competent and more unchallengeably unbiased than Comptroller General Wright He says that WITHOUT A CENTRAL FACTOR OF SOME SORT, ANY SYSTEM OF TAX REVISION IS A DELUSION. His warning should be heeded. Sooner or later the county boards will be supplemented by a central board. Why not do it now? Why risk the farce of marching up the hill and then down again? Make a moderate but finished job of it now. Then all hands can go home with a clear conscience.

BOTCH THE JOB NOW AND THE DEFICIT GHOSTS AND THE GHOST OF UNPAID TEACHERS AND THE GHOST OF DISHONESTY AND IMPAIRED CREDIT ARE GOING TO LOOM MORE MENAC-INGLY NEXT YEAR. And the task of laying them will then be infinitely more difficult. This may not please all parties, but if Georgia is to be redeemed from contempt and dishonor it is imperative to face truth!

There are two things that every legislator and every Georgian needs to remember at this crisis:

1: Revision is inevitable, and state bankruptcy and institutional paralysis are the alternatives.

2. The revision of the tax system is vividiy on the mind of the man now skeptical as to tax revision. The RATE WILL GO DOWN as soon as everybody, wherever located, pays his just share of government.

It is well to know, however, that even should a full measure of tax reform fail of enactment at this session, and The Constitution is unwilling to admit such poverty in statesmanship, this assembly has broken more ground in the right direction than any of its recent predecessors.

Still!

THE EDUCATIONAL AND ELEEMOS-YNARY INSTITUTIONS, THREATENED WITH STARVATION, THREATEN THE EFFICIENCY OF FUTURE GENERA-TIONS!

THE CREDIT OF GEORGIA STANDS IMPAIRED AND MAY BECOME WORSE SO WITHOUT SPEEDY ACTION.

Such is frankly the status half-way of the session. We cite facts in the full confidence that the legislature will develop the patriotism and the courage to deal with the situation.

150--THEN STOP!

The press of the state is beginning rather impatiently to inquire if the creation of new counties hasn't gone far enough? It is pointed out that Georgia has already 148 counties, more than any other state in the union with the exception of Texas, which is No. 1727 S street, N. W., Mr. John Corrigan, five times as large as Georgia. The majority of the states, with a much greater density York city by 2 p. m. the day after issue. It of population than ours, get along splendidly with fewer countier. It is, therefore, natural to ask if the matter is not being

The Constitution does not say that there may not be exceptional conditions justifying the creation of a very few counties. The legislature, having the necessary machinery and committees for investigation, is in position to gauge this. In its wisdom it may decide that unusual circumstances call for the creation of one or two more counties. But it is stretching credulity to believe that each one of the applications now before the assembly are based wholly upon exigency or merit. Upon the legislature rests the responsibility of defining he made the trip to the antipodes. Would which pleas are meritorious and which are

We now have within two of the round number total of 150 counties. Should it be decided that emergent conditions necessitate the creation of a few new counties. WHY NOT HOLD THE MARGIN DOWN TO TWO? THAT WOULD GIVE THE STATE 150 COUNTIES, the greatest plenty in all reason, and still with a formidable lead over New York, the most congested state in the union, and a state with as many topographical peculiarities as Georgia. If. then, there needs be justifiable additions to our present supply, let them be restricted to two. Make 150 counties the deadline! If we don't, we're going to be swamped to the exclusion of common sense and the public business, every time the legislature meets. One hundred and fifty counties for the deadline, gentlemen! Then the sandbag for any enterprising parties that try to rush the line beyond that.

THE CASE OF THE RAILROADS.

One can speak common sense today about the railroads as about any other sort of business without being under suspicion. which is much more than could have truthfully been said five years ago in the height of the reign of the demagogue and the muckraker. And it is beginning to be evident that common sense conversation about the railroads is in order just at this moment. The following comment from The Fall River (Mass.) News is typical of newspaper opinion throughout the east:

The public seems disposed to treat the railroads as though they were an inexhaustible gold mine; whereas, they have only such resources as the people pay for the services rendered. Too many are ready to join the impossible demand for constantly improving service at reduced cost to the public, and with an increased wage scale. This disposition to make war on the railroads has brought it to pass that their stock is decreasing in value, and they are regarded with less and less favor as investments abroad. The London Economist says: "London is now overloaded with a large proportion of American railroad notes, maturing (it is computed) to the amount of some $750,000,000 during the next three years, and just now would prefer to have them liquidated rather than renewed."

Those remarks contain nothing more nor less than the solemn truth. There is still a legislative and congressional tendency to bait the railroads. It is not so strong nor venomous as it was a few years ago, but it is still to be reckoned with. For illustration, Arkansas maintains a law compelling railroads to screen all cars. Oklahoma maintains a law forbidding screens. What are the railroads connecting the two states to do about it? And that case is simply a sample. As a matter of literal fact, the railroads simply do not know where they stand in this curious era of readjustment, and they are not to be blamed for their uncertainty.

Because the interstate commerce commission and most of the state commissions condition. They point out that the cost of everything has increased, along with the general increase in the cost of living, during the past few years. They have been called upon to raise the wages of their operatives. Yet, in most cases, Deir rates have remained stationary. This is not to reckon with the fact that the enormously developing business of the country calls for additional equipment, which the carriers say they find it difficult to finance.

As it is, the roads can only borrow money at exorbitant rates. In the face of these conditions, isn't it worth while thinking about a more lenient, policy toward the great transportation systems? We are in danger of forgetting that their interests are in reality the uniwersal interest.

THE FRUIT OF MOB VIOLENCE.

Elsewhere The Constitution publishes a remarkable analysis of recent lynchings in the United States, from Booker T. Wash-

He shows that out of thirty-six cases of mob violence one only was provoked by the crime to which, all lynchings were originally charged. The others range from the mere creating of a public disturbance to murder or general rioting.

The Constitution has long held that the chief danger of mob violence lay in the precedent it created. If perpetrators were excused for one count they might easily plead the "unwritten law" for almost any deed of violence that invited their whims.

The analysis drawn by Washington is a warning. Here are men done to death for offenses for which no court on earth would have given them more than a misdemeanor

Is society safe as long as there is even quasi-condonement of "justice" of this irresmonsible nature?

CHRISTENING THE CANAL.

Vasco de Nunez Balboa was the first white man to cross the Isthmus of Panama and gaze upon the Pacific ocean. September 25, next, will be the four hundredth anniversary of that epoch-making event.

Elsewhere Mrs. S. L. Beckwith, a correspondent of The Constitution, reviews the circumstances and suggests a fitting memorial. She says that since a Spaniard was the first man of the white race to cross the isthmus and discover the Pacific, it should be a Spanish ship that is given the honor of first negotiating the canal.

Present plans contemplate that Roald Amundsen, discoverer of the South Pole. shall have the distinction of first going through the canal with the vessel in which it not be more appropriate and a more accurate acknowledgment to history, if this honor should go to our ancient friend and now our new friend-Spain? .

A NEEDED IMPROVEMENT.

Elsewhere The Constitution publishes a report of the advanced status of plans for a public comfort building in the center of Atlanta. The movement has been fathered and brought to its present hopeful stage by the efforts of L. C. Green, chairman of the chamber of commerce committee having the matter in hand. The tentative plans are sensible and excellent.

It should be unnecessary to argue regarding the importance of this undertaking. Atlanta is one of the few cities of her size in the whole world without a convenience of this nature. Men and boys have the choice of resorting to hotels and near beer saloons, and not always these, No provision whatever is made for women or girls.

The condition is simply barbarous. We couldn't be doing worse if we lived in the jungle. By all means the city should remedy this deficiency, and that at once.

And some would go to the United States senate for a good, restful vacation.

CURRENCY BILL CRITICIZED BY THE SOUTHERN BANKER

The Southern Banker, published at Atlanta, and one of the leading financial journals of the south, devotes the first editorial of its current issue to a criticism of the Glass currency bill.

The Southern Banker does not like the "political" aspect of the bill, which it handles as follows:

The Political Side. "First objection, is the plan for the creation of the federal reserve board, as has already been stated from various sources; the two cabinet officers, the secretary of the treasury and the secretary of agriculture, with the comptroller of the currency, are to be, by virtue of their office, members of this board; the president to appoint four others, which completes the board of seven members, whose terms of office are to be two, four, six and eight years, respectively, thereafter; new appointments to be for eight years' term. "Now, let us consider this from a political point of view. As each new president comes into office, he names his cabinet; two members of this board are thus created; the comptroller of the currency term of office is five years, but if there happens to be a change of political party in power, the comptroller feels that he is persona non grata, and resigns; this creates three new men on the board; then the term of two appointed members will expire during each president's term of office, hence two more men can be new men, and one of these may be the governor, the other the deputy governor. It is therefore evident that each president can and will control the personnel of the board, even should the comptroller hold over, the new president could equally divide the board by his appointments, and we would have an inexperienced board of control changing with each administration."

The Note Feature. The Banker criticises the note feature of the bill as follows:

"The second objection to which we will direct attention is that the currency to be issued is to be treasury notes. In considering this let us call attention to the fact that money is not currency and currency is not money. In 1896 the people of the United States decided at the ballot box that this nation's money should be the single gold standard; therefore, all our money is gold with sufficient gold reserve to take care of our outstanding silver (no additional silver coinage being allowed); hence money is the precious metals bearing the imprint of the government, and currency is as obligation to pay on demand and redeemable ! gold. We, therefore, think it unwise to issue treasury notes, for it would be a return to the greenback idea."

Reserve Banks,

Objection is also made to the management of the reserve banks as follows: "Our third objection and last one we will discuss at this time is as to the management of th reserve banks. Under the bill the class A and directors who are elected by the member bank have no discretion or power in the management an are mere "figureheads," all power and manage ment being vested in the class "C" directors ar pointed by the federal reserve board. In opinion the nine directors as a whole should elethe governor, president or manager of the reserv bank, who should also be chairman of the boar but his acts and doings should be subject to the approval of the federal reserve board, should transgress the law, and removable by the presider for good and sufficient cause, the government beir represented by one of class "C" directors who sha be a deputy comptroller or federal reserve agent. "If the bill is given an open hearing we fe quite sure that these objections will be made clear and apparent of necessity for amendment the bill, that the wisdom of the president, committees of the senate and the house can ar material for the superstructure along sound econom lines. Let us hope for such results and may the

TYPHOID FEVER.

A Bulletin Issued by the Georgia State Board of Health

While typhoid fever is seen the year around it is most prevalent as every one knows in late summer and during the fallhence the synonym "autumnal fever." Now there can be no denying the fact that summer is here, and autumn having the habit of falling upon us soon after the close of the summer season a few words to the wise at this time on typhoid fever we hope will be sufficient to help check this deadly disease, and it is high time that typhoid was being stopped, too.

The existence of typhoid fever was recognized 2,413 years ago. How much longer it has been in existence we have no records to show. But surely 2,413 years is long enough to put up with the ravages of a disease that could have been stopped 2,412 years ago. Of course, back in the early centuries it was not known to be a preventable malady, this fact has only been known for a few decades, but it has been long enough for typhoid fever to have been stamped out by this time had the medical profession told the people what was necessary to be done and had the people put these instructions into practice. Every case of typhoid fever springs from a pre-existing case, and if you are stricken with this malady you can put it down that you are the victim of somebody's carelessness-may be your own, may be somebody elses; the results are the same, however, and this carelessness is responsible for more deaths than are bullets, daggers, rattlesnakes and lightning, all put together. If one man shoots another often thousands of dollars are spent in searching for the murderer, trying him and executing him in order that society may in the future be protected against him.

Not so, though, with a person who deliberately empties out the discharges from a typhoid fever patient without first disinfecting them and may be thereby kills indirectly a dozen or more peeople. You don't believe that typhoid is spread in this way? then read the history of the Plymouth, Pa., land, epidemic during which one person out of every seventeen in the town developed typhoid fever. If you are still from Missouri then read the history of the Plymouth, Penn. epidemic, where as a consequence of an attendant neglecting to disinfect the discharges from a typhoid fever case the attendant was responsible for the development of 1,200 cases of this disease in a town of 8.000 people or one case to every seven of the total number of inhabitants and deaths to the number of 130.

If a rattlesnake bites a person a great commotion is made, the neighborhood becomes alarmed, a search is probably instituted to find the snake and the snake is finally killed to protect the rest of the people from it. But when a case of typhoid occurs in a community the fact is viewed with a complacency that is absolutely astounding. No one tries to find out where it came from. and no one bothers himself to see to it that it is not allowed to spread from Dan to Beersheba-maiming and killing as it goes.

Everybody recognizes the fact that rattlesnakes are dangerous and should be killed on sight. Why doesn't everybody recognize the fact that typhoid germs are as deadly as rattlesnakes and go to work and exterminate these germs like they have to a large extent done the rattlers?

And isn't it strange that a man will spend a hundred dollars putting lightning rods on his house to protect himself against the lightning, which rarely ever kills anybody, and yet not spend a cent to screen his kitchen and dining room against the typhoid carrying flies (and the malarial bearing mosquito)? Yes, indeed, it is all passing strange.

Oil Discoveries.

(From The New York Times.) Oil wells in the United States are not only still being discovered, but in greater numbers than at any time since Drake drilled the first commercial oil well in 1859. The Fuel Oil Journal of July remarks that of the 267,000 barrels a day produced in the four states of Oklahoma, Kansas, Texas and Louisiana, 67,000 barrels in new flow were supplied during the month of June. In Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania and New York, which yield 134,000 barrels daily, 10,000 barrels in new flow were supplied during June. California, the great oil state of the union, producing 265,000 barrels daily, has increased its yield but slightly. The total daily production of oil in this country is, in round numbers,

Change the Date of the Digests

(From The Athens Banner.) Here is a practical suggestion which been made first, we believe, by the tax ceiver of Clarke county, J. H. Dorsey: Make the time of the returning of tax digests from the several counties to comptroller general of the state earlie enough earlier for a tabulation, consoli tion to be made before the legislature over, before the legislature meets,

The suggestion has the weight of dom and good būsiness judgment. the legislature met, as formerly, in the tumn, the digests were all in long p and had been "redigested." The legislat when it went to work on the approp tions, had before them the complete di of the property upon which taxes had levied, and therefore had a basis of proximate estimation of the state's revel Now the legislature meets and has only returns of the year before to estimate u But August 1, a few days after have adjourned, the digests are all in information they had needed badly in is all at hand. If the date of the filing of the dig with the comptroller general were made first of July even it would serve the le lature in good stead as an accurate world base upon which to build the state's fir cial plans for the coming year.

(From The Manchester Union.) The North American Indian gave to ilized man maize and tobacco. If the l gift was an evil, the former more than anced accounts, and now the sailings of Diana recalls the fact that the Indian vented pemmican. It is not popular a article of diet, and in "the states" ca compete successfully with any one of breakfast foods, but it has been found nigh indispensable to the Arctic expl from Dr. Kane to the present time.

The Indian needed a food that he carry on long marches without overbu ing himself. He was forced to be his commissary department, and he invent pressed cake of powdered meat, fat dried fruits or corn meal, which is say contain more nourishment than any condensed food in so small a package. Indian taught the scout and trapper, from the scout and trapper Dr. Kane go idea. The sealer Diana, in which Dr. Millan will make his search for Cre land, took 14,000 pounds of pemmica board at Boston. The news dispatches it New England pemmican, as they v speak of Boston baked beans. It is a England product, all right, but it was Indians who invented it.

Capital Secedes From Central Government.

Hong Kong, July 19 .- The severance of the province of Kwang-Tung from the central government at Peking was proclaimed by the provinical governor general today. The capital of the province is Canton.

The governor general declares that the provincial council has appointed zations. him governor general and commanderin-chief to lead the southern troops against those of Provisional President Yuan Shi Kai. This step has been taken, he says, because of Yuan Shi Kai's despotism and his policy which is calculated to ruin the republic.

The governor general declares he will guarantee the protection of property in the district under his control. Business between Hong Kong and Canton has come to a standstill.

BOARDER IS ARRESTED

Vaughn Following Mysterious Fire at Her Home.

Suspected of arson, G. A. Vaughn, a collector for the Boston Trading company, has been arrested by the police in their investigation of a mysterious fire which occurred early Saturday morning at the residence of Mrs. A. C. Clapper, at 256 East Hunter street. He is accused by Mrs. Clapper, with whom he is alleged to have quarreled at 6:30 o'clock on the morning of the firts. Vaughn was arrested by Policeman George Watson near the scene of the blaze. Mrs. Clapper also charges him with an attempt to poison her some time ago because of jealousy. She is separated from her husband and says the prisoner has endeavored to pay her attentions since the separation Vaughn denies the charges and says he had no knowledge of the fire, which did but small damage. He was given a thorough grilling at police headquarters in the afternoon and is being held there for further investi-

"This report, which was based upon a rumor, and not upon any action of cur association, before which it has never come, has been shrewdly seized upon to back the claim that the merchants of Atlanta were desirous of cutting off outside competition. So far is any such statement from the truth. that it is absolutely ludicrous. Our merchants feel that they not only have the very best goods in the world, but the best prices as well, and feeling that way they, of course, are glad to have an open market where the superiority of their goods will be shown in competition."

Mr. Orr declared that the Atlanta Merchants and Manufacturers' association always welcomed visiting merchants, and had at all times assured them of their desire to have every opportunity possible of comparing prices and values with them.

CATFISH HANGED BY EEL; IT'S SOME FISH STORY

Vouched For by Tom Garrett, Than Whom There Is No More Truthful Man.

Cartereville, Ga., July 19 .- (Special.) A fish story that bids fair to rival the most wonderful yet told is related concerning the catch of a 32-pound catfish by Lee Parker in the Etowah river a few days ago.

The big fish had been hanged once before, but broke the hook. He was angled for later, when a large hook was used, with a minnow for bait. The little fish was swallowed by an ool. As soon as the eel swallowed the monster catfish. True to his proverbial slickness, the eel ran through the gills of the catfish and found himself only to be captured again by the big catfish. A second time the eel ran through the gills of the fish, and when the big fish was landed (after pulling up the river), it was found that the sel had tied a complete running noose about the fish's head.

It is pershaps the first instance on record where a catfish was hanged by an eel and the execution was witnesse ! by several citizens above reproach and was related to the writer by Tom Gar-

YOUNG RURAL CARRIER ON SHELLMAN ROUTE

Shellman, Ga., July 19 .- (Special.)-Shellman claims the distinction of having the youngest rural mail carrier in the whole United States, in the person of Carleton Ledon Milton. He took the civil service examination just one month after reaching his seventeenth year. The civil service commission waived its minimum age limit of eighteen years for the first time in its history and certified Master Melton to the postoffice department for appointment. P. O. DeGrau also waived the minimum age roll and appointed him carrier on route 5 of the Shellman office.

Following different branches of the electrical business successfully and chose the electric sign as the most promising and incidentally the most spectacular career. Mr. Trusdell has been associated with the best sign manufacturers in the country, and came here direct from the Federal Sign System of Chicago and New York, having had charge of their Indianapolis branch. When the new Tungsten lamp came upon the market, he was quick to realize the unsatisfactory efforts being made by sign companies to use them and accordingly originated a method of wiring low voltage Tungsten lamps, so if one lamp burns out it affects that lamp only and does not leave a large dark spot in the sign, as used to be so

He has recently invented an electric sign flasher which is a marvel in simplicity and the last word in economy. This will be placed on the market soon and promises to revolutionize the flasher business. Have also originated a system of English Prince Wants Lively Associates, and in Consequence His Royal Mother Is Considerably Upset.

(Copyright, 1913, by Curtis Brown.) London, July 19 .- During the past few months the Prince of Wales, now within two years of his majority, has given evidence that he desires and means to have more lively associates and friends than those eminently wellbehaved but rather dull persons by whom his parents, more particularly his mother, have kept him surrounded since he could walk.

Queen Mary, much to her annovance, is beginning to discover that she will not be able to choose her eldest son's conpanions much longer, for, as an old friend of the late king | said at the Marlhorough club the other day, with a smile. "The prince is beginning to expand.

It must be made clear, though, that by "lively" one doesn't mean "fast" or anything more than healthy joy of life.

All the smartest hostesses are busy laying plans to get into the prince's "set" and are making the most strenuous efforts to attract the favorable attention of the heir-apparent. One who will be a woman of some importance in the prince's set and who is helping him to form it is Lady Vivian, wife of Lord Vivian, Lady Vivian is exceedingly elever, attractive and ambitious, possessing a pair of expressive gray eyes and a figure whose natural grace is always set off to the best advantage by the creations decidedly anti-semitic, the result of which is that his royal highness is more of an anti-semite even than his father or more perhaps even than his father desires he should be, for King George recognizes the fact that the Wealthy Jews are a tremendous force and that it would be impolitic to offend them. But the prince does not at present much trouble himself with such considerations. At Oxford not long since a dinner was given by the Bullingdon club at which the prince was to be the chief guest of the evening, and among the undergraduates asked to meet the prince was the son of a very wealthy cousin of Lord Rothschild.

Must Not Ostracise Jews. When, however, the list of guests who were to be asked to meet him was submitted to the prince he asked that this proposed guest's name be omitted. His refusal drew on the prince a severe lecture from Kins George, who told him that he mus not refuse to meet Jews of such so cial standing and reputation. It i true that the first hostess to enter tain the prince at dinner was Jewess, but, as already explained Lady Neumann secured the prince presence through the influence d Mrs. Mackenzie and took care that th Jewish element was entirely abser from the entertainment. ADVANCEMENT OF EDUCATION IN SOUTH

The Society for the Advancement of Education in the South held its annual session in Chattanooga, Tenn., in June. This society was organized Georgia. for the purpose of working more effectively to secure more exact and extensive knowledge of educational conditions and problems. It has made a number of investigations, researches and studies along educational lines, and has disseminated these in the form of special reports, monographs and a periodical.

A council has been organized for investigation and research, composed of leading southern educators, which makes all researches and determines the amount of appropriations for the same. Some subjects of the general program at the recent meeting were, "Education for the Development of Southern Rural Life," "Industrial and Vocational Training in the South," "Agricultural Education," "Rural Sanitation," "Education for Home Life," 'Education of Adults," "Educational Work of Women's Clubs," "Standardization of College Education," "Adaptation of Education for Life," and the "Modification of the Curriculum to Meet the Demands of Life." Among the many attractive exhibits were a number of art exhibits of art dealers and

The art department of southern institutions made creditable exhibits, which will be taken later to several cities, under the general direction of the society, and shown for the purpose of creating among the public school children and the general public more interest in the beautiful.

ONLY SHORT TIME LEFT IN CONTEST FOR BIG LIBRARY

The committee in charge of the literary contest of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs desire to remind the district presidents that the time is short and that the committee are relying upon them to see that all the young men and women in their districts between the ages of 18 and 25 years have the opportunity to enter this contest. The prize is very valuable. The Library of Southern Literature is sixteen volumes and the preparation for the work of writing the essay will result in a greatly increased knowledge of and love for southern literature. Some significant remarks on the condition of literature in the south were lately printed in The State, of Columbia, S. C., in reply to somewhat pessimistic views of Dr. Alexander Henderson, of the University of South Carolina. The State does not believe that southern literature at the present moment is in such a precarious condition, so far as fiction is concerned, and mentions, to support its argument, the books of a dozen or more popular writers, including, besides those whose names come quickly to the mind, Ellen Glasgow, John Fox, Jr., Harry Stillwell Edwards, Henry Sydnor Harrison, Sarah Barnwell Elliott, Harris Dickson and Irvin S. Cobb. But, says The State, "It is not to be disputed that the south is far behind the north in the production of literature of a heavier character-our historians, biographers, scientists, political economists, essayists and critics are painfully few." Considering the fact that the south has lately been developing so greatly in industries, this is not to be wondered at or deplored. punch. The State, however, refuses to find consolation in Professor Henderson's assertion that "the southern mind has been absorbed by the classics of England and the continent." That might have been true, the writer declares,

The Keynote of Modern Business Is "Service"

Atlanta Invites Competition

The question has recently arisen as to whether the Atlanta market has any strong inducement to offer the southern merchants outside of the fact that it is situated in the south. It is claimed by some that it is possible to buy goods to better advantage by patronizing the markets of the east and north. The best way to answer this question is by direct interviews with the salesmen who sell the merchants themselves and the discussion of which merchants are the easiest and most satisfactory for the Atlanta salesmen to sell.

During the past week a large number of Atlanta salesmen have been interviewed with this object in view, and in every instance the answer has been the same. This is that the merchant who is most willing to buy his goods in Atlanta, from the Atlanta firms, is the one who has bought in all the other markets of the country and is well versed in the buying situation, not only here, but in the north, east and west. He is a man who knows when he is getting the best deal at all times and who has his past experience and comparisons to judge by.

A merchant who is one of the leaders in his line in the state of South Carolina was recently interviewed as to the merits of the Atlanta market as compared to others. He said:

'At one time I was in the habit of going east for my stocks every buying season. I felt that only in the biggest markets of the country, such as New York, could I find the newest and best ideas for my trade, while at the same time getting the best possible prices. Some years ago I was induced to go to Atlanta and look over the market there. To my astonishment, I found just as good values and just as new ideas as I had been finding in New York and Baltimore. That year I went to the east after my visit to Atlanta, and continued this practice for a few seasons. But I found that it was entirely unnecessary, and now, while I sometimes go to New York, ostensibly on a buying trip, it is really because I want to take the holiday, and I spend most of my time while there amongst the theaters and other places of amusement. Yes, Atlanta is a market where I can always get the newest and best at prices which stand comparison with any."

The experience of this man is the same as that of scores. Every year more and more merchants are finding that they should deal in Atlanta, not only because it is a southern market, but because they can do just as well for themselves and their customers there-and frequently a lot better.

There are large numbers of out-of-town salesmen who come to the city during the buying seasons and set up their sample rooms for a week or two. Atlanta and the Atlanta jobbers and manufacturers welcome these men and trust that they appreciate the advantages of this splendid market. The only favor asked of the visiting buyer is that he compares the different values offered by the out-of-town salesmen with those offered by the local houses, and the Atlanta firms will be perfectly willing to stand by the result. Atlanta has the utmost confidence in her goods, her prices and the fairness of the merchants. We invite all competition and fear none.

Incidentally, whether you intend to buy from an Atlanta firm, an out-of-town salesman, or don't intend to buy at all-come to the convention the first two weeks in August. It will do you good and you are sure to benefit by it. That is the primary object of the whole thing.

THE four thousand and more merchants who are coming to the Southern Merchants' Convention are the chaps who are going to do the best and biggest business when they go back home.

New light and new ideas always get things going in better shape.

You may cop one fresh suggestion that will get you over on the right side of the book and keep you there as long as you live.

You may see one phase of store management that may start you on a new and profitable tack in your own outfit. You may get out of the discussions some lucky line of thought that will put coin in your own pocket when you get back home.

Incidentally, you will meet the brainiest and best men in the merchandising business, and it will be worth lots to you to talk things over and get at the heart of the problems that are common to all merchants.

And don't forget the recreation features. Where can you combine a real vacation with the paying benefit you'll pull out of this affair?

The committees are fixing up the merriest sort of time for you. You can take it all or a part. You can play around or you can be serious. You can mix frolic and business, frivolity and work in just the proportion that appeals to you. Don't be on the outside--come right along and have a good time.

CHILE CON CARNE FLORIDA MERCHANTS TALKING CONVENTION

Yon Writes Telling of Large Crowds of Merchants Who Will Be at Convention.

Tampa, Fla., July 19, 1913.-Editor Constitution Firing Line. Dear Sir: As considerable time has rassed since I last broke into your columns, I am taking the liberty of doing a little boosting for my territory. Prospects for the attendance of Florida merchants at the convention in Atlanta in August are greater than they have ever been heretofore. They are all talking it, and especially those that attended last year. Atlanta did herself much good then, and I hope she will do still better this year.

Florida is good Atlanta territory. But more concerted effort in advertising the completeness of the Atlanta market should be done. Not only should the dry goods and notions and the furnishings men advertise, but the hardware, furniture, hats, shoes and millinery men, etc. These facts should be put forward as a whole in order to attract the Florida merchants to the Atlanta market.

I am a native Floridian, and am loyal to my state as you will find any fellow, and am greatly interested in its development, which has only been touched here and there, so far; tut all this development should be an asset, and a great one, for Atlanta. Being the only complete market so near to Florida, Atlanta is in the best position to reap the benefits of our rapid growth and expansion.

One trouble we are suffering from at Atlanta to Florida. It isn't so much the rates as the delays enroute. I hope soon to get some effort made to insure quicker deliveries. It seems that some arrangements could be made for forwarding from Atlanta in through cars, making the trip in one day, or a day and a night from Atlanta to Jacksonville, and then the local distribution of same could be made from there, insuring delivery in from two to five days at the outside. There may be some arrangements to this effect now partly in force, but there are often long and unnecessary

Fearing the possibility of drawing too heavily on your space, I will desist. Yours truly,

THOMAS A. YON.

THREE CENTSADAY

That's all an active, wide-awake Atlanta City Salesman had to put into his budget for personal footwear.

One of our Peachtree customers reports that Mr. W. A. Quarles bought a pair of Five-Dollar Made-in-Atlanta Shoes last December. He wore them continuously up to July 15th, 210 days, at a cost to him of three cents a day.

Three miles a day is a low estimate of the ground covered, so his mileage was less than one cent a mile.

The merchant who settles on a shoe line that can make these kind of records should soon control the shoe trade of his section.

Why not come to the Atlanta Convention and, while here, go through our factory? You can see for yourself how our shoes are made, and what goes into them.

Then you'll understand why they make such fine records for long service.

Shall we have the pleasure of seeing you?

Atlanta Invites Competition

In no uncertain terms we want to correct any impression that may have arisen out of a recent publication about the City Council requiring a license tax upon visiting salesmen selling to the consumer.

This matter has never come up in any meeting of our association. In fact, our members are believers in an open market; all of them sell their goods in the open markets of the World, and visiting merchants can rest assured that we desire them to have every opportunity to compare prices and values with any and all competition.

The Meeting of the Southern Merchants Association has for its purpose the upbuilding and betterment of the merchants of the South and we are more concerned in its success than in any mere matter of selling merchandise.

That brings me straight to the point I wish to make, which is this: Nothing in the world but race-suicide can limit the future of the automobile tire industry in America, and taking the foregoing facts and figures into consideration, there seems to be little immediate danger of that unfortunate condition prevailing."

Control and Convenience

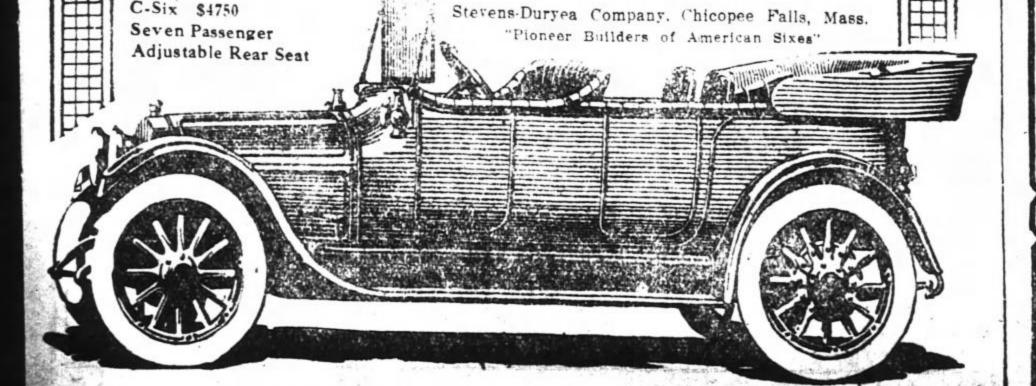

The driving compartment of the C-Six is a place of wonders.

All the precision instruments, which tell what the car is doing, and all the means of control (self starter, electric-light switch, control of carburetor, ignition, gasoline gauge, etc.) are within easy vision and reach of the driver; and yet they are so neat and unobtrusive that they add to rather than detract from the extremely handsome interior finishings of the car.

This is only one example of the careful and considerate attention that has been given to the comfort and convenience of motorists.

1914 ANNOUNCEMENT

Still More for the Money; No Change in Price

OR the past season, the Paige "36" at $1275 has been recognized by everybody as such extra value that it has had no competition. Manufacturers and dealers with cars selling at similar prices have declared the Paige "36" "a gift" at the price. They haven't even hoped to compete with it. They have been content to get their share of the business that we couldn't handle.

The equipment of the Paige "36" is universally acknowledged to be of a character and completeness only found on the highest priced cars. But bear this in mind-it is the Paige car itself, not its equipment, that has demanded the consideration of the trade and public alike and that is responsible for its overwhelming popularity. Clothes don't make the man and neither does equipment make a motor car. It is the superior design, the unusual mechanical features, the power and flexibility of the wonderful Paige motor, the quality of materials and workmanship, and the splendid construction of the Paige "36" throughout that have kept the thousands of Paige owners, in all parts of the world, enthusiastic over their cars and made every one of them a Paige "booster." No amount of equipment could possibly accomplish this if the car itself was not right. When you come to look at the Paige car, if you are not an automobile expert bring one with you. You can judge the equipment yourself, but let him judge the Paige construction. He will tell you that entirely aside from the equipment, no other car has ever been produced at anywhere near the price that will give you as much in fine construction, size, power, economy, comfort and style as the Paige. These are the qualities on which it will pay you well to judge your motor car.

It is hard to realize that the price of the Paige "36" is only $1275. A really big, roomy car; 116-inch wheel base; left side drive and center control, a powerful, quiet 4x5-inch Paige motor; unit power plant; silent chain drive for cam shaft, pump and generator; deep tilted 10-inch cushions and a score of other features of design and construction which place this car beyond competition. As for equipment, in every detail, from starter to tail-lamp, it is all of the highest class.

Last year a lot of big men in the trade said we couldn't afford to sell the Paige "36" for $1275, and that we wouldn't continue that price. After three or four months the same big men in the trade—alarmed at our sweeping supremacy—said, "They're making a strong play for popularity now, but watch out for their 1914 price."

Well the 1914 price is $1275, just the same. Not a dollar added in cost to you, but look at the added equipment: Electric Horn, Jiffy Curtains, Combined Rain-Vision and Ventilating Windshield, Non-Skid Tires in the rear, and Ventilated Hood. All of this is added on for 1914 and the price remains the same. If the Paige "36" has been sensational value this year—and for every car delivered there have been many purchasers waiting—what a value it is for the coming year! No other car approaches it in value at the price, and you would have to pay four or five hundred dollars more to find more value in any car.

This isn't "advertising talk." It is just the plain old-fashioned unvarnished truth and almost anybody that knows automobiles will tell you so.

Production has been increasing steadily in the factory and we are able to take care of more purchasers all the time now. The plant is working day and night. Deliveries of the 1914 models are being made as promptly as could be expected in the case of a success like the Paige "36." Our immense new factory is under construction and our removal to it will still further facilitate Paige production.

Above all things else, the Paige "36" deserves consideration first just as a car. But consider its equipment, too. Regular equipment includes the Gray & Davis electric starting and lighting system, Bosch magneto, rain-vision and ventilating windshield, genuine mohair top (tan lined) and boot, electric horn, Stewart revolving dial speedometer, 34 x 4-inch non-skid tires in rear, 12-inch electric headlights of parabolic design in black enamel and nickel, 5-inch electric side lights, flush in dash, crystal cut lens, 3-inch electric ruby light at rear, adjustable foot rest, nickel robe rail, demountable rims with extra rim, Jiffy curtains, extra tire irons, pump, jack, tools, tire repair outfit, etc., complete.

The 1914 season will be a distinctive Paige triumph. Keep that in mind. Just as the 1913 season has been a Paige triumph. Because in the Paige "36" and the Paige "25" the public finds extra value which no other car can give.

PAIGE 25-$950

Electric Starting and Lighting System, $75 extra

From this date we will equip the Paige "25" with an electric starting and lighting system for $75 extra. The car is designed to take the equipment, and it will be added at request. Present owners can also have this system installed on their cars. Dealers will furnish prices and details. Think of this car, with electric starting and lighting for only $1025. Wheel base, 110 inches; 32x3½ inch tires; sturdy, silent motor, 3¾x4 inches; unit power plant; cork insert multiple disc clutch; wide doors; roomy body.

Previous models of the Paige "25" laid the foundation for the high reputation of the Paige Car. For the past two years, especially, the "25" has been recognized as a splendid, reliable car at a low price. And all this time we have worked steadily on refinements and minor improvements many of which are found in this year's model.

Equipment of Paige "25" is very complete, including genuine mohair top, side curtains and top boot; ventilating windshield, built into body; speedometer; two black enamel and nickel gas headlights, three black enamel and nickel sidelights and tail light; demountable rims, one extra; non-skid tires in rear; robe rail; linoleum covered running boards; tire irons; horn, pump, jack, tools and tire repair outfit. Five-passenger touring car, equipped complete as above, $950.

Chambers Tells of Conditions as Reflected in New York.

J. O. Chambers, the well-known traveling man with Brown, Perryman & Greene Co., returned last Wednesday from a buying trip to New York. He was gone for about ten days, and in business men were regarding the busi-less situation throughout the country. "I found," said Mr. Chambers, "that everyone is feeling remarkably good. I was a little surprised to hear practically no discussion of the tariff or financial politics. Instead of that they are all talking of the big crops they are expecting this fall and the resulting big business which every man is preparing to take care of. There is very little pessimism, and, on the whole. I can safely say that I have never seen a more optimistic set of men than the wholesalers and manutacturers with whom I talked while in

Mayor Tries to Suspend Publication of Times-Garbling of Speech by Secretary Daniels Charged to the Paper.

Seattle, July 19 .- Quiet had been restored tonight in the streets through which sailors and marines of the Pacific reserve fleet swept last night, wrecking the headquarters of the Industrial Workers of the World and radical socialists, and the police were confident there would be no serious renewel of the disorders.

A number of men from the fleet were ashore supplied with money, forty having been permitted to draw pay today; but with the sailors also came ashore a large patrol, under command of one of the captains of the fleet, repared to round up the men the mement any disorder was reported. A large number of extra police had beer sworn in, and another factor for quiet was the fact there were no more plac "

Industrial Workers of the World said tonight they had received warning yesterday of a plot to wreck their establishments, and that all their valuable records had bee ntaken awas and their men warned to keep out of the way of the mob when it ap-

Effort to Suspend Times Falls. Public interest after the debris of the Socialist and Industrial Workers wreckage had been swept away, centered in the unsuccessful effort of Mayor Cotterill to close the salouns and to prevent the publication of The Seattle Times today and tomorrow, the mayor alleging that incendlary articles in The Times were responsible for last night's rioting.

In a formal statement Mayor Cotterill said he had ordered the closing of The Times because of the publication by that paper yesterday of a "garbled" account of Secretary of the Navy Daniels' address which incited the sailors to do "just what they did last night."

"It represented to them that the secretary of the navy induced them to attack the Industrial Workers," the mayor said

Clarence B. Blethen, managing edi tor of the paper, issued a statement charging Mayor Cotterill with responsibility for the riots of the last two nights in that he had permitted "the display of the red flag and spread of anarchistic principles" on the streets during the Petlatch festival. This Blethen said, had led to the attack of United States soldiers two nights ago and the retaliatory attack on Industrial Workers of the World and social 1st headquarters last night by civilians and sailors from the l'acific fleet.

Judge to the Rescue. Judge Humphries came to the rescue of The Times with an injunction, anthe city edition of the paper came out on time, and the police guard which had been put over the malling room was withdrawn,

When the restraining order was served on Mayor Cotterill and Chief of Police Bannisk they appeared be fore Judge Humphries, with Assistant Corporation Counsel Ralph Pierce, and protested against the issuance of ex parte restraining orders, contendir that the city was entitled to notice and opportunity to defend the action. They asked that the court hear them in opposition to the orders, and were refused by the court. The mayor they announced that the city would obey

REAL SEA LION HUNT

EXCITES CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge, Mass., July 19 .- Cambridge had a real sea lion hunt last Charles river basin and invaded an East Cambridge street house, where it flopped about, barking loudly and frightening a crowd which retreated before it. Attracted by the light of a store, it leaped 4 feet through the Raiph Van Vechten, vice president window, smashing the heavy plate glass. The proprietor of the store, Isaac Friedman, who was counting his cash, left in a hurry, while the animal raised havoc in the place.

A small squad of police reserves tried to confine it in a packing box in a big sheet of canvas, but it smashed one and ate its way through the other. Finally men from the Boston aquarium lassoed it and sent it to that

There it was said to be a good specimen of a California sea lion, about three years old and weighing more than 200 pounds.

"A rare visitor in New England waters," one of the officials said.

BY "SEPTEMBER MORN" DENVER IS SHOCKED

Are Skyscrapers Firetraps?

In The August American Magazine John A. Moroso, a New York newspaper man, writes a story of fire, skyscrapers and heroism, entitled "Finnegan," in which he conveys the suggestion that skyscrapers may be dangerous if a fire extends above the fifteenth story. His idea seems to be that water in sufficient quantities to be useful in fire fighting cannot in the ordinary city be elevated to such a height, and, inasmuch as the elevators and other means of exit so out of business in case of a fire, there is con-

A little girl came down to dessert at dinner party and sat next to her in talking to her neighbors and omitted to give the child anything. After some time the little girl, unable to bear it any longer, with sobs risi in her throat, held up her plate at said: "Does anybody want
