They disclosed freely their personal business affairs and the extent of their property investments. The committee found no evidence of the use of senatorial or outside influence to improperly effect tariff legislation.

The majority of the senators declared they did not consider men who legitimately appeared as lobbyists. Both democratic and republican senators expressed the opinion that the "interested parties" had the right to present their causes either to individual senators or to committees of either house. Names of a score or more men who have appeared to protest against a cut in sugar, wool, lead, meat, flour and similar duties, were given by different senators, but the only one referred to as a "lobbyist" was a man named McMurray, who, Senator Ashurst said he believed had attempted to influence action in favor of the approval of certain Indian contracts in which he was interested. All senators who testified today declared they had no interest in any business in any way affected by legislation now or previously before congress.

RESINOL HEALS ITCHING ECZEMA

Don't stand that itching eczema torment one day longer. Go to the nearest druggist and get a jar of Resinol Ointment and a cake of Resinol Soap. Rub the eczema patches with Resinol Soap and hot water, dry, and apply a little Resinol Ointment. The torturing, itching and burning stop instantly; you no longer have to dig and scratch, sleep becomes possible, and healing begins. Soon the ugly, tormenting eruptions disappear completely and for good.

Resinol is not an experiment. It is a doctor's prescription which proved so wonderfully successful for skin troubles that it has been used by other doctors all over the country for eighteen years. No other treatment for the skin now before the public can show such a record of professional approval. Every druggist sells Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, but you can test them at our expense. Just write to Dept. 41-8, Resinol, Baltimore, Md., and we will send you a generous trial by parcel post.

Wilson to Give Information.
Just before the committee began taking testimony, Chairman Overman and Senator Reed conferred with President Wilson. It was said the president would not be called before the committee, but would transmit any information he might have on the subject of a "lobby."

Every senator was prepared to answer a series of eleven questions, which constituted a grilling and powdering which, it was said, had many a senator interested in the tariff or other legislation, and to find out what persons have approached him in the effort to influence his action on schedules of the tariff bill.

It has been estimated that hundreds of men interested in manufacturing or other business, affected by the tariff, have been in Washington during the last few weeks, and many senators claim it would be impossible to remember all the persons who have called upon them to make appeal for changes.

President Wilson's declaration that an "insidious lobby," large and powerful, was at work, led many to believe that the committee might suggest to President Wilson that he could make a personal statement to committee members, either at the capitol or at the White House, giving any information he has. The senate resolution requests the president to give such information as he may have to the committee.

Bacon Objected to Pictures.
When the hearing opened, some newspaper photographers ordered the committee members around in a business-like way, while a picture was taken. Senators Bacon and Ashurst moved aside.

"I don't think a man who comes here to represent an interest in which he himself is concerned, to present arguments, is a lobbyist," said Senator Bacon.

Senator Ashurst testified he was not interested directly or indirectly financially in the production, manufacturing or sale of any article mentioned in the tariff bill or any other bill pending before congress, nor had he sought to influence any other senator.

The committee then made the first of its series of questions to "lobbyists," or persons who have "talked with senators" about the tariff bill. Senator Ashurst said he had not kept a record of those who had talked with him, but he was prepared to give names of all he could remember.

The first was "William Kettner, of California," who had asked him to find out whether there would be any further reduction in the tariff on lemons and fruit. The senator asked Chairman Simmons of the finance committee, and the latter said he thought the Underwood rates would stand.

"But I told him," said Senator Ashurst, "that I wanted it distinctly understood that in asking the question I was not asking that the tariff be not reduced."

Nothing Improper.
A Mr. McClure, representing western sheep men, and a Mr. Tomlinson, representing cattlemen, Senator Ashurst said called upon him and by legitimate arguments sought to show him that the sheep and cattle business would be hurt by the bill.

"Nothing improper was said to me by these men, and what they did every American citizen has a right to do—talk to their senator about their business affairs," said he. No one, he declared, had tried improperly to influence his action.

Senator Ashurst said he did believe, however, that a man named McMurray had been attempting to influence improperly the action of Senators with respect to preventing the cancellation of certain contracts he (McMurray) held with Cherokee Indians for the sale of land whereby he would receive $3,500,000.

"He is the smoothest lobbyist I have ever seen," added he, "and he could carry a bundle of coils upstairs without dropping a single one."

J. F. McMurray, an attorney of McAlester, Okla., and prominently identified with Indian contracts, has a contract with the Cherokee Indians for the sale of $25,000,000 worth of land, for which he is to receive 10 per cent.

There is a movement in congress to annul his contracts.
Senator Ashurst said he considered any man or woman a "lobbyist" who "duress-bought" senators or members of congress and urged them to vote for "certain measures or other reprisals in the elections."

"I don't consider a man a lobbyist who files legitimate arguments with congress about matters in which he is interested," the senator said.

Senator Bacon's Interests.
Senator Bacon, who followed Senator Ashurst, said that "out of an abundance of caution" he wanted to tell the committee that he owned a small farm in Georgia on which some articles might be raised that were affected by the tariff. A sewer pipe factory, a street railway, a gas company and an electric company were other industries in which Senator Bacon said he had some interest.

"I don't believe any of them are affected by any of this legislation," he said; "I am sure I want no duty on sewer pipe."

Senator Bacon said he had not tried to influence members of senate except in a general way to urge a reduction of tariff on articles of general use.

"I have not listened to a single man or heard a single word in which on this tariff bill," he said. "I have received a great many letters and circulars."

"I have seen very much less effort to influence legislation in this bill than in previous ones. It doesn't compare with the consideration of the Payne-Aldrich bill in that respect."

No person had attempted to influence him improperly, Senator Bacon said, and he knew nothing of attempts to do so for money purposes.

"I don't think a man who comes here to represent an interest in which he himself is concerned, to present arguments, is a lobbyist," said the senator.

Senator Bacon knew of no recognized lobbyists giving dinners or social affairs, seeking to influence legislation.

Senator Bacon concluded by testifying he had heard there were two "sugar" organizations in Washington, one for free sugar and the other against it.

Borah on the Stand.
Senator Borah was called, but did not respond. Senator Borah took the stand.

"This was his answer to all questions as to whether he was interested in any industry, or represented professionally an industry affected by the tariff."

Senator Borah said he had not kept a record of those who had talked with him, but he was prepared to give names of all he could remember.

MEATS AND FLOUR OFF THE FREE LIST

The Democrats of the Senate Propose Important Change in Agricultural Schedule. Livestock Men Protest.

Washington, June 2.—Meats and flour will not go on the free list in the democratic tariff law if recommendation of the senate finance subcommittee in charge of the agricultural schedule is accepted. This important situation of the Underwood bill, as it passed the house, was determined upon today by the subcommittee composed of Senators Williams, Shirley and Gore. It was decided, in carrying out the determination to perfect the Underwood bill by equalizing raw materials and their products, that it would be wiser to levy nominal duties on meats and flour products than to put live stock and grain on the free list.

Taken From Free List.
In accordance with this decision the subcommittee took from the free list fresh meats—beef, mutton and pork—and made them dutiable at 10 per cent. Wheat flour was restored to the dutiable list at the specific rate of 45 cents a barrel, with other wheat products at 10 per cent ad valorem, and the Underwood duty on mutton reduced from 10 cents per bushel to 5 cents per bushel, with a compensatory duty on oat meal said to be approximately 5 per cent ad valorem.

This rate on oatmeal was not definitely determined but it is assumed that the recommendation will be to take oatmeal from the free list. Cattle, sheep and hogs will be left as they are in the proposed bill, dutiable at 10 per cent ad valorem, and the Underwood duty of 10 cents a bushel on wheat will stand.

These recommendations will be made to the finance committee late this week or early next week, and the senate is expected to pass the bill. It will have the approval of the majority members and also of the democratic caucus.

Soon after the passage of the Underwood bill by the house there were many protests against differentiating between raw materials and their products, and it was one of the first features to be taken up with the senate. Under the present tariff law, several weeks ago the committee determined to equalize the rates one way or another, and a few days ago President Wilson was consulted about this matter by Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, and Senator Williams.

Another development today was the approval, without change, of the suggestion to pass the house and other schedules advanced to varying stages of completion in the subcommittees. It also was announced by Senator Shirley that, in his opinion, the bill as it now stands, the committee will be a good bill in the aggregate than the Underwood bill.

Livestock Men Protest.
A protest filed today by the American Livestock association said in part: "The result of the free admission of meats from other surplus countries would be, first of all, to discourage the livestock business and if the prices were forced to the level of Argentina or of Australian mutton, the business would be so unprofitable that this country would soon cease to produce its own meat."

Arnold, Swift and Morris have large plants in Argentina, the protest asserted, and handle 35 per cent of the export trade of South America. Two of these firms are building large plants in Uruguay. Swift & Co. is building a plant in Brisbane, Queensland, and there are three plants in Canada, operated by the same American packers.

"The proposition that to place meat on the free list would result in curbing the so-called beef trust is preposterous," the petition continued.

"Whatever control American packers have over prices in this country would be increased instead of lessened by free importation."

"The capacity of the United States for production of livestock has not been reported. The present output could probably be doubled. Remunerative prices will bring this about. Unchecked, the price of livestock will result in a decreased production."

"We are in favor of an equal duty on all meat and livestock and that duty should not be less than 15 per cent ad valorem in order to be fair and equitable to the livestock and farming interests of this country."

Millers Present Petition.
Protesting against the unequal treatment of wheat and flour in the Underwood bill, millers of St. Louis presented a petition to the finance committee. "This," they said, "is not protection for the producer, but it is a great and serious handicap imposed by the government of the United States against the mills of our own country. We submit that such a policy is indefensible. We urge that the flour duty be reduced relatively the same as the wheat duty and imposed against all countries."

Resolutions by the Chicago Board of Trade urged an amendment of the bill to "provide for a duty of 10 cents per bushel on wheat and rye and an equal duty on the products of wheat and rye on all importations."

Buffalo cereal manufacturers petitioning against free oatmeal and dutiable oats, stated that the largest manufacturer of rolled oats in the United States has two large mills in Canada. They urged that oats be placed on the free list.

Marshall Leaves on Speaking Trip.
Washington, June 2.—Vice President Marshall will leave Washington tomorrow night for a ten-day trip through North Carolina, Kentucky and Indiana, on which he will make addresses. The vice president will speak to the graduating class of the University of North Carolina June 4, and on June 6 at the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of the United States Young Men's Christian association.

In Indianapolis, on June 9, he will make the principal address at the unveiling of a statue to General Richard D. Bayliss, commander of the United States military prison, established there during the civil war. The statue was erected with funds subscribed by southern soldiers who were imprisoned there, and who wished to pay respect to Colonel Owen's treatment.

The Democrats of the Senate Propose Important Change in Agricultural Schedule. Livestock Men Protest.

Washington, June 2.—Meats and flour will not go on the free list in the democratic tariff law if recommendation of the senate finance subcommittee in charge of the agricultural schedule is accepted. This important situation of the Underwood bill, as it passed the house, was determined upon today by the subcommittee composed of Senators Williams, Shirley and Gore. It was decided, in carrying out the determination to perfect the Underwood bill by equalizing raw materials and their products, that it would be wiser to levy nominal duties on meats and flour products than to put live stock and grain on the free list.

Taken From Free List.
In accordance with this decision the subcommittee took from the free list fresh meats—beef, mutton and pork—and made them dutiable at 10 per cent. Wheat flour was restored to the dutiable list at the specific rate of 45 cents a barrel, with other wheat products at 10 per cent ad valorem, and the Underwood duty on mutton reduced from 10 cents per bushel to 5 cents per bushel, with a compensatory duty on oat meal said to be approximately 5 per cent ad valorem.

This rate on oatmeal was not definitely determined but it is assumed that the recommendation will be to take oatmeal from the free list. Cattle, sheep and hogs will be left as they are in the proposed bill, dutiable at 10 per cent ad valorem, and the Underwood duty of 10 cents a bushel on wheat will stand.

These recommendations will be made to the finance committee late this week or early next week, and the senate is expected to pass the bill. It will have the approval of the majority members and also of the democratic caucus.

Soon after the passage of the Underwood bill by the house there were many protests against differentiating between raw materials and their products, and it was one of the first features to be taken up with the senate. Under the present tariff law, several weeks ago the committee determined to equalize the rates one way or another, and a few days ago President Wilson was consulted about this matter by Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, and Senator Williams.

Another development today was the approval, without change, of the suggestion to pass the house and other schedules advanced to varying stages of completion in the subcommittees. It also was announced by Senator Shirley that, in his opinion, the bill as it now stands, the committee will be a good bill in the aggregate than the Underwood bill.

Livestock Men Protest.
A protest filed today by the American Livestock association said in part: "The result of the free admission of meats from other surplus countries would be, first of all, to discourage the livestock business and if the prices were forced to the level of Argentina or of Australian mutton, the business would be so unprofitable that this country would soon cease to produce its own meat."

Arnold, Swift and Morris have large plants in Argentina, the protest asserted, and handle 35 per cent of the export trade of South America. Two of these firms are building large plants in Uruguay. Swift & Co. is building a plant in Brisbane, Queensland, and there are three plants in Canada, operated by the same American packers.

"The proposition that to place meat on the free list would result in curbing the so-called beef trust is preposterous," the petition continued.

"Whatever control American packers have over prices in this country would be increased instead of lessened by free importation."

"The capacity of the United States for production of livestock has not been reported. The present output could probably be doubled. Remunerative prices will bring this about. Unchecked, the price of livestock will result in a decreased production."

"We are in favor of an equal duty on all meat and livestock and that duty should not be less than 15 per cent ad valorem in order to be fair and equitable to the livestock and farming interests of this country."

Millers Present Petition.
Protesting against the unequal treatment of wheat and flour in the Underwood bill, millers of St. Louis presented a petition to the finance committee. "This," they said, "is not protection for the producer, but it is a great and serious handicap imposed by the government of the United States against the mills of our own country. We submit that such a policy is indefensible. We urge that the flour duty be reduced relatively the same as the wheat duty and imposed against all countries."

Resolutions by the Chicago Board of Trade urged an amendment of the bill to "provide for a duty of 10 cents per bushel on wheat and rye and an equal duty on the products of wheat and rye on all importations."

Buffalo cereal manufacturers petitioning against free oatmeal and dutiable oats, stated that the largest manufacturer of rolled oats in the United States has two large mills in Canada. They urged that oats be placed on the free list.

Marshall Leaves on Speaking Trip.
Washington, June 2.—Vice President Marshall will leave Washington tomorrow night for a ten-day trip through North Carolina, Kentucky and Indiana, on which he will make addresses. The vice president will speak to the graduating class of the University of North Carolina June 4, and on June 6 at the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of the United States Young Men's Christian association.

In Indianapolis, on June 9, he will make the principal address at the unveiling of a statue to General Richard D. Bayliss, commander of the United States military prison, established there during the civil war. The statue was erected with funds subscribed by southern soldiers who were imprisoned there, and who wished to pay respect to Colonel Owen's treatment.

SEED CRUSHERS IN CONVENTION

Bond, McKee, Soule and Law
Deliver Addresses at Atlantic Beach—Attendance Is Unusually Large.

Atlantic Beach, Fla., June 2.—(Special.)—The ninth annual convention of the Cotton Seed Crushers Association of Georgia was opened with an unusually large attendance, in the convention hall of the Atlantic Beach hotel this morning. Following the invocation an address of welcome by Mr. H. M. Stanford, manager Atlantic Beach hotel, to which a response was made on behalf of the association by Hon. E. L. Bond, vice president, of Royston, Ga.

Mr. Bond's Address.
Mr. Bond began by paying a deserved tribute to the cotton seed oil industry, and referred to it as one of the greatest up-builders of the south. He then paid tribute to the memory of the late H. M. Flasier, who has done so much to develop the state, whose guests the association was. His address was sparkling brilliant and entertaining and was frequently punctuated by spontaneous bursts of applause. He pointed out the fact that the cotton seed oil industry became a necessity when it was found unprofitable to ship cotton seed to England on account of the lint taking up water and added that the south had lost millions of dollars through letting them rot for such a long time before the crushing process was known.

He declared that the modern cotton oil mill furnished a university course on many of the laws of nature and in these mills there was as good apparatus for the study of the lever and crank bodies in motion, hydraulics, momentum and inertia, heat, light, sound, magnetism and electricity, as were found in the laboratories of Dartmouth when Daniel Webster went to school. He declared that the employment of the child race gave to these primitive people the opportunity for improvement second only to Tuskegee and that frequently he was at a loss to determine from the education of the worker whether he had studied under Booker Washington or worked in an oil mill in Georgia. In conclusion, Mr. Bond said: "In our president's office is a picture of a loaded train of tank cars, rounding a curve, on their merciful errand to feed the teeming millions of the world, and as I saw those cars I said to myself, 'Behold! the gravy train.' And I never loosen from its mooring on my village side track a bulging tank car, with its brimming dome, that I do not think of all of the congested districts of this earth, of all the hovels without gravel and cupboards without butter of all the dinner plates lean and bare, and of all the hands of famine stretching forth and I hope that nothing from this train will be lost and that my hand in blessing above their frugal board."

President McKee's Address.
President McKee began his address with a hearty greeting of welcome to the large assembly and especially the ladies who graced the convention hall. He referred to the fact that the season among the oil mills of Georgia just closed, had been somewhat trying in many directions during the past year owing to the poor condition of the seed for one thing and the shortness of the cotton crop in Georgia, for which conditions the membership was in no wise responsible.

He pointed out that the relations between the producer of raw materials and the manufacturer, were so intimately associated that the prosperity of each must largely depend upon the other and asked the members to use their best efforts to cooperate in bringing about improved conditions from the time the soil is prepared and the planting seed is selected to the time that the finished product is in the home of the consumer, always working to accomplish the greatest good.

He urged the members to aid the planter to secure the best cotton seed for planting purposes and to aid him in keeping these seed clean until delivered at the mill for crushing. He pointed out only through such co-operation and careful attention in the manufacture of cotton oil products, could these products be placed in the hands of the consumer in an attractive and merchantable condition. He paid a splendid tribute to Dr. Soule for the magnificent work he is doing to improve agricultural conditions in the south and pointed with pride to the efforts of Dr. Haimon to rid Georgia of the cattle tick both of whom but been invited to address the convention. He referred to and indorsed the recommendation of former President McKee, that the crushers should lend every effort to preparing to combat the boll weevil which is scheduled to reach Georgia next year and pointed out the menace to this industry when this pest arrives.

He declared that the present tariff bill would give a reduction on dress cloth, bagging and ties, which would be a great benefit to the industry. Only one member of the association had died during the past year, he said, B. Steinhart, of New Orleans, and he paid that pioneer in the industry a deserved tribute. His speech was concluded by extending his thanks to the association for their co-operation and to Secretary and Treasurer McCarley whose familiarity with the work had made his administration both pleasant and easy.

Dr. Soule's Address.
He was followed by Dr. Andrew M. Soule, president of the State College of Agriculture, at Athens, Ga., always a favorite speaker with this association, on account of his wonderful knowledge of agricultural conditions. Dr. Soule spoke on "Improving the Qualities of Cotton Seed."

He called attention to the fact that an industry with an investment of $150,000,000 had been put into successful operation, and was being maintained, due solely to the cotton seed. He declared that today the cotton seed is almost as scarce as gold. In view of the wonderful part now being played by the cotton seed, he declared that it was time that those interested in this industry should get about making an investigation in order that the truth concerning the more important facts, affecting the value of cotton seed may be ascertained. Continuing he said: "A systematic form of investigation through the agency of the agricultural colleges of the south should be instituted as soon as possible. The expenditure required in this direction need not be large, and where the work is properly organized results amounting to millions of dollars may be secured within a decade. The possibilities for improvement are almost unlimited, and as an evidence of what may be accomplished it is only necessary to refer to the results obtained with sugar beets to show the great rewards which will head both for the grower and the manufacturer provided the basic principals of plant breeding be intelligently employed in the production of the work."

He pointed out how by careful breeding and seed selection at the same time the strain of cotton fibre is improved it is possible to increase the yield of oil in the seed and stated that higher fertilization had been proven to be a great help in this direction. He declared that too long cotton seed were bought planted, gathered and sold simply as cotton seed without any regard for the superior grades and this fallacious state of affairs should be corrected to the benefit of all concerned at the earliest possible moment.

In conclusion, he said: "The Cotton Seed Crushers Association of Georgia is afforded an opportunity to aid materially in the inauguration and promotion of a line of research of fundamental and widespread importance which will not only respond to their credit but aid in the upbuilding of the business in which they are chiefly concerned. The reward so worthy of the effort it will be recognized as one of the most important phases of constructive development which has been devised for placing one of the south's most important agricultural industries on a permanent and progressive basis."

At the afternoon session, Secretary and Treasurer P. D. McCarley made his report as such and also as chairman of the bureau of publicity and was followed by P. D. Parris, Atlanta, manager of this bureau, who pointed out the wonderful educational work which was being conducted by the association in the interest of the industry.

Law Reads a Paper.
Thomas C. Law of the well-known chemical firm of David L. Law company of Atlanta read a paper on "The Quality of Crude Oil" whose paper was in part as follows:

Mr. Law said the time had arrived when it was no longer for the mill manager in order to be successful in the operation of his property, to buy a second-hand knowledge of the cotton oil business in order that he might perform those duties properly which would give a product that would bring a high price for him the best result for the efforts expended in order that his paper which partook of a technical nature might be better understood he gave a summarized account of the chemical tests which were undergone in the refining of oil and spoke briefly of the tests which prevented oil attaining that quality which is referred to as prime, and which is the aim of every crusher to produce.

He declared that he did not believe fertilizer affected the oil, and said that seed from highly fertilized cotton are richer in nitrogen than seed from cotton poorly fertilized. In order to obtain the best results from crushing, he declared that cotton should be more thoroughly dried before ginning, and regretted the fact that the old style cotton house, in which cotton was stored for weeks before ginning, had passed, and that now cotton was rushed from the field to the gin and to the oil mill, all within the space of a few hours. He spoke of cotton seed heating, and said it was like fire spreading and that one bushel of heated cotton seed could ruin 100 tons of good seed. He cautioned the crushers to use their every endeavor in lubricating oil from getting into the cotton seed oil and exhibited samples to show how easily cotton seed oil was contaminated. He cautioned them against allowing the seeds scorched and being cooked, and said that the grade of the oil could often be raised by thoroughly cleaning the cookers more frequently. He said after oil had been secured, that except in keeping air and light away from it, and to expose as small surface as possible to prevent rancidity.

He was followed with an address by H. C. Brown of Augusta, Ga. whose subject, "Proper Grading of Cotton Seed for Manufacturing Purposes," was received with a great deal of interest, for this is a subject of vital importance to the industry.

ONLY PROGRESSIVES WANTED IN THE NAVY

Secretary Daniels Tells War
College No Stand-Patters
Are Wanted.

Newport, R. I., June 2.—The summer conference of the naval war college was opened today with an address by Secretary Daniels, of the navy department.

Later the secretary was the guest of John C. Rodgers, president of the college. The chief lack in the navy today, the secretary told the officer-students, is a systematic and proper instruction of the young men who respond to our call to enlist and who man our ships.

Referring to the alluring advertisements of the recruiting stations, promising young men opportunities for wealth, the secretary said that in fact we have neglected training them, and outside of the practical duties aboard ship they do not obtain the drilling and education which should be given them in order to keep the promise made as well as benefit the navy. He added that when men enlist they should be assigned to a regular course, being allowed to elect which of their study, engineering or electricity machinery, carpentry or other trades and classes should be organized to teach them all. In addition he said, there should be instruction in practical instruction conducted by the younger officers.

Lessons taught by the "ever changing, ever improving construction and operation of ships and accessories" were discussed in detail by the secretary. "The first," he said, "is that the man who would command ships must be open-minded, studious and inventive ready to discard the old and test the new. It is a mistake to place in the navy for a stand-patter. You know the modern definition of that modern world is 'A man who has stopped and cannot start.' Every good officer in the navy must be a progressive, that is one who has started and cannot stop, started in a direction of always looking out for a better way to construct and operate ships and to make a battleship an all that pertains to it nearer perfection.

"We must put more emphasis upon initiative and less upon regulations," Secretary Daniels continued. He told of a young officer who when he unsuccessfully attempted to resign recently said, "I want to resign because if I stay I shall be doing the same thing fifteen years from now that I am doing today. Naval officers are bound down and fettered by regulations. There is no outlet for a man's initiative."

"The post-graduate school at Annapolis and this war college," the speaker said, "are designed to encourage naval officers to feel that the only one who is not going backward in attainment is he who is diligently seeking to increase his store of knowledge."

The secretary spoke with pride of the achievements of the American navy, declaring that "the brightest page in our history is the naval story from the time John Paul Jones said 'I have just begun to fight' to the day George Dewey sailed into Manila bay and said to his fellow officers, 'Well, gentlemen a higher power than we fought this battle today.'"

Forest Service Attacked.
Washington, June 2.—In a speech today supporting his resolution for a congressional investigation of the forest service, Representative Humphrey, of Washington, declared that in one instance the Northern Pacific railroad had been permitted to exchange 460,000 barrels against timber land worth at least $10,000,000, which is sold to the Foresters. He charged that the forest service "is still working in perfect accord with and in the interest of a great paper monopoly of the timber supply and to increase the price of forest products."

Customs Reorganization.
Washington, June 2.—Senator Martine today introduced a concurrent resolution to suspend indefinitely or until further action by congress the proposed consolidation of customs collection districts. Senator Nelson said that the bill was now before the commerce committee to suspend the reorganization for two years, and that an opinion on its merits had been asked of the secretary of the treasury.

Probe Asked for Frisco.
Washington, June 2.—Representative Hinshaw, of Illinois, introduced a resolution today to direct the interstate commerce commission to investigate and report on the management of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad for one year prior to the recent receivership. Mr. Hinshaw's resolution points out that $26,000,000 worth of the road's bonds were sold in Paris, and charges that there have been many allegations of mismanagement, "watering" of securities and other abuses.

GREEKS AND SERVIANS TO OPPOSE BULGARIA

Commercial and Political Agreement Reached—Balkan Premiers to Meet.

Saloniki, June 2.—A report from a credible quarter says that a commercial and political understanding has been reached between the Greeks and the Servians against the claims of Bulgaria.

The Bulgarian commander at Eleuthera today informed the Greek commander that the Bulgarian troops would not advance any farther and that the recent movements of the Bulgarian soldiers had not been intended in a hostile spirit.

Step Toward Peace.
Home June 2.—Another important step toward peace in the Balkan states was announced today. Italy, having conceded to Greece the coast line of the former Turkish province of Epirus, between the River Kalamas and the Bay of Phtela, now France, which has supported Athens in the past, has agreed to the southern frontier of Albania, running from the south of "Cape Styra" to Goritza, the town of Goritza to be included in Albania.

This solution of the frontier question is regarded here as settling, in a satisfactory manner, the last difficult night in the reconstitution of the autonomous state of Albania.

Balkan Premiers to Meet.
Sofia, Bulgaria, June 2.—An agreement in principle for a meeting of the premiers of Bulgaria, Servia, Greece and Montenegro was reached last night by the Bulgarian and Servian ministers who met at Tzaribrod, on the Bulgarian frontier, to exchange views on the Balkan situation.

During their conference the Balkan premiers will attempt to settle all the matters in dispute between the allies.

Heinze Wins Suit.

New York, June 2.—Augustus Heinze today won a suit brought against him by the state superintendent of banks to recover $300,000 on loans made to him by the defunct Union Bank of Brooklyn. Heinze made a counter claim for money, he said, he had lost because the bank failed to follow his orders to sell collateral he had deposited as security for his notes. A jury in the supreme court gave Heinze a judgment for $149,825.

STATE OFFICIALS LEAN TO REVISION

Conceding Time Not Quite Ripe for Change, They De- clare Constitution in Many Respects Outgrown

Action by the bar association at Warm Springs last week in unambiguously condemning the movement for a constitutional convention has been extensively commented on by state house officers at the capitol. It is a fact that while few of them will discuss the subject for publication there is a strong sentiment among them that our fundamental law should be revised at a not distant date.

They do not expect public sentiment to have sufficiently crystallized to make revision a live issue, this summer, but they feel that the development of the last twenty-five years has made some changes in the instrument of 1877 very much needed and that it will only be a question of a few years before popular sentiment will demand revision.

Great Fear of Revision.

The great fear of revision and Secretary of State Phil Cook is that the bars might be let down to the state treasury and the restrictions placed around the expenditures of money by the wisdom of Bob Toombs might be withdrawn. When he finished his work in the constitutional convention of 1877 Mr Toombs is said to have remarked that he had locked the door of the treasury and thrown away the key. The provisions forbidding the increase of the state debt and limiting the tax to three mills have done more to prolong the life of our constitution than any other features in it. For some years now the tax rate has been up to the limit and there would certainly be strong objection raised to any proposition to increase it.

On the other hand there are some parts of the instrument of 1877 that unquestionably need revision. There have been no amendments passed since the original paper was ratified that it is sometimes hard to distinguish the constitution itself from the amendments. Then the codifiers have generally printed the original constitution without the amendments and while the amendments are incorporated in the code many people do not know where to find them. I receive frequent inquiries from people who wish to know what amendments to the constitution have been adopted and what they are. There is a great deal of confusion as matters now stand and there will be more as the legislature goes on each year proposing new amendments which are invariably ratified by the people.

In Favor of Revision.

A prominent treasury official who was unwilling to be quoted for fear that he might be misunderstood was very highly in favor of revision. He declared that in the matter of the handling of the state's affairs was a full generation behind its needs. When the present constitution was adopted he said the income of the state was not more than one-fourth of the present revenue. The state has doubled in population and advanced vastly more than that proportion in wealth yet in the management of the treasury we are hampered by constitutional restrictions made thirty-five years ago. The state has increased in time and yet made no provision for this expansion in its office force for thirty-five years. There is no private business in the United States that handles as much as $3,000,000 per year as we do that could hope to keep solvent without adjusting itself from year to year to business conditions. What financial institution could hope to live that would fix the salary of its president at little more than the amount required of him to pay for his board?

Other tendencies in our present state government that statehood officials thought might require a constitutional convention to correct were the creation of a county's multiple courts of judicial limits and of city courts. The amendment to the constitution by a two-thirds vote of the general assembly for as matters now stand ratification by the people is usually only a formality. Powers is in favor. Probably the first man in the capitol to express himself in favor of a new constitution was W. R. Power, the governor's warrant secretary. Mr Power says that he has great respect for the bar association, and he is willing to concede that the time may not be quite ripe for revision but he thinks it is coming. The lawyers may be right in depicting the agitation for a constitutional convention at a time when the public mind throughout the country seems to be unsettled, said Mr Power, but we need a new constitution and it will not be very long before there will be a general demand for it. We must have our tax burden equalized so that they will not bear harder on some classes than others and on some sections than others. There we must have a stop put to the multiplication of courts that are not needed.

THIEVES' HARD WORK ON VERY HOT NIGHT NETTED 25 CENTS

Columbus Ga. June 2 (Special) Burglars last night entered the undertaking establishment of Herring & Knight and proceeded to open a big safe located by a window within two feet of the sidewalk. The small compartments in the safe were broken into but no valuables were taken and the only thing missing is a deed to a country church which a minister had left in the safe for safe keeping. The same burglars visited the adjoining office of the Flournoy Dease Realty company where a bright light was burning broke into every drawer in the office and secured 25 cents. It was a hot night and the burglars turned on the electric fan while they worked away on a large safe of the Muscogee Real Estate company which they could not open. The fan was left turned on and the burglars also left their tools in the office.

SINGLE FUNERAL SERVICE FOR VETS

Carrollton Ga. June 2 (Special) On Sunday at the First Baptist church at Carrollton there occurred a very unusual funeral service. Two infirm veterans, Colonel J. I. Cobb and Professor Henry Brown, both former prominent citizens were brought back to their homes for burial and their coffins were placed side by side by the altar. The funeral service was preached by the Rev. Jesse M. Dodd, the minister in charge, after which Rev. W. Hoop made a fine eulogy on both men. Professor Brown lost a leg in battle after the war he was laid at rest at Bowdon college and for years was a teacher in Carroll county. Colonel Cobb studied law and practiced his profession with a success of many years here and later in Atlanta. Both at the same hour were laid to rest by kind friends and former neighbors. The L. D. C. and Veterans of Camp McDaniel units attended and Colonel Cobb being a Mason the Masonic fraternity rendered their impressive ceremonial at the grave.

111-2 CENTS IS BROUGHT BY PRISON FARM COTTON

Milledgeville Ga. June 2 (Special) Three hundred and thirty-five bales of cotton—last year's crop on the state farm—was auctioned off Saturday by R. L. Wall, a local warehouse man representing the prison commission. J. H. Baker bought the round lot on the ground at 111-2 cents for the Milledgeville Manufacturing company of Georgia. The lot will bring a round $39,000. Commissioners Davidson and Rainey and buyers from many points were present.

Colonel J. K. Smith No Longer "Colonel;" It's "Reverend" Now

Among Honors Showered on Old Guard Boston Papers Bestow New One on the Popular Georgian.

Georgians who know Colonel J. K. Smith as he has appeared for many years here as the successful business man and astute politician whose ability in handling Georgia's business interests has attracted the attention of the state toward him will have to be prepared to give him a new title when he steps from the train on the return of the Old Guard from its northern trip. At least is the information gathered from the columns of The Boston Post which devotes much space to the Georgians who spent Decoration day in Boston and took part in the services over the federal dead. In a list of the Georgians which takes up four columns of the paper, numbers of the families to Atlantians are seen and the lines under the picture call attention to Colonel J. F. Burke commander and also to the Reverend J. K. Smith.

Whether the Boston newspaper men decided that Colonel Smith looked like a Georgia preacher and took the title for granted or whether they had comrades on the trip gave him that title as a joke on him has not yet been explained in Atlanta but at any rate the picture in the Boston paper with the words, "The arrow on the hat points to Rev. J. K. Smith." The Boston papers gave a large amount of space to the Georgians commanding the motor trip which if it was their peace mission of 34 years ago and accounts are given of their part in the Decoration exercises as the principal feature of the day.

In a special Memorial edition of another Boston paper The Journal another Atlantian is shown. This is Chief W. B. Cummings head of the fire department who is pictured shaking hands with Sergeant W. B. Lucas of the 1st and Honorable Artillery of Boston.

The Ancients gave a sumptuous banquet to the Old Guard which Colonel Burke, Chief Cummings, C. P. Boyd, Peter F. Clarke and Henry Beerman who made the memorable trip 34 years ago were the chief honor guests and the recipients of scores of toasts and complimentary resolutions. The speakers representing the Georgians were Lieutenant John Davis, Sergeant Harrison Jones, Captain F. J. Cole and Edward Smith. Early in the evening a social hour was held and the women in the party with the Atlanta company and a long list of friends in the Boston papers had an entertainment given in their honor by Captain and Mrs. J. Stearns, dining at the Park Shaker club one of the leading social organizations of the Massachusetts city.

J. K. ORR'S COMMITTEE FORMALLY DISBANDED

There was a formal adjournment of the executive committee of the J. K. Orr committee in the office of the chamber of commerce yesterday afternoon to finish up its work and formally to disband. A number of letters complimentary to the hospitality of Atlanta and the entertainment afforded by her people have been received from delegates in all parts of the country since the assembly adjourned. It was found that the money collected was ample to defray expenses and all the arrangements had worked out smoothly. Mr. Orr was given a vote of thanks for the efficient way in which he discharged his very responsible and burdensome duties as chairman.

Will Buy Georgia Marble.

W. J. Nolan, a mayor and business man of St. Louis, Tenn. is in the city visiting his daughter, Mrs. H. T. Brooks, No. 4 Whitehall street. His last visit is said to be a business trip to the quarries to buy considerable Georgia marble and stone. Mr. Nolan decides that Georgia marble is best after all.

SWANSON IS ELECTED SHERIFF OF COBB CO.

A special election for sheriff held in Cobb county yesterday resulted in the overwhelming election of W. D. Swanson the present incumbent of the office over William T. Harney, one of the county commissioners. Mr. Swanson's majority is upward of 800 votes. He was appointed to succeed Sheriff P. J. Jones who died while in office. The election was a quiet one and a comparatively light vote was polled.

EXHIBIT AT TECH HIGH TOMORROW AFTERNOON

An interesting exhibit of what the boys are doing at Tech high school will be given at the school tomorrow afternoon between 12:30 and 2:30 o'clock. Specimens of the work finished in the several shops and drawing departments will be on exhibit. Boys will also be at work in the chemical laboratory, forge shop, wood shop, machinery and drawing rooms. The public is cordially invited to be present and view the work in progress and that already accomplished. Patronage of the school will be able to see just what the city is doing for their boys in the way of teaching them trades. All the boys of the eighth grade in the grammar schools accompanied by their principals will visit the Tech high school tomorrow.

ATTRACTIVE SERVICES AT INMAN PARK CHURCH

One of the most attractive services held in Atlanta last Sunday was in the pretty little ivory covered Cathedral Memorial Church in Inman Park. It was Children's day and the auditorium was packed with parents, friends and members who not only attended this service because they wished to be entertained but to assure Mrs. Harris who is in charge of this commendable work of their co-operation and appreciation of her efforts which have been so beneficial to the Inman Park children.

WOODMEN OF WORLD HONOR THEIR DEAD

Sunday June 1, was the annual Decoration Memorial day of the Woodmen of the World and all the camps of this city gathered at their main hall, corner of Peachtree and James streets where the procession was formed headed by a band and two companies of the Uniform Rank in command of Major M. K. Duffy and marched thence to Oakland cemetery where the graves of all members of the order were strewn with flowers during impressive ceremonies.

Judge W. A. Roane and C. H. Nelson delivered the principal memorial addresses. Now in the city where the state manager was master of ceremonies. Receiver Asked for Moore. A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed with Deputy Clerk Hood of the federal court yesterday by R. H. Moore of Atlanta. The petitioner gives his liabilities at $85,442 with assets of $104,871. Shortly after the petition had been filed creditors presented a request for the appointment of a Receiver but no appointment had been made when the federal building was closed for the day.

PERMANENT EXHIBIT IS ALMOST IN SIGHT

M. M. Davies Declares It a Necessity to Teach Us to Patronize Home Industries.

Things are rapidly shaping themselves towards the attainment of an object which the chamber of commerce has had in view for some time to wit, the installation of a permanent exhibit of Atlanta made goods. The trip to Chattanooga last week opened the eyes of many members of the chamber to the value of such an exhibit, and there is little doubt that a suitable building will be secured in the near future and an exhibit installed. Brooks Morgan, chairman of the exhibit committee reports that the plans for the exhibit are rapidly developing and he has already several buildings in view that are centrally located and otherwise available.

What Mr. Davies Says. As an example of what interest leading business men are taking in the exhibit here is what M. M. Davies of the Fote & Davies company had to say yesterday. The chamber of commerce has under consideration one of the most important projects in its history, the permanent manufacturers exhibit to start with Atlanta needs more manufacturing and she needs them badly, because they are what make a great city. But we don't know what kind we need, because we do not know what kind we have.

The average Atlanta man knows almost nothing about the factories in our midst and the manufacturers who are here realize that the famous Atlanta Spirit is sadly lacking in one

ARMS ITCHED SO COULD NOT SLEEP

Started on Legs. Came All Over Body. Arms So Sore Could Hardly Work. Could Not Sleep. Cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

Ledbetter, Tex.—"Three years ago itching started on my legs and it kept coming up to my body until it was all over my body. It began as little pimples which itched and burned so that I had to scratch. Then it broke out in little pimples on my arms and knees. They became larger and larger and began to suppurate until they were so sore which you could not cover with your hand. My arms were so sore that I could hardly work. At night they itched and burned so that I could not sleep and I pained over my clothing irritated them. I tried different kinds of remedies—Scalp, lotter cure and also a cure, but no good came from them. Then I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After the first few treatments I felt relief and I kept on using them for one month. All my sores were disappeared and I was entirely cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment." SOLD ENGAGEMENT RING TO SUPPORT HER BABY

Declaring that her husband, Frank K. Rader had drunk and gambled his money away and that she was forced to sell her engagement ring to support herself and 2-year-old boy, Dean Rader Mrs. Aggie Dean Rader entered suit for divorce and custody of the child yesterday in superior court. The chamber of commerce has under consideration one of the most important projects in its history, the permanent manufacturers exhibit to start with Atlanta needs more manufacturing and she needs them badly, because they are what make a great city. But we don't know what kind we need, because we do not know what kind we have.

HUFF HELD GUILTY BY JUDGE GRUBB

Macon Mayor Declares Verdict Is What He Expected. Grubb to Confer With Felder Today.

Macon, Ga. June 2.—Colonel W. A. Huff, former mayor of Macon and one of the city's wealthiest citizens, was today adjudged guilty of contempt of court by Judge W. J. Grubb of the northern district of Alabama presiding in the United States court here. Judge Emory Speer being disqualified. Colonel Huff says the verdict is what he expected. At the time I sent Judge Emory Speer those letters last summer I had a vague idea that I was committing contempt of court. However I was not as familiar then as I am now with the law on contempt. I wrote those letters nicely and simply for the purpose of telling Judge Speer man to man what I thought about him and the way he had handled my bankruptcy case. I never any intention on my part to bring the judiciary into disrespect. Having been found guilty by a tribunal which I consider absolutely fair and impartial, I am satisfied with the decision, and will accept without a murmur whatever punishment may be meted out to me. Judge Grubb will confer with Colonel Huff's counsel Attorney General T. S. Felder in Atlanta, tomorrow in regard to the sentence to be imposed. Judge Grubb will probably come to Macon Thursday to pass sentence upon Colonel Huff. May Not Distribute Letters. As to whether or not Colonel Huff will distribute the 10,000 copies of the two letters which he had published some time ago, is not known. The colonel being silent on that point. However since he has been held to be in contempt for sending the letters to Judge Speer it is hardly probable that he would put himself in the position of committing further contempt by giving the letters general circulation. The news of the finding of Judge Grubb was eagerly devoured by Macon people for it has been a long time since there has been a case here which has attracted so much general interest. There was no surprise over the finding of the court for everybody seemed to be of the opinion that there was nothing left for the court to do but find the aged ex mayor guilty. There was one clause alone in the letter sent to Judge Speer which would have been sufficient to base a verdict of guilty and that clause was "you court lives to steal."

JOHN MAYFIELD'S HEIRS WANTED IN EL PASO

Something Important for Relations of Man Who Left Georgia for Texas in 1835.

There may be an estate of value waiting for the heirs of John F. Mayfield, a former resident of Franklin county, Georgia, who went to Texas some time in the thirties of the last century. It is believed in El Paso, Texas that these heirs may be found in this state. A letter to The Constitution was received yesterday from W. D. Mayfield of the Mayfield Building and Improvement company at El Paso which says: "We are looking for the heirs of John F. Mayfield who came from Franklin county Georgia to Texas between 1832 and 1835. The middle letter in his name may have been an E or a P instead of F. John's father's name was Philip. Philip moved from Georgia to Alabama and there died many years ago according to the best information I can get. I am unable to get in communication with any of the heirs of John. He was not a close relation of mine. There is a matter of some interest to the close relatives of John in this state. There are Mayfields in Georgia and I have thought you might reach some of John's close relations. Any assistance you can render a Georgia Mayfield ought to be appreciated by him."

THOMASVILLE WOMAN SLOWLY DYING FROM BICHLORIDE DOSE

Thomasville, Ga. June 2.—(Special) Suffering terribly from the effects of 12 grains of bichloride of mercury, taken with suicidal intent Mrs. George King, a white woman here, has no chance the doctors state of recovery. The poison was taken yesterday and after about two hours a physician was summoned, who found the woman suffering terribly and vomiting blood. Antidotes were administered and ordered continued but after the physician left the woman refused to keep up the treatment. Later she sent for another doctor hoping to be relieved of pain. She has been taken to the city hospital for treatment, but there seems no possibility for her recovery. When asked her motive for taking poison Mrs. King said it was on account of domestic troubles and she has no desire to get well. She came to Thomasville some time ago with her 7-year old daughter from Brinson near Bainbridge where she left her husband and one son. But little is known of her here.

DISSENSION AT MERCER PROBED BY TRUSTEES

Result of Investigation Will Not Be Known Until Final Action Is Taken

Macon, Ga. June 2.—(Special)—The board of trustees of Mercer university convened at 2 o'clock this afternoon with practically a full attendance, and at once began the consideration of the report of the special committee which was appointed to investigate the reports of dissension at the university between President Jameson, members of the faculty and student body and the Prudential committee. What the report was the trustees refused to state and nothing will be known until after final action is taken. The question of the abolition of the Greek letter societies came before the trustees today but was tabled indefinitely and no action will be taken at the present meeting.

Beer Exposed to Light for 5 Minutes Becomes Undrinkable

This is not our statement, but the deliberate opinion of one of the most renowned scientists in the world. Read the entire statement:

"We have tested beers repeatedly, placing the bottles in the direct sunlight, and testing the same after one, two, three and five minutes exposure, found that the beer with three and five minutes exposure became undrinkable on account of the peculiar odor developed. The detrimental effect of light upon beer can be successfully counteracted by the employment of brown or dark colored glass bottles, and such bottles are, therefore, commendable."—Wahl-Henius Institute of Fermentology.

It is not enough that beer be brewed pure, it must be kept pure.

Many Americans prefer beer in a light bottle. Most brewers follow the course of least resistance.

Light starts decay even in pure beer. Dark glass gives the best protection against light. Schlitz is sold in Brown Bottles to protect its purity from the brewery to your glass.

THE FLY IN THE OINTMENT.

The desperate need of the situation has forced upon an unwilling council a solution of the crematory problem that will temporarily halt development in Atlanta in a great many other directions.

It is but fair to the council to say that it sought in every other way to protect the city's health and safeguard its honor without diverting from the June apportionment sheet the appropriations demanded for long-needed municipal improvements.

But no other immediate method offered. The city had reached an impasse. Council was confronted by the opportunity of leaving Atlanta at the mercy of death and disease or of suspending the general program of improvements. There was but one choice between these alternatives and council had no other alternative than to take it.

All must rejoice in the clearing of the issues involved in the crematory tangle, but all must regret the cost. Especially is it a cause for regret that this policy of paralysis upon which council was by vital exigency driven to enter might have been entirely avoided. It is the penalty that is paid for the unnecessary and wholly untimely appeal to the courts.

SENDING AUTOS ABROAD.

The German manufacturers of motor cars are reported to be seriously disturbed because of the invasion by low-priced automobiles from the United States. American factories can put out a good car at small price very much more easily than can the factories in Germany, and as a consequence sales of the American product have been steadily increasing within the past year or two.

Evolution in this branch of the automobile industry is a distinct tribute to the mechanical and commercial ability of America. It is probable that as a business proposition Europe first scored the successes that made the automobile a commercial invention. But progress in the way of perfecting machines, making them stable and certain of operation and, certainly, in cheapening their price, is all on the side of America.

It is likely that for some time in the future America will hold supremacy in the field of small cars. England and France both manufacture the lower-priced auto, but it will not stand the rough road usage of the American creation. The latter is built especially to fit the café-au-lait-can highways of this country. Any machine that can stand up on the average American road can be depended upon to last indefinitely on the splendid highways of the old world. That fact largely explains the popularity of the American small car abroad. Incidentally, it should convey a hint to those who are interested in the promotion of good roads on this side of the water. It is said that American cars last twice as long in Europe as in the United States. Therefore, it is half as cheap to own one. Why cannot we have in this country the type of road that makes for longevity in cars?

THE GROCERS' HALF-HOLIDAY.

Napoleon said an army travels on its belly. So do cities. Atlanta's victories and Atlanta's progress are inseparable from the host that will parade the streets tomorrow afternoon. These regiments of men and fleets of wagons and auto trucks, a living spectacle three miles in length, comprise the commissary of Atlanta. Its vanguard and its rear guard, its rank and file, are the feeders of Atlanta, members of the Retail Grocers and Butchers' association and allied occupations, and many more who are non-members. For the first summer in the city's history these men and boys who are behind every dinner table in Atlanta are to enjoy a weekly half-holiday. Beginning tomorrow at noon they will shut up shop at noon each succeeding Wednesday until the first day of September. They feel the event is sufficiently important in the city's life to warrant a monster parade. And they believe an exhibition of this unusual nature will indelibly impress upon the mind of the housewife the necessity of finishing her task of buying mid-week food supplies by 12 each Wednesday. So at 2 p. m. tomorrow afternoon employer and employee alike will mobilize at the state capitol and parade through the heart of the city out toward the northern fire limits and then disband to spend the remainder of the day in well-earned recreation. The household that forgets the shops will close for the day at noon will be "caught out" so far as the Wednesday supper and the Thursday breakfast are concerned.

We doubt if Atlanta recognizes the political and commercial importance of this class of her activities. Figures tell the story. Over 980 stores are interested in the movement. These enterprises pay rent at the rate of, on an average, $30 a month each, or in the neighborhood of $300,000 a year. Their wage roll each Saturday night reaches about $80,000. Their contribution to the horse and mule markets, the wagon and harness industries is the largest single one in Atlanta; their contribution to the auto and allied industries is proportionate. In the course of the year their business totals more than $20,000,000. They employ more men, and pay more insurance premiums than any other organization in the city. They muster almost 7,500 men of voting age.

In the ordinary course of events this tremendous percentage of Atlanta's energy and population would enjoy, and certainly earn, a half mid-week summer holiday along with the rest of the people. But the very importance of their calling has heretofore militated against their falling into the half holiday ranks. Saturday, morning and afternoon, is the "peak-load" market day of the week. Food is bought not only for the day itself, but for the large Sunday "feed" and also for Monday's breakfast. So Wednesday afternoon was agreed upon for the grocery man's half-holiday.

The movement culminates tomorrow afternoon in one of the most remarkable processions that has ever moved through the streets of Atlanta—the men behind the commissariat, the men who feed the people of Atlanta! The humblest and the most ultra housewife should co-operate with them. The city-at-large should join in a celebration that touches individually its myriad homes.

THE ASTOR INCREMENT.

To many persons who believe that the "unearned increment" will be an inevitable feature of our future tax system, the instance of the Astor house in New York city comes as unanswerable confirmation. Current press dispatches speak of the razing of the old building to make way for improvements. Seventy-six years ago, when the present structure was erected, the site was valued at $150,000. "Illustrating the marvelous realty appreciation of the neighborhood," the dispatch runs significantly, "the present value of the site for rebuilding purposes is estimated at $2,500,000."

In seven and a half decades here is an enhancement of many hundred per cent. Did toil or genius on part of the Astors make this enhancement, create out of blue sky these enormous values that, seventy-six years ago, were non-existent? They did not. What, then, did create these values? The answer is simple. The activities of the people of New York city. The fact that the Astor House was centrally located, that in the course of the year millions of people passed it to and fro, made the site valuable. If the site had been up in Harlem or out in the desert, it would have been a humble bit of land and no more. The presence and the energies of the millions of New York's inhabitants are what endow it with fabulous value.

The Astor House is only an instance, both in the fortune of that family and in the principles generally of the unearned increment. The Astors, it is traditionally known, have become wealthy because of the activities of other people! It is a rule of the house to buy often; to seldom or never sell. The estate buys a piece of real estate with cunning foresight, pays taxes—and lets the community do the rest.

Is it not fundamentally just that the people whose life work make these enormous enhancements possible should have at least a share of them? The advocates of the unearned increment tax think so. They point that the man who toils not nor spins, but reaps the rewards of those who do, should at least divide with the toilers a portion of the golden harvest.

O, that she could stay forever—Leave the cool mint gardens never, So sweet, So sweet, The julep is in Dixie!

When the Old Man Took Water, "Jimmie, where's your daddy?" "He's been swimmin' in the lake all mornin'."

"Jimmie," said the mother, "haven't I told you what happened to Ananias? Don't you know your daddy don't like water that well?" "Oh," Jimmie explained, "he had the gal-lon-jug tied to him!"

Even Dad Will Have His Day.

Some day, when the folks get home the old man'll go Where the ocean breezes across the billows blow, Now he's home a-toffin' to keep 'em at the sea.

You see if he were with 'em he'd sure be in for blame; It's ten to one they'd catch him in a rip-ping poker game! And then there would be trouble—don't you have a doubt— The goose cooked forever and the fire would be out!

So that's why Father's waitin' till the family comes home; O that's why he is anxious for to see the ocean foam; No one to read a lecture or give a stern command; When the "chips" are on the table and the cards are in your hand!

Doubling Human Life.

In 1888 the public health conditions of New York were in so low a state that the average length of life of the inhabitants was thirty years. In 1912 these conditions had been improved so that the average length of life was sixty-six years. Thus the value of human life, reckoned in terms of time alone, had more than doubled in less than half a century.—Century Magazine.

Where Laughter Is Barred.

A man was arrested in a theater in Providence because of his excessive laughter. As no one could laugh, however, at the hearing that his laughter had disturbed anybody, he was discharged. His feelings being very much hurt at not being allowed to enjoy the show to the full extent of his appreciation, he has brought suit against the theater for $2,000 for false arrest. If he gains it he will still have the laugh on the house.—Baltimore American.

What in the world will the Colonel do with that six cents?

The Marquette editor has given the fraternity dead away by intimating that his "pile" was in the six-cent class.

It is the season when even a statesman is willing to throw dignity to the winds and take a "headset" with the boys in "the old swimmin' hole."

A Story of the Moment BY WALT HASON. THE FAMOUS FROZE FEET. LIFE IS EXPENSE.

"The grocer's bill came in this morning," observed the retired merchant, "and after I had looked it over I had to sit down and fan myself and drink a lot of ice water. The high cost of living is a condition, sure enough, and not a theory. We don't live any better than our neighbors, yet the expense is twice as great as it used to be."

"Yes, and your doggone neighbors are saying the same thing," said the hotel-keeper. "They can't understand it at all, and they think congress ought to do something, but the fact is that a man can save about as much money now as he ever could. The trouble is that we all keep tab on our neighbors, and if we see the man next door carrying home a gallon can of ice cream, we don't waste a minute about sending for two gallons. Far be it from us to let any Jim crow neighbor go around bragging that he had terrapin for dinner while we had to be satisfied with cheap roast beef."

"Early in the spring I was in Bodkin's grocery talking with him about groundhogs and things. He had some pale, anemic strawberries that had been imported from Italy or Labrador or some far country. No man in his senses would want to eat such berries. They were priced at 85 cents a box. While we were talking, in came Judge Bonest, the richest lawyer in this part of the country. He looked at the strawberries as though hungry for them, but when he was told the price he passed them up. 'I wouldn't give that much for a box of berries from the Garden of Eden,' said he; and he was as wise as a serpent."

"He bought a can of sauerkraut and some other things and went away, and then young Bender came in. He is a clerk in the judge's office, and draws maybe twenty bones a week. He looked at those berries with a smile of rapture, and ordered two boxes. The grocer was a good sport, and told him the price, although he didn't ask about it. 'Hang the expense!' said he. 'I'll bet he and his wife spent the next day talking all their friends that they had strawberries for supper, and as I saw him talking earnestly with the editor of The Weekly Palladium, I have no doubt he was trying to induce that gifted man to print the news on the first page.'

"You can see such instances every day, and yet people talk about the high cost of living as though it were a curiosity, doggone it!"

"You go to any butcher when you are sober and ask him what his chief grief is, and he will tell you that he is eating his heart out because beef cattle aren't composed entirely of porterhouse steak. He buys a carcass and his customers all want the choice cuts. They want porterhouse or sirloin. Nobody wants the legs or the horns or the neck. So he has to spend sleepless nights trying to figure out how to get rid of the cheaper parts of his cow, and finally he has to send them to an orphan asylum. You don't catch freeborn American citizens, whose fathers died at Bunker Hill, filling themselves with round steak or Irish stew. They eat the best the market affords and then lean back in their chairs and say that the cost of living is outrageous, and that a few of the beef barons should be rounded up and lynched while there are our apple trees to hang them to."

"In the old days an ordinary citizen didn't have garden sass on his table until his own garden produced it. Now he sits down with his row children about him, and eats asparagus from California, and new potatoes from Florida, and lettuce from Texas, and strawberries from Venezuela, and hot-house cucumbers from the jumping-off place. It costs like blitzen to ship these things from all the points of the compass, and the consumer has to pay the freight. And after paying it, and eating his expensive greens, he explains to his family that the country is in the grip of Wall street, which is why the salaried man has no chance. Don't talk to me about the high cost of living until you are willing to let what your granddaddy was glad to get."

G. G. G. BY GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS. Start today with—Grit, Gristle, Gumption—these three! Grit to "set" by, Grit to "steam up" to, Grit to Start from—a great thing is Grit! None can Do or Win without Grit. For Grit is determined Courage—baked brown. Gristle to "hang to" by, Gristle to "stick" to, Gristle to "swell out" boldly, firm and most necessary quality is homely, ordinary Gristle! For it keeps the bones of Giants fastly socketed—makes Conquerors of those who hobnob with Ambition. Gristle, then, being interpreted, is what the link is to the completed chain, the coupler to the massive car, the Sun to the astounding Solar System. Gristle holds compactly together worthwhile things. Deeds Done result where a man has well-distributed Gristle in his system. Gristle is "sure-of-your-ground" power.

And lastly—Gumption to "grab" by, Gumption to "tie" to, Gumption to "ride" Success from—big men have, shrank from lack of Gumption! Gumption struts around when Grit is slipping away. Gumption smiles when Gristle weakens. Gumption is "horse sense"—Capacity to win—after men think you have failed.

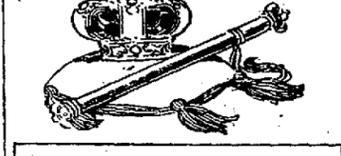

Grit, Gristle, Gumption—these three! But the greatest of these is Gumption—Gristle—Grit!

Finish today with—Grit, Gristle, Gumption—these three!

First Shakespeare Editions.

There appear to have been 500 copies of the Shakespeare first folio printed, of which about 200 are known to have survived. Of these, fewer than 20 are in a perfect state, while about 150 copies have sustained serious damage at various points. The value of the four early folio editions of Shakespeare is partly determined by their pedigrees. The duke of Leeds owns a first folio on which two former owners, Charles Killigrew and William Congreve, have inscribed their names. Garrick's first folio is in the library of Queen's college, Oxford. Sir Henry Irving possessed a second folio which had belonged successively to Lewis Theobald, the greatest of all Shakespeare's textual critics, Dr. Johnson and Samuel Ireland. In South Kensington museum there is a third folio adorned with a curious collection of autographs. At the top of the title page is the signature of Leikh Hunt, and on other portions are the signatures of Charles Dickens, Robert Browning, William Wordsworth, Charles Knight and George Henry Lewes.—London Chronicle.

The World's Mysteries MYSTERIES OF ROYALTY

WAS MAVIS THE "LITTLE DAUPHIN?"

There has been still another claimant to having been the "Little Dauphin" of France, aside from those already mentioned. He was an Englishman by adoption, named Mavis. It will be remembered that the Dauphin was the son of Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette, who was said to have died in the Temple, although this fact has never been definitely settled.

Regarding the claim of Mavis, one of the best authorities was Madame Tussaud, the famous wax figure modeler. She always said that he was the same person as the "Little Dauphin," whom she had modeled before the death of his parents. When asked for her reason as to why she made the statement her reply was: "I would take my oath, for the Little Dauphin had a peculiar formation on the neck which still remains with the present claimant."

Mr. Jeremy, the active and highly intelligent magistrate who presided in the Court of Greenwich, and whose long experience added value to his judgment, was of the opinion that there was no traces of the impostor discovered by him during several scrutinizing examinations, which were held in his office of Mavis and that the members of the old French nobility, who were present, treated him with respect.

Mavis was supported through unknown channels, was twice shot at, and refused permission by the French government, though it was applied for by legal advocates of the highest standing, to bring the question before the legal tribunals.

At first the emperor of Russia, and the King of Prussia, who knew that the Dauphin was alive, opposed the Duke of Wellington's proposal to reinstate Louis XVIII. The Empress Josephine is also said

MISSISSIPPI.

By Philip Wetmore, Secretary Prison Association of Georgia.

The following extracts are quoted from Mississippi's rule book: "Youthful convicts shall be carefully kept away from hardened criminals. No sergeant will be permitted to administer more than fifteen lashes as punishment to a prisoner. The following time will be allowed and deducted from sentences, where no misconduct is reported:

Table with columns: Years, Deduct Yearly days, Total Time. Rows: 1 year (36 days), 2 years (72 days), 3 years (108 days), 4 years (144 days), 5 years (180 days).

There is no effort made to separate the youthful convict and first offender from the older and more hardened. There is no limit to the number of lashes the camp captain may administer in punishing the convict. Four days are given off of every month of the sentence as "good time."

Mississippi. The penitentiary system of Mississippi consists of four penal farms. Belmont State Farm—3,000 acres; 125 convicts. Oakley State Farm—3,000 acres; 200 convicts. Rankin State Farm—3,000 acres; 135 convicts. Parchman State Farm—17,000 acres; 1,300 convicts. All the farms clear money for the state. The last made, in 1912, above expenses, $300,000.

Georgia. The penitentiary system consists of county road camps. One hundred and thirty-two counties are at present working their quota of convicts. Whereas in Mississippi there is a centralized system of control, vested in penitentiary trustees, in Georgia the control is spread over one hundred and thirty-three sets of officials, only one of whom is the prison commission. Each county exercises a degree of control entirely at variance with the intent of the penology act of 1908. Georgia's system is extravagant, wasteful and inefficient. In its inner life, every camp differs from every other camp. Two convicts, convicted of the same charge and sent to different camps, would experience different degrees of punishment. Georgia's system is not standardized. Although the convicts are to be employed on the roads, there is no way to check up the sort of work that is being done, there is no responsible authority at its head, and there is no expert highway engineer connected with the system.

A Mile With Me.

O who will walk a mile with me Along life's merry way? A comrade blithe and full of glee, Who shares my laugh out loud and free, And let his frolic fancy play, Like a happy child, through the flowers gay That fill the field and fringe the way. Where he walks a mile with me.

And who will walk a mile with me Along life's weary way? A friend whose heart has eyes to see And stars shine out o'er the darkening sea, And the quiet rest at the end of the day— A friend who knows and dares to say, The grave sweet words that cheer the way. Where he walks a mile with me.

With such a comrade, such a friend, I feel would walk the journey's end, Through summer sunshine, winter rain, And then—farewell, we shall meet again! —Henry van Dyke.

(From The Boston Transcript.) We bid you a welcome, brave sons of the nation; Fraternal the spirit that unites us as one. Inspiring the thought of a kindred relation— Lo! the angel of peace has gloriously won. As the sun sheds its rays o'er the hills and the meadows, And nature rejoices in gem-golden light, So the friendship of comrades dispels the dark shadows. As the cloud, like a raven, wings away in swift flight, You have come with the hearts of heroes, in meeting With us to commune as we mourn for our dead; The seraph above bless this brotherly greeting, As the breath you lay on their earth-hallowed bed. Glad welcome we give to the lovely companions, Whose presence is ever like beams of the sun. Our world is inspired by light of the fair ones, Who ever applaud what brave men have done.

If there be any grape juice in the Colonel's cellar it is too weak for utterance.

Editor Newitt got enough limelight out of it to make him eligible for a congressional run on a grape juice platform.

Fine to be on good terms with the Colonel; he keeps a wine cellar—solely for his friends.

And we may have to read The Congressional Record all summer!

The slow sipping of a julep gives one time to think—that is, to wonder how long the mist will hold out.

JUDGE IS BEATEN BY EDITOR NELSON

High Court Holds Judge Guthrie Violated Every Rule of Right in Holding Nelson.

Jefferson City, Mo., June 2.—The Missouri supreme court today discharged William R. Nelson, owner and editor of the Kansas City Star, from contempt of the Jackson county circuit court. The decision of the supreme court was unanimous.

The supreme court held the article published in the Star contemptuous, but ordered Mr. Nelson discharged from contempt, solely on the ground that Circuit Judge Guthrie prepared his opinion the night before the trial for contempt.

Violated Rule of Right.

Judge Woodson, who wrote the opinion, held that Mr. Nelson was condemned without testimony on the part of the accused. He also found that Judge Guthrie in preparing his finding the night before Mr. Nelson was held into court, "violated a plain and fundamental rule of right and ought to be deprived of the prisoner of his rights without process of law."

The court further said: "We are clearly of the opinion that the publication was not literally or substantially true, but is highly contemptuous to both the court and the judge thereof. The principal question presented by this record is, was the publication of the article contemptuous or division number one of said court and of the judge presiding therein."

"We are unanimously of the opinion that this question must be answered in the affirmative, and judging from the mode of trial pursued by counsel for petitioner (Judge Nelson), they must have entertained the same conviction, for they were unwilling to let the article speak for itself, but introduced much evidence for the purpose of showing that no contempt was intended, and notwithstanding its scandalous charges."

A "Pretended Hearing."

Judge Woodson in elaborating on the trial of Mr. Nelson for contempt called it a "pretended hearing."

"I use the words 'pretended hearing' advisedly," said the opinion, "because no disinterested and unbiased mind can come to any other conclusion from reading the record but what the real trial took place on the night of January 31, and that the proceedings in the court the next morning were solely for the purpose of breathing life and validity into the unquickered and void judgment written the night before."

Concerning the attempt of attorneys for Mr. Nelson to show that no contempt was intended in the publication of the article in the Star, a contempt sustained by Commissioner C. C. Crow in making his report on the testimony to the supreme court, Judge Woodson said: "This is where our commissioner erred, for the reason that the meaning of the publication was clear and unambiguous upon its face."

Sketch of the Case.

William R. Nelson, editor and owner of the Kansas City Star, was found guilty of contempt of court and sentenced to imprisonment of one day in the county jail February 1 last by Circuit Judge Joseph G. Guthrie, who based his action upon the publication in Mr. Nelson's paper of an article in which he said that Judge Guthrie had refused to dismiss a divorce suit filed in his court until the parties to it, who had settled it out of court and asked dismissal, had paid their attorneys' fees.

Mr. Nelson's attorneys saved the editor from jail by obtaining a writ of habeas corpus. The case was taken to the Kansas City court of appeals, and thence to the Missouri supreme court. C. C. Crow was appointed special commissioner to take testimony.

He reported to the court that he found nothing contemptuous in the article, for which Mr. Nelson was cited and recommended that the editor be discharged. The commissioner held that the article was "substantially true."

Cornerstone of the New Public School Building to Be Laid Today at Decatur

Decatur's New Public School.

The cornerstone for Decatur's new $25,000 public school building will be laid this afternoon at 4 o'clock, with Masonic ceremony. Hon. George M. Napier, past grand master of Georgia Masons, will preside, and make the principal address. Other short addresses will be made by J. Howell Green, chairman of the board of education; Mayor John A. Montgomery and Hon. Hooper Alexander.

The parade in honor of this occasion will form on the courthouse square at 3:30 o'clock p. m., headed by the Pythagoras Masonic lodge, which will be escorted to the site of the school building at the corner of Ponce de Leon avenue and Oak street by Wadsworth's band.

The various civic bodies which are to take part in this parade are requested to assemble promptly on the courthouse square at 3:30 p. m.

GRAND JURY CALLS FOR THOS. FELDER

On Monday evening did it become known that the formal summons to the characters in the recent sensation had been ordered.

The fact that A. L. Colyar and G. C. Belmont, who were working the detectives, arranged the meetings through which the dictagraph records were made, and that George Gentz, the young stenographer, who took the evidence in shorthand, have not been summoned appears to indicate that the grand jury will go into the matter from the statements of the men principally involved in it.

Detective Black has hitherto not appeared in the dictagraph case, either against Mayor Woodward or Attorney Felder, but his name was included among those for whom summons were issued.

Mrs. Formby Wanted.

Mrs. Formby, of whose whereabouts city detectives deny knowledge, is wanted by the grand jury, but for what purpose has not been disclosed.

What will be the action of the grand jury in the case is problematical. It is believed from the fact that summons have been issued to principals on both sides of the case that the intention is to investigate with a view to determining if a formal investigation of the charges handed by each side is warranted at the time of the body.

Several of the men upon whom summons were served Monday night admitted, when faced with the direct question, that they had been ordered to appear. Among them were Chief Lawford, Jones and Attorney Hutchison. Others refused to talk.

When questioned in regard to the matter Monday night, Solicitor Dorsey issued the following statement: "I know nothing at all of the summons as far as I am aware, the grand jury has been called to meet Tuesday by Mr. Beck, the foreman, for the purpose of undertaking the routine business of appointing the usual committees. If they are to take up any other business, I do not know of it."

"However," he added, "they are at liberty to take up anything they see fit, and that without advising me until they actually need my services."

"I will tell you, as I have told every other reporter in the city, that the meeting Tuesday is for the purpose of appointing the committees which the press of criminal business has delayed," said Foreman Beck, when questioned as to the summons.

"I'm ready at any time they want to take the matter up," commented Attorney Felder, "and if they want me, they can get me and they are well aware of that."

Solicitor Dorsey told me last week that he would take the matter up some time this week," stated Chief Beavers when asked in regard to the business to be taken up today. "Whether or not they are really going to take it up, I can't say."

DEPARTMENT CHIEFS TO NAME ASSISTANTS

Council Gives Them the Privilege of Nominating Their Assistants.

Council yesterday adopted the Nutting ordinance which clothes the chiefs of the various departments with the power to nominate and promote subordinates. The ordinance offered as a means of correcting just such situations as arose in the police board deadlock, was adopted without dissent.

The ordinance not only gives the chief of a department the power to make nominations, but it makes it compulsory that he do so.

It does not, however, prevent the members of the board from rejecting the nominations of the chief; in fact, the board can reject all nominations of the chief until he makes a nomination acceptable to them.

Alderman Nutting does not admit that his ordinance was framed with a view of correcting the police board situation.

"It has been my intention of offering an ordinance, but delayed it until the police board affairs reminded me," he said. "Now that it is a law there is no danger of such situations arising. It will help keep politics from the boards."

NEGRO SMALLS LOSES HIS COLLECTORSHIP

White Man Gets Beaufort Post Smalls Has Held for Fifteen Years.

Washington, June 2.—In a brief executive session tonight the senate confirmed the nomination of Franklin P. Colcock as collector of customs at Beaufort, S. C., to succeed Robert Smalls, a negro, who has held the office for more than fifteen years. Republican senators opposed Colcock's confirmation for several weeks contending that since the customs reorganization plan approved by President Taft would eliminate Smalls automatically on July 1 the appointment of a successor to serve such a short period would be a decided slap. They charged also that Smalls had incurred the enmity of southern democrats for services rendered to the northern army in the war.

The democrats, however, said they wanted Colcock's nomination confirmed, because under the Taft plan the collector would have the authority to name the deputy who would continue to office at the sub-port of Beaufort after the change became effective. The fact that the republicans finally agreed to approval was taken tonight to indicate that many senators now believe that a serious attempt will be made to suspend or nullify the Taft order.

The nomination of Charles A. Wood, of South Carolina, as judge of the Fourth circuit, succeeding Senator Goff, was held up by republicans with an understanding that it would be voted on Thursday.

Cato Selts, of Texas, was confirmed as commissioner of the bureau of Indian affairs.

Dixon Heads Church.

Boston, Mass., June 2.—Frederick Dixon, of London, was made president of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, at the annual meeting today. John V. Dittmore, of Brookline, was named for clerk, and Adam E. Dickey, of the same city, for treasurer.

From many parts of the world were present. The report of the clerk showed 102 new churches had been organized during the year, including five in England and others in Germany, Switzerland, Australia, New Zealand and Porto Rico.

The resolutions were suggested following the recent claim of a prison evangelist that he was not allowed to visit the prison county prisoners except on Sundays and that his efforts to convert them were discouraged by the officials.

The resolutions, as adopted, state that the object of a penitentiary or prison is to reform the criminal, and that the object of a prison is to reform the criminal, and that the object of a prison is to reform the criminal.

The words of Christ where He said, "I was in prison and ye visited me not," are called to the mind of the pastors in the act of the Evangelical ministers, who quote these words in their resolutions.

HEROIC DEAD HONORED BY NORTH CAROLINA

Chapel Hill, N. C., June 2.—Those students who left the University of North Carolina during the war because the states were memorialized today when Governor Locke Craig presented for the state the monument erected in their honor.

Governor Craig described the entrance of Sherman's army and the prayer meetings held for protection by the desolate families, who had sent their sons to war never to return. "The university was consumed by the war," he said, "only one member of the class of 1865 graduating."

He said that every member, eighty-four of the 1860 class went to the army without conscription, and that more than a fourth of the graduates of the war period died in battle. Describing the bronze statue he said: "New generation will read its meaning, and we dedicate the monument today as a covenant that we will do our tasks with courage and fidelity."

The English Lounging Suit

A typically correct "ENGLISH" model with all of the characteristic effectiveness of the vogue.

It is in high favor with YOUNG MEN especially, because it is out of the trend of "fashion's" formalities, and provides an "individuality" in style conception that is quite captivating.

The Coat is form-fitting—NOT padded—although so skillfully tailored that it will retain its shape-sustaining qualities permanently. The shoulders and collar fit snugly and perfectly. The Coat is quarter-lined, seams piped, and throughout the garment is exquisitely finished, and the "patch" pockets lend to its "smart" appearance.

These LOUNGING SUITS are made up in both the Two and Three-piece models. Vests of the three-piece suits are unlined, and have patch pockets.

The "LOUNGING SUIT" combines both style and comfort. It is extremely light in weight, being made of high finished, phantom-weight weaves, in an attractive range of sprightly colors, and penciled effects on dark grounds.

One of our many styles in the new model correct shape Straw Hats is the harmonizing headgear for the "Lounging Suit."

AMERICAN BANKERS SOUGHT BY ATLANTA

Atlanta Hotel Men and Local Bankers Make Plans for Next Meeting.

At the monthly meeting of the Atlanta Hotel Men's association last night at the Georgian Terrace, representatives of the bankers of Atlanta were present and plans were set on foot to bring the 1914 convention of the American Bankers' association to Atlanta.

The American Bankers' association meets this year in Boston, in October, at which time, if the present plans materialize, an Atlanta delegation will be in the Hub city to get the next meeting for Dixie.

A guarantee of 2,000 rooms is the first requisite to getting the bankers to come here, and a committee will get to work at once to find these accommodations.

Forrest Adair was present at last night's meeting and told the hotel men of the progress being made in regard to arrangements for the entertainment of the Shriners next year. According to Mr. Adair, the number of Shriners who will come to Atlanta will be even larger than was expected.

HAWTHORNE'S WRITING ATTRACTS ATTENTION

In the June number of "Good Words," the federal journal publication, the writings of Julian Hawthorne, son of the noted author, are once more creating widespread interest.

Mr. Hawthorne in this issue gives an analysis of the kinds of prisoners, dividing them into two classes. These classes are the "depraved" and "hopeless" and "men of brains and refinement." Mr. Hawthorne makes the point that though men of brains and refinement are much more sensitive to punishment than the brute, these men are much more sensitive to humane treatment for all.

The gist of the real suffering of imprisonment for crime Mr. Hawthorne puts in the following words: "It is an ancient truth that bodily imprisonment is an insignificant circumstance if the soul be free. Our real hardship consists in the fact that we were placed here by force, and as a punishment."

NEW PLAN PROPOSED FOR MONEY REFORM

Washington, June 2.—One of the plans suggested to members of the banking and currency committee of congress which will receive serious consideration before a definite program for currency reform is adopted, is to eliminate the central reserve association proposed by the national monetary commission and the "central agency" favored by some democratic leaders, and substitute a "national reserve division" in the treasury department.

Under the commission's plan the central association would be largely in the hands of private persons, and under the democratic plan the heads of a semi-official board, while the new suggestion contemplates absolute authority in the treasury. By this scheme the reserve agencies of the division would be established in each of the reserve cities which would receive and mobilize the reserves of national and other banks which are members of reserve associations, put out a reserve gold note accommodation, and make a market for prime commercial paper of such banks.

Gold certificates, greenbacks and national bank notes would be retired and a gigantic gold reserve built up to be used as a redemption fund for any notes issued by the treasury in carrying out the plan. Gold available would be about two billion dollars, a basis for twice that amount of reserve notes. One of the objections which the plan has met is that it would put the government in the banking business, but the author points out that it is already in the business through the postal savings bank system, its issue of currency and its control of national banks, and contend that government protection against panic would give stability to commerce.

Squally Weather Ahead Predicts Mr. Von Herrmann

"Squally weather for the summer" is the unofficial prediction given out by the United States weather bureau, and for once the forecast, instead of being limited to the usual twenty-four hours, goes three months ahead. There is a perfectly good reason, however, for the forecast, in the arrival at the home of Section Director C. F. von Herrmann, of a new member of the family, who is known as Miss Evelyne von Herrmann.

The little girl came a week ago, but Forester von Herrmann had kept the matter rather quietly to himself, despite the fact that he is as proud as any father that ever lived. Little Evelyne is the second member of the von Herrmann family. Charles Frederick von Herrmann, Jr., is three years of age, and one of the healthiest specimens of babies that ever slept in an open-air bedroom, and his little sister bids fair to equal him in robustness.

The weather man is decidedly worried about the extreme hot weather of the past week, and it is certain that if he could determine the weather as well as he can forecast it that Atlanta would have nothing but cool days and nights all summer long. But the hot weather will come, and, according to the forecast for today, the temperature will be about the same, and possibly will be 2 degrees above the 88-degree mark of Monday. No showers or thunderstorms are in sight for Tuesday, although conditions point to a possible shower on Wednesday.

Parks Hall and Terrell Hall Names of G. N. & I. Buildings

Milledgeville, Ga., June 2.—(Special.) The board of directors of the Georgia Normal and Industrial college has honored Marvin McCreary Parks, president of the college, by naming the handsome new science building erected in 1911, "Parks science hall." This action was taken by the board on Saturday, but was kept secret and announced today when the graduating ceremonies of the largest class of students receiving diplomas in Georgia closed.

When Hon. T. E. Atkinson, president of the board, made the announcement, the greatest ovation ever seen in Milledgeville took place. The entire audience rising gave the chauntauqua salute and the cheering lasted for a long period. Miss Miriam Kirkland, president of the senior class, arose and beautifully thanked the board for thus honoring President Parks.

Professor Parks, with much feeling, made a short speech of appreciation, after which he was kept busy an hour receiving the congratulations of his friends.

New Terrell Hall. The board of directors, in recognition of the services of the late Governor Joseph M. Terrell, for the cause of agricultural and industrial education in Georgia, and as an expression of appreciation of his love and devotion shown while he was living, and further indicated by his leaving a legacy in his will for his institution, have decided to name the building located on the eastern end of our campus should hereafter be called Terrell hall. Prolonged applause greeted this announcement, for it was generally known how the late Governor Terrell loved this Georgia school, and that the board had long desired to do something in his honor.

Commencement Close. The twenty-second annual commencement exercises of the college were brought to a close today with the graduating exercises this morning and the exhibit of college work this afternoon.

The exercises this year, while marked by their simplicity, have been most interesting and complete in every detail. The commencement sermon was preached Sunday morning in the Methodist church by Bishop Warren A. Candler, and the discourse was heard by a big congregation. The main body of the church was filled to overflowing by the students, faculty and others connected with the college. In order to accommodate the large number of citizens of the town who attended the service, seats were placed outside the church under the trees, and these were all filled.

Bishop Candler preached Sunday evening in the Methodist church. Only the junior class of the college was present, thus leaving room for citizens of the town. A reunion of the class of 1912 is being held. About forty members of the class are present, very enthusiastic over the work of the college. They will have a banquet tonight at the Baldwin hotel.

An exhibit of work done in the various departments of the college was held Monday afternoon. In the domestic arts and science departments the most striking displays of dressmaking and hats are shown, and very interesting to the visitors are the products of culinary skill which are offered for their refreshment as well as inspection.

BRYAN'S PEACE PLAN ACCEPTED BY JAPAN

Washington, June 2.—Viscount Chinda, the ambassador from Japan, late today called upon Secretary Bryan with formal notification that Japan had accepted in principle the proposed plan advanced by the United States for universal peace.

Signatories of the treaty proposed in Mr. Bryan's plan would agree to refrain from hostilities for a period of at least nine months while any conflicting claims were under consideration by an international joint commission. In the case of Japan, as with the ten other nations that have accepted the proposal favorably, the response applies solely to the general principle involved, and none has committed itself to approval of any of the details of the project. Therefore it may be many months before the tentative draft of the convention which Mr. Bryan submitted to the various ambassadors and negotiations can be reduced to a form which will receive their unqualified approval.

The statement by the Japanese ambassador that his government was prepared to give careful consideration to the Bryan proposal has no bearing whatever upon the negotiations now in progress between the two countries regarding the California alien-land legislation. During his call upon Mr. Bryan today the ambassador discussed this subject from various angles for half an hour, but without any definite result. The Japanese foreign office has not yet called the ambassador's attention to the fact that the submission of its rejoinder to the last American note, and it is known that it is conducting an original investigation as a basis for its rejoinder.

REMOVAL OF WALDO URGED BY PROBERS

New York, June 2.—The removal of Rhinelander Waldo, commissioner of police, is recommended in a report of the Curran aldermanic committee, which for months has been investigating police conditions in the city. A paragraph of the report, which probably will be made public late today, says: "The public interest requires the immediate removal of Commissioner Waldo. We realize the difficulty of making any such recommendation to the mayor of the city. The facts set forth were disclosed long ago at your public hearings. Nevertheless the majority continues to approve and applaud the commissioner's administration. We, therefore, recommend that the board of aldermen request the governor of the state to relieve the city of New York from a police commissioner who, by temperament and conduct, has shown himself unfit to occupy his office."

MACON OFFICER DROPS DEAD AFTER HARD RUN

Macon, Ga., June 2.—(Special.)—E. Aved, for six years a member of the Macon police force, dropped dead at 7 o'clock tonight at his home, 129 Highland avenue after sprinting from the street car to his home to avoid getting wet from the rain.

A blood vessel in his head is thought to have broken, causing his death. He was 50 years of age and enjoyed the unusual record of being on the same police beat for three years. He was a brother of J. T. Aved, and also leaves a widow and two children, Miss Annie Aved, of Birmingham, and Mrs. W. H. Pryor, of Pennsylvania.

Murry to Study Indian Schools.

Washington, June 2.—Secretary Lane today appointed John F. Murry, of California, a special agent in the Indian service to study methods of instruction at Indian schools. Mr. Murry was superintendent of schools of the state of Colorado for several years, is a newspaper man and was secretary of the democratic state central committee of California.

NEW FEDERAL JUDGE SOUGHT FOR GEORGIA

Edwards Will Shortly Introduce Measure to Create Third Judicial District.

By John Covington, Jr. Washington, June 2.—(Special.)—Representative Edwards will ask for the appointment of a new federal court judge in Georgia in a bill he will shortly introduce at the request of a committee of the leading lawyers of the Savannah bar.

While the program of the house leaders does not contemplate any legislation of the character at the present extra session, the bill will be given consideration in the judiciary committee, and if favorably acted upon will be reported out next December.

The committee of the Savannah bar which recently came to Washington to confer with the members of the Georgia delegation in congress have put their views in the shape of a bill.

It provides that the third district judge shall live in Savannah and hold court in the eastern division of the southern district. In urging its adoption they say an additional district judge in Georgia is absolutely necessary if the business of the United States courts is to be properly and promptly dispatched.

They show that there are five divisions in the northern district and five in the southern, making ten places where court must be held by two judges. Admiralty practice in Savannah is greatly impeded and interfered with because the circuit judge lives in Macon, 200 miles away; by reason of being the largest naval store port and second largest cotton port in the world, Savannah has much admiralty business.

While stating that it would be preferable to divide the state into three judicial districts, the committee maintains that this is now impracticable. The Savannah bar, at a meeting on May 17, urged the following committee to press for favorable action by congress: S. B. Adams, P. W. Mel-drum, W. W. Osborne, A. P. Wright, J. Ferris Cann, T. M. Cunningham, Jr., and A. A. Lawrence.

New Dissolution Plan.

Washington, June 2.—Attorney General McReynolds today received from the Union Pacific copies of its plans for dissolution of the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific merger. He will begin an analysis to determine the government's attitude. Mr. McReynolds said today he had not yet finally determined when or where the government's proposed suit under the Sherman anti-trust law, for the separation of the Central Pacific from the Southern Pacific, would be brought.

COMMISSION TO STUDY PRISON LABOR PROBLEM

Washington, June 2.—A national commission on prison labor to study that whole question was proposed today in a bill by Senator O'Gorman.

The following were named for the committee by the bill: Thomas Mott Osborne, R. Montgomery Schell, E. Stagg Whittin, George W. Kirchner, E. A. Langer, Samuel McCune Lindsay, Charles McFarland, James Brown Reynolds, Charles Ed-ward Russell, Louis Livingston Seaman, John J. Manning, John Mitchell, William Bellows Morgan, Edward T. Ferline and Francis Lutz Gieston. The committee would seek to provide employment which would promote welfare of prisoners; to prevent unfair competition between prison-made goods and goods of free labor, and to secure, if possible, for dependent families of prisoners, a fair proportion of prisoners' earnings.

FIREMEN AND ENGINEERS MEET IN WASHINGTON

Washington, June 2.—The convention of the Brotherhood and Locomotive Firemen and Engineers organized today and more than 900 delegates got down to work. Three important questions are to come up. The convention will be in session twenty-eight days. Selection of a city for permanent headquarters and convention place probably will be the first important question. Several cities are making an effort to have headquarters changed. Another subject to be settled is consolidating the brotherhood with the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Changes in the constitution and by-laws probably also will be made with the selection of a city for the 1916 convention. So far Denver, Oakland and Houston are the only cities in the field.

In the Right.

BILL SMITH was right in insisting on the playing of the game Monday at Nashville. President Kavanaugh ought to uphold Smith in his contention. Bill went ahead and arranged a game for Atlanta on Wednesday, and if he is made to play the games in Nashville Tuesday and Wednesday, the local club will lose considerable money on the deal. Looks like "Alibi" Hirsig delights in mixing up the Crackers. Maybe he is trying to get even for the Welchonce deal.

It Was Coming.

THE PURCHASE of Pitcher Conzelman is just the first of a series of changes in the Atlanta pitching staff that have been expected for some time. By the time the team returns home, there may be some other new twirlers on the string. Billy Smith is determined to be right in the pennant hunt and the club is willing to back him up financially.

Run Detail Today.

CALLER KING will run his detail this afternoon on the Nashville-Atlanta game. And if there is a game at Nashville Wednesday, which at the present writing is doubtful, he will also call that.

Just in Slump.

ALBIE WHITNEY is in one of the worst slumps of his career. But it will not last long. Whitney is a ball player to continue long without hits. The Crackers' most reliable hitter in the pinches, his failure to bang them safely for the past two weeks has hurt immeasurably. Had Whitney been slumping them in Nashville Sunday during the next home stay, even bad pitching and poor fielding would have cut no figure. Here's hoping he gets out of the slump today.

In Encouraging.

PAUL MUSESS' return to form is one of the most encouraging things that has greeted local fans in the present season of adversity. Even if he did lose the game in Nashville Sunday, he pitched ball that will win nine games in ten and a continuance of such form will help immensely. Dent is a winner. Price has been. Brady can be, and if Chappelle shows the form that Bill Smith expects of him everything will be rosy.

Tommy All.

TOMMY LONG'S hitting has been the one big surprise of the season and a pleasant one. Rabbit surprised all the wisecracks. He may do more than that. He may hit more than any batting leader in the Southern league history as he has been boosting his average lately. Instead of slumping personally, he hopes to stay hot. We are sure to express the sentiment of all the fans.

Great Tourney.

THE TWELFTH Annual Southern Golf Tournament, which begins at Montgomery today, with the qualifying round promises to surpass all its predecessors. Of the eleven previous tournament winners and low medalists, nine of them are going to be on hand for the big event. Players from all the leading cities of the south will attend and it is estimated that in the neighborhood of 250 golfers will tee off from the first tee today.

After Twirlers.

JOHN M'GRAW intends to fortify himself for the hard pennant race by strengthening his staff. The pitcher (that leader has seen the light). His recent effort to strengthen was in offering Snodgrass and Fromme to the Boston Braves for Tyler. Of course Stallings turned him down. Barring that, Tyler is an good left-hander as there is in the business.

Not Likely.

IF DETROIT trades Ty Cobb to Chicago as a story printed elsewhere on this page, they will not only surprise every one but will throw themselves open to the ridicule of the baseball public. If it was our ball club we would not give Ty Cobb for the best of the league. We would not give him up no matter what the cash to boot. We'll believe this yarn when the trade is actually consummated.

Billy Smith Claims Monday's Game When Schwartz Refuses To Play; Nice Row Is Now On

By Paul W. Treanor.

Nashville, Tenn., June 2.—(Special.) The Crackers were a game from the Vols today by Gilbert Price only tossing three balls across the plate, when Joe Dunn, vested with impartial authority, decided the affair forfeited to the Crackers, 3 to 0, for the very good reason that the Schwartzmen failed to put in appearance.

The milk in the cocoon of the whole affair is simply that once more Billy Smith caught the wise Mr. Hirsig asleep at the switch and put one over, providing that Mr. Hirsig cares little for the well-known adage about burnt children giving the fireplace a wide berth. Some folks had an idea the Crackers would keep alive after the Welchonce deal, but Hirsig is up with his ever-ready alibi. When the matter of the game was put up to Smith, the league schedule called for the Crackers to play the Vols on June 2, 3 and 4, but Hirsig told Smith that a big crowd would be in the stands on Sabbath, so Billy was very willing to move the game up a day.

Hirsig's Letter.

Here's what Hirsig wrote the Crackers' Manager: "I am writing you to advise that I have accepted the offer of the Atlanta Braves to play for them on Monday, June 3, 1913. Mr. William Smith, Manager Atlanta Ball Club, Atlanta, Dear Sir—Received your letter in reference to your playing here next Sunday, and beg advise that we are making arrangements accordingly. We will have our schedule ready June 1, 2 and 3 and if it is possible we would be best to play on 3d and 4th. However, it might rain on one of these days. We will have all of the week and can easily arrange this after you arrive here. Yours truly, Hirsig."

It was easily arranged, nevertheless, for Schwartz, Hirsig and Smith wrangled for almost one hour before the game Sunday, the Nashville moguls holding out for the Tuesday and Wednesday dates, and Smith insisting on Hirsig's agreement to play Monday and Tuesday. Billy pointing out that the Crackers must hustle back home to play Montgomery at Ponce de Leon on Wednesday, and no agreement ever was reached.

Hirsig got out to the press that Monday would be an off-day, that he was decidedly determined Cracker leader was not to be run over roughshod in any such manner. But to get himself right before he made a move he wired President Kavanaugh acquainting him with the facts and asking him what he should do. Kavanaugh answered:

Kavanaugh's Wire.

"Little Rock, June 1, 1913.—William Smith, Manager Atlanta Baseball Club, Duncan Hotel, Nashville, Tenn. Original schedule calls for games June 2, 3 and 4, but any change in schedule was made it was done without notice to this office. However, had I been consulted, I would have consented to any changes upon which the two clubs had agreed to. Show this to umpires and Hirsig and say to them that game must be played according to agreement, between you and them, whatever it was."

William K. Kavanaugh. Smith carried the wire to Hirsig, but such was his attitude that he could not reach any understanding, and Billy declared afterwards that "Rather than have a fight," he left Hirsig's office.

He carried his ball tossers to Sulphur Dell, but the ground keeper denied their admission, and the Crackers' chief resorted to a little piece of foxy work to get inside. "We just want to go in and get our bath." He very humbly told the dusky caretaker, and was opening the gate a little wider. It was easy for the brawny Joe Dunn "Bell Cord" Bill Chappelle and Billy Smith to rush the rheumatic old negro.

Once inside the rest was easy, for Billy Smith appointed Joe Dunn umpire and the Crackers taking their places in the fields. Gilbert Price lobbed over three to Chapman, while Joe dramatically declared the Vols defeated, 9 to 0.

Dunn Umpires.

He claims that in the absence of the umpire the manager of the club has the right to appoint an umpire and his contention seems to be a good one, but the awful mess will in all probability have to be thrashed out by President Kavanaugh.

Georgia-Alabama.

LaGrange 8, Newnan 3. (Special.)—With Zack Schuessler in the box for LaGrange, and Joe Woods in the box for Newnan, the LaGrange fans witnessed one of the prettiest games of ball yet played on the diamond. Zack Schuessler, touted to be the best pitcher in the Georgia-Alabama league, gave a splendid exhibition of pitching, and was backed up by an errorless support. This is the second straight game won for LaGrange, and it looks like the LaGrange team has at least broken its losing streak.

Opelika 4, Gadsden 1.

Opelika defeated Gadsden today by score of 4 to 1. The feature of the game was Ellis' pitching, having Gadsden players at his mercy during the entire game.

Talladega 4, Anniston 1.

Talladega defeated the Anniston Chickens in a hair-raising game this afternoon by the score of 4 to 1 with the score tied in the sixth inning, two men out and two on bases. Chambers, of the Talladega team, knocked a home run.

Tuesday, and as for his suggestion, it isn't worth a hill of beans, if it was never acted on and even Hirsig has not the effrontery to claim that Hirsig is very bitter against Billy Smith, declaring that he should be drummed out of baseball, and was a detriment to the game, and a lot of rot like that, but such small bore talk is characteristic of the Vols' president, and carries little weight with the fans in Nashville, who regard Hirsig as a nuisance they are compelled to tolerate.

Today's Batteries.

The two teams will play Tuesday, Beck working for the Vols, while Brady will be on the slab for the Crackers, with Gibson and Chapman at the receiving end. Billy Smith had a long conversation with the Vols' President Calloway and the Crackers' mogul told Billy to come home Tuesday night. Tickets and reservations have been secured by the Atlanta club, and on Wednesday, Hirsig claims he will send Schwartz to the Vols and Eddie Kotes as umpire, and will declare that game forfeited to the Vols.

Montgomery, Ala., June 2.—Manning held New Orleans hitless for four innings and then they began bunching them with errors by local players, and had no trouble in taking the second straight from the locals. Score, 7 to 3. Adams was relieved in the sixth inning by Brenton. New Orleans players ran wild on the bases.

Red Sox Win Two.

New York, June 2.—The New York Americans continued their long list of victories today when they dropped two games to Boston by scores of 4 to 3 and 3 to 6. In the second game, Manager Chance, in an effort to break the local club's hoodoo, asked that his team be permitted to bat first, but the umpire refused. The loss of today's double-header makes the New York club's record nine straight defeats—thirteen straight defeats on the Polo grounds this season, and eighteen straight defeats in New York to Boston. The Yankees have not won from Boston in New York since 1911.

GOLFERS GATHER AT MONTGOMERY

Twelfth Annual Southern Golf Association Tournament Opens Today With Classy Entry List.

Montgomery, Ala., June 2.—Expert golfers representing almost every state in the south, some 178 players being in the links today, spent the first day testing out what has proven to the experts the finest course in the south, and many exceptional scores were turned in cards of 72, 74 and 80 being numerous. Several of the lesser known players turned in lower scores than Champion J. P. Edgington, of Memphis, who was on the links both mornings. Edgington, his score being 42 out of 72 in a total of 82. He begins tomorrow morning defending his title against the champions from other cities.

During the day a record was established on the links, when Barker, a professional of Birmingham, made the first hole in three, the first time such score has ever been made here.

Among the noticeable scores turned in were M. J. Condon, of Memphis, 37 and 43, total 80. W. Nash Reed, local, 79, his third successive day with a score ranging with quality in the second division. The team match which is commencing tomorrow are, Nelson Whitney, New Orleans; Ellis Knewles, Pensacola; Jacob and Mungler, Dallas; George Adair and Reynolds, Tichenor, Atlanta.

Empire State League.

Waycross 4, Thomasville 1. Waycross, Ga., June 2.—(Special.)—Wid Bill Clark won his third straight game today when Waycross defeated Thomasville 4 to 1 in a snappy game. Medlock hit over the left field fence for a home run in the second, tying the score, and led Waycross in batting. Benton made a brilliant catch in center, taking what should have been a easy double. He fell, but did not lose the ball. Murphy, for Thomasville, played a pretty game at short, and Wagon featured in left. Holliday, an Atlanta boy, again clinched in the favor of fans by sensational stop around first.

Americus 2, Valdosta 1.

Americus, Ga., June 2.—(Special.)—Americus clearly defeated Valdosta this afternoon in the opening game of the series by the score of 2 to 1. Until the fifth inning the Valdostans played a shut-out game, but at that stage Americus scored two runs and held the lead to the finish. Americus bunched hits on Zellars, who replaced Gentry in the fifth. It was a pitcher's battle, in which Werner held his own admirably in the pinches, surrendering only three hits. Riley, for Americus, in three times up, secured three hits.

Brunswick 5, Cordele 0.

Brunswick, Ga., June 2.—(Special.)—In a game featured by a great run-ning catch by Schuyler, of the locals, with two on bases, Brunswick took the opening from Cordele this afternoon by a score of 5 to 0. The catch of Schuyler was the prettiest ever seen on the local diamond. Hirsig kept his bats well scattered, while the locals bunched the eight they secured off Hall.

Pitcher Conzelman Bought From the Pittsburgh Pirates; Will Report on Wednesday

President Frank E. Callaway, of the Atlanta Baseball Association, announced late last night that the deal that has been pending for Pitcher Conzelman, of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was finally closed.

The local club tried to purchase Conzelman's services outright, but Barney Dreyfuss would only let the Crackers have him under optional agreement.

Confirming the deal, President Dreyfuss, of the Pittsburgh club, wired last night that Conzelman would report to the Crackers on Wednesday.

Shortstop Blalod, of the local team, touted off Conzelman so highly that the local moguls took his tip and tried to purchase him outright. Dreyfuss, in his letter to the local club, expressed the firm conviction that Conzelman will make the Crackers a winning twirler.

This is not the only change that may take place in the ranks of the Cracker hurlers by the time the team returns home. An offer of a good hurler from another big league club has been received at local headquarters, and all the data out has been forwarded to Manager Smith at Nashville. A South Atlantic league pitcher may also be landed.

The names of these two twirlers are being kept quiet until the deals are consummated, so as not to give any of the other teams that may be looking for good hurlers a chance to land them ahead of the Crackers.

Billikens and Crackers May Play Here Wednesday For Grocers' Amusement

In all probability a game will be played at Ponce de Leon Wednesday afternoon. The postponed game between the Crackers and the Billikens of last Saturday may be played off on that day.

Wednesday will be a general half holiday for the grocers of the city, and the baseball club is endeavoring to arrange this game to give them a game to attend on that day if they so desire.

New Orleans is scheduled to play in Montgomery on that date, but advice are expected from President Jones, of the Montgomery club, announcing a swite in dates between the Peis and the Billies so Dobbs' men can come here.

This is the reason that Manager Smith insisted on the game in Nashville yesterday, and he is sticking to his original decision to return here Wednesday morning in time for the game.

The Vols agreed to playing the game on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, giving the Crackers the off day Wednesday. The change, made without Manager Smith's consent, will make a mix-up that will effect two other clubs besides Nashville and Atlanta.

MISS LILLIAN HYDE MAKES NEW RECORD

Glen Cove, L. I., June 2.—Cleverly outplaying a field of fifty-seven golfers over the reconstructed links of the Nassau County club here today, Miss Lillian H. Hyde, of West Rock, made a new woman's record of 82 for the course and won the medal in the qualifying round of 18 holes for the Women's Metropolitan Golf championship.

Three years ago Miss Hyde won the Metropolitan at Mount Clear and repeated in 1911 at Scarsdale. Last year she did not compete. Miss Georgianna M. Bishop, of Brookline, Conn., twice winner of the title and a former national champion, returned a card of 88. Miss Marion Hollins, of West Rock, runner up last year, played consistently for a 92, and on the draw of the first match play round tomorrow she will meet Miss Hyde.

TIGERS MAY TRADE COBB FOR CHASE

Chicago Paper Carries Story to That Effect—The Story Is Said to Be Authentic One.

Chicago, June 2.—The Evening Post today printed an interview with an unnamed man "closely identified with American league affairs," in which the Chicago team got Chase from Chicago club as arranging a trade involving Ty Cobb and Hal Chase. Confirmation of the report was lacking here and in Detroit.

Nevertheless, the Post's informant asserts that the story is not as absurd as it may appear on its face. He says Detroit's need of a first baseman, the effect on the other players of Cobb's "holding out" at the beginning of the season, and the large salary demanded by the famous Georgian are arguments for the reason for parting with him. The Chicago team got Chase from New York yesterday by exchanging first baseman Ertson and Utility infielder Zelder for him.

Rabbish, Says Navin. Detroit, Mich., June 2.—"Absolutely nothing to it," said Frank J. Navin, President of the Detroit American League club, when he learned this afternoon of the Chicago rumor concerning a trade involving Ty Cobb and Hal Chase.

"The idea of such a trade is so silly that there is no use discussing it," Mr. Navin added, that he is not considering any other trade with the Chicago club at present.

ATLANTA DIVISION NOW CLASSED "C"

Very Best of Service Will Result From Change, Says National Auditor Railway Mail Association.

After a lengthy conference with Postmaster General Burleson, which ended in Washington last Saturday, John Hogan, national auditor of the Railway Mail Association, returned to Atlanta yesterday with the news that the Atlanta-Montgomery division, one of the most important links in the mail service between New York and San Francisco, is now classed as "C".

Accompanied by H. G. Swanson, one of the committee of five appointed to represent the division at the conference, Mr. Hogan sought the assistance of Senator Hoke Smith and Representative William Ashley Howard, P. J. Schardt, president of the Railway Mail Association, was also a party to the conference.

The Georgia senator and representative were exceedingly anxious in behalf of the line, and it was mainly through their efforts that we succeeded in getting the line promoted," Mr. Hogan said Monday.

"From the various conferences we had with the postoffice department it is apparent that the postmaster general is disposed to immediately correct conditions. The reclassification of the Atlanta-Montgomery line will result in the line running again to New Orleans. Then we will have the very best service. The service will never be ample until the line is run through. The department wants to correct the service that was demoralized by the economy system of the Hitchcock administration. The working conditions of the men of the service will be better, and the change will be welcomed all around."

The Atlanta-Montgomery line is one of the most important links in the connecting chain of the service in the south. It is the only through line to New Orleans, and serves a tremendous territory. The line was the only one in the south left in class "B," and as the result the service was so badly crippled that it will take months to correct.

The committee was in session nearly a week, according to Mr. Hogan. Eleven congressmen and four senators supported the contention that the line should be classed "C" in the service.

Negro Murderer Chased.

Indianapolis, Miss., June 2.—Paces with bloodhounds are searching the surrounding country tonight for George Mason, a negro farm hand, who today shot and killed C. Q. Weeks, a prominent planter and postmaster at Indianola. The killing occurred at one of the negro cabins on Weeks' plantation, where the planter had gone to have Mason do some work in the field. The negro refused to leave the cabin and opened fire on Weeks, shooting him through the head.

For Armor Plate Plant.

Washington, June 2.—Representative Barton, of Nebraska, today introduced a resolution for the selection of a special committee of the house to report a bill to establish such government manufacturing plants as may be necessary to produce all the government armor plate. Mr. Barton explained that he believed this action would give a "solar plexus blow to the steel trust monopoly." A similar bill is pending in the senate.

PERRYMAN IS SENT TO ROANOKE CLUB

Giants Farm Out Emory College Pitcher—McGraw Keeps String Attached.

Emory College, Oxford, Ga., June 2.—(Special.)—Key Perryman, the elongated preacher-pitcher of Emory college, who was placed upon the ineligible list by the national commission, for failing to report to Manager McGraw, of the New York Giants, has been reinstated and farmed to Roanoke, of the Virginia league.

Perryman received a telegram this morning from the Roanoke manager urging him to report as soon as Emory closed and instructing him to get through work-outs every day. Roanoke is leading the Virginia league, and as Perryman has been the sensation of this league for the past two years, he will no doubt have a banner season.

In a personal letter from Manager McGraw, Perryman was told that though he was to play with Roanoke this season that the New York mogul had tied a string to him sufficiently strong to yank him into the big circle at any time that he is needed. Emory's cohort are banking on Perryman's ability to make good and are counting on him being the sensation of the Virginia circuit this season. Perryman is 6 feet 2 inches tall, and tips the beam at 160 pounds—the ideal build for a pitcher.

TWENTY-ONE GRADUATE FROM THE NORMAL HIGH

Promising Class of Young Women Are Awarded Diplomas at Browning Hall.

Twenty-one young ladies of the normal class of the girls' high school were awarded their diplomas yesterday afternoon by Judge W. R. Daley, president of the board of education, in Browning hall at the high school. This was an unusually large class of bright young women, who have decided to devote themselves to the cause of education, and they will undoubtedly prove a valuable addition to the teachers of the state.

An address of the occasion was made by Major Robert J. Quinn. Two songs were rendered by the class, "Lullaby" and "The Land of the Sky Blue Water." The hall was filled with friends of the young ladies who had come to see them graduate.

The names of the graduates were Misses Lillian Bloemforth, Caroline Campbell, Willie Carmichael, Sally DeSaussure, Annie Ruth Estes, Clara May Fowler, Irene Hancock, Fannie Henley, Annie Whiteford Hill, Sarah Holmes, Louise Leiper, Patricia Marshall, Ruth Miller, Lida Moore, Hortense Moran, Lillian Reeves, Mattie Lou Richardson, Ethel Rodgers, Frances Smith, Virginia Stander and Vivian Winslow.

MISS WALKER IS BRIDE OF JUDGE M. D. WOMBLE

Memphis, Tenn., June 2.—(Special.)—Miss Linnie Walker, of Covington, Tenn., and Judge McGruder D. Womble, of Thomaston, Ga., were quietly married in the parlor of the hotel Garretts today. Mr. and Mrs. Womble left on an evening train for Thomaston, where they will make their future home.

Miss Walker is a daughter of the late Major Walker, of Lauderdale county, Tenn., and the widow of Major M. A. Walker, of Covington. Judge Womble is a leading lawyer and political factor in Upson county, Ga.

THEATERS. Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.) If you pay a visit to the Forsyth this week the chances are very slight in favor of a second trip before Saturday has rolled round, for there are several acts of the kind that call for encores.

The bill starts off lively from the start. It hits the high notes in the second act. People who are so unfortunate as to come too late to see Wright and Dietrich will soon know how unlucky they were, for their neighbors who were among those present on time will see that they are informed.

The act offers a man with a good, strong voice and a woman who combines the art of dressing and the talent of singing with the fortune of personality, which is after all the greatest of all stage requisites. The answer comes in the shape of encore after encore.

Of course, Lillian Shaw makes good from the start. She has played in Atlanta in every house used for vaudeville since the Wells interests took control, and ever since she made her hit on her first appearance here in "Sadie Salome," she has been among those who receive a hearty welcome from Atlanta theatergoers. This year she has added a song or two, the first a baseball number going exceptionally well.

Jack Hazard strolls out on the stage, looks the audience over nonchalantly, and then begins to tell stories new and old. Hazard was going rather slow on Monday afternoon until he switched into the adventures of the Bibulous Mr. Smith. Somehow Mr. Smith caught the fancy of the crowd, and from that moment on Mr. Hazard and Mr. Smith formed a partnership which was ringing the bell at every show.

Seldem's models, portraying famous marble groups pleased. The actors are two men and one woman. All the numbers were exceedingly well presented. "Reverie" seemed to make the greatest hit.

Ward and Curran are the laugh-makers of the bill. Ward has been here several times before and has been a feature of every bill. This year, in what is not never before seen here, he causes many a laugh. At times the act drags a bit, but the most of the time it is a scream.

Cates Brothers open in a dancing number, and the "Three Alex's" close with a good gymnastic offering.

SOUTH ATLANTIC

Foxes 2, Gulls 2. Charleston, S. C., June 2.—The opening game of the series with Columbus today was called at the end of the eighth inning on account of darkness, with the score tied, 2 to 2. A slight drizzling rain fell throughout the contest. The exhibition was featured by many spectacular plays, catches by Weir and Fabian, the two opposing left fielders, being great. Work on the erection of the grand stand which burned down Saturday, started today. Needham's successor has not been named yet, and Catcher Menefee refused to accept the management. Kipp captained the team today.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Columbus..... 000 000 00—2 7 9 Charleston..... 200 000 00—2 4 2 (Called end of eighth inning on account of darkness.) Batteries—McConnell and Thompson; Eldridge and White. Time 1:25. Umpire, Barr.

Peaches 3, Scouts 2.

Macon, Ga., June 2.—Prysock's home run smash over the left field fence in the ninth inning with Munn on base, ended a gruelling pitchers' battle between the two major pitchers of the South Atlantic league, Martin and Horton, today. Macon winning the game, 3 to 2.

Munn's home run in the second inning had given Martin the edge, and both pitchers had opposing batters completely baffled until the seventh, when Melchior doubled and went to third on Hoffman's single. Reynolds dropped the ball on a pretty throw to prevent a double steal and Melchior scored.

In the ninth Melchior tripled and scored on Carroll's single. In Macon's half, with dust driving across the diamond, Baumgardner singled, was scored on by Munn who trotted in ahead of Prysock when the latter found Horton for a four-bagger and the game.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Macon..... 010 000 002—3 8 2 Jacksonville..... 000 000 101—2 6 1 Batteries—Martin and Reynolds; Horton and Smith. Time, 1:33. Umpire, Pender.

Babies 6, Indians 6.

Albany, Ga., June 2.—Albany and Savannah played twenty-five innings to a tie this afternoon, 6 to 6. Balls that should have been held went for hits off McManus in the sixth inning. Poole was relieved in the eighth by Hines, who fanned nine out of thirteen men up. The feature of the game was the playing of Durmeyer at short. Savannah got only one man to first after the seventh, and no Albany player reached first after the eighth.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Albany..... 000 200 130 000—6 13 9 Savannah..... 010 004 190 000—6 13 1 (Called and twilight; darkness.) Batteries—Poole, Robertson and Geibel; McManus and Wells. Time, 2:15. Umpire, Moran.

LOOKOUTS GET KROH FROM THE TURTLES

Castanoga, Tenn., July 6.—(Special.)—Itinerer Aron was claimed from Memphis today by the waiver route. Pitcher Hunt, the Northwestern southerner, has been returned to the Victoria club to make way for the former Cub.

NEWSPAPER DAY AT MOTORDROME

Exhibition Races Today—Officials Selected—Track Will Be Completed This Afternoon—Events Decided On.

Jack Prince's Motordrome is so nearly finished it would take an expert to tell that it wasn't. They worked the whole gang yesterday from daylight to dark and made real progress. The infield has been practically leveled, and it is now possible to see every inch of the track from every seat and from every inch of standing room around the arena.

Final plans for the opening night have practically been completed. With Wedemeyer's full band on duty in the bandstand, and with lights blazing, flags flying and aerial bombs exploding, the start will be made. As a preliminary all the riders will be introduced, one at a time. Each man, after he is introduced, will ride a mile, and though no attempt to set records will be made then, the drivers will get full tilt. The last man introduced will be Atlanta's greatest favorite, "Smiling Harry" Glenn. When the band will hit up "Dixie" and the meet will be on.

At least ten races will be run. There will be three heats at a mile, with a 5-mile final. Then there will be three best at 3 miles and a 5-mile final. After that a match race will be arranged between Harry Glenn and some local rider. And the concluding number will be a consolation, in which most of the riders at the track will take part in a grand better-skelter performance.

The final arrangement of officials has been decided upon, as follows: Noon Hudson, manager of the track and starter; A. H. Cooledge, official E. A. M. referee; Gus Sisson, timer; Gus Castle, head scorer; Erskine Brewster, announcer; A. C. Lamkin, master of the paddock; Dr. Herbert J. Rosenber, track physician.

A hospital tent will be pitched where the Red Cross flag will fly, and where any emergency repairs will be made on any of the riders who mix up in an accident. This will be in charge of Dr. Rosenber. He will have a staff of trained nurses in attendance, and enough hospital equipment to patch up any ordinary breaks or bruises. A stretcher force will be on duty constantly, and if any of the riders are hurt it will be possible to give them practically instantaneous attention.

Final plans have been made for the special newspaper men's meet Tuesday afternoon, beginning at 4 o'clock. The public will be excluded from this performance, which will be for newspaper folks only, and which is designed as a "show me" introduction to the real thing that begins Friday.

BERRY SCHOOL BOY INSTANTLY KILLED BY ELECTRIC WIRE Rome, Ga., June 2.—(Special)—Archie C. Sizemore, aged 10, a Berry school student was instantly killed this afternoon when he tried to throw a live electric wire from a burning 100-foot post. The wire had been blown down during a heavy rain wind and hit a stum and set fire to a fence. Not knowing or thinking of the danger Sizemore, who was with a companion coming from the fields took the live wire in his hand. Sizemore was an orphan and was born in Bainbridge. He has a married sister Mrs. J. E. McMillen of Quitman to whom the body will be carried today by the college chaplain. Services were held at the school to night.

DEMOCRATS OF HOUSE RESTRICT LEGISLATION

Only Tariff and Currency at Extra Session—Georgians Assigned to Committees.

Washington, June 2.—House democrats, in caucus today, restricted the legislative program of the extra session to tariff, currency, emergency appropriations, election cases. Committee assignments, as submitted by Chairman Underwood and his colleagues of the ways and means committee majority, were adopted by the caucus without change.

The program as presented by Representative Underwood was made binding on democratic members of the house standing committees. The resolution by which this was accomplished provided that no standing committee—except the committees on ways and means, appropriations, banking and currency, elections, printing, accounts and rules—shall report bills or resolutions to the house or have them placed on the calendar without permission expressly granted by the democratic caucus.

The caucus chose Representative

Shaefer, of Missouri, for chairman of the new committee on good roads, and named Representative Dickinson, of Missouri, to succeed him as a member of the ways and means committee.

While the committee list was under consideration, Representative Booher, of Missouri, and Tribble, of Georgia, complained that Representatives Maber, of New York, and Hensley, of Missouri, had been "jumped" to make room for Representative Lewis, of Maryland, as chairman of the committee on labor. Mr. Lewis was ranked by the other two members on the committee in the last congress. Representative Tribble said if organized labor was to dictate the selection of a chairman of the house committee on labor he would like to know why bankers should not dictate the chairmanship of the banking and currency committee and so on.

The caucus gave Representative Lloyd, of Missouri, a silver loving cup in appreciation of his services as chairman of the democratic congressional committee. Representative Palmer, presenting the cup, eulogized Mr. Lloyd's management of various campaigns.

The members of the Georgia delegation in the house were assigned to the following committees by the ways and means committee, which assignments will be approved by the democratic caucus this afternoon:

Edwards—Rivers and harbors.
Rodenberry—Public buildings, revision of laws, expenditures states department.
Crisp—Pensions, elections and election president, vice president and representatives in congress.

Unique and Clever Roles in "Importance of Being Earnest"

"The Importance of Being Earnest," which is presented tonight at the Grand by the Atlanta Players' club, is one of the most interesting of all Oscar Wilde's plays, and it has many times been declared the most popular. It is not a problem play. It is a breezy, entertaining comedy, and yet at the same time it is filled with refreshing bits of philosophy. It caricatures in a way the whims and follies of the English upper set. The name, for example, hinges on the too frequent tendency of society girls to fall in love with a man's name rather than with the man. Such interesting bits of humor are displayed in this way throughout the action.

The following description of the characters, as written by one who witnessed the final dress rehearsal and was captivated by the brightness of that will be played before the audience at the Grand tonight:

Case of Characters.
John Worthing—A wealthy English bachelor, who pretends to have a prodigal brother in London named "Ernest," but who goes to the city and assumes the role of "Ernest" himself, winning the love of a beautiful young lady by the fascination of the name—is played by Mr. Marsh Adair.

Honorable Cecily De Vaux.—The young Englishwoman who is fascinated by that name "Ernest"—is the role in which a debut is made with the Players' club by Miss Hildreth Burton Smith.

Algernon Moncrief.—A blasé and cynical young English bachelor—falls in love with a simple, naive girl from the country and proposes to her within fifteen minutes after meeting her. The role is played with splendid character delineation by Mr. Lamar Hill.

Cecily Cardew.—The happy young girl who plays the mischief in the heart of the injured bachelor—seems the most natural little person in the world, as acted on the stage by Mrs. William Owens.

Rev. Canon Chuzzle, D. D.—A typical English clergyman, who don't mind showing a wee bit of sentiment when he's alone with a lady fair—in one of the side-splitting features of the play, as presented by Mr. Hamilton Douglas, Jr.

Lady Bracknell.—Mother of Gwendolyn, whose austere dignity is typical of the English women of the upper class—is played with charming grace by Mrs. John Marshall Slaton.

Miss Prism.—An old maid governess, who likes the Reverend Chuzzle very much indeed—gives an extraordinary opportunity for real character acting by Mrs. Henry Bernard Scott.

Lane and Merriman.—The roles on the two English menservants in the play—are unique to an Atlanta audience, as assumed by R. Frank Taylor and Tom Donaldson.

Society in Evening Costume Will Witness Players' Club

In compliment to the players, a group of Atlanta's most prominent people, and the officers of the Players' club, the audience at the Grand tonight to witness the "Importance of Being Earnest," will wear evening dress, and the scene in the audience will be one brilliant and picturesque.

There will be many box parties; the best seats have been taken, and the warmest interest will greet the popular amateurs when the curtain rises at 8:15 o'clock. The play is one which will especially amuse society, for like all the plays of Wilde, the theme is essentially social; the incidents are those which might occur any day in English homes where world people meet. The problems are sometimes serious, dealt with lightly; or, on the contrary, very light incidents taken seriously by light-headed people.

That very charming and talented woman, Mrs. John Marshall Slaton, the wife of Georgia's governor-elect, will take the leading role. Mrs. Slaton had declined to take part in the play at first on account of her many engagements, but when the lady assigned to the part found she could not participate many days after rehearsal had begun, Mrs. Slaton consented to take the part.

The members of the cast are: Mrs. Scott, Mrs. William Owens, Miss Hildreth Burton-Smith, Mr. Marsh Adair, Mr. Lamar Hill, Mr. Hamilton Douglas, Jr. and Mr. Frank Taylor, who have rehearsed their parts studiously and faithfully, directed by Mrs. Thaddeus Horton, also Mrs. T. B. Felder, the president of the club.

After the performance the members of the cast and many members of the club will have supper at the Piedmont Driving Club.

PUBLIC RECEPTION IS GIVEN TO GOVERNOR AT COMMERCE

Commerce, Ga., June 2.—(Special.)—Governor Joseph M. Brown arrived here Monday afternoon over the Southern and spent the night at the home of Colonel R. L. J. Smith, en route to Carnesville.

The governor, together with a number of ladies and gentlemen, were guests of Colonel and Mrs. Smith at tea at 8:30 o'clock, and from 8 to 11 o'clock an informal reception was given in honor of the governor in the parlors and spacious hall and verandas of the home, scores of ladies and gentlemen called to meet the governor and the occasion was one of unusual interest and pleasure.

This was the first visit of the governor to Commerce. Jackson county has never failed to give the governor a good majority and Commerce has been recognized as one of his strongholds.

He will leave early Tuesday morning for Carnesville, where he will be the guest of his Franklin county friends.

F. A. HOOPER ROBBED OF WATCH AND MONEY

When within half a block of home last night at 11:30 o'clock, F. A. Hooper, of 175 Piedmont avenue, was struck by two bandits and robbed of a gold watch and $3 in money.

Mr. Hooper was walking along seventh street between Piedmont and Courtland, when the attack happened. One man grabbed him by the neck, and the other over the head, while the other cleaned him of his valuables.

Call Officer J. G. Watson immediately to the scene, but no trace of the assailants could be found. Mr. Hooper went to his home, where he was given medical aid.
