

"BLACKGUARD," YELLED SENATOR TO COAL OPERATOR

Martine, of New Jersey, and Quinn Morton Nearly Fight Because of the West Virginia Probe.

INVITED TO TAKE DRINK, MARTINE GREW FURIOUS

Senator Denounced Morton, and They Were Kept Apart by Force—Morton Denies Using Machine Gun.

Charleston, W. Va., June 17.—At a stormy session of the senate mine strike committee at which a near fist fight between Senator Martine, of New Jersey, and Quinn Morton, manager of the Paint Creek Operators' association, was narrowly avoided the coal operators of Paint and Cabin Creeks today presented their side of the controversy.

Mr. Morton was the principal witness for the operators. His discussion of the attack on the strikers' camp at Holly Grove from an armored train, precipitated the clash with Senator Martine at the close of the morning session.

During the clash Senator Martine called Morton a "blackguard." They were prevented from fighting by bystanders.

The afternoon following an earnest conference between Senators Swanson, Kenyon and Martine, Senator Kenyon took charge of the hearing and Senator Martine did not ask a single question, although he had been a persistent examiner during the morning.

All through the morning session feeling ran high, counsel for the operators three times protesting against the methods of examination employed by Senator Martine. The afternoon session went off quietly.

The committee made plans tonight to conclude the examination of witnesses tomorrow afternoon and to start for Washington that evening. Many witnesses will be left to be examined in Washington when hearings are re-opened and the committee may determine to return to Charleston later.

Conditions were quiet among the miners on Paint and Cabin Creeks today, according to the advices from the hills, although officials of the United Mine Workers declared they expected further trouble soon.

Mr. Morton defended the position taken by his employees throughout, declaring they were utterly unable to accede to the terms offered by the miners, although the latter were narrowed down to recognition of the union. He went into details as to the negotiations which preceded the strike in April, 1912.

Mr. Morton and others discussed at length the fight at the miners' camp at Holly Grove on the night of February 7, when witnesses for the miners testified a machine gun raked the town from an armored train. Mr. Morton flatly denied the statement of Lee Calvin, an ex-mine guard, called by the miners, that he had urged that the train be backed up and that the men on board give them another round.

His statement and Calvin's declaration that Morton had remarked, "Didn't we give them hell," after the train passed the town, were the disputed points which Mr. Morton vigorously denied and precipitated the clash between the witness and Senator Martine.

When Chairman Swanson announced the noon adjournment, Mr. Morton remarked, "We'll all go down and take a few drinks and then we'll feel better." Senator Martine boiled over, and Sergeant-at-Arms Higgin, Senators Kenyon and Swanson had difficulty quieting them.

This afternoon K. S. Leitch, engineer, and William Lardy, fireman, of the armored train the night of the Holly Grove fight, both testified that the first shots were fired from the hills, along the tracks, at Holly Grove.

The engineer said he dropped to his knees beside the boiler of his engine and rode there until the firing ceased. He received a flesh wound in the hand from a bullet. When the train reached Muleshoe he said he found on the engine's tender marks of seven bullets and a load of buckshot. All his testimony was corroborated by his fireman, who said he took refuge in the coal on the tender when the bullets began to fly.

Called Senator a Rolly. A controversy between C. C. Watts, of counsel for the operators and Senator Martine also enlivened today's session. Senator Martine was examining Dr. J. W. Ashby, physician for the Cabin Creek Consolidating Coal company as to sanitary conditions in

NOT ONE DOLLAR PAID TO SCHOOLS FOR CURRENT YEAR

Usually From Ten to Fifteen Per Cent of the Fund Has Been Disbursed by This Time.

REVENUE FOR 1912-13 HALF MILLION BEHIND

Hoke Smith's Forecast of a Deficit of $300,000 for This Period Proves to Be Much Too Small.

When the legislature meets next week it will find: First, That its predecessor, the general assembly of 1911-12 passed appropriations nearly $500,000 in excess of the revenues of the state for the two years for which it acted, namely, 1912 and 1913.

Second, That not one dollar will have been paid from the state treasury of the $2,500,000 appropriated to the public schools for the current year.

As was reported in The Constitution it was not until last week that the last payment on the school fund for 1912, amounting to a little over $17,000, was made from the treasury.

The Comptroller's Figures. The figures of Comptroller General William A. Wright speak for themselves. Taking the two years for which provision was supposed to have been made by the last legislature, we find:

The revenue of the state for 1912 from all sources was, in round numbers, $5,610,000; appropriations for the same year amounted to $5,910,000. This would have given an excess of appropriations over revenue of $300,000, on which the treasury would have had to begin the year 1913.

But fortunately for the state, the tax assessments of last year showed an increase over the year preceding of $29,000,000 in round numbers. Figuring with the tax rate of 5 mills and deducting 5 per cent for the cost of collection, we have an increase of revenue coming from this sum of $136,300. Deducting this from the estimated deficit of $300,000 we have a net deficit of $263,700.

No Increase This Year. Now for the current year. It may be stated in the outset that Comptroller General Wright does not anticipate any such increase in tax assessments as was shown last year. Considering that last year was a very bad crop year and that there has been much complaint of financial stringency, the comptroller feels that the state will do well to maintain the figures of last year, which showed taxable values amounting to $842,353,342. This would give an estimated revenue for the year of $5,573,000.

There have already been appropriations for this year by last year's general assembly $5,994,567. The comptroller then, accordingly, estimates the deficit for this year at $231,562. Adding to last year's deficit, we have a deficit for the two years aggregating $495,262.

Schools Suffer Most. It has been chiefly the public schools that have suffered from this widely growing divergence between revenue and appropriations. Up to three or four years ago, it had been customary to disburse 20 to 25 per cent of the school fund before the middle of the year. For several years past, owing to the condition of the treasury, it has had to be paid no more than 10 to 15 per cent of the appropriation by that time.

This is the first year that not a cent could be paid out to schools before the middle of the year. According to a state official who was interviewed on the subject, "Under the terms of the legislature provides a remedy this year or makes a radical cut in appropriations. It will be impossible next year to disburse any of the school fund before about November 1. It will take a question of two or three months before the state will find itself a whole year behind on its payments to the schools.

Of course, everyone in Georgia knows that this condition of affairs is not a new one. The attitude of the general assembly has been called repeatedly to the situation within the last half dozen years by governors of both political factions.

Hoke Smith's Forecast. It is a noteworthy circumstance at this time that Governor Hoke Smith, when he signed the general appropriation bill of 1911, making provision for the two years under review, foretold that it would result in a treasury deficiency of $300,000. In signing the bill, he wrote:

"I have approved the general appropriation bill and the special appropriation bills, although satisfied that entire appropriations made will exceed the total revenue of the state for 1912 and 1913 approximately $300,000, unless the revenues of the state are increased next summer (1912). The state cannot pay any portion of the $100,000 increase to public schools next year. The bill allows the entire sum to go over until 1913. The reduced surplus on hand the first day of January and the revenue for next year will make the postponement of this payment essential. Next year the legislature can either provide for an increase in revenue for 1913, or reduce the appropriations for 1912 and 1913. This is a subject which should be left by me to the legislature at its next session."

Appropriated More. Far from acting on Governor Smith's suggestion and either increasing revenue or decreasing appropriations at its next session, the legislature added in special appropriations in round numbers $160,000 for the year 1912 and $91,000 for 1913. As a result we find that Governor Smith's estimated treasury deficit of the strike zone. Dr. Ashby said that

12-YEAR-OLD GIRL INJURED BY AUTO

Eugenia Green Is Run Down and Painfully Hurt by Car of M. M. Simmons.

Following an automobile accident in which 12-year-old Eugenia Green was run down and painfully injured last night about 8 o'clock at Ponce de Leon avenue and Barnett street, M. M. Simmons, district superintendent of the Southern Bell Telephone company, was required to give bond of $200 at police headquarters for appearance in recorder's court Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Eye-witnesses say the accident was unavoidable.

The girl sustained a broken leg and minor bruises about the body and hands. She was carried first to the home of her mother, Mrs. Lula Bell Green, at 152 Barnett street. Later she was removed to St. Joseph's infirmary.

Eugenia was walking with her companion across Ponce de Leon avenue the way to a neighbor's for a supply of milk. She carried an empty bottle in her hand. As they reached the intersection of Barnett at Ponce de Leon Eugenia started across the street several paces ahead of her companion.

Traveling uptown along Ponce de Leon avenue was the big touring car driven by Mr. Simmons. It was occupied by John L. Brown, of 1010 Peachtree street; R. E. Robinson, of 233 Lee street, and J. H. Browner, of 1010 Peachtree, all four of whom had been to Decatur on a day's fishing outfit. The machine, it is said by eye-witnesses, was not traveling at a rate over 10 or 12 miles an hour.

Directly in path of the car stopped the little girl. Her companion called for her to run ahead and even caught hold of the imperiled girl's arm. Mr. Simmons, seeing the child's danger, swerved his machine dangerously near the curb, but the girl stepped backward. The left hand fender hit her and she was thrown to the street. The bottle which she was carrying crashed into a head lamp, breaking out the glass.

The car was stopped instantly. The child was put on the cushions and rushed to her home. Later a physician carried her in his automobile to St. Joseph's. Mr. Simmons drove to police headquarters, where Night Chief Jett was notified of the accident.

Upon investigating Motorcycle Policeman Wood reported back to headquarters. Mr. Simmons was required to give bond of $200 as a matter of form and a charge of reckless driving of an automobile was docketed against him. The occupants of his car were given subpoenas to appear as witnesses.

"The girl apparently did not realize her danger," Mr. Simmons told a Constitution reporter at headquarters. "She had been asked directly to go and evidently thought the machine would take a course opposite to the one which we traveled."

"I did everything possible to prevent the accident," Mr. Simmons said. "The victim is slightly near-sighted. It is said, and to this fact is attributed her inability to get out of the way of the machine."

Louis Maire to Speak. Louis F. Maire, of Detroit, international president of the automobile, carriage and wagon workers, will reach Atlanta this morning as a guest of the Atlanta socialists for a few days. Mr. Maire will deliver an address to the two movements this evening at the Labor Temple auditorium, 112 Trinity avenue, the subject of his talk being "Independence and Its Application to the Men Who Work."

Lovers of Hoe Cake And of "Pot Licker" To Organize Society

Old Country Society, With Unique Membership Requirements, Will Soon Be Formed in Atlanta.

If in your youth you drank pot-licker and ate asheakes, if you still remember the crooning of your old southern "mammy" as she sang you to sleep years ago on the old plantation, then you are eligible to join the Old Country society, which will be organized next week by C. H. Burge, of Atlanta, to preserve the ante-bellum traditions of Georgia.

There are only two requirements for admission. You must have been reared in the country of the south-land not later than reconstruction days, and you must not be ashamed to admit that you are as old as you really are.

"What we wish to do," said C. H. Burge, the leading spirit of the incipient organization, "is to get together all of those in Atlanta who answer these requirements and from time to time talk over the days that are forever past."

"It is surprising to know how many prosperous men in Atlanta today once had hayseed in their hair. It is such as these that we wish to embrace in this society."

"After we get fully organized we shall write a number of articles dealing with traditions and customs of the old south. We think that such would make most interesting reading."

"Likewise we are going to gather all the old ex-slaves that we can find—and they are mighty few—and hear them tell their tales of marster and missus as they remember them."

Among those who have signified their intention of joining are: H. N. Smith, of South Pryor street; C. J. Burton, 37 Whitehall Terrace; W. J. Moncrief, of the local police force; J. S. Puckett, of College Park, Ga.; Dr. D. M. Hines, of McDaniel street; T. M. Summers, of South Pryor street; W. O. Williams; T. P. Eble, of Hapeville; L. D. Alexander and G. P. Wright, of College Park, and old "Uncle" William Dixon, honorary member, who is an ex-slave.

CRIME INCREASES WITH HOT WEATHER

Nine Homicides, Twenty Hold-Ups and Sixty-Five Burglaries Reported to the Police Since May 1.

Nine homicides, twenty hold-ups and sixty-five burglaries tell the story of Atlanta's police record since May 1. Sweeping over the city, a crime wave is establishing unsavory history for Atlanta. Never before in police annals have conditions been so disorderly during the summer season.

Police officials are unable to account for it. Both Chief Beavers and Detective Chief Lanford told a reporter for The Constitution last night that it was most unusual for crime to be so prevalent during this time of the year.

The detective bureau has been overwhelmed with work. The staff of men is badly overworked, and many of the star men have frequently been forced to labor sixteen and twenty hours daily. Chief Lanford has already applied for more men in order to compete with conditions.

Charges Are Expected. A careful study of the situation has been given by Chief Beavers since his return from Washington. He intimates that changes will be made immediately in the department, and that steps will be taken to throw greater police safeguards over all sections of the city.

Deploping the absence of police substations for which he made recent application before the board of commissioners, the chief declares that such additions to the department would aid wonderfully. Since the recent vice agitation, the plain clothes "vice squad" has been re-established with its original number of men.

The reserve force has been augmented by men detached from the mounted squad, and more men have been sent into the residential sections for night patrol. Eight motorcycles are now in use, while heretofore only four were employed.

Nine homicides have occurred since May 1. Most of these were murders. Two double killings were committed, the last of which, the slaying of Dave Yancey, nearly resulted in a lynching Monday at noon. Yancey's slayer was killed by bullets fired by policemen. He died at Gray hospital.

First Double Killing. The first double slaying was committed on Capitol avenue, on the night of June 15, when Hilley Johnson, a negro youth, stabbed his sweetheart, Mabel Huckleberry, in a fit of jealous passion. Johnson was wounded by the girl, and, in desperation, slashed his own throat as he fell to the sidewalk. Both died instantly.

In consecutive order, the following homicides were committed since May 1: Sam Fambro, a negro, was stabbed to death at 171 Mitchell street on the night of May 1. Roy Brannan, another negro, suspected by the police of having committed the deed, escaped and has not been caught.

John Smith, a negro man, middle-aged, was shot and killed by John H. Allen, another negro, on May 10 in Darktown. Allen was also badly cut by his victim, and is still in a precarious condition. Allen was captured. Andrew Towns, colored, was shot and killed at 172 Gray street on the night

Trail of Sugar "Lobby" Struck by the Probers And Chase Grows Hot

SIX WOMEN SWEAR TO END THEIR LIVES BY HUNGER STRIKE

Most Prominent Militant Suffragettes in England Are Given Long Terms in Prison at Hard Labor.

WE'LL ALL DIE TOGETHER THEY SHOUTED AT JUDGE

In Impassioned Speech Miss Kenney Arraigns Judge as Hounder of Women—Says She Will Die for the Ballot.

London, June 17.—Six of the most prominent leaders of the militant suffragettes organization and one of their male supporters were today found guilty of conspiracy to commit malicious damage to property.

The women, officials of the Women's Social and Political Union, are Miss Harriet Kerr, Miss Agnes Lake, Miss Rachel Barrett, Mrs. Beatrice Saunders, Miss Annie Kenney and Miss Laura Lennox. The man is Edward Y. Clayton, an analytical chemist.

An impassioned speech in defense of the outrages committed by militant suffragettes was delivered in court by Miss Annie Kenney.

Her address served to enliven the proceedings and her concluding words created a great impression. "Wings to Die for the Ballot. 'If I have got to die to get the vote,' she said, 'I will die willingly, whatever the verdict of the jury today.'"

Greater interest was taken in today's proceedings than in any previous stage of the trial. The courtroom was crowded. Women formed the majority of the audience, among them being Mrs. Spencer Churchill, wife of the first lord of the admiralty, and Miss Violet Asquith, daughter of the premier.

Miss Kenney assented that the action of the Ulster unionists and the speech of cabinet ministers, who, she said, had asserted that the unfranchised were justified in rebelling to get their grievances remedied, furnished ample warrant for militancy.

"If further justification were necessary," she said, "the trickery and treachery of cabinet ministers supplied it. The present government has treated the aspirations of the women more abominably than any British government since 1867."

"As for myself, I belong to the working class. I joined the suffrage movement because of the terribly cruel conditions under which women worked in the British Isles."

"I am a Rebel and a rebel I shall remain until women receive the vote. If, like Miss Davidson, it should be my lot to die to suffice my life, then I shall gladly die."

Sentence was passed on the suffragettes as follows: Miss Kenney, 18 months; Mrs. Saunders, 12 months; Miss Kerr, 12 months; Miss Barrett, 9 months; Mrs. Lennox, Miss Lennox, 6 months each; Mr. Clayton, 21 months.

All the prisoners were committed to the third division which entails hard labor.

Each defendant was bound over to keep the peace for a year after the period of imprisonment.

With the exception of Mrs. Saunders, all the women loudly proclaimed their intention of going on a "hunger strike."

The Judge to the Women. Prior to passing sentence the judge said that doubtless the prisoners sincerely believed that by their lawless conduct they were forwarding a good cause.

"If you are not, at the least, you must be alive in a moral governor of the universe. I commend to you the statement of a modern writer—a woman I believe—who characterized the act of treason against the Almighty."

Letters and Telegrams Discovered Showing a Far-reaching Campaign to Create Public Sentiment Against Putting Sugar on Free List.

EFFORTS MADE TO USE PRESS ASSOCIATIONS AND THE NEWSPAPERS

In Some Instances Agents of Beet Sugar Factories Put Their Stories Over, But in Many Cases They Failed.

Proposed to Subsidize One Chicago Paper—Railroads Were Enlisted in Fight.

Washington, June 17.—The trail of the "lobby" the senate has been following more than two weeks led today into the private files of the men in charge of the Washington offices of the United States beet sugar industry, the leading instrument of the campaign against free sugar, and, by originals of letters and telegrams and what purported to be copies of others, developed testimony of what appeared to be an attempt at a far-reaching campaign to create public sentiment against free sugar through the columns of individual newspapers and the facilities of press associations.

Trail Long and Winding. It was a trail so long, so complicated and so winding, that after more than two hours of patient effort, the committee had succeeded in getting into its record only a small part of the mass of correspondence, which senators believed had produced the most sensational evidence yet developed.

By subpoena duces tecum the committee got possession of copies of letters and telegrams of Clarence G. Hamlin, a Colorado Springs, Colo., newspaper owner, and beet sugar man in charge of the Washington office of the American Beet Sugar association, two years ago. The papers included what purported to be carbon copies of letters, unsigned, but furnished as genuine by Harry A. Austin, a clerk in the offices of Truman G. Palmer, representative of the United States beet sugar industry.

The "industry" succeeded the "association" about two years ago, and Palmer succeeded Hamlin in charge. While the committee was after the private papers, Palmer, after conference with Senator Clark of Wyoming, urging him to get a lawyer to represent his interests. The committee had knowledge of that and hurried the letters into the record without regard to sequence. More than seventy had been read when adjournment was taken tonight.

Hamlin Very Active. Those read into the record were directed to managers of beet sugar companies, officers of the American Beet Sugar association, and friends of Hamlin, indicating that Hamlin at the time of their writing was an active figure in a campaign to organize support for the protection of the beet sugar industry and secure publicity against tariff reductions.

Some of the letters, written in large cities, giving names of others, written in Washington, indicated that he was trying to circulate matter in defense of a sugar duty through newspapers, the Associated Press and other channels, to offset what he thought misleading statements.

C. F. von HERRMANN, Section Dir. W. C.

Text indicated that his attempts at publicity had not always been as successful as he had hoped. Other letters referred to a plan launched by Hamilton to have the large beet sugar companies take over $35,000 in bonds of Chicago Inter Ocean.

None of the letters disclosed that the railroads had been interested or that the great news agencies had been extensively used or that the InterOcean bonds had been bought.

Letters introduced did show that the sugar men had been dissatisfied with their efforts to get interviews carried by the Associated Press.

With the resignation of George L. Bass of Charlotte, N. C., for eight years superintendent of the dining car service of the Southern railway a general shake-up in the dining car service of the road is expected according to a persistent report in railroad circles in Atlanta yesterday.

The appointment of the permanent head of the dining car department is creating considerable speculation. It is rumored that this berth will go to E. H. Rosecrans of Atlanta, agent of the Atlanta district of the dining car service.

Another rumor to the effect that Mr. Bass is considering a position with the Atlantic Coast line to take charge of a dining car service for that road has behind it the further report that the Pullman company which has heretofore furnished the dining car service for the Coast line will give up this service and the road will establish a service of its own.

Owing to the fact that practically all local Southern officials were in Washington Tuesday attending a dinner in President Finley confirmation or denial of these reports could not be had.

The Southern railway board of directors meets today in New York.

HAM LEWIS SPEAKS AT GEORGIA TODAY

Senator From Illinois Will Deliver Baccalaureate Address--Atlantans Prominent in Exercises on Tuesday.

Athens, Ga., June 17.—(Special.)—Wednesday will be commencement day at the university of Georgia—the final day of the occasion of this year's concluding exercises. The baccalaureate address will be delivered by Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, whip of the United States senate on the democratic side. Last night he was entertained at a party at the home of Judge Hamilton McWorter. The senator's speeches and the announcement of the long list of prizes and honors will conclude the exercises Wednesday.

Clark Howell, Jr., Wisn. Atlanta was prominent on the program in the university chapel today. Colonel Cam Dorsey delivered the sophomore cup this afternoon and also the other prizes usually awarded on alumni day. At the conclusion of the junior orations the medal was awarded to Ira Funkenstein, of Athens, Clark Howell, Jr., of Atlanta, was the winner of the sophomore cup and T. N. Hendricks, of Nashville, and G. H. Donaldson of Statesboro, were close seconds.

In the freshman debate the Democrats won the medals. H. G. Wiley, of Eastanollee; R. W. Wesley, of Edison, and W. H. Sorrells, of Athens, were the sophomore debaters. Phi Kappa who took medals were H. West, Athens; J. E. Hardin, of Gainesville, and Louis Pinkussohn, of Atlanta.

Mr. Dorsey's address, while brief, was a delightful effort and fit the occasion well. This afternoon the trustees of the university suspended the rules and authorized the conferring of the degree of LL.D. upon Peter W. Meldrum, of Savannah.

Tonight the banquet in celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the graduation of the class of 1888 was enjoyed with a dozen members of that class and all the members of the faculty of that year present. Neal Broyles, Arthur Heyman and O. S. Davis were here from Atlanta.

The trustees of the University of Georgia Tuesday morning held only a short session, giving way to the alumni society's annual session and then to the annual oration before the alumni and the following luncheon, but the short session was productive of interesting and important results.

A bureau of publicity and the alumni bureau a combined function, was authorized by the trustees to keep record of and keep in touch with all the former students of the institution and to inform them of the work the college is doing, enlisting their co-operation. The new department will begin work the first of July and will be furnished an office, a man to handle the work and a stenographer.

By action of the board this morning the degree of doctor of laws will be conferred tomorrow morning upon Prof. Stanislas Moritz, dean of the law school of the university. The degree of doctor of divinity will be conferred upon the Rev. W. N. Alsworth, of Macon. The degree of literary doctor will be conferred upon Prof. S. S. Wallace, of the Georgia School of Technology at Atlanta.

No action was taken on the establishment of a school of journalism, and it is probable that no action will be taken this session on this matter. The final session of the trustees will be a brief sitting Wednesday morning before the graduation exercises.

Routine Business. Judge Adams, reporting for the laws and discipline committee, recommended the retention of an adjunct professor of physics and the extra professorship can be financed the board will adopt the report.

Dr. R. G. Wilson was advanced from adjunct professor to associate professor of pharmacy.

Professor W. C. Payne, of the history department and Professor S. M. Sawyer of the English department, were granted leave of absence for the year 1913-14; Dr. T. J. Woffler, dean of the school of education, was granted leave of absence for the next year, 1914-15.

The use of the alumni hall—the new building which contains the gymnasium and is also the Y. M. C. A. hall of the university—for the dances of the seasons was denied.

The recommendation that the annual sophomore declamation contest be discontinued was disapproved.

If it is possible to finance it the board will furnish an assistant professor in the law school.

President J. J. Connor, of the board of trustees of the State College of Agriculture, read his report, showing great work accomplished in the year and indicating the pressing needs of that college.

The matter of opening the Common woods, property of the university, to the public of Athens as a park, was opposed by the state college of agriculture and the board declined to go against their wishes.

The committee on the location of the site of the proposed new law building reported in favor of the corner lot, Broad and Lumpkin streets.

To Cut House Membership. Washington, June 17.—Representative Campbell, of Kansas, introduced today a bill to reduce the number of members of the house after March 3, 1917, to 233 in place of the present membership of 435.

When Governor of Georgia Has to Play Second Fiddle To High Sheriff of Clarke

Athens, Ga., June 17.—(Special.)—The governor of Georgia is a pretty high official. As Georgia is the greatest state in the American Union, he outranks all other governors. He is the chief mogul when it comes to approving legislative bills, drawing warrants on the treasury, issuing pardons, making appointments and other important actions. In fact, it would be a hard task to set out to find a more important or a more distinguished official.

But there is one day in each year when the governor of Georgia has to take a back seat, when he has to play second fiddle to a subordinate official on a most important and most impressive occasion, and this has been the case for more than one hundred years and will be the case when all who are now living have adopted the great majority and long after their bodies have blended with the dust of their native hills.

The official who annually shoves the governor of Georgia out of the limelight is the high sheriff of Clarke county. As said before, it has been doing that stunt for more than a century. Governor Brown is not the only governor who has played second fiddle to the high sheriff of Clarke. Governor Hoke Smith once did the same thing, and Governors Terrell, Candler, Atkinson, Northern, Gordon, McPherson, Stephens, Colquitt and scores of others back of them did the same thing.

Leads Collegiate Procession. It all comes about through an old English custom, under which the high sheriff was wont to head the collegiate procession on the day of graduation. And this old custom has been observed by the University of Georgia since its first graduation exercises more than one hundred years ago. As the University of Georgia is the oldest of all the state universities in the United States, it is readily seen that this custom is hoary with age.

On each commencement day the procession is formed beneath the classic shades of the old campus, and it is always an impressive scene. At the head stands the high sheriff, in all his glory, his red sash draped in his imposing figure and his shining sword drawn as an emblem of supreme authority. Behind him stand the governor of Georgia and the president of the board of trustees, and then comes the president of the university, followed by the members of the faculty and the members of the graduating classes. The movement of this procession to the chapel always presents the most impressive scene of commencement. On the chapel stage the high sheriff is accorded the seat of honor in front and remains there throughout the exercises. There is in this custom the homage paid to the law of the land, the lesson given to the young men who are being ushered into the great world of business activity, that above all their civic duties is that of one-obedience to and respect for law.

The majority of the alumni now living recall only two faces in this connection—the face of John W. Wier, for a quarter of a century sheriff of Clarke county, and that of Walter E. Jackson, the present sheriff, although the alumni will recall Sheriff Browning and his predecessors.

A Picturesque Figure. Sheriff Wier was a typical sheriff in appearance. His frame was sufficient to impress the lesson of the law's majesty. He stood six feet three inches and weighed three hundred and fifty pounds. At the head of the annual commencement procession he was always a most striking figure, and every year of his incumbency, says one, witnessed him at his post-duty.

The one year that he missed was marked by a most amusing incident, an occurrence that will never be forgotten.

The procession was forming and the hour had arrived for it to move forward to the chapel. The trustees suddenly became aware of the fact that Sheriff Wier had not put in his appearance. There was at once a display of uneasiness on the part of the members of the board, who were not hating themselves to the point of giving up this time-honored custom.

A message came from Sheriff Wier that he had been taken suddenly ill and that he could not possibly be present. Then there was consternation. Some wished to go as without a sheriff, but others insisted on a substitute.

Judge Howell Cobb, a member of the board of trustees and also judge of the city court of Athens, was among those who insisted on having a substitute. He solved the problem at once.

Bailiff Played Part. Calling a young man to his side, he said: "Go out in town, find Abe Gibson, my court bailiff, tell him to borrow a sash and sword and report to me at once."

The message was delivered to Bailiff Gibson, who at once refused to obey. "Look here," said the bailiff, "I'm not fixed up to be made a fool of. I'm not fixed up for this kind of acting. I can't get a sash or sword, either. You can tell Judge Cobb I'm not coming."

And in truth Bailiff Gibson was not fixed up for the occasion. He had just returned through the country from Danielville, some sixteen miles distant, and his clothes were soiled and his shoes were so dusty. He had traveled with as few and as light garments as possible and they were not very presentable at the end of the journey. He was wearing a yellow seersucker coat; drawn up in the back, his red shirt had a half inch deep in red dust; his shirt showed the signs of profuse perspiration; he hadn't had time to put on a clean collar; his shoes were dust-covered and a stubby growth of beard covered his travel-stained face. No wonder he flatly refused the order of Judge Cobb to report immediately.

"If Judge Cobb will give me a half hour, I'll come, but not before," was his ultimatum.

But the ultimatum didn't go with Judge Cobb. The judge stopped the sheriff's horse, called the unwilling bailiff and brought him over on the campus. The air resounded with protestations, but they were of no avail. The procession had to move right then and it couldn't start without a sheriff.

A sash and sword was borrowed from Colonel Snelling, and Bailiff Gibson was soon in line shape. Resigned to his fate, he took his position at the head of the procession and marched to the chapel. No soldier ever stormed a battery of guns with more bravery than was shown by Abe Gibson, as he stepped on to the chapel stage in full view of the culture and refinement of Georgia's classic city. It was a pretty severe punishment thus inflicted by a tender-hearted man as Judge Cobb was but the unbroken custom had to be upheld and Abe Gibson was the only man available to do the upholding. Abe was full of wrath for the time being, but he soon got over that feeling and joined with his friends heartily in the jokes that were cracked at his expense. As soon as he got a chance, Abe slipped off the stage, hid the sash and sword in a ventilation hole, back of the chapel building, and went off down town to attend to business.

Sheriff Walter E. Jackson, who will head the procession Wednesday morning, on the occasion of the closing exercises of the one hundred and thirtieth session of the University of Georgia, is one of the most popular sheriffs in Georgia, a man of splendid appearance, great bravery and high efficiency.

FOR GOOD OF SOUTH BIG COMPANY WORKS

W. H. Manss Arrives in Atlanta to Hold Conference With Georgians.

W. H. Manss, vice president and general manager of the Southern Settlement and Development company, with offices in Baltimore, arrived in Atlanta yesterday for the purpose of holding conferences here with prominent Georgians in regard to this important movement.

The object of this organization is to work in every possible way for the good of Dixie. Sixteen southern states are to be included in its membership, and it is planned to equally divide the benefits to be derived from co-operation.

Mr. Manss is just back from Florida, where he raised $40,000 for use in this work. In Atlanta he intends to hold conference with Robert Maddox and other prominent citizens to see just what interest Georgia will take in this undertaking.

The company plans to exploit the south over the entire country, to increase its production, to attract here the proper class of immigrants, and to open Gulf and Atlantic ports. An especial effort will be made to bring about rotation of crops, the erection of packing houses to care for southern cattle, and the raising of all the various crops that are needed in this section of the country.

The organization of the company will extend even to the counties of the sixteen states. Each state will have a finance committee, and a state chamber of commerce, which will have one representative from each county. Then there will be a central body, representing all the sixteen states. Arrangements will also be made for the employment of experts, who will have the supervision of the entire work in hand.

MACON'S PEANUT STRIKE OFF; EVERYBODY HAPPY

Chief Rescinds Order Against the Venders When Gooberless Bridges Smith Starts Howl.

Macon, Ga., June 17.—(Special.)—A dozen or more peanut venders in Macon are happy again. Chief Chapman has lifted his order regarding them to keep on the move, and today they were each on their usual corners dishing out the goobers to whoever wanted them.

When the chief gave his order for the police to keep the peanut venders on the move just like other peddlers the entire kit and caboodle of them went on strike and for three or four days Macon was peanutless.

There is one city official who eats two bags of peanuts every day, one bag before dinner and another after supper. He is City Clerk Bridges Smith, and having been mayor for a couple of terms, with prospects of another at an early date, when he makes a bowl some one is sure to sit up and take notice. Consequently, when he was unable to get his daily bags of peanuts the howl was forthcoming, and it wasn't long until the peanut venders were told they might resume their operations again without interference from the police.

The man had been arrested in response to a telegram from the prosecuting attorney at Muskogee, who alleged that he was wanted in that city charged with the embezzlement of $1,000.

BISHOP HOSS OBJECTS TO CARNEGIE MILLION

Southern Methodist Bishops to Consider Gift to Vanderbilt University.

Nashville, Tenn., June 17.—Bishop E. E. Hoss, of the Southern Methodist church, is here today, coming to attend a meeting of the College of Bishops to be held Friday and taking action on the protest of four members of the board of trust of Vanderbilt university over the acceptance of the million dollar gift of Andrew Carnegie to the medical department. Bishop Hoss was a prominent figure on the church side in the controversy between the College of Bishops and the university board of trust over the control of Vanderbilt. It is understood the protest was over the provision of the donation for a separate governing board for the department.

At this afternoon's meeting of the Vanderbilt university board of trust the full membership of the governing board of the medical department provided for in Andrew Carnegie's gift of a million dollars to the department was announced as follows:

To serve till 1921, Dr. J. H. Kirkland, Nashville, chairman; Whiteford R. Cole, Nashville; Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, New York, president of the Carnegie foundation.

To serve till 1919, Dr. Edwin O. Jordan, professor of bacteriology, University of Chicago medical department.

To serve till 1917, Dr. William H. Howell, dean of the medical department, Johns Hopkins University; Joseph E. Washington, Westington, Tenn.; John W. Thomas, Nashville, president of Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway.

Bradford Knapp, in charge of the government's farm demonstration, was elected a member of the board of trust, vice G. W. Martin, deceased.

TWO NEW WITNESSES SOUGHT BY OFFICERS

Former Girl Employee and a Mechanic May Testify Against Frank.

Two new witnesses may be used by the state in the prosecution of Leo Frank when his trial is held on June 20. Chief Lanford is investigating the reported statement of a young girl living near Roswell and of a mechanic who resides near East Point.

The former, a lass of 17, is said to have been employed in the pencil factory two years ago. For the past year or more she has been living with her parents at their home just outside Roswell. The nature of the statements she is alleged to have made is being kept secret by the detectives.

It is hinted, however, that in case she is placed on the stand, her testimony will deal with the character of the superintendent.

The testimony of the East Point mechanic is said to relate to the girl's story as to how she was taken to the prosecution, his testimony will be for the purpose of corroborating that of the girl.

The departure of Attorney Frank A. Hooper, who has been associated with the solicitor General Dorsey in the prosecution of the Phagan case, adds interest to the mystery. Mr. Hooper, it is said at his home, has gone to Indianapolis. His family declare his trip has no connection whatever with the Phagan case.

Solicitor Dorsey announced before leaving that he was going to Atlantic City to spend several days' vacation. He said that he would have nothing to do with the Phagan case while away. He left at 2:45 Saturday afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. Dorsey.

Much speculation has also been created by a trip on which Colonel T. E. Felder embarked Sunday afternoon, less than twenty-four hours after the solicitor's departure. Mr. Felder says he goes to Cincinnati on business entirely foreign with the Phagan investigation or the dictograph charges.

Such a change would marvelously improve the efficiency with which this government is served.

IN "CIVILIZED" AMERICA. It is time for concern over criminal conditions when a judge whose court deals exclusively with criminality sounds warning.

Judge Broyles also furnished an explanation for these wide and dramatic contrasts by showing that whereas in Great Britain and Canada 80 per cent of the murderers are convicted in the United States only 20 per cent are convicted.

In England the law shears straight throughout to a swift just and accurate conclusion in America it must combat endless technicalities and precedents that have little value save their age.

When legislatures and congress are called upon to revise our criminal procedure so as to strike out cumbering technicalities and precedent when judges and executives steel themselves against hysterical petitions for clemency.

South's Political Shackles Should Be Stricken, Declares Eugene Black

Athens, Ga. June 17—(Special)—Eugene R. Black, of Atlanta, addressing the Alumni Society of the University of Georgia here today made a powerful plea that the south disregard the shackles, prejudices and superstitions of a dead era and enter into its full national inheritance.

Negro Question Demagogic. If the economic and industrial problems of the south are her own problems and have been and will be solved in her own way and if this Rangoon like demagogic negro question is no longer an unsolvable problem but is a problem that the white man of the south has and can solve then there is no longer any reason why the new south simulating the old south should not take again her place in the nation as an integral part of the nation.

South Must Assert Itself. I am not appealing to the south to leave the democratic party. For what the democratic party has done for the south I honor it.

"FATHER OF OUR NAVY," JONES OR BARRY?

There has been an unusual amount of discussion of recent years as to which of America's famous naval heroes, John Paul Jones or John Barry is entitled to the term 'Father of the American Navy.'

Commodore Barry it is said was the first captain appointed and placed in command of the first war vessel to fight under the Continental flag.

Barry was in London when hostilities in this country were begun in September 1775 he hastily returned to Philadelphia, arriving home on October 13 the very day congress resolved to fit out two armed cruisers.

MAYOR IN CLASH WITH ALDERMAN

Woodward Declares False Alderman Nutting's Intimation He Favored Georgia Railway and Power Co.

A clash between Mayor James G. Woodward and Alderman James R. Nutting of the sixth ward was narrowly averted when they faced each other in the committee room adjoining the executive offices in city hall, yesterday afternoon.

Mayor Woodward was evidently still smarting under the attack made on his conduct in the $375,000 crematory deal, by Alderman Nutting while the June sheet was before council for consideration Monday afternoon. Alderman Nutting without mentioning any names intimated that the Georgia Railway and Power company influenced the mayor to oppose the electric generating feature in the contract.

When the mayor emerged from his office shortly before 4 o'clock Alderman Nutting was in the committee room with Councilman Albert Thomson, W. G. Humphreys, chairman of the Finance committee, Alderman I. N. Raggsdale and several others. Mayor Woodward walked over to Alderman Nutting and glared at him several minutes and those standing near at hand understood the mayor to ask:

"I would like to know from whom you got your information that the Georgia Railway and Power company had anything to do with my opposition to the electric plant in the crematory?" Alderman Nutting glared at the mayor in apparent surprise. His first reply was not audible. He repeated that he got his information from two or three persons.

In tones that could be heard outside the corridor Mayor Woodward declared that the statements were untrue and that those who are responsible for them know that they are untrue. I opposed the electric plant in connection with the crematory because I don't believe that it is possible to generate electricity at a cost as low as a fuel, he continued. I have made that statement before and I'll make it again. And I want to say that I brand any such statements now or hereafter as being untrue.

Mayor Woodward shook his finger vigorously in the alderman's face. He reiterated his remarks with such force and emphasis as to alarm those seated about the table. Alderman Nutting did not respond and the incident was ended.

Alderman Nutting would not comment on his own clash with the mayor. Mayor Woodward however, bitterly denounced Alderman Nutting's speech attacking his policy. He declared that the charges were false and vicious and that the authors knew it.

It was reported by the Georgia Railway and Power company that Mayor Woodward declared that it doesn't seem logical that I would go to any length to help the corporation. On the other hand Alderman Nutting knows that it is not possible to generate electricity at a cost as low as a fuel, he continued. I have made that statement before and I'll make it again. And I want to say that I brand any such statements now or hereafter as being untrue.

I am willing to put the whole business up to a public trial.

ness up to President Wright. I am sure he will not deny that what I say is true.

ELLIS BILL FAVORED BY ECLECTIC DOCTORS

Measure Will Give State Health Board More Power in Dealing With Contagious Diseases.

The Georgia Eclectic Medical association went on record yesterday as favoring the passage of a bill to be introduced at the coming session of the legislature by Colonel C. S. Ellis, the measure which if passed will give the state board of health more power in handling contagious diseases and will tend to improve sanitation in the rural districts.

The last session of the two-day meeting was held Tuesday morning in the Aragon hotel. About three hundred physicians were present and a very enthusiastic meeting was held. A paper was read by Dr. John Powell of Atlanta on "Care of the Eyes of Infants" which was followed by a paper by Dr. William B. Best of Indianapolis, Ind. on Medical Legislation. Dr. Best commended Georgia for many of its present laws and urged the passage of the Ellis bill which will come up in the legislature.

The following officers were elected to serve during the coming year: Dr. John Wells of Griffin, Ga., president; Dr. Dan H. Griffin of Atlanta, first vice president; Dr. John White of Atlanta, second vice president; Dr. G. W. Patterson of Atlanta, secretary; Dr. C. M. Adams of Atlanta, treasurer.

INEBRIATE ASYLUM FAVORED BY DOCTORS

The proposition of Representative D. C. Hargett of Barrow to establish a state asylum for inebriates is meeting with much serious support from the medical profession. In favor of such an institution Dr. Willis B. Parks, a well known local physician, said yesterday:

More than ever sobriety is coming to be regarded by medical authorities as a matter of fact. In fact it is a matter of history that habitual drunkards are now regarded as a disease even by the general public. Everyone knows how in the dark ages of ignorance and superstition the insane were brutally outraged and mistreated. Our present method of dealing with inebriates by sending them out of town on the changing will, I am sure in time will be regarded as a barbarous and unscientific as was our former method of dealing with lunatics.

I am delighted to see that a member of the legislature has the courage and the brains to propose a sane and humane method of handling and curing in cases where cures are possible. Unfortunately victims of this terrible disease are miserably ignorant. It should be taken in mind that Pickett undoubtedly has a right to be heard in this matter. I should be glad to see the unanimous report of both houses.

GOVERNMENT PROBING ASSAULT UPON VARE

George M. Sutton, chief postoffice inspector for the Atlanta division yesterday detailed the details of his investigation into the assault upon the property of W. S. Ware railway mail carrier on the Atlanta Chattanooga line on the Southern railway Tuesday night in Atlanta street. As he was walking to the postoffice to surrender six registered letters the inspectors are out to the chief inspector that so far they had found no clues to the robbery. It was reported that the hospital surgeon, Dr. J. J. Griffin, said he had not seen any of the assailants but that they were in the hospital yesterday morning and later submitted a report of the assault to the chief inspector's office.

Tots and Judges Join in Marbles

When 2,000 Gather at S. S. Picnic

Two Atlanta Sunday schools—the First Christian and the Second Baptist—joined their ranks at Grant park Tuesday afternoon in one of the most unique and successful picnics ever held in Georgia.

Fully 2,000 people gathered at the park all afternoon they scattered over the green campus in rest and recreation. A baseball game between two picked nines from the young men's classes was the main event of the afternoon. The First Christian winning 9 to 7. Other games and races of various kinds occupied the afternoon. And as a fitting climax to the day the big picnic dinner brought the entire varied throng together in the pavilion at sunset.

Probably the most interesting feature of the picnic was the way in which the old as well as the young entered into the spirit and enthusiasm of the occasion.

ATLANTA LIQUOR ACT NOT CONSTITUTIONAL

Supreme Court Holds Railroads Cannot Give Out Information About Shipments.

Denying the validity of Atlanta's ordinance which requires all railroads and express companies to furnish the police department with information regarding liquor shipments, the Georgia supreme court yesterday unanimously held that such a law was in conflict with the interstate commerce act which makes it unlawful for the agent of common carrier to knowingly disclose the contents of any shipment.

Heralded as a decisive victory by the beer men and railroad men who opposed the city ordinance known as the McClelland ordinance at the time of its enactment the verdict strikes a telling blow at the police department in that it denies them the right to information regarding the location of blind tigers which under the McClelland act they were authorized to obtain from the carrier.

Though the Atlanta ordinance was declared void insofar as interstate shipments are concerned it is still enforceable where shipments are from any point within the state to any Georgia destination.

The supreme court decision came in the test case against O. M. Pzall, an official of the Central of Georgia who refused to supply Detective T. D. Shaw, of the Atlanta police department with information to which the police were entitled under the McClelland ordinance. The supreme court pointed out the conflict between Atlanta's ordinance and the interstate commerce act and in the opinion written by Chief Justice Fish this point was emphasized by the court holding that the W. B. act has no effect in certain cases.

Another case affecting wholesale liquor dealers which was decided by the supreme court on Monday grew out of the arrest of J. H. Morgan of Brunswick a dealer in several brands of beer brewed in neighboring states. He was arrested for violation of the tax law because he refused to pay a $1,000 annual tax for each kind of beer he carried in stock and the supreme court passed favorably upon his appeal after the lower courts had decided against him holding that a wrong interpretation of the act of the general assembly was responsible for his arrest. It was held that the act properly construed levied a business tax of $1,000 a year upon a particular place of business which did not imply the right to tax every kind of beer brewed in that place of business.

MANY ATLANTA BOYS WILL GO TO CULVER

Fine Summer—Will Be Enjoyed at Summer Naval Academy This Year.

By Robert Foreman, Jr. A large number of Atlanta boys will spend a pleasant and profitable summer at Culver Summer Naval Academy this year. Atlanta will send more representatives this summer than have been to the academy in preceding years, and nearly all the men who were at Culver last year will return. The boys will leave Atlanta on June 30, and are contemplating a fine time on their trip up.

The following fourteen will go: Roff Sims Jr., R. S. Fleet, Eugene Black, Jr., Orme Campbell Jr., Lowry Nicholson, William Kiser, Jr., William Ellis Jr., H. Sommerstedt, Wilmer Moore, Jr., Arnold Broyles, Jr., Robert Foreman, Jr., Goodwin Elkin, Frank Owens, Jr., Howell Cobb, Roff Sims, Reginald Fleet, William Kiser and Eugene Black have been at Culver before. The majority of the boys will go into the naval department. William Ellis Jr., winning a scholarship worth $150 as a musician, will be a prominent member of the band. Wilmer Moore, Jr. will enter the cavalry and Lowry Nicholson will go into the Woodcraft department. Charles Conroy, of Savannah, will join the Atlanta party, and several other boys from different parts of Georgia will attend the academy.

Atlanta boys have shown good records in studies and athletics at Culver. Last year R. S. Fleet and Roff Sims, both from Atlanta, won tennis championships and received rackets, while Eugene Black received a loving cup for winning the junior tennis singles. Henry W. Brown, who has been at Culver for several years, captured one of the places as runner up in the senior doubles. R. S. Fleet and William Kiser did good signaling work, and all of these boys received Tuxis emblems given by the Culver authorities for all-round improvement during the whole summer course. To get this emblem one has to improve decidedly in studies, athletics and aquatic sports.

While the purpose of the Culver Summer Naval Academy is mainly to develop a boy physically, the school also offers good courses for those who wish to study. Lessons are given from 8 to 12 in the morning, also instructions in boxing, fencing, etc. The rest of the day is devoted to other athletics, drills and aquatic sports. Dances are given weekly, and altogether the boys have a great deal of pleasure with just enough work to keep from getting rusty mentally during the summer.

FOOD PEDDLERS EXEMPT FROM THE VENDING TAX

The vending tax law of Georgia received a severe jolt from the state supreme court on Monday in a decision on two Atlanta cases which held that the law did not include peddlers of food products. The two cases were brought by H. Butler and E. M. Latham, two Atlanta vendors who represented the payment of a $50 tax before they could peddle their fruits, eggs and butter.

Justice Lumpkin and Hill dissented from the decision which given the vendor of food stuffs the right to peddle without paying a tax to the state. They held that hucksters had always been considered peddlers and no doctrine of construction which might classify a news boy as a peddler and omit a huckster could meet their approval. Since the tax law sets forth such articles as soap and jewelry the majority of the court invoking the doctrine of construction held that only similar articles were meant.

Four Bankruptcy Petitions.

Four voluntary petitions in bankruptcy were filed yesterday in United States district court with Fred Beers, deputy clerk. S. Saul, of Atlanta, a clerk presents a schedule showing liabilities of $35,725.29, with assets of $50. William I. Bragg Jr., of Atlanta, gives his liabilities at $17,522 without assets. J. H. Dudley, of Atlanta, a switchman, declares obligations of $239 with $1,500 of assets, insurance policies figuring Edward W. White, a printer giving Atlanta as his home says he owes $264.26 and that he has assets valued at $100.

Dunaway Visits Brother.

W. H. Dunaway, an Atlanta boy, one of the youngest traveling men coming out of Baltimore into the south, is in the city for a few days visiting his brother, W. H. Dunaway, at his home on Lake avenue, in the eastern part of the city. W. H. Dunaway has been on the road long enough to make for himself an excellent reputation as a salesman. So successful has he been that he makes his stop-overs only in the larger cities from Richmond to New Orleans and on to El Paso.

Tired Eyes

Did you ever take off a tight hat, ill-fitting pair of shoes and slip your feet into a pair of cool, soft slippers? If you have, you know the meaning of genuine relief and solid comfort. That is exactly what a properly fitted pair of glasses will do for weak, tired, wornout eyes. Modern business conditions necessitate long hours of close eye-straining work, and it is not surprising that your eyes give out easily, ache, pain, burn and finally break down. Glasses are the remedy, and the only remedy, unless, of course, you stop using your eyes altogether. Glasses, properly fitted, will strengthen and preserve your eyes and enable you to do your work easily and with comfort. We are equipped to make a thorough and modern examination and will fit the correct lenses in an up-to-date frame or eyeglass mounting, at a very moderate figure. Come in and talk to us about your eyes. If you don't need glasses, after we have made a careful examination, we may be able to give you some good pointers on how to take care of your eyes.

GOVERNOR TO ATTEND W. & A. ROAD MEETING

Prominent Men, Who Are Interested in the Big Problem, Will Be Present.

All sides of the Western and Atlantic problem will be presented at the meeting called by the Atlanta chamber of commerce to be held at 8 o'clock Thursday evening. Governor Tom M. Brown has consented to take part in the discussion. Public business permitting and there are few men in Georgia more familiar with the property than he. Likewise a student of the Western and Atlantic but holding somewhat different views regarding the former. Representative Hooper, Alexander of DeKalb will be heard from while the other speakers will be W. A. Wimble, James R. Gray of the Journal and Chairman C. M. Chandler of the state railroad commission.

Wider working hard to win legislature. With all the new county propositions that are being pushed here incident to the opening of the legislature next week including Warren Hardeman Chandler Barrow and others it is an interesting time for the people of the legislature who has so far come to Atlanta to look over the field in advance has expressed an opinion unfavorable to the establishment of Barrow county.

Winder has representatives here on the field to look out for every opportunity that offers itself. Every time a number comes in they go to work to find out just how he stands as to Winder's new county proposal. They are not interested in anything else and up to date it is interesting to know they haven't found a single new ally but who has professed friendship for the new county. It is hoped that of course there are many members in fact the majority of them who have not been here yet but considered solely on a percentage basis it looks as if the new county would depend upon their unfortunate location and her many difficulties resultant thereon are going to bring substantial recognition when the legislature meets.

WARREN CLEMENTS GETS ANOTHER LIFE CHANCE

Warren Clements convicted of murder by the supreme court of Lowndes county was given a fighting chance for freedom when the state supreme court reversed the lower court because the trial judge failed to explain the law in volunary manslaughter in his charge to the jury.

The testimony of D. H. Harrell, a witness for the state was the chief contributing cause which led to the reversal of the lower court. Mr. Harrell testified that he with several other men was driving in the automobile of D. J. Griffin. Some of the crowd had been drinking and all were in good spirits. After a jolly ride the party abandoned the car temporarily and as they got out around a corner a pistol. Neither Griffin nor Harrell is expected to be angry with Griffin accused Clements of shooting to destroy the car.

At this point Harrell turned his eyes in another direction and no heart Clements had any intention to get into the automobile. As he looked around he saw both men had drawn their pistols. The supreme court held that in view of this testimony the omission by the trial judge to explain the law on the issue of volunary manslaughter necessitated another trial.

MARK JOHNSTON SAYS ALLEN WILL WIN OUT

Mark Johnston, the well known insurance man is ardently backing Judge John T. Allen for the presidency of the state senate. He has recently returned from a trip over the state and he does not see where Randolph Anderson has even a "peep in so far as the office is concerned."

I have canvassed the situation thoroughly he said and Judge Allen will have a good chance of getting it. If a dozen more and he will be the next president of the senate without fail.

GUARANTEE TRUST CASE TO BE DECIDED TODAY

A decision in the receivership suit filed against the Guarantee Trust and Banking company now on trial before Judge John T. Pendleton in superior court is expected today with the conclusion of argument by Attorney Albert Howell representing certain of the petitioning stock and bondholders. The case has been in court for over a month, and the officials of the company have fought each point. Receivers John Pendleton ordered a two weeks delay while an auditor went through the company's books to secure data in regard to a transaction whereby stock of a former concern was transferred to the company's books, and it is believed that the lengthy case will be decided today.

A clash between Mayor James G. Woodward and Alderman James R. Nutting of the sixth ward was narrowly averted when they faced each other in the committee room adjoining the executive offices in city hall, yesterday afternoon.

Mayor Woodward was evidently still smarting under the attack made on his conduct in the $375,000 crematory deal, by Alderman Nutting while the June sheet was before council for consideration Monday afternoon. Alderman Nutting without mentioning any names intimated that the Georgia Railway and Power company influenced the mayor to oppose the electric generating feature in the contract.

When the mayor emerged from his office shortly before 4 o'clock Alderman Nutting was in the committee room with Councilman Albert Thomson, W. G. Humphreys, chairman of the Finance committee, Alderman I. N. Raggsdale and several others. Mayor Woodward walked over to Alderman Nutting and glared at him several minutes and those standing near at hand understood the mayor to ask:

"I would like to know from whom you got your information that the Georgia Railway and Power company had anything to do with my opposition to the electric plant in the crematory?" Alderman Nutting glared at the mayor in apparent surprise. His first reply was not audible. He repeated that he got his information from two or three persons.

In tones that could be heard outside the corridor Mayor Woodward declared that the statements were untrue and that those who are responsible for them know that they are untrue. I opposed the electric plant in connection with the crematory because I don't believe that it is possible to generate electricity at a cost as low as a fuel, he continued. I have made that statement before and I'll make it again. And I want to say that I brand any such statements now or hereafter as being untrue.

Mayor Woodward shook his finger vigorously in the alderman's face. He reiterated his remarks with such force and emphasis as to alarm those seated about the table. Alderman Nutting did not respond and the incident was ended.

Alderman Nutting would not comment on his own clash with the mayor. Mayor Woodward however, bitterly denounced Alderman Nutting's speech attacking his policy. He declared that the charges were false and vicious and that the authors knew it.

ELLIS BILL FAVORED BY ECLECTIC DOCTORS

Measure Will Give State Health Board More Power in Dealing With Contagious Diseases.

The Georgia Eclectic Medical association went on record yesterday as favoring the passage of a bill to be introduced at the coming session of the legislature by Colonel C. S. Ellis, the measure which if passed will give the state board of health more power in handling contagious diseases and will tend to improve sanitation in the rural districts.

The last session of the two-day meeting was held Tuesday morning in the Aragon hotel. About three hundred physicians were present and a very enthusiastic meeting was held. A paper was read by Dr. John Powell of Atlanta on "Care of the Eyes of Infants" which was followed by a paper by Dr. William B. Best of Indianapolis, Ind. on Medical Legislation. Dr. Best commended Georgia for many of its present laws and urged the passage of the Ellis bill which will come up in the legislature.

INEBRIATE ASYLUM FAVORED BY DOCTORS

The proposition of Representative D. C. Hargett of Barrow to establish a state asylum for inebriates is meeting with much serious support from the medical profession. In favor of such an institution Dr. Willis B. Parks, a well known local physician, said yesterday:

More than ever sobriety is coming to be regarded by medical authorities as a matter of fact. In fact it is a matter of history that habitual drunkards are now regarded as a disease even by the general public. Everyone knows how in the dark ages of ignorance and superstition the insane were brutally outraged and mistreated. Our present method of dealing with inebriates by sending them out of town on the changing will, I am sure in time will be regarded as a barbarous and unscientific as was our former method of dealing with lunatics.

I am delighted to see that a member of the legislature has the courage and the brains to propose a sane and humane method of handling and curing in cases where cures are possible. Unfortunately victims of this terrible disease are miserably ignorant. It should be taken in mind that Pickett undoubtedly has a right to be heard in this matter. I should be glad to see the unanimous report of both houses.

GOVERNMENT PROBING ASSAULT UPON VARE

George M. Sutton, chief postoffice inspector for the Atlanta division yesterday detailed the details of his investigation into the assault upon the property of W. S. Ware railway mail carrier on the Atlanta Chattanooga line on the Southern railway Tuesday night in Atlanta street. As he was walking to the postoffice to surrender six registered letters the inspectors are out to the chief inspector that so far they had found no clues to the robbery. It was reported that the hospital surgeon, Dr. J. J. Griffin, said he had not seen any of the assailants but that they were in the hospital yesterday morning and later submitted a report of the assault to the chief inspector's office.

ATLANTA LIQUOR ACT NOT CONSTITUTIONAL

Supreme Court Holds Railroads Cannot Give Out Information About Shipments.

Denying the validity of Atlanta's ordinance which requires all railroads and express companies to furnish the police department with information regarding liquor shipments, the Georgia supreme court yesterday unanimously held that such a law was in conflict with the interstate commerce act which makes it unlawful for the agent of common carrier to knowingly disclose the contents of any shipment.

With all the new county propositions that are being pushed here incident to the opening of the legislature next week including Warren Hardeman Chandler Barrow and others it is an interesting time for the people of the legislature who has so far come to Atlanta to look over the field in advance has expressed an opinion unfavorable to the establishment of Barrow county.

MANY ATLANTA BOYS WILL GO TO CULVER

Fine Summer—Will Be Enjoyed at Summer Naval Academy This Year.

By Robert Foreman, Jr. A large number of Atlanta boys will spend a pleasant and profitable summer at Culver Summer Naval Academy this year. Atlanta will send more representatives this summer than have been to the academy in preceding years, and nearly all the men who were at Culver last year will return. The boys will leave Atlanta on June 30, and are contemplating a fine time on their trip up.

The following fourteen will go: Roff Sims Jr., R. S. Fleet, Eugene Black, Jr., Orme Campbell Jr., Lowry Nicholson, William Kiser, Jr., William Ellis Jr., H. Sommerstedt, Wilmer Moore, Jr., Arnold Broyles, Jr., Robert Foreman, Jr., Goodwin Elkin, Frank Owens, Jr., Howell Cobb, Roff Sims, Reginald Fleet, William Kiser and Eugene Black have been at Culver before. The majority of the boys will go into the naval department. William Ellis Jr., winning a scholarship worth $150 as a musician, will be a prominent member of the band. Wilmer Moore, Jr. will enter the cavalry and Lowry Nicholson will go into the Woodcraft department. Charles Conroy, of Savannah, will join the Atlanta party, and several other boys from different parts of Georgia will attend the academy.

Atlanta boys have shown good records in studies and athletics at Culver. Last year R. S. Fleet and Roff Sims, both from Atlanta, won tennis championships and received rackets, while Eugene Black received a loving cup for winning the junior tennis singles. Henry W. Brown, who has been at Culver for several years, captured one of the places as runner up in the senior doubles. R. S. Fleet and William Kiser did good signaling work, and all of these boys received Tuxis emblems given by the Culver authorities for all-round improvement during the whole summer course. To get this emblem one has to improve decidedly in studies, athletics and aquatic sports.

FOOD PEDDLERS EXEMPT FROM THE VENDING TAX

The vending tax law of Georgia received a severe jolt from the state supreme court on Monday in a decision on two Atlanta cases which held that the law did not include peddlers of food products. The two cases were brought by H. Butler and E. M. Latham, two Atlanta vendors who represented the payment of a $50 tax before they could peddle their fruits, eggs and butter.

Justice Lumpkin and Hill dissented from the decision which given the vendor of food stuffs the right to peddle without paying a tax to the state. They held that hucksters had always been considered peddlers and no doctrine of construction which might classify a news boy as a peddler and omit a huckster could meet their approval. Since the tax law sets forth such articles as soap and jewelry the majority of the court invoking the doctrine of construction held that only similar articles were meant.

Tired Eyes

Did you ever take off a tight hat, ill-fitting pair of shoes and slip your feet into a pair of cool, soft slippers? If you have, you know the meaning of genuine relief and solid comfort. That is exactly what a properly fitted pair of glasses will do for weak, tired, wornout eyes. Modern business conditions necessitate long hours of close eye-straining work, and it is not surprising that your eyes give out easily, ache, pain, burn and finally break down. Glasses are the remedy, and the only remedy, unless, of course, you stop using your eyes altogether. Glasses, properly fitted, will strengthen and preserve your eyes and enable you to do your work easily and with comfort. We are equipped to make a thorough and modern examination and will fit the correct lenses in an up-to-date frame or eyeglass mounting, at a very moderate figure. Come in and talk to us about your eyes. If you don't need glasses, after we have made a careful examination, we may be able to give you some good pointers on how to take care of your eyes.

14 WHITEHALL

DOCKLY

Hall-Turner.

The wedding of Miss Mariel Hall and Mr. Louisa Turner was a beautiful event of last evening at St. Luke's Episcopal church, the ceremony taking place at 9 o'clock.

The church was effectively decorated with palms, ferns and a profusion of white sweet peas, and the ceremony was performed by Dr. C. E. Wilmer, assisted by Rev. Stewart Williams, of Macon.

A bridal procession was sung by the vested choir who preceded the bride and groom into the church, and the Lohengrin wedding music was sung during the ceremony.

Mrs. Charles Robertson, of Charleston, S. C., was her sister's matron of honor and Miss Fannie Turner, married daughter of Mr. Loring Raoul, was best man, and the ushers were: Mr. Will Brantley, Mr. Harrison Jones, Mr. John Harris, Mr. Chesley Howard, Mr. Harry Robertson and Dr. J. Lane of LaGrange.

The bride was charming in her wedding gown of white charmeuse satin. The corsage of net was applied with daisies and the skirt was draped in duchess lace. The same lace formed the little cap from which her tulle veil fell, the veil caught with orange blossoms, and the platinum pendant with diamonds was the gift of the groom. Her flowers were white sweet peas and valley lilies.

The matron of honor wore pink satin charmeuse with a profusion of white lace and the train of her gown was pink crepe de chine with draperies of pink chiffon and embroidered net. Both carried shower bouquets of pink sweet peas and valley lilies.

The bride's mother wore a handsome gown of black lace.

An informal reception to the bridal party was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Lyman Hall, on Third street. The guests were received in the living room where the decorations were all in white and green. Pink roses, sweet peas and ferns decorated the reception room.

Punch was served in the hall by Misses Harriet Haynes and Edith Watts. After a wedding trip north Mr. and Mrs. Turner will be at home after July 1 at Norwood Hill, LaGrange, Ga. The bride is the daughter of the late Dr. Lyman Hall, who was president of the Georgia School of Technology, and she is a young woman of the qualities and attainments of her father. Mr. Turner, who is a son of the late Dr. J. H. Turner, has a large acquaintance throughout the state to congratulate him.

A swimming party was enjoyed in the early part of the evening, a large swimming pool forming an attractive feature of the park-like grounds, and last night there was music to reveal the full beauty of the surroundings.

Afterwards a buffet supper was served in the house. The reception rooms had artistic decorations in many colored garden flowers, and in the dining room the table, elegantly appointed, was picturesque in pink, the centerpiece of sweet peas.

Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Robert Greer, receiving with her, wore lingerie gowns.

The reception rooms had ideal June decorations in palms, sweet peas and

ACCIDENT DUE TO A CUSPIDOR

Buffield, Va.—In advice from this place, Mrs. J. L. Johnson says: "When my baby was about a month old, I stumbled and fell over a cuspidor, and contracted such pains in my back, I could not stoop over without falling to the floor."

I got terribly weak, and was very uneasy about myself.

My case was certainly a serious one. I was so delicate that most people thought I was going to have consumption, and I thought so myself.

Finally my husband advised me to try Cardui, the woman's tonic. I tried it, and am confident that it saved my life.

The pains in my side and back have disappeared, and all of my friends here say that I am looking better than I have done for a long time.

I recommend Cardui to all of my lady friends, as I believe it will help them, just as it did me, if they will only give it a trial.

You may use this letter in any way you wish. I feel so grateful for it if it had not been for Cardui, the woman's tonic, I believe I would by this time have been in my grave."

Try Cardui for your troubles. It will help you, as it did Mrs. Johnson.

Try Skin Absorption Instead of Cosmetics

(From the Woman Militant.)

The constant use of rouge and powder involves a coarsened, roughened condition of the skin, eruptions, enlarged pores and wrinkles. If you've learned this from experience, suppose you quit cosmetics and try what I recommend.

Ask your druggist for an ounce of "The Skin Absorption" and begin using this tonight. Apply like cold cream, washing it off in the morning. Keep this up for a week or two, and you will literally absorb the coarse, colorless or blemished top skin, but so gradually that you will not disconcert you at all. Just as gradually the clear, velvety, naturally tinted under-skin comes to the surface. And mottled wax becomes your everlasting friend.

For those wrinkles and large pores, make a face bath by dissolving an ounce of powdered salicylic in a half-pint witch hazel. This has remarkable softening, toning, disinfecting, and beneficial results come quickly.

ATLANTA HELPS YANCEY'S FAMILY

Generous Response Is Made to Appeal to Care for Loved Ones of Man Who Died at Post of Duty.

Atlanta is responding nobly to the Dave Yancey fund. Already more than $300 has been raised, and the amount is expected to swell to $600 within a short while. Contributions are pouring in from all parts of the city.

A surprising sum was raised by the police and detective departments. Private citizens, court and jail attaches and even the grand jury donated their share. Each of the three newspapers contributed $25. Fifty dollars was sent from the sheriff's office, but the largest amount was donated by the superior court lawyers, who gave $102.

Family Needs Help.
A struggling mother and eight young children are placing their hope in the Atlanta spirit. All of the youngsters are under 16 years of age. All are dependent upon the generosity of a community.

A city-wide plea has been sent out from the little home on Jonesboro road, the home which the victim had scarcely begun to pay for. With absolutely no means of support and no visible prospect for the future, they have been deprived of their only source of livelihood.

They have a small farm, which was the pride of the heart of the father who was slain. It will fall far short of sustaining the large family. Beyond it, they have absolutely nothing from which to gain a living.

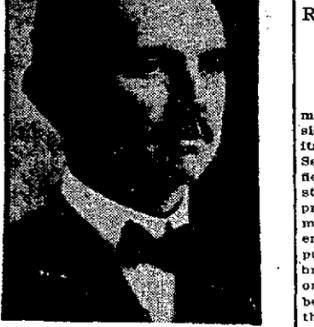

Unless money is raised to pay the monthly installments due on the home and property on which the Yancey family are living, they will even be deprived of it. In a creditable endeavor Atlanta began Tuesday to raise funds to purchase the home and to take care of the widow and children.

Subscriptions to the Fund.
The following are subscriptions up to Tuesday:

BONDS OF TENNESSEE DIFFICULT TO SELL

Nashville, Tenn., June 17.—The Tennessee funding board this afternoon rejected the few bids received on the proposed issue of eleven and a half million dollars of refunding bonds, giving as a ground that the act provided for the sale of all the bonds, not simply a part of them.

The funding board opened bids today at noon, a second time, on the eleven and half million of refunding bonds. The aggregate of the bids was for only $1,565,000 of the total issue.

The bids ranged from $7.45 to par. The proposed issue is of forty-year, 4 per cent bonds, and was authorized to fund the entire state debt, which falls due this year, about $9,800,000 July 1 and about $2,000,000 October 1. An issue of short-term notes to take care of the old bonds will the money market improves has been proposed, but this requires further legislative action. For this the governor desires to call an extra session, but the opposition faction which has kept the session alive desires that the action be taken by securing the attendance of members on the holdover session.

Bids were first opened on the bonds June 2, but were rejected as being too low. The readvertisement followed.

Seelbach Heads Hotel Men.

Louisville, Ky., June 17.—Louis Seelbach, of Louisville, was elected president of the Hotel Men's Mutual Benefit association at their annual convention here today. Business sessions of the 1914 convention will take place in New York, then the three hundred or more delegates will go abroad.

MISBRANDED MEATS LIABLE TO SEIZURE

Radical Extension of the Food and Drugs Act Is Announced.

Washington, June 17.—Probably the most radical and far-reaching extension of the food and drugs act since its enactment was made today when Secretary Houston, McAdoo and Bedford, charged with enforcing this statute, ruled that meat and meat products in interstate or foreign commerce which hitherto have been exempted from the provisions of the pure food law, may be seized if misbranded or adulterated. Beginning at once manufacturers of meat foods will be required to comply strictly with the food and drugs act as well as with the meat inspection law.

The action was taken on the strength of an opinion by Attorney General Reynolds. The three secretaries revoked a regulation adopted in October, 1908, only four months after the passage of the pure food law, which had prevented the department of agriculture, according to a statement today by Secretary Houston, "from prosecution against makers of meat foods under the pure food law, or ordering seizures or prosecution for misbranding or adulteration of domestic meats."

Secretary Houston said he could not understand why meat and meat products were not food in the sense of the food and drug act, or why his department could not seize bad, adulterated or misbranded meat, once it had entered interstate commerce.

Therefore, he had sought the advice of the attorney general. "Under the meat inspection law," the secretary said, "meat inspectors have absolutely no power to seize meat or meat food products that have come into the country, have been adulterated or misbranded, unless they have left a federally inspected establishment. The only remedy possible under the meat act is to proceed criminally against any one selling bad meat, but even then, if the meat cannot be seized nor its sale prevented."

"With the regulation of 1906 revoked," the department can seize and prevent the sale of bad and adulterated meat, once it has crossed the state line, and remains in interstate commerce. In cases spotted meat again reaches a federally inspected establishment it comes, of course, under the jurisdiction of the meat inspection law and can be destroyed as heretofore has been done. Under the new decision the government can control meat even in the home of the consumer, subject only to the limitations of the power of the federal government in interstate commerce.

"The department is empowered to require all manufactured meat products to conform fully to its labeling regulations and can enforce its penal provisions and seizures for misbranding and adulteration."

MRS. CATT BEING URGED TO KEEP PRESIDENCY

Budapest, June 17.—Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, of New York, president of the International Suffrage Alliance, was presented today with an address signed by the delegates of all the countries represented at the congress begging her to reconsider her intention to resign the presidency. The whole meeting stood while the address was read.

Mrs. Catt warmly thanked the delegates. She said she believed the president should serve only one term. International jealousies, especially continental dislike of Great Britain, render it difficult to elect a president from any one European country.

The congress decided that only one representative of the American Woman's Republic should be added as a fraternal delegate. The Woman's Republic had sent twenty delegates, while other affiliated societies had sent only one each. Jane Adams, of Chicago, and Rev. Anna Shaw were the principal speakers at a mass meeting tonight.

High Prices for Old Masters.

Paris, June 17.—Some high prices were brought by old masters at the sale today in the collection of Marcello de Nomes of Budapest. Rembrandt's portrait of his father was sold for $103,200, and Franz Hals' "Portrait of a Gentleman" for $53,000.

STOP, LOOK, LISTEN, URGES UNDERWOOD

Speaking at Virginia University, Democratic Leader Pleads for Conservatism.

Charlottesville, Va., June 17.—A plea for conservatism in politics, a "stop, look, listen" policy to guard against hasty adoption of ill-considered proposals, was the keynote of an address by "The Tendency" club, given here today by Representative Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama, democratic leader of the house of representatives. It was a notable occasion at Charlottesville, with many of those who have gone forth from the university in the past, reassembled to pay tribute to their alma mater. Mr. Underwood is president of the alumni and his son was among the graduates.

Mr. Underwood preached the doctrine of the political uplift. "There are many changes in the world," he said, "today in the political, economic and industrial development of the nation. To the man lost in the maze of his own business, who has not the time or desire to climb to the heights above his own personal desires and ambitions, it may seem dangerous and the onward march best with the times. But the man who is not tied down by the personal equation is able to realize that the line of march leads to the progress of mankind and uplift of society."

Mr. Underwood said the adoption of two amendments to the constitution within the past year, one affecting the political machinery of the government and the other changing the fiscal policy of the nation, clearly demonstrated that there is a strong sentiment in the country to break away from the fixed course of the past and to enter a new era in the past and that an onward movement is leading to the adjustment of national life to new conditions and progressive ideals.

"No man," he added, "is so bold as to declare that the recent constitutional changes are of no interest or benefit to the government for the whole people and that they have not equalized and strengthened our fiscal system."

"What may be regarded as radical today may be the inner citadel of conservatism tomorrow. The danger confronts us in the onward march of the nation comes from the hasty adoption of ill-considered proposals, sometimes coming from honest but ill-advised advocates of real progress and as often coming from the cunning hirelings of reactionaries. The danger would under the name of progress start a false movement to mislead and confuse in the hope that they may delay the day when special privilege shall be divorced from our economic and governmental system. We should move forward with conservatism, we will avoid a reaction in public sentiment and abandon a radical onrush that may lead to disaster or delay the accomplishment of a good result."

Mr. Underwood paid tribute to the precepts and teachings of Thomas Jefferson, the founder of the University of Virginia, as a "lamp unto the feet and a light unto the path."

900 TELEPHONE GIRLS STRIKE AT ST. LOUIS

St. Louis, June 17.—Girl telephone operators in the employment of the Southwestern Telephone (Bell) company struck this morning when officials of the company refused to negotiate with the operators' union. James Noonan, vice president of the International Brotherhood of Electrical workers, said 900 girls were out. Officials of the company said that less than 50 per cent of the girls quit work.

In May a few men were discharged and electrical union officials said it was because they had been active in union organization. When reinstatement of the men was refused the girls began to organize. The girls planned to strike at 11 o'clock this morning. Earlier than that, however, committees of three girls each started from union headquarters to notify the operators at the various exchanges that the strike was on.

At the main exchange the committee girls, finding themselves barred, climbed to the roof of a six-story building across the street, and tried to signal the operators at work. The independent lines are not affected.

WOMAN HAD PLANNED TO KILL PHYSICIAN

Something Dreadful Is About to Happen, Wrote Mrs. Whisnant to Her Mother.

Savannah, Ga., June 17.—That Mrs. Katie Whisnant, the young widow who killed herself late yesterday afternoon after she had shot to death Dr. Guy O. Brinkley in his private office here, had determined before she left her home to kill the physician, is indicated in a note Mrs. Whisnant addressed to her mother, which was found in her bedroom today.

In this note Mrs. Whisnant stated that "something dreadful" was about to happen and she besought her mother's forgiveness for her act. The unused portion of the box of cartridges with which Mrs. Whisnant loaded the revolver she used in the tragedy also was found in her room.

The identity of the woman who accompanied Mrs. Whisnant to Dr. Brinkley's office has been discovered by the police, but it is said she convinced the authorities that she had no idea of the intentions of Mrs. Whisnant when she went to the physician's office with her.

The funeral of Dr. Brinkley will be held in Suffolk, Va., the body leaving here this afternoon. The body of Mrs. Whisnant was taken this morning to Savannah, Ga., where she formerly lived for treatment.

SOLDIERS AND STRIKERS ARE WOUNDED IN RIOTS

Milan, Italy, June 17.—Several soldiers and strikers were wounded in riots in Milan today by strikers and non-strikers in conflicts between strikers and the police and troops today when attempts were made to render the general strike of workmen effective. The general strike in all trades was proclaimed Saturday as a protest against the imprisonment of 15 workmen arrested for offenses at the recent strike at the iron works. An attempt was made to extend the strike movement throughout Italy, but so far the effort has been unsuccessful, though the situation at Milan has become acute. The authorities believe they are in a position to cope with the situation.

INFERNAL MACHINE MANGLES TWO WOMEN

Sherbrooke, Quebec, June 17.—An infernal machine sent by mail when opened here today killed one woman and mortally wounded another. The woman killed was Mrs. Theodore Blodreau. Miss Blodreau, her sister-in-law, was hurt. The force of the explosion hurled the latter across the room and severed one arm. The house was wrecked. The package arrived about noon, and the two women were bending over it, untying the strings when it exploded. The police have no clue to the sender.

NEW COUNTIES BRING TAX VALUE INCREASE

Eleven Million Added by Eleven New Counties Authorized in Nine Years.

Whatever objection may be raised to the creation of new counties as a general proposition, it is shown by the records of the comptroller general's office that the creation of each new county in Georgia has been followed by a rapid increase in tax values in the territory absorbed by the new county.

The new counties of Telfair, Turner, Grady, Jenkins and others are splendid examples of this fact in some instances the tax values have more than doubled within a period of five years or less.

A conservative estimate is that the eleven new counties created in Georgia in the last nine years have added $11,000,000 to taxable values in Georgia, which would not have been added had there been no new county creation.

The Candler county proposition in northeast Georgia, where it is proposed to make Metter in the western end of Bulloch, the seat of the new county, is put forward as a splendid example of the possibilities in this direction. When good roads are constructed throughout the 561 square miles which the people promise themselves as soon as they get their own county government, there will be a big increase in property values right off the bat. The proposed Candler county area now has no parts exclusive of railroads, returned at $2,729,000 with a county government of its own and with one of the richest agricultural territories in the state to work upon it is evident that the taxable values of this territory can be doubled within the next five years.

WOMAN TALKS OF LAWS THAT CLUB THE PRESS

Colorado Springs, Colo., June 17.—The freedom of the press is endangered by recent statutes and court decisions affecting newspapers in the belief of Mrs. L. R. Eastwood, of Watertown, S. D. Mrs. Eastwood's paper on "Laws that Club the Press" was one of the features of today's program at the 25th annual convention of the National Press Association of North America.

Mrs. Julia V. Straus, of Rockville, Ind., told of a "Woman's Experience in Journalism."

Closer organization and the consideration of effective methods of promoting the business interests of the members, with possibly the establishment of an advertising agency were urged by A. D. Moffett, of Elwood, Ind., president of the association. Changed conditions have created a demand for something more than mere association," said President Moffett. "The low rates paid for advertising by the middlemen and the large profits made through it are well known. There is a growing belief among our members that an agency for the handling of foreign advertising should be established."

Elaborate Preparations Made for Entertainment of Grand Council, Which Convenes Today.

Columbus, Ga., June 17.—(Special) Elaborate preparations have been completed for entertaining Georgia Red Men, who will attend the thirty-fourth annual gathering of the great council, which will begin here tomorrow and last through Thursday. The entertainment plans have been perfected by committees of members from the three local tribes of Red Men, the memberships of which aggregate several hundred. The general entertainment committee is headed by Hon. L. H. Chappell, mayor of Columbus.

Among the entertainment features will be a trolley ride over the city and suburbs tomorrow afternoon and a steamboat trip on the Chattahoochee river tomorrow night. Following speeches of welcome and responses tomorrow morning, the business session will be begun and will be continued Thursday morning. It seems certain that the attendance will be large.

The great council will be one of nine conventions for 1913 that will have been held in Columbus by the end of the year.

HARVESTS ARE GOOD THERE WILL BE PLENTY OF GOLD

Give Calamity Howler Forbes a vacation and us a rest for the balance of the summer. We are tired of his pessimism.

Why fight the Administration, when he must use methods that are "below the belt?"

One day he claims that the banks of the country can't supply the West and South with money to move the splendid crops that are in sight. The next day he claims that the Administration will run all the gold to Europe because it has provided enough emergency currency to move these crops.

He knows you can't legislate gold into America, and that the only way to force it here is by sending our grain and cotton to Europe. This is the law of economics.

He knows that the grain of the West and the cotton of the South have brought gold to America whenever it was claimed that there was a shortage of gold. Neither the gamblers of Wall Street nor the political party in control of the Government ever forced the gold to come back.

If Mr. Forbes will "go way back and sit down" at some sanitarium, regulate his liver, and stay there until the crops are harvested and Europe's gold put on shipboard for America, then Mr. Forbes can go and count the yellow piles that are visible in the banks of America to the credit of our people, and reporting what he finds, he will become an optimist and a helper like other writers.
