

HUERTA TO RESIGN AND FLOUT WILSON BY ENTERING RACE

He Will Turn Provisional Office Over to Gen. Trevino and Be Candidate in October Elections.

TREVINO IS SUMMONED TO MEXICAN CAPITAL

Meanwhile Washington Announces New Parleys Are in Progress Looking to a Restoration of Peace.

Mexico City, September 3.—That General Huerta intends to quit the presidency in favor of General Gregorio Trevino and become a candidate in the October election is the statement made tonight by a well-known Mexican close to the administration.

Trevino on Way to Capital. General Trevino is making his way to the capital and little effort has been made to disguise the fact that he has been officially summoned. Just how the contemplated succession is to be brought about has not been disclosed.

There are persistent rumors of impending changes in the cabinet, and it is said that General Trevino is to be made minister of foreign relations in order legally to succeed to the presidency. He was reported to be at Tampico last night and is expected to reach Mexico City tomorrow.

American Exodus at Hand. The American exodus appears to be practically at hand. Only a small percentage of the American residents of the capital have left. Consul General Shanahan has been advised that the Mexican assembly 'Tampulapa' will leave Vera Cruz Sunday for New Orleans, carrying a number of Americans in the first and second cabins. Consul Canada at Vera Cruz has been authorized to pay $2 in gold in behalf of each passenger. The first-class passage is $10 and second class $10.

PARLEYS IN PROGRESS WASHINGTON REPORTS

Washington, September 3.—Administration officials declared late tonight that both Nelson O'Shaughnessy, charge d'affaires of the American embassy at Mexico City, and William personal envoy at Vera Cruz, were in frequent communication with officials of the Huerta government concerning a new series of negotiations through which it was hoped to bring about peace in Mexico.

A message from O'Shaughnessy reached President Wilson today and while its contents were not disclosed it was said to be indicative of important developments in the next few days.

New Basis for the Parleys. The new basis for the parleys, which contemplates certain questions having been definitely disposed of by the Washington government provides that it has made itself quite clear that it cannot under any circumstances recognize the Huerta government and does not expect any further developments along that line.

The administration, moreover, though hoping for positive assurance that Huerta will not be a candidate in the approaching elections, is inclined to accept the positive assertions of Federico Dombato, Mexican minister at Washington, that he will not be a candidate in the elections. Washington officials think an amicable understanding will be reached undoubtedly will be reached.

With these fundamental settled, it is understood that further negotiations by Messrs. O'Shaughnessy and Lind would look to the establishment of an effective armistice and the holding of a fair and free election.

Huerta Could Veto Prohibition. By some diplomats, and among the constitutionalists here, the view is held, however, that the constitutional prohibition against Huerta's candidacy would easily be evaded by his resignation in favor of another provisional president some time before the election.

Such significance is attached to the pronouncement of the various officials and semi-official newspapers in Mexico City a few days ago that Huerta would not be a candidate, because he had successfully defied the United States in the Lind negotiations.

High officials of the administration stated most emphatically that they

TO TAKE CONVICTS OUT OF STRIPES

Prison Commission Will Establish Three Grades, Lowest Only Wearing Regulation Uniform.

Following the example of the United States government, the prison commission of Georgia is going to take all but the lowest grade of convicts out of stripes. There have been a number of conferences of the commission on the subject and the decision reached yesterday will be formally announced today.

Hereafter there will be three grades of convicts in the penitentiary according to conduct. The uniform worn by the prisoner will establish his grade whether of first, second or third. Only the lowest grade will wear stripes. The others will wear uniforms distinguished by their grade prescribed by the prison commission.

Prisoner Discovers Change. Discerning the change which had been ordered by the commission, Judge Patterson, one of the commission, said:

"The prison commission has been working for some time to evolve a satisfactory plan that will preserve a distinctive uniform for prisoners and yet will offer some hope to the prisoner who, by his good conduct, shows a disposition to reform. We believe that we have found a solution that will work well."

"We are going to establish three grades of prison uniform according to the conduct of the prisoner and his period of service. The lowest will be the stripes now worn by all. When the stripes are first removed he will be placed in the ordinary stripe uniform. Then it is up to him to win the right to wear either one of the others according to his conduct while serving his term. The commission will be the judge of that, guided, of course, by the reports which we receive from the various county warden."

Will Prevent Escapes. "One of the principal reasons which led to the stripes was the fact that in the matter of escapes, I believe that the striped convicts were being greatly reduced when they were confined to the cell who conduct themselves well. When a prisoner finds that he will have more to gain by law-abiding and obedient conduct than by escaping, he will be more likely to try to get away. He will be more likely to try to get away by good conduct than by escaping and taking the chances of being caught and put back in a far worse state than his first one was."

With Trousers Slit, He Parades Streets While Crowd Jeers

Policeman Puzzled As to What Action to Take Since Rule Books Were Made Before New Fashions.

The slit skirt, provided it is not too low, is a fashion that has not only come, and even the gown so thin that it displays rather than suggests, gets hardly more than a passing glance, but fashion's young men, gait and ankles, at the latest thing in fashion—the slit trousers.

It was a man appeared on Peachtree street and one soon saw the exposure of all eyes, the slit revealing a naughty display of red silk sock or stocking—with an elegant piece of embroidery decorating each ankle.

He was a slightly blonde young person in a light blue suit and a purple silk shirt. The trousers were gray, checkered and flaring at the cuffs. They were slit several inches above the ankle.

The man, who was identified as being more outrageous than those who were on the beach in a split bathing suit, was seen by the police. He advanced again and fashion was accorded when he paraded Peachtree lake night.

It was first seen in the vicinity of Peachtree and Luckie. Then he crossed on over on the "movie" side, nonchalantly, swinging a light cane.

He was followed. There were hoots and cries of derision. A policeman who took especial note of the display of red silk beneath the flapping slash in the trouser cuff stepped to a telephone and called his captain at headquarters.

"Captain, what does the rule book say about slit trousers?" "The rule book," replied his captain, "was published before the makers of fashions ever dreamed of putting more outrageous than those who were on the beach in a split bathing suit, was seen by the police. He advanced again and fashion was accorded when he paraded Peachtree lake night."

HIS WRONGED WIFE SWEARING TO SAVE LOTHARIO HUSBAND

Mrs. Caminetti Goes to Stand and Tells How Domestic Troubles Probably Drove Caminetti to Elope With Lola Norris.

Lola Norris Confesses Lying to Save Lover

Caminetti Admits He Promised Lola Norris That He Would Marry Her as Soon as He Divorced His Wife.

San Francisco, September 3.—Lola Norris admitted today in the trial of P. L. Ureca Caminetti for alleged violation of the Mann white slave act that she had given false testimony about her relations with Caminetti after her arrest at Reno, she admitted frankly that she had not told the truth, and that to extent her credit as a witness and the value of the story to the government was shaken, but her explanation was that she had lied to save the loved and whom she then trusted.

Mrs. Caminetti followed her with testimony throwing interesting side lights on the case out in the main a repetition of what she previously had said for the benefit of Diggs at his trial. She was an eager witness for her husband.

Tomorrow Caminetti will begin his personal confession with an account of how he "happened to leave his wife in Sacramento with a baby three weeks old when he fled with Lola Norris. Caminetti does not deny that he seeks to qualify them by the motives from which they sprang.

Assistant District Attorney Wood. Although Caminetti had expected to testify in person today, the government forethought him and instead he listened to his own wife after a talk with W. E. Dean, of Sacramento, court reporter, in reply to questions of P. W. Atkinson, assistant district attorney of Sacramento county, after the Reno arrests. It was to Atkinson that Lola Norris admitted she had lied.

In the course of the interrogatory, the accuracy which was made in the question as taken down by Dean, he repeatedly admitted that he had been misled by Mrs. Norris after he had obtained a divorce from his wife in Reno, Nevada.

AGLER'S SINGLE ENABLES LOCALS TO BEAT MOBILE

'I'll Drive You Home If You Get to Second,' Agler Told Dunn — Nerve Racking Game Won 4 to 3.

CRACKERS CAN TIE GULLS BY TAKING TODAY'S GAME

Gulls Got All the "Breaks." Crackers Played Bad Ball. Dent Ought to Have Won Without Any Effort.

By Dick Jensen. "You get to second base and I'll drive you home."

Thus spoke Joe Agler, the Cracker's perfect first baseman, at the start of the ninth inning of the game at Poncey Wednesday afternoon.

Dunn got a base on balls. Dent sacrificed to second.

With the count two and two on him, Joe cracked a line single to the middle meadow and Joe Dunn, springing the ball, of his life crossed the plate with the tally that spelled a 4 to 3 victory for the locals in the second game of the series.

Agler's remark put the Crackers within one game of the leaders. A victory today and the pennant race will be in an old-fashioned knot.

Nerve-Racking Game. No more hard-hitting, nerve-racking contest has ever been staged on old Poncey's soil than Wednesday's battle. Nine out of every ten fans present—and there were some 4,000 of them—looked a great deal of relief immediately after Agler's single.

Said a o. r., was only issued after they had given up the game. The field was the most stuporous cheering that has ever been turned loose on the local ball ground.

The Crackers made bad baseball. They booted five chances in the field and they made several other errors of judgment that cost them from the first inning to the last.

Never did a ball club get the "breaks" as regularly as the Gulls did throughout the entire battle.

Cracker batsmen sailed right into the outfield and were caught in the end. And every one of these drives were kicked right on the picket.

Bradley Hogg, was lucky. He was lucky that he stayed the entire nine rounds. A ball of horsehoes fouled over his head from the first inning to the last.

Eight line drives, any of which would have driven in a run or two, were grabbed right into a Gull's hand or was grabbed after a sensational stop of some kind or intercepted when some player was going to cover the bag with the ball.

On the other hand, Elliott Dent ought to have batted home. The big fellow was in a walk, but was caught at critical times and bad judgment in the office.

But Dent won and won honestly and bravely. He deserved to win. Danne Fortune usually smiles on her sons.

Each side got seven batters. The Crackers made five errors in the field while the Gulls played a perfect ball. But despite the bobbles and "breaks," the Gulls were buffeted by Dent's effective pitching and only managed to escape three runs, which was one shy.

The Features. There was a fair to the feature that went on them is absolutely essential. Dent was hoisting it in the field, which saved the game from being one-sided by two great running catches in the first inning. With two men on base he speared a line drive by Blalaid in deep left, near the end of the bleachers, and a second later made a wonderful shoe-string catch on Harry Holman's line drive, snatching the sphere after it had apparently passed him.

Milton Stock, at short for the Gulls, grabbed liners right over the bag, one from the bat of Chapman in the second inning and another 300 on the bat of Welch in the third. The latter hit flying flogs on the shoulder or it would have gone on through a safe hit.

Miller's one-handed stab of a high bounce off Nixon's right, which was grabbed after a hard run, kept the ball from being a three-base knock-out. Charley Starr robbed Blalaid of a sure extra-base hit with a one-handed jumping catch of his liner.

Baseball Fever Grips Atlanta; 9,344 Fans Call Up for Score

And it took three special operators and four reporters to spread the glad tidings that Atlanta won by a score of 4 to 3, making one more good hatting stride toward the ray.

There are seven trunk lines running into the Constitution building, and other members of the Constitution building, where a big bulletin board gave the score in big letters.

Measurless thousands of fans crowded the streets in front of the Constitution building, where a big bulletin board gave the score in big letters.

Thunderous yells went up every time a run for Atlanta was marked on the board, and when the final score was written, pandemonium reigned.

It was a stupendous undertaking to serve this enormous number of fans who had come to see the game, but a single call went unanswered.

The Constitution offers to Atlanta fans its services again today. If there's anything you want to know about the game, call Main 5000. We'll tell you!

TATE WRITES FAREWELL AND THEN HANGS SELF TO "PREVENT WASTE"

Well-known Railroad Engineer Commits Suicide in Asheville Hotel. John Stephens Thinks It Is Wrong to Bury Jewels With Corpse.

Asheville, N. C., September 3.—After writing farewell letters to several of his personal friends in this city, Colonel Sam Tate, chief of engineers of the Transcontinental Railroad company and prominent in engineering circles of the country, committed suicide at an exclusive hotel here today, by hanging himself with a cord which had been taken from a Venetian blind in his room.

The body of the deceased was discovered by an attaché of the hotel, and an examination showed that Colonel Tate had been dead several minutes when the body was discovered.

Colonel Tate was a member of a prominent Memphis family, having been the son of the late Sam Tate of that city. He was 45 years of age and is survived by a wife and two daughters, Miss Louise Tate, of New York city, and Mrs. M. W. Barton, of New York city. He had taken an active part in the building of many railroad lines in Central America, Mexico and many of the states of the middle-west.

Great Warehouse Burns. Manchester, England, September 3.—A great bonded warehouse belonging to the Manchester Ship Canal company, near River Irwell, was destroyed by fire tonight. The damage is particularly due to the fact that the warehouse contained inflammable stores, particularly cotton.

30,000 People at Funeral. Dublin, September 3.—Thirty thousand people attended the funeral today of the mechanic, Nolan, who was killed in the connection with the tramway. There was no disorder.

THAW'S BEATEN AND HIS HURSTLED BACK TO BORDER

Canadian Judge Sustains Writ of Habeas Corpus and Thaw Loses His Refuge in the Jail at Sherbrooke.

FIRST LEG OF JOURNEY BACK TO MATTEWAN

Thaw Is Turned Over to Immigration Officials Who Hurry Him to Coaticook for Final Hearing.

Coaticook, Quebec, September 3.—Harry Kendall Thaw, just out of the Sherbrooke jail on a writ of habeas corpus obtained by a coup of William Hutchison, superior judge of the district of St. Francis, sitting in chambers at Sherbrooke, where tonight he paced the floor in the immigration detention room.

Tomorrow morning a special board of inquiry will sit in his case and he will be thrust across the Vermont border as an undesirable alien, a generally predicted tonight that before many hours Thaw would be back in Matteawan asylum from which he escaped Sunday, August 11.

The beginning of the end of Thaw's refuge, Canada, came with dramatic swiftness. A writ of habeas corpus, used last Saturday at the direction of Jerome, with John Broderick, chief of police of the village, as petitioner, was sustained at 3:45 o'clock this afternoon by Matthew Hutchison, superior judge of the district of St. Francis, sitting in chambers at Sherbrooke.

FRANK TRIAL BILLS ARE ORDERED PAID

Lodging and Food for the Jury for 29 Days Cost $975.06

Bills arising from the trial of Lee M. Frank, charged with the murder of Mary Phagan, the 17-year-old employe in the plant of the National Pencil company, of which the man convicted on August 25 was superintendent, are beginning to come into the county and at the meeting of the board of commissioners Wednesday $975.06 was ordered paid for the expenses of caring for the jury for twenty-nine days during which the trial lasted. The amount ordered paid Wednesday was in two bills. One from the Kimball house where the jurors lodged was $685.56, and the other was from the German Cafe where the jurors ate $289.50 worth of food. There are yet other bills to come to the county commissioners from the case, as they authorized Solicitor Thomas M. Dorsey to expend a certain amount of money in getting up evidence, and much of this has not yet been formally presented to the board for payment. Another feature of the case arose at the Wednesday meeting when Attorneys Graham and Chappell, representing New Lee, the negro night watchman at the factory, who reported the finding of the body to the police on the morning of April 27, asked the board to reimburse Lee for the time he spent in jail. It appeared to be the opinion of the commissioners that the negro who was held in jail from April 27 to August 26 should get some reimbursement from the county. Their attention was called to the custom of the United States in paying witnesses who are held in jail pending a trial in which they are regarded as material witnesses. "It was certainly a hardship on the poor negro," remarked "William Smith, and I think the citizens of the county were benefited by his evidence which was secured from him." The matter was referred to the county attorney for an opinion.

TINDALL MADE JUDGE OF CHILDREN'S COURT

New Children's Detention Home Is Secured on Trinity Avenue.

At the meeting of the board of county commissioners Wednesday morning the three-year lease of a house at 96 Trinity avenue to be used as a juvenile detention home was approved, as well as the appointment by the three superior court judges of Probation Officer W. W. Tindall as judge of the children's court at a salary of $100 per month. The new home on Trinity avenue will cost the county $100 per month, but is said to be amply fitted for its purpose and to have sufficient space in the rear for the addition of dormitories should it be decided to add them and to extend the lease to five instead of three years. There was some discussion over the acceptance of the new place and as to the time the commissioners decided that it would give much better results for the children placed there than has any other place which the county had provided before. The appointment of Mr. Tindall was only approved after some discussion, when Commissioner C. L. Anderson made the point that as Mr. Tindall was so enthusiastic over the work that he feared that as judge of the new court, he would send too many boys to the home and put too much expense on the county. The commissioner expressed the fear that Mr. Tindall in his zeal for the work might send some boys unnecessarily there. However, before he concluded he paid a high compliment to the work of the probation officer, and it was he who made the motion that the appointment be approved. The question of the laundry work for the home was also taken up and it was decided that the laundry should be done at the jail laundry and thus save additional expense to the county. The great wife who objected to her husband being in the night watchman's job will remain in that position, but the great wife who is in the night watchman's job will remain in that position, but the great wife who is in the night watchman's job will remain in that position.

Little Girl, With Nine Living Grand Parents, Believed to Hold Record for State of Georgia

Children who have heretofore prided themselves on having more living grandparents than other youngsters of their community must now yield the palm to little Miss Josephine Golden Flournoy, of Fitzgerald, Ga., who has the distinction of possessing nine living grandparents. Some of them are, of course, great-grandparents, but a grandparent in a grandparent's eye is a grandparent in the eyes of the world over, whether he or she be great, great-great or just plain, every-day grandparent. It is believed that little Josephine, who was 2 years old Wednesday, has more living grandparents than any child in Atlanta or in the state of Georgia. It is further presumed that if this unusually large number of grandparents pursue the usual course, pretty Josephine is destined to be spoiled even more than the usual run of petted descendants. A delegation of Josephine's relatives held a family reunion at the home of Mrs. W. J. Dunn, 522 South Pryor street, Wednesday, at which were present Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Flournoy, of Fitzgerald, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Dunn, of Atlanta, and Mrs. E. T. Allen, of Atlanta, not forgetting Miss Josephine, at which four generations were represented. A reunion of Josephine's grandparents will be held in the near future at the home of Mrs. E. T. Allen, 615 Washington street. The following grandparents of Miss Josephine will participate: Mrs. E. T. Allen and Mrs. M. A. Dunn, maternal great-grandparents; Mrs. George Flournoy, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Golden, paternal great-grandparents; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Dunn, maternal grandparents; and Mrs. J. W. Flournoy, paternal grandparents.

NORTON IS RELEASED BY NEW YORK POLICE

Savannah Man Will Not Be Tried for Raising Check From $16 to $1600.

Savannah, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—Information was received in Savannah today to the effect that Robert D. Norton, who was arrested at the home of his fiancée in Brooklyn, where he had gone after obtaining $1000 from the Peoples' Bank of Savannah on a raised check, had been released by the New York authorities. The cause of his release was the inability to secure requisition papers. Under the New York law the police are requested to present anyone held in custody for a hearing after a specified time has elapsed. It was at this hearing that Norton was released. Chief Detective J. J. Murphy went to New York several days ago, but he was unable to secure his prisoner until the requisition papers were made out. As Governor Slaton is in the west and will not return for some time, Murphy is returning without Norton. Norton played a clever trick on the bank here. The check for $1000, which was originally made out for $16, was presented to the teller, with the request that $100 be placed on deposit to Norton's credit and that he be given $100 in cash and $1000 in New York exchange. The request was honored without question. The check bore the signature of Norton's mother.

I'LL PULL HIS NOSE, SCREAMED MULHALL

Self-Confessed Lobbyist and His Employer, Kirby, in Bitter Wrangle.

Washington, September 3.—A non-pulling contest between John Kirby, Jr., former president of the National Association of Manufacturers, and Martin M. Mulhall, one time lobbyist, was threatened today before the House lobby committee. "I protest against that man sitting over there and making faces at me," roared Mulhall, pointing at Kirby. "You will have to restrain yourself," admonished Chairman Garrett. "I can't do it while he makes faces at me," shouted Mulhall. "If he is a gentleman and will meet me outside, squarely, I'll pull his nose." Chairman Garrett ordered Kirby to change his seat.

APARTMENT OWNERS MAY MAKE FIGHT ON SMOKE LAW

The apartment owners of Atlanta will go before the smoke commission at next Tuesday's meeting and ask that the enforcement of the smoke law against them be suspended for a year. George T. Taylor, as chairman of a committee of the apartment house owners, appeared at the office of Smoke Inspector Poole on Wednesday and asked permission to make the plea next Tuesday. The attitude of the apartment house owners is understood to be one of cooperation with the smoke commission, but they claim that they have not yet received a decision as to just what methods to pursue in complying with the law. Should the commission refuse this plea of enforcement, it is predicted that the apartment house owners will attack the constitutionality of the smoke ordinance.

Woman Washing Dishes Formerly Worth Millions; Rejoins Second Husband

Savannah, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—Working as a dishwasher in a restaurant, Mrs. Millie Gotthelf-Gunderland, former wife of a millionaire lace merchant of New York, was found by her second husband, Antoine Gunderland, of Augusta, in Savannah, Sunday night. "I'll return with you if you'll be good to me," she was heard to tell Gunderland when he found her at work in the restaurant here. The husband's reply was in an undertone, but it evidently pleased the woman, for she immediately quit her position and left with him to take a train. A very brave man is apt to fear a silent woman.

Newsies Alarm Elderly Man; Thinks Them Bold Bad Bandits

Policeman Ernest C. Thornton, on traffic duty in a whirlpool of trolleys and vehicles at Five Points early Tuesday night, heard frantic crying out over the noise of the crossing: "Help! Robbers! Police!" Over in the midst of the rush stood a trim little electric runabout containing a man of 59 years and a pretty young girl. The man was waving his hands wildly and was crying at the top of his voice. Thornton ran to his side, leaving the heavy traffic in confusion. "I've been assaulted—sambaggod, robbed right here in the heart of town! Blow your whistle for help. Get an ambulance!" Thornton, with the aid of the pretty girl in the machine, managed to get the man. His car stood in the center of the sea of traffic, blocking cars and vehicles on all sides. "Now," said the policeman, "what's the trouble?" "Trouble enough!" exclaimed the man. "Someone jumped up on the rear of my machine just now, reached for my pocketbook and struck me across the head. There were a half dozen of them." He rubbed his fingers across the back of his skull, bringing them back to view to see if they had touched blood. No blood, so he said: "I feel like my head was caved in!" "Did they rob you?" asked Thornton. "No," but if it hadn't been for my daughter, they would have. She drove them off my machine." "I've ordered the policeman, "move on, I'll investigate." "The car moved away. Upon investigation, Thornton learned that a gang of four newsboys had climbed to the machine and, when driven off by the young girl, each vengefully took a slap at the back of the elderly man's head. No arrests were made as no one could identify either of the newsies.

Only Five More Days Before City Registration Books Close

Counting today and leaving out Sunday, there are five more days in which to register for the coming municipal elections, including the vote on the new charter. The registration books close on next Tuesday, the ninth. While registration was rather light a week ago, it has picked up considerably in the last several days, and now there are roughly between 10,000 and 11,000 voters registered, according to the estimate of the tax collector's office on Wednesday. If registration continues at the present rate it is expected that between 11,000 and 14,000 voters will register.

NEW SYSTEM ORDERED FOR GINNING STATISTICS

County agent will give out to the county papers the number of bales ginned in his county, for publication on the same day as the consolidated figures are given out by the census bureau and published in all the daily newspapers. For instance, on September 8 the government agent in each cotton-growing county will furnish to the county papers the figures he has sent to the bureau showing the number of bales ginned. The registration books close on next Tuesday, the ninth. While registration was rather light a week ago, it has picked up considerably in the last several days, and now there are roughly between 10,000 and 11,000 voters registered. If registration continues at the present rate it is expected that between 11,000 and 14,000 voters will register. The object of this change is to prevent any possibility of the manipulation of the figures. Once in the past this was done with the result that certain Wall street operators made rich had from having advance knowledge of the manipulated figures. Here-

WIFE SWEARING TO SAVE HUSBAND

Continued From Page One. Atkinson had turned to Caminetti. "Would you?" he asked. Caminetti had been allowed to ask his own questions of Lola Norris, Deag said, and these with the answers were taken down here. "Did you ever hear me mention cruelty or getting a divorce on grounds of cruelty?" Caminetti asked. "No," said the girl, and then turning to Atkinson, added: "Mr. Caminetti told me he'd be much happier if conditions were different at his home, and he said that physical cruelty would be the ground for his divorce." "What did Mr. Caminetti say about his family relationship, about his elder daughter?" Atkinson asked. "He said that was the only regret he had at leaving his family, that he loved her and grieved at leaving her. He said if he got a divorce he might bring the child with him later." The defense then made ready to present its case. Lola Norris Not Rescued. When Diggs was on trial, it was on the slight figure of the Warrington girl that his attorneys tried to turn the burden. Caminetti, however, announced before his trial began that he would not pursue a similar course with Miss Norris; that he would make no effort to controvert her story of their relationship. Throughout Miss Norris' ordeal on the witness stand yesterday, she gave no hint of resentment toward the man whom she said had accomplished his downfall. She denied that she still loved him, but her testimony indicated no desire for any reprisal. She even admitted that she had made this statement to a friend: "I do not see how any testimony I could give could hurt Drew. I don't care if anything I asked him not to do, or that I did not want to do." But previously she had made the prosecution regarded as a strong admission in the support of the government.

Wrecker asked if a system giving greater elasticity and enabling bankers to convert their assets into cash through a redemptive bank would not prevent panic. "With such privileges there probably could be no panic arising from the sale of securities that produced the last two," said Wrecker. "Under any circumstances banks probably could go on paying out money for the ordinary needs of business. But there can be no perfect panacea. A period of wild and extravagant living; great speculation on the part of the classes that usually save; the investment of savings in wild cat mines—such conditions will produce a panic, no matter how carefully a national banking system may be devised."

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

All the News of Real Estate and Building.

Another handsome commercial building on Peachtree, to cost approximately $50,000, is in the near future. Some time today or tomorrow contracts will be signed by Turner, Baker & Johnson for the erection of such a building for Mrs. G. M. Smith at 482 1/2 S. Peachtree street. The present building, which was formerly occupied by the Peachtree office, is being torn down to make room for the new structure.

As to the contracts have not yet been signed, no detailed statement has been given out, but it is understood that the building will cost $45,000, and will be several stories in height and divided into several different sections. One of these, if it is stated upon good authority, will be occupied by a well-known safe concern. This will be one of the most advantageous locations in the city, and it is expected that it will be rapidly becoming known as "auto row." The location is just south of Jones street and hence on Peachtree, the other sections of the structure will, it is thought, be completed by the end of the month.

Workmen on the Hurt building are rapidly bringing this magnificent structure to completion. On Friday, September 1, it is thought that the last floor will have been put on the building.

There will be approximately 40,000 sq. ft. of rooms in the building, a number of which have already been contracted for. However, some of the choicest offices have not yet been taken, but it is thought that these will be taken by the end of the month.

Workmen on the Hurt building will be the arrangement of the utility and among the most important utility arranged in the city.

John S. Johnson has sold to John S. Owen an interestingly shaped lot on Park Ferry road, which is being developed for a horse park. Consideration not mentioned.

"Back Home Again" is the legend which the Grant plan company has hung out at 41 1/2 Peachtree street. For a short while the Grant company was located 150 feet north of the ground street building, on that street, but have returned to their old quarters, which they held for many years.

Business is getting brighter every day. The sale of land and building for homes was never so large as at the present time. One of the most interesting pieces of property is the comparatively cheap place which some very handsome homes are placed on the west coast of the city. This is caused by many people making their various new apartments which are being occupied.

WOODWARD SAYS CITY SHOULD ACT

Too Much "Wind-Jamming" Already, He Says—County Board Turns Down Proposition.

That the clearing of Peachtree creek of debris and brush and protecting the city's $200,000 deposit in the matter for which the city of Atlanta and not the board of county commissioners is responsible, was the concurrence of opinion by all five members of the board at their meeting yesterday.

Following the expression of this sentiment on the part of the commissioners, Mayor Woodward conferred with Chief of Construction R. M. Clayton to devise means of having the creek cleared. Mayor Woodward and Captain Clayton decided to hold a conference with Chairman of the bond committee, F. A. Quillian, in a few days and see what they cannot get the county to bear a half of the expense of hiring labor for this work, while the city bears the other half.

The discussion in the county board arose when Commissioner S. B. Turman rose to a point of personal privilege on behalf of the entire board.

"Chairman F. A. Quillian and Captain R. M. Clayton both told us," said Mr. Turman, "that they regarded the work of the county consists on the sewerage as more important than the work they might do in clearing the creek, and we understood that the city would agree to relieve the county from some of the work that we would put men to clearing out the creek."

Reference to Last Convicts Work. "The work of clearing out the creek is not fitted for men in chains, and I would not vote that the county consist there if every one we have here is interrupted," Captain Clayton agreed with us that this work was for free, hired labor, and that the county victor labor," he added.

The final opinion of the members of the board was that if twelve men would be sufficient to clear out the creek and that removal of the debris of the valuable plant being damaged, that the city should use its own funds to hire twelve men to do this work, and that if damage arises to the plant that it will be the fault of the city and not of the county.

The commissioners, voiced their opinion during the discussion that the city should undertake the work, but the amount of money to be paid to the county forces within the city limits was referred to the city engineer and the commissioner Anderson, making the statement that within the last few years at least four hundred tons of debris from the creek had been removed from the city limits, and that the city should be responsible for the work.

Chairman Shelby Smith then made the point that the county was already using as many men as could possibly be used for work on the creek, and the opinion seemed to be that the county had fulfilled its duty in clearing the creek and that the city should take up its share of the burden and not try to impose additional work on the county.

"After after we did the grading of Ivy street for the city," said Chairman Smith, "we have had to do the work on the creek, and that is the way of relating the creek to the city, and that is the way that the city should be held responsible for the work."

Commissioner Tom Winn then declared that Captain Clayton had informed the county commissioners that the disposal plant was not covered by water gates and that if any overflow came, a result would be the debris in the creek that the plant would not suffer, but that the only damage to result would be to the property on either side of the creek.

Break and Debris to Remain. From the sentiment voiced by the commissioners the situation appears to be that if the city should do the work, the debris will remain in the creek and that the plant will be at the mercy of an overflow, which experts have declared would result in heavy damage to it.

Mayor Says City Damaged. Mayor Woodward is of the opinion that the city should do the work and clear out the creek without further talk.

"There has been too much wind-jamming on the subject already," said the mayor. "The city or the county either one could have done the work while they have been talking about it. It appears to me that the city should bear the expense, and if the county is not in a position to do the work the city should hire the help and protect the disposal plant without further words. Such debris as is in a result of the lack of a system."

I agree with Commissioner Anderson that this sort of work is not for men in chains. I should have very much to order convicts into this kind of a job. The labor for the work should be hired.

September Morns by Moonlight Make Officer Believe in Ghosts

It was midnight, the air was balmy, the moon silvered, the surroundings with mellow light, and Policeman Clark, a conscientious and courageous constable, who knew that the rule book said nothing whatever pertaining to spooks, decided that he was not called upon to investigate spooks, but that there were of a more serious frame of mind, and soon they learned the story of the ghost.

Two girls, one a pronounced blonde, who live in adjoining homes on Courtland street, were spending the night at the home of the blonde one. Midnight came and they remembered that there was a watermelon on the porch of the other home.

Jumping from bed, clad only in nightgowns, they hurried to the back porch. The watermelon was there, but when they started to cross the yard to the other house to return to bed, a blinding flash of light from a neighboring window, looking up the gown-clad ones caught sight of three male heads peering from the window.

It has also been said, the moon flooded the place with light. To vent forth was to be viewed openly by the three neighboring windows. The blonde one saved the situation. In the dining room on the table she found the watermelon and wrapping it about her she dashed across the backyard to a perfectly good kitchen. As she fled across, Policeman Clark, who had been wondering if there really could be such things as ghosts.

Known to the mother of invention. The blonde one is a dressmaker. Persons who had the early appearance of an ultra-modern stylish the cloth gown.

3-Cornered Fight

It looks like a three-cornered mayor's fight in New York, with the candidates lined up as follows: Mayor William J. Bryant, running independently for re-election; John Purroy Mitchell, collector of the port of New York, heading the fusion ticket; and Edward E. McCall, chairman of the New York state public welfare commission, leading Tammany hall's candidates.

TAX-RATE IN FULL TON MAY SOON BE RAISED

After Courthouse Is Paid for Rate Will Probably Be Lowered Again.

To consider the raising of the present tax rate of Fulton county the finance committee of the board of county commissioners will meet Monday morning at which time Clark Edna Perkins Goode will attempt to submit figures by which a tax rate for the coming year may be decided upon.

It is expected that the finance committee of which Commissioner Clifford A. Anderson is chairman, will recommend a raise of two or three mills. The county board will meet on next Wednesday at 11 o'clock to receive the report.

County commissioners expressed the belief at the meeting Wednesday that after the courthouse is paid for the tax rate can be lowered again, and even placed below 60 mills, where it stood before the rate of a year ago. The members of the board were also

EMOTIONAL INSANITY

Mrs. Godbee's Defense. Savannah, Ga., September 18. (Special.)—Emotional insanity. It is expected, will be the plea on which the attorneys for Mrs. Godbee will attempt to secure her freedom when she is brought into the superior court of Milken next week for the murder of her former husband, Judge Walter G. Godbee, and his wife of four months.

The defense will also set up a sequence of events in the married life of Judge Godbee and his divorced wife, dating from a few months after marriage and covering the time between the divorce and the tragedy, when Mrs. Godbee claims her former husband and his wife flaunted their happiness in her face. She felt that they were enjoying the fruits of property which rightfully belonged to her.
