ACCUSED MAN'S WIFE MAKES FIRST PUBLIC STATEMENT IN CASE

Following the complete denial by Minola McKnight, cook in the household of Leo M. Frank, of the statements she is alleged to have made in the sensational police affidavit given out Wednesday, Mrs. Leo M. Frank Thursday made her first public statement on the Mary Phagan mystery.

Mrs. Frank makes an eloquently pathetic defense of her husband and attacks Solicitor General Dorsey's methods in the securing of evidence, charging torture and a deliberate determination to distort facts. Frank denies absolutely that her husband in any way demeaned himself so as to indicate he had been involved in a tragedy on the day Mary Phagan was slain or any other day. Here is Mrs. Frank's complete statement.

Editor The Georgian:—Sir: The action of the Solicitor General in arresting and imprisoning our family cook because she would not voluntarily make a false statement against my innocent husband brings a limit to patience. This wrong is not charged to a detective acting under the necessity of shielding his own reputation against attacks in newspapers, but of an intelligent, trained lawyer, whose avowed duty is to protect the innocent as to punish the guilty. My information is that this Solicitor has admitted that no crime is charged against this cook and that he had no legal right to have her arrested and imprisoned.

The following statement from The Atlanta Journal undertakes to give the history of the arrest up to the time the woman was carried to the police station in the patrol wagon, weeping and shouting in a hysterical condition:

The negro was arrested at the Bell residence shortly after noon Monday upon the order of Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey.

She was carried to the Solicitor's office and that official with Detective Campbell and Stevens examined her for more than an hour. The woman grew hysterical during the vigorous examination, and finally was led from the Solicitor's office to the police patrol, weeping and shouting: "I am going to hang and I don't know a thing about it."

They tortured her for four hours with the well-known third degree process, in the manner and with the result stated in The Atlanta Constitution of June 4, as follows:

Her husband, who was also carried to the police station at midnight, was freed a short while after a point of exhaustion, Secretary G. C. February, attached to Chief Lanford's office, was summoned to note her statement in full.

It was the longest statement made by the woman since her connection with the mystery. It will be used, probably, in the trial.

Attacks Solicitor Dorsey.
That the Solicitor sought to maintain the law, should thus falsely arrest one against whom he has no charge and who does not even admit, and torture her contrary to the laws, to force her to give evidence tending to secure away the life of an innocent man, is beyond belief.

Where will this end? My husband and my family and myself are the innocent sufferers now, but who will be the next to suffer? I suppose the witnesses tortured will be confined to the class who are not able to employ lawyers to relieve them from the torture in time to prevent their being forced to give false affidavits, but the lives away may come from any class.

It will be noted that the plan is to apply the torture until the desired affidavit is wrung from the sufferer. Then it ends, but not before. That is, to be hoped that no person can be convicted of murder in any civilized country on evidence wrung from witnesses by torture. Why, then, does the Solicitor continue to apply the third degree to produce testimony? How does he hope to get the jury to believe it? He can have only one hope, and that is to keep the jury from knowing the methods to which he has resorted. Of course, if he can torture witnesses into giving the kind of evidence he wants against my innocent husband in this case, he can torture them into giving evidence against any other man in the community in either this or any other case. I can see only one hope. And that is, to let the public know, not by any means, but by a long and true, as I do trust, to the sense of fairness and justice of the people.

Says Signing Is Not Surprising.
It is not surprising that my cook should sign an affidavit to relieve herself from torture that had been applied to her for four hours, according to the Atlanta Constitution, to a point of exhaustion. It would be surprising if she would not, under such circumstances, give an affidavit.

This torturing process can be used to produce testimony to be published in the newspapers to prejudice the case of anyone the Solicitor sees fit to accuse. It is also valuable to prevent anyone stating facts favorable to the accused, because as soon as the Solicitor finds it out he can arrest the witness and apply the torture. It is hard to believe that practices of this nature will be discontinued anywhere in the world outside of Russia.

My husband was at home for lunch and in the evening at the house he has stated on the day of the murder. He spent the whole of Saturday evening and night in my company. Neither on Saturday, nor Sunday night, nor on any other day, did my husband, nor any other man, see or hear in any other way, anything which would cause him to entertain any suspicion. I know him to be innocent. There is no evidence against him except that which is produced by torture. Of course, evidence of this kind can be produced against any human being in the world.

I have been compelled to endure without fault, either on the part of

ALL HIGGES IN PAINTER MYSTERY ON TEST

Action Delayed Until Chemists Report on Search for Poison in Vital Organs.

By C. O. Morgan.
JACKSONVILLE, June 5.—Every step in clearing up the Painter insurance mystery now hangs on the reports of chemical and pathological analysis of the vital organs by Baltimore chemists, and to-day matters are at a standstill at the Jacksonville end. Neither the Corner insurance agents, the family nor the E. C. Painter Fertilizer Company is making a move, and none in prospect until Baltimore is heard from. A veil of secrecy seems to shroud developments in Baltimore.

The will of Painter will be filed late this afternoon. The widow, daughter and attorney, S. F. Williams, who rumor says is expected to Miss O'Leary, minor daughter of the dead man, called at Probate Judge Phillips' office at 1 o'clock this afternoon and ascertained the manner in which to proceed. It is said the estate, exclusive of insurance, amounts to $100,000.

Coroner C. D. Abbott declared to-day that he had received no positive information as to when the chemists would report. He will not act until a report is made.

The physicians who performed the autopsy here and went to Baltimore on the same train with the express shipment were not permitted to again see the organs until they were in the hands of the chemists authorized to examine them.

This partly explains the reported disappearance of the organs in Baltimore.

Insurance Men Await Tests.
State agents of several of the insurance companies interested were in conference yesterday afternoon, but took no action because of the failure to hear from Baltimore, planning to meet again when the report comes.

Painter's place in two civic bodies has been filled by the election of Zach Anderson as Port Commissioner and Dr. W. H. Stinson on the Board of Trade's foreign commerce committee.

Pinkerton detectives have just completed a detailed investigation into the death of E. C. Painter and have forwarded their reports to interested insurance companies. On the information gathered by them will be based the probable will report later in the insurance on Painter's life. They have some in every angle of the big insurance mystery and the reports are most comprehensive in detail.

The insurance companies do not appear to be however. They are waiting the Coroner's inquest is concluded next week. They are awaiting the evidence to be brought out in that hearing before publicly outlining their plan of action.

As is known, however, that the investigation made by the detectives has been painstakingly complete and leads additional color to the suicide theory.

The death certificate signed by the family physicians reads: "Cause of death, probable Will report later. These physicians, like the insurance companies, are awaiting the results of the analysis."

Rev. Dr. John B. White has a paper to be read in the Sunday American on "The House of Our Fathers." Everybody should read it.

ELBERT CONFESSED REPORTED TO JURY

Probers Question Naylor and February Alleged Admissions by Negro.

Chief Lanford, in discussing the near-flight between himself and Attorney Feltner in Baltimore last week's office Thursday morning, characterized his opponent as all right.

"Felder is a coward and void of all truth," declared Chief Lanford. "I had been left with him alone for one minute I would have showed the rascal up. I would have cared if he had a dozen pistols. Felder had the nerve to pull the trigger anyway."

"I would have taken a thirty-day suspension just to have given Felder what he deserves. Naylor knows that I want to do it, too, and he did not raise out of his chair to face me until he saw that there were plenty of men about to prevent a conflict."

It became known this afternoon that the Grand Jury Thursday had investigated a sensational story that A. B. Colyer, the telegraph man, had been trying to dispose of what purported to be a confession from James Coyle, negro, greater, that he had killed Mary Phagan in the National Penitentiary.

The Grand Jury was told that such a document had been displayed to various persons and that Colyer had offered it to W. C. Cooke, the Bureau man who worked on the case some time ago.

Colyer was summoned before the Grand Jury, Secretary to Chief Lanford, was also summoned because the Grand Jury had heard that he took down the alleged confession. Both Colyer and February pleaded the existence of such an affidavit. February questioned very closely, said that every admitted made by Colyer and Coyle was untrue, and had been made public and that in none of them did Colyer confess to the killing.

Jury Probes Vice Reports.

In an atmosphere pregnant with excitement and allusion so threatening that Solicitor General Dorsey was forced to appoint a deputy sheriff to preserve peace in his office, the Fulton County Grand Jury continued its investigation of vice conditions in Atlanta Thursday morning.

Gathered in the ante-room to where hearings are being conducted by the Chief of Police, Chief Lanford, Police Chief Charles Thomas B. Felder, for the one and only Chief of Police, Chief Lanford, Police Chief Charles B. Felder, A. B. Colyer and G. C. February, for the other, were present, crowding the office and adding to the general uneasiness that prevailed.

The first session of the morning concluded with the arrest of Colyer. The hearing will be held this time without bail. Colyer will be taken to the Knoxville Building to testify before the Grand Jury.

The warrant is a duplicate of that served upon Colyer by Chief of Police Beavers some weeks ago charging him with the possession of a concealed weapon. When Colyer was released, when regulation papers failed to be taken out for his arrest, he will be permitted to testify before the Grand Jury, and then will be thrown into a cell until the Knoxville authorities receive their report.

Chief of Detectives Lanford was the first witness to appear before the Grand Jury.

We have heard this not once, but many times these last few weeks since the season for sashes and ribbon trimmings has opened in earnest.

And not only are they the prettiest, but they are most remarkably priced, due to some smart buying that we did right in front of the season.

- Broaded and Flowered Ribbons at 49c a yard, doubtless the most unusual values we have known at this price. Six and eight inches wide, the flowered ones in colorings that seem hand-painted and the broads are rich—pinks, light blues, lavenders, Nile, mais and white.
New Bulgarian Sashes, $2.00 to $4.50, fringed and embroidered ends, wanted right now to add a touch of color to white frocks and for trimming hats.
Messaline Ribbons at 25c a yard. Every color is here and the quality of messaline is that soft quality that is not easily crushed. They are six inches wide.
Warp Print Ribbons at 35c a yard. Compare them with ribbons you have formerly considered premium value at 50c a yard. They are five and six inches wide and the colorings and patterns are exquisite.

A Fine Bit of Embroidery News The Gist of It Is Splendid Savings

Told briefly—but the most elaborate telling of it would not affect the values; the woman who reads this simple announcement will sense the unusual merits of this occasion—the good news reads like this—

Swiss and Nainsook Baby Sets Half-Price

The edges are three to eight inches wide. The insertions are one-half inch to one and one-half inches wide.

Then there are ribbon beadings and the finest of little entire-doux. Patterns—you will call them "sweet" and picture at once the charmingest dresses, waists and underwear that they will make.

Regularly 20c to 85c a yd. Now 10c to 42 1-2c a yd.

$16.50 Embroidered Robe Patterns $10.00

Here's a summer frock, a charming summer frock at a saving of $6.50! Batiste and Voile robes in white and colors embroidered in colors. The embroidery shows in borders, blind patterns—dots of various sizes, florals, sprays—choose from pink, light blue, tan, lavender.

A Sale of Art Goods

Notable among the art goods that have their prices reduced to effect a brisk clear-away are Royal Society Packages

And Peri Luster packages. Included are combination suits, skirts, misses' gowns, scarfs, pillow covers, baby jackets, pin trays and the like with the floss for the embroidering.

These were regularly $1.75, $1.50, $1.00, 75c, 25c. Now they are $1.00, 75c, 50c, 25c, 10c.

AL HINGES PAPER MYSTERY ON TEST

Action Delayed - Until Chemists Report on Search for Poison in Vital Organs.

By COLE E. MORGAN.
JACKSONVILLE, June 5.—Every step in closing up the Patner insurance mystery now hangs on the reports of chemical and pathological analysis of Patner's vital organs by Baltimore chemists, and to-day matters are at a standstill at the Jacksonville end. Neither the Coroner, insurance agents, the family nor the E. C. Patner Fertilizer Company is making a move, and none is in prospect until Baltimore is heard from. A veil of secrecy seems to shroud developments in Baltimore.

The will of Patner will be filed late in a afternoon. The widow, daughter and Attorney W. S. Williams Phillips' office at 1 o'clock this afternoon and ascertained the manner in which it proceeded. It is said the estate, exclusive of insurance, amounts to $1,000,000.

Insurance Men Await Tests.
State agents of several of the insurance companies interested were in conference yesterday afternoon, but took no action because of the failure to hear from Baltimore, planning to meet again when the report comes.

Patner's place in two civic bodies has been filled by the election of Zach Anderson as Port Commissioner and Dr. W. H. Simpson on the Board of Trade's foreign commerce committee.

"A Deano. Never heard of it? Well, here it is: Get a tall glass, a bottle of grape juice, a bottle of ginger ale, some ice, a long spoon and a sprig of mint. Fill the glass just half full of grape juice. Then pour in the ginger ale, as fast as possible. Give it a couple of whisks with the spoon, drop in a little crushed mint, and then—'cock your elbow.'"

"Twenty-five cents, for you!" said the clerk, as the man smacked his lips.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—"If you are going to have anything to do with politics, don't let the pessimists lead you to believe that everybody and everything connected with American politics is corrupt. There is no truth in it."

FRANK'S COOK DENIES AFFIDAVIT GIVEN OUT BY POLICE

Utter repudiation of the affidavits which she was alleged to have sworn to incriminating conversations in the home of Leo M. Frank, indicted for the slaying of Mary Phagan, was made Thursday by Minola McKnight, negro cook for the accused factory superintendent and his wife's parents.

The woman denies absolutely every statement attributed to her by the police, and denies that she even signed the paper made public by the police.

The 'Georgian' printed the McKnight affidavit to its readers with the distinct admonition that it must not be accepted as credible evidence until passed on in a court of law. The affidavit was so full of strange inconsistencies and the need for some explanation was so apparent that a further investigation was decided upon.

The cook's statement, giving the cause a new and startling turn, is therefore presented just as the police report was—of "EXACTLY" words and not as evidence. It is an utter and absolute repudiation of the affidavit printed Wednesday and which purported to have been signed and sworn to by her.

She denied unequivocally that she had made the startling statement in the alleged affidavit which might send Leo Frank to the gallows could her truth be established beyond a doubt.

Repudiated the alleged affidavit as a whole and in detail. She made her denials willingly and emphatically. There was no hesitation in her refusal. Her first comment on the alleged affidavit constituted a complete and absolute denial of its truth.

Her statements were made at her home in the rear of 351 Pulliam Street. Only her husband, Albert McKnight, and the Georgian reporter were present. No member of the Frank family was about to influence her replies in any manner. If any influence could have been exerted it would have been in the opposite direction, as it was her husband who was said indirectly to have furnished the information which resulted in her arrest and the three hours "third degree" in the office of Chief Lanford.

McKnight, however, furnished another sensation by declaring that he never had heard his wife say those things which he is reported to have told at the hardware shop of Beck & Orage, and which resulted in her arrest.

She Had No Attorney.
The McKnight woman even went so far as to say that she had no attorney. Yet the affidavit she is alleged to have signed said:

"I, the undersigned, of my own free will and in the presence of Mr. Gordon, your attorney"

To the 'Georgian,' the McKnight woman declared that she did not know who Mr. Gordon was.

"I ain't got no lawyer," said God; He's my lawyer," she cried, raising her right hand toward heaven. "You jus' tell them in the paper. You jus' tell them I ain't got no lawyer," said God.

"Did you sign any affidavit in the office of Chief Lanford?" was the first question that was asked the McKnight woman.

ACCUSED MURDER'S WIFE MAKES FIRST PUBLIC STATEMENT IN CASE

Following the complete denial by Minola McKnight, cook in the household of Leo M. Frank, of the statements she is alleged to have made in the sensational police affidavit given out Wednesday, Mrs. Leo M. Frank Thursday made her first public statement on the Mary Phagan mystery.

Mrs. Frank makes an eloquently pathetic defense of her husband and attacks Solicitor General Dorsey's methods in the securing of evidence, charging torture and a deliberate determination to distort facts.

Mrs. Frank denies absolutely that her husband in any way demanded himself so as to indicate he had been involved in a tragedy on the day Mary Phagan was slain or any other day. Here is Mrs. Frank's complete statement:

Atlanta, Ga., June 5, 1913.

Editor The Georgian—Sir: The action of the Solicitor General in arresting and imprisoning our family cook because she would not voluntarily make a false statement against my innocent husband brings a limit to patience.

This wrong is not chargeable to a detective acting under the necessity of restoring his own reputation against attacks in newspapers, but of an intelligent, trained lawyer, whose sworn duty is as much to protect the innocent as to punish the guilty. My information is that this solicitor has admitted that no crime is charged against this cook and that he had no legal right to have her arrested and imprisoned.

The following statement from The Atlanta Journal undertakes to give the history of the arrest up to the time the woman was carried to the police station in the patrol wagon, weeping and shouting in a hysterical condition.

The negro was arrested at the Bell residence shortly after noon Monday upon the order of Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey.

She was carried to the Solicitor's office and that official with Detectives Campbell and Barnes examined her for more than an hour. The woman grew hysterical during the vigorous examination, and finally was led from the Solicitor's office to the police patrol, weeping and shouting: "I am going to hang and I don't know a thing about it."

They tortured her for four hours with the well-known third degree process, in the manner and with the result stated in The Atlanta Constitution of June 4, as follows:

Her husband, who was also carried to the police station at noon, was freed a short while before his wife left the prison. He was present during the third degree of four hours under which she was placed in the afternoon.

After she had been quizzed to a point of exhaustion, Secretary O. C. Febery, attached to Chief Lanford's office, was summoned to hear her statement in full.

It was the longest statement made by the woman since her connection with the mystery. It will be used, probably, in the Attacks Solicitor Dorsey.

That the Solicitor, sworn to maintain the law, should thus falsely arrest one against whom he has no charge and whom he does not even suspect and torture her contrary to the law, is for her to give evidence tending to swear away the life of an innocent man, is beyond belief.

Where will this end? My husband and my family and myself are the innocent sufferers now; but who will be the next to suffer? I suppose the witnesses tortured will be confined to the class who are not able to employ lawyers to relieve them from the torture in time to prevent their being forced to give false affidavits, but the free sworn away may come from any class.

It will be noted that the plan is to apply the torture until the desired affidavit is wrung from the sufferer. Then it ends, but not before.

It is to be hoped that no person can be convicted of murder in any civilized country on evidence wrung from witnesses by torture. Why, then, does the Solicitor continue to apply the third degree to produce testimony? How does he hope to get the jury to believe it? He can have only one hope, and that is to keep the jury from knowing the method to which he has resorted. Of course, if he can torture witnesses into giving the kind of evidence he wants against my innocent husband in this case, he can torture them into giving evidence against any other man in the community in either this or any other case. I can see only one way that is to let the public know exactly what this officer of the law is doing, and trust, as I do trust, to the sense of fairness and justice of the people.

CHALLENGES FELDER TO PROVE HIS CHARGE

Attorney Reiterates Graft Accusations Following Lanford's Defense—Offers More Proof.

Newport A. Lanford, Chief of Detectives, issued a statement Thursday morning stating Colonel Thomas B. Felder, or anyone, to substantiate the charges of graft made against him and his department in the Grand Jury proceedings of five conditions and alleged corruption in the detective and police departments.

"I defy Felder, or anyone, to prove to the Grand Jury that the charges of graft have ever gone into the detective department, and I defy him to substantiate one of his insinuations against me. He can't do it, and he knows it."

Colonel Felder, in turn, reiterated Thursday morning every charge of corruption he has made against Chief Lanford and his detectives. He said he had presented a great amount of evidence along this line to the Grand Jury and was in readiness to present more when that body called him at its session today.

"I have given the Grand Jury a great number of facts in this matter and I think they are beginning to see things about it as a great many people in Atlanta see them."

"The next Sunday's issue of the Atlanta papers I will issue a statement setting forth in full the foundation of every statement I have made and showing the people how corrupt their Chief of Detectives really is. I will not comment here on how a failure he is as a detective. When William J. Burns reads some of his marvelous deductions in the Phoenix case, the great detective will bow his head in shame and pronounce himself a timid amateur."

"My statement will substantiate every charge I have made beyond any shadow of a doubt."

Colonel Felder, Chief Lanford, A. S. Colyer, Jr., G. C. Peabody, Chief Inspectors and the witnesses in the Phoenix case, with the exception of George Dentley, the stenographer, were in the witness room of the Grand Jury when that body convened Thursday morning.

Ray, Nat. Reach, Photograph.

Although witnesses were before the Grand Jury Thursday morning, the stenographer in the Phoenix case, Foreman L. H. Beck, intimated that it was doubtful if this phase of the probe could be reached during the day.

Sensational disclosures of alleged conditions existing in sections of East Harris and Ivy Streets, the foreman intimated, had determined the jury to make a more exhaustive investigation along this line before anything else would be taken up. Some of the witnesses, he said, would be quizzed on vice conditions and held under subpoena until such a time as the stenographer could not be reached.

Colonel Felder will go before the Grand Jury again during the day, but it will be in connection with his charges of corruption in the police department and the evidence he has submitted of houses of ill fame.

Gentry Not To Be Feared.

A. H. Colyer, Jr., and G. C. Peabody were summoned at the request of Chief Lanford to the Grand Jury room when the body went into executive session. Gentry, the stenographer, could not be reached, but the deputy expected to find him during the day. Colonel Felder said the young man had been run out of town by the alleged district commissioner, but Chief Lanford said he knew where the young man was and would produce him at the proper time.

It developed that J. E. Shanks, agent for the Southern Express Company, was not questioned about shipment of whisky into Atlanta, he was stated by one of the deputies. Witnesses. It developed that Mr. Shanks secured a Police Commissioner's license after Young, real estate agent, had a heavy run at many of the bars.

Girl $13,000 Bequest

LEXINGTON, KY., June 5.—Mrs. Blanche B. Mahaffey, a Cincinnati resident, has agreed to accept $13,000 in settlement of the Willamett estate, which she will receive the same amount.

Charmed with the singing of Mr. Mahaffey, Horace Wilson, former Secretary of the Kentucky Fright Horse Breeders' Association, willed her his entire estate, valued at about $13,000.

Charles Wilson, his brother, consented on the ground that the singer used undue influence over his brother.

Willem, a Socialist member of the Chamber of Deputies, overturned. M. Briand was pinned beneath the machine and one of his shoulders was dislocated.

Willem was only slightly hurt. Later M. Briand charged that, before releasing him from the overturned car, Willem secured his camera and photographed the impromised statesman lying in the dust.

"Dr. William II" Is Kaiser's Next Title

BERLIN, June 5.—"Dr. William II" will be the title the Kaiser will assume to wear after his silver jubilee. The eleven great technical colleges of Germany propose to surround the Emperor's services to the cause of science and industry by bestowing the honors cause upon him.

Colonel Felder, Chief Lanford, A. S. Colyer, Jr., G. C. Peabody, Chief Inspectors and the witnesses in the Phoenix case, with the exception of George Dentley, the stenographer, were in the witness room of the Grand Jury when that body convened Thursday morning.

Ray, Nat. Reach, Photograph.

Although witnesses were before the Grand Jury Thursday morning, the stenographer in the Phoenix case, Foreman L. H. Beck, intimated that it was doubtful if this phase of the probe could be reached during the day.

Sensational disclosures of alleged conditions existing in sections of East Harris and Ivy Streets, the foreman intimated, had determined the jury to make a more exhaustive investigation along this line before anything else would be taken up. Some of the witnesses, he said, would be quizzed on vice conditions and held under subpoena until such a time as the stenographer could not be reached.

Colonel Felder will go before the Grand Jury again during the day, but it will be in connection with his charges of corruption in the police department and the evidence he has submitted of houses of ill fame.

Gentry Not To Be Feared.

A. H. Colyer, Jr., and G. C. Peabody were summoned at the request of Chief Lanford to the Grand Jury room when the body went into executive session. Gentry, the stenographer, could not be reached, but the deputy expected to find him during the day. Colonel Felder said the young man had been run out of town by the alleged district commissioner, but Chief Lanford said he knew where the young man was and would produce him at the proper time.

It developed that J. E. Shanks, agent for the Southern Express Company, was not questioned about shipment of whisky into Atlanta, he was stated by one of the deputies. Witnesses. It developed that Mr. Shanks secured a Police Commissioner's license after Young, real estate agent, had a heavy run at many of the bars.

CITIZENS HEADS DETECTIVES URGE BOND IN WATER ISSUE OF 5 MILLION

Every Department Chief to Make Request for Heavy Appropriation for Work.

A bond issue of nearly $5,000,000 for what are declared to be imperatively needed improvements is urged in recommendations made by W. G. Humphrey, chairman of the Finance Committee, by heads of city departments.

The Finance Committee, it was understood, intended to recommend the issuance of from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000, but the needs of the city as shown by department heads aggregate at least $4,000,000, possibly $5,000,000.

Most of the special agents and inspectors sent here by the insurance companies have completed their work, as far as it is possible at this time, and have left Jacksonville. The companies are now awaiting the results of the analysis of Palmetto vital organs, a report on which is expected here to-morrow afternoon from Baltimore.

The insurance companies do not mean to show their hand until after the coroner's inquest is concluded next week. They are waiting the evidence to be brought out in that hearing before publicly outlining their plan of action.

It is known, however, that the investigation made by the detectives has made additional color to the suicide theory.

Thus far the Palmer family have not claimed for the insurance carried by the dead man, nor has it been probable that they will.

The death certificates signed by the family physicians read: "Cause of death unknown." Will reports later.

These physicians, like the insurance companies, are awaiting the results of the analysis.

Likes Children Better Than Dogs

Mrs. Whitman Now Very Domestic
She Sells Her $100,000 Pets

Mrs. Malcolm D. Whitman and two of the dogs.

LIFE OF MARRIAGE HANGS IN BALANCE

Suffragette, Trampled by King's Horse in Attempt to Stop Derby, Senseless 24 Hours.

BOSTON, June 5.—A $100,000 kennel of prize dogs is worth nothing at all, if one can have two red teeth in his children. This is the decision of Mrs. Malcolm Whitman, the California girl who was Jennie Atkinson Crocker before she married the Brookline man. Mrs. Whitman is worth $100,000, and before her marriage her kennel of dogs was the delight of her life. They were valued at $100,000, and she spent hours with them every day. Whenever she went three or four blooded dogs followed her.

Mr. Whitman had two children by his former wife. Malcolm, the boy, is four years old. His sister, Jennie, is five.

It was not long after the wedding before the two babies were calling Mrs. Whitman "Mother," and running to her with their little bruises and scratches to be kissed or their broken toys to be mended.

Mrs. Whitman forgot her dogs in the delight of serving these little ones—and now she has given away or sold practically every one of the sixty-three animals she prized so dearly.

Mr. Whitman, too, has given up one of the joys of the days before he was married. He was a champion tennis player in those days, and spent an hour or two on the courts almost every day. But since his marriage he has given up this sport and is devoting himself to his business and his wife.

Friends of the couple say their marriage has worked a wonderful change in her. It is charged they are the best friends of social events and go out now only with their intimate friends and for the quieter moments that now appeal to them.

Two Held at Slavers.

AUGUSTA, Ga., June 5.—John and Jim Stumper were arrested here yesterday on the charge of violating the white slave act. It is charged they were taken to the Georgia coast to bring back to the States a young girl, brought from Tennessee into Georgia for immoral purposes. The young woman is said to be in Atlanta now.

'Boxed Kaiser's Ears,' Says Lady Macdonnell

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. LONDON, June 5.—Lady Macdonnell, in her book, "Reminiscences of Diplomatic Life," tells how she once boxed the Kaiser's ears.

The incident occurred when Lady Macdonnell was living in Berlin. Wilhelm then was Crown Prince, and she was a frequent attendant at his levees, and usually afterward played checkers with the hostess. She says:

"On one occasion he accused me of cheating. I became infuriated, and, mindful of his high estate, I impulsively leaned across the table and boxed his ears."

Comes From Brooklyn, N. Y., to Aid Her Son, and Stands Firmly by Him.

With the time when Leo M. Frank will go on trial for the murder of Mary Phagan rapidly approaching, perhaps no greater reinforcement to the accused parent factory superintendent in facing his ordeal has been made than that in the person of his mother, who is now in Atlanta at the Selig house.

Mrs. Frank came on from Brooklyn, where she makes her home, and where Frank himself formerly resided. She will remain until after the trial.

A woman of considerable age, Mrs. Frank has shown wonderful bravery in coming to share her son's burden. Stands by Son.

Mrs. Frank has taken her place in the Selig household as the pillar of cheerfulness and hope, friends of the family declare. Her unshaken confidence in the ultimate release of her son, despite the horrible accusations made against him, is said to have given her the strength to stand firm in her husband's household.

Since her arrival the mother has thrown aside every interest except that centered in her son. She reads everything that is obtainable regarding the case, and she has posted on it as anyone of the many who have followed the local reports of the mystery since its start.

Mrs. Frank has visited her son and at the home of her son's parents-in-law, and she has been comforted by their daughter.

Mrs. Frank is a woman of remarkable intelligence and understanding. She has introduced many variations into the Selig home to draw off the monotony of discussion, which has paralyzed all else in the family.

That Mrs. Frank will attend her son's trial is almost certain. Her good cheer is looked upon by all who have met her as an invaluable support for Frank, whose confidence has seemed somewhat to break down his former health.

MRS. WILSON JOINS EUGENIC CAMPAIGN

Other Wives of Prominent Officials Form Women's Clinic in Washington.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Mrs. John H. Edwards has launched a movement here for "healthy marriages." At her home Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. William Jennings Bryan and other well known official and society circles of Washington and discussed ways and means to prevent the marriage of the physically and mentally unfit.

A women's clinic will be held in Washington with a view to interesting women of all classes. An educational campaign is to be conducted. Practical eugenics are to be taught. Already $1000 has been contributed to help the work forward. Among the contributors and patronesses of the clinic are Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Hammond, Mrs. Bryan, Mrs. Arthur J. Parsons, Mrs. Henry C. Perkins, Mrs. Richard Waterhouse, Mrs. Julia Lathrop, Mrs. E. G. Siggers, Mrs. G. D. Lamb and Mrs. Phillip Henry.

Dr. Elmore Fisher, a hygienist as well as a physician, will be the expert on the examination of health officers of men and women before they are given marriage licenses. He will also discuss methods to prevent the birth of "unfit children."

"Eugenics," education in sex hygiene, so that the wife may know that the husband has not only worldly capital but "biological capital."

Secondly, the application of corrective measures in the economic sphere so that any marriages may be the creation of a system whereby the woman may have more intelligent selection in choosing a husband.

"The establishment of widows' pensions, so children may be reared on their own homes."

"The more universal legislation against the marriage of persons physically and mentally unfit, preferably by the State, and any certificates of law as now exist in many States."

Thirdly, the wiping out of the double moral standard of today.
