

GIANT CONTEST OF TWO DENOMINATIONS IS IMPENDING HERE

Baptists and Methodists of Atlanta District, Each With 30 Churches and 12,000 Scholars, May Meet

CHALLENGE OF BAPTISTS WILL BRING ON THE FRAY World-Stirring Engagement, for Greater Good of Man, Grows From Contest Between Two Churches

Atlanta, famed in Sunday school circles just now as the scene of a compelling contest between the Bible schools of two individual churches, is about to witness a similar contest between two whole denominations of churches.

A gigantic Sunday school contest of proportions justifying the world's attention, engaging thirty Methodist Sunday schools in and around Atlanta against thirty Baptist Sunday schools in the same territory, and pitting at the start some 24,000 scholars and officers on both sides in a tremendous campaign for the betterment and increased usefulness of all, is in the air and undoubtedly will result from the spirit of progress among Sunday schools which the Second Baptist and the First Christian churches have helped to arouse in the south with their own contest.

On Sunday week the contest between these two schools will end. On the preceding Sunday morning, one week preceding the end, they will hold a joint meeting in the auditorium to cheer each other on. But the real side by side battle will begin on Sunday, May 4, when the two schools will meet in the city of Atlanta.

That meeting itself will be great enough. The occasion of it will be the annual meeting of the Atlanta district of the Southern Baptist convention.

But even before it assembles, there falls the shadow of a coming event which will eclipse utterly both this meeting and this contest. From them a great event springs. In them is its origin.

Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, in Antioch church, the Baptist Sunday school workers of the Atlanta territory will hold their periodical meeting. At that meeting will be sounded the first note of the challenge that is to pit one great denomination against (and yet, with) another, for the extension of good work among men. It will be a challenge to compete for new members and attendance of old ones and promptness of all.

At that meeting the Sunday school workers will assemble on the following Sunday, a conference of the Baptist Sunday school superintendents and the Baptist pastors of Atlanta.

Everything has been arranged. Very little has been said. The Journal secures its information from an authoritative source.

Now there is certain to be a full attendance at that meeting in Antioch church Sunday afternoon. The magnitude of this movement, whose enthusiasm will permeate the whole of Atlanta, is nothing short of stupendous.

What the Methodists will think of it, remains to be seen. The challenge has yet to be passed. But the Baptists doubtless will find that they have tackled a worthy and right sturdy training partner. There will not be any challenge lying around loose for the trashman to cart away, after the Baptists have laid it down at the Methodist door.

But the genesis of this should not be forgotten.

It is in the present—and it's quite big enough to merit all the consideration that can be given to it.

The meeting Sunday of the champion Sunday schools which have grown up in the Second Baptist and the First Christian churches because of the contest between them, is going to be a great big affair.

The auditorium may not hold the crowds that will go there. The combined enrollment of the two schools now is approximately 6,500, and every member is expected to be in his place next Sunday. The whole auditorium, with the exception of the second balcony, has been reserved for them. The problem will be to seat the crowds of visitors from other schools of the south.

Expectation is that hundreds cannot be admitted at all. It will be a notable meeting. The "movie" men, directed by J. M. Marentine, representing the Consolidated Film company, will be on the job, to catch the march of the two schools for the "animated weeklies" of the land. Fred Patterson, of the First Christian school, will have the "movie" men in his automobile and run them up and down the long line as it marches from the Capitol grounds across the Washington street viaduct to the auditorium. The schools will assemble in their respective churches at 9:30 o'clock and march from there to the Capitol grounds.

On the Washington street side of the Capitol they will pose for their photographs, and then the "movie" men will begin to catch them.

SOUTH'S BIGGEST CHORUS.
There will be accompaniment by Dr. Percy Starnes upon the giant organ, to the hymns that the schools will sing in the auditorium, the choir forming the biggest that ever has sung anywhere in the south.

Announcement of the organization of the First Christian's marching body was made Friday. Richard A. Burnett, the furniture manufacturer, city park commissioner, has been made grand marshal of the First Christian marchers, and has named as his aides Homer Hall, of the J. K. Kamper Grocery company, and H. W. Quinn, of the United States Prison staff.

The stake of this contest between the Second Baptist and the First Christian is a picnic, to be given by loser to winner.

No one can surmise a stake of fitting proportions for the mammoth contest.

HUFF TO SEND CONGRESS FIERY ATTACK ON SPEER

Will Embody Views in Pamphlet as Grounds for Impeachment

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
MACON, Ga., May 2.—Col. W. A. Huff has notified the public in a statement, issued Friday that within the next ten days he will distribute a pamphlet, containing a severe attack on Judge Emory Speer. This pamphlet will embody charges to be later presented to congress as ground for the impeachment of Judge Speer.

Since he wrote Judge Speer a fiery letter last July, which resulted in a contempt of court rule being issued against him, Colonel Huff says he has secured evidence which he claims will support his charges.

Judge Speer yesterday signed a final decree in the fourteen-year old bankruptcy litigation. Although this decision will be appealed, Colonel Huff will in the meantime publish another letter to the judge. A part of Colonel Huff's statement today reads: "I beg to assure the public that, unless the printing press in Atlanta and Macon all break down during the next ten days, there will be something doing here, a little outside of the usual."

In this connection, I beg to call attention to the fact that for nearly fourteen years the newspapers, the lawyers, and the federal court officials of Macon have busied themselves in keeping the Huff house case well advertised and during all these years, nothing has ever been written for publication by my attorney or myself—except the two communications sent by me last July to Judge Speer. One was in the form of a personal letter addressed to him, and the other a communication addressed to "Whom it may concern."

It is also proper for me to state that only a portion of my letter to the judge was published at the time. The balance of the letter together with all other communications will now be placed before the public in pamphlet form. My time to be heard from has arrived. That I undertake to do my full duty by the subject in hand, my friends may rest assured."

FIRE AT MONTGOMERY RAZES BIG AUDITORIUM

Cause Heavy Damage—Other City Buildings Are Threatened

(By Associated Press.)
MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 2.—A fire started in the city's immense auditorium at 1:20 this afternoon and practically destroyed the auditorium. The flames spread to the adjoining city building.

The whole fire department of the city has been called out.

The fire was gotten under control at 1:40.

The auditorium was ruined, the loss reaching into the thousands.

Outside of slight damage, the municipal building escaped.

Whiskers and Bald Heads Figure in a Congressional Tilt

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Whiskers figured conspicuously in an interchange of personalities between Representative Thomas, of Kentucky, Representative Mann, of Illinois, and others in the house today while the tariff bill was pending.

Mr. Thomas, criticizing the remarks by some of the minority leaders amid convulsive laughter, referred to Republican Leader Mann as "the whiskered gentleman from Illinois."

Representative Fordney, of Michigan, as the "hairless wonder from Michigan," and Representative Murdock, of Kansas, as the "gentleman from Kansas who sports the sunset looks around the house."

Mr. Thomas advised Mr. Mann to get shaved and asserted that the minority leader consumed volumes of the Congressional Record with his "moxed metaphors and insipid gibberish, and so cost the government possibly $10,000,000 since he has been rattling around on that side of the house."

Mr. Mann ended the incident by saying that Mr. Thomas has "hair on the brain, but none on the top of his head."

"The gentleman from Kentucky, Mr. Mann added, 'says I am bewiskered. That is true, but at least I am not bewiskered.'"

J. A. McHargue Dead

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
MOULTRIE, Ga., May 2.—J. A. McHargue, Moultrie's oldest citizen, passed away Wednesday morning at the age of eighty-eight. Until a few days ago he has been able to walk up town and mingle with his friends. Mr. McHargue was a native South Carolinian. He moved to Moultrie fifteen years ago and is survived by several children and a number of grandchildren.

MILLIONAIRE FIGHTS DUEL WITH A BANDIT IN PULLMAN BERTH

Lone Bandit Falls From Train With Two Bullet Wounds Inflicted by Jesse M. Short, Mine Owner, of Joplin, Mo.

RICH MAN SERIOUSLY WOUNDED BY ROBBER

Trail of Blood for One Mile Through the Woods to River Is Left by Robber Who Escaped by Taking a Boat

(By Associated Press.)
KANSAS CITY, May 2.—Robbery of the Joplin millionaire, Jesse M. Short, was the primary object of the giant bandit who held up a Kansas City Southern passenger train in the Kansas City suburbs early today, according to the police theory.

After a pistol fight with Mr. Short in the Pullman the robber fell off the train wounded, carrying $1,000 of Short's money. The mine owner was left lying in his berth, with three bullets in his body. Physicians say Short will recover.

According to a telegram sent the police today from Grand View, Mo., by C. G. Gibson, conductor of the train, the total amount obtained was $1,100 in money and a diamond. Of this, Gibson said Mr. Short lost $1,000; W. J. Scafer, Neck City, Mo., $65; and E. A. Seaman, Eureka Springs, Ark., $35 and a diamond stud.

Conductor Gibson said the robber must have been wounded seriously, as he left clear trails of blood.

Bleeding from wounds received in a pistol battle with Short, the robber left a trail of blood as he fled. This enabled officers to follow his tracks until he arrived at the Blue river, almost a mile from the point where he jumped from the train. Here the trail stopped abruptly and his pursuers expressed the belief that he continued his flight in a boat.

The train was just pulling out of the depot when a tall man ran out into the darkness of the railroad yards and climbed up the steps of the observation car. He had a handkerchief over the lower part of his face and carried two pistols.

Oscar Allen, a negro porter, who saw him board the train, rushed out and ordered him away.

The robber covered him with his pistol and said:

"I'm going to put over a trick here. You sit down there and be quiet. I will need you."

After the train had proceeded about three miles, the robber ordered Allen to go ahead of him through the train. In the sitting room of the observation car were W. J. Scafer, of Neck City, Mo., and E. A. Seaman, of Eureka Springs, Ark. The robber's voice trembled as he demanded their valuables, but they offered no resistance and gave him money and jewelry amounting to about $200.

Preceded by the frightened negro, the robber then entered the chair car, where there were about a dozen passengers, all men.

"Hold up your hands," was the command with which the robber greeted them. The passengers readily complied.

The robber passed along collecting their money and jewelry.

The robbery of the chair car was accomplished within five minutes and the surprised passengers, obeyed the final injunction of the robber to sit down and remain quiet.

The Pullman car was entered next. After robbing two passengers from whom he secured small amounts of money, the robber came to the berth occupied by Short.

"Give me your money," the robber demanded in a whisper as he snook himself into the berth. When awakened sufficiently to realize the import of the command, Short landed over $1,000 and a large diamond stud. As the robber turned to leave, Short seized a revolver and fired through the curtains.

The robber returned the fire and both men emptied their weapons, each shooting blindly through the curtains, which were perforated by almost a dozen bullets. One bullet struck Short's forehead, another went through an arm and a third lodged in his knee.

Short fell back in his berth and the robber fled toward the rear of the train. Passengers in the other cars, aroused by the shots, followed him. They saw him climb out of the door of the observation car and drop from the train, which was just being brought to a stop. He left blood stains in the aisles and on the car platform and the passengers said he appeared to be badly hurt. It was believed that two of the bullets fired by Short struck the bandit.

C. G. Gibson, conductor in charge of the train, when he heard the shooting, declared Murdock, "believe that here is waged the closely contested battle on the tariff. It is a battle, but a sham battle."

SULZER STOCK EXCHANGE BILL KILLED IN SENATE

(By Associated Press.)
ALBANY, N. Y., May 2.—The senate judiciary committee voted today to report adversely the bill which would compel the incorporation of the New York stock exchange. The measure was recommended by Governor Sulzer and has passed the lower house.

The senate by a vote of 34 to 8 adopted the report, killing the legislation.

MANY JOIN GENERAL STRIKE IN JERSEY

PATERSON, N. J., May 2.—A general strike of laborers in four counties of New Jersey got underway today when several thousand men affiliated with the general laborers' international union failed to report for work. Leaders of the strikers assert that 15,000 men will be out by Monday. The laborers demand an increase of wages from $1.75 to $2 a day.

Good-bye Waycross Dogs

WAYCROSS, Ga., May 2.—Effective today, city policemen will enforce the dog ordinance, the official dog catcher having been dismissed yesterday. The city will save $60 a month by this plan, but it is not expected to work well, as the police have enough else to do without tagging around chasing dogs all day.

WOOL SCHEDULE WILL BE REACHED BY NIGHT

House Will Consider Cotton and Wool Before the Day Passes

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 2.—The fight over the proposed reduction of duties on citrus fruits opened today's debate on the tariff bill in the house.

Despite the pressing of the bill as rapidly as possible, the agricultural schedule, perhaps the vehicle of the last vigorous opposition by the minority, had not been finished at last night's session.

The schedules relating to wines, spirits and beverages, cotton, wool, silks, paper and sundries were all in sight early today as likely to be acted upon before the close of tonight's session, except in the contingency of an unexpected protracted struggle against free raw wool.

The California delegation in the house opposes the proposed cutting of the rates on lemons, limes, oranges and other citrus fruits, which it claims would be injurious to their industry and open the gates to the foreign fruit industry.

The main opposition is to the provision that lemons in packages exceeding five cubic feet or in bulk shall be taxed one-half of one per cent a pound. This is a cut of 50 per cent in the present tariff and the representatives of the citrus growing districts have been on guard against letting it pass without strenuous protest.

Attempts by Representative Knowland and Hayes, of California, to raise the rates on figs, raisins and olives failed. The citrus fruit paragraph brought a flood of amendments from the Republicans and Progressives in the California delegation. All were defeated.

Representative Murdock, the Progressive leader, gave notice that when the administrative provisions of the bill are reached he would propose an amendment for creation of a "trial, not sham" tariff commission.

Short fell back in his berth and the robber fled toward the rear of the train. Passengers in the other cars, aroused by the shots, followed him. They saw him climb out of the door of the observation car and drop from the train, which was just being brought to a stop. He left blood stains in the aisles and on the car platform and the passengers said he appeared to be badly hurt. It was believed that two of the bullets fired by Short struck the bandit.

ATLANTIAN OPEN HOMES TO PRESBYTERIANS OF THE U. S.

Generous Response to Call of Ladies Upon Their Own Church Members Shows Home Entertainment for 253 Added in One Day—Baptists and Methodists Close, One With 96, Other With 97

One day's progress in the canvass for home entertainment among other denominations for 500 of the 1,500 commissioners who will attend the Presbyterian joint assemblies, resulted in the listing of accommodations for 253 of them.

Below are shown, under classification by denomination, the names of those generous Atlantians who helped to swell that total.

They are included in the reports of the majority of the subcommittees that were at work Thursday. Other subcommittees are yet to be heard from upon that day's results. These workers, all of them ladies of the several leading denominations of Atlanta, were busy throughout the day, making a home-to-home call upon the members of their own churches.

"The ladies found it impossible to cover the whole territory in a day," said J. K. Orr, general chairman of the committee arranging for the coming of the Presbyterian host on May 15. "Far from exhausting their resources, they found that they hardly could begin to realize upon them, and there remain even more homes available among the 'possibilities' on their own lists, than they have secured already."

Friday, another beautiful day as to the weather, found the numerous subcommittees of the ladies at their task again.

A spirit almost of rivalry had developed among the denominations Friday morning—a rivalry to surpass others in cordiality toward the visiting Presbyterians.

The ladies who were busy upon the canvassing work, found this spirit alive and cordial response to their invitations.

The closeness of this rivalry was manifest in the totals reported Friday morning, showing that the Baptists of Atlanta had offered home entertainment for 96 of the commissioners and that the Methodists had offered to accommodate 97.

Following is a summary of the reports in hand Friday morning:

BAPTIST.
Capitol Avenue Baptist church, 4.
First Baptist church, 21.
Gordon Street Baptist church, 2.
Jackson Hill Baptist church, 2.
Oakland City Baptist church, 20.

SOLICITOR DORSEY IS MAKING INDEPENDENT PROBE OF PHAGAN CASE

Outside of Solicitor's Activity There Have Been No Developments Since the Suspects Were Transferred to Tower

GROUNDLESS RUMORS
DENIED BY OFFICIALS

Chief Lanford's Busy Running Down Tips—Coroner's Inquest Will Be Resumed on Monday Afternoon at 2

THE Atlanta Journal has published every fact and development in connection with the mysterious murder of Mary Phagan. The Journal will continue to print news of further developments and additional evidence as the investigation proceeds. No fact has been suppressed nor will any news relating to the hunt for solution of the crime be withheld from the public. Many silly reports about a confession having been made by one or both of the prisoners held on suspicion in the case have been circulated, but they are without the slightest foundation.

AN INDEPENDENT INVESTIGATION. Forces in the employ of the solicitor general, Hugh M. Dorsey, are making an independent investigation of the Phagan murder case, it was learned Friday.

The solicitor general refuses to state just how many men he has at work on the mystery or who they are. They have developed nothing, however, which he is willing to give out for publication.

The city was filled with foolish rumors throughout the morning Friday and officials were called upon to deny dozens of groundless reports.

Coroner Paul Donohoe, who has more than 100 witnesses subpoenaed, declares that the inquest will certainly be resumed at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. The coroner says that the investigation is as thorough and exhaustive as it is possible to make it and every report that reaches him is being probed.

"It is not surprising," said the coroner, "that the mystery has not been solved by this time and the fact that the crime cannot now be laid at the door of any individual and that person brought immediately to trial is no indication that the guilty party will never be brought to justice. In many instances, where the detectives have had as little to start with as in this case, it has taken them months to finally establish the guilt of the right party."

MANY DETECTIVES AT WORK. In addition to the city detectives, the Pinkertons employed by the National Pencil company, and the officers employed by the solicitor general, it is said that many other private detectives are working on the mystery.

Colonel Thomas B. Felder has been employed by a number of citizens living in the vicinity of the home of the slain girl, to assist the state in the case, and while he is making no statement, it is reported that he has a private detective agency trying to solve the mystery.

Solicitor Dorsey was in conference on Friday with a number of the city detectives, who have been assigned the task of finding Mary Phagan's murderer, and the fact that he has actively entered the case is considered the most important development of Friday.

There will certainly be no grand jury action in the matter, however, until Monday. The grand jury, which has been on duty for the past two months, was discharged Friday, and another grand jury will not be organized until Monday.

DETECTIVES NOT TALKING. Following the transfer of Leo M. Frank, superintendent of the National Pencil factory, and New Lee, night-watchman, to the county jail from police headquarters on coroner's warrants late Thursday afternoon, and the release of J. M. Gantt and Arthur Mullinax, Chief of Detectives Lanford has issued instructions to his men to talk with no one about the case, and to make direct reports to him. The chief

CHINA IS FORMALLY RECOGNIZED BY U. S.

With President Wilson and Secretary Bryan Away From Capital Recognition Given

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The new Chinese republic was formally recognized today by the United States. Charles Williams, at Peking, called that he had delivered the formal recognition, as he was authorized to do upon complete organization of the new government.

Neither President Wilson nor Secretary of State Bryan are in the capital today.

This government's action has created an interesting international situation. It brings to the point the intentions of the five other powers, nations to the six-power loan negotiation, from which the United States recently withdrew, announcing its purpose to recognize China and urging the others to do so.

It is known that some of them at least required more than a mere organization of a national legislature and that they originally were disposed to wait installation of a constitutional president.

On the other hand, the recent action of Yuan Shi Kai in concluding a loan for $125,000,000 with the five-power group is expected to prove a powerful incentive to the others to support Yuan Shi Kai by joining in China's recognition.

The formal recognition of the United States was extended when Charles Williams delivered to President Yuan Shi Kai the following message from President Wilson:

WILSON'S MESSAGE.

"The government and people of the United States of America having abundantly testified their sympathy with the people of China upon their assumption of the attributes and powers of self-government, deem it opportune at this time, when the representative national assembly has met to discharge the high duty of setting the seal of full accomplishment upon the aspirations of Chinese people, that I extend, in the name of my government and of my countrymen, a greeting of welcome to the new China thus entering into the family of nations."

"In taking this step I entertain the confident hope and expectation that in perfecting a republican form of government, the Chinese nation will attain to the highest degree of development and well being and that under the new rule all the established obligations of China which pass to the provisional government will in turn pass to and be observed by the government established by the assembly."

YUAN'S RESPONSE.

President Yuan Shi Kai responded: "In the name of the republic of China I thank you most heartily for the message of recognition. The expression of greeting and welcome which it conveys at once testifies to the American spirit of mutual helpfulness, and adds another brilliant page to the history of seventy years of uninterrupted friendly intercourse between China and the United States."

"Though unfamiliar with the republican form of government, the Chinese people are yet fully convinced of the soundness of the principles which underlies it and which is so luminously represented by your glorious commonwealth. The sole aim of the government which they have established therefore is and will be to preserve this form of government and to perfect its workings."

WAR COLLEGE STAFF ON LONG HORSEBACK RIDE

(By Associated Press.)

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., May 2.—Four hundred and twenty-five miles will be covered in the twenty-day horseback ride of the war college staff cavalcade which rode from here today on a journey over the Civil War battlefields of Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania. (By Associated Press.)

KEY WEST, Fla., May 2.—George Harding, a survivor of the Titanic disaster, who helped to row one of the lifeboats to the Carpathia, attempted suicide by jumping from the boom of a schooner here today.

His mind appears to have been affected by the horrors of that disaster. He was rescued and is in a hospital here now in a serious condition.

COLUMBUS PLANS FOR VIADUCT OVER TRACKS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

COLUMBUS, Ga., May 2.—At a meeting of representatives of the Central of Georgia Railway company, the Columbus Railroad company, and the city authorities this afternoon, Mayor Chapell is expected to issue an ultimatum to the two railroads in regard to the construction of a viaduct to do away with the dangerous crossings leading from the city to Wynnton, a fashionable residential section of Columbus. The proposed viaduct is to cost in the neighborhood of $300,000, according to the engineers, and it is proposed that these lines and the city share the cost.

BOY SCOUTS EXTINGUISH FIRE AT EASTMAN

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

CARRANZA NEVER WILL ACCEPT FELIX DIAZ

Doesn't Want Him as Compromise Candidate for President—Will Continue War

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The Carranza forces claim all the territory about Torreon by occupation. Confidential agents of the Constitutional movement here today received telegrams from Governor Carranza declaring he never would accept Felix Diaz as a compromise candidate for president, but would continue his fight.

Federal General Aubert Joins Carranza Forces

(By Associated Press.)

EAGLE PASS, Tex., May 2.—Officials of the Carranza regime announced from the constitutional headquarters at Padua Negro, today that General Aubert, the Huerta leader in northwestern Mexico, has joined forces with Governor Carranza.

Federal Gunboat Shells Coast Town of Empalme

(By Associated Press.)

NOGALES, Ariz., May 2.—Insurgent forces evacuated Empalme today after which the Mexican gunboat Guerrero began shelling the California gulf town, preliminary to a land movement from Guaymas, where the federal garrison was strongly reinforced yesterday. At Empalme are many American railway men, including Superintendent J. H. Temple, of the Southern Pacific of Mexico.

Bull in Ring Shakes Dart from Neck Into Heart of Spectator

(By Associated Press.)

VALENCE, Department of the Drome, France, May 2.—An infuriated fighting bull in the ring here today shook its head so violently in trying to rid itself of the steel tipped darts with which the banderilleros had pierced its shoulder that one of the darts was torn out of the flesh and hurled among the spectators in the amphitheater. It penetrated the heart of a young man, who was instantly killed. A moment later the matador killed the bull.

MRS. PRESTON OPPOSES VOTES FOR WOMEN

TRENTON, N. J., May 2.—Mrs. Thomas J. Preston, of Princeton, the former Mrs. Grover Cleveland, was elected vice president of the New Jersey Association Opposed to Women Suffrage, at the annual meeting here yesterday.

unless General Felix Diaz should reach an agreement with the revolutionists. Constitutional agents here believe, however, that General Aubert, the federal commander in Coahuila and Nuevo Leon is more apt to make a direct understanding with the insurgents. Arrivals from Coahuila report that General Aubert has done everything but actually assist the Carrancistas who are not prone to press the campaign against the federalists for that reason. But the situation in Chihuahua is different, largely owing to the strong feeling aroused against General Antonio Rabago on account of the killing of Abraham Gonzalez, the federal commander here.

Edwardo Hay, colonel of insurgents under Madero, arrived here today from San Antonio. Hay, who is considered one of the strongest organizers of the constitutional movement, will form representative committees along the border to deal with the political workings of the movement.

Experience Gained While In The Drug Business

I have been troubled more or less in the last five years with kidney trouble and from the experience I gained while in the drug business and from different cases where I have sold Swamp-Root with perfect satisfaction to those who purchased it, and as I never had a single complaint regarding the medicine while I was in business, I was in a position to know that it was a great preparation and it did not fail me when I used it myself. It has certainly afforded me great relief at all times that my kidneys have troubled me and I would not be without it. I always recommend Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root to my friends as I believe it to be a medicine of great curative value in the diseases for which you recommend it.

Sincerely,

D. A. KOONCE,

GET AWAY FROM LAST YEAR'S CATALOGUE IF YOU WISH TO WIN

The Campaign Editor had the use of last year's Catalogue brought forcibly to his mind yesterday by a lady contestant who called at the Booklovers' Headquarters for some information. She acknowledged that she had not read many of the Campaign stories this year, relying on her knowledge of the plan worked out last year. And working with that idea, she was only natural for her to suppose that last year's Catalogue was all right in this Campaign, until she finally discovered a number of possible titles to fit this year's pictures were not in her Catalogue at all. When the matter was explained to her, she purchased one of the new catalogues. We have made that matter plain in our stories and ads, and did not suppose there was one of the old catalogues who did not thoroughly understand that last year's catalogue would not be of any use to them; in fact, it would be misleading to them and possibly cause them to turn in a great many incorrect answers. We hope all of our contestants who are trying to go through this Campaign with the old catalogue, will come in or send into The Journal Office for the new Official Catalogue. With the aid of the new Catalogue, and your right to ten answers with each picture, there is no good reason why you cannot win one of the prizes. With the proper effort you may take home the $1,000 in gold. Remember $1,000 in Gold only weighs 4 1/2 pounds, so you will not have any trouble in carrying it and you can do wonders with it.

BOOKLOVERS' QUERIES

Manager Booklovers' Campaign, Atlanta, Journal.

Dear Sir: Please answer following questions through your columns and greatly oblige:

1. Can the same title be used for more than one picture when same seems a possible answer to more than one picture? Yes.
2. When either Title or Author's name is incorrectly printed in the Title Catalogue can same be used as listed? Yes.
3. Is it possible to ask regarding the scenery in any picture when same is too vaguely drawn by the artist, such as Ice or Snow or Rocks? Yes.
4. If a winning title has been used by more than one author as the title of his work, will it be necessary to list both, thus increasing the number of guesses rather unnecessarily? No.
5. Will the pictures all actually suggest some title, or will there be some "catch" pictures? Yes; all pictures fairly represent titles.
Thanking you for your kindness in answering above at your earliest convenience, I am, Sir, very respectfully,
Inquirer: Last year's Catalogue will not do in this Campaign. It would be a waste of your time to go through this Catalogue depending on the old Catalogue for titles. A CONTESTANT.

COSMOPOLITAN LIFE HAS ANNOUNCED FOR BUSINESS

Insurance Company Has Very Strong Backing of Well Known Financiers

There is published Friday the first statement of the Cosmopolitan Life Insurance Company of Atlanta, Ga., which begins business under the most favorable auspices and with strong financial backing.

This statement, submitted in detail, has received the approval of the insurance commission of Georgia, and upon it license has been issued to the company of date May 1, 1913. Under this license it has already actively begun business.

The company begins business with actual available assets of $268,575.70, of which $260,026 is capital stock and surplus, and $108,529.70 undivided profits acquired through the purchase of the assets of the old company.

In addition to the foregoing splendid financial showing, the company is said to have over $2,000,000 of outstanding insurance on its books acquired from the old company, with no agency charge against it. At the most conservative value as an asset, this is said to be worth to the company at least $25,000.

One of the most remarkable features in connection with the organization of the Cosmopolitan Life Insurance Company is that its entire capital stock, it is said, subscribed at two for one, that is $100 to surplus for each $100 of stock, was sold, chiefly through the efforts of James O. Wynn, the new company's president, without one penny of charge against it. It is most unusual to see a life insurance company organized and started in business without a considerable percentage being paid for the sale of stock; but in this instance, it is said that every dollar paid in for stock and surplus has gone right into the company's treasury.

Another interesting feature as well as strengthening feature is the $108,529.70 of undivided profits. This does not include $137,478.62 of stock notes which the company holds and upon which it is estimated $50,000 will be realized. Thus while it was sold at two for one the company points out that this will make the book value of the company's stock from the start, three for one.

The Cosmopolitan Life Insurance Company of Atlanta, Ga., is a new company. It has no connection, whatever, with the old company of the same name and has had none except to purchase its assets at public sale.

As a further evidence of the faith of the stockholders in the new organization and its possibilities, they state that on the day of organization they subscribed to more than $50,000 of life insurance in the company against which there will be no commission charges.

President Wynn is recognized throughout the south as one of the most capable and successful insurance managers. He has a wide circle of friends and acquaintances, and it is not unusual that the company should have had many applications for agencies from men of the highest grade in Georgia and other southern states. The officers believe that within a very short time the company will have a strong agency force at work.

It is stated that the purpose of the company to be as liberal as possible with its agents and policy holders consistent with the law and careful management, but it is determined that conservatism shall mark the conduct of its business, and the well known Atlanta insurance men and financiers who are back of it give every assurance of safety in this respect.

THEATERS

(Criticism of local performances at the local theaters are written by members of the Journal staff. All other matter appearing in this column is furnished by the theater managers.)

FORSYTH—Vaudeville.
LYRIC—"Billy the Kid."
ATLANTA—"A Butterfly on the Wheel."
BIJOU—Vaudeville and pictures.

There will be but four more performances that will record the re-establishment of vaudeville at the busy Forsyth, and if the attendance keeps up to the pace that has been set since Monday—and it appears that it will be eclipsed—the season is going to start with a record that is going to be hard to follow.

All the acts are pleasing, the bill collectively is one of the best of the season of vaudeville, and there are features that are returning on Saturday night to fill honor positions in the Broadway vaudeville houses.

Coming next week, commencing with matinee on Monday, will be a bill headed by Gus Edwards' Kid Kabaret, one of the best acts of modern vaudeville. This company of seven girls and eight boys, all of whom have been trained by the favorite song writer, will present the same act that has been a great card all this season in New York and Chicago. The idea is founded on the cabaret craze in New York and Mr. Edwards has arranged new song numbers and new ideas that will make the headline a drawing card that will have an extreme value.

The regular theatrical season at the Lyric will be brought to a close on Saturday night. There will be just three more performances of "Billy the Kid" and the cordial reception that has been given this play during the week doubtless will bring good audiences for the remainder of the engagement. "Billy the Kid" is a melodrama pure and simple, with plenty of thrills and dramatic climaxes, and judging from the applause that is heard nightly at the Lyric, patrons of this house are enjoying the performances thoroughly. "Billy the Kid" will be the closing attraction at the Lyric, which will be closed temporarily pending the organization of a splendid stock company to present the very best plays that have been recent successes in New York.

Miss Billy Long and the members of her company at the Atlanta have returned to the city after two nights, and will be seen in "A Butterfly on the Wheel" again tonight. This sensational divorce play has scored a tremendous hit, and the advance sale for tonight, Saturday's matinee and Saturday night, indicates that large crowds will see each performance. The matinee is at 25 cents, and a packed house is certain to greet the players.

Next week the company will be seen

BUSINESS MEN FORM LOCAL SCOUT COUNCIL

Boy Scouts in Atlanta Organized With Leading Men at Head

At a meeting held Thursday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. parlors, the organization of a local scout council was perfected and officers were named. David Woodward was unanimously elected president, Robert L. Foreman, vice president, and Joseph D. Greene, treasurer. The secretary, whose office will be combined with that of scout commissioner, will be selected Friday afternoon by the executive committee.

The gathering was enthusiastic, and the men present pledged themselves to make the local boy scout movement a success. Every scout master of troops in the city was present.

Those who were selected to serve on the council are David Woodward, Robert L. Foreman, P. J. Paxon, Joseph D. Greene, Judge E. C. Kontz, Willis M. Everett, Dr. Conklin, Dr. Elza B. Thomas, Dr. R. L. Hope, H. M. Atkinson, J. E. Raley, P. S. Hanahan, Judge Joseph H. Lumpkin, Joe Logan, V. Luther Hudson, Harrison Jones, Asa G. Candler, Bayne Gibson and Philip Weitzer.

Those appointed as members of the executive committee were Dr. Conklin, chairman; W. Luther Hudson, Harrison Jones, Asa G. Candler, Bayne Gibson and Philip Weitzer. This committee will serve also as the boys' court of honor and will have charge of all examinations of scouts for merit badges.

In the first coedy of the engagement, a play that has been seen here but one time, "The Girl from Out Yonder." This comedy is immense and gives Miss Long the best opportunity of the season. She first appears on the stage in a rough sailor boy's costume and is about the cutest girl-boy seen since Billie Burke first donned trousers. Mr. Vail, the leading man, has a part that suits him, while other members of the company are well cast and some excellent performance are certain from the very opening. Monday night. Seats are now on sale for the week.

The Glory of the Store is Its New Waists---Always!

Unless You Were in the Waist Section To-day You Have No Idea of the Pretty Styles at $1 & $2.50

Women who wish to appear at their best Sunday come to Rich's Beauty Parlors Saturday

Fresh, attractive styles are the life of a waist department.

So five of the best makers in the country forward us new styles as fast as they originate.

Some came in yesterday—beauties every one.

All direct from the maker's needle, replete with freshly coined style ideas. Wish you could see them, especially the

Wonderfully Attractive Blouses at $2.50

Charming models of crepes, voiles and lingers. Captivating copies of Paris-born styles—delightful New York originations and foreign adaptations. Various in high or low neck; long or short sleeves. The new lay down collars are especially pretty, particularly a new style embroidered in Bulgarian colors.

More Than a Score of Styles in Waists to Sell at $1.

We've handled waists since they first became fashionable. Never had styles as pretty as these. Choice materials in voiles, marquisettes and lingers; dainty trimmings in laces and embroideries. Waists in high or low neck; long or short sleeves. Some all white, some with black silk tie, some with ratine collar and cuffs in white, pink, blue and lavender.

Mannish shirts $1—include fresh looking soisettes, madras, dimities and liness. All white or with neat colored stripes.

Crepe de Chine Waists Just In

Splendid quality white crepe de chine. Soft, crinkly and washable. Luxurious looking. Trimmed with lace frills and ruffle and buttons $8.50.

Another style has flowered collar and cuffs and tie, and is trimmed with flowered crystal buttons. $7.50.

A white cotton crepe is French hand embroidered in spaced floral designs in colors. Stunning. $8.50.

Sweeping Millinery Clearance at $10

Former Prices $15 to $22.50

Practically every dark colored hat in stock, regardless of whether its former price was $15, $17.50, $20 or $22.50 is offered tomorrow at just $10.

Read us aright, this offer refers to dark colored hats only. All black hats and the new light colored summer hats that have just come down from our workrooms are excepted.

It is just because we want room to display lingerie and strictly summer millinery that we make this offer. The hats include smart tailored hats, prettily trimmed hats for street wear, natty styles for traveling. Individual models of distinction and charm and choice just $10.

$3.95 to $7 Untrimmed Shapes at $1.95

The wholesaler is planning his summer campaign. Means to specialize on lingerie hats. So he closed out all his untrimmed straw shapes at a next-to-nothing price. Being his largest account in the South, he gave us first chance. Sold. And as you buy as we buy you can choose tomorrow at just $1.95.

There are choice milans, hems and real horse-hairs in large, medium and small shapes. All the favored styles including the smart pokes in regulation shapes and with irregular brims. White, black, natural and colors.

(Millinery, Second Floor.)

23c Sale of Neckwear

After filling orders the maker had overplus lot of neckwear—a dozen or two of this; a dozen or two of that. We took them all over at a low figure; tomorrow we run them out at the "skiddo" price of 23c. Lots consist of 25c, 35c and 50c neckwear in fresh, crisp new silk crepes, cotton crepes, fine nets, laces, etc. All in the smart "Sunshine Maid" shapes, prettily lace and medallion trimmed. Choice 23c.

75c and $1 Net Yokes 49c

Please do not confuse with the ordinary net yokes of cheap net and poor finish. These are of fine quality net and shadow lace, edges neatly finished in tape or lace. Cream or white.

Here is the Solution in Our

May Clearance of Silks

—For this May Clearance of Silks we plan prodigiously. —Buy up great quantities of surplus stocks.

—Many of the silks thus bought are taffetas. They haven't been in favor, and we got them at a low figure.

—But late Paris advices indicate the return to favor of these soft chiffon taffetas, and now the manufacturers and jobbers would be glad to buy them back for more than the prices they sold them. But no—these silks are for our customers—every last inch. There are

$1 Chiffon Taffetas at 59c

A beautiful quality of pliant chiffon taffeta for all dress purposes. Retailers everywhere at $1 a yard. Solid colors or changeables. 26 inches.

$1 & $1.25 Fcy. Taffetas 66c

Soft, fashionable taffeta in the pretty Dolly Madison and spaced floral designs; stripes, warp prints, Jacquards and changeable styles. 24 and 27 inches wide.

$1 Firm Dress Taffetas 59c

A soft, lively silk, firm, but supple, with wonderful draping qualities. One of the finest dress taffetas in the market today; retails at all the better stores for $1. Solid colors in white, light blue, Alice, navy, gendarme, Copenhagen, violet, lilac, tan, red, garnet, reseau, maize, pink, grey, etc., and the same combinations and colors in changeables. 27 inches.

$1 Yd. Wide Black Taffeta 77c

This is our famous "Yellow Edge" which we always sell at $1. As long as 10 pieces last the price is 77c.

69c for our famous 89c "Purple Edge" 1 yard-wide black taffeta. Just 10 pieces.

$1.50 to $2.25 Taffetas 88c

A tremendous assortment of fine chiffon taffetas in about every conceivable street and evening shade. (No black or white.) All a full yard wide. Not a piece in the lot that formerly sold for less than $1.50; many worth $1.75 to $2.25. Choice 88c.

Please Note Taffetas are just one item in this May Silk Clearance. There are as good—and many better values—in foulards, chiffoncloths, silk voiles, crepes, crepe de chine, kimono silks, silk suitings, wash silks, pongees, messalines, etc. Sale started Thursday with silks that would aggregate at retail more than thirty thousand dollars. So we have plenty left even though we are selling that vast quantity for about sixteen thousand five hundred dollars.

SOLICITOR DORSEY IS MAKING INDEPENDENT PROBE OF PHAGAN CASE

is himself very reticent about developments in the case. He declares that his orders were issued because the few statements made by himself and his officers have been repeatedly exaggerated, and in many instances he and his men have been misquoted.

The transfer of the two principal figures in the case to the tower has resulted in things again assuming a normal attitude about police headquarters. The detectives Friday morning were busy running down the many rumors and "tips" which have come to their ears. The officers are literally bombarded by "tips" and despite the fact that practically all of them prove valueless when investigated, the officers have scattered in every direction, shifting every report to the bottom.

On reports from sources which he considered reliable, Governor Brown Thursday night advised Adjutant General Nash to communicate with officers of the Fifth regiment with a view to having the national guard in readiness should the necessity arise.

The governor states that he did not go to the extent of suggesting that the national guard be mobilized. He simply recommended that the adjutant general request the officers of the regiment to be prepared for such steps, in the event current rumors were to materialize.

The governor also communicated with the jail authorities and with the police. In carrying out the suggestion of the executive, Colonel E. E. Pomeroy gathered a few members of the Fifth regiment to the armory. No efforts were made to mobilize troops and by 11:30 o'clock those who had reported were allowed to return to their homes.

In the meantime an investigation had developed that the rumors were groundless. Deputy sheriffs in automobiles rushed over the entire city looking for any excitement, and they declare that never had Atlanta been more quiet.

REASON FOR TRANSFER.

Mr. Frank and the negro Lee were transferred to the tower on the corner's warrants, because, it is said, there is considerable doubt of the legality of holding them at police headquarters, as both have been arrested in connection with a state, not a city case.

The warrants are similar in all respects, save that in one Leo M. Frank, superintendent of the pencil factory, is named, and in the other Newt Lee, the negro night watchman, is named.

The warrant against Mr. Frank reads as follows:

"Georgia, Fulton county: To the Jailor of Said County: Greetings:

"You are hereby required to take into custody the person of Leo M. Frank, superintendent of the pencil factory, and to retain the said Leo M. Frank in your custody pending a further investigation of the death of said Mary Phagan, to be held by the said coroner of said county.

"Given under my hand and official signature this the first day of May, 1913.

(Signed) "PAUL DONEHO, "Coroner."

INQUEST DELAYED.

Mr. Frank and the nightwatchman were transferred to the tower immediately after Coroner Paul Doneho swore his 160 witnesses, the employees of the pencil company, and adjourned the inquest until 2 o'clock next Monday afternoon.

The coroner's decision to postpone the inquest from Thursday afternoon until Monday afternoon was reached after a conference with Chief of Police Heavers and Chief of Detectives Lanford. Both say that they distinctly saw Mary Phagan in her desperate battle with the murderer.

The ladies arrived within a short time of each other, but their dreams didn't coincide. Both gave the chief accurate descriptions of the murderers of their dreams.

FRANK IN GOOD SPIRITS.

Mr. Frank got a good night's sleep Thursday night and Friday he was in a cheerful frame of mind. Many friends called to see him during the day, and Mr. Frank talked to them freely. He is confident that when the coroner's investigation has been concluded his absolute innocence will have been established.

PINKERTONS AFTER TRUTH.

The position of the Pinkerton detectives, employed by the National Pencil company, in the murder case, has occasioned considerable comment about police headquarters.

When asked about the matter, Harry Scott, the representative who is working on the mystery and assisting the city officers, declared that he and his men were out simply after the truth.

"It doesn't matter whom it hits," said Mr. Scott, "we want to do everything in our power to find the guilty man, and if we find him we are going to give every bit of our evidence to the state authorities, and lend our assistance in securing his conviction.

"This is just like any other case with us, and in all of them we go after the facts regardless of whom they help or hurt.

"When, for instance, we are investigating a bank robbery and find that the crime was committed by an employee or an official, we disclose the facts just as if the guilty man had been a highwayman."

Two additional Pinkerton men went to work on the case Friday, assisting Mr. Scott and the city detectives.

Confidence Expressed

In Leo M. Frank Milton Klein has made the following statement in behalf of Superintendent L. M. Frank:

"Leo Frank, the superintendent and general manager of one of Atlanta's largest and most promising industries, spends two hours in his office on a holiday after generously relieving the watchman during these hours. His habits are regular and industrious and his life, while in Atlanta, is perfectly blameless in every respect. The terrible crime committed in his plant calls forth the closest scrutiny of Mr. Frank's relations with his 200 workmen and women. Only the highest words of praise and confidence in his character are heard on all sides.

"I have worked with Mr. Frank for years in various charitable organizations and have ever found him the most polished of gentlemen, with the kindest of heart and the broadest of sympathy. To such an extent it is recognized among his fellow lodge men that we have honored him with the office of president, which is the highest rank in our organization. He is a liberal supporter of many worthy enterprises. But his greatest work has been among his own employees at his factory. The first to report in the morning and the last to leave at night, every day and holidays, he has labored to build up a factory that in spirit and efficiency is second to none south of the Mason and Dixon's line.

"After the magnificent work he has done in his adopted home, shall we without consideration, emphasize every bit of gossip which unjustly and groundlessly connects him with this awful tragedy? No one seeks more fervently to discover the real perpetrator of this atrocious crime than Mr. Frank."

The release of J. M. Gantt followed that of Mullinax.

When habeas corpus proceedings were started for Gantt by his attorneys he was transferred from headquarters to the tower, and Chief Lanford had to get an order from Judge George L. Bell, of the superior court, before he had authority to release the man.

The warrant against Gantt in Justice F. M. Powers' court has been dismissed.

MANY THEORIES OFFERED.

Theories of how Mary Phagan met her death and by just what system her murderer can be brought to justice are flooding the office of the detectives.

People are calling over the phone to tell the officers just now they should proceed. Many of them come in person, and the office is in receipt of hundreds of letters from this and half a dozen other states, giving advice and theories.

Many of the letter writers are anonymous, but most of the people sign their names. Several letters have been received from "criminologists," who are willing to divulge their theories only for money. Several letters have come from "seers" and "mystics," who have communed with the spirits and learned that way the "identity" of the murderer.

Among the interesting callers at police headquarters Friday were two ladies, who have dreamed about the murder. Both say that they distinctly saw Mary Phagan in her desperate battle with the murderer.

The ladies arrived within a short time of each other, but their dreams didn't coincide. Both gave the chief accurate descriptions of the murderers of their dreams.

FRANK IN GOOD SPIRITS.

Mr. Frank got a good night's sleep Thursday night and Friday he was in a cheerful frame of mind. Many friends called to see him during the day, and Mr. Frank talked to them freely. He is confident that when the coroner's investigation has been concluded his absolute innocence will have been established.

PINKERTONS AFTER TRUTH.

The position of the Pinkerton detectives, employed by the National Pencil company, in the murder case, has occasioned considerable comment about police headquarters.

When asked about the matter, Harry Scott, the representative who is working on the mystery and assisting the city officers, declared that he and his men were out simply after the truth.

NINE PRISONERS ESCAPE FROM JAIL IN KENTUCKY

Bloodhounds Trail Convicts
Who Sawed Way to Liberty
From Fayette Jail

(By Associated Press.)
LEXINGTON, Ky., May 2.—Nine prisoners escaped from the Fayette county jail early this morning and still at large. Bloodhounds have been put on their trail and they are being pursued by the sheriff and deputies. One of the trustees procured a saw and filed the bars of the cells, confining eight other prisoners. The discovery of the escape was made shortly afterward, and it is expected that the convicts will be captured today.

AMERICAN NAVAL STORES NAME NEW DIRECTORS

Co-Operative Plans Are Made for Liquidating the Indebtedness

(By Associated Press.)
SAVANNAH, Ga., May 2.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the American Naval Stores company here on Thursday the old officers of the company resigned and certain of the directors. This action was in pursuance of the creditors' agreement and for the purpose of facilitating the operations of the company in the liquidation of its indebtedness. H. A. O'Byrne was elected as president of the company, and Mills B. Lane, vice president. The board of directors is now constituted as follows:

H. A. O'Byrne, Mills B. Lane, Lewis R. Franklin, Pierre Jay, F. N. Bloodworth, T. N. Cunningham, Jr., H. A. Schroeder, W. M. Crawford, J. H. Driscoll and A. P. K. Murtin.

Before the above action was taken there was a full understanding between the creditors' committee and the officers of the company, the latter having cordially co-operated with the committee in all matters pertaining to the affairs of the company.

All interests are working in complete harmony for the sole purpose of liquidating its indebtedness in such a manner as will best conserve the interests of the creditors and stockholders.

Mr. E. P. Shotton and Mr. J. F. C. Myers will remain with the company.

800—Owners Will Not Rebuild

TIFTON, Ga., May 2.—Fire entirely destroyed the Hotel Georgia here Thursday night at 10:30 o'clock. The cause of the fire is not known. The building was valued at $12,800, with $5,000 insurance. It will not be rebuilt.

MAYOR AND POLICE COMMISSIONER SCAB

(By Associated Press.)
CENEVA, N. Y., May 2.—Mayor Rubin H. Colvin and Police Commissioner John Monroe, of this city, have qualified as hood carriers. When fifty-five union carriers and 117 members of the Carpenters' union who were engaged in constructing the new city hall went on strike yesterday, half a dozen masons remained at work. While an admiring crowd cheered from the street the two city officials, perspiring freely in the hot sun, made trip after trip from the mortar board to the place where the masons were at work. They kept at the task for several hours and apparently enjoyed their self-imposed labor.

AMERICAN FIRE DRIVES GUESTS FROM HOTEL

(By Associated Press.)
AMERICAN, Ga., May 2.—Fire originating in the upper floor of the Windsor hotel at 5 o'clock this morning drove unclothed guests from the hotel and caused a loss in excess of $50,000.

The flames originated in the sample room and rapidly spread. For an hour and a half the firemen fought a stubborn battle. Guests in the house lost most of their belongings, even their clothing.

NASHVILLE METHODISTS TO ENLARGE CHURCH

NASHVILLE, Ga., May 2.—The members of the First Methodist church are planning to build an addition to their church. The interior will also be rearranged.

Seven class rooms will be built for the Sunday school.

A committee has been appointed to solicit funds for the work.

Rome Plans Reduction

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
ROME, Ga., May 2.—An economical streak has struck certain of the aldermen of the city of Rome, and it is understood that at the next meeting of council a fight to reduce expenditures and salaries will be made all along the line.

ABOUT TAPPING IN DROPSY

Nearly everybody knows that when the dropsy comes so fast in Bright's Disease that the patient has to be tapped that the case is hopeless so far as the old treatment is concerned. We never heard of a case recovering that required tapping until Fulton's Renal Compound was evolved. Under the Renal Compound recoveries are frequently reported even in this supposed hopeless stage. We recite two cases:

F. H. Chandler, of Clay, New York, was a very serious case. As high as four quarts of water were drawn at a tapping. He was put on Fulton's Renal Compound and a year thereafter had resumed employment.

Another—Patient six years old, the son of A. C. Dean, of Oakland, Cal., was tapped eight times; even had to be tapped after being put on Fulton's Renal Compound, but the father grew further apart and he made a recovery and was going to school at last advices.

What do these things mean if Bright's Disease is not curable? If you have Bright's Disease you owe it to yourself and family to try Fulton's Renal Compound before giving up. It can be had at Frank Edmondson & Bro., 11 North Broad street, and 106 North Pryor street, Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

FULLER E. CALLAWAY COMES BACK FROM FOREIGN TRIP AFTER STUDY OF RURAL LIFE

Well Known Georgian Will Turn Information to Practical Use—Will Not Accept Indian Commissionership

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

LAGRANGE, Ga., May 2.—Sun-tanned, hale and hearty, bubbling over with good humor, Mr. Fuller E. Callaway arrived home Wednesday morning, after an extended trip to foreign lands, including Egypt, the Holy Land and Italy. Mr. Callaway was accompanied home by Mrs. Callaway and Fuller, junior, who met him in New York, spending several days there and stopping at Washington on their way home.

Mr. Callaway is in fine health and spirits, and speaks interestingly of his experiences on the trip. While made primarily for rest and recreation, Mr. Callaway embraced the opportunity to acquire considerable information which he hopes to turn to practical account.

With his usual happy faculty of making friends wherever he goes, this genial gentleman while in the trip formed the acquaintance of Lord Kitchener, who is in charge of the wonderful reclamation work being carried on in Egypt by the British government. Lord Kitchener gave Mr. Callaway a card of introduction which was an "open sesame" all over Egypt and proved quite helpful in the way of courtesies and information.

ENTHUSIASTIC OVER WORK.

Mr. Callaway speaks enthusiastically of the work being done by the English in harnessing the river Nile and utilizing its waters in developing the rich but arid lands in its vicinity. It seems that there is a stretch of over 1,500 miles of country on which there is no rainfall the year around. By means of the great Assuan storage dam and three other dams at intervals below, the waters of the Nile are stored and used for irrigation, with wonderful results.

According to Mr. Callaway, the English are giving a splendid account of their stewardship. He was particularly impressed with the fact that rotation of crops is one of the first principles, the natives not being permitted to follow cotton with cotton, but by alternation with burseum, a kind of cross between clover and alfalfa, they accomplish the double purpose of providing forage crops and restoring to the soil the nitrogen and other elements taken from it by the cotton.

Mr. Callaway says that he found this creative work more interesting than the pyramids and the mummies, and it is evident that he intends to take an active interest in the present movement of public-spirited Troup county citizens to improve agricultural conditions in this section. In speaking on this subject Mr. Callaway expressed the opinion that the lands of this section could easily be made to quadruple their present yields by improved cultural methods—breeding and selection of seed, deep plowing, rotation of crops and analyses of soils to determine their exact needs.

Mr. Callaway has been most useful in the upbuilding of this section and the state by interesting home and outside capital in the construction of seven large cotton mills, which more than double the value of the cotton which they use before passing it on to the outside world. But as one interested in the broadest possible development of the south, he realizes the need of developing agriculture if Georgia and the south are to assume their rightful importance in the nation. From a first hand study of the decline and fall of Rome, the greatest of nations in its time, he is convinced that its downfall was due to forgetfulness of this prime need of encouraging agriculture.

The present tendency of people to leave the farms and flock to the cities is regarded as a danger which if not checked will in time bring about similarly dire results in America.

CALLAWAY A FARMER HIMSELF.

The solution of the problem is, in Mr.

Callaway's opinion, for all interests to work together to make rural life more attractive, by means of good roads, schools and proper co-operation between all the people. Mr. Callaway has himself become a farmer, having acquired the former Ferrell place west of Lagrange, containing about eighty acres. Here he proposes to apply practically his theories on treating farming as a science and a business just like any other. Possessed of wonderful insight, ability and capacity for organization, Mr. Callaway's experiments in farming will be watched with interest, and if successful, as no doubt they will be, his farms will not only prove profitable to their owner, but of considerable value as an example of the possibilities of Troup county soils.

NOT UNEASY OVER OUTLOOK.
Speaking of business and financial conditions, Mr. Callaway was somewhat noncommittal, saying that he had not been home long enough to make a thorough analysis of the situation. He says, however, that he sees no occasion for alarm, as he considers fundamental conditions sound and feels hopeful that the country will be able to go through the readjustment from the tariff changes without serious disturbance.

When asked as to his plans regarding the $1,000,000 development company, which it was understood was only awaiting his return for the beginning of activities, Mr. Callaway said that he was not as yet prepared to state positively as to what he would recommend to his associates in this connection—whether to go forward with the enterprise immediately or defer it possibly for a year.

WILL NOT ACCEPT INDIAN COMMISSIONERSHIP.

Asked if he intended to accept the post of Indian commissioner recently tendered him by the president upon recommendation of Secretary Franklin Lane, Mr. Callaway stated that he would not and that his principal business in Washington was to extend his thanks and explain the conditions standing in

WILSON WARNS SOLONS TO KEEP PARTY PLEDGE

President on Stump Before People at Night and Among Legislators in Day Time

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

NEWARK, N. J., May 2.—President Wilson came home to Jersey last night from Washington, and in rounded terms that at times fairly amazed, exposed to the people of Essex county, the pocket borough of his enemy "Jim" Smith, the sinister influences that block the legislature from redeeming its pledges to give a law for grand jury reform and authority for holding a convention to revise the archaic constitution.

He spent last night at Newark and Elizabeth. Today the president kept at his task of pulling order out of chaos in legislative halls, and putting the "old gang" to rout. From 11 o'clock this morning to 1 o'clock this afternoon he talked to legislators at the Carteret club, Jersey City, and strove with the party leaders in counties where there are recalcitrant assembliesmen discussed war plans with the president.

The president's performances last night were an extraordinary spectacle just as the meetings themselves were without parallel, so, too, were the two speeches of rare order. The punch that the president put into every line, and his explicitness were highly diverting to the crowd. They listened with delight as he made satirical characterizations of James Smith, Jr., and his lieutenant, James R. Nugent.

In Newark, the citadel of his foes, the president spared no words in uttering his contempt of the opposition.

CROWDS WITH WILSON.
The temper of the crowds was just what Mr. Wilson wanted. He had them thinking with him from the start, and in discussing recent occurrences at Trenton he alluded to "that bulky form" it did not require any further specification for the crowd to know that he meant Nugent. And when, in the same breath almost, he spoke of "the system with a snake-like S" the crowd seemed to know perfectly well Smith was meant.

At Elizabeth the president was more explicit in his reference to Nugent and his tribe. He mentioned Nugent by name, and with a voice that breathed scorn in every syllable. The crowd hung on to every word, and hissed Nugent's name.

Of Nugent the president said:
"A sinister private agent, openly conducting the affairs of New Jersey upon the floor of the assembly, who did not care to do it so long as there was somebody at hand who would go to his very own home and point him out as the man not commissioned to speak for the people of New Jersey, but commissioned to submit to the processes of public opinion, which he fears and dares not submit to."

By indirection, the president discussed recent vice raids in Newark, and used them as a text to show how protection will be extended to criminal offenders so long as the grand juries are controlled by sheriffs. Here are his own words about the vice situation in Newark.

"I managed to give you two judges who were not afraid of the system. At last in the fullness of time, I managed to give you a prosecutor who was not afraid of the system. And that prosecutor saw without spectacles things which I myself from a distance had pointed out to the authorities of this city as much as a year before. He did not require spectacles to see them. Everybody knew that they were there, but the hand of the law was withheld. Do you want a system under which it is profitable to withhold the hand of the law? Do you want a system under which it is possible to choose when the hand of the law shall be withheld and when it shall not?"

There were paragraphs in both speeches susceptible of national application. The president said he appreciated full well that the Democratic party was not put in power by a majority of the electorate last fall, and that its every action was being scrutinized by critical people. The reactionary element must take heed of the temper of the people, give way to progress or go down to oblivion.

"The people of this country," he solemnly declared, "and of this state, are going to have what they know they ought to have, by one process or another. I pray that it may not be a wrong process. I have the greatest

RESINOL RELIEVED ITCHING AT ONCE

And Cured Skin Humor in a Month.

Brooklyn, Nov. 1, 1912.—"At first little red spots were seen on my arms and body, which I noticed were getting larger every day. They itched me so much that I scratched myself until I bled. There were times when I stood up all night and scratched. I was troubled about three weeks, during which time I used —, which seemed to do me no good whatever. Then, finally, I thought of trying Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment. As soon as I applied Resinol Ointment I felt much relief. After using it a few times, I noticed the sore spots slowly fading away, and in about a month, I was cured completely." (Signed) Adolph Schoen, 742 Shipyard Avenue.

The soothing, healing balsam in Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, penetrates every tiny pore of the skin, clearing it of all impurities, driving away eczema, rashes, ringworm, psoriasis, and other eruptions, and making pimples and blackheads impossible. Prescribed by physicians for eighteen years. For free samples write to Dept. 16-S, Resinol, Baltimore, Md. Practically every drugstore sells Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap.—(Adv.)

confidence in the self control, the public spirit, the legal conscience of the people of America, and I do not myself believe that dangerous things will happen. But I warn these gentlemen not to long to show the people of this country that justice cannot be got by the ordinary process and of the law. I warn them to stand out of the sovereign's way."

At President Wilson's conference with the party leaders and later with the legislators, it was agreed that the Democratic members would get together on Monday next in the hope of drafting some sort of a jury reform bill. Although urged to do so by opponents of the measure, the president declined to make any definite recommendations as to the form the bill should take.

That, he said, was up to the legislature. There was an open clash between the president and W. L. McDermott, assemblyman from Hudson county, a bitter opponent of the bill. Mr. McDermott took exception to the president's speech last night, which he characterized as one of denunciation of the legislature.

At the president's request he pointed out what portions of the speech he considered denunciatory—those in which the president said that he thought some of the legislators had acted in bad faith with reference to the measure.

The president listened intently and then, it is reported, he replied:
"That's not denunciation; those are facts."

He was surprised, he added, according to those who attended the meeting, that Mr. McDermott had seen fit "to put the cap on."

At this point the assemblyman sought to cross-examine the president in an endeavor to pin him down specifically as to the nature of the bill he thought should be enacted, but Mr. Wilson sat down, refusing to answer. Acting Governor Fielder here stepped into the breach and said calming words.

In the lobby of the Carteret club afterward there was a heated discussion of the incident. Several legislators criticized Mr. McDermott for what they called a breach of etiquette.

ASHEVILLE DEMANDS STRIKE ARBITRATION

Committee of Citizens Will Ask That Dispute Be Settled at Once

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
ASHEVILLE, N. C., May 2.—Mass meeting last night adopted resolutions condemning violence and demanding that the car company submit the dispute to arbitration. A committee of ten was appointed, consisting of prominent business men, labor leaders, ex-Third Assistant Postmaster General J. G. Britt and State Senator Weaver. During the meeting, L. L. Jenkins, president of the American National bank, a big cotton mill owner, offered to pay all damages or write a check for $1,000 if it would end the strike.

Governor Lock Craig, Adjutant General Young national guard, have arrived from Raleigh to help settle the matter. It is reported that strikebreakers struck this morning for a raise from $5 per day and fares, to $6, as receipts were trifling.

The committee of ten will present resolutions to Manager Plummer, of the car company, this afternoon.

HULL PREDICTS ULTIMATE ABOLITION OF WARFARE

Swarthmore College Professor Addresses Fourth American Peace Congress

ST. LOUIS, May 2.—Out of the difficulties which now attend the international peace movement ultimately will be evolved a plan whereby war will be abolished, according to the views of Prof. William I. Hull, of Swarthmore college, who spoke before the Fourth American Peace congress today. His subject was "The Hague Tribunal; Its Present Meaning and Its Future Promise."

"It is as logical for the supreme court of each of the forty-eight states of the American union to adjudicate the laws of the union as it is for the supreme court of each of the forty-six states in the family of nations to adjudicate the conventions agreed upon by that family at the Hague," said Prof. Hull. "For the sake of consistency, for the sake of freedom from national opinions, prejudices, passions and interests, for the sake of international good faith, of international peace and international justice, there must be established a supreme tribunal which shall hold a mastery for all the intricacies of international law."

"We have caught a vision beyond the permanent court of arbitration and the court of arbitral justice, or still a third Hague tribunal, which shall possess all the strength and none of the weakness of its predecessors. This supreme court of the United States of the world shall have all the permanence, all the power and prestige of precedent, and all the judicially representative character which have made the supreme court of the United States of America so illustrious; it shall possess as broad and complete a jurisdiction within its domain of law as does its American prototype, and by the adjudication of all disputes between nations it shall forever banish international warfare from the realm of men; and it shall be, not an arbitral tribunal, like its two predecessors, the permanent court of arbitration and the court of arbitral justice, content with a compromise between two extreme demands, but a truly judicial tribunal, striving towards and ever more approximating ideal justice. To attain this destiny, its judges must cease to be representative of the nations who are the suitors before the court and must become truly representative of the family of nations, by whom the court is created and for whose life, liberty and pursuit of happiness it is destined to labor."

MRS. PANKHURST REMOVED TO WORKING SANITARIUM

Bow Street Police Court Is Crowded When Six Militants Are Arraigned

(By Associated Press.) LONDON, May 2.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader, was today, with the consent of the authorities, removed from the house in which she has been staying in London, to a sanatorium at Woking, where she will remain under police supervision. She traveled in a motor ambulance which was followed by a taxicab conveying several Scotland Yard detectives. The move was made to prevent Mrs. Pankhurst attempting to flee the country.

How street police court was crowded this morning when six militant suffragettes who were arrested in the police raid on the headquarters of the Women's Social and Political Union on Wednesday were brought up on a charge of conspiracy under the malicious damage act. The prisoners included "General" Mrs. Flora Drummond, Miss Harriet Roberts, Miss Agnes Lake, Miss Rachel Barrett, Miss Laura Lennox and Mrs. Beatrice Saunders and Miss Annie Kenney.

With them were also Clayton, the analytical chemist taken into custody last night at Richmond, and Sydney Drew, the printer of yesterday's issue of the Suffragette, who was arrested this morning.

A bottle filled with nitroglycerine and wrapped in brown paper was discovered by a policeman today at the Tube station at Piccadilly. The bottle was found by a policeman today at the Tube station at Piccadilly. The bottle was found by a policeman today at the Tube station at Piccadilly.

ROOSEVELT TO ADDRESS SUFFRAGETTES IN N. Y.

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, May 2.—With parade, pageant and appeal from the public platform, the women of New York City who believe in woman suffrage will give a demonstration tonight and tomorrow in favor of their cause. Theodore Roosevelt will deliver an address to-night at the magnificent, depicting woman's "Dream of Freedom," to be given at the Metropolitan opera house.

Tomorrow afternoon what is expected to be the greatest woman suffrage parade ever held—30,000 strong—will march up Fifth avenue. When it is over, men and women orators in automobiles will appeal to the people in the plaza at Fifth avenue and Fifty-ninth street, and a great mass meeting will be held in Carnegie hall.

Delegations of women from neighboring states, some coming by special train, with their own bands, began pouring into the city today to take part in the demonstration. It was said 20,000 men, twice the number last year, would march behind the banners of the Men's League for Woman Suffrage. Every state in the union and Alaska will be represented in the parade by native daughters in greater or less numbers, with the nine suffrage states and Alaska given precedence in the order of the march.

Women in all walks of life from society leaders to scrub women will fill the ranks and some forty bands will furnish music. Miss L. M. Millholland, mounted, will head the procession as color bearer, and Miss Josephine Beiderhase will act as grand marshal.

Society women, actresses and opera singers will participate in tonight's pageant. Madame Nordica will take the part of Freedom. Forty-nine women, picked for their statuesque beauty, and forty-nine men selected for their Adonis-like proportions, will represent the couples of the forty-eight states and Alaska.

The pageant will follow upon the addresses of Colonel Roosevelt and Miss Anna Shaw and an appeal for recruits to march in the parade. One hundred and seventy-five college women will act as ushers.

UNIQUE ROAD EXHIBITS AT FRISCO EXPOSITION

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, May 2.—What is declared to be the most elaborate collection of road models ever displayed will be shown by the United States office of public roads at the Panama-Pacific exposition in San Francisco. Logan Page, director of the bureau, today began preparations for assembling this unique exhibition.

Reproductions of old Roman roads, French roads and all the various types of modern highways will be included in the models. Miniature reproductions of road machinery as well as every known device used in the building of roads will appear in the exhibit.

For years past the bureau has been displaying at various national and international expositions and on its railroad educational cars samples of the work it is doing, but the showing it is preparing to make at the Panama-Pacific exposition will be the most complete yet made.

"The road building and improvement movement had had a great impetus," said Mr. Page today, "as a result of the instruction furnished by the models already in use. They have been displayed along the lines of a number of railroads in the United States and have done much to arouse public opinion to the need for better roads, expert advice concerning which this office furnishes freely."

Q. W. MOSS IS HELD ON FORGERY CHARGE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) WASHINGTON, Ga., May 2.—Q. W. Moss, of Lincoln, was apprehended at Lisbon, that county, Wednesday afternoon, and brought to Washington, where he was landed in the Wilkes county jail upon a charge of forgery. It appears that Moss, a young man of about twenty-five, and of good family, has been going about this section of the state and parts of Carolina, masquerading under several aliases, principally those of "G. W. Vickery," "W. L. Brown" and "W. L. Freeman." Some months ago, Moss came to Washington and made some purchases of the merchants of the city, giving worthless checks on the banks of Lincoln, Mount Carmel, and Plum Branch, S. C., signing them with these aliases. He was promptly returned with "no funds" endorsed thereon. Wednesday morning one of the local banks was called up by long distance from one of the banks of Mount Carmel, asking whether the account of one "G. W. Vickery" whose check the Mount Carmel bank held, was good for $20.

SUPPLY SCHOOL LESSON

Golden Text: "The breath of the Almighty giveth them understanding." Job. 32:8.

When Joseph reached Egypt in the company of the Midianites who had bought him, he was taken to the capital, and there he was sold to the commander-in-chief of the Egyptian army, Potiphar by name. He placed him in his house as a servant. Joseph did not grumble about having to work—it would have done him no good. He accepted a bad situation and did his best to make the most of it. He was beginning to learn one of the lessons God had to teach him. He had talked too much before, and he was going to keep his mouth shut now. He had been proud, because he had been sold to a great master, and by pride we fall. The humble shall be exalted. Without that discipline the proud youth would have grown into an unbearable man.

Joseph made himself so invaluable in the house that the general began to recognize what a treasure he had secured, and after a time placed him in charge of all that he had, made him his private secretary and confidential clerk. In this position he continued for several years. At about twenty-five years of age he had grown to be exceedingly handsome, and thrown intimately in the family life with his general's wife, she became infatuated with this fair-skinned young Hebrew although he had not given her any cause for it whatsoever.

You remember the story of the fearful temptation to which he was subjected; the way he met it, and of his unjust imprisonment.

STILL FAITHFUL. He must have burned with indignation over that dungeon experience. An Egyptian dungeon was no pleasant place under any circumstances, but to be placed there unjustly and to be unable to defend himself for in loyalty Joseph could not tell his master the whole truth—he could but deny the charge against him, which he did, was unbearable in the extreme. But never a murmur did he make.

He proved such a model prisoner (for he had determined again to make the most of a bad situation) that the jailer soon allowed him certain liberties and finally placed him in charge of all that was done there.

Finally there came into the prison two of the highest officers in the kingdom. Pharaoh had been taken suddenly ill, and it was thought probably that there was a plot to poison him. Such things were quite common in those days. It could not be ascertained at first whether it had emanated from the service of the chief butler or the chief baker; so both were thrown into prison pending an investigation.

Being persons of high position they were placed in a private portion of the prison and Joseph was designated to minister to them. I have no doubt but that it was a welcome change to Joseph, which did much to relieve the ennui of prison life. He had learned much of the customs and persons in high life in Egypt during the many years he served in General Potiphar's house; and to be thrown with these two high officials must have brought back some of those associations and added new interest to his life, now so intensely monotonous.

He not only heard them discussing the reasons for their imprisonment, and without doubt both protested their innocence. But Joseph was a close observer and noted the difference between the two men—one open-faced and honest, the other reserved and keen-eyed.

OBSERVANT AND SYMPATHETIC. Joseph was not only very observant, but he had a broad human sympathy.

Outside the prison (and the rumors of it no doubt seeped through the openings into the prison cells) great preparations were being made for the celebration of Pharaoh's birthday. Such occasions meant much in the life of the ancient courts, and were frequently occasions on which the monarch displayed his appreciation by granting pardon to many prisoners.

These things had been coursing through the minds of these two prisoners of state. They had no doubt talked about it for many days. One morning just three days before the celebration was to take place their thought crystallized in a dream in the case of each of them, but the dreams troubled them for they could not figure out the interpretation for themselves, and being in prison it was not possible for them to secure the services of any of the many soothsayers in Egypt.

When Joseph came in he noticed the changed expressions and as he did his work detected the sadness and perplexity of their faces. His heart went out to them; they were prisoners like himself; he was suffering as they were; and possibly they as unjustly as he. His human sympathy expressed itself finally in asking them what was the trouble. And when he learned it was only a dream or two, and that they could not get in touch with the

ANDERSON WOMAN THINKS DUNBAR LAD IS HER SON

Mother of "Bruce" Makes a Second Examination of "Robert"

(By Associated Press.) OPELOUSAS, La., May 2.—Paralleling the changing doubt and certainty which characterized the actions of Mrs. C. P. Dunbar, when she went to Columbia, Miss., to identify the child taken from the tinker and alleged kidnaper, W. C. Walters, now claimed as her long missing son, Robert Julia Anderson, of North Carolina, after a second examination of the child this morning, declared she believed he was her son, Bruce.

Yesterday Julia Anderson, between sobs and verging on a nervous breakdown, said: "Men, honestly I can't say whether that's my boy." She was put through the ordeal of trying to pick the child from a half dozen children of about the same age. The boy had been instructed to make no reply to the Anderson woman and, although he was known as Bruce when taken from Walters, he would not respond to the name when Julia Anderson called him by that name.

Today the North Carolina woman, from a secluded place in a residence adjoining the Dunbar home, watched the boy at play for an hour. At her request, he was again brought before her. She took the boy in her arms, stripped him and coaxed him to recognize her. He drew away.

He showed no marks on his body by which she could identify the child, but turned to the assembled people and said: "I believe this is my boy, gentlemen. His actions and his general features are like Bruce's."

"What about the scars?" she was asked. "Well, there ain't none big enough to recognize," she replied.

DANIELS TO REACH SAVANNAH SUNDAY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) SAVANNAH, Ga., May 2.—Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, has advised that he will reach this city on Sunday, May 11, on a United States destroyer from Port Royal.

He will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Stovall at their home on Gwinnett street, and in the evening the North Carolinians who reside in Savannah have prepared an entertainment for the secretary which promises much pleasure.

Savannah has a great number of North Carolinians who followed the naval stores business on its journey down this way and the colony is prepared to give their fellow statesman the time of his life. The secretary will go from here to Raleigh, the home of the secretary.

GOVERNOR O'NEAL ASKS THREE RESIGNATIONS

(By Associated Press.) MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 2.—At the request of Governor O'Neal, John D. McNeal, private secretary; James H. Nunnelee, recording secretary, and T. D. Simpson, the governor's personal secretary, resigned their positions Thursday. Daniel Troy, a prominent local attorney, succeeds McNeal, and John Moffatt, of this city, succeeds Nunnelee. Simpson's successor is not named. It is claimed that McNeal will get an appointment from President Wilson and that Nunnelee is an active candidate for secretary of state. The governor has given no explanation of his demands for the three resignations, which has created a sensation in political circles. The resignations are effective immediately.

Pimples Should Be Watched

May be Means of Absorbing Disease Germs in Most Unexpected Manner.

Make Your Blood Pure and Immune With S. S. S.

The world renowned laboratory of the Swift Specific Company has collected a vast amount of information regarding the spread of blood diseases. In thousands of instances the most virulent types have been the result of coming in contact with disease germs in public places, and the apparently insignificant pimple has been the cause. It spreads with astonishing rapidity, often infecting the entire system in a few days.

It is fortunate, however, that there is a remedy to cope quickly and thoroughly with such a condition, and thanks to the energy of its production the famous S. S. S. may now be had at almost any drug store in the civilized world.

This preparation stands alone as a blood purifier. It is somewhat revolutionary in its composition, since it accomplishes all that was ever claimed for mercury, iodides, arsenic, and other destructive mineral drugs, and yet it is absolutely a purely vegetable product. It contains one ingredient which serves the active purpose of stimulating each tiny cellular part of the tissues to the healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutrition. There are more cases of arthritic rheumatism, locomotor ataxia, paresis, neuritis, and similar diseases resultant from the use of minerals than most people are aware of. These facts are brought out in a highly interesting book compiled by the medical department of The Swift Specific Co., 137 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It is mailed free, together with a special letter of advice, to all who are struggling with a blood disease.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. to-day from your druggist. It will surprise you with its wonderful action in the blood.

FLOOD WATERS REACH VIDALIA, LOUISIANA

Railroad Embankment Which Encircles Town Will Hold Water Off, However

(By Associated Press.)
VIDALIA, La., May 2.—Water from the crevasse in the Mississippi river levee near Gibson's Landing was in sight of Vidalia this morning, but the people of the town are little concerned, feeling assured of the protection that will be offered by the railroad embankment that skirts the town between them and the rising flood. The only gap in the protecting barrier is a short stretch spanned by a trestle. A large force of men was put to work this morning to close this gap by tonight the line will be intact.

The crevasse water had extended this morning as far north as Goldman's, in Texas parish, and seventeen miles in a northerly direction.

Considerable of the flood water is entering Lake St. Peter, near St. Joseph. It is not believed that the town will be flooded.

With the low stage in Red river it is estimated that the territory that will be flooded will not be covered as deep as last year and the water will run off more readily.

Although the decline in the stage of the Mississippi river south of Vicksburg has been somewhat relieved, the pressure at Memphis bend, where trouble has been expected for several days, men and material are kept constantly on hand there. At several other places along the levee in Concordia parish sand bolls have been developed. Gangs of laborers are working day and night to prevent them from getting a headway.

Camp Baynes, across the river at Natchez, is crowded to its capacity with refugees taken from the flooded country. The Associated Charities is also taking care of many of the homeless.

Crevasse Waters Returning To Flooded Mississippi
(By Associated Press.)

NEW ORLEANS, May 2.—Except for a fall of one-tenth of a foot at Natchez and two-tenths rise at New Orleans the Mississippi river stages remained stationary for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 a. m. at all points from Vicksburg south. The slight rise at New Orleans was attributed to light shifting winds.

A stationary gauge at Red river landing shows that the big volume of water which for almost a week has been pouring through the crevasse near Gibson's Landing, La., had not started to flow back into the Mississippi this morning.

Notwithstanding a fall of eight feet at Memphis within four days and a fall of 2.5 at Helena, the gauge at Arkansas City shows a drop in that period of only 1.4 feet, indicating that a considerable quantity of water is entering the Mississippi river through the Arkansas and White rivers. Thus the loss of one and a half feet of water a day for four days in the river stretch between Helena and Arkansas City is almost offset by a gain of 1.1 feet daily from the swollen Arkansas streams and flooded lands west and south of Helena.

Such a large quantity of crevasse water is pouring back into the Mississippi at Vicksburg, from the section flooded by the Mayersville, Miss., crevasse that no relief has been noted in the Vicksburg territory from the big crevasse below there on the Louisiana side.

Beat With Refugees From the Flood Sinks
(By Associated Press.)

NATCHEZ, Miss., May 2.—The steamer Concordia, of Natchez, which was engaged in rescue work in the flooded sections of Tennessee and Mississippi, was wrecked by the iron railroad bridge at Clayton, La., this morning and sank.

It was reported that about twenty negro refugees who were aboard the steamer were drowned when the boat went down.

Two white men were also drowned. Maurice Black, of Clayton, suffered a broken arm, and minor injuries to other white passengers were reported.

The Concordia was bringing to Natchez flood refugees rescued from house tops and second stories of buildings just above Clayton, which is several miles inland from the river.

The steamer has been navigating crevasse water ranging from eight to fifteen feet deep while less than a week ago there were fine farms and prosperous villages.

As soon as news of the disaster was received here motor boats were ordered rushed to the scene from Ferriday and other nearby points.

The lost:
A. D. GOUGHAGAN, white, planter, of Jonesville, La.
W. L. PRIM, white, chief clerk of the Concordia, Natchez.

Twenty negroes, unidentified.
The negroes were members of a party of fifty refugees taken aboard the Mossegeil plantation.

The Concordia probably will be a total loss, as she was badly wrecked by the collision with the bridge and is submerged in about twenty-five feet of water in the Tennessee river.

The steamer had about 200 people on board when she went down.

The steamer was valued at $25,000.

TURK FORMS INDEPENDENT GOVERNMENT AT TIRANA

Defeated Commander of Scutari Proclaims Autonomy of Albania Under Turkey

(By Associated Press.)
ATHENS, May 2.—A letter received here from Corfu states that Eszaad Pasha, who was the Turkish commandant of Scutari during the prolonged siege of Scutari by the Montenegrins, has formed a government at Tirana, where he has proclaimed the autonomy of Albania under the suzerainty of Turkey and hoisted the Turkish flag instead of the Albanian flag. Eszaad Pasha has written a letter to the metropolitan of Durazzo stating that the Albanian government recognizes the authority of the Orthodox church. This letter further states that the Albanian government is in no way hostile to Greece and that it recognizes the northern frontier of Epirus. In accordance with the demands of the Greek government.

Tirana, where Eszaad Pasha has set up his rule, is in a district full of reminiscences of the ancient Albanian princes. It is about fifty-four miles south of Scutari and within twelve miles of Ciro, where the famous Albanian prince, Scanderberg, resisted for many years in the early fifteenth century the flowing tide of the Moslem invasion of Europe.

Montenegro Keeps Europe Guessing at Next Move
(By Associated Press.)

BERLIN, May 2.—Political circles here are reticent today concerning the Montenegrin situation, apparently awaiting information as to the result of the council of ministers at Vienna.

On the stock exchange, however, the activity of business today indicated that the opinion prevailed there that the critical point of the situation had been passed.

A stormy general rise took place in most securities. None of the uncertainty and depression of the preceding days was shown.

No Coercive Action to Be Made Against Nicholas
(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, May 2.—No precipitate coercive action against Montenegro by Austria-Hungary is likely, according to information reaching diplomatic circles in London today. The powers, it is believed, will be allowed a further opportunity of bringing pressure to bear at Cetinje, the Montenegrin capital.

The council of the joint cabinet of Austria-Hungary in its session at Vienna today, while it will discuss details of the financial and military operations which may possibly be necessary to carry out a plan for the compensation of King Nicholas for the loss of Scutari and it is thought probable that the real compensation offered will be thinly disguised under the description of a ratification of frontiers.

By the time the ambassadors in London meet again on Monday they expect to have evolved a plan for the compensation of King Nicholas for the loss of Scutari and it is thought probable that the real compensation offered will be thinly disguised under the description of a ratification of frontiers.

MRS. AWTREY'S FUNERAL WILL OCCUR SATURDAY

Services Will Be Held at 3 o'Clock Saturday Afternoon at Butler, Ga.

The funeral of Mrs. Palmer S. Awtry, of College Park, will be held at the Baptist church at the old home, Butler, Ga., on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The remains will be taken to East Point Saturday morning and will be carried on the 8 o'clock Central of Georgia train to Butler.

Mrs. Awtry's home was at the residence of Mrs. George Land, East Boulevard, two doors from Virginia avenue, College Park.

And of the friends wishing to visit the home should take College Park car and get off at Virginia avenue.

Mrs. Awtry is survived by her husband, Palmer S. Awtry, and her daughter, Ada Philip Awtry, and also by her son, Rev. Hugh S. Wallace, pastor of the Jones Avenue Baptist church, John W. Wallace, of New York City, and W. W. Wallace and Miss Pearl Wallace, of Atlanta.

Plan School Change
WAYCROSS, Ga., May 2.—At the regular meeting of the board of education this month the question of a change in the course of study in the public schools of Waycross will be one of the important matters to be handled by the board. It is understood that a general shake-up of studies has been suggested, with the idea of providing pupils of the schools here with more of a business education than they now get.

Soap and Ointment Cured.

Tylertown, Miss.—"When our baby was about four months of age she was affected with a breaking out on her face, neck and all around the edge of her hair and also up on the back of her head and around her ears. It first started behind her ears breaking out in small pimples. These would run together making continuous sores, while more pimples would form, nor did the first sores show any sign of healing. She was very much disfigured in looks, and her hair fell out. She fretted and cried with this trouble almost all the time. It appeared to itch and burn where the eruption was thickest continually. I was told it was infantile eczema. One day I noticed an advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and wrote for a sample. I began using the Cuticura Soap and Ointment twice daily according to directions and the baby was entirely cured in less time than one week."

"When I recovered from typhoid fever my scalp began a dreadful itching and my hair began coming out in big wads. When my hair had more than half come out I thought of Cuticura Soap and commenced to shampoo with that. Now my hair is so thick I can scarcely run a comb through it." (Signed) Mrs. W. J. ## A Great Record, A High Distinction for Atlanta

Atlanta has earned a particularly high and valuable distinction in having led all the cities of the United States in the reduction of infant mortality. A report by the federal census bureau shows that within the decade between 1900 and 1910 the death rate among infants under one year decreased in this community fifty-five per cent. The nearest approach to this record was in Indianapolis, with a decrease of thirty-nine per cent and in Washington, Paterson and Memphis with a decrease of thirty-eight per cent.

Atlanta's progress in this important field of human conservation appears all the more remarkable when it is noted that in the nation as a whole the mortality of children under one year of age has decreased only nineteen per cent within the period under review, so that this city's record is thirty-six per cent above the average.

Local statistics throw additional light on the facts set forth in the Government's report. In 1907, for instance, the deaths among infants under two years of age amounted to twenty-two and two-tenths per cent of the entire number; in 1908, this percentage fell to twenty-one; in 1909 and 1910 it rose again to twenty-two; but in 1911 it decreased to nineteen and seven one-hundredths while in 1912 it sank to eighteen and six one-hundredths.

It is thus evident that in Atlanta there is a steady and continuous reduction of infant mortality and that the campaign for children's welfare is becoming more and more effective. This fact is of far-reaching consequence to the community's interests. It means that the aggregate death rate is being lowered, that public health as a whole is being more thoroughly safeguarded and that the city is becoming more and more desirable to the home-seeker.

For a number of years past there has been a nation-wide movement to reduce the death rate among children and particularly among infants less than two years old; for, it has been realized that just there lies one of the heaviest drains upon human life and efficiency. In 1900 the mortality for infants under a year was one hundred and twelve and nine-tenths per thousand, or eight times the death rate for all ages. For the first five years, the death rate was thirty-two and nine-tenths per thousand.

These figures carried their own commentary. They indicated that if the baby could be carried safely through its first year, its chances for life and health would be materially increased and that if efficiently cared for until it was four or five years, its dangers would be still further reduced. Accordingly a vigorous campaign was instituted to safeguard the life of infants, a campaign of education among mothers, a campaign of greater vigilance on the part of health authorities.

Atlanta's distinctive achievement would suggest that nowhere else in the country has this movement found a heartier response. The splendid results that have been accomplished in this city are due very largely to the faithful efforts of the Medical Association, the local branch of the Congress of Mothers, to women's clubs and to the co-operation of health officials and the general public.

Of particular importance are the efforts that have been made to safeguard the milk supply; for, it is commonly known that impure milk is one of the greatest, if not the greatest, source of infant mortality. This campaign, though earnestly waged in the past, is subject to still further extension and perfection. A movement is now afoot to establish a more detailed system of milk inspection. It merits the public's cordial support. What Atlanta has already achieved should be an inspiration to continued and even more earnest endeavors in this vital field of human welfare.

It's the Pacific coast in name only, just now.

Montenegro is content to let Europe do the worrying.

Maybe all this agitation will help the brand of California wine.

Bright Prospects for the Tariff Bill.

Mr. Underwood's prediction that the tariff bill will pass the House by Saturday and will go to the Senate early next week seems well warranted by the steadfastness with which the Democratic majority is standing by the party's program. Despite the appeals and the threats of particular interests, the measure has remained substantially in its original form, except for minor changes designed to perfect its classifications. Amendments offered by the Republicans and the so-called "Progressives," looking to higher duties or to a retention of old privileges have, in every instance, been promptly voted down. The Democrats have shown themselves mindful not only of their power but also of their responsibility, mindful of their pre-election pledge to effect a speedy and genuine revision of the tariff. They are working in almost unbroken harmony. They are bound to produce results.

The tariff bill will naturally move more slowly in the Senate than in the House; partly because the Democratic majority is smaller in the Senate and partly, too, because there the interests that oppose thoroughgoing tariff revision are more strongly entrenched. But the administration is not unprepared for such resistance as may arise; it has felt its way carefully; it seems assured of the outcome and what is most important of all it is backed by public sentiment and public judgment. At the decisive moment, the Senate majority will doubtless fall in line and support the House in the enactment of this great measure.

It is especially desirable the tariff revision bill be passed as soon as possible, in order that every interest likely to be affected may have ample time in which to adjust itself to the changed schedules. The country expects downward revision of duties. No disturbance of business conditions is anticipated. The only possible source of apprehension would lie in a long-drawn discussion of the issue and a postponement of the coming change. Business welfare will best be served by removing every element of suspense, by putting the bill through, so that such readjustments as must be made may promptly begin.

Congress has already decided about its summer vacation.

As far as the Mississippi is concerned, it never rains but it pours.

If Secretary Bryan won't take a drink, there are plenty more in Washington who will.

Atlanta's Hospitable Response.

The appeal to Atlanta's hospitality for homes in which to entertain five hundred or more delegates to the approaching Presbyterian convention is meeting with a cordial and expected response. The canvass made Thursday by a committee of ladies, representing the city's three most numerous religious denominations, was abundantly fruitful of results; and, if the gracious record thus far established is maintained, the task of providing homes for all the visitors will soon be finished.

It should be remembered, however, that the date of the convention is drawing near and that there is no time to be lost. The Presbyterian assemblage will be nation-wide in its scope and will mark the greatest event of the kind in the world's history. Between four and five thousand visitors from every quarter of the South and of the Union will be present. Among these there will be some fifteen hundred official delegates, or "commissioners," as they are more accurately termed. It is for these that home entertainment is desired; for, they will be officially the community's guests and they are ministers and laymen of high distinction. The campaign that began Thursday has the specific object of securing homes for five hundred commissioners; the remainder having already been provided for. Let every Atlanta family that can do so assist in this hospitable cause.

The question on everybody's lips: "Well, who did it?"

Speaking of "human dynamos," there is a man who has everything charged.

Railroads and Farms.

One of the broadly cheering omens of the day is the closer relationship that is springing up between all manner of industrial and agricultural interests. The time has long since gone when any progressive city regarded its fortunes apart from those of the adjacent country or when any foresighted business concern, whether a bank, a manufactory or a railroad looked with indifference upon the affairs of the farm.

This is notably true in the South and in Georgia, whose prosperity are so closely interwoven with the things of the soil. It is highly gratifying but not at all unexpected that the Southern Railway Company has increased its force of dairying and poultry experts and has established in Atlanta larger and more thoroughly equipped headquarters for its various agricultural enterprises.

The company announces the appointment of seven additional experts who will devote their entire time to field work in advising and otherwise assisting the dairymen and farmers of this section. This department of the railroad was formerly located at Washington. The demands upon its service have so increased, however, and have become so specific in character that the road has wisely decided to transfer the department headquarters to Atlanta in order that it may be more intimately in touch with Southern needs; and at the same time, it has greatly enlarged its facilities to this end.

The example is worthy of emulation in every sphere of commercial and industrial endeavor. What the Southern railway is doing is paralleled by other progressive transportation lines, notably the A., B. and A. and the Central of Georgia. It is in keeping with the spirit of the times and also with the interests of the railroads themselves; for, the welfare of every public service concern depends after all on the development of the communities about it.

Our own opinion is that Montenegro will get pretty much what she asks for.

The two most important needs in a woman's life seems to be love and money.

At any rate, we can hear it on the phonograph until the next grand opera season opens.

The Royal Game of Chess

By Frederic J. Haskin

Despite the antiquity of the game, chess is today more popular as a pastime for a greater number of nations than any other game which has ever existed. The recent tournament in New York was reported in detail in the press of every European nation, while the chess devotees gloated as enthusiastically over each skillful move as will any baseball fan this season over the prowess of his favorite. The rules and regulations of the game of chess are the same throughout the world, and in international tournaments are coming more and more frequent each year. As with several of the other old games, chess in America has only recently come into popular favor, but its advance within the past half century has been phenomenal, and today there are hundreds of chess clubs in this country which are well supported, as well as six interstate associations and several leagues of chess clubs.

The game is becoming increasingly popular in the universities, and one of the strongest organizations is the C. H. Y. P. league of chess clubs which represents Columbia, Harvard, Yale and Princeton universities. The annual tournament of this league is an important event in the chess world. Several cable matches have been played by this league with the clubs of Cambridge and Oxford universities in England. Such a match was scheduled for this spring, but had to be postponed because the cable service could not be secured. In order to have a cable match there must be arranged the exclusive use of a cable for a day and a half. It was planned to have this match in March, but the cable companies could not promise the service during that month, and in April it was found to conflict with the examinations in the English universities, so that the challenge coming from the English universities to the American C. H. Y. P. league is now in abeyance.

While the university chess activities are regarded by the professional players as amateur, they are becoming increasingly important as the interest in the game entices a greater number of serious players. The University of Pennsylvania, as well as Brown and Cornell, have well-organized chess clubs whose matches add materially to the chess activities of the year. In the smaller colleges and even in the public high schools, both in Canada and the United States, chess is becoming listed among the sports. The Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences for three years has included chess among the lists of subjects for a series of lectures, and educators in many institutions pay tribute to the value of the game as a stimulus to the memory and the powers of observation of the player.

The origin of chess is usually credited to Persia, although it has been claimed for China and India, and by a recent Spanish archeologist, for Egypt. Each of these nations has legends and other traces of the game extending far back beyond authentic history. The earliest authentic history locates chess in Persia in the year 760, and the word chess is known to be of Persian origin, coming from the word "shah," meaning "king," and chess has been considered a game for kings from time immemorial. Originally it was played with dice thrown to indicate the number of moves. The dice have been discarded for centuries, and the old Persians played the game with a boat, an elephant, a horse, a king and four foot soldiers for each of the four sides, making thirty-two pieces in all. Although chess is a game for two players, there used to be four colors used. The red and yellow might play the black and white, each player having the pieces of two colors. Modern chess has the pieces in two colors only which are generally designated as white and black. Instead of the old Persian names, the modern player designates his chessmen as kings, queens, castles, bishops, knights and pawns, but the number remains the same.

The game found its first home in Spain towards the close of the fifteenth century, and in 1561 Ruy Lopez published his treatise which is recognized as the foundation of all modern chess. His work was republished in Venice, in 1634, and from that date the Italians became recognized for their chess dominance. The first chess champion seems to have been Paolo Boi, who defeated every master of his time, including Ruy Lopez himself. Paolo Boi was patronized by Catherine de Medici and by Sebastian, king of Portugal, both of whom conferred honor and gifts of money upon him.

Chess was not played extensively in England until about 1745 when a Syrian named Stamma appeared in British court circles and excited the admiration of the nobility by his skillful playing. The game appealed especially to the literary people who were becoming more numerous in England at that period. They did much to encourage chess spirit by exploiting the game in their writings. This tended to popularize it with the educated classes. For more than half a century England held supremacy in the chess world. She lost it when Howard Stanton, her champion, refused to meet Paul Morphy, the first important player ever produced in the United States and who is even now regarded by some as the greatest chess player the world has ever seen.

Morphy was born in New Orleans in 1837, and began to play chess when a boy of ten, being attracted to it by watching the games played by his father and uncle, the latter being at that time the leader of the New Orleans Chess club. Before he had completed his school life young Morphy's playing was pronounced unusual, and before he was twenty-five he had defeated Lowenthal, the Hungarian champion, and Eugene Rousseau, a player well known on both hemispheres, and a number of the most distinguished players in America. In 1857 he was induced to come north to attend the first American Chess congress which was held in New York. His successful contests with a number of world renowned players brought him directly into the limelight. A few years later he went to England to play against the English champion. After Stanton refused to meet him he went to Paris, where he played many brilliant games with the most skillful players of Europe. Paul Morphy died at the age of thirty, having in that time been able to place America on the honor roll in the chess world.

Some Stumbles in English

The following are examples of the struggles of the young Turks at college trying to learn our language.

Vapor is dried water.
Oxen, a kind of house animal that gives us milk.
Steam is a post which the water makes in the weather.
Hatchet, a place for make the hat.
I and my defunct mother were seated by the fire-side.
Hear the tear of indignance is loaded over my thinks as a parasite.
We heard the baying of the hen, the baying of the cow, the bawling of the hare, and the croaking of the pigs.
Satin, a kind of water which used to show the weather.
Scrubbed, to walk without boots.
Proud, a man who has no wise and do himself big.
Treadle, a swift food which is made of sugar.
We are too much glad because we are going to near from after a durable tiresome, of toil to enjoy a repose in the arm of our village.
We have many chances in the college to improve the English language.—Missionary Herald.

The Orient and Christianity

By Dr. Frank Crane.

(Copyright, 1913, by Frank Crane.)

If asked what is the most significant world-event of the last six months, I would say it is the formal request of the Chinese government that the Christian people throughout that country and all the earth unite in prayer for the welfare of the new republic.

China is not Christian; only a small portion of her people are of that religion.

It is the first time in history that a non-Christian nation has officially acknowledged the faith of Christian peoples by asking their prayers.

The various church boards in America responded to the appeal, and last Sunday petitions were offered up in our churches for the success of the Chinese experiment in self-government.

The deep meaning of this appeal from China lies in its distinct recognition of the power of Christian sentiment.

A similar act is that of a distinguished Japanese statesman who in the beginning of the California affair expressed the hope that Americans would grant them treatment in accordance with the principles of Christianity.

Familiarity breeds contempt in little minds. To many of us Christianity is so usual, so ingrained into our training and custom, that we forget what it is. When the Orient wakes up and looks upon this western scheme of life and faith it sees in it the grand lines of its imposing structure, and not its petty details.

The Orient, from the outside, sees the thing called Christianity not as we see it. It perceives a lofty spirit of personal conduct, a high program of life, an ideal plan for human society. In the perspective of distance the clash and narrowness of warring sects, the intolerance and selfishness of imperfect human nature fade into the huge outlines of astounding altruism.

Most of all, the deep-piercing Orient sees the essential democracy of Christian principles, and how the emphasis laid by Jesus upon the worth and dignity of the individual life is the real force behind successful human government.

One-half of any religion is the people who have it. Christianity plus the Latin races means one thing, plus the Teutonic and Anglo-Saxon another, plus Americans a third.

Both Romanism and Protestantism have disappointed the world. They have attained great successes; their breakdown has been no less marked. The servility and superstition of the Latin peoples and the robber instinct and hypocrisy of the Anglo-Saxons have produced base compounds when mixed with the pure altruism of Christ.

When Christianity shall have been taken up by the Orientals I think it will produce a religion vastly in advance of our own. The eastern character is more assimilable to the theories of Jesus. It is more simple, more earnest, more imaginative. It is not that curse of getting-on that cheapens and hardens the western soul.

Every advance of western civilization has been brought about by a touch from the east. The renaissance came from the fall of Constantinople and the spread of Greek learning through Italy. Always the east has rejuvenated the west. From the Orient came mathematics, philosophy and all religions.

When Christianity shall have been folded back upon the Chinese and Japanese it will produce a religion as far in advance of the thing we call Christianity as we are in advance of paganism.

The missionaries invading China are building more wisely than they know. For if ever the Orient becomes Christian it will shame us. It will simply and sincerely follow the teachings of Christ. We, calling ourselves Christians, practically declare that the principles of Jesus will not work; that He was an impractical dreamer. With our armies and prisons, our worship of force, our distrust of human nature, our laws of inheritance, and our Juggernaut of business prosperity ruthlessly grinding the humanities beneath its wheels of progress, we sneer at the spiritual laws of Christ as "a hideous dream," all the while giving him ruthless mouth-worship.

If the Orientals, as they bid fair to do, take the teachings of Christ seriously, it is they that shall rule the future; for it is not the violent and cruel but the meek that shall inherit the earth.

JUST SMILES

'Twas eventide. The small lad stood on the bridge slapping his hands vigorously. Beyond the brow of the hill a dull red glow suffused the sky.

"Ah, little boy," remarked the stranger, who was a little near sighted, "it does my heart good to see you appreciate your cloud effect."

"Yes, sir," replied the lad. "I've been watching it for ten minutes."

Upon the boy's face there appeared a smile of perfect bliss.

"A real poet without a doubt! And do you watch the sunsets often, little boy?"

"Sunsets? Why, that ain't a sunset, gov'nor, that's the village school house burning down."—What to Eat.

"And what did my little darling do in school today?" a mother asked of her youngest son—a second grader.

"We had nature study, and it was my turn to bring a specimen," said the boy.

"That was nice. What did you do?"

"I brought a cockroach, in a bottle, and I told teacher we had lots more and if she wanted I would bring one every day."

The little daughter of a clergyman stubbed her toe and said "Lurn!"

"I'll give you 10 cents," said her father, "if you'll never say that word again."

A few days afterward she came to him and said: "Papa, I've got a word worth half a dollar."—Everybody's Magazine.

An Irishman's house caught fire, and in the excitement he put on his trousers, hid side in front, and jumped out of a second-story window. Friends picked him up, asking "Are you hurt, Pat?"

Pat looked down at his trousers and exclaimed: "No, begorrah, I am not hurt, but I am fatally twisted."

HOO'S HOO

By John W. Carey.

Who's known among the hooses as the Vaudevillean Wiz? (If Tony Pastor came to life he'd never know the biz.)

Who pays $,000 plunks per week to Sarah, the Divine, and gets the same—and some besides—from your long green and mine?

Who brings the Jersey Lily o'er—about 3,000 per— and smiles the while we push and shove to get a peek at her?

Who's out for stuff—to top the bill—from Don, the Talking Dog, to twenty-minute Shakespear or T. R. in monologue. Who'd sign the King of England up and write a weekly check, if he would do an act in one?

How about a fifteen minute act, King?

Dr. Schulman Praises Love. Nothing Greater or Holier Than Unselfish Affection, He Says—Times Headline. Even Mr. Choate could sense nothing incendiary in such a headline.

It inspires L. B. C. to the imagination of additional heads, fringed: "Dr. Parkhurst Lauds Truth. Notes Writer Extols Integrity as Virtue;" "Wilson Endorses Honesty. Chief Executive Praises Approvingly of Well-known Trait."

Those sentiments sound like excerpts from the bold, intrepid orators who deliver baccalaureate sermons. As soon as this year's crop is harvested we shall print some of the most revolutionary of the counsels to college seniors. We are unshackled. Even if an orator says that stealing is wrong, we shall not suppress the report of his speech.

NO LETTER.

(From "Forget-Me-Not," poems by Lillian E. Curtis.)
I stood shaking and trembling—
I couldn't compose myself any better;
But how I wanted to cry
At the monotonous words, no letter.

My heart was as heavy
As if it were bound with a fetter;
Does everybody feel so badly
At the monotonous words, no letter?

Or am I so much to blame?
Could I compose myself any better?
I hardly think I could,
At the monotonous words, no letter.

GEORGIA EDUCATORS TO HOLD BUSY SESSIONS

Association Convened Friday in Atlanta—Program Full Till Saturday Noon

Various phases of school work and how to improve conditions generally were discussed by well known educators at the Friday morning session of the Georgia Educational association, held in Taft hall.

The place of the preparatory school in the state's system of schools was discussed by President E. T. Holmes, of Gordon Institute, Barnesville.

Superintendent Ralph Newton, of Fort Valley schools, spoke on "Relating the High School Course to Life."

Superintendent J. C. Harris, of the home schools, discussed "The Use of the Departmental Plan in the Grammar Grades."

E. H. McMichael, of Beuna Vista, told of the many ways in which the bookman can help the schools.

Commercial work in the high school was discussed by Prof. W. R. Kennedy, of the home high school.

Superintendent J. F. Thomason, of the Bainbridge schools, emphasized professional training for high school teachers.

"The Teaching of Home Making in the Country School," was the subject of Miss Mary E. Creswell, assistant in charge of the Girls' clubs, State College of Agriculture.

There will be a night session Friday at which Chancellor David C. Barrow, of the University of Georgia, and Hooper Alexander will be the principal speakers.

Meetings of various departments will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and the convention will close Saturday morning. The next annual meeting will be held at St. Mary's, Camden county.

The department meetings Friday afternoon will discuss supervision and normal schools; higher and secondary education; municipal, elementary and industrial education, and rural and agricultural education.

The program for the closing session on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock follows:

DOG ATTACKS GIRL IN HIDE AND SEEK GAME

Little ten-year-old Alga Peters, of 215 South Pryor street, was attacked and bitten seriously by a bulldog belonging to G. G. Waters, of 88 Woodward avenue, shortly before dusk Thursday while playing "hide and seek" with some children in the neighborhood.

The child was running up an alley looking for a place to hide when the animal sprang at her. Before help came, the dog had knocked her down and had bitten her on the face and arms. She was rushed to her home and the wounds are considered serious by the attending physician.

The owner of the dog refused to allow a policeman to shoot it.

G. M. A. CADETS WILL BE GIVEN REVIEW

The cadets of the Georgia Military academy will be reviewed Friday afternoon by Governor Brown. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Brown and Adjutant General Van Holt Nash.

As the governor enters the campus a salute of seventeen guns will be fired. Following the review, there will be an exhibition drill.

CONFERENCE TUESDAY ON BATTLE SEMI-CENTENNIAL

Chamber of Commerce Invites Representatives of Various Interests to Meet

Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock the first public conference will consider the proposed semi-centennial commemoration of the battle of Atlanta, July 22, 1914.

President Wilmer L. Moore, of the chamber of commerce, has called representatives of all the interested organizations in the city to assemble that afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the chamber's office, 508 Empire building, and discuss the matter from every viewpoint.

Z. K. Orr, John E. Murphy, Asa G. Candler, F. J. Paxon and M. R. Wilkinson, have been requested by President Moore to represent the chamber of commerce at that conference.

Invitations will be put out Friday by Secretary Walter G. Cooper, of the chamber of commerce, to those officers and to the following other citizens and ladies:

United Daughters of Confederacy: Mrs. William McCarty, president; Mrs. J. R. Mobley, Mrs. Dalton Mitchell, Mrs. C. Helen Plane, Miss Alice Baxter.

G. A. R. Post: George B. Levitt, commander; W. M. Scott, Charles R. Haskins, Lucius Perry Hills, C. F. Fairbanks.

United Confederate Veterans: Atlanta: Camp 153, T. J. Buchanan, commander; Camp Wheeler, Colonel John S. Prather; Camp W. H. T. Walker, Sheriff Wheeler Mangum; Camp Tighe Anderson, M. T. Gunn; Camp Longstreet, commander; Camp Stonewall Jackson, commander; Camp Joseph B. Brown, commander.

J. W. English, A. J. West, R. M. Clayton, W. M. Crumley, Governor Joseph M. Brown, Governor-elect John M. Slaton, Mayor James G. Woodward, County Commissioners: Shelby Smith, General C. L. Anderson, S. B. Turman, Tull C. Waters, W. T. Winn.

Fulton County Representatives: B. M. Blackburn, R. O. Cochran, John Y. Smith.

Chamber of Commerce: J. K. Orr, John E. Murphy, Asa G. Candler, Frederick J. Paxon, Neil R. Winslow, Press: Clark Howell, James R. Gray, Foster Coates, W. T. Waters.

Convention Bureau: Ivan E. Allen, Fred Houser.

Ad Men: E. H. Goodhart, Howard Gelder.

Railroads: C. A. Wickersham, H. W. Miller, H. M. Atkinson, C. E. Herman, J. L. Meek, W. H. Leahy, D. W. Apple, George I. Walker, J. A. Thomas.

Street Railway: W. H. Glenn.

Military: General R. K. Evans, General J. Van Holt Nash, Colonel E. E. Pomeroy, Colonel J. F. Burke.

Hotels: A. R. Keen, H. N. Dutton, J. Lee Barnes, Ed Brown, J. F. Letton.

The story of that action was told by a motion adopted by the chamber of commerce directors at their meeting on Wednesday afternoon. It authorized the president to direct a preliminary investigation of the proposed celebration.

The story of that action was told by the Journal exclusively. The project is so tremendous that President Moore's first step was to call together representative men and women of each interest that was to be concerned.

The battle of Atlanta was fought on July 22, 1864. Its fiftieth anniversary will occur next year.

EMORY ALUMNI ASK FOR INTERCOLLEGIATE GAMES

Enthusiastic Meeting Held at the University Club Friday Night by Alumni

Speeches favoring intercollegiate athletics for Emory college were made at a meeting of Emory alumni at the University club Thursday night by J. E. McRee, of the class of 1888, representing the alumni, and J. E. Mathews, president of the student body, representing the undergraduates.

It was stated at the meeting that the undergraduates claim they have sent letters to 1,200 alumni asking opinions on the intercollegiate athletic question and that the replies are twelve to one in favor of intercollegiate games.

Those present at Thursday night's meeting were:

Arthur Field, '72, Marietta; M. C. Austin, '89, Hawkinsville; F. E. Land, '01, Dawson; Judge Grogan, '77, Alberton; A. D. Thomson, '88; I. M. ## OLD AGE DEFERRED

Echo From the Medico-Legal Society

A few generations back a man at 50 was considered old, gray-bearded, and waiting for death. Note the change today; at a meeting of the Medico-Legal society it was stated that a man of 50 ought to have forty good years ahead of him and, thus at ninety be in the fullness of maturity.

What if you have seen sixty, or even seventy birthdays—temperate habits, fresh air and exercise, with a simple diet and a sufficient amount of sleep will spare your health.

If perchance, your circulation is poor, if you become run down—weak and no appetite—nothing in the world will tone up those tired backsliding organs—enrich the blood and create strength so quickly as our delicious cod liver and iron tonic Vinol.

We ask every feeble, discouraged old person in this vicinity to try Vinol on our agreement to return their money if it fails to give satisfaction. Elkin Drug Co., Atlanta, Ga.—(Adv.)

HERE'S SOME NEWS FOR THE BINGVILLE BUGLE

The Kirkwood fire department was called out for the second time this week on Tuesday night when Oakhurst had a fire and couldn't handle it, and telephoned Kirkwood for help, which we gave them.

Thursday night Kirkwood had a fire on North Warren street. The fire department made quick time Thursday night and also did good work. No 12 hose automobile from Edgewood avenue came out from town, but was too late. The Kirkwood company did such quick work that when No. 12 got there the fire was all out. Kirkwood has four companies and three of the four turned out last night with good work.

RHEUMATISM COMES FROM CONDITIONS WHICH CAN BE REMEDIED

But Local Applications on the Skin Cannot Get at the Cause of Your Suffering.

Just a bilious attack and a slight deposit of uric acid. Now calomel and similar mercurial purgatives do not dissolve and expel the uric acid sediment that forms from undigested, fermenting foods, and when this poisonous acid is not expelled it accumulates quickly, thickens the blood and settles in joints and muscles. The joints and muscles then become stiff.

An attempt to cure this rheumatism must be directed toward removing uric acid from blood and tissues, breaking up the crystalline urates already formed and preventing new deposits.

JACOBS' LIVER SALT is remarkably successful in the treatment of rheumatism. It dissolves uric acid out of the tissues, holds it in solution and expels it in the urine. It thoroughly cleanses the system of fermentation and purifies the blood. It will give prompt relief in all cases of rheumatism resulting from uric acid poisoning.

If you are suffering with rheumatism, try JACOBS' LIVER SALT immediately. It will relieve you more promptly and surely than anything else. Don't take an inferior substitute; some closely imitate the name, but none produces the same result. Insist on the genuine JACOBS' LIVER SALT. 25c. If your druggist cannot supply you full size jar mailed upon receipt of price, postage free. Made and guaranteed by Jacobs' Pharmacy Co., Atlanta.—(Adv.)

Nowadays college men favor real, custom looking shoes—gentlemen's styles, like the Arlington

Each season the gulf widens between a gentleman's shoe and the so called "popular" style. Today you will find the gentleman's shoe devoid of noticeable features—it is almost entirely plain in its general effect. Its shape is "human," yet, by reason of that "custom look" which Regal workmen build into a shoe, Regals look their class. Note the characteristics of this Arlington model: plain stitched tip (no perforations); smartly trimmed sole edge; graceful, semi-narrow toe with receding slope; flat tread and broad shank; and low custom heel.

NEW HAVEN ROAD GAVE REPUBLICANS $102,000

President Mellen Says Apparent Profits in Stocks Were Reimbursed to Him

(By Associated Press.)
BOSTON, May 2.—President Mellen, of the New Haven railroad, appearing in his own defense before the interstate commerce commission today, gave an unexpected explanation of some of the figures in the New Haven's books.

According to the government expert accountant, David E. Brown, there appeared an apparent profit of $102,000, made by Mr. Mellen, personally, by trading in the stock of the railroad company.

Mr. Mellen testified that the money in question had been used in political contributions in 1904.

Fifty thousand dollars went to the Republican national campaign fund, he said, and other amounts to aid Republican state campaigns in New York, Connecticut and Rhode Island.

Mr. Mellen advanced the money and the railroad company reimbursed him.

He said in part:

HOW CONTRIBUTION WAS GIVEN.

"The transactions by which 19,835 shares of New Haven stock were sold to me in March, 1904, and I gave my notes to the New England Navigation company, have been questioned.

"This stock was treasury stock and had to be listed on the stock exchange in order to be sold to the public.

"In order to list it, it was sold to me and I gave my notes to the company which held the stock as collateral until sold.

"All these shares were sold at the best obtainable prices and the entire proceeds, together with the dividends, paid to the company's treasury.

"The company received approximately $102,000 more than the price at which the stock was sold to me.

"Between the time of the sale to me and the closing of the transaction I had personally given out of my own funds considerable amounts exceeding in the aggregate the sum of $102,000.

GAVE TO PROTECT PROPERTY.

"These expenditures I had made absolutely because I was president of the New Haven railroad.

"In 1904 I contributed $50,000 to the Republican national campaign fund and other sums for the Republican campaigns in New York, Connecticut and Rhode Island.

"On the closing up of the sale of these stocks, it appearing that an unexpected profit had been realized, my directors, who had been cognizant of my contributions for these purposes, thought proper to make me this allowance.

"I never personally received or retained one dollar to my own profit or advantage.

"All the transactions were fully explained to the auditing committee and were satisfactory to them as expenditures in furtherance of the company's interest and protection of its property."

Savannah Wants Caruso

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 2.—The officials of the Savannah Music club say if the people of Savannah will erect an auditorium here before next spring they will guarantee to bring Caruso for a concert. The Music club succeeded this year for the first time in making a little balance through a season of music, and they feel they can now undertake bigger things.

Yale Students Go Back to Knickerbockers In Fancy Colors

(By Associated Press.)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 2.—Back to knickerbockers is the cry at Yale. The seniors set the fashion suddenly as a May day surprise by appearing in chapel yesterday clad in "knickerbockers." Most of them wore gray, but a few ventured out in greens and browns. The other classes liked the idea so well that the tailors are swamped with orders for the new campus garb and unless the seniors establish patent rights to their innovation it is probable that a majority of the students will be seen in "knickerbockers" from now on until commencement.

MRS. WILSON INTERESTED IN PENSIONS FOR WIDOWS

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The subject of pensions for indigent widows is being considered today by the local Association of Charities as the result of the interest taken by Mrs. Wilson, wife of the president, in the subject.

Mrs. Wilson appeared unexpectedly yesterday at the conference of the association in which the question was discussed. Two cases of destitution were under special discussion. While no definite plans were made looking toward the pension system, it was determined that gratuities would be granted only after the exhausting of possibilities of aid for the unfortunate from relatives, former employers, churches or other organizations. It also was held that a thorough investigation into the scheme and expenditures of each case should be made.

Mrs. Wilson and her daughters have taken a personal interest in uplift work since they came to the White House.

WARE COUNTY WILL ASK FOR COLONIES

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

WAYCROSS, Ga., May 2.—This county is losing no time in getting in behind the new settlement proposition outlined before the board of trade by W. H. Leshy, of Atlanta, and John W. Greer, of Tifton.

A company is being promoted here for the express purpose of developing the necessary lands for the colonization work to be done and it is believed within a short time Ware will send in a request for two or three colonies of from twenty to thirty families each.

MILEAGE REFORM MAY REACH PRESENT CONGRESS

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Personalities between Representatives Palmer, of Pennsylvania, and Humphrey, of Washington, which the latter attributed to a recent fight led by Mr. Palmer against the present system of paying mileage to senators and representatives to and from their homes today caused renewed discussion regarding mileage reform. It was freely predicted that there would be a reduction in the allowance which now aggregates $175,000 each session.

Phillips Leaves Fort

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 2.—It is not often that the commanding officer of a military post is given such a send-off as Colonel Phillips received at Fort Screven yesterday morning when he bade the men good-by before leaving for the Pacific coast, where he is to be stationed in the future.

COLUMBUS TO WELCOME TEMPLARS OF GEORGIA

Program Is Arranged for Annual Conclave of State Commandery

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

COLUMBUS, Ga., May 2.—Grand Commander F. T. Petri, of the Knights Templar of Georgia, today announced a tentative program for the approaching annual session of the organization, which meets in Columbus May 14.

The Racine hotel is to be headquarters for the grand commandery, which is to be attended by many of the most prominent citizens of Georgia. Owing to the lateness of the hour for the arrival of the trains on the first day, the grand parade will not take place until 12:30 o'clock. It will form in front of the hotel and will pass through the main sections of the city in command of Grand Captain General B. F. Harde-man, of Athens, Ga., assisted by Sir Knight W. A. Capps, adjutant.

Following the parade the Knights will repair to the asylum in the Masonic temple, where addresses of welcome and responses will be made, these exercises being open to the public. An intermission of thirty minutes will be had at 3 o'clock for a luncheon, which is to be prepared by the ladies. Following this luncheon, the first business session is to be called for by Commander Petri. At 5 o'clock in the afternoon all visiting Knights, their wives and sisters are to be guests of St. Aldemar commandery, Columbus, at a delightful 'cove out at the Country club, north of the city.

In the evening at 8:30 the annual templar service will be held at Trinity Episcopal church, this service to be in charge of the Rev. Sir Knight Troy Beatty, of Athens. A double quartet will sing. The annual templar address, which is to be a feature of the service, will be delivered by Past Grand Commander G. M. Napier, of Atlanta, one of the best known and most popular Knights of the state.

The second day's session will be held in the asylum at the temple, when reports will be submitted, followed by the election of officers and the naming of the next meeting place. From 12:30 to 2:30 a public reception is to be held in the upper floor of the temple, to which the general public, including the ladies, are invited. A special orchestra will dispense music. Various drilling contests will feature the closing of the session.

The following is said to be the surest and quickest cure known to science for all foot ailments: Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of Calocide compound in a basin of warm water. Soak the feet in this for fully fifteen minutes, gently rubbing the sore parts. The effect is really wonderful. All soreness goes instantly; the feet feel delightful. Corns and calluses can be peeled right off. It gives immediate relief for sore bunions, sweaty, smelly and aching feet. A twenty-five cent box of Calocide is said to be sufficient to cure the worst feet. It works through the pores and removes the cause of the trouble. Don't waste time on uncertain remedies. Any druggist has Calocide compound in stock or he can get it in a few hours from his wholesale druggist.—(Advt.)

Sweet Simplicity Is Expensive

The summer girl will be gown very simply, but trust the dressmaker to find a way to make these simple frocks expensive.

The girl pictured is wearing a one-piece white batiste gown and a simple black satin covered hat, but there is about fifty dollars' worth of bird of paradise feathers on the hat. Every woman knows that sweet simplicity is expensive when it comes to dress.

STUDY AND LECTURE COURSE PLANNED FOR G. H. S. ALUMNAE

A plan was outlined and enthusiastically received in a meeting of the class chairmen at the home of the president of the Alumnae association of the Girls' High school yesterday afternoon.

This plan provides for a course of study to be carried on by the members who desire it, along the lines of sociology, literature, or art. Monthly meetings were proposed at which the business of the association could be transacted and the class or lecture work done.

The idea is that a really attractive and serious course can be given, which will be a pleasure as well as a privilege to the members of the association. The course would be so planned as to lead up to the work covered by the spring lectures.

For example, if a Browning course is to be given in the spring, the work of the classes would be preparatory for Browning. If the lectures chosen should be on the great reformers, the courses would probably be sociological. If lectures on art be preferred, the work done by the classes in the monthly meetings would be in the history of art or some allied theme.

The plan has a twofold advantage: it would offer something definite and worth while in a cultural sense, and it would serve to give social coherence to the organization. Heretofore, the activities of the association have been confined to the spring season and the period immediately preceding commencement. It is believed by those interested that the results will more than justify a departure from this method.

Of course, the discussion of the plan Wednesday afternoon was informal and the matter will have to be duly presented to the directors of the association for consideration and action.

Meantime the president will be very glad to have expression of opinion on the subject from any member of the association.

Miss Veronica Frank and Mr. Will Butler were the only attendants. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Toomey left for a trip north and will be at home after June 1, 217 Thirteenth street, Augusta, Ga.

Story-Chambliss

ASHBURN.—The marriage of Miss Eunice Story, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Story, and Mr. Jesse George Chambliss, of Americus, Ga., occurred at the Ashburn Methodist church Wednesday, April 30, at 12 o'clock.

Preceding the ceremony, "Oh, Promise Me," was sung by Miss Rhoda Van Buskirk, of Detroit, Mich., accompanied by Miss Hazel Turner on the piano. Mendelssohn's wedding march was rendered by Misses Mary John Murray and Annette Trasher on the violin and piano, while the party came to the altar. The ushers were the first to come. Messrs. J. J. Story and Edwin Murray, of Americus, in one aisle, and Messrs. Calvin Carter and Inman Griffin in the one opposite. These crossed in front of the altar and took their stand between tall jardiniere stands on either side of the chancel. Following these came the bridesmaids, Misses May Story and Laura Essie Whiddon, dressed in white serge coat suits with white melrose hats and carrying bouquets of pink roses and sweet peas, and stood just in front of the ushers. The groom and his best man, Mr. Gordon Howell, of Americus, then entered on the right, while the bride advanced on the left on the arm of her elder brother, Mr. Warren Story, who gave her away. Rev. W. E. Townson, pastor of the M. E. church, met them at the rail and performed the ceremony, using the ring. The bride was neatly dressed in a traveling suit of blue with hat to match. The party proceeded to Americus and were entertained at a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Chambliss, parents of the groom.

To make a perfect bisque with Campbell's Tomato Soup, just follow the easy directions on the label.

Use only a small pinch of baking-soda. Use fresh sweet milk, with only a little cream in it, if any. After you mix the soup and the milk let them come to boiling-point; but do not let them boil.

Preparing this delightful bisque or "cream-of-tomato" as it is often called is very simple. And you could not serve a more tempting and satisfying dinner-course.

The Trio Way IS The Honest Way

When we say send your soiled garments to us and we will clean them—we mean it absolutely. We remove grease spots and stains and take every particle of dirt out of the garments by our scientific process, which is acknowledged the best—because it satisfies.

The Trio Laundry

Prompt Attention Given Phone Calls.

Wash your clothes with GOLD DUST

Good soap washes clothes well—if you use enough elbow grease, but Gold Dust washes them more thoroughly—and with little or no rubbing. Gold Dust saves half your time, and spares your poor back.

Another great advantage of Gold Dust—use any kind of water you like. Gold Dust softens the hardest water and makes it soft as rain water.

Gold Dust is just a vegetable-oil soap in powdered form, with other cleansing ingredients added to make it work more thoroughly and quickly than soap ever can.

At the Sign of the Wren's Nest

The ladies of the Uncle Remus association will give a silver tea at the Sign of the Wren's Nest, on Gordon street, Saturday, May 3, 4 to 6 p. m.

The program will be conducted by Miss Hood, who has been delighting crowds at the Phillips & Crew hall by her musical readings. These readings are from the best operas and the music will be rendered by the Victor, so generously presented by Phillips & Crew. Refreshments served.

A large crowd is expected and all who come will feel amply repaid.

Japanese Lawn Festival

The young people's Junior Missionary societies of Inman Park Methodist church will give a Japanese lawn fete on the church lawn on May 5, Thursday afternoon and night from 4 o'clock until 10 p. m.

The members will wear Japanese costumes and the lawn and Sunday school rooms will be decorated accordingly.

There will be attractive features of music, readings, pantomimes etc., and refreshments will be served by the Japanese maidens. Tickets, 10 cents.

Proceeds go to the foreign and missionary pledges of the auxiliary.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

(Copyright, 1913, by J. G. Lloyd.)

Peter Rabbit had been hiding under the henhouse just outside of Farmer Brown's dooryard ever since the black, black night had begun to give way to the glad, bright day. You see, he wouldn't have dared to go up there in daylight, for fear that some one would see him. So he had gone there in the night, for Peter is one of those whose eyes are made for seeing either night or day. He had found the hole under the henhouse just where Jimmy Skunk had told him he would find it, and he had crept in and made himself as comfortable as he could. Now he was waiting and waiting for jolly, round, red Mr. Sun to climb up in the blue, blue sky so that everybody at Farmer Brown's would wake up.

Little rays of light crept under the henhouse. A rooster crowed and made Peter jump almost out of his skin. He had heard roosters crow before, but always at a distance. This one was almost over his head, and it startled him so that he almost squealed with fright. Pretty soon he heard the hens jump down from their perches, and with every jump Peter's heart jumped too. Then he heard Bowser the Hound yawn and rattle his chain. Peter peeped through a little crack, and there was Bowser stretching himself in front of his little house, and so near that it seemed to Peter that Bowser must surely smell him.

A door slammed and in a few moments Peter heard footsteps. Then he heard the voice of Farmer Brown's boy as he stopped to talk to Bowser the Hound. Then the footsteps drew nearer and thumped on the floor over Peter's head. Farmer Brown's boy was collecting the eggs. Poor Peter Rabbit! He tried to tell himself that it was foolish to be afraid. Nobody knew that he was under the henhouse, and so, of course, there was nothing to be afraid of. But somehow he just couldn't help being afraid. Every sudden sound made him jump almost out of his skin. You see he never before had come so close to Farmer Brown's house, and he couldn't help but feel that Farmer Brown's boy and Bowser the Hound must know that he was there and he was watching for him. He looked to crawl out the way he had come in and trust to his long legs to take him safely to the Green Forest.

But every time he thought of this he shut his lips tightly and tried to forget that he could run.

The bravest folks are those whose hearts
Go pit-a-pat with fear,
But still refuse to run away
From danger drawing near.
He's twice as brave who does a deed
As he who does not fight at all.
Yet says no fear he knew.

So, though Peter Rabbit was shaking with fear so that his teeth chattered, he really was very, very brave, for you see he could have run away and didn't. And it was all because he had promised Johnny Chuck to try to find out what had become of Johnny's baby, Chuck, whom Farmer Brown's boy had caught and carried off. So in spite of all his shaking and jumping Peter's bravery was the very bravest kind of bravery. Peter found that he couldn't see much of the dooryard from under the henhouse. He could see a big woodpile that looked as if it might have hiding places. He would try it anyway. So when the way seemed clear he crept out and hurried over to the woodpile. Before he had a chance to hunt for a hiding place Bowser the Hound came out of his house and saw Peter. "Bow, wow, wow!" roared Bowser and pulled at his chain so that it seemed as if it must break. Peter didn't stop to look for a hiding place under the woodpile. He saw an opening under the porch of Farmer Brown's house and he dived in head first.

Hardly had Peter congratulated himself on his new hiding place when he heard a low growl. Peter looked over in the darkest corner and his heart almost stopped beating. There were two fierce greenish eyes glaring at him. It was Thomas, the big cat of Farmer Brown's. Peter didn't wait to look twice. He left by the same way he had entered.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

The office of the Y. W. C. A. has been moved on the second floor of the Steiner-Emery building in the Girls' Night school room, where all business will be transacted. Miss Georgia Downing is the acting secretary and hours are from 9 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

The cafeteria, the reading room, has met with most success and will be reopened in September, when a more desirable location for all work pertaining to the association will be obtained.

Miss King's Party to Visitors

Miss Carolyn King was hostess at an informal bridge party on Friday afternoon at her home on Peachtree street, in compliment to Miss Elizabeth Winn, of Richmond, Va., who is the guest of Mrs. Hughy Lokey, and to Miss Robyn Young, of Washington, who is visiting Mrs. W. C. Humphries.

Auction bridge was played during the afternoon and the prizes for top score at each table were silk stockings.

Mrs. Porter King served tea from a prettily appointed table which had for its center a basket holding pink Killarney roses and ferns and the bonbons and ices continued a color suggestion of pink and white.

Miss King wore a draped gown of white crepe, the wide train of black tulle making effective contrast.

Eight friends were guests of the pleasant occasion.

Paper Chase

An interesting event of tomorrow will be the paper chase led by Mr. F. A. Sayage and enjoyed by a group of Atlanta riders.

The party will meet at the corner of Peachtree and Fifteenth streets for the cross-country run.

Among the riders invited are Miss M. A. Alderson, Miss Helen Jones, Miss Martha Whitner, Miss Josephine Stoney, Miss Margaret McKee, Mrs. John Hill, Mrs. C. K. Ayer, Mr. Samuel Slicer, Mr. Westerfelt Terhune, Lieutenant Tucker, Lieutenant Evans, Mr. Frank Jeman, Mr. McCullough, Mr. Rojostan Cabaniss, Mr. Wilmer Moore, Jr., and Mr. Charles Boynton, Jr.

Mission Workers

Have Interesting Meeting

Those who were present at the quarterly meeting of the Atlanta Woman's union of Mission Workers at St. Luke's Episcopal church Wednesday afternoon counted themselves fortunate, for the program was most interesting.

Mrs. Nyn Hurt, president of the union, was in the choir. Evening prayer was conducted by Dr. Wilmer, and a beautiful tenor solo rendered by Mr. James Wardlaw.

After a short business session Rev. Henry F. Cope, of the Religious Education association of Chicago, delivered a masterly address on "Character Development, Through Home, Church and School."

These meetings offer an opportunity for women of different denominations to meet and co-operate in Christian work, and all who attend should avail themselves of these privileges.

Lawn Fete In Honor

School Girls

The graduating class of Washington seminary will be the hostesses at a beautiful lawn fete at which the Seminary Alumnae association will entertain on Friday afternoon, May 16.

Receiving with the alumnae will be Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Scott, Miss Emma Scott and other members of the faculty.

Assisting in entertaining will be the junior class. Several hundred invitations will be issued, the affair to be one of the most interesting of the spring season.

"The Triumph of David"

At the First Baptist

"The Triumph of David," by Dudley Buck, will be sung at the First Baptist church on next Sunday evening, May 4, at 8 o'clock, under the direction of J. P. O'Donnell.

The soloists will be Mrs. Peyton H. Todd, Mrs. James H. Whitten, Mr. Solon Druckenmiller, Mr. H. R. Bates, assisted by Miss Florence Baldwin, Mrs. S. R. Landon, Miss Ruth McMillan, Miss Plunkett, Mrs. J. A. Woolley, Mrs. J. H. Salmon, Mr. Alfred H. Bailey, Mrs. Emmie Ballew, Mrs. Charles A. Davis, Miss Leonard, Mr. C. T. Prown, Mr. C. S. Upson, Mr. E. R. Wood, Mr. P. E. Davidson, Mr. W. W. Henry, Mr. W. P. Hunter, Mr. Norris.

Eastman Social News

EASTMAN—What promises to be one of the largest organizations of this section of the state was instituted in Eastman Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. A. L. Wilkins where a local chapter of the American Revolution was formed by the most prominent society women of the town.

The new organization, known as the Colonel William Few chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the following are the officers: Mrs. A. W. Bealer, Mrs. W. M. Dye, Mrs. C. Carr, Mrs. J. D. Williams, Mrs. W. R. Hall, Mrs. N. W. Hurst, Miss Fannie Kate Persons, Mrs. A. L. Wilkins, Mrs. T. H. Prince, Mrs. W. McRae, Mrs. S. S. Stevens, Mrs. S. C. Butler, Mrs. L. M. Penick, Mrs. A. A. Edwards and Miss Rosalind Ione Waite.

The following were elected as officers: Regent, Mrs. A. L. Wilkins; vice regent, Mrs. N. W. Hurst; recording secretary, Mrs. A. W. Bealer; treasurer, Mrs. T. H. Prince; corresponding secretary, Mrs. T. H. Hall; registrar, Miss Fannie Kate Persons; historian, Mrs. William McRae. The first meeting in each month was decided on as the time for holding regular meetings.

A study of Georgia history during the period of the American revolution will be taken up at the next meeting. An interesting feature of the initial meeting was an exhibit of the historical collection of the old-fashioned spinning wheel that originally belonged to her great-grandmother. A delightful course of refreshments was served at the close of the meeting.

At the pajama home of Mrs. Thos. J. Watson on Wednesday afternoon there was organized a study class, composed of a number of Eastman's prominent women. Mrs. A. W. Bealer, who was the inspiration of this organization and who has no successful business, was elected president, and in a few well chosen words stated the object of the meeting. It is the purpose of this organization not alone to benefit its members by courses of instructive study, but to make of itself a real student of problems political and economic and to aid in civic improvements. The meetings for the summer months will be held every third Tuesday afternoon in each month at the homes of the members, taken in alphabetical order. After the business of organization, delicious refreshments were served. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. A. W. Bealer; second vice president, Mrs. A. T. Petrucci; recording secretary and treasurer, Mrs. F. H. Edwards; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. D. Herrmann; club agent, Mrs. Mary Edwards; press superintendent, Mrs. A. L. Wilkins.

Our Diamonds Are Correctly Graded

We owe to you value received for your money. We could not be so absolutely certain of giving you that value if we did not so critically examine every diamond stocked. To be able to determine their worth it is essential for the one so entrusted to possess a keen knowledge of them. This knowledge cannot be gained except from long study and experience. We do not believe that there is one better suited for the work than has charge of this particular feature of our business.

Every stone that goes into our stock is first weighed, thoroughly examined in every particular, and every feature, whether favorable or unfavorable, is recorded in a manner that makes it possible for our customer to purchase here with positively nothing to risk.

We invite you to see our splendid display, confident in the belief that greater values cannot be obtained anywhere. Selection packages sent anywhere upon request.

MRS. JAMES FIELDER.
Wife of the governor of New Jersey, succeeds Mrs. Woodrow Wilson as "first lady" of the state of New Jersey. Mrs. Fielder is a woman who is famed for always being well dressed. The gown which is here pictured is of white tulle embroidered in fine white pearl beads. It is made very simply, as are all Mrs. Fielder's clothes. The pannels and lilies of the valley are the only bits of color about this frock and with it Mrs. Fielder wears no jewels except a gold band bracelet studded with amethysts.

Style Chats

NO. 14

Madame, this is YOUR store—

Its organized efforts to cater to YOU, and please YOU as an individual, is responsible for the "tone" and exclusiveness of its offerings from day to day, of READY-TO-WEAR apparel.

The SOUTHERN SUIT & SKIRT CO. is YOUR store, for other reasons than authority of its styles, and the quality of its merchandise—

It is YOUR store because its policies throughout eliminate the possibilities of undesirable stocks, and keeps the store "brimming" with the bright NEW things that will delight you.

It is YOUR store, because its management studies the economies in the MAKING OF A GARMENT—and of the advantages in buying it. MR.

(To Be Continued)

GEO. W. SEAY, President of the SOUTHERN SUIT & SKIRT CO., has the guiding hand of a manufacturer's experience to coach the purchases for his store. His energies are centered on the promotion of his patrons' interests—

To exemplify these ideas more expressively, the store will, on tomorrow, again offer that "stunning" line of RATINE and CRASH DRESSES, that have the fetching little style touches so eagerly sought, and so greatly admired.

The Dresses are profuse in their variety, and are sweet, fresh and charming; regular $12.50 values—you'll readily appreciate this fact when you see them—but Economy's Policy paves the way for your choice at $8.95. This offering will confirm the fact "THAT THIS IS 'YOUR' STORE!"

Thoughtful Buying Will Lower Your Cost of Living

By JOHN P. FALLON.

It has been laid down as economic law that lowered cost gained through simple change in supplying your wants carries with it no loss of pleasure in consumption.

This means you can oftentimes lower your cost of living by thoughtful buying—for example: Mercerized silk serves the purpose of its users and gives as much pleasure as the more expensive kinds. A sewing machine stripped of its nickel plate and artistic finish (but with the same mechanism) costs less than the original article. A coat lined with cambric costs less than one lined with high grade silk, yet the wear is practically the same.

You should think not only of what can be saved as between different articles and their uses, but as between different stores and buying seasons as well. Read the advertisements in THE JOURNAL closely and constantly every day and they will help you keep your cost of living down to a minimum. They will direct you to the right store at the right time.

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of ointment—double strength from Jacobs' Pharmacy, and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength ointment as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—(Adv.)

Opera at Sign of Wren's Nest

MISS DORA HOOD.

—Photograph by Mead.

A great treat is in store for all who attend the silver tea, which is to be given by the Uncle Remus Memorial association at the Wren's Nest, Saturday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. Miss Hood will give an interpretation of one of the operas rendered during the recent season and her story of the opera being illustrated by the Victoria with great artists as the singers.

Miss Hood had the pleasure of a personal meeting with Madam Homer during her visit, the singer expressing her interest in the original and instructive form of the young Atlanta woman's recitals. Personally she is very attractive and a student of music and the drama. She is a graduate of the Girls' High school, and holds a scholarship from Mrs. Bassian, of London, which came through her teacher, Miss Lula Clark King.

SOCIAL SURVEY BEGINS IN ATLANTA VERY SOON

Chamber of Commerce Receives Letters Indicating Experts' Early Arrival

That the work of making a preliminary social survey of Atlanta will be commenced within a short time, probably this month, is the information which the chamber of commerce has received from Dr. Shelby M. Harrison, Dr. Harrison writes that in a day or so he will give the exact date upon which the Russell Sage foundation investigators will reach the city.

The survey is the result of initiative taken by the chamber's committee on social survey. That committee is composed of R. L. Foreman, chairman; Kendall Weisiger, John E. Murphy, George Mase, Linton Hopkins, V. H. Kriegshaber and F. J. Paxton. Jacob W. Patterson, director in charge of the social division of the chamber, has taken active interest in the matter.

On Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock there will meet in the chamber of commerce the recently created committee on cotton, grain and stock exchange, composed as follows: C. B. Howard, G. A. Nicolson, A. P. Morgan, C. E. Caverly, J. H. Hillsman, Roby Robinson, E. P. McBurney, E. M. Hutcheson, W. M. McKendie, Ernest Woodruff, R. J. Lowry, W. L. Peel, A. P. Coles, J. S. Floyd, J. K. Ottley, Frank Hawkins, W. J. Blalock, W. S. Lounsbury, Morrison.

Hollins Randolph has been named chairman of the committee on interurban railway development, and will appoint the four other members of that committee.

The matter of a junior order affiliated with the chamber of commerce has been referred to the membership committee, composed of Ivan E. Allen, chairman; V. H. Kriegshaber, J. R. A. Hobson and Albert Howell.

The report on milk supply was referred to the executive committee, composed as follows: Wimer L. Moore, president of the chamber; Mell R. Wilkinson, V. H. Kriegshaber, Brooks Morgan, W. L. Peel and Albert Howell.

HAPPENINGS IN LONDONTOWN

LONDON, May 3.—The king and queen spent the week in very plebeian fashion, King George attending to state business, riding in the park, and strolling about the town; while Queen Mary, with that enthusiasm for which she is famed where quite "motherly" undertakings are concerned, paid visits to some of her poet instructions and friends. There is no doubt that the assassination of the late king of Greece has, as one courtier remarked, "messed things up a bit," but the season will soon be in full swing, and it may be accepted as a certainty that their majesties will have to put up for some time when the round of social duties does commence. Their majesties also paid Queen Alexandra a visit.

By careful management the king's privy purse has received from the Duchy of Lancaster estates for last year the full revenue of $220,000, as in 1911. No further payments were made to the executors of the late King Edward, and it was therefore possible to increase the superannuation allowances to provide for the heavier burdens of taxation, and to adjust some other expenses, without throwing the balance sheet out of gear. It may not be generally known that the chancellor of the duchy laid out $120,000 in buying land last year, and the rents of this additional property ought to bring up his majesty's Lancaster revenues to $330,000 in the course of the next year or two. In order to carry out this operation, an overdraft was arranged with the estate bankers of no less than $60,000, upon which interest is being paid. Even monarchs have to cut their costs according to their cloth, but the idea of the king having to get a loan from his bankers in order to pay for a little bit of land is distinctly whimsical.

The prince of Wales has come off rather less lavishly out of his revenue as duke of Cornwall. In the previous year his royal highness' council took $42,500, but last year they had to be content with a pittance of $40,750, out of which to pay also for the schooling of the younger princes. This does not mean that there was a slump in "duchies," because a balance of $87,000 was brought forward—more than $25,000 in excess of the balance with which the year began. This is a large balance than King George used to hold in hand when he was duke of Cornwall, and its purpose is obvious. It means that the property is going to be nursed while the prince is in his minority, in order to improve the revenue when his royal highness comes into his own.

Before very long the question of a country house will crop up, and a larger demand will then be made upon the resources of the duchy estates. Remember that the help-apparent will have to grant from the civil list, and will have to make do with what his dual revenue brings it. As he takes after his royal mother in having ostentatious extravagance like poison, he will be able to worry along quite comfortably even with a beggarly $406,750.

The promotion of the prince of Wales to commissioned rank in the navy, on the eve of his departure for Germany, was designed to enable him to become the guest of military officers abroad as occasion might serve.

Should he be present at the imperial wedding in Berlin, he will still have one's uniform in his kit. As such, he will not, in future, have to undergo the fatigue of regimental duty, but will put in some practical work with his chosen regiment by way of getting some experience of a soldier's life. The queen nuns are saying that the prince will accompany the king when his majesty rides out to Hyde park to review the brigade of guards. It is only a guess, of course, and not a very good one, because his royal highness is not due home yet a while.

Let it be reiterated, that the prince of Wales is not to become a student of any German university. The king has decided that this experience is to be given to his second son, who has been having a fine time in the West Indies. Prince Albert is to make a tour of the Mediterranean ports, and will not be back home again until the middle of the Cumberland are paid off at the end of July. He is to go to Germany next year, and the arrangements will be made by his majesty when he goes to Berlin. It will be either Bonn or Heidelberg, and at present the balance inclines in favor of the latter, if opinion in the court environment goes for anything.

A certain peeress who makes a specialty of introducing rich women into society for a consideration got a nasty snub the other day from a wealthy lady to whom she had written offering her services. The lady in question replied she had something better to do with her money than to waste it.

A society ballet is the latest sensation for London. A popular duchess intends to arrange a function at which many prominent young dames who have been taking lessons in the terpsichorean art will appear as ballerinas. They will be supported by a number of children, and the whole affair will be staged as a ballet under the supervision of a well known manager.

Now that the whole tragic story surrounding the deaths of the Crown Prince Rudolph and the Baroness Vetsera is to come out, it may be said that the poor young lady was the niece, through her mother, of the Mr. Baltazzi, who won the derby in 1876 with the Hungarian horse, Kieber. The Baltazzi brothers, her uncles, were the sons of a Greek gentleman who had made his "pile" in a most romantic fashion. His family settled in Austria and his children came into contact with the best sets through their interest in the turf.

No steps have yet been taken by Lloyds in regard to the mutual insurance of their fleets which the Cunard, International Marine and Hamburg companies have entered into. But if the movements grows to any extent it is said that action will be taken in the matter, so as to prevent, if possible, ship owners entering into active competition with the recognized insurance institutions.

CENTRAL OF GEORGIA ROAD DISTRIBUTES NICE FOLDERS

The Atlanta office of the Central of Georgia Railway company is distributing a most attractive folder illustrating the pleasures, comforts and perfection of a sea trip to New York or Boston via the Savannah line.

The booklet is handsomely illustrated, giving attractive views of points of interest and showing the manifold comforts of the ships operated.

Aside from being a thing of beauty it is at once a useful and valuable asset for the traveling public. On the ships one will find every luxury that could be expected in the most modern hotel of today.

Not even the smallest detail has been overlooked and the booklet will prove instructive as well as pictorially interesting to all.

HURLERS GOING BADLY YET THEY ARE STRONG

Past Performances Would Lead Fans to Believe That Staff Is Weak When Really It Is Strong Enough for Any Class A Club—Some of the Hurlers Are of Strong Class and When Their Arms Come Around Will Go at Good Clip

BY JULIAN MURPHY.

Some days ago it was stated that the Atlanta twirling staff looked sufficiently strong for any good Class A club and in this opinion I have great faith despite the continued poor showing of several of the hurlers and the reports of several changes. Recent work does not bear out the contention that the five hurlers who compose the staff are really good enough for a team that it is right in the running all the while, yet past performances show strong.

WEAVER AS EXAMPLE.

The best example of what a hurler is able to do, and just what he is now showing is demonstrated in the case of Buck Weaver.

Buck Weaver last season was with the New Orleans club, admittedly an organization that was not overly strong and yet he got away with 12 wins and 8 defeats and was not with the club all year. Buck attracted the attention of the majors and went to the Boston Braves from whom he was landed by Billy Smith. A good idea as to how the best batters regard Buck is contained in a recent letter from Mike Balenti, formerly with Chattanooga. When Buck was landed by Manager Smith it was Balenti who came through with a voluntary statement that Weaver was the most puzzling hurler he faced all during the 1912 campaign, and Balenti was a good hitter.

As yet Buck has been going decidedly punk. He won the first game in Chattanooga, but at that did not hurl such jam-up ball. Since then he has been worthless to the club. He complains of a bad arm and this may be the reason for his failure to show.

Next in line is Jim Brady. Now nobody ever regarded Brady as a world beater, yet he has forgotten more about the hurling game than most the younger players down this way have ever known. He pitches with his head instead of arm, and to date has twirled many good games and is sure to put over a few more good performances. Brady has not yet turned loose a bad game.

MUSSER'S WILDNESS.

Since Musser got away with his first three good games he has been hit a trifle hard and his wildness continues. But you must remember this climate is entirely new to the blonde boy, and he has not yet learned how to condition his arm. I don't care how sorry you think the pitching corps appears there is not a fan who can say that Musser hasn't an abundance of wares. His one greatest trouble is lack of faith in his ability to get 'em over. The fact that he has been wild causes him to quit putting all his puzzlers over the pan and strive to keep from walking the batter.

When the season opened there was no one who believed Price would be any particular star, yet this left-hander is proving the most consistent winner on the staff. Price has a lot of good curves and plenty of speed, and if he would only take the game more seriously it is probable that he would get away with a few better ball games. However, at that he is losing by only one run and always holds the opposition to a few runs.

CRACKERS' UTILITY PLAYER

SEWANEE FACES TECH; JACKETS NEW LINE-UP

Tigers Have Been Playing Jam Up Ball All Along and Will Go Strong Against the Local Collegians—Tech Team Slightly Crippled by Absence of Most of the Stars From the Line-up—Second Game to Be Played Saturday

The Sewanee team arrived in town early this morning for its two battles with Georgia Tech, Friday and Saturday afternoons at the flats. On each day the games start at 3:30 o'clock.

The team is evidently tired from its long road trip through Georgia and Florida. Starting last Thursday from the mountain, the Tiger players have staged six battles, playing Tennessee last week, meeting Mercer and breaking even with the Baptists Monday and Tuesday, and winning one out of three from the Florida boys Wednesday and Thursday. A double-header was played Wednesday.

Despite the fact that the Jackets will present a patched line-up to the Tiger game, they have a fine chance to lick Sewanee. The Tiger hurlers have been worked overtime, and the men are tired. Coach Ware will probably pitch Ealeson against Tech today, with Pat Dinwiddie, Atlanta boy and ex-Marist college all-pro player, doing the receiving.

Heisman is close-mouthed as to what his line-up will be, but there is a strong probability that he will send an entirely new bunch into the field, with the exception of a few positions. Jack Donaldson, Scrapy Moore, Ed Monteague, Murphy Pound, and Pledger is reported, will warm the bench. The reported line-up will be: Captain, Monteague, second base; Amason, first base; Wootch, short; Clay, third; Wootch, catcher; Eubanks, pitcher; Malone, right; Dunwoody, center; Pitts, left.

The games today and tomorrow are certain to bring out a big crowd. This is the first time that Tech has been in town in two weeks, save for one game fifth Wake Forest; the Atlanta club is out of town; and the opponents of the Jackets, it must be remembered, are the Sewanee Tigers, the team that licked Tech on the grid last year and which always is a big attraction.

There are a number of Sewanee alumni in town who are certain to turn out in full force to the game, and the Tech team will be there with bells on. The probable Sewanee line-up will be: Egleston, pitcher; Dinkins, catcher; Jones, first; Whitely, short; Hammond, third; Fanning, second; McGowan, Armbruster and Erwin, outfield.

Empire Starts First Season

The Empire State league cracked open its first annual season Thursday, the six teams which formed the organization playing games in Brunswick, Valdosta and Cordele. Three thousand fans saw the Brunswick-Waycross battle, 1,750 witnessed the Thomasville-Valdosta game, and 1,170 marled manly shouts of while Americans went down in defeat before Cordele.

The games were good games, and show that these teams are going to make a hot race of it. All the scores were rather close, although in one battle the pitchers were pounded rather freely.

Opening ceremonies marked the initial games in every city, and great enthusiasm was displayed by the fans. The Empire league looks as if it would be a hot little organization this year.

Several Atlanta boys are playing in the league. Coach Wahoo, of the University of Georgia, is managing the Waycross club, and the teams are dotted with ex-Southern league players.

Brady Works Third Battle

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 2.—The third battle between Atlanta and Birmingham will be staged Friday with Hardgrove opposing Brady. Fitterly is held as relief hurler by Manager Smith. The teams now stand even on the record, and both are making strenuous efforts to cop the third game so as to gain an advantage for the final mixup on Saturday. In the six games played between the two teams to date Atlanta has won four and the Braves two.

Brady will again be found at shortstop, with Pat Graham in right field and Dunn doing the catching. This line-up will probably hold good until the return of Billy Ball.

FRESHIES IN FIRST PLACE

OXFORD, Ga., May 2.—Emory's interclass baseball race has been changed again and the standing is:

	P.	W.	L.	Pct.
Freshmen	6	5	1	.833
Sophomores	5	3	2	.692
Seniors	4	2	2	.500
Juniors	3	0	3	.000

The Sophs. corralled ten hits for a total of seventeen bugs, and made ten errors, while their opponents hit out ten safe bingles for sixteen bases and played an errorless game. Duncan, the Fresh first sacker, was best with the willow, with three out of five, one being a triple. His teammates, extra hitting was triples by Bonner and Lane, while the Sophs' slugging was for a three-bagger and double by Summers, home run for Stokes and a double for Porter.

The game was interfered with several times by clashes on the side lines of the two contestants' rooters. Score by innings:

	R.	H.	E.
Freshmen	10	10	10
Sophomores	10	10	10

Sophomores, Porter, Summers and Chesire, Porter, Freeman, Merritt and Harris. Empire, Turner.

May to Pitch First Ball

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) ANNISTON, Ala., May 2.—Mayor J. L. Winkle has been invited to pitch the first ball at the opening game of the Georgia-Alabama league, which is the city of Thursday, May 9, when the Anniston and Gadsden teams, old rivals in the Southeastern league pennant race, will meet in the fourth of a series of six games, Anniston opening at Gadsden on the fifth.

The new stand will be erected by Building Inspector Jim Holly, who says that he will do his best to have the new grandstand up within three weeks. An extra large force of men are employed on the structure. The new stand will be on the fifth.

How Games Were Won

Charley Stengel was the hero of the Brooklyn-Boston game Thursday. He was responsible for three of the Dodgers' four runs, on his first attempt hitting for a home run, slugging out another circuit smash on the second, which scored Miller.

Silent John Hummel got three hits in the game between the Dodgers and the Braves.

Pittsburg lost its fifth straight when the Cardinals defeated the Pirates, 9 to 7, yesterday.

Viox, playing short for the Corsairs against the Cards, got four hits, three singles and a double.

George Johnson, the big Indian hurler of the Reds, had the Cubs backed up yesterday, allowing them but five hits and four runs. It was Cincinnati's third win of the year, all three victories being credited to Johnson.

Alexander, who last week pitched an eleven-inning scoreless game against the Giants, shut out the same bunch Thursday afternoon, 1 to 0. Only One Giant reached third.

The Senators used four pitchers against Washington yesterday. Hays lasted but four innings, during which time Boston scored four runs, winning the game, 5 to 2.

Tennessee Cops
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 2.—The University of Tennessee defeated the University of Chattanooga here Wednesday afternoon, 6 to 3, in a fast and exciting fracas. Senter, of Chattanooga, struck out thirteen men, but the Vols managed to bunch hits on him in the fifth and seventh innings. Thomason, of Tennessee, secured a triple, a double and a single out of four times up.

The Tennessee team left immediately after the game to play the University of Georgia.

EMORY'S WORKS FOR MEETING
OXFORD, Ga., May 2.—Emory's track team is hard at work in preparation for the meet with Mercer at Macon on May 10. Coach Peebles has his prospects in training and is taking great care of them.

The interclass track meet has been held. The Seniors winning a total of 53 points out of a possible 99. Carlton was the big individual point winner, making 10 points in the 100-yard dash. This event was a preliminary for the Mercer meet.

Coach Peebles has posted a list of the men who will journey to Macon next Saturday. They are W. A. Carlton, Dillard Lassetter, Merrell Monfort, Davis Singleton, Asa Porter, Sam Bell, Evans Pattillo, Gus Muse, Joe Fagan, Jay Hares, Harold Saxon, Willard Irvine and Cranston Williams.

The approaching meet is the first intercollegiate event Emory has participated in since 1910, when she was a party to a three-cornered affair with Georgia and Tech.

Princeton Lost

PRINCETON, N. J., May 2.—The University of Virginia won their second game of the year from Princeton by the score of 6 to 1. Wood, of Princeton, pitched good ball, but received poor support in the field. Neff held the Tigers to five scattered hits, three of which were of the scratch variety. Stickley starred for Virginia, with two singles, a double and three stolen bases to his credit.

Schwartz in Limit

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 2.—By selling Outfielder Jesse James to New Orleans at the waiver price, Manager Schwartz cut his team down to seventeen men and is now within the salary limit. The present players will be carried for some days, but it is expected that two more pitchers will be released in the near future.

Cobb Is Given Meagre Fine

Detroit Star Is Fined $50 and Reinstated by National Commission

CHICAGO, May 2.—Tyrus Cobb, Thursday, was formally reinstated in organized baseball and fined $50 by the national baseball commission. A decision by the commission, given out in answer to the Detroit player's appeal for reinstatement, condemned Cobb severely for his actions while "holding out." The Detroit club was commended for its recent stand and censured for its former passive policy regarding Cobb.

Notice was served on other clubs that in case of their failure to discipline players whose actions are "detrimental to the game," the commission itself will act.

The commission reserved news of any other action it may have taken, and if the alleged congressional investigation into the alleged baseball trust were discussed at all, as reported, it was ignored so far as a formal report is concerned.

Toronto Gets Record Price for Rudolph
TORONTO, Ont., May 2.—The Toronto baseball club has sold pitcher Dick Rudolph to the Boston Nationals for $1,000 cash. Pitcher "Farmer" Brown, for whom the Bostonians have received offers of $3,500 from American association clubs and the pick of any of the Boston players turned back. This is a record price for Toronto.

Stallion Sold
CLEVELAND, May 2.—The sale of the Austrian-bred trotting stallion, Willy 2:05, for shipment to Europe, was announced here today. The purchase price could not be learned.

BAILEY IS NURSING HIS INJURED FOOT
Outfielder Bill Bailey, of the Cracker crew, is working overtime to get his injured foot in shape so as to get back in the game. Bill is at the club house each morning by 7 o'clock and there he remains until late in the evening, using hot water applications in an effort to get the injured member in shape.

Just as soon as the outfielder can bear to stand on his foot he will join the team and act as pinch hitter until he is able to play the outfield.

TODAY

(By Associated Press.)

CHATTANOOGA, May 2.—The third game of the Nashville and Chattanooga series will be played this afternoon. Weather is clear. Batteries: Chattanooga, Coveleske and Street; Nashville, Williams or McManus and Ludwig.

MOBILE, Ala., May 2.—Campbell will be on the mound for Mobile in the third game of the Montgomery series at Monroe park today and Brown will do the receiving. Manager Dobbs will work Manning and Gribbens. The weather is ideal for playing.

NEW ORLEANS, May 2.—Brenton with Angermeir behind the bat for New Orleans and Kissinger or Kroh or Seabough receiving for Memphis are the probable batteries announced by Managers Frank and Bernhard for the third game of the series. Neither manager had definitely decided as to who would work, as both clubs are going very poorly and in the midst of a fearful slump.

Manager Frank is expecting Outfielder James to arrive at noon from Nashville and if he gets here in time will replace Green in right field. Harry McIntyre, former major leaguer, telegraphed the local club he would arrive tonight.

JORDAN HAS NOT SIGNED

Otto Jordan, former Cracker star and ex-lookout player, will probably play in the Southern league again this year. The deal which was to send Otto to Clarksdale, Miss., as manager of that team in the Cotton States league, is now entirely off.

Otto is in Atlanta awaiting word from Southern league club. It is probable that one of them will sign him in the next few days.

TENNESSEE VS. GEORGIA

ATHENS, Ga., May 2.—The University of Tennessee ball club is here Friday an Saturday for games with the Georgia nine. These two clubs played one game earlier in the season and the Red and Black got away, so Coach Cunningham's men have to win but one game to get the series.

Right now it looks as if Georgia will win the S. I. A. A. championship, only the Tech team remaining in the way, and as good as an even break is all that is needed in these four games, Tech having lost to Alabama and Mercer.

Batting Rally Won Game, 7-4

Bisland, New Shortstop, Fit in Excellent in His First Battle

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 2.—With Gilbert Price pitching shutout ball in the pinches and the Crackers tapping the ball when the hits meant runs, Billy Smith evened up the series with the Barons here, taking the game 7 to 4. From an Atlanta viewpoint the game was best featured by the debut of Lamar Ham, who has given eminent satisfaction in the prep games all the season, will probably officiate in both games.

One big inning—the sixth—gave the game to the Crackers. In this round the Barons could tag out the third man of the inning. Sloan began working for Molesworth, but when he blew so completely in the sixth Bill Prough was sent to the rescue and while Prough pitched good ball he was not equal to holding the hard hitting Crackers scoreless.

Whitely Alperman, the Atlanta field leader, was around there with the willow. The blonde athlete made just three hits in five trips to the plate. Bisland also chimed in the hitting column with two hits in four times up. One of the hits by the new shortstop went for three bases and was a big help at the scoring end of the game. Smith was the other Cracker to get as many as two hits.

Besides hitting well Bisland played a jam up fielding game. At short he had eleven chances, and of this number he accepted ten. He also was in on the only double play of the afternoon. The new batting order tried out by Manager Smith worked most excellently as shown by the victory following four straight defeats.

Win for Arkansas
FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., May 2.—The University of Arkansas baseball team won from the University of Mississippi, 7 to 4. Bunched hits in the third inning gave Arkansas four runs.

Score:
Arkansas . . . 7 13 1
Mississippi . . . 4 8 1
Hinton and Geren; Melinnis and Mills.

CITY LEAGUE TEAMS MEET FRIDAY NIGHT.
The teams composing the City league will meet Friday night at 97 Peachtree street to discuss the schedule for the coming season.

Since it was announced that it is possible to secure the Tech field during the vacation months, the City league teams are anxious to make arrangements to use it.

SPRING SONG.
We shall go, you and I, to the ends of the earth—
With the wandering wind and its unbounded girth;
Out lanes of the Morning, care-free, unopposed,
Through Noonday of Song unto Twilight of Rest;
And out from the drift, as the world hurries by
We shall follow the way of the Romany Rye.

We shall go, Pal of mine, out the length of the beat,
Where Twilight and Dawn in the purple hills meet;
In the heart of some valley, away from the fight
Our camp fires shall crimson the bleak hills of night;
And out from the drift, as the world hurries by
We shall follow the road of the Romany Rye.

BESPEAKING J. BIRMINGHAM.

In the midst of various upheavals whizzing about here and there no one seems to have kept close tab on a certain Mr. Birmingham, of Cleveland, lately.

We have heard various comments as to what sort of a manager Birmingham is.

We leave these select opinions to those entertaining the same. All we have time to monkey with now is the printed record.

Last season Birmingham took charge of the Naps just as they were about to skid merrily out of the percentage column. In the parlance of another day they looked to be replete with prunes. Birmingham handled them through thirty-two games, winning twenty-six and losing six.

This spring Cornell Joe again assumed the clanking chains of management.

Ere these lines escape our stuttering pen he had won ten games and lost four, giving him a complete record of thirty-six victories out of forty-six starts for the juicy little percentage of .783.

We don't know whether Birmingham is a great manager or not. Both on and off the field we esteem him as a citizen of undeniable repute. And to his ability we are content to point to the .783 figures and let it go at that.

NAPS LOOK GOOD.

Cleveland looks better this spring than in a good many years. Birmingham has his pitchers going nicely, his infield working well and the famous Nap wrecking crew—Jackson and Lajoie—are only driving in about three runs per game. As team batsmen they have only averaged .387 for the last three years. Just .387—not a point more. No one is picking Cleveland to win any pennant but it would be no shocking surprise to see the Naps sit in around third or fourth place—or even wiggle a notch higher with any sort of break.

Speaking strictly as a noncombatant we'd like to see our old side kick, Larry Lajoie, get one whack at that world series flurry after seventeen seasons of stardom minus any part of it. To say nothing of observing Larry just once up in a championship series with the bases full and the score fairly compact.

THE BREAK OF THE GAME.

The break of the game—the harassing fortunes of war—have together already inserted a thick wallop into two promising contenders.

The announcement that young Foster, of the Senators, is stricken means a rasping blow for Griff, as Foster was one of his main cogs. The stocky third baseman had flashed within a year from obscurity into renown and the Senatorial infield will never look the same until he returns.

Over in Pittsburgh Hans Wagner and Gibson are still ailing and Clarke is finding it hard to bear up without these two aides. We figured from the first that Pittsburgh had no chance to beat out McGraw if Clarke bumped into unseemly luck. Now he may have a tough time heading off the rampant Cubs.

When the game cracks in this way against a ball club as it has cracked against Washington and Pittsburgh, there's nothing to do but stumble along until the tide turns. You can't fill a star's place in ten days—and you can't ever foresee just when Fate will arise with the old mace and let fly. McGraw plays the safest system in this respect by taking it for granted that something will happen—and doing his gap-plugging in advance.

With apologies (To F. P. A. and Briggs).
These are the loudest of possible ha-ha's—
Evers to Tinker and Chance;
Gayest elations of all combinations—
Evers to Tinker and Chance;
Once there was lawfyer in other directions,
Tinged with the smearing of sad predilections—
Now who is driving the cart marked "Confections"—
Evers or Tinker or Chance?

Motor Racing Most Exciting

Ninety Miles Hour on Atlanta Track by the Best Riders in the Game

With all the excitement of an automobile race, the generalship displayed in a horse race and the daredevil finishes sometimes witnessed in every branch of sport motorcycle racing should prove a big hit in Atlanta. It is just the game Atlanta sport lovers have anticipated for years and now the dream is about to come true.

Jack Prince, the man who first under construction a big track right in Atlanta and during this month will stage motorcycle races. Jack Prince is no novice at this game and the very best in this line of sport is to be handed out to the Atlanta public right from the jump.

The motorcycle stadium over which the Atlanta races will be run is to be a ninety-mile-a-hour affair. It is said to be the best ever concocted in this line of work. Already the stadium is being erected on the old circus grounds on North Jackson street and will be ready for the first race on May 20. It is patterned after the biggest tracks in Chicago, Cleveland and San Francisco, where the highest mileage has been attained.

A good track without stars of the first water to run over it would indeed be a farce, but Mr. Prince has looked after all this and has under his management the best riders in the country and they will all be right here for work before the Atlanta public. In other words, the management is preparing to give the Atlanta public the best in the game and its success is sure.

Reed Going Good With Davenport

Milton Reed, Atlanta boy and ex-Marist college star, is playing good ball with the Davenport team in the Three I league, where he was sent at the opening of the season by the St. Louis Nationals.

Milt has made a big hit in the Three I circuit, so the report goes, and is playing the best ball in his history. He belongs to the Cardinal club, and hopes to make a good enough showing this season to stick with them in another year.

BUCK BECKER FREE AGENT

Rather than go to some weak minor league club, Pitcher Buck Becker Thursday purchased his own release from the Atlanta club and is now a free agent. It is likely that the tall boy will sign with some minor league outfit shortly.

Last season Becker went unusually strong and it was believed he would surely land a berth this season, but illness hurt his chances. His arm, however, is now rapidly coming around and he is good enough for any of the minors.

TIGERS TRIM FLORIDA, 4-2

GAINESVILLE, Fla., May 2.—Seawane showed up in good form yesterday after losing two games to Florida and won a six-inning game by a score of 4 to 2. The game was called to allow the Tennesseans to catch a train, after six innings had been played. Gordon and Dinkens were at the points for Seawane and Beeler and Tenney for Florida. Hitting was light on both sides.

CULLOP ANOTHER VEAN GREGG

—JOE BIRMINGHAM

DETROIT, Mich., May 2.—Give Nick Cullop the experience and he will make another Vean Gregg. That's Joe Birmingham's opinion of the well advertised Cleveland rookie. It's no secret that Birmingham would like to place the Virginia portlander in a minor league for another year's seasoning, but that's impossible. After all the boosting Nick got last winter there'd be as much chance to get walrus on Cullop as there would be to persuade Hughie Jennings to trade Ty Cobb.

So Cullop will stick on the Nap bench and get his experience by absorption instead of having it hammered into him in the bushes. Birmingham is in the same fix with Cullop that McGraw once found himself with Rube Marquard. The New York Giants' leader wanted to put Marquard in the bushes for a year's experience, but the $11,000 price McGraw was reported to have paid for the Cleveland boy made it impossible to secure waivers. So it was not until he had adorned the Giants' bench for a couple of seasons that Marquard came into his own.

Birmy says Cullop has as much "stuff" as any left-hander in the business, but is green.

Cullop, however, has one advantage that was not possessed by Marquard when he broke into the National. Marquard was wild, while Nick's big asset is his control.

Nos. 157-9 Decatur Street Sold by Mrs. L. J. Trounstone to A. F. Jones—Two Lots on Penn Street Change Hands. Papers Conveying Y. M. C. A. Site Have Gone to Record. Charles A. Smith to Build in Druid Hills

Papers went to record Friday conveying from Mrs. L. J. Trounstone to A. F. Jones, of Macon, 157-9 Decatur street. The consideration was $44,280, or at the rate of $1,000 a front foot. The transaction was handled by Turman, Black & Calhoun, through R. L. Turman.

This property has a frontage of 44 feet and a depth of 99 feet, with stores. It was sold about a week ago by J. B. Frost to Mrs. Trounstone, she giving a Washington street parcel as part payment.

PENN STREET SALES.
R. M. C. A. and J. H. Ewing have sold for the Peters Land company to Mrs. N. H. Pearson and Mrs. Annie G. Pearson two vacant lots on the west side of Penn street, north of Ponce de Leon avenue, for $3,000 each. The lots are 50x150 feet.

DEEDS RECORDED.
Papers conveying from Charles H. Black and others to the Y. M. C. A. its new site on Luckie street have just come to record.

Applications for the new building, which will cost $250,000, has been filed with the building inspector.

DRUID HILLS NOTE.
Charles A. Smith, who recently sold his home in Druid Hills, has bought a larger place on Ponce de Leon avenue, near Clifton road, in Druid Hills, where he expects to build shortly.

Plans are now being drawn by an architect and they will soon be completed for the actual construction.

SEVENTH DISTRICT WOMEN WILL MEET AT DALTON

Annual Convention of Federation of Women's Clubs Opens May 10

(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
DALTON, Ga., May 2.—Mrs. Virginia B. Irby, of Kingston, president of the Seventh District Federation of Women's clubs, has announced the following interesting program for the fifth annual convention of the federation at Dalton May 10:

Convention called to order at 9:30 o'clock a. m.

Prayer, music, address of welcome, response by Mrs. Hogg, of Cedarhurst, reading of minutes, report of president, report of district chairman, report of non-federated clubs, meeting thrown open for discussions, questions and answers. Lunch.

Afternoon session called to order at 1:30 o'clock. Session on State Federation, Mrs. A. O. Granger, of Cartersville; educational address, Dr. A. W. Van Hoose, president of Shorter college, Rome; "Civil Work in Georgia," Mrs. Logan R. Pitts, of Calhoun, state chairman of civics.

Georgia for an Industrial Home for Wayward Girls," Mr. Philip Welter, state prison board; election of officers; "Blest Be the Tie" adjournment.

In addition to the entertainment for the prominent visiting club women, the Lesche club, hostess of the convention, has determined to make the city put on "its best frock" in honor of the visitors.

On the morning of May 11, a spring cleaning has been started, the city being divided up into wards, with a special committee in charge of the work in each ward.

Saving and Investing

Mr. Dawes on Investments.
BY JOHN M. OSKISON

Charles G. Dawes is a Chicago banker. He was once controller of the currency. Altogether he has a good reputation among men of finance.

Not long ago at a dinner, Mr. Dawes said things about investing money which are worth passing on to the man of small experience. According to Mr. Dawes, there are but two ways of investing money.

"The safest and best way of all is to find a man whom you know personally and who has a good paying business of his own. Invest your money with that man. In the business which he is successful. He will be as successful with your money as he has been with his own."

Excellent advice, this, to the man with experience enough to judge what is a good business and who is a successful man—but it is just the argument which is most effectively used by the promoter of unworthy but venturesome investments.

"The other way," says Mr. Dawes, "is to invest your money in an electric light plant or in a city where it enjoys a monopoly of the product it sells to the consumer. If the business is properly managed there is almost no chance of loss."

Investments of this kind are available for the average man. He can ask the banker or the bond dealer to whom he goes for an investment to tell him about public utility, and he will be able to get some good bargains.

Further along in this talk Mr. Dawes uttered this warning:

"Stay away from investments which promise unusually large returns. Because astute promoters word their literature in such an attractive manner as to make enormous profits seem assured is no reason for believing that they will be able to keep their promises."

When you are offered promises in exchange for your money, find out whether or not you can collect at law on the promises. If you can't, put them down as idle breezes and cease to listen.

Not Concerned in Settlement of Strike, but Conditions Leading to Strike

(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
WASHINGTON, May 2.—Despite the settlement of the West Virginia Paint Creek coal strike, Senator Kern, the majority leader, is determined to press his senatorial investigation which led to the drumhead trial of Mother Jones, the strike leader, and the military regime.

He declares today that appeals from the investigation because the strike was ended would be disregarded, and he would bring up his investigation resolution when the senate met Monday.

"The senate is not concerned in the settlement," he declared today, "but in the condition which led to the strike. It wants to find if there is poison, white slavery or a reign of terror as has been reported."

The senator declared he knew of one instance of those who had gone to report the trial of Mother Jones being deported from the state. A company of Bulgarian strikers were forced to take to the mountains for their lives, leaving their wives behind them, the senator declared.

soon to come between two great denominations.

"A WORLD-WIDE MOVEMENT," said Dr. J. B. Robins, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, last Sunday evening, "A new and strange influence is making itself felt in the world around us. The first stirrings already have made themselves felt, of a great change in sociological, economic and religious conditions, of a world-wide movement for the good of humanity."

Dr. John E. White, pastor of the Second Baptist, Dr. L. O. Bricker, pastor of the First Christian, and the lay workers who have been engaged with them, are others who have been having personal experience during the last three months, and longer, with the vivid truth of which Dr. Robins spoke.

There are many others whom the announcement of the impending new movement will arouse.

F. A. Bates Resigns

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

WAYCROSS, Ga., May 2.—At next Tuesday night's meeting of city council the resignation of F. A. Bates as a member of the sinking fund commission will be received and his successor elected.

Mr. Bates was recently elected to succeed J. E. Wadley, but says his business will not allow him to fill the position, which is an important one and takes a lot of time to look after.

MILLIONAIRE FIGHTS DUEL WITH A BANDIT IN PULLMAN BERTH

seized a pistol and, accompanied by a porter, a brakeman and express messenger, started for the Pullman car.

Before they could clear the aisles of passengers so they could use their weapons the robber had leaped from the train.

WOUNDS NOT FATAL

An ambulance took Short to a hospital. Physicians there said, while his wounds were serious, they did not consider them fatal.

Short is one of the wealthiest mine owners of Jasper county, operating zinc and lead mines in that district. Six years ago he was a miner working for wages.

Short was able to make a statement after his arrival at the hospital. "I had two pocketbooks concealed in my berth," he said, "the one containing a thousand dollars in currency and in the other were just a few dollars. It is my custom to divide my money in this manner when traveling with a large sum. I had always figured in case of a robbery that I would surrender the purse containing the smaller sum. When the robber shook me and demanded my money I was for an instant confused and only about half-awake. During this interval I moved the pillow and shoved back the covers exposing the purse containing the larger amount. Realizing what I had done, I tried to hide the purse in the bed clothes again, but the robber was too quick for me.

"What was that?" he asked the porter. "A pocketbook," was the answer. "Reach and get it," the robber commanded, and despite my efforts to prevent it, the porter grabbed the purse and handed it to the robber.

"As he turned away I got my pistol from under the pillow and began shooting at him. He returned the fire and disabled me.

"He failed, however, to get a diamond ring valued at $2,000 and seven $20 gold pieces which were in a pocket of my trousers."

LOCAL DRUGGISTS COME OUT WITH STRONG STATEMENTS

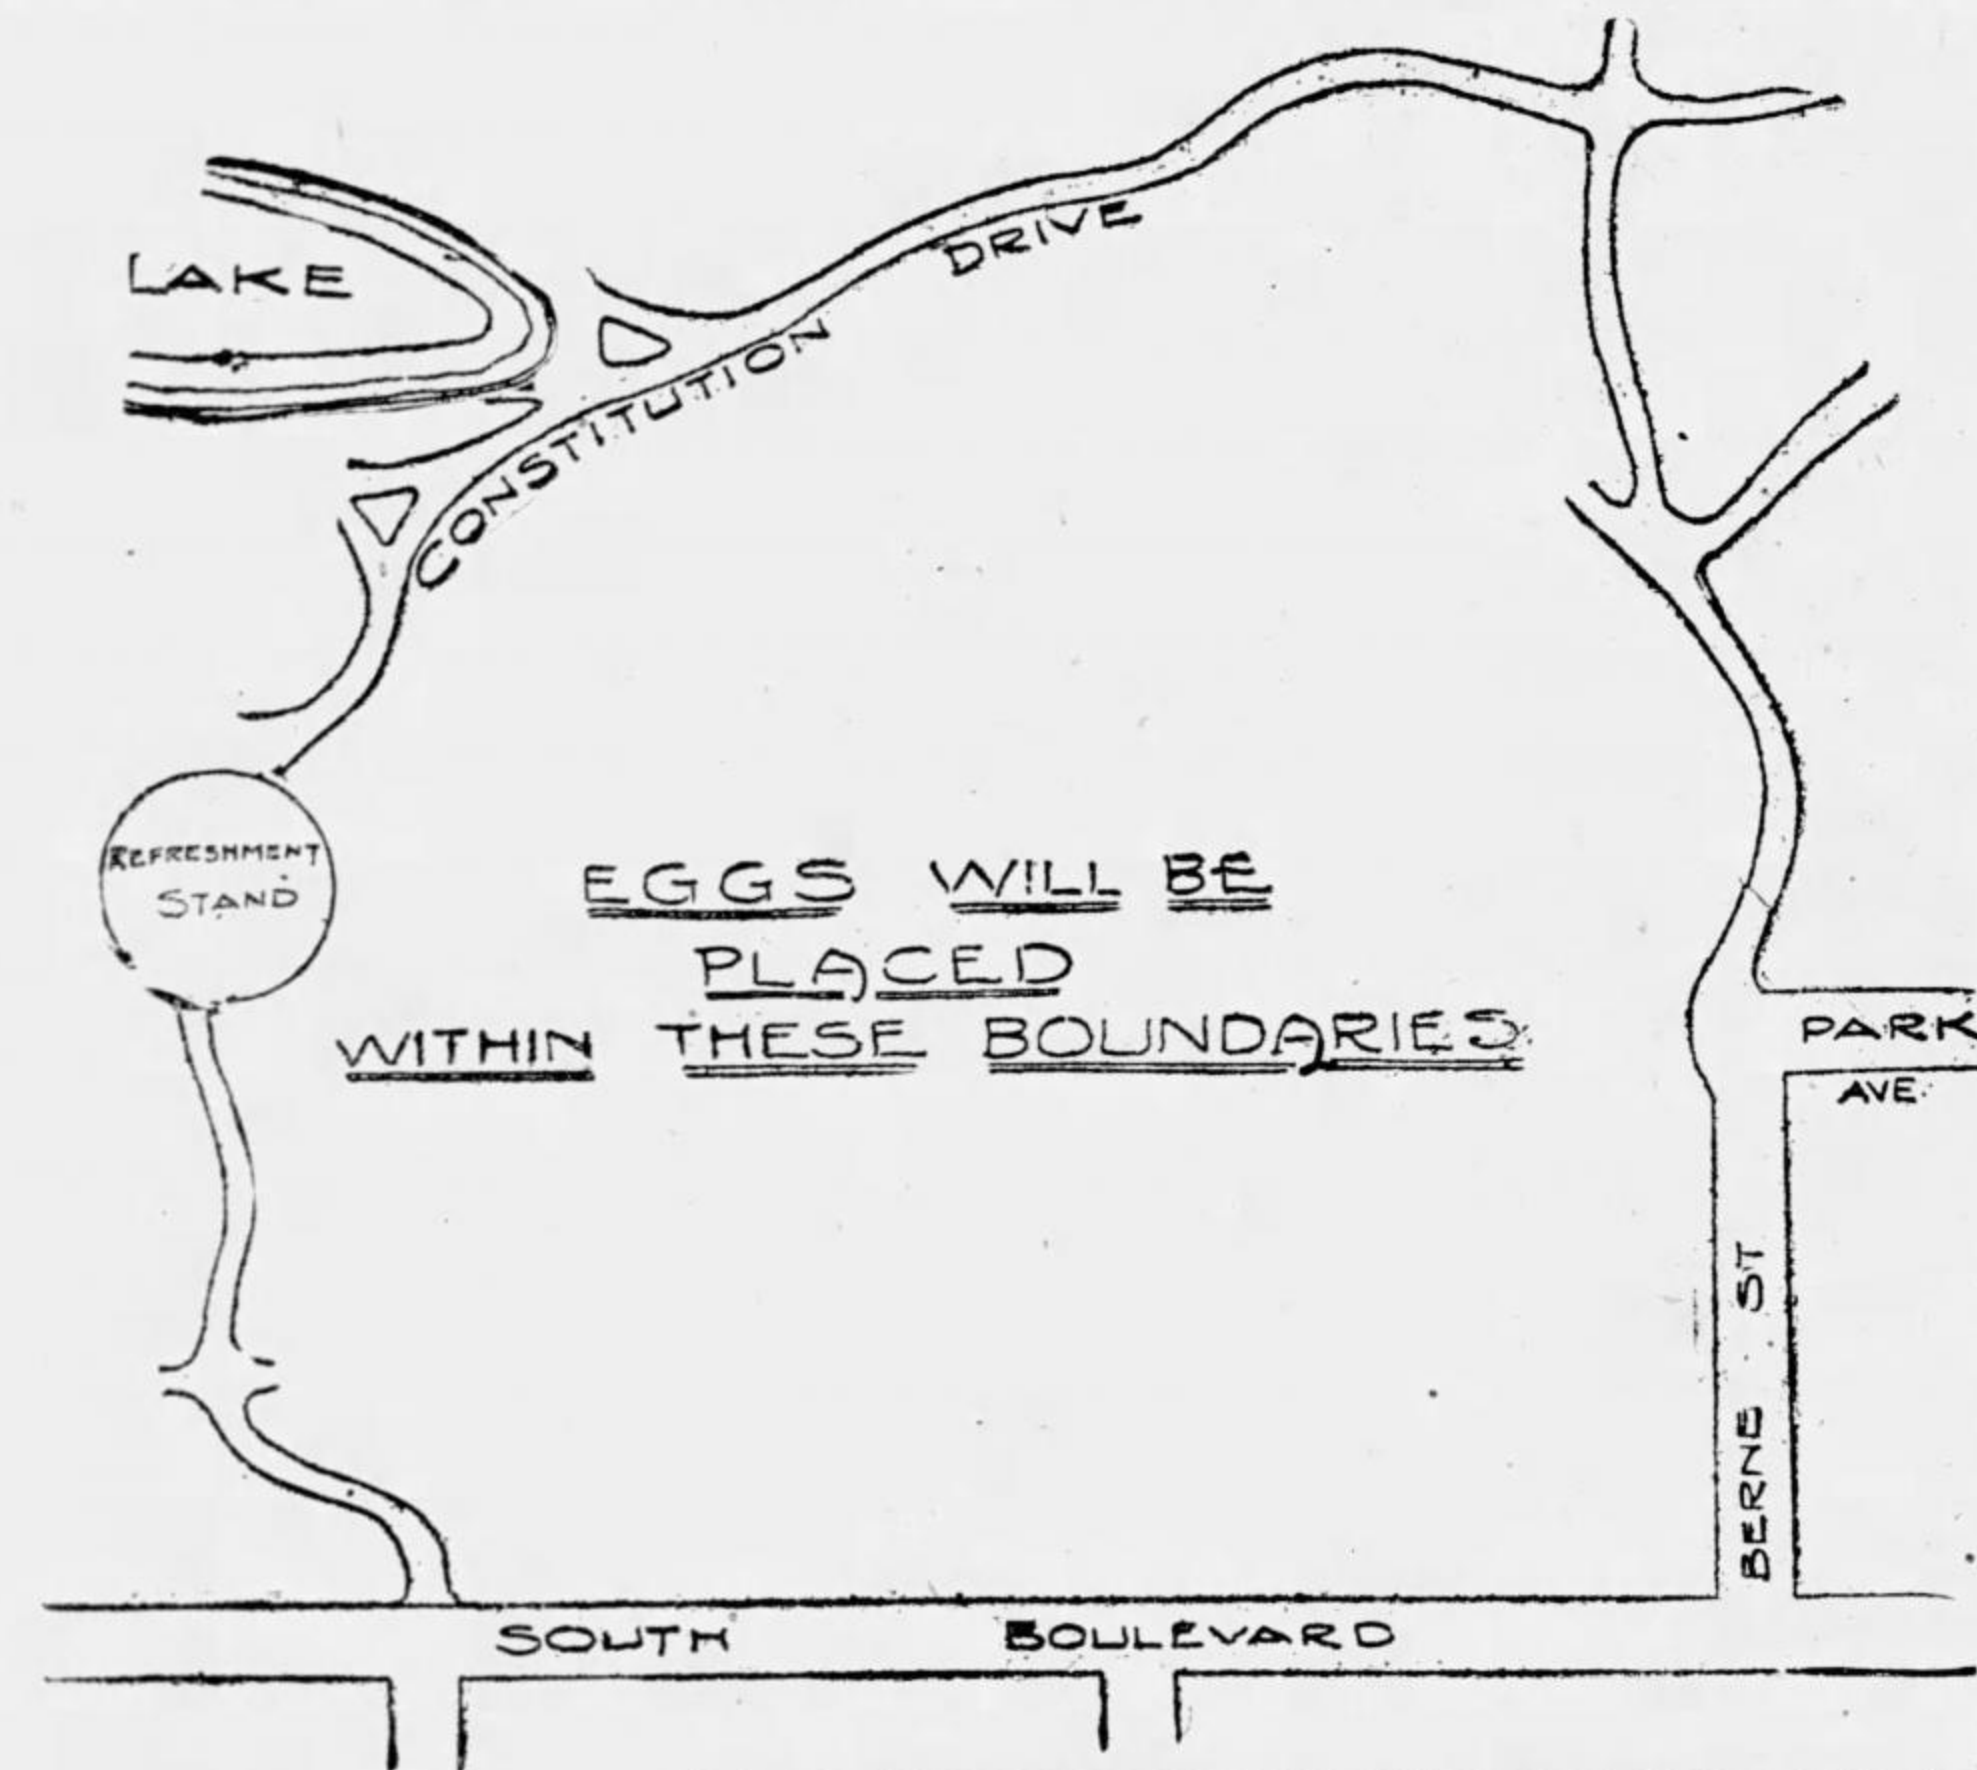

Say Dodson's Liver Tonic is the Best Remedy for Constipation and Shaking Liver Ever Brought to This City.

Every person who has tried Dodson's Liver Tonic and knows how surely and gently it starts the liver to working and relieves biliousness will bear out the representative druggist who expressed a general sentiment in this statement about Dodson's Liver Tonic.

"It is a purely vegetable liquid, that entirely takes the place of calomel, harmless and pleasant to the taste that has proven itself the most satisfactory remedy for a slow-working liver that the drug business has ever known. A large bottle sells for fifty cents and no druggist will hesitate to give the money back to any person who tries a bottle on the strength of this statement and is not satisfied with the result."

In these days of doubtful medicine and dangerous drugs, a statement like the above is a pleasant assurance that Dodson's Liver Tonic is a reliable remedy for both children and grown-ups. It is buying a bottle for immediate or future use it is well to make sure you are getting the genuine Dodson's Liver Tonic and not some spurious imitation that has copied Dodson's claims, but do not stand back of their guarantee. You may be certain of getting the genuine if you go to your druggist and ask for it.—(Advt.)

Street Car Company Gives $50 More, Making Up the Fund, and Everything Is in Readiness—Three o'clock Is the Hour

Friday morning the committee in charge of the Easter egg hunt, which The Journal and the park board will give at Grant park tomorrow (Saturday), lacked $50 of having enough money to defray all the expenses.

Friday at noon the committee had all they needed, as the Georgia Railway and Power company, through the generosity of the president, Preston Arkwright, has made up the deficit by raising its previous donation from $100 to $150.

The company has given to the fund for every egg hunt in the past, its donation being one of the largest on the list. It gave last year $100. This year's donation of $150 is the largest on the list and the largest single donation ever given.

EVERYTHING READY.

Everything is now in readiness. The eggs will be hauled to the park Saturday morning, and immediately distributed over the area selected for that purpose. This embraces about sixty acres and is the prettiest part of the whole park.

At 12 o'clock no more horse-drawn vehicles will be allowed to enter the park, and by that time the children will have commenced to arrive, and all precautions must be taken for their safety. The mounted police will take their stand in the park soon after that hour.

The children will line up as follows: Along South Boulevard, thence along driveway beginning at Berne street and turning to the refreshment stand; thence along Constitution drive back to Park Avenue and South Boulevard.

2 O'CLOCK THE HOUR.

At 2 o'clock the band will strike up "Dixie" and that will be the signal for the children to cross the line and find the eggs. When that first note of the first instrument is sounded, about 20,000 children will surge through the park like an invading army, sweeping all before them, shaking the very ground beneath their feet. And in five minutes a man would be perfectly safe in offering a $50 reward for every egg that could be found in the park.

There will be a grand prize golden egg, containing $5 in gold, and thirty nice prizes donated by merchants. These prizes will be numbered, and a wooden egg with a corresponding number burned into the wood, will be hidden for each prize. The finders of the wooden eggs will go with them to the band pavilion near the refreshment stand, where they will be given written orders which the merchants will redeem.

LIST OF PRIZES.

Following is a list of the prizes:

1. Springer, $5 hat; M. Rich & Bros. Co., $5 in trade; J. M. High company, $2.50 in trade; Hightower Hardware company, baseball glove or jewel case; Daniel Bros. company, boy's cap; A. L. ## BOWELS BAD, LIVER TORPID? CASCARETS

If Constipated, Bilious, Head-achy, Stomach Sour, get a 10 cent box of Cascarets

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—do good—never gripe or sicken.
