President Wilson Is Urged by Mexican Rebel Leader to Withdraw Luther Tellsworth From Piedras Negras

REBEL CHIEF REFUSES TO DISCUSS REASONS

Mystery Marks the Request, as Neither the Governor of Sonora Nor the U. S. Consul Will Talk of Matter

(By Associated Press.)
EAGLE PASS, Tex., May 18.—Governor Carranza, the Constitutional leader, is preparing a message to President Wilson notifying him that United States Consul Luther Tellsworth at Piedras Negras is persona non grata and requesting his withdrawal. He declined today to discuss reasons therefor but said later he would make a statement. Consul Ellisworth declined to talk about the matter. Piedras Negras is the Mexican town opposite Eagle Pass and is the headquarters for the Carranza regime.

No Proof Against U. S. Ambassador Wilson

WASHINGTON, May 19.—White House officials today when informed that dispatches from Mexico City interpreted Secretary Bryan's statement of last Saturday as an endorsement of Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson, expressed the opinion that there never had been any proof to substantiate the charges recently made against the ambassador.

ANTI-ALIEN LAND BILL SIGNED BY JOHNSON

Measure Becomes Law August 17—Referendum Petition Already in Circulation

(By Associated Press.)
SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 18.—Governor Johnson signed today the alien land bill, which prohibits Japanese and other aliens from owning land in California. The act will go into effect ninety days from date, or August 17.

Referendum Petition Is Now Being Circulated

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—The Asiatic Exclusion League of California instructed its legislative committee to draft a petition for a referendum vote on the alien land bill to be circulated immediately after the measure is signed by Governor Johnson.

The objections of the league are based on the clause in the Webb act which permits three-year leases. It is the purpose of the organization to circulate at the same time an initiative petition for a law which will exclude Japanese and Chinese from both ownership and lease holds under any conditions.

The burden of the speeches at which the exclusion league's meeting today was that the leasing clause is a joker which will allow the Japanese ultimately to own the land in effect at least. True speakers denied freedom of the argument that to withdraw the leasing right immediately from the Japanese would work too great a hardship upon landowners.

A meeting will be held today at which the petition will be taken up more fully and possibly a rough draft of the proposed initiative law will be presented.

Referendum Will Help Government to Adjust Matter

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The movement in California to submit the alien land act to a referendum is understood to be viewed by the administration as affording further opportunity for diplomatic adjustment of the issues between the United States and Japan. It has been assumed here that because of the apparently overwhelming sentiment in California in favor of Japanese exclusion from land owning, there might be difficulty in securing the 20,000 signatures necessary to invoke the referendum. Now, however, that the exclusion elimination itself or rather its most radical component—the Asiatic Exclusion league—has taken the movement, the probabilities of its success have greatly increased in the official judgment.

The Japanese government is not expected to approve that method of dealing with its protest, though probably it will be difficult for the American office to find technical grounds for objection to the method in which California is attempting to legislate.

White House officials today believed a reply would be made to the Japanese protest until Governor Johnson actually signs the Webb bill. It was reiterated that the exchanges with the Japanese ambassador, Viscount Chinda, had been of the most friendly and cordial nature.

DR. JOHN T. STONE MAKES STATEMENT ON HIS ELECTION

Says He Believes in God, His Brethren and His Duty, and Asks Northern Assembly to Refrain From Personalities

RESOLUTION LOOKING TO ORGANIC UNION ADOPTED

Intermediate Catechism Attacked by Philadelphia Minister, but Assembly Overwhelmingly Upholds It

A statement to the northern assembly by Dr. John Timothy Stone, the moderator, concerning his election to that position; the adoption of a resolution looking to organic union between all the various Presbyterian groups in the United States which hold the same faith, and an attack by Rev. B. M. Gammill, of North Philadelphia, on the intermediate catechism submitted by the special committee which formulated the same, were the features of the Monday morning session of the northern assembly in the Baptist Tabernacle.

Immediately after constituting the Northern assembly Monday morning, Dr. John Timothy Stone, the moderator, took occasion to say a few words in reply to the morning paper story (a reproduction from the New York Herald), which said that his election was the result of a "deep-laid political scheme."

He said: "Gentlemen, may I ask you to give your undivided attention for a moment? We are here as representatives of a great church, to do the work of this church. We have no right to allow any personalities or any diverging thoughts to control our time. I believe that the newspapers, which have so well reported and are reporting the work of this assembly, are intending in every way to do the work of God with us. If any have erred in judgment, let us overlook it, or better still, look not at it. I have not seen the morning paper, and I beg of you not to ask me any time in discussing any personal matters. I wish to state that all I have to say is, I believe in my Lord; I believe in my brethren, and I believe in doing my duty."

William T. Ellis, editor of The Continent, who seconded Dr. Stone's nomination, gave to the reporter's covering the assembly the following statement: "If there is a particle of truth in the story that Dr. Stone's nomination was in any wise pre-arranged, then, obviously, neither Dr. King nor myself is a gentleman or a sincere Christian, for we explicitly stated to the contrary. Therefore the subject is out of the realm of discussion on my part."

"What have you to say on your election as moderator?" Dr. Stone was asked by a reporter.

"Nothing, except that I would positively have refused the honor had not Dr. King, who nominated me, said: 'We claim no claim on the assembly, but the assembly has claims on him.' I was not willing to assume heavier obligations in view of present responsibility, but I have never knowingly run away from duty."

Moderator Stone announced that he had appointed as vice moderator, Mr. Frederick A. Booth, of New York. Mr. Booth came forward and was introduced to the assembly.

A movement looking to organic union of all the Presbyterian groups in America holding the same faith was endorsed by the assembly by the adoption of a resolution authorizing the stated clerk to transmit proposals to the various supreme judicatories.

The resolution was part of a report by the special committee on church cooperation and union, of which the stated clerk, Dr. W. H. Roberts, is chairman. The resolution does not contemplate immediate union. It simply gets the movement under way. Two or three years probably will elapse before the movement reaches the stage for final consummation.

However, the assembly's action in unanimously adopting the resolution, without a word of objection or discussion, and the accompanying applause and cheering to show a strong sentiment among the commissioners in favor of organic union.

The assembly then took up the regular procedure, hearing first the report of the committee on bills and overtures, which is the first thing on the docket every morning.

$10,000,000 ENDOWMENT.
After this came the report of the board of ministerial relief and sustenance, the feature of which was a stirring appeal by Rev. H. W. Foulkes, D.D., secretary of the board, for the church to rally to the campaign for a $10,000,000 endowment for worn-out Presbyterian preachers and for widows.

SOUTHERN CHURCH REFUSES TO CHANGE THE INFANT CLAUSE

Report of Committee, Turning Down Amendment but Declaring Belief Infants Are Elect and Saved, Adopted

LIVELY DEBATE PRECEDED ADOPTION OF REPORT

Assembly Decides That Three-fourths Vote Shall Be Necessary to Ratify Union With Any Other Branch of Church

By a vote of 135 to 44 the report on the elect infant clause by the bills and overtures committee, headed by Dr. Thomas S. Cloyce, was carried Monday morning just before adjournment of the morning session of the Southern Presbyterian assembly at the North Avenue Presbyterian church.

The report of this committee came as an answer to overtures from several presbyteries that asked that chapter X, section 3, of the confession of faith be amended to read: "We believe that infants are elect and saved, adopted."

The adoption of the committee's report was carried despite the announced vote of the eighty-five presbyteries of the assembly who failed to support the amendment by a three-quarter ballot in its favor. Those who supported the clause and were responsible for its being carried were emphatic in their declaration that the action of the assembly should not be construed as a reversal of the presbyteries' opinion, but simply as the opinion of the assembly.

Action on the part of the conference followed closely upon the report of the committee appointed to canvass answers of Presbyterians to assemble overtures. This report showed that fifty-five presbyteries out of eighty-five in favor of the "elect infant clause," which was less than the necessary three-quarters.

Dr. Cloyce then read the unanimous report of his committee, which was as follows: "There have come into our hands overtures from Albemarle, Mühlenberg, Kings Mountain, Potomac, Wilmington, Concord, West Hanover and St. Louis presbyteries, asking that chapter 10, section 3, of the confession of faith be amended."

"We give answer as follows: In view of the fact that the question of amending this section has been before the church for thirteen years and the church has not agreed on the form of change to be made, and in view of the fact that the assembly of 1902 (Alexander's Digest Revised, page 8) declared that the holy scriptures amply warrant us in believing that all infants who die in infancy are included in the election of grace and are regenerated and saved by Christ through the spirit, which declaration we would here reaffirm, we recommend that no amendment for the present be sent down to the presbyteries."

REPORT IS OPPOSED.
A move for the adoption of the report was made by Dr. R. S. Reed, when Dr. W. M. McPheeters arose to announce his opposition to its acceptance by the assembly. It was the contention of the speaker that the church was not authorized to say that all infants are saved. He pointed to the decision of the presbyteries in not passing upon the question, and asked that their action not be reversed. "We cannot interpret the word of the church from the manner in which it has already been interpreted by the presbyteries," he said. "I hold that such action is unconstitutional and not in keeping with our belief. We cannot ignore our solemn covenant that has always been our creed."

Dr. McPheeters was followed by Dr. Cloyce in support of his committee's report. Dr. Cloyce declared that irrespective of what the belief of many was, that it was the hope of nearly all that all infants dying in infancy were saved. "Our report," said he, "does not change the confession of faith. It embodies our hope and belief that all are saved and should be so interpreted. We are not ignoring the expressed will of the minority, but are representing the belief of the assembly, the belief that all infants dying in infancy are saved by the grace of God. It is our contention that the holy scriptures amply warrant us in this belief. He referred to the action of the assembly of 1902 which had upheld the belief and at that time declined to accept any amendment to the elect infant clause.

Debate on the question occupied practically all of the morning session, but it was evident from the outset that the report of the committee would be adopted by a large majority. Repeated calls for the question were heard at the conclusion of and during many of the speeches for and against the report.

Gratitude to God was expressed for "history's striking evidence of His blessing upon the nations and individuals who have honored His Holy Day," and "for the national legislation which has closed all first and second class postoffices on the Sabbath and given a rest day to about 350,000 employees."

SUNDAY CLOSING EXPO.
It was decided to urge upon the national officials that any appropriation made to the Panama-Pacific exposition be conditional on its managers signing a contract with the treasurer to close the exposition on the Sabbath. It was urged that all government exhibits be kept open on Sundays, if the exposition is ever open.

The passage of "an effective Sabbath law for the District of Columbia, forbidding all unnecessary work and all theaters and games on the Lord's day," was urged.

Unceasing war against the social evil and the white slave traffic was urged. It was urged also that the Bible be read daily in the public schools, the committee noting "a determined effort to forbid the reading of the Bible in our public schools."

INDORSER FEDERAL COUNCIL.
The action of the federal council of churches of Christ in America was indorsed as standing for "equal rights."

U. S. ASSEMBLY FAVORS SWEEPING REFORM LIST

Decides to Make Christian Union Herald Paper Exclusively for Young People

The United Presbyterian assembly adopted Monday morning the report of the special committee on reform, which included, among other recommendations, urgent appeals for temperance; stricter Sabbath observance; the reading of the Bible in public schools; "equal rights and complete justice" for all men in all stations of life; for a single standard of purity; uniform divorce laws; for the proper regulation of marriages; for the principle of arbitration in industrial disputes, and for release from employment one day in seven.

The assembly decided that in the future the Christian Union Herald shall be published in the interests of the young people, and adopted resolutions to observe Labor day Sunday every year and to take active steps toward bettering social and economic conditions generally.

"BOOZELESS" WHITE HOUSE.
The adopted report of the special committee on reforms rejoiced "in the attitude taken by our president, vice president and secretary of state in banishing liquors of all kinds from White House functions during the present administration," and in the passage of the Webb-Kenyon interstate commerce bill, which was designated as "a severe blow to the liquor traffic and indicative of a nation-wide sentiment not even dreamed of by the most sanguine friends of temperance."

After indorsing the recently published report of the standing committee on reform, the special committee declared that its report would view conditions as "truthists," not as pessimists or optimists.

Praise was given to the work of the National Reform association; the Anti-Saloon league; the W. C. T. U.; the Lord's Day alliance.

CITIZENSHIP CONFERENCE.
It was recommended "that we remember in our prayers the Second World's Christian citizenship conference to be held in Portland, Ore., June 23 to July 6."

The committee indorsed a plea from the federal council of the Churches of Christ in America, urging the board of directors of the Panama-Pacific exposition "to adopt every means possible to prevent the exploiting of the exposition by commercialized vice and to protect the visitors to San Francisco from such influence as would tend to lower public morals."

Gratitude to God was expressed for "history's striking evidence of His blessing upon the nations and individuals who have honored His Holy Day," and "for the national legislation which has closed all first and second class postoffices on the Sabbath and given a rest day to about 350,000 employees."

SUNDAY CLOSING EXPO.
It was decided to urge upon the national officials that any appropriation made to the Panama-Pacific exposition be conditional on its managers signing a contract with the treasurer to close the exposition on the Sabbath. It was urged that all government exhibits be kept open on Sundays, if the exposition is ever open.

WILLIAM T. ELLIS DISCUSSES SOME OF THE BIG QUESTIONS THAT ARE BEFORE PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLIES

Union of Southern and U. P. Assemblies Now Freely Predicted Within One Year, He Says—Union Seminary Question One of Doctrinal Belief

By William T. Ellis

No city in the south ever had so many unemployed preachers as were in Atlanta yesterday. For every man occupying a pulpit there were perhaps as many of ten sitting in pews. Distinguished clergymen of national reputation enjoyed the novel experience of their own members of a worshipping congregation. Most of the city's pulpits were filled morning and evening by visitors, and Atlanta got its closest view of the kind of men who make up this pan-Presbyterian assembly.

The day was a great one for the city's churches. In addition to the special preachers before the regular congregations, there were ten special meetings in the interest of various assembly causes. This assembly Sunday revealed in its quiet, intimate way, the leadership that inheres in this great gathering. It would be possible to reconstruct the entire executive administration of the central government, at least in the higher offices, with efficient men from the commissioners to these assemblies. They are men informed upon the great political, social and economic questions as well as upon religious themes. The welfare of America is affected by the deliberations of this great gathering.

The power of propaganda inherent in this body is enough to stir the Ad Men's club with envy. As messengers of the proceedings of the great Atlanta meeting, these men will carry the story to the four corners of the earth. Because of them the name "Atlanta" and the important events that have been related to the assemblies will be retold to hundreds of thousands of congregations. Any principle or procedure strongly stressed here is sure of a nation-wide hearing.

UNION WITHIN A YEAR.
This lends significance to the action of the Presbyterian church in the United States and of the United Presbyterian church in adopting a basis of union at this meeting. It projects the whole question of Presbyterian union into the consciousness of the country. The facility with which the plan went forward before these two assemblies and the wise reasonableness and practicality of the statement will likely affect future negotiations of the same sort. It is being freely said that actual union of the two denominations mentioned will be completed within a year.

Today the assemblies go into routine business. The U. S. A. body will have its first taste of serious polemics over the relation with the Union Theological seminary, New York City.

The services of yesterday sweetened the temper of everybody and insured a more conservative and charitable treatment of the great controversial themes that must come before some of the meetings of the week.

A QUESTION OF BELIEF.
The doctrinal issue which is so to the fore in the U. S. A. and the U. P. churches tinges all debate. The Union seminary question is not one of administration, but one of theological belief. It has been complicated by a great deal of partisanship, for the churches have naturally grouped into conservative and liberal wings.

The "Brief Statement," which will be up before the U. S. assembly tomorrow may be adopted, although it is likelier that the committee will be continued in its labors with approval expressed of its work thus far. Certainly the U. S. assembly is showing more tolerance. There have been a thousand minor and greater evidences of the fact that these are forward looking men who have come to Atlanta and have been fired with the visions of brotherhood and services which this great convocation has afforded.

which it causes. I believe the only real remedy for this "other" sin is to be found in preaching the cross of Christ, and lifting up the sinner and bringing him into personal contact with Christ."

As to China, says the doctor, "ten dollars spent for work in China now will, in my judgment, do more relative good in hastening the kingdom of Christ than ten times that amount spent ten years later. I believe with all my heart and heart that includes a world in its love will never neglect the nearby suffering child of God."

"I believe that social service will be and is, as it always has been, the outgrowth of faith in and love for Jesus Christ."

BURNS' INVESTIGATOR OUTLINES HIS THEORY OF PHAGAN MURDER

It Coincides in Practically Every Feature With Theory Held by Solicitor Dorsey, Detectives and Pinkertons

MYSTERY CAN BE SOLVED, INVESTIGATOR DECLARES

He Holds Long Conference With Solicitor, Who Has Welcomed Him Into Case, Urged to Contribute to Fund

The theory of the murder of Mary Phagan, outlined by the city detective and outlined in The Journal first on Sunday a week ago is the theory in which C. W. Tobie, manager of the criminal department of the William J. Burns agency, believes.

Mr. Tobie, who has been employed by Attorney Thomas B. Felder, has assumed charge of the investigation of the Phagan case for the Burns agency pending the arrival of his chief.

To The Journal Monday morning he outlined his theory of the case in the office of Colonel Felder.

"The Phagan murder is not in my opinion a hopeless or impenetrable mystery," he said, "and I am confident that we will find and convict the guilty man."

"There are several features of the case which I do not care to mention which have not been worked out. I am going right after these ends of the affair, and believe that I will get results."

Mr. Tobie, who appears more of a prosperous business man than a detective, leaves a long record of success behind him, and has worked on a number of the most famous mysteries which have been solved through the Burns agency. He does not consider the Phagan case as even an unusual mystery, and declares that many more clues have been left to work from than in some cases where he has successfully hunted a murderer.

As a premise, Mr. Tobie says that the murder was evidently committed by some one who had either been connected with the factory at some time or was connected with it on Saturday, April 26.

When asked for his theory, he declared that in his opinion the murder was not premeditated.

HIS THEORY OUTLINED.
"I believe that an insulting proposal was made to Mary Phagan," he said, "and she rejected it. When she would not promise to speak of the matter, I think her assailant became angry and struck her. The force of the blow, together with the force of her falling body, caused a fracture at the base of her skull, when her head struck the iron lathe handle."

"Her body was carried into a nearby closet, where attempts were made to revive her. When she failed to revive the man reasoned that he would certainly be charged with a heinous crime when she recovered, so, panic stricken, he tied the cord around her neck tight enough to cause strangulation if she should revive."

"I believe that later the body was carried to the basement, the murderer taking it there with a view to cremating it in the furnace. Then realizing that the sight of smoke would probably cause comment, as it was known that the factory was not in operation that day, he gave up the attempt."

"In an effort to throw suspicion from himself he wrote the notes and pulled the staple out of the rear of the basement door to make it appear as if the body had been carried in from the outside."

"The idea that the murder was not committed in the factory is preposterous. Not only was the crime committed there, but some one very familiar with the place is responsible. Further, I do not believe the girl left the factory after she went for her pay."

The Burns man came directly here from Chicago with orders to drop everything in making his search for Mary Phagan's slayer. He is working directly for Mr. Felder, who has been funded by public subscription to pay for the investigation, which, he says, is certain will result in the conviction of the murderer.

Mr. Tobie declares that he is hampered in no way in his work and is going to

"HAPPY JACK" WEARS SMILE TO DEATH CHAIR

Slayer of "Paddy the Priest" Is Electrocuted in Sing Sing, Protesting Innocence

OSSING, N. Y., May 19.—John Muirney, who was to have been put to death as a murderer on March 17, but won a sixty days' reprieve by declaring in a personal appeal to the governor that he was going to death in a state of innocence, was electrocuted at Sing Sing prison today.

"Happy Jack," as he was known to his comrades, bore to the last the smile that had won him his nickname, and called back to the other inmates of the death cell a cheerful "good-by." Charles Becker, the former New York police lieutenant, and the gunmen involved with him in the Rosenthal murder, were among the fourteen who answered.

The murder of which "Happy Jack" was convicted was that of Patrick McBrean, known as "Paddy the Priest," a New York saloon keeper, who was shot while standing behind his bar on the night of October 2, 1911. John J. Downing, who died before he could be tried, and Muirney both signed confessions to the murder, but in the death house Muirney repudiated his admissions, claimed an alibi and asserted he had accepted the conviction following a "crook's" code of honor not to squeal on the other fellow. Justice Rosalesky, of New York, decided, however, that there were no grounds for a new trial.

CANADIAN LOOT SPENT IN CHICAGO SALOONS

$100,000 of $271,000 Stolen
From Bank in New Westminster Found in Chicago

(By Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, May 19.—Almost $100,000 of the $271,000 in Canadian money stolen from the branch of the Bank of Montreal at New Westminster, B. C., has been exchanged for United States currency by Chicago saloon keepers, according to the assertion of the superintendent of a detective agency made last night.

Michael J. Flanagan, proprietor of a saloon, was arrested early yesterday morning when two men accused him of giving them Canadian money to exchange. Three other saloon keepers are under surveillance, and arrests may result.

William J. Lawler and Charles O'Leary, arrested Saturday night, charge Flanagan with being the receiver of part of the stolen money. Lawler asserted he received $45 in bills from Flanagan on Wednesday afternoon. The money finally reached the local branch of the Bank of Montreal and was traced back.

Three of the alleged robbers who tunneled into the vault of the Westminster bank, are in prison, awaiting trial. The fourth member of the gang is hiding in Chicago, detectives say, and it is from him that Flanagan is said to have obtained the money which was given to Lawler.

MUCH PUBLIC WORK ACTIVITY AT VALDOSTA

VALDOSTA, Ga., May 19.—An unprecedented amount of public work is going on in this city at the present time. There are five or six different gangs employed in the various jobs. One gang is excavating on Central avenue, west, for asphalt paving, while another gang is putting down paving on Central avenue, east. Another gang is paving sidewalks on Lee street, while another is laying material on Rogers street for the same sort of work.

Another large crowd is at work on the vitrified brick paving in the wholesale district below the Atlantic Coast line railroad. A bunch of carpenters are at work on the new Carnegie library, which is being erected on the corner of Central avenue and Briggs street.

A large force of hands is filling in the city cemetery and beautifying that place, under directions of a landscape gardener. Another large force of hands is extending the sewer line in the northern part of the city and still another force is busy on water mains which are to be enlarged and extended in all sections of town.

At no time in the history of Valdosta have more different classes of public improvements been made at one time. Within the next few months all of the streets will be paved and the appearance of the city will be entirely changed.

Woman of Wealth Starves to Death in Yonkers Mansion

YONKERS, N. Y., May 19.—In the spacious residence occupied by herself and her brother on a fashionable residence street here, Ada Dunscomb, a middle-aged spinster, was found dead last night a victim of starvation, according to Coroner Dunn.

So far as the searchers could discover, there was no food in the house. The authorities stepped into the case when a physician whom S. Whitney Dunscomb, Jr., sixty years old, the dead woman's brother, had summoned, found Miss Dunscomb dead on a couch in her bedroom, her body clad in mere rags, and notified the coroner.

The Dunscomb residence has been a house of mystery to the neighbors for the twelve years since the family moved here, the blinds always being drawn. No servants being employed and no one ever being seen to visit the mansion. The officials who visited the place today reported that the costly old furniture seemed to be falling to pieces from neglect, while dust and dirt had been allowed to accumulate, apparently for years.

Dunscomb was reticent as to himself and the family affairs in general, only saying he would go to New Jersey to notify relatives there of his sister's death. Neighbors believed the pair to be wealthy.

W. L. ARNETT DEAD; UNIVERSITY STUDENT

ATHENS, Ga., May 19.—W. L. Arnett died at a local hospital at 2 o'clock this morning. He was taken sick while standing in line with fever. He was a member of the junior law class, having spent two years before in the academic department of the university. He was the most popular man in his class and had a bright mind and a most promising future. He was also a star football player.

At the time of his death his father, mother, brother and two sisters, from his home at Odessa, Ga., were with him.

He was twenty-six years old, and his death has cast a gloom over the university faculty and students.

The body was taken to Odessa this afternoon for the funeral. Even young men from the athletic and law departments accompanied the body.

3,000 MEN JOIN BIRMINGHAM STRIKE

(By Associated Press.)
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 19.—Because master builders and contractors refused to grant demands of organized labor for a raise of five cents an hour, making the wages fifty cents, 3,000 union men, carpenters, plumbers, structural iron and steel workers, painters, bricklayers and other craftsmen went out on a sympathetic strike this morning.

Three skyscraper buildings are involved, an estimate being made that building work to the amount of $5,000,000 is being interfered with. Contractors who have signed with the carpenters are feeling the strike also.

BUFFALO "TRIES" TO GET ANOTHER CONVENTION

St. Louis, Denver and Buffalo are among the next meeting and the contest is spirited. A movement is on foot to meet hereafter quadrennially instead of biennially so as to reduce expenses.

Each grand lodge meeting is said to cost about $35,000 apart from the individual expense.

MRS. MANGLES CONVICTED OF EVADING CUSTOMS

Frisco Woman Fined $2,000 for Declaring False Value on Imported Goods

(By Associated Press.)
TRENTON, May 19.—A fine of $2,000 was imposed on Mrs. Agnes Mangles, of San Francisco, who is alleged to have landed on May 12 from the steamer Amerika at Hoboken without declaring a proper value of goods brought by her from abroad.

Mrs. Mangles entered a plea of non vult. Her counsel pleaded a plea of court to extend mercy and not impose a prison sentence.

The value of the goods brought into the country was estimated by the federal customs appraisers at about $5,500, of which $1,800 was declared. It was stated to the jury that the rest of the value of 60 per cent of the goods had been made to the customs officers.

Miss Agnes Tillman, a niece of Mrs. Mangles, was cited to appear because of alleged improper declaration of goods and jewelry, but the charges against her were withdrawn. Miss Tillman agreed to pay the duty for the full value of her property.

RATE CASE IS DECIDED AGAINST "SOO LINE"

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 19.—A railroad is not warranted in exacting increased rates merely because it has not direct facilities for delivering shipments, the interstate commerce commission today held, in effect, in a contested case involving freight rates on ice from Wisconsin points to Chicago.

The "Soo line" has no terminal facilities in Chicago. "If it cannot afford to pay for terminal services," the commission announced, "it will doubtless have to retire from competitive traffic. It may not either by itself or in conjunction with other carriers maintain unreasonable or unjustly discriminatory charges."

Alleged Forger in Cell Makes Money Writing For Papers

VALDOSTA, Ga., May 19.—Charles T. Sweet, one of the prisoners in the Lowndes county jail, who is charged with forgery, is having considerable success in disposing of articles which he has written. Sweet has been a sort of poetic genius and has traveled all over the country, having been in Uncle Sam's army at one time. Before he got in trouble he contributed a number of articles to the newspapers and after he was placed in jail on a charge of forging a relative's name on a note at the bank he bought a typewriter and has devoted much of his time to writing stories.

During the past week or two five different magazines have had short stories or poems from his pen and in each instance they have paid him for them. Sweet is going to be tried next week and he is confident that he will be acquitted, as he claims that he had permission to sign his mother's name to the paper in question.

POLICE PROTECT SILK STRIKERS RETURNING

Twenty Strikers Return to Work Between Police Lines
Two Blocks Long

PATERSON, N. J., May 19.—Through a lane of police two blocks long, twenty hands formerly employed by the silk mill of the Arthur Price company, went back to work today after a strike of more than two months. Hundreds of pickets of the Industrial Workers of the World sought to prevent their return, but the police guard was too effective. There was a lively scrimmage for a time, and sixty pickets were arrested.

The Price mill is a comparatively small one, employing normally thirty hands. The return of its strikers with demands unsatisfied is heralded by the manufacturers as meaning the near-end of the strike. Leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World, on the other hand, maintain that the fight will go on unabated and that few others will yield.

DIRT SPILLING LAW TO BE DISCUSSED BY COUNCIL

Wagon Drivers May Be Made Equally Responsible With Owners

More stringent legislation against dirt spilling on the streets of Atlanta will engage the attention of the general council Monday afternoon when Councilman Claude Ashley introduces an ordinance to make drivers of wagons equally responsible with their owners.

Some months ago council repealed the old dirt spilling ordinance and such a widespread protest followed that it was re-enacted into municipal law. This old ordinance simply makes the owner of the wagon spilling the dirt liable to a fine in police court.

Wagons operated by contractors who haul dirt from excavations in the city frequently are dirty and that there is too much smoke here. A number of the council are earnestly endeavoring to minimize both complaints.

At the meeting of council Monday afternoon Councilman Ashley introduced his resolution providing for a joint committee of councilmen and citizens to investigate the necessity for a bond issue for extending the sewer system, building additional schools and other improvements.

The street committee will make recommendations for regrading West way will introduce a resolution calling for an appropriation of $1,000 with which to properly entertain official visitors from other cities who come here to inspect public improvements.

Mayor Woodward will send a message to council giving his views on the recent probe of the fire department.

"BLACK HAND BOMB" WAS BUT A "BUCKLING" TILE

Natural Phenomenon Results in a Number of Sensational Rumors

Heat caused the buckling of some near the sidewalk in front of 521 Crew street shortly after 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and resulted in a rumor to the effect that unknown parties had used a bomb to blow up the residence of Peyton C. Turner at that number.

The rumor was set first in circulation when it buckled it made a report like the flaming of a door. Several squares of the tiling were disturbed.

An investigation by the police and others showed that the occurrence was due to a natural phenomenon.

BLAZE IN CAFE CAUSES EXCITEMENT IN HOTEL

Patrons of Stag Hotel Given a Thrill Early Monday Morning

Patrons of the Stag hotel on Walton street were treated to a handful of thrills about 7:30 o'clock Monday morning when a small fire broke out in the cafe.

The fire really didn't amount to more than $50 loss, if that much. But from the way the firemen arrived, the call, those who were asleep in the Stag hotel must have thought the town was going up in smoke.

One man poked his head out of a second story window, took in a whiff of the smoke and saw the firemen below. His first impulse was to climb right out that window, but the cries of the spectators kept him back.

At the Cafe Denechaud it was stated that the origin of the fire is not known.

CHURCHMEN MAKE GOOD USHERS AT BIG MEETING

3,000 People Were Seated in Auditorium Sunday in Twenty Minutes

Much credit is due to the young men who have been acting as ushers at the Auditorium, for the nice manner and the quick way in which they have seated the thousands who have attended the meetings of the Presbyterian general assembly.

A record was established Sunday when these young men, who are members of the Junior Brotherhood of the Central Presbyterian church, seated 3,000 people in twenty minutes.

As each new comer entered the door he was met by a neatly dressed young man, who greeted the stranger with a smile, and placed a program in his hand. Another man was there to tell the crowd softly and quietly that there were plenty of seats on the right, or left, as the case happened to be. Either way the stranger turned he was met at the head of an aisle by an usher, who started him on his way to another usher, who took him to a good seat. A hymn book was soon in the seated person's hands, and he was ready to enjoy the program.

The task of taking care of the crowds at the auditorium has been under the direction of G. W. Clayton, the pastor of the church, who has been assisted in directing the ushers by E. S. Veal.

Dr. Mason was born in Jonesboro, Tenn., and later moved to Washington, D. C., where for five years he was pastor of the North church of that city.

Dr. Mason has been a member of the Presbyterian church in Trenton, N. J., where he has filled the same pulpit for thirty-six years.

He was nominated for governor of New Jersey by the prohibition party on April 22 in the Trenton convention. He is a powerful speaker, and a factor in the community in which he resides.

Dr. Mason has made many friends during his visit to this city, and is one of the ablest men in attendance on this big gathering.

WALRAVEN SUCCUMBS TO INJURIES IN ACCIDENT

Man Who Went Over Forty-Foot Embankment With Runaway Truck, Died Sunday

Mr. O. F. Walraven, the county employee who was injured in an automobile accident Saturday on North avenue, opposite the Tech athletic field, died at a local sanitarium Sunday morning at 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. Walraven was riding on the front seat with the driver of an automobile truck belonging to the county, when it became unmanageable and ran off the street embankment and rolled forty feet to the bottom.

Walraven was picked up, almost paralyzed over his entire body, and taken to the Grady hospital. The man who was driving escaped unhurt. The truck was wrecked.

The deceased is survived by his wife, two children, three brothers and one sister.

The funeral was held from the residence, 506 Woodward avenue, Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock, and the interment was in West View.

PRESBYTERIANS SUPPLY MANY ATLANTA PULPITS

Services in Churches, Colleges, Missions and Prisons by Visiting Ministers

Visiting Presbyterian ministers preached Sunday in all Atlanta churches of Protestant faith; held services in the colleges and missions of Atlanta and in the United States penitentiary.

Dr. Timothy Stone, moderator of the U. S. A. assembly, preached Sunday morning at the Harris street Presbyterian church; Dr. J. S. Lyons, moderator of the U. S. assembly, preached at the North avenue Presbyterian church; and Dr. Robert M. Russell, moderator of the U. P. assembly, preached at the Central Presbyterian church.

Other ministers preached in the various Protestant pulpits of Atlanta, and prisoners at the United States penitentiary heard an address by Rev. George W. Crabtree, and songs by a quartet of young men from the Union Theological seminary of Richmond.

The Georgia School of Technology were addressed by Rev. Frank E. Higginth and the young ladies of Agnes Scott college by Rev. James Beveridge Lee. There were also addresses at the various missions of the city.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT AND "SKY-PILOT" ARE HEARD

Speaking to the men in the audience straight from the shoulder, two men of entirely different types held a vast audience of 3,000 people spellbound Sunday afternoon at the auditorium. It was the first evangelistic meeting held during the Presbyterian assembly.

The speakers of the occasion were Dr. John Willis Baer, president of the Occidental college, Los Angeles; and Frank Higgins, known as the "sky pilot of Ontario," and a friend of the lumber jacks of the Erie region of the Canadian north.

The men were given rapt attention by their hearers, and every one in the audience rose quietly after Dr. Baer had recited the Lord's creed, as if he was talking in an every-day conversation, and asked all those to rise who believed the words he had spoken.

The "sky pilot of the lumber jacks," Frank Higgins, spoke for twenty minutes, and every one was impressed with his simple manner of saying what he thought. Music was furnished during the afternoon by the Union Theological seminary quartet, and the double quartet from Tusculum.

AUTOISTS HAVE NARROW ESCAPE NEAR EAST LAKE

Georgia Railroad Train Strikes Car Full of People at Railroad Crossing

A narrow escape from death for five Atlantians took place Sunday afternoon when a Georgia railroad train side-swiped the touring car of J. H. Hirsch at the railroad crossing on the East Lake drive. All of the five passengers escaped without serious injury.

With Mr. Hirsch, who was driving, were Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Carmichael and their fifteen-year-old son and twelve-year-old daughter. Mrs. Carmichael, suffering from the shock and bruises, was picked up by Winter Alfriend and Hughes Roberts, who were soon on the scene in an automobile.

Mr. Hirsch stated afterwards that there is a deep cut just before reaching to slow up and listen for a train, and not hearing anything he went on. As he started across he saw the big engine on the tracks.

He shoved on the emergency brake and turned his car in the direction of the engine. His car was then side-swiped and all the occupants thrown out.

Mr. Hirsch is a member of the firm of Hirsch & Spitz, manufacturing company. Mr. Carmichael is manager of the furniture department of M. Rich & Bros.

SCOTTI SLATED TO BE OPERA'S IMPRESARIO?

This Is the Story That the New York Review Springs on Broadway

According to the New York Review of May 17, Antonio Scotti will be the next impresario of the Metropolitan Grand Opera company.

The story says that while the members of the organization are in Europe, rumors are rife along Broadway that neither Gino Gatti Gasazza, the general manager, nor Arturo Toscanini, the musical director, will return to this country after their present contracts expire two years hence.

"Although officially denied," the Review says, "there is no doubt but that there was considerable friction between the impresario and the musical director last season."

The story continues that Toscanini's real reason for not wanting to come back is that he has never felt at home in New York, having been deprived of the social and artistic atmosphere to which he had been accustomed.

NINETY DEGREE WEATHER PROSPECT FOR TUESDAY

One doesn't have to look at the thermometer these days to find out that it's hot, yet a glance at the mercury shows a steady rise that promises to give the city a ninety-degree temperature by Wednesday.

So prophesies Weather Man C. F. von Herrmann of Sunday. He says, was the hottest day of the season so far, the mercury reaching eighty-eight degrees. At 7 o'clock Monday morning it was seventy-two degrees, and it was expected to top Sunday's mark before night.

Local showers are predicted for Monday night or Tuesday afternoon.

BURGLAR, HOLDING GUN, ROBS MAN AND HIS WIFE

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Lie Still in Hotel While Burglar Retreats

Walter M. Wilson, a member of the firm of Wilson Brothers, real estate agents, and his wife were compelled to lie still in their room at the Adair hotel, 205 Peachtree street, early Sunday morning while a burglar, with a pistol pointed at them, backed out of the room with Mr. Wilson's watch.

On the way out the burglar got 21 cents out of a slot machine at the hotel office.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have a room on the ground floor. Between 1 and 2 o'clock Sunday morning Mrs. Wilson was awakened by a noise in the room. She dimly saw a man's form standing at the table, and she roused her husband.

"There is a man in the room!" Mrs. Wilson only whispered, but her husband declared later that it sounded like a roar.

"What!" he exclaimed, also in a whisper that sounded like a roar. Before he could do anything further the burglar leveled his revolver on Mr. Wilson and said, "Lie still, both of you, or I'll shoot."

Still holding the pistol, the burglar backed toward the door and passed out, slamming it after him as if angered by the interruption.

He was a white man and evidently an experienced hand. He pushed the key out of the door and got in with a pass key.

A boarder who came in late Saturday night said he saw the burglar in the hall. The stranger said he was from New York and looking for a room.

The police were notified, but haven't much of a clue to work on as the only thing Mr. and Mrs. Wilson could distinguish in the dark room was the burglar's glittering revolver.

CHILD IS RESCUED FROM CATCH BASIN DROWNING

Three-Year-Old Isaac Janks Saved by James T. Burns at 123 Cooper Street

Little Isaac Janko, the three-year-old son of Max Janka, a tailor, residing at 127 Cooper street, had a narrow escape from death late Sunday afternoon, when he fell head foremost into a ten-foot catch basin in front of 123 Cooper street.

Had it not been for the timely assistance of John T. Burns, of 123 Cooper street, who heard the child's muffled screams as he toppled into the basin, the little chap undoubtedly would have been drowned in the murky waters of the basin.

The youngster was playing with a ball, which rolled into the basin. He crawled down under the lid to get his ball and lost his balance and fell in. The water at the bottom broke his fall and saved him from any broken bones.

Mr. Burns was on his front porch, and when he heard the child's cries he rushed to the basin, climbed down into it and held the little fellow out of the water until persons in the neighborhood secured ropes and pulled them both out.

Mr. Burns took the boy to the Red Cross hospital, at 88 Cooper street, where Dr. W. B. Lingo dressed the wounds sustained by both. The child's head was badly contused and his left arm was lacerated. Mr. Burns was contused about the arms and body.

It was reported Monday morning that little Isaac was resting comfortably and would probably be able to leave the sanitarium during the day.

Both sermons were spiritual, simple and profound.

ORDINARY'S INCOME FOR YEAR TOTALS $9,063.20

John R. Wilkinson Files Sworn Statement for First Quarter With Comptroller

Fees received by John R. Wilkinson, ordinary of Fulton county, for the first quarter of the present year, aggregated $5,800.80, of which amount $3,534.80 was disbursed for salaries, printing, postage and other office expenses.

Ordinary Wilkinson's net income from his office for the months of January, February and March, was, therefore, $2,265.80, or at the rate of $755.26 per month. At this ratio his net receipts for the entire year will be $9,063.20.

Ordinary Wilkinson, in compliance with the state law, Monday morning made a sworn statement of his receipts and disbursements to Comptroller General W. A. Wright. He did not go into detail in this statement.

The ordinary is the third of the Fulton county officials to file reports with the comptroller general. The other two being Tax Collector A. P. Stewart and Tax Receiver T. M. Armistead. These three officials successfully attacked the constitutionality of the law passed at the last session of the legislature, which was designed to place all officials in Fulton upon a salary basis.

Messrs. Armistead and Stewart, however, made their reports to the comptroller general early in April. Ordinary Wilkinson awaited the outcome of the litigation then before the supreme court. The various other officials made no reports for the reason that they had accepted the salary law and were not then receiving fees. However, now that the courts have knocked out that law and they will revert back to the fee system, each of them must file sworn quarterly statements of the collections and disbursements of his office.

HOW AN INDIANA GIRL Got Strong and Well Again at Small Cost.

Miss Alta Abel, of West Baden, Ind., says: "I was a complete wreck, always tired, worn out and nervous. I had to spend about one-third of my time in bed and my life was not worth living. Vinol, your delicious cod liver and iron tonic was recommended, and it has done me more good than all the medicine I ever took in my life. That nervous and tired feeling is all gone. I have gained in health, flesh and strength, until I feel like another person."

Vinol is the most efficient strength creator for such women. It is the medicinal elements of the cod's livers contained in Vinol aided by the blood-making and strengthening properties of tonic iron which make it so far superior to all other tonics to build up health and strength for weak, tired, ailing women. It contains no oil and has a delicious taste.

We give back your money if Vinol does not do all that we claim. Elkin Drug Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

SHOOTS AT BURGLAR CLIMBING IN WINDOW

R. R. Knight, who boards at 72 Washington street, waked up about midnight Sunday just in time to see a negro man climbing in his window, which opens on the front porch.

Knight cried out: "Who's there?" and while the burglar paused fired on him. Call officers found the burglar's hat near the front steps, but the burglar himself escaped.

Shapely, stylish, snug in fit, with not a seam to stretch or split.

ATLANTA'S "OLD GUARD" OF THE ELITE MILITIA, WITH WAVING FLAGS AND INSPIRING MUSIC, OFF FOR ANOTHER PEACE TOUR

UNION SEMINARY FIGHT UP MONDAY AFTERNOON

Northern Assembly Will Have Three Reports From Special Committee

The most important matter to come before the Northern Presbyterian (U. S. A.) assembly Monday is the report of the special committee on Union Theological seminary. The committee was appointed to canvass the question of re-establishing relations between the seminary and the assembly.

The committee is divided, there being a majority and two minority reports before the assembly. On the points of difference between these reports hinges the policy of the assembly concerning fundamental Presbyterian doctrine.

Union Theological seminary, which is in New York, was founded in 1836 as a Presbyterian institution. It continued as such until twenty years ago, when there came a split between the seminary and the assembly because of the "tax theology" being taught in the seminary.

The substance of the majority report of the committee is as follows:

THE MAJORITY REPORT.

That the committee suggested to the board of directors of the seminary the establishment for Presbyterian ministerial students of two professorships on the doctrinal system, the government and discipline, the history and organization and the executive agencies and activities of the Presbyterian church; that the directors replied they could not, for lack of funds, establish the professorships, but would be glad to provide special lectures; and that the committee, believing the negotiations will finally lead to a basis of reunion satisfactory to the assembly, recommended the continuance of the committee.

Minority report No. 1, signed by John R. Davies, D. D., and Elisha H. Perkins, is in substance as follows:

That the proposal of the seminary directors to provide a lecturer or lecturers on Presbyterian doctrine and polity "falls far short of adequately meeting the needs of the situation from the assembly's standpoint"; that the directors have not stated with sufficient fulness their position on the fundamental doctrinal beliefs of the Presbyterian church; and that after long consideration they consider that the restoration of relations between the seminary and the assembly on the basis of the standards of the Presbyterian church is impossible; and therefore they recommended that the committee be discharged.

ANOTHER MINORITY REPORT.

Minority report No. 2, which is signed by F. C. Monfort, D. D., is in substance as follows:

That he believes the proposal of the directors to provide lecturers is "only less satisfactory" than the proposal of the committee for one or more professorships to be appointed.

"The appointment of one or two men," says Dr. Monfort, "whether as professors or lecturers, to teach the doctrines of the Confession, while other professors in the institution antagonize the Confession, would not be a compliance with the provisions of the constitution upon which the seminary was founded."

"This question of the New York Presbyterian affects not only the seminary, but the whole church, as the New York Presbyterian's ordination is the door for Union students not only to its ministry, but to the ministry of the whole church."

The Union seminary matter is on the docket for the Monday afternoon session of the assembly.

On the morning docket are the reports of the following committees:

Bills and overtures, which reports every morning; standing committee on ministerial relief, special committee on intermediate catechism and standing committee on education.

RADICAL DIFFERENCES.

"A theology which denies the supernatural; that regards sin not as the result of an 'abrupt transformation' or the fall, but as 'the survival of the animal in man,' and salvation 'not as an act' but as 'a process rooted as sin is, in the nature of man,' that regards Christ 'not as God and man' but as 'God in man' and 'a type to which all men are ultimately destined to conform,' and which acknowledges as man's supreme authority not the scriptures, but the 'light that is in him,' is not the theology of the Westminster Confession nor of the Presbyterian church."

Dr. Monfort's report, which is by far the lengthiest of all submitted, goes into the history of the seminary in detail, for the purpose of showing that it is not an independent institution, but that its constitution first adopted and later amended makes it distinctly and irrevocably a Presbyterian seminary, conforming to the Westminster Confession.

The report further insists that the voluntary statement by the seminary directors of their doctrinal beliefs and orphans of Presbyterian preachers. In the course of his remarks he declared that the "yellow candle of the world's condemnation will flame into the church's doom," unless the church, in the name of humanity, justice and Christ, pensions the men who have spent their lives in her service. Rev. Thornton Whaling brought greetings from the Southern assembly. He spoke with polished southern eloquence and was warmly applauded when he expressed the hope of an organic reunion between the northern and southern churches. At the close of his speech the assembly rose and sang a verse of "The Church's One Foundation Is Jesus Christ, Our Lord."

INTERMEDIATE CATECHISM.

The report of the committee on intermediate catechism, which came next, was presented by David S. Schaff, chairman, and by William McKibbin. They consumed upwards of thirty minutes, going into the catechism in detail, and emphasizing the claim that the catechism has been indorsed with practical unanimity by the church at large.

Immediately upon conclusion of these speeches, and when the adoption of the catechism was opened for discussion, Rev. R. M. Gammill, pastor of Ivyland church, North Philadelphia, attacked the catechism.

He said it begins with man, instead of God, and "ended nowhere."

He said it is "intermediate between naturalism and supernaturalism," when it ought to be intermediate between the child's catechism and the shorter catechism. He said it is very meager in its doctrine of the Holy Ghost, weak in its doctrine of the atonement, confused in its doctrine of sin, and silent on the doctrine of the resurrection of the body, and deficient in its doctrine of inspiration.

ALREADY APPROVED.

As a matter of fact, the catechism was approved by the assembly at the 1912 session, being sent back to the committee only for the addition of proof texts, so that the catechism was not put to a vote of approval again. The assembly ordered the catechism printed and distributed to the board of publication, and on this question Mr. Gammill voted no, his being the only voice raised to the contrary.

At 12:30 the assembly took a recess until 2:30 p. m. Monday.

The Georgia Auto Tops will give an ice cream festival Tuesday, May 20, at 8 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend. Take river car and get off at Ellenwood. We'll expect you.

should not be received without comment, but that the assembly should make a reply to the same.

A BIG FIGHT HERE.

In conclusion, he recommends that the assembly adopt a resolution to the effect that "all of the presbyteries within our bounds shall always take care not to admit any candidate for the ministry into the exercise of the sacred function unless he declares his agreement in opinion with all the essential and necessary articles of the Westminster Confession."

On this latter point hinges one of the big fights in the assembly, as the New York presbytery has licensed graduates of Union seminary to preach.

SWEEPING REFORM LIST

and complete justice for all men in all stations of life, for the protection of the family by the single standard of purity, uniform divorce laws, proper regulation of marriage and proper housing; for the abolition of child labor; for such regulations of the conditions of toil for women as shall safeguard the physical and moral health of the community; for the protection of the individual and society from the social, economic and moral waste of the liquor traffic; for suitable provision for the old age of workers and for those incapacitated by injury; for the principle of conciliation and arbitration in industrial disputes; for a release from employment one day in seven and for the most equitable division of the product of industry that can ultimately be devised.

The special committee on reform submitting this report was composed of Rev. S. R. Jamieson, Rev. S. A. McCollom, Rev. R. M. McCracken, Joseph Brownlee and Peter Brotherton.

Fraternizing greetings were extended to the assembly by Dr. Charles Park, of Pittsburgh, representing the Reformed church in America, and Rev. I. M. Kennedy, of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian church.

STATISTICS CREDITABLE.

The special report of the committee on statistics showed that there are now 1,144 United Presbyterian ministers, being ten less than the year before; eighty-eight students of theology, ten less than the year before; thirty-two ministers deceased, with thirty-three new ministers licensed.

The membership of the church was given as 183,305, an increase of 5,704. There were added by profession 13,146, being thirty-seven less than last year, "which," said the report, "shows a need of more earnest and efficient work in evangelism."

The statistics showed an increase of $159,990 in contributions to the boards of the church. The average contribution for all purposes per member was $20.97, an increase during the year of $2.19 a member. The committee attributed this increase to the "every member canvass" of the Laymen's Missionary Movement.

"Taking it all together," the report said, "the church need not be ashamed of the year's work."

LIQUOR ROOT OF EVIL.

The committee on industrial conditions declared its "solemn conviction that the liquor problem is so involved with evil industrial and social conditions that if its manufacture and sale were absolutely prohibited all industrial and social problems could be solved in the next four or five decades."

The assembly heard an address by Rev. H. H. Marlin, of Pittsburgh, chairman of the federal council of the churches of Christ in America, who adopted the following recommendations of the committee:

"That Labor day be observed in all churches and special services preached; that the report of the federal council of the churches of Christ in America be adopted; that the church papers conduct departments for the discussion of social service and labor problems; that the general assembly secure someone each year to address its members on topics vital to social and economic progress; that a social service committee be appointed to co-operate with committees of similar conditions from other religious bodies; that synods give a place on their programs to themes dealing with industrial conditions; that employees everywhere be called on to observe the Sabbath; that the board of home missions be given supervision of the work relating to social service and industrial conditions; that the board of home missions give a place on the program of home mission week to study of social service and industrial conditions."

DEBATE OVER HERALD.

When the report of the committee on publication came up for final disposition the assembly engaged in sharp debate for half an hour over the Christian Union Herald, a weekly organ of the church.

It was charged that without the authority of the assembly the subscription price of the paper had been increased from 50 to 60 cents a year.

The publication committee had recommended that this publication be devoted in the future entirely to the interests of the young people and over-these two points a spirited discussion arose.

It was decided finally that in the future the Christian Union Herald shall be published entirely in the interest of the young people, the young peoples' societies and the Sabbath schools of our denomination at a cost as consistent as possible with the highest efficiency and economy.

This will be the only exclusively young people's publication of the United Presbyterian church.

FORMER UNION PACIFIC

Horace Greely Burt Succumbs

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, May 19.—Horace Greely Burt, former president of the Union Pacific railway system and later chief engineer for the Chicago chamber of commerce smoke abatement committee, died here today. Three weeks ago he was operated on for a malignant growth and complications which followed caused his death.

ATLANTA'S "OLD GUARD"
AWAY ON PEACE TOUR

Noted Local Military Organi-
Morning

At 11 o'clock Monday morning the Old Guard of the Gate City Guard rolled away into the north—this time certain of its welcome. It was bent upon another tour of fellowship. Among its company were some who made thirty-four years ago the original trip, which helped so vastly toward welding the nation into one again that the Gate City Guard attained even more fame in peace than it had attained a few years earlier in war.

Today, as then, Joseph F. Burke is in command of its company.

Today, as then, its mission is peace and good will. In a measure, too, it is acknowledging the courtesy which other famous military organizations of the country paid to it a couple of years ago when they came to Atlanta to honor the Old Guard's peace monument unveiling. It could not hope to return the call upon all of them, so it is visiting a few.

From now until June 3 the Old Guard of the Gate City Guard will be away upon its jaunt. For some three weeks it will be busy at the exchanging of compliments with the elite among military companies of the east. It will go by rail and return by boat to Savannah, coming thence home.

Its itinerary has been laid out to the hour almost, and the indications are that the program in each city where it will visit has been arranged to a knat's heel, too. Official welcome will be extended by mayors and others of city governments.

ROUND OF FESTIVITIES.

In Washington, their first stop, the Old Guard will be met by the surviving members of the Washington Light Infantry, which met it in the same city on its former tour years ago. The Light Infantry will be its escort on parade to the White House, where President Wilson and Mrs. Wilson will greet its members, and where the Old Guard will present to Mrs. Wilson some fresh roses from her old home in Rome, Ga. The Old Guard will review a special drill of the United States troops at Fort Meyer, and will be honored by a special concert of the marine band, and many festivities and much entertainment will follow.

In Baltimore, the next stop, the Fifth Maryland regiment will be the Old Guard's hosts. In New York, they will be welcomed by the Old Guard of New York and other organizations. In Philadelphia the State Fencibles will entertain them. In Boston, the Ancient and Honorable Artillery and the Boston Tigers will be their hosts. In Hartford the famed old Hartford Phalanx will accord them welcome.

Shortly after 10 o'clock Monday morning the Old Guard, fine and dandy in the smartest of uniforms, assembled at the Piedmont hotel and marched to the Terminal station. In it were some of the most prominent men in Atlanta. Several of the members will be accompanied by their wives throughout the trip.

How a Business Leader Views Business Conditions.

"There is no threatening cloud in the business atmosphere of the United States."

These are the words of James J. Hill, known throughout America for his discernment and leadership in large affairs. In an interview recently published in the Washington Post, Mr. Hill presents a remarkable array of facts, showing the sweep and soundness of the nation's prosperity. He dwells upon the progress of agriculture and the expansion of industries; the one, he declares, is being quickened by scientific methods of farming and the other encouraged and rendered more profitable by efficient methods of production. The demand for farm labor continues to grow and our systems of transportation are taxed to the utmost to meet increasing traffic needs. It is not so much the specific facts he mentions, however, as the conclusions which he, a trained and cool observer of business prospects, has reached that is significant. The Post aptly remarks:

"To our financiers, our manufacturers, our merchants, to business men of every class and to the general public, the words of Mr. Hill should be of infinite value, and afford them much satisfaction."

The truth is there is no echo of business appen-sion today save that which comes from inspired sources. The rank and file of the people, whatever their field of occupation may be, are moving steadily forward in a spirit of confidence and cheer. The forthcoming reduction of the tariff and other laws designed to make our economic life more free and stable are interpreted in their true purpose and measured by their logical consequence. What few calamity howlers there are find as little response as reason for their sour temper.

Continuing our vein of optimism, we predict that the peach crop will be 100 per cent.

Prof. Taft may be depended on not to do anything radical at Yale, such as changing the Yale yell.

The nations need have no worry. The London Times has expressed itself on the Japanese question.

News items say the weather on Sunday was warm and dry, and a considerable portion of the population can vouch for the accuracy of that item.

The Tariff Bill Moves Forward in the Senate.

The defeat of the Republican amendment, seeking to reopen public hearings on the tariff bill now before the Senate, is a happy omen for the progress and the ultimate triumph of this important administration measure. The vote in this instance goes to show that though the issue is closely drawn, the majority of the Senate Democrats are standing staunchly by the President and by their party's faith. Only two Democrats, the Senators from Louisiana, voted with the Republicans, and their defection is easily explained. It has never been expected that they would support a bill which provides for an immediate reduction and the future removal of duties on sugar.

The effort to reopen hearings before the finance committee of the Senate was unwarranted by common sense or fair play. The ways and means committee of the House spent long weeks in listening to all interests that had any claims or suggestions to present.
Protests, based upon new evidence, may very properly be submitted, but there is no need or occasion for repeating in tedious detail work that has already been thoroughly done in the House; and it was the transparent purpose of those who insisted upon rehearings simply to delay the progress of the tariff bill.

The vote on this particular question may be regarded as an indication of what the final line-up will be. The fact that it stood forty-one to thirty-six shows that the balance of Progressive Democratic power, though none too strong, is sufficient to carry the measure through, if the party ranks remain loyal. That this will be the case, there is little reason to doubt; for, though the administration bill is opposed by particular interests, it is supported by the people as a whole.

President Wilson is for tariff revision—all wool and a yard wide.

Nothing rattles a contrary man more than to have you agree with him.

One has everything his own way—until he gets to be about a year old.

Many vigorous men waste a lot of perfectly good energy in making fools of themselves.

No wonder a big boss looks down upon a little
one. The big one is a much better bluffer.

The English-Commercial High School Vital Need.

If there is one particular need above all others which the finance committee of Council should consider in making up the June apportionment sheet, it is that of a safe and commodious building for the Girls' English Commercial High School.

This institution, which plays so vital a part in Atlanta's educational life, is now quartered in flimsy wooden buildings that are not only inadequate to care for the school's increasing enrollment, but are also a menace to the safety of the students. Indeed, these conditions are such that Council can ill afford to take the responsibility of what might happen, if they are permitted to continue. The school is held in three separate houses which were designed as dwellings for families of average size and which are entirely without those safeguards that should be provided for a public institution. Should a fire or a panic break out in the quarters of this school, the result might be unspeakably terrible.

But aside from such dangers, these makeshift houses are wholly inadequate to meet the school's growth. It is conservatively reckoned that unless larger quarters are provided, the school will have to turn away at the opening of its next term between seventy-five and a hundred young women. Surely, Council and the finance committee will not suffer such an injustice to the city's homes and its highest interests!

The English Commercial High School has grown wondrously since its establishment a few years ago.
Its attendance has shown the insistent and widespread demand for just such practical and constructive education as it affords; and the brilliant success of its graduates shows the character of the work it is doing.

Such an institution should not be stinted; certainly it should not be denied its right to a safe and suitable building of its own. It should be encouraged in every possible way and should be supported as liberally as the city's means will permit.
It is as unbusinesslike as unfair to continue to cram this school in outworn houses which the city does not own and on which it may not be able to renew its present lease. In the course of a few years, the rental paid for these makeshift quarters would suffice to build a handsome and suitable structure.

There is this further and important fact to be considered: Last year thirty thousand dollars was appropriated for an English Commercial High School building, but later it was withdrawn partly because of the city's financial stringency and partly, too, because it was realized that that amount would not be sufficient to provide a fire-proof building, the only kind that should be erected. In January, the school was promised a reapportionment of this amount plus an additional sum. It is the clear duty of the finance committee to provide for this urgent need.

A woman seldom has time to listen to more than half she says.

People get into a hole, then try to induce others to get them out.

Did you ever meet a man who had the bad taste to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.

As a genius a man is the real thing if he can buy his wife a $6.98 hat and make her forget that it was an electric runaway she wanted.

The Peace Centennial.

Divers plans are being made both in Great Britain and America for a worthy commemoration of the hundred years of peace that will soon have forged their golden ties between the two great families of English speaking people. Such a centennial certainly demands due and hearty observance, for it is more eloquent in its meaning and more fruitful in its results than any battle which might have broken its concord. Furthermore, it is a goodly omen of perpetual friendship; as Mr. Carnegie recently said, "It is a peace that is likely to endure through all the centuries to come."

Among the more formal programs to be carried out in this connection is that which looks to the erection of two monuments described by the New York Times as "identical in design, one at Washington and one at London; the cornerstones will be laid at the same moment by the President of the United States and the King, with a brief cessation of all business simultaneously in both countries."

It is also suggested that Niagara river be spanned by a memorial bridge and that the Dominion and the States be similarly linked at other points. Tablets will doubtless be erected at various historic spots in America and England and on the day set aside for the commemoration patriotic meetings will be held in both countries.

The most vital of all witnesses to these hundred years of peace are the hearts of the English and the American people themselves, who are one today in sympathy with the ideals and in loyalty to the high mission of the great stock from which they both are sprung.

The woman with a poor complexion may be rich enough to afford a better one.

All men are born equal, but a mother believes that her first baby is more than equal.

It's easy for some people to take things philosophically—if they are not nailed down.

The reason so many young men are in love with a girl is because she has a vivid imagination.

After a woman has succeeded in making a man feel cheap, she never regards him as a bargain.

No, Cornelia, we don't blame you for the opinion you have of a man who has occasion to consult a beauty doctor.

THE INCOME TAX

XII. THE TAX IN ENGLAND.

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Nowhere else in the world is there afforded a better picture of the operation of the income tax than in England. In its present general shape it has been evolved for a period of nearly three-quarters of a century, and during that time the natural objections to such a tax have been on the wane until it has now become a part of the permanent fiscal policy of the United Kingdom. The tax is now levied on incomes aggregating nearly $9,000,000,000.

There are those who complain about it and inveigh against it, some going as far as to say that it is the most humiliating tax ever put upon a generous nation, others that it possesses a maze of averages and bases of calculation that make it a sealed book to any lay mind, and still others who assert that there is infrequently anything about its administration that is credible and often much that is tyrannical. But the general verdict seems to be that the tax is a necessary evil and about as satisfactory as one could reasonably expect.

Perhaps the most influential element in freeing the general complaint is the fact that the original assessments of the tax is made by non-salaried representatives of the local gentry. The people have confidence in these men, and feel that they are, in a sense, their own representatives. They are largely circumscribed as to their duties, and their work is carefully checked up by the representatives of the British treasury. This combination of centralization and local rule prevents any charges of bureaucracy on the one hand and any loss of revenue by assessments made too low on the other.

By utilizing a happy system of choosing what are known as additional commissioners from the ranks of the business community for the purpose of assisting in the assessment of the tax, the co-operation of the business community is secured, and but little trouble is experienced in securing proper assessment of business incomes. Another striking phase of the administration of the British income tax laws is the absence of inquisitorial procedure. The British authorities steer a middle course between the laxity that makes a law more honored in its breach than in its observance, on the one hand; and the rigidity of enforcement that defeats its own purpose, on the other.
The British authorities aim to collect all possible income taxes at their source rather than to allow them to go into the hands of the taxpayer and be accounted for by him. For instance, here is a man who has an income of 10,000 pounds which comes as dividend earnings in some utility corporation; the government's share of that income is deducted from the payments before they are made. That is taxation at the source, and it seems to bear down more easily upon the taxpayer than if he had to reach down in his pocket and pay it.

The British government has kept the tax down to about 6 per cent, and most British citizens are represented as willing to pay a shilling a pound on their income. The British income tax laws of today do not burden all classes of income alike. They assume that not every sort of income is equally well able to bear the same burden of taxation, so there has come about a system of differentiation which meets these objections, imposing the heaviest taxes upon those incomes most able to bear them, and the lightest taxes upon those incomes least able to meet them. As it became evident that great incomes were being built up it began to be generally felt that the man with a 10,000 pound income was able to pay a higher rate than the man with 500 pound income, and so the super-tax was brought in. Thus has England gone forward grafting onto the old tree all the new branches that progress demanded, until today her income tax laws meet English conditions and adjust the burdens of taxation in a generally satisfactory way.

It is interesting to follow the present high development of the income tax system in England during the past quarter of a century, or since it became a permanent national policy. Before that time there had been a constant improvement in methods of administration as a result of an unremitting effort to correct all unsatisfactory conditions, but the great improvements perhaps date from the early 90's. At that time there arose a demand for a graduation of incomes, a demand rather generally resisted by statesmen. One step after another in the improvement of the law was taken, some affording abatements on small incomes, others having to do with fraud, savings bank accounts, and the like, until finally, in 1907, Chancellor Asquith came out flatfootedly for a system of differentiation. He compared two men, each with an income of 2,000 pounds, the one deriving his from a perfectly safe investment and the other from a precarious profession and declared that to say that each should pay the same tax was to fly into the face of justice and common sense. He thought that incomes ought to be divided into two classes, earned and unearned incomes, the one representing the personal labor of the taxpayer and the other a simple sitting still and allowing the money to come in.

With the necessity of securing additional revenues to finance the old age pensions scheme before them, the British authorities were forced to consider a plan of income tax graduation in the shape of a levy of a higher rate upon all incomes in excess of 5,000 pounds. This is assessed in the shape of a super-tax of 6 pence per pound. Since this system of graduation has been adopted the rates of taxation vary with the ability of the persons taxed to pay. In the first place, any Britisher with an income of less than 150 pounds has his tax abated. Those who have incomes up to 500 pounds are entitled to a small rebate on account of their children below the age of sixteen. Those who have earned incomes up to 2,000 pounds pay 5 pence per pound on their incomes, and those who get 3,000 pounds a year pay a shilling a pound. All unearned incomes pay a shilling, 2 pence a pound up to 5,000 pounds a year. Those who reach and exceed that limit must pay a super-tax of 6 pence on every pound of income they have in excess of 3,000 pounds.
All persons having an income between the point of exemption, which is placed at 150 pounds, and 700 pounds, get certain abatements, so that the tax increases as the income rises between these two points.

TO A STRAW LID.

Oh, thing of beauty, rich and rare,
That crown'st my scant supply of hair,
Why dost thou—with each cooling gust
Of wind—essay to leave my crust?
Yes, why, I ask thee—when my mind
With tender thoughts of love's entwined—
Dost thou so gently leave my bean
And flit, with aim uncanny keen,
Beneath a truck?

G. R. V. P.

Why the ranks of the suffrage increase: Says Mayor Gaynor: "I am certain that very few of the women want to vote."

"Is there any suffragette in the world," the mayor continues, "who would not give up her principles for a nice man?" . . . Not so loud, suffs.

THE DIARY OF OUR OWN SAMUEL PEPYS.

May 14.—To my office betimes and all the morning at petty business and thence home to luncheon of eggs and bacon and asparagus and apple-sauce and two cups of coffee, which was Gretchen's fault, for when I do ask her for one cup, she breweth ever four or five cups, recking not of the cost of such things, poor wretch, nor have I heart to chide her for her folly. With Mr. Crusenberry the City's scrivener to the tennis-court, and played 4 sets, but he unlucky and out of practice, so I did defeat him. Mr. Kelton told me how that Mr. Upton Sinclair would play with me and lower my pride and I told K. when it pleased him soever. To the ballpark with Mistress Heloise and we made a wager, a tie against a hat-pline, on the game. I did wager that the Cubs would win and she the Giants and we did see the wildest game ever I saw, and much bad playing, such as I like to see, by both teams. But the Giants did win by 14 runs to 11, and I must remember to buy H. a hat-pline.
Home to dinner, where are come C. Gaige and Mistress Hilda, and thereafter in C's new petroleum-waggon all to Coney Island, the first time ever I was there, and Hilda and I did ride upon all the perilous railways together and I enjoyed it, too, but I believe them dangerous and silly, and would fain: have them done away with by law. H. did have her palm read, and the palmist thought me her husband.

15.—News to-day of the conviction of Quinlan in Paterson, which methought unjust, but I do feel out of sympathy with his organization. I fear there may be dire things to happen in this land or ever another ten years be sped. To the ballpark and met there Mont Glass the tale-writer and did walk home with him and he shewed me his new harpsichord. That, quoth he, or a petroleum-wagon; and a harpsichord hath no blowouts, nor doth it run into children. Which was true talk. Home for dinner and thereafter to my scrivening, but all the evening my new neighbor played upon the spinet songs and melodies, horrid ones, but well played, and I had liefer to listen than to work.
So I did listen until my bedtime, which is early. Read

Decisive Battles

The present celebration of the sixteenth century of the conversion of Constantine leads to some literary reflections:

"Creasy's 'Fifteen Decisive Battles' seems to resemble the various best lists of authors we read of from time to time—they always arouse criticism by some serious omission. It will be recalled that the "Five Foot Shelf" of what, in a great educator's mind, were the best imaginable books in English was found deficient in that it omitted both the Bible and Shakespeare. A few inches added to the shelf would have been a good thing in the minds of many.

The "Fifteen Battles" would have been quite as euphonious had it been called the "Sixteen" and had it included the battle of the Milvian Bridge in 312 A.D., where tradition declares that Constantine saw in the heavens the luminous cross which bade him conquer "In This Sign." Surely the giving of Europe and eventually America to Christianity was, to say the least, quite as important as the battles which saved Europe from Persian despotism or the later one which gave western Europe to Latin rather than Greek supremacy, or any other named in the book. However great the consequences of others, none exceeded this in its results. Sins of omission are as bad as those of commission.—From a Letter in the New York Times.

a period of twenty-four hours thereafter.—Chicago

WHAT TO DO

BY DR. FRANK CRANE.
(Copyright, 1913, by Frank Crane.)

A very great and wise man came to America. His fame was such that all the nation believed that to follow his advice in anything would bring success.

So all the legislatures of all the states elected representatives to meet at Washington and ask him
what to do.

When they had gathered together he asked them,
"What do you want most?"

They answered, "To get rid of crime and criminals, to stop the social evil, to abolish our slums, to clean our states and cities of poverty."

"Very well," he replied. "It will take thirty-three years, or one generation, but if you will faithfully do as I say you will certainly succeed."

Whereupon there was loud applause and exulting, and they said: "Tell us what to do, and upon our lives and honor we will most surely do it."

"I will tell you a week from today," he responded.
This he said in order that the enthusiasts who had ideas of reforming the people might make their suggestions.

And they came to him post haste, all sorts. Preachers and priests came saying they hoped he would say to give more money to churches and have grand revivals and get everybody converted. All kinds of political and economical apostles besieged him; single taxers, Socialists, anarchists, progressives and probi-tionists, and all had their say.

But upon the set day he arose before the delegates and said:

"All the plans you have proposed to me have their good points, but all have a fatal weak spot, which is that they deal with ADULTS."

"I do not propose to bother with them. They will all be dead anyhow in a few years. Besides, what you do with one adult crop of people must be done anew with the next. It is a fool way of trying to improve the race. Hence, go on as you are now doing.
It is the best you know and will last your time. Sixty years from now, when your children and grandchildren are at the helm of things, all your reform programs will fade away useless."

"This is what to do: First, enlarge your public school system until it provides for the free education and ECONOMIC SUPPORT of all the population under twenty."

"Second, to raise money for this cause the state to be an equal partner in every concern or with every individual who has a hundred thousand dollars; one-half the profits or income to go to the state to support its children."

"Third, so reform your public schools that the children therein shall be taught HOW TO LIVE; that is, first of all, moral character, including honesty, cleanliness, the value of truth, and of courage to tell and live the truth."

"Train them in politics. Let the schools be as democratic as the nation. Do not govern the children.
Teach them how to govern themselves. Let it be ground into every girl and boy that it is disgraceful not to take an active part in the organization of the ward, city, state and nation."

"Just pay due attention to one generation of children and it will save you a hundred years' labor with adults."

This plan being so simple the delegates felt their intelligence insulted and said: "What! And did we come here to be told about children?" Also the reformers and institution-holders cried out upon him.
The upshot of it all was that they seized the man and threw him into a madhouse.

TRAGIC TALE.

Oh, list to the tale of a lover's woes—
'Tis tragic, as you shall see—
The hopeless love for a rubber rose
Of a wandering honey bee!

The bee was busy at this and that—Such things as bees often do—
When suddenly on a woman's hat
The rose came into view.

Said the smitten bee: "Oh, lovely bloom!
There's honey within your heart;
Behold, I'm a chemist bee, than whom None better is at his art!"

Then he sank his face in the flower's breast—
Then hastily he backed out,
And his legs to his fevered brow he pressed
In an agony of doubt.

"I am sure you look like a rose," he said;
"Oh, rare and beautiful lar!
But your odor gives me an aching head
And you taste like a motor tire!"

Then sadly himself on a leaf he laid
And gave up the ghost with a sob.
As he said: "Here's the end of the honey trade—
The styles have destroyed my job!"

STRIPLING CASE CLOSED, IS GOV. BROWN'S FINALE

Two Years on Life Sentence Doesn't Open Way for Clemency

At no time during the remaining few weeks of his administration will Governor Brown entertain or consider another application for the pardon of Thomas Edgar Stripling, the former chief of police of Danville, Va., who is serving a life sentence at the state farm near Milledgeville for the murder committed in Heard county, Georgia, sixteen years ago.

The governor made his position on this matter very clear Monday morning, and he was prompted to do so because he had noticed in several of the state papers news stories to the effect that Stripling's attorneys are preparing to petition for a reopening of the Stripling pardon case.

Following his conviction and life sentence, Stripling escaped from the Heard county jail. Fourteen years later he was located at Danville, Va., where he was the chief of police and a respected citizen, having adopted an assumed name. He was brought back to Georgia and a strenuous effort was made to obtain a pardon for him on the ground that he had lived an upright life since his escape.

Governor Brown, to whom the application for pardon was submitted early in 1911, declined to grant a pardon, although powerful pressure was brought to bear upon him from all parts of the state and a tremendous sentiment in Stripling's favor was created.

Commenting upon the case Monday evening, Governor Brown declared that Stripling had only served two years of a life sentence; that he was convicted of having committed a midnight assassination, it being charged that he shot a man through the window of his (the victim's) own home.

Two years is not sufficient punishment for such a crime, even though there were extenuating circumstances and there was a disposition on the part of the state to change the life sentence to a definite term of years," said the governor. "It is not my purpose to reopen this case at all."

Stripling's wife and children are residing in Columbus, and it is said that they are in destitute circumstances. One of the younger children has died since Stripling has been in the penitentiary.

Fire in City Hall Almost Ignited Big Barrel of Kerosene

A fire which burned for five minutes in the basement of the city hall shortly before 1 o'clock Monday afternoon, was extinguished only a few minutes before it started to consume some valuable records and to lick dangerously near a large barrel of kerosene oil.

The flames burned out a large cabinet in the stock room of the health department, where old records and fumigating paraphernalia are stored. The only thing destroyed was the cabinet and some blank stationery in it.

The fire was discovered by Councilman Claude Ashley as he entered the building about 1:10 o'clock and noted waves of smoke filtering up the elevator shaft. City Clerk Walter Taylor was notified and immediately sent in an alarm. The prompt arrival of the fire engines resulted in extinguishing the blaze.

It is believed that the fire started from a lighted cigarette carelessly thrown down in the basement. Such was the opinion of various city hall officials, and it is so marked on the fire department's record.

MOODY BREAKS LEG IN FALL FROM MOTORCYCLE

L. B. Moody, of 350 West Fourteenth street, said to be an employee of the Atlanta Steel works, plunged over an embankment on the Roswell road Sunday morning while riding a motorcycle, and broke his leg.

The accident happened about 11:45 o'clock, Moody, it is said, was tearing down the road toward Roswell at a rather fast gait and lost control of his machine, which skidded into a ditch at the side of the road. He was buried over the handle-bars down the bank.

H. M. Patterson's auto ambulance carried the wounded man to the Grady hospital.

THEATERS

(Criticism of initial performances at the local theaters are written by members of the Journal staff. All other matter appearing in this column is furnished by the theater managers.)

ATLANTA—"The Deep Purple."
Bijou—Vaudeville and pictures.

Adam and Eve, trained monkeys, will be the headline feature at the Forsyth this week, though there are several other numbers on the program that are good.

The animals are owned and exhibited by Ed Gillette. He has shown Adam and Eve in all the principal cities. It is a novel and interesting act.

The other features on the bill are Galashier and Fields, in farce comedy. They will present a travesty on naval affairs, called "The Battle of Bay Rum." The action of the farce is supposed to take place aboard a man o' war. Josephine Dunfee, the singing comedienne, who is identified with musical comedy and operatic successes, will be on the bill, and it is predicted that she is going to be one of the hits of the week.

The return of Nevins and Erwood, after an absence of two years, will be a welcome event; and the Dune-din Troupe of cyclists will make a bid for popular favor. The Bradshaw Brothers and John Geiger, the man with the talking violin, make up the bill.

There are daily bargain matinee performances at the Forsyth.

Miss Billy Long and her associates in the fine stock company at the Atlanta celebrate the beginning of their fifth week at the new playhouse by presenting the drama of recent years, "The Deep Purple," opening with a matinee this afternoon. The company has won a strong hold on the Atlanta public and a new record for attendance is expected this week.

"The Deep Purple" is the first of the "brook" plays, and the best of the number. It made a tremendous hit in Chicago and New York and is being greeted with enthusiasm by stock company patrons all over America this summer. It has never been seen in Atlanta at any price.

The matinee this afternoon promises to be the biggest Monday afternoon performance ever given at the Atlanta. Box parties and orchestra parties galore have been planned. Other 25 cents matinees will be given Wednesday and Saturday. On the latter day a stage reception will be given by members of the company following the performance.

These receptions have been received with great favor, and the Atlanta management has been overwhelmed with congratulations because of the fact.

"A Trip to Joyville" is offered by the Bijou for the coming week. According to people who have seen the show, it is the best musical comedy that has been put on the circuit.

"A Trip to Joyville" begins at the Bijou Monday afternoon, and other sections of the train leave twice nightly and every other afternoon of the week. The show is said to be the most amusing production of its kind. There is a cast of capable principals, including players of New York reputation, and a chorus of boys and girls who dance and sing their way into every one's affections. The first act shows the Joyville railroad station. The second act is devoted to the specialty of Warner and White, "The Dancing Beau Brummels." The third act shows the Joyville cabaret, and this provides opportunity for fun galore. Fiddle, violin player, is with "A Trip to Joyville," and his specialty will be introduced at every performance during the week.

NEGRO CHARGED WITH ROBBING EXPRESS OFFICE

John Reed, colored, was taken into custody Monday by local detectives following the arrest of a series of thefts from the Southern Express company. The total amount of property taken by the black is believed to total several hundred dollars.

Reed, who was employed as a driver, purloined several packages containing valuables during the past few weeks, it is alleged.

COUNCIL TO CONSIDER MAYOR'S VETO MESSAGES

Effort Will Be Made at Meeting Monday to Override Mayor
Woodward

Mayor Woodward's two vetoes, one of the ordinance to muzzle dogs and the other in regard to the fire probe, will meet with opposition when they are transmitted Monday afternoon to council.

The consideration of these vetoes promises to make the session an active and interesting one.

The question of regrading Whitehall street will be considered, and the extent of the grade proposed will be recommended by the street committee.

Councilman Ashley will introduce a resolution to provide for a fund of $1,000 with which to entertain official visitors to Atlanta.

POLICE ARE WONDERING WHAT BAND WILL DO

Members of the police department, particularly those eligible to promotion, are wondering what will be the outcome of the deadlock of the police board over the appointment of a new sergeant to succeed K. S. Foster, recently deceased. A week ago after a spirited debate of an hour and a half, the commission adjourned, standing six to six on the question of whether or not Chief Beavers should recommend a man for the place.

The consensus of opinion is that the police head will lose prestige if he is not permitted to name the new sergeant. So far there has been no news of a waiver on either side. From present indications the vacancy will not be filled until the next meeting of the police board, and only then if some member has "switched." The possibility of a special meeting being called to settle the question is also remote as it takes at least seven members to take this step.

GOVERNOR OFFERS REWARD FOR MARIETTA DYNAMITERS

Governor Brown Monday morning was notified by Sheriff W. E. Swann and Ordinary J. M. Gann, of Cobb county, of the dynamiting of a negro tenant house on the farm of James T. Anderson, near Marietta, Sunday morning, following which the governor offered a reward of $150 for the arrest and conviction of the guilty parties. Notices were sent out around Marietta several months ago warning all the colored people to leave. They were followed by the burning of a barn belonging to a white farmer, who allowed his negro tenants to stay on the place.

Lewis, the black whose house was dynamited, was one of the negroes who received warning to leave some time ago. He went away at the time, coming back about the first of April. Saturday night he and six other negroes were in one room of the house, the very one, it seemed, who was lucky enough to escape the explosion.

It is said that the detectives are working on the case and have clues which will lead to the arrest of the dynamiters.

PALESTINE LODGE TO CONFER THIRD DEGREE

At the request of many of the visiting brethren, the Palestine lodge will confer the third degree in full uniform next Wednesday evening, and extends a cordial invitation to the visiting brethren at the Presbyterian general assembly to be present.

The ceremonies will begin promptly at 7 p. m., and will be exemplified in full dramatic form. To those who have not seen the degree conferred in this manner it will be a very interesting ceremony.

NO "MUTINY" IN TOWER SUNDAY; JAILERS DENY IT

Four Prisoners "Jawed" Each Other Until They Were Locked Up

There was no mutiny at the Fulton county Tower by the white prisoners on Saturday, as chronicled in a Sunday paper, declares Jailer Golden.

Mr. Golden, who is on duty from 7 a. m. until after 4 in the afternoon, says nothing whatever occurred in the jail to warrant any report of a mutiny of the prisoners. In the morning, he says, everything was as quiet as it could be.

In the afternoon four white prisoners in one tier became belligerent in their talk with one another, he says, and to make them behave one of the jailers quietly made each return to his own private cell and be locked in. This was done without any resistance, whatever, says Jailer Golden. He further adds that there was nothing thrown, such as bottles, etc.

Another jailer, Wiley Roberts, whom the report alleged to have been the cause of the "mutiny," has been in the employ of the county at the jail for four years. He was made a steward some

COLONEL BUTLER CONFERS WITH ADJUTANT GENERAL

Two of the Most Value-Ful Sales We Have Announced This Spring

A Sale of Embroideries, A Sale of Silks

Tomorrow shall be a notable day; notable for the two sales that get underway here at nine o'clock.

A sale of embroideries, a sale of silks; both bringing values worthy of being cried from the housetops.

But still, crying them from the housetops or in the biggest, blackest type right here would not add a jot or tittle to these truly remarkable values.

We believe they are in themselves sufficient to interest you. You who know this store and know the quality and worth of merchandise here at regular prices will understand there is no need of words on such an occasion as this. Here are loud speaking actions.

The Embroideries

At 15c Regularly 25c to 75c a yard

Heavy linen bands and daintiest and sheerest Swiss bands in white and colors—an outclearing that will interest women with dresses and waists to trim and with children's clothes to make.

At 29c Regularly 50c to $1.00 a yard

A ruthless and unwarranted reduction here and therefore all the more remarkable. The lot is made up of all odd flouncings, all over embroideries and bands that were 50c to $1.00. You may know that it is a goodly group.

At 50c Regularly $1.00 to $1.50 a yard

Embroidery flouncings in 27-inch and 45-inch widths. All hand loom embroideries, some as sheer as you could wish—and the patterns—they are from our regular stock. All white.

At 75c Regularly $1.50 to $2.50 a yard

A lot made up of embroidery flouncings 27 inches to 45 inches wide and of all over embroideries. Among them are all white and colored embroideries—for dresses, for waists and for underwear. And the beautiful patterns that are here!

At $1.50 Regularly $3.00 to $4.50 a yard

Perhaps the choicest embroideries of the whole sale. 45-inch flouncings—the wonderfully woven, intricately patterned affairs that make into glorious summer dresses, commencement dresses and the like. Swiss and mull are the materials—eyelet and blind patterns, with these are embroidery bands that too were $3.00 to $4.50 a yard.

Linen flouncings 45 inches wide with bands to match—a very remarkable choice of patterns and of colors—choose from light blue, pink, lavender, gray and white.

The Silks

These Are Wash Goods That Women Want Right Now and They are Priced

There are signs of a crowd in the prices! We have been going through the Wash Goods Department with a sharp eye for all stray lots—for, as the best housekeepers know, things will be overlooked, misplaced and forgotten in the best regulated households—and stores.

This is an instance. Also this is an instance of the way Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co. set things aright.

And, since these are the materials women want their summertime dresses, skirts and waists, and since qualities are just what you would expect here at the original prices, you may judge that the setting-aright will be quick.

Luncheon was served on the porches, a number of congenial parties being formed.

Mrs. Harris' New Book

Mrs. Lundy Harris has many friends and admirers who will be interested to learn that, although she expects to make her home in Georgia, she will spend her winters in Nashville. Mrs. Harris has acquired 200 acres of beautiful meadow and forest land in the foothills of the Blue Ridge mountains, sixteen miles from Cartersville. In June she will return with her architect and begin work on the house, and she plans to do all her literary work there in this green cup in the midst of the hills.

Mrs. Harris has just returned from an interesting stay of three weeks in New York and Philadelphia, where she has a host of friends. Her new story, "In Search of a Husband," will run serially in the Saturday Evening Post, beginning this summer. The illustrations will be done by Mr. Foster.

Mr. Lorrimer of the Post regards this story as the best work ever done by Mrs. Harris, and the literary world is looking forward with keen interest to its appearance.

The hero in the story is David Brock and the heroine is Mary Joy Marr, and we can take it on good authority that she is a "nice" girl in spite of her name. There is no villain in the story, but there is a villainess, to throw Mary Joy in strong relief. The scenes are laid in a southern city, but, according to the heroine, "The scenes are laid in my own heart, where every man and every woman is an outrageous egotist."—The Lookout.

Chinese Courtesy to Writers

Editorial ingenuity has been taxed since the earliest days of periodicals to formulate a letter accompanying returned manuscripts which would soften the rejection and explain the feelings of the editor. The contributor will not interpret the words "not available," as might else be objected, in spite of the fact that there is no space for a thousand little reasons that cannot be related with each manuscript in explanation. From the Chinese we can learn much in editorial diplomacy. One letter sent out by a Chinese editor in the language characters of the Celestial Empire has been presented as a prize example, and most impressively tells a story for which the mother tongue of America seems inadequate.

"We have read your manuscript with infinite delight. By the sacred ashes of our ancestors, we swear that we have never read such a splendid piece of writing. But if we printed it, his majesty,

U. S. SUPREME COURT IS NOT IN SESSION

WASHINGTON, May 19.—This was the first Monday in several weeks on which the supreme court was not in session. Because of the large number of cases to be decided, the court had taken a recess to next Monday, May 26.

his share. Then Bobby Coon and Jimmy Skunk hid where they could see all that would happen.

Peter had reached the Smiling Pool and now sat on the bank admiring his own reflection in the water and talking to Jerry Muskrat. He had just told Jerry how when his old name was called out he didn't hear it any more when along came Blacky the Crow.

"Hello, Peter Rabbit! You're just the fellow I am looking for. I've got a very important message for you," shouted Blacky.

Peter kept right on talking with Jerry Muskrat just as if he didn't hear, although he was burning with curiosity to know what the message was.

"I say, Peter Rabbit, are you deaf?" shouted Blacky the Crow.

Jerry Muskrat looked up at Blacky and winked. "Peter Rabbit isn't here," said he. "This is Peter Cottontail."

"Oh," said Blacky. "My message is for Peter Rabbit and it's something he really ought to know. I'm sorry he isn't here. And with that away few Blacky the Crow chuckling to himself.

Peter looked quite as uncomfortable as he felt, but of course he couldn't say a word after boasting that he didn't hear people who called him Peter Rabbit. Pretty soon along came Sammy Jay.

"Oh, Peter Rabbit, I'm so glad I've found you!" he cried. "I've some very important news for you."

"Peter had all he could do to sit still and pretend not to hear, but he did.

"This is Peter Cottontail," said Jerry Muskrat, winking at Sammy Jay.

"Oh," replied Sammy, "my news is for Peter Rabbit!" And off he flew, chuckling to himself.

Peter looked and felt more uncomfortable than ever. He bade Jerry Muskrat good-by and started for the dear old briar patch to think things over. When he was half way there he saw Old Mistah Buzzard came sailing down out of the sky.

"Brer Cottontail," said he, "if you see anything of Brer Rabbit, you tell him that Brer Fox am hiding behind that big bunch of grass just ahead."

Peter stopped short and his heart gave a great leap. There behind the clump of grass was something red sure enough. Peter didn't wait to see more. He started for a hiding place he knew of in the Green Forest as fast as he could go and behind him raced Reddy Fox. As he ran he heard Blacky the Crow and Sammy Jay laughing, and then he knew that this was the news that they had had for him.

"I—guess that Peter Rabbit is a good enough name after all," he panted.

ROAD RECORD NOT BAD; TEAM HIT BALL OFTEN

GRIFFITH'S BUNCH IS VERY YOUNG BUT THEY CERTAINLY MAKE 'EM GO

Tie and Loss With Pelicans In Last Series

In the Nineteen Games, Seven of Which Were Won and Eleven Lost, the Team Made 175 Hits for 95 Runs and Only the Generosity of the Hurlers Enabled the Opposing Clubs in Taking as Many Games as Were Dropped—The Trip Was the Hardest of Year, and From Now On Crackers Are Due to Go Stronger

After a jaunt around the hardest end of the Southern league circuit, the Atlanta ball club is once more at home and Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock open a series with the Memphis Turtles.

On the road trip, which wasn't half as bad as some would make you believe, the team won seven and dropped eleven. This is a fair percentage on the road and brings the bunch back tied with Montgomery for second place with Mobile not so far away.

The most consoling feature of the whole trip was the manner in which the local bunch hit the ball. Time after time big leads were gained only to be lost. Many blame this upon the poor work of the hurlers, but in many instances it was a bobble at a critical moment which paved the way for a defeat. The hurlers were not entirely to blame and the fielders cannot be blamed for a few errors. The team fielding as a whole in excellent shape.

On the trip the team made 175 hits in 19 games and scored 95 runs. Compared to this was 169 hits by the opposition and 105 runs. This explains that the opposing teams made their hits count for more runs than did the Crackers, all of which is easily figured when it is pointed out that the Cracker hurlers were a bit too generous with their bases on balls.

However, an average of 9 hits and 5 runs per game isn't half bad and is bound to tell in the long run. The pitchers are bound to get started in good shape and when they do this hard hitting will win many a ball game in rather easy style.

Since the team left Atlanta three new players—Bisland, Chappelle and Fourchner—have been added, and this bunch will be seen at Ponce de Leon Monday afternoon. Elliott Dent, another hurler, is also on the ground and will be seen in action here within the next two or three days. He comes from the Washington club and if his work in the International league last season is any indication of his caliber he should make Atlanta a mighty good man.

During the two weeks' stay at Ponce de Leon the local team meets Memphis, Mobile, New Orleans and Montgomery. None of these clubs have been seen here this year and fandom will have a chance to get a line on their class. All are especially interested in the strength of the Mobile club, which is now leading the league. In Mobile this bunch took four straight games from Atlanta and for this bunch of defeats the Crackers are out to get revenge during the trip here this week.

Big doings are on tap. On Wednesday the Ad Men will have charge of the park and on Tuesday and Friday of each week the ladies will be in charge. With the team hitting like it now is the fans are sure to give it their undivided support.

TWO OLD SHORTSTOPS ARE FAST NEARING END

Hans Wagner and Bobby Wallace, Two of the Greatest, Have About Served Time in the Major Circuits

Each passing year chants out the swan song of some battle-scarred veteran of the major leagues. The demands of age cannot be ignored; youth will be served and every little while age is being sounded for the retirement of one more diamond hero who has doffed his hat for the last time to the plaudits of thousands.

This year tends one to believe that the death knell of one shortstop at least is dangerously near the sounding point. This time it seems to be that grand player, Rhodie Wallace, of the St. Louis Browns. Then, too, reports from Pittsburgh, though optimistic, still have a tinge of foreboding about them that cannot be ignored. Wagner's knee is good today. How long will it last? The fans ask. For physicians appear to be united in declaring that injuries to one's knee have a disconcerting habit of hobbling up a long time after everything seems to have been covered over about the member.

The fact that two of the greatest shortstops the game has known have both been kept out of the initial contests leads one to persevere the hope that the effort to find what other shortstoppers have held down their respective positions when they have passed from the public eye, together with a little detail about their successors.

Last year appeared Ray Chapman from Toledo. Chapman blazed a lurid trail from one end of the American association to the other with the Mud Hens and it took months of time before he broke into the majors with Cleveland. His work last year, combined with his peppy qualities, proved a sensation.

Before Jack Barry made a name for himself as a member of the Philadelphia Athletics, fans of that town just couldn't forget one Monte Cross. His last year with Connie Mack was one of his best. He and Eddie Collins succeeded him, and then Barry appeared. Since then, almost without a break he has been playing the position, and still is going well.

But to little old New York goes the honor of trying out the banner number of shortstops in a desperate effort to find a worthy successor to Norman Ebberfeld, the famous "Tabasco Kid." Ebberfeld's last good year was 1906. Then it was that his legs, battered and scarred from warring runners off second base, went back on him and he started to decline. He was replaced by the place with Wild Conroy coming back again for a short time in 1908. Then Neal Ball fell heir to the job, being succeeded in turn by Austin Knight, Roach, Foster, Johnson, McMillan, Martin and Stump.

This year finds Chance in as bad a predicament as ever before. With the season only four weeks from the pen, less one already has tried three men. Derrick started and went out because of illness. Sterrett came next, being followed by Hartzell, the present incumbent. How long he will last is as problematical a query as is any dealing with the exact age of the pyramids.

Manager Jennings is well pleased with Donnie Bush, thank you, and none others need any. Right at the present time the shortstop position is the very least of Hughes' worries.

Things in this line are just as quiet and serene in Washington, where George McBride holds out.

Memphis Here For a Series

Atlanta fans will see a real game of baseball this afternoon when the Crackers and the Turtles tie up in their first game on local grounds. The Turtles have played here this season and they will make the Crackers go some to get the first game. The Crackers believe that luck has broken with them and seem to think that the Memphis crowd will be easy going. Paul Musser and Pat Graham will do the batter work for the Crackers, while Kissinger and Seabough will be the outtry for the visitors. There will be several new faces to greet the fans this afternoon.

Chappelle will be seen for the first time in an Atlanta uniform. Of course he has played ball in Atlanta before but not as a member of the local aggregation.

Furthur will also be seen for the first time in local lineup. These men are all good ball players and good fellows and should make good with local fans. The Crackers did not get into the city until late in the afternoon and the game will be started a half an hour later, making it 4 o'clock instead of 3:30. This is to give the players a chance for a short rest before the game starts. This promise to be the best game of the season.

OWN TEAMS FOR GAMES

THOMASVILLE, Ga., May 19.—A unique method of witnessing a game of baseball whenever he feels like it has been devised by a citizen of this section, who is an enthusiast over the great American national game, but is so situated as to be debarred the pleasure of witnessing the regular games. He is a merchant and planter, living some miles in the country below Thomasville, has a large general merchandise store and also a farm upon which he employs a number of hands. These hands he has organized into two ball teams, furnishing at his own expense all the necessary equipment of balls, bats, uniforms, etc., which groups upon which to play the game. Whenever he feels like enjoying a game he goes out and has them play for him and it is said that almost any afternoon the call to "play ball" may be heard. The players are all colored, but they are said to be very fine at the game and as he may be said to virtually own both teams, the gentleman in question acts as referee or a sort of court of last resort in any serious disputes that may come up in the course of a game.

AUBURN AND GEORGIA PLAY ANNUAL GRID GAME HERE

Auburn and Georgia will play their annual football game in Atlanta at Ponce de Leon park on November 22, 1914.

All arrangements for the change in the place of the game have not been definitely closed, but both parties concerned have agreed to the change to Atlanta, and it is quite sure it will be played here. The game was originally scheduled for Auburn, but owing to the inconvenience in reaching this small Alabama city, the lack of accommodations and a few other drawbacks the change was decided upon.

This big clash annually takes place on Thanksgiving day, but this year it is to be played on the Saturday before Thanksgiving so as not to conflict with the Tech-Clemson battle. This makes the game agreeable to all parties concerned, there being no conflicts.

If an official of the Auburn-Georgia football game for this year is changed to Atlanta, said W. R. Tichenor when talking of the transfer.

"However, I won't agree for it to be changed to any other city. It will be Atlanta or Auburn."

"Of course well will agree to play the annual football game with Auburn right here in Atlanta," says Coach W. A. Cunningham, of Georgia. "In fact it is our sincere wish that this change be made and right now it appears quite sure that such will be the case and Atlanta fans will have a chance to see a mighty good gridiron battle."

LOOKOUTS HAVE HIT STRIDE; PITCHERS ARE GOING GOOD

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 19.—A bad beginning makes a good ending in baseball from a financial standpoint at least. The Lookouts this year opened up like the poorest club that has ever represented this historic burg in Kewanee's free-for-all and yet today, although the club is in sixth place, there is greater interest in the grand old game locally than has been evinced since the palmy days of 1903 when the "Noogies" won the Solly league pennant and then deprived the Crackers of the Dixie championship.

Local bugs just at present are firmly convinced that the Lookouts have a good show the batting as any club in the league with the exception of the Gulls and Mobile is allowed but a slight margin. The brand of ball which the Lookouts have put up on their Southern invasion in fact is not the result of a spurt out merely of the beginning of the club to show its real form. When the locals dropped game after game in the spring the local fanatics were always positive that the team was playing under form in view of the hitting and fielding figures and the present play of the Noogies is not considered a flash in the pan. The individual averages of the club warrant the success which the Lookouts have had in their invasion up to date.

The grand form of Coveleskie and Summers is accountable for the improved tone of the locals' play but indirectly Gabby Street is the man to whom the credit is due for the effectiveness of the two star southpaws. After he had worked out with Street two days this spring the Pole remarked that he had a real receiver handling him for the first time since he left Rody Elliott and he predicted the return of his 1910 form just as it has in reality arrived.

The entire club however is going in a consistent style and when "Curly" Elston begins to wield his dormant bludgeon in his mid-season form the ascendancy of the Lookouts will proceed with even greater rapidity.

ERRORS AND HITS THAT WON GAMES

Atlanta played a long-term game yesterday with the Pelicans, the game going eleven innings before the Pelicans finally broke it up in the eleventh with a home run. McIntyre, who was pitching for the Pelicans, played in horse-shoe luck in getting by the big end of the score, the Atlanta boys hitting him freely at all times. "Rebel" Williams' hitting was a feature of the game.

Chicago made it four straight from New York by taking yesterday's battle by the score of 5 to 3. Walsh pitched great ball for the Chicago team, letting the New Yorkers down with three hits.

This is the fourth battle that the Chicago home team has taken for many "care." The game was marked by the scarcity of hits, both sides getting only seven between them.

The sensational pitching of Walter Johnson and the base running of Cobb were the features of the game yesterday between Washington and Detroit. Washington finally getting the big end of the deal by the narrow score of 2 to 1. Defeat seemed to look Johnson in the face several times, but when the game looked as though it would go the other way, he pulled himself together and pitched magnificent ball. Cobb made the only run for the Tigers, sliding under Ainsmith for a run with the ball in the catcher's hand. Cobb only got one hit out of four times up.

Ryan, the center fielder for the Cleveland team, got three hits out of four times at bat yesterday in the game against Philadelphia, but with all that the Philadelphia boys got by the score of 4 to 2. Wyckoff was driven from the mound, but Bender saved the day. Barry, who was pitching for Philadelphia, three runs, he getting two hits out of four times up.

Robertson, right fielder for the Mobile team, hit Foxen, the Birmingham pitcher, for four hits yesterday for as many times at bat, but with all that Mobile lost to the Barons by the score of 4 and 2.

St. Louis yesterday walked away with the Boston team, beating the Bostonians by the big score of 9 to 1. But for a fumble in the final inning, Mitchell and his teammates would have outscored the game. Boston got eight hits, but could not make a run count for anything. The game was slow and unexciting.

There is a big time at Ponce de Leon park Wednesday afternoon for the Ad Men are in charge of the ball game between Atlanta and Memphis and when ever this boosting outfit is found there is sure to be found plenty of action. All members of the club will be in attendance and they are now working overtime to make the going a success.

The park has been turned over to the Ad men for the day and each member has tickets which they are selling fast. The local club is one of Atlanta's best assets and the fans are due their support. Besides seeing a good ball game you will be helping a cause which is well worth the while.

Tie and Loss With Pelicans In Last Series

Crackers Lost an Eleven-Inning Fight and Then Fought Out a Tie—Wildness Proved Fatal—Hard Hitting

NEW ORLEANS, May 19.—Harry McIntyre, pitcher of the Pelicans, tucked out in his game with the Crackers yesterday afternoon, it taking the Pelicans eleven innings to finally down the Crackers, so good were they going. Price was on the mound for the Crackers and pitched good ball until the first part of the ninth when he had one man on base and walked a man. He then voluntarily left the mound and Chappelle took his place, but to no betterment. The game was fast and exciting, in fact, it was one of the best games that has been played on the local diamond.

The hitting of the Crackers was a feature of the game yesterday and for a home run in the eleventh by Rebel Williams the game was easily the property of the Crackers. The score was 3 to 2 when the Pelicans came to bat in their half of the eleventh. Williams started the fireworks by going by knocking one over the fence for four bags. Ansemier walked, McIntyre hit the ball for a double and Atz ended the game by singling, the final score being 6 to 5 in favor of the locals.

The second battle was not eventful, but for the disturbance that was raised because the umpire did not call the game before he did, thereby giving New Orleans a victory by one run that they had made in the second inning. Brady pitched the second game for the Crackers and the opposition, on Benton. The final score was 1 and 1, when the game was called in the seventh so that the two teams might catch their trains.

Match Liable Between Johnson and McCarty

CALGARY, Alberta, May 19.—Tommy Burns last night received a telegram from Ed W. Smith, of Chicago, asking if he could arrange a match between Luther McCarty and Jack Johnson in Calgary. Johnson has asked the United States court for a stay of sixty days, giving as his reason that he is "dead broke" and wants a match to get money to pay his fine. The telegram says that Burns is considering the matter. McCarty is training hard for his match with Pelky on May 24.

TODAY

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 19.—Returning after a successful invasion of the southern half of the circuit, during which they won nine and lost five games, Chattanooga's club, Montgomery this afternoon in the first of a series of seventeen games on the home field.

Weather clear and warm. Batteries: Chattanooga, Sommers and Street; Montgomery, Bagby and Gribbens.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 19.—Birmingham was accompanied home today by Mobile and the visitors in the first game of the series here will make effort to return the defeat given in Mobile last week.

Batteries: Thompson and Mayer for Birmingham; Robertson and Schmidt for Mobile.

Indications are for a big attendance. Weather clear.

NASHVILLE, May 19.—New Orleans made her initial appearance of the season here this afternoon, opening a three-game series with Nashville. The weather is crisp and fair. New Orleans did not arrive till shortly before noon and the battery is not announced. Nashville's battery is expected to be Williams and Noyes.

Crowds Visit New Speedway

Large crowds of people were out Sunday afternoon, inspecting the new motor-drome that is about finished and ready for real use enough big league riding. The track was to have been completed by Saturday afternoon, but the rain of Friday and Saturday prevented any work being done on the structure that will be such a brace to Atlanta's already long list of sports.

Work will be pushed at the greatest possible speed, the professional riders having gotten extremely tired of loafing for such a length of time, as they have been compelled to do while here in Atlanta.

Quite a number of applications from local amateurs have been received and the riding list will be made up at once. The amateur races will be run on the percentage basis, and the rider having the greatest number of points at the end of the season will be given a handsome cup, besides the different prizes that will be given all along during the season. The percentage of the professionals will also be kept so that the best rider will be able to compete in the elimination races to be held on Brighton Beach during the latter part of the season. Things look mighty good for the promoters, and they promise to give Atlanta some of the best motorcycle races that are possible.

Yale Is After Another Win

BOSTON, May 19.—The work of the Yale baseball team with its fifteen straight victories continues the feature of the season among eastern colleges. The team has set a record for consecutive victories in intercollegiate competition, and has an unquestioned lead for the unofficial championship.

Brown, regarded as Yale's most serious contender for championship honors, will meet the Blue again this week. A close contest is expected with Brown trying to retrieve a previous defeat.

Aside from the Yale-Brown game, probably the most important game of the week is that at Philadelphia today, where Harvard and Pennsylvania will play their contest postponed from Saturday.

Again Lois Wins.

DOUGLASVILLE, Ga., May 19.—The Lois baseball club won from the Fuller team of Villa Rica here Saturday afternoon by a score of 10 to 5. The game was very exciting until the seventh, when the Lois boys decided to put Robinson out of business. The Villa Rica pitcher was hit all over the park. The Lois boys have as good a team as their is.

ROLAND GETS INTO THE GAME

BY FARREN

THE SPORTLIGHT BY GRANTLAND RICE

CONCERNING JOHNSON'S SPEED.

"How fast is Walter Johnson, Pa. That people call him speedy? Is he as fast as Mercury, Or is the dope all seedy? Is he as fast as wind or light, Or say, a rifle bullet? If you've the answer, put me next, Get busy, Pop, and pull it."

"The wind is there, my bonny boy, There's nothing to it, sonny; The bullet also pikes along In time to get the money; But when it comes to cold, raw speed— The brand that doesn't sag, This Johnson's got 'em dancing to The old Pullbearer's Rag."

There have been threatening uprisings by Philadelphia, St. Louis, Cincinnati, etc., for several seasons. But they all succumbed to the Force of Habit after a brief parley. This, however, may be the season in which one of the Worms is due to turn. There has been enough trodding, Allah knows, to produce the first essence of a wiggle any way.

Brooklyn and Philadelphia, for example, are now up there through no freak sport. They are there because they have been outplaying every rival handily. The Phillies have shown the best pitching in either league and they are likely to show it quite a way yet. Brooklyn is playing regular baseball—and if either or both crack it will be, as suggested, from the force of habit—not through any weakness in playing strength.

THE LATEST ANSWER.

Those who still insist that "they never come back" are requested to take a brief squint in the direction of Cy Falkenberg, the Cleveland pitcher. Cy not only left and returned—but in returning came back with an enlarged repertoire and a heavier portfolio than he ever had at the time of his supposed prime. Two years ago he looked to be waning fast. When he was cut adrift no one expected to look upon his spiral frame again. And today he stands as the closest rival in the American league to Walter Johnson with the finest pitching on display Cleveland has seen since the reign of Addie Joss.

BUNKERS AS IS BUNKERS.

A number of golfers have suggested to us that the African course, trapped by lions, leopards, boa constrictors and such is a joke in the way of unkempt hazards compared to the National course. "I'd rather pitch a mashie shot over a charging lion any day," writes one, "than to try and carry some of those traps and bunkers at Shinnecock Hills."

Which recalls a problem of considerable note—When one, playing this African course, is swallowed by a python, what club does one use to play out with—a niblick or a putter?

We'll never be satisfied until we see a match of some sort between Hans Wagner and Walter J. Travis. Isn't there some natural game at which this pair can fight out the Longevity Championship?

Captain Ritson, of the English polo team, says that the Americans will probably win. Captain Doust, of the visiting tennis team, advances the same thought. The idea is correctly framed. In case the worst comes to the worst there's nothing like having the alibi in advance.

We like this system much better than loud outcries forecasting victory or a "fench for the pennant." There is time enough for jubilant language after one has finished in front of the field.

MOTORCYCLING IS POPULAR; NOW HAS MEMBERSHIP OF 20,000

Five Years Ago the Membership Was Only 1,000, and Now It Is Twenty Times This Number

NEW YORK, May 19.—Springing from a membership of a little more than 1,000 five years ago, the Federation of American Motorcyclists today has close to 20,000 members.

These figures show something of the growth of motorcycling in the United States. And these figures, particularly in the last two or three years, offer some suggestion of the great interest in motorcycling today.

The Federation of American Motorcyclists is the A. A. A. of the motorcycle world. It was "born" in the rooms of the Alpha Motorcyclist club, in Brooklyn, N. Y., September 7, 1907. The call for the first meeting was responded to by forty-four men, who became charter members of the F. A. M. C. Its first president was R. G. Betts, of New York.

The first annual meeting was held July 8, 1908, and at the time the organization boasted 192 members. The next annual meeting was held August 9, 1909, when there were 520 members. June 23, 1910, the membership was 822, and one year later, June 17, 1911, the membership had passed 1,000—standing then at 1,168. At the annual meeting, June 30, 1912, the membership had increased to 1,622.

Thus, in the five years from the date of its organization, the F. A. M. C. had grown slowly up to a membership of a little more than 1,000.

At the next annual meeting of the F. A. M. C., held August 1, 1913, the membership had almost doubled. It had reached 2,530. It almost doubled again in the next year, being 4,552 August 18, 1914. In the following year it more than doubled, reaching 9,664 on July 9, 1915. And, despite the greater number of members, the membership had almost doubled again at the time of the next annual meeting, July 1, 1912. Then it was 16,250.

On December 16, 1912, membership card No. 19,320 was issued, showing a gain of more than 3,000 members since July, 1912.

Dr. B. J. Patterson, who was elected president of the F. A. M. C. last July, His predecessors have set "doubling" records for him, and he expects to keep it up. Fred I. Willis, of Indianapolis, was president for the two years when the F. A. M. C. began "doubling." He took the reins in August, 1909, when the membership was 2,580. During his first year the membership increased to 4,652. During his second year it became 9,664.

G. H. Hamilton, of Milwaukee, was president from July, 1911, to July, 1912, which time the membership increased from 9,664 to 16,250.

The F. A. M. C. governs the sport of motorcycling racing, its competition chairman being D. J. P. Thornley, of New York. It promotes and protects the rights of motorcyclists and motorcycling, and facilitates touring through a newly established touring bureau.

Fist Battle In Chicago

CHICAGO, May 19.—Automobile houses picked up several hundred men in the downtown district yesterday afternoon and carried them to a secluded spot on the banks of the Desplaines river, where they saw Phil Harrison, champion of the Ghetto, knock out Eddie Nearing, of the Reliance Athletic club, in four rounds. The audience watched the battle in silence, the referee announcing that if there was any cheering the authorities would discover them and spoil the game.

HARRY WHITNEY CAPTAINS THE AMERICAN POLO TEAM

More than 40,000 persons will see Harry Whitney, son of the late millionaire and politician who made Grover Cleveland the Democratic candidate for president in 1892—lead the American polo team against the British on the field of Meadow Brook, L. I., June 10. That is, they will see him if he doesn't break his neck in practice meantime. Polo is a millionaire's game and very dangerous game. First, it takes $100,000 worth of ponies to play an international match. As many more ponies are

BETTER TO DIE ROOTING THAN NOT TO SEE GAMES

NEW YORK, May 19.—Cheer up, fans! We have a little message of hope and sunshine today for all the good bleachers who have been in despair over the great Dr. Sargent, of Harvard, and his body blow at baseball. The message of hope is needed, too, because some of the things Dr. Sargent said would surely happen to fans were too terrible to disregard. Lots and lots of rooters have remained in bed these sunny afternoons, besides the temptation that would bring them to witness the game and hasten their doom. Still other care-free hedonists went just the same, though with the feeling that if they must die it was as well to die yowling for the Giants as whispering to the doctor.

The fine medical phraseology, which is another language like baseball talk and quite as mystifying to the outsider, Dr. Sargent declared that watching a baseball game made a man highly nervous and excited. It wrought up his nervous tension to a perilous attitude, and after keying him up until he was tingling the onery cussed game didn't provide a single "motor outlet" for all the energy.

And there was the rub, according to the medico. The "motor outlet" was not provided. Consequently this pent-up energy led to excesses and even immorality, besides injuring the health of the fan. If the poor fellow could only get a chance to toss a ball a few times or do something outside or sit and look on when everything was right for the working off of a big chunk of surplus energy, why, things would be different. But as the case stood there was no hope for the fan. His days were surely numbered and he might trace every ailment he possessed back to the wicked national game.

Pretty tough situation, wasn't it? Lots of fans wanted the straight dope. What was there in the "no motor outlet" theory?

One after another big nerve specialists were called on and the facts presented. And what do you think? They all laughed! And they laughed big, healthy laughs, too. IS GOOD THEORY. And afterward, becoming serious, they said that there was something to the theory, if it was true there was no motor outlet; but on looking the situation over carefully they concluded that the amount of rooting, shouting and pounding on the back which fans indulge in when the emotions are highest provided

3 Days' Meet Of Hunt Club

NEW YORK, May 17.—Entry blanks have been issued for the three days' meeting of the Washington Riding and Hunt club, which will be held at the Benning course under a sanction of the Hunt committee of the National Steeplechase and Hunt association. The three races days will be Thursday, May 22; Saturday, May 24, and Monday, May 26.

The stewards of the meeting will be L. M. Garrison, secretary of war; General Leonard Wood, William P. Eno, Colonel R. M. Thompson, Colonel H. T. Allen, Samuel Ross, Henry J. Morris and Charles K. Harrison, Jr.

The events for the first day will be the initial Washington remount steeplechase, Metropolitan club steeplechase, polo scramble, Chevy Chase cup, national capital and the Middleburg and Washington subscription race.

On the second day of the service test, a test to consist of three courses, a total of seventeen miles—twelve miles to be over roads, three miles across country and two miles over a steeplechase course, horses to carry a minimum of 150 pounds and saddles allowed—will be held.

The Washington branch of the National Remount association will present a cup to the owner of the winner, and trophies will be given to the riders of the three placed horses. The other events will be the Benning, Henry of Navarre steeplechase, Rock Creek cup, Stephen B. Elkins' cup, army and navy cup, Washington Riding and Hunt club cup.

RITCHIE IS FLUKE CHAMP

Willie Ritchie, a title holder by virtue of a fluke foul, is out with a statement to the effect that Leach Cross is his most logical opponent. Ritchie's claim to the title is as strong as the argument he now advances as to the man he will fight in his first contest as champion.

This champion has had three twenty-round contests. In two he was whipped. Freddie Welsh gained a verdict over him and Matty Baldwin also earned the honors. On his third attempt to go twenty rounds he won his title from Wolgast after he had been beaten to a pulp by the Cadillac bearcat and was given the decision over Wolgast on a foul.

"I will fight Welsh for a guarantee of $15,000," says a generous natured Ritchie and he picks his opponent for this amount. He absolutely ignores the challenge of Jack Britton, who defeated Baldwin and made Leach Cross look like the merest novice. "What an over the top champion the Queensberry realm has in Ritchie."

The fans will demand that he will meet Britton and when the time comes, Britton will prove to all the world that Ritchie is a fluke title holder.

surplus energy during the game if he is excited at all."

Many other physicians were consulted. Some of them didn't like to enter into a controversy with the great Dr. Sargent, but—all laughed.

SWINGS CLUBS 107 HOURS AND THEN WAS DELIRIOUS

LONDON, May 19.—Mr. Tom Burrows, the Australian athlete after a fine exhibition in the Wellington Limes gymnasium, Aldershot, of club swinging lasting 107 hours, suddenly collapsed and the large assembly the dramatic finish came at 5 o'clock. A few minutes before that hour Burrows suddenly roused himself, and developed great irritability. An attendant sprinkled some water on him, and this he seemed to dislike and became delirious. He struck out at a friend on the platform. The clubs were seized, but Burrows broke away, and, turning round, dealt a quartermaster a severe blow on the forehead. For four days and nights he had had no sleep and had been continuously swinging his thirty-one-pound, six ounce clubs at eighty revolutions to the minute. He had set himself the task of swinging clubs for 100 hours and had accomplished this, but hearing an unauthenticated report that some one in Australia had established a record of 112 hours he resolved to go on. In the early hours of the last morning Burrows exhibited signs of drowsiness, and it was with some difficulty he kept swinging. A continuous rattle of drums and musical selections by regimental bands helped considerably to brighten him, and he occasionally seemed to be entirely re-invigorated. At 2 a. m. he gave a series of ornamental exhibitions. From that period he fought bravely against sleep, but in spite of cornet and posthorn solos in his ears and the continuous cheering by head. Burrows fought out in a frenzied manner, and, falling off the platform into the arms of the officials, gradually sank to the floor. In a few minutes he was sound asleep. He was allowed to remain so for an hour and was then taken home in a taxicab. He fell asleep immediately, and was asleep for twenty-eight hours.

Sheridan Sure He Is Through

NEW YORK, May 19.—Martin Sheridan, the former discus throwing champion of the world and holder of the world's record for the "all around," declares that he will never be seen in competition again. Sheridan's statement was made in answer to a direct question put to him because of the fact that a report had been freely circulated to the effect that Martin would back out of this summer and take part in all of the championship discus events. "You can state positively for me," said the big policeman, "that I am through with competition for good. I would like to take part in the games as I used to, but I find that it interferes with my job, so I have decided to cut it out."

Sheridan was asked then whether he could go back into competition and duplicate the performances that made him famous. "I don't think there's a doubt about it," snapped Martin. "At the present time I weigh just 209 pounds."

FOUR KILLED WHEN A TRAIN HITS AUTO

Three Women and One Man Meet Death—Another Is Seriously Hurt

(By Associated Press.)
WARREN, Ohio, May 19.—Three women and one man are dead and another man seriously injured as a result of a Baltimore and Ohio express train striking the automobile in which the party rode at Leavittsburg, Ohio, late Sunday afternoon. Four of the occupants were carried for 200 yards on the pilot of the engine.

The dead are:
MRS. HENRY TURNER, seventy-five.
MRS. FRANK HOUSEL, forty.
MRS. WARD TURNER, forty.
WARD TURNER.

Frank Howard was removed to his home seriously injured. Frank House, the sixth member of the party, jumped just before the collision occurred. All of the party were residents of Warren.

Mr. Turner, who was driving the automobile, failed to see the train approaching until within 100 yards of the crossing. When he attempted to apply the brakes he stopped the engine and the machine coasted on the track in front of the train.

REFERENDUM ASKED ON JAP BILL IN CALIFORNIA

pressed the belief that "the situation created thereby is more dangerous than it was on any previous occasion. The Times, commenting editorially, says:

"The ultimate point in the dispute does not affect America alone, but is essentially a world question. There should be plenty of room for the surplus millions of Japan and China in the undeveloped Asiatic territories for many decades to come.

"But California offers a quicker pathway to affluence for the ambitious Asiatics; therefore the fears of the Californians, thought to be exaggerated and premature, are not entirely groundless, and a useful purpose will be served by blunt condemnation of the tendencies of public opinion in the western states.

"Whatever may be the issue of the present dispute, it is a question of magnitude for the white races in the future. Until the situation becomes more strained we prefer to believe that some middle course of settlement will be found.

"While Japan is fully warranted in standing on her treaty rights, she will do well to remember that a claim to enter a neighbor's garden is not the kind of a claim that can be pressed with unrestricted indignation, however strong its documentary support may be."

PRESBYTERIANS INVITED TO VISIT NEGRO SCHOOL

Rev. A. F. Owens, of Tuskegee institute, Alabama, was invited by the Associate Reformed Presbyterians Monday morning to extend the invitation of Booker T. Washington to visit his great institution for negroes.

After an address by him, the assembly unanimously adopted the following resolution:

"Resolved, That we have received with pleasure the cordial invitation extended to us to visit Tuskegee institute, that we commend the acceptance of the invitation to any of our number whose circumstances may enable them to do so, and that we express our deep interest in the work of the institute."

SUFFRAGETTES HIRE FIREBUGS IN LONDON

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, May 19.—Confirmation of the hint that militant suffragettes were hiring women of the lower class as members of their "arson squads," was received this morning when Nellie Robinson was arrested outside the famous new college chapel at Hemptstead.

The woman described herself as a servant and said she was awaiting the arrival of two suffragettes under whose direction she was going to fire the church.

The police magistrate remarked that she "seemed to be in course of training as a professional petroleum incendiary under miscreants worse than herself."

KERN'S RESOLUTION MAY BRING ON MINE PROBE

Senate Wrangles Over Investigation in West Virginia Mine District

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 19.—Senator Kern's resolution to investigate conditions in the West Virginia coal strike region was again the unfinished business when the senate met today. A vote was expected before adjournment.

Sensors opposing the inquiry resolution in its present form planned today to have it referred to the labor committee to determine whether an investigation should be conducted. Should it develop that the resolution could not pass as it now stands, its proponents probably would propose that it be referred to the same committee, directing, however, that a subcommittee of three conduct an inquiry. If this were done, Senator Borah, who introduced the original resolution in the last congress, would be appointed chairman of the subcommittee.

BURNS' INVESTIGATOR OUTLINES HIS THEORY OF PHAGAN MURDER

Mr. Felder again urges the people to support the Burns fund. "If the people want to see this mystery solved the Burns people will do the work," he said. "And we must ask the support of the people. If they respond to the appeal for funds, William J. Burns himself will come here at the earliest possible moment, if Mr. Tobie has not found the evidence to convict the murderer before he arrives from Europe."

The Burns man has no criticism of anything that has been done in working the case, and says that the unworked features to which he is devoting his attention, were overlooked probably because the officials were thrown off the track by the many false rumors and clues, which presented themselves soon after the crime was discovered.

CONFERS WITH SOLICITOR.

The Burns agent has already had a lengthy conference with the solicitor general, who gave him considerable information on the investigation.

Mr. Dorsey, he said, "informs me that I am to be accorded just the same treatment given other detectives on the case, and in this he assumes a very proper attitude. We want to do our work from the ground up, and it is only proper that we should."

Solicitor General Dorsey on Monday was in conference for some time with Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford, and during the morning he interviewed several witnesses in the case. While Mr. Dorsey is said to be preparing to submit the testimony in the case to the grand jury in the briefest form possible not to injure the case, it will probably take that body more than a day to dispose of the matter.

NOT A NEW ARREST.

James Connolly, the negro sweeper at the National Pencil factory, who was arrested two weeks ago, when found washing a shirt in the factory, has never been released. The police are detaining him because of their belief that he, like Newt Lee, knows more about the murder of Mary Phagan than he has told the officers.

Connolly, who has been sweating regularly by the officers, was given the handwriting test on Sunday. He wrote from dictation the words on the notes found by Mary Phagan's body, and his writing will be placed in the hands of the solicitor general to be compared by his experts with the original.

Connolly's wife, who is not in custody, was recently summoned to headquarters, where she stoutly defended her husband.

Connolly claims absolute ignorance of the crime.

Suspicion was first directed against him two weeks ago, when he was seen washing a shirt, which was thought to be bloodstained.

When questioned about his action he told the police the very plausible story that he was simply washing his only shirt because he desired to "clean-up" in honor of the inquest, before which he had been ordered to appear that afternoon.

Connolly has never been seriously considered as a suspect.

Leo M. Frank, superintendent of the National Pencil factory, who was held by the coroner's jury, was visited by more than a score of friends Sunday, many of whom remained several hours. Frank has adapted himself to the routine of the prison and his health and spirits remain good.

DR. WHITE ASKS PROBE OF BAPTIST BUSINESS

Atlanta Pastor Springs Sensation in Convention—Wants Methods Probed

(By REV. ALEX W. BEALER.)
ST. LOUIS, May 19.—The sensation of the hour in the southern Baptist convention was the resolution of Dr. John E. White, of Atlanta, to appoint a special commission to make a general investigation of the business methods of the body.

The brethren all realize that there is more in the resolution than is expressed on the surface. No wrong doing is charged to anyone, and indeed there is none, but the trouble has been that the machinery of the convention is too antiquated for its present enterprises, in which more than $2,000,000 a year is being expended.

There has unconsciously grown up a rivalry between the foreign mission board, with headquarters in Richmond, and the home mission board, with headquarters in Atlanta. This has led, in the opinion of many brethren, to the employment of too many secretaries.

The movement to raise a fund of a million and a half dollars to build churches and schools in foreign lands, to commemorate the memory of Judson, necessitated the employment of a special secretary. This was followed up by the home board employing a special man to look after the campaign to raise a million dollars as a church extension fund.

The delegates are heartily in favor of both these movements, but the rivalry created between the two boards by these and other movements is creating a foreign board it also resulted in high pressure methods and an overlapping of appeals which is often embarrassing to the local pastors. Our purpose of the commission is to do away with this rivalry and to bring the two boards into perfect harmony.

Under the machinery adopted sixty-eight years ago the charge is made that the annual meetings are not as representative as they should be. They now amount to little more than a satisfaction of what the boards have done during the year.

The average member feels a delicacy in speaking from the floor, and to some it is an act amounting almost to treason to object to the plans that are printed by the leaders to the convention.

The idea is for the commission to bring the convention back to the point where it will be more democratic in its methods.

The commission as appointed is composed of men of such characters that nothing rash will be done. Its report will be watched for with great interest. The commission consists of E. C. Doran, of Macon, Ga.; John E. White, of Atlanta; J. B. Gambrell, of Texas; W. W. Lasdram, of Kentucky; William Ellyson, of Richmond; G. C. Savage, of Nashville; C. P. Senter, of Missouri; R. J. Willingham, secretary of the foreign mission board; B. D. Gray, of the home mission board; J. M. Frost, of the Sunday school board, and E. Y. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist theological seminary. The convention adjourns this afternoon, to meet next year in Nashville.

CATACORNERED CAR BLOCKS STREET TRAFFIC

For more than half an hour Monday afternoon all of the cars that pass either on Mitchell or South Pryor streets were halted by a peculiar accident to pay-as-you-enter car 300, which was en route to Inman Park from Grant park.

The front truck of this car passed the switch on Pryor and Mitchell streets in a perfectly normal manner, but the switch in some way was changed by the time the rear trucks struck it. As a result the trolley was thrown diagonally across the corner, blocking cars in four directions.

The accident occurred at about 1:30 o'clock.

Elyson, of Richmond; G. C. Savage, of Nashville; C. P. Senter, of Missouri; R. J. Willingham, secretary of the foreign mission board; B. D. Gray, of the home mission board; J. M. Frost, of the Sunday school board, and E. Y. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist theological seminary. The convention adjourns this afternoon, to meet next year in Nashville.

"First Class"

That's How You Travel When You Ride in a Chalmers Car

Thousands and thousands of people every day pay extra money to travel "first class" on ships and trains. "First class" means that you have the roomiest and most comfortable berth, or that you ride in the strongest and smoothest running train. A "first class" ticket also means that every precaution has been taken for your safe delivery at your destination.

You travel "first class" when you ride in your Chalmers.

You can buy a cheaper car than the Chalmers. But it won't have the features of comfort, beauty, convenience, and mechanical excellence which make the Chalmers "first class."

The "first class" Chalmers has big, roomy bodies with Turkish cushions and 11-inch upholstery. It has extra large wheels and tires. It has a smooth running, powerful long stroke motor. It has a four-forward speed transmission with ground gears of the finest steel. It has axles of nickel steel, and brakes twenty-five times as large in proportion to weight as those of a locomotive. It has all controls centered on the cowl dash. It is fully equipped.

These are the things you cannot get below the Chalmers price. These are the features which make the Chalmers "first class." You may "save" $300 to $500 on the original purchase price of your car, but you will lose many times that amount by missing the satisfactory service, the comfort, the convenience, the pride of ownership, which you get in a Chalmers.

It is a genuine quality car at a medium price. It costs less to travel in the "first class" Chalmers than in any other car approaching it in quality.

TRUSTS' PRODUCTS MAY BE PUT ON FREE LIST

Senator Kenyon Asks Amendment to Tariff Bill Free Listing All Trust Products

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 19.—An amendment to the tariff bill introduced today by Senator Kenyon proposed that when any corporation or concern was adjudged a monopoly, its products should automatically go on the free list. Mr. Kenyon has hope that the finance committee may favorably consider the amendment, but, if not, he will press it on the floor. The proposal has almost unlimited possibilities for overturning schedules.

The question of whether products of concerns reorganized since the supreme court held them to be monopolies might still be under monopolistic control also would enter into the application of the law should the Kenyon amendment be incorporated.

Subcommittees of the finance committee plan to meet every day this week to consider the wool, cotton, sugar and chemical schedules of the tariff bill. On all these manufacturers are here pleading to be heard against the rates of the Underwood bill.

Chairman Simmons has called a meeting of the entire finance committee for tomorrow. A set of questions to manufacturers proposed by Senator LaFollette are to be sent out.

time back, on account of the new salary system going into effect, but since the supreme court ruling, he was put back to his old position as one of the inside jailers. He, too, denies any mutiny, or that anything was thrown out into the corridors.

WAYCROSS, Ga., May 19.—Early this afternoon, a posse of Liberty and Wayne county people will enter the Altamaha river swamp to get the negro desperado, Austin, wanted in South Carolina for assaulting a white woman and killing two men.

The hiding place of Austin was disclosed by a negro who has been feeding him. A through Atlantic Coast Line train was stopped at Ludowici for the Jesup posse and there will be hundreds in the man trail this afternoon.

While Austin is wanted in South Carolina the murderer is wanted for many causes. The Georgians will deal with him promptly if he is caught, it is believed.

General Barry is known well in Atlanta, having made many friends here several years ago in connection with his work in the gulf department. The shortness of his stay was regretted by many who would like to greet him once more.
