

A CHILD'S LAXATIVE IS "SYRUP OF FIGS"

Made from fruit—Can't harm tender stomach, liver and bowels

When your child suffers from a cold don't wait, give the little stomach, liver and bowels a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. "Syrup of Figs" is a pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, give a teaspoonful of "Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and mucus will be washed out of the bowels, and you have a well-playful child again.

If your child coughs, sneezes and has a cold, give a few feversish and has a sore throat give a good dose of "California Syrup of Figs," to evacuate the bowels and give relief.

As a cold remedy, a few bottles of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children or adults, are to be had at the drug stores on the beaten. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Pure Syrup Company." (Advt.)

To Put On Flesh And Increase Weight

A Physician's Advice

Most thin people eat from four to six pounds of good meat, fat-meat, food every day and still do not increase in weight, come while on the other hand, those who eat only two or three pounds of meat and keep gaining all the time. It is but old to say that is the nature of the individual. It isn't Nature's fault.

Those folks stay this because their powers of assimilation are defective. They cannot digest the food they eat and maintain life and a semblance of health and strength. Walking and taking a walk, they may do, but it is not enough and keep gaining all the time. It is but old to say that is the nature of the individual. It isn't Nature's fault.

For such a condition, I always recommend eating a barrel of ham with every meal. It is the best food, the easiest to digest, but is a scientific combination of six of the most important elements of the human body, known to chemistry. It is absolutely harmless, yet works most effectually and single-handed with each meal, has the effect of increasing the weight of a man or woman from 10 to 20 pounds. It is sold by Jacobs Pharmacy and other good drug stores. It is a good investment, as it gives of weight increase in money back. (Advt.)

DRINK MORE WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat Less Meat and take Salts for Backache or Bladder trouble

Urse acid in most excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish, aches, and feel like lump of lead. The urine becomes dark, the skin becomes irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the day. If you drink more water, you may help them clean off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person. As you get older, the acid in the kidneys in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue contains a bitter taste, and you feel like the weather is bad.

Take a glass of plain water, also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Salt Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water, drink it at a time a day, and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juices, contains no salt, and has been used for generations to clear clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. As you drink more water in your urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Salt Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent drink, and a delicious taste. You should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Drugs are not the best, but far better to take, who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble. (Advt.)

Red and Inflamed. Suffered Untold Misery. Scratches Until They Bleed. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In Three Weeks Healed.

R. F. D. No. 1, Box 87, Wagoner, S. C.—"About a year ago my neck broke out. Little red pimples, at first the heat was so bad, I didn't believe finally the skin around the pimples became red and inflamed. I applied Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I suffered untold misery. I scratched them until they bled and I suffered until the skin became red and inflamed. I tried remedies without results until I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I applied them right and made a paste of the soap and ointment and applied it to the skin. It has been ten months since then and no sign has shown since." (Signed) Miss Bertha Poole, October 10, 1914.

BANK OF ENGLAND NOW HAS ABOUT $345,000,000 Nearly One Third Supplied by America to Make Exchanges

By Associated Press
LONDON, Jan. 29.—Sir Edward H. Holden, managing director of the London and Midland Bank, told the House of Commons yesterday that the Bank of England at present holds about $45,000,000, of which about $100,000,000 has been supplied by America in order to meet the exchange.

Discussing Germany's financial mobilization, Sir Edward said that it undoubtedly will fall out to a much greater extent than imports, and the adverse balance of trade will probably be increased. Human efforts are being made to increase the gold reserve in the Reichsbank, but so far, as far as week number banks of the National Currency Association of Georgia have made applications to have their gold sent to America, the amounts aggregating about a million dollars. The meeting of the executive committee of the National Currency Association last Friday morning, gave most of its time to a consideration of these applications. The principal attention of the committee was given to applications for gold.

KNIGHTS OF KHORASSAN GIVE GRAND CEREMONIAL

Twenty-Five Tyros Are Led Across the Burning
Sands by Regulars

The regular winter ceremonial of Knights of Khorassan, which was held Wednesday night at Python castle hall in the Kiser building, was the most successful in the history of the temple.

After only the 400 members of the temple, including 75 or 100 members from out of the city, were present, and the Knights of Khorassan took a prominent part in the ceremonial.

Several innovations in the ceremony were made, the team of the temple for the first time, and the new officers were warmly congratulated on the success with which these and every other detail of the ceremonial were accomplished.

W. H. Henton, for seventeen years a Knight, and many a ceremonial in Kith and kin, has insisted that twelve years ago, stated that he has seen more than 1,000 Knights in the temple, and that he has not been disappointed.

Twenty-five tyros were cased with the sword and led across the temple into the realm of initiation.

FIRE IN COTTON STEAMER QUENCHED AFTER FIGHT

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK.—A fire which started in the hold of the steamship Preston soon after she left her pier at 4:30 a. m. Saturday morning, and spread to Swedish ports, caused Captain Fehr to turn back and the vessel was beached on a small island in the Bay. After several hours of the greatest difficulty by fire and police, the fire was under control.

The cargo consisted of cotton, oil and cotton. The fire was confined to the forward hold containing cotton.

Spring Pageant Shortly Before Final Exercises Will Be Open to All

Nobody will see the senior class of the Girls' High school graduate this year unless they are especially invited, since for the first time in the history of the institution the emphasis is to be charged to the commencement exercises and they will be more or less private. The girls will be given a chance to be given a chance not only to see the "sweet girl graduates," but the majority of the students will be invited to the spring pageant which will be held at the auditorium shortly before the commencement.

This was the plan submitted to the board of education by Miss Jessie Muse, principal of Girls' High school, Miss Anna Wiles, principal of the King-Lish-Commercial High school, Thursday afternoon. It was approved by the board.

It was decided to hold the pageant in which over 1,000 students of the two schools will participate at the auditorium on April 18. A small admittance fee will be charged. On June 1, the commencement exercises will be conducted in Taff hall, and only those will be admitted to the hall who have been invited by special card.

In years past the graduating exercises have often been marred by trouble over tickets. There is always a great crowd eager to see the exercises

LANFORD TO CONTINUE HEAD OF CITY PRISON

T. B. Lanford, who recently resigned as head of the city prison for another term Thursday afternoon by the prison committee of council, Jonh Tye, assistant superintendent, had been an active candidate for the position for a month. While the election must be ratified by council, that action is generally a matter of form when there is no contest.

This will be Lanford's sixth term in the position.

He was re-elected assistant superintendent, but the appointment of all other subordinates was left to the superintendent.

In nominating Lanford, Alderman J. W. Armistead paid a tribute to the efficient manner in which the stockade

500 IDLE MEN TO GET JOBS BACK IN MARIETTA

Two Chair Companies Will Resume Operation on Full Time Monday

Over 500 men who have been thrown out of work since early last fall will start their job back again in Marietta Monday morning and begin working in full time.

They are employees of the Marietta Chair company and the Brumby Chair company, the largest manufacturers of seating plants in the state. About three months ago conditions forced the factories to shut down, but the recent recovery of trade made it possible for the managers to convince the managers that they will be justified in reopening permanently.

In addition to friends and the families of the graduates, and by having the two societies, the Alpha Kappa Alpha and the Delta Sigma Theta, the Alpha Kappa Alpha will have to the auditorium that invariably results. The auditorium will be open to the public, and the girls will be invited to see the exercises and who will be equally satisfied to see them in the form of the pageant. So when the young ladies come to the dinner and the exercises at Taff hall there will not be such a demand for admittance and only those who are admitted to view the graduation will be allowed in the hall.

The theater as it is now operated, with its present ideals, must be destroyed before we can improve the conditions. Captain T. M. G. Guthrie is an address before the Atlanta Drama League Thursday afternoon at the Georgia Terrace.

"We have learned that sound is not

Men Pay Homage to Mother's Friend

"I was not surprised to observe the number of men who come into the store to purchase 'Mother's Friend' perfume," said a leading druggist.

"It is a happy thought to buy 'Mother's Friend' perfume, and externally over the abdominal muscles, which are so easily irritated, sooths the fine network of nerves beneath the skin, and tends to relieve the muscular strain to which these broad, fat abdominal muscles are subject, and permits of stretching without the corresponding strain of expiration. This part becomes fat, and the entire abdomen, in many cases reported, thickens, causing irritation and other distresses, and the irritation of the abdominal muscles so often the case with this gentle perfume."

"Mother's Friend" has been highly recommended by a host of women who know from experience what it means to know from observation. Write Bradford, Atlanta, Ga., and we will send you a valuable little book to expect mothers.

J. Ha. Bickerstaff, a brick manufacturer of 617 Edgewood avenue, slapped the face of a man who had been in his office in a fight the men had on the seventh floor of the court house Thursday afternoon.

ment. The men are Thomas Moore, Judge Luther Z. Rosser, Jr., in the municipal court on a warrant against

Moore, and Bickerstaff, who came the night before. Bowles then took a peace warrant against Bickerstaff.

Glandular Tuberculosis has yielded to Dr. Joseph B. White's treatment. After a year of suffering and other remedies failed, he was given a chance to try Dr. White's treatment.

337 Laurier St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Gentlemen--In March, 1909, my doctor referred me to Dr. Joseph B. White and a number of operations in a hospital failed to benefit me. In the meantime a friend recommended Dr. Joseph B. White.

The wounds in my neck were still open as a result of the operations.

After using two bottles I found I was improved and my appetite was good and I was able to sleep. I continued using it until the end of the year and I was able to go to work, and since that time have not had one attack. I am now in full health and I am now using Dr. Joseph B. White's treatment.

Sounds like spring, so many new plants springing up.

We have heard before of congress overriding the president, or at least we have heard intimations that congress might do such a thing. It has usually ended, however, by the president swaying congress.

Talking Across the Continent.

"Hello, Mr. Watson, are you there?"

It was Alexander Graham Bell who was speaking, the inventor of the telephone. He was seated at a desk in New York and was questioning a friend in San Francisco, three thousand five hundred miles away. His eyes shone as he caught the response.

"Fine, fine!" he continued. "I hear your voice as distinctly as though you were in a room adjoining this office. Oh yes! I certainly do remember the day, back in 1875, when you and I talked over two wires of wire, and thought it was a marvelous thing.
Here we are now talking across the continent."

The ocean-to-ocean telephone line inaugurated this week is a distinctive triumph in an age crowded with scientific achievement. Heretofore the longest distance over which the telephoning was altogether satisfactory was from New York to Denver; and thousands of men now living remember how crude and hastily were the earlier results from this instrument.
Indeed, it was less than forty years ago that Prof.
Bell patented his invention; and at the Centennial Exposition of 1876 it was exhibited as a curiosity.
Today it is as commonplace as a clock, yet as wonderful within a globe.

There is no reckoning what the telephone has done for business, or its daily, hourly service in human affairs. It has given man a sixth sense. With a vital cord, it links homes, and neighborhoods and cities and States and nations. A word is spoken on the shore of the Atlantic, and is heard all but in stantly at the Golden Gate.

Kitchener's declaration that the war will begin in May is not intended as a picnic declaration.

Well, there is comfort in this period of the high cost of living. The cable rates to Honolulu have been reduced.

Mexico's Phantom Presidents.

Mexico's eight "Presidents," since old Diaz fled, have been likened to the eight phantom kings that appeared to Macbeth. Certainly, they have been as insubstantial as so many ghosts. Each has fallen and faded before the fierce, changeable spirit of the time.

Madero well enough, and in happier circumstances might have accomplished the high mission he set out to perform; but he was not strong enough to cope with the forces about him, especially when they took the form of murderous treachery.

Huerta, called "President" by virtue of the fact that he ruled for a season at Mexico City, had all the vices with little of the strength of a downright viliain. Since his expulsion, the country has been practically without a government, though heaven knows it could be no worse off than it was under Huerta.

What will be the outcome of the present hubub?
Time alone can tell. It seems certain, however, that should the United States venture upon intervention, all the factions would unite in war against this country.

There is a worthy disposition on the part of the various Mexican factions to take turns about in capturing Mexico City.

The Hospital and the College.

It is gratifying to know that an agreement has been reached where the physicians on the staff of the Atlanta Medical College will serve at Grady hospital during the scholastic term, from October to June, the remaining months to be given over to physicians not affiliated with the College staff. The plan is acceptable to all interests concerned, and is a credit to the Grady trustees who effected it.

Educational authorities agree that the best results both for public hospitals and for medical colleges are secured when the two co-operate. The college strengthens the hospital, and the hospital strengthens the college. It is upon this basis that the greatest institutions of the kind in America, notably those at Boston, St. Louis, Chicago, Cleveland, Cincinnati and Baltimore, are conducted. It is fortunate for Atlanta that its municipal hospital and its medical college conform to this sound policy.

The Atlanta Medical College is an invaluable asset to the community, to the State and to the entire South. It is ranked in Class "A" by the American Medical Association, a fact that speaks highly of its high standards and its usefulness. Its service to Grady hospital will continue and its own prestige will grow apace.

President Wilson's recent frank discussion about the inconveniences and stress of his high office will not have the effect of deterring ambitious candidates for the job.

The Republican Filibuster.

There is a growing impression, says The Journal's Washington correspondent, that the Republican filibuster against the Ship Purchase bill will wear itself out, and that this measure, together with waiting appropriations, can be passed at the present session of Congress. That is cheering news. The country longs for legislative repose. The last two years have been crowded and tense with political activity. Constructive and fruitful years they have been, the most telling in half a century of the national government; but the changes they have brought, the new standards they have set up, call for many readjustments in business affairs. The public's thought should be diverted from Congress, for a season, and fixed undividedly on work-a-day tasks.

An extra session can scarcely be avoided, however, unless the Ship Purchase bill is enacted by March. That is one piece of legislation, which is essential to the country's common interests, and to its immediate interests. For lack of an adequate merchant marine, American trade is falling short of its opportunities in foreign markets and American shippers are paying exorbitant rates on ocean transportation. The South is vitally concerned in the establishment of ample means for carrying its cotton to Europe; and the West equally so, for its foodstuffs. Indeed, every field of production and commerce is involved in this important matter.

The Administration rightly insists, therefore, that the Ship Purchase bill, the only feasible plan of relief, be made a law at the earliest moment possible. To this end, the Democrats of the Senate are pledged all but unanimously, and as soon as the measure is brought to a vote it will pass. The Republican minority, however, has undertaken a filibuster with a view toward keeping the bill from passage by talking away the Senate's time until the hour when Congress must adjourn arrives. They will hear to no limit on debate. In fact, they will not discuss and decide the issue on its merits; they propose to decide it by sheer wind power. They offer no plan of their own for relieving the situation which the Ship Purchase bill is designed to meet; but they stubbornly oppose the Democratic measure. They will do nothing themselves, but they try to block the way of others who would and can.

The New York World well asks in this regard: "What is the country going to do about a matter that is preventing a full resumption of American industry?"

We can advise the obstructive Republican minority in the Senate of what the country will not do. It will not back up the Burton-Lodge-Rod-Root filibuster in trying to kill off the Administration's plan of relief unless they offer some more effective plan in its stead. It will not support a mere policy of negotiation against direct Government effort to provide lower rates and more ship room. It will least of all support such a policy as a mask for a subsidy raid on the Treasury. Do any of the Senators named think they can talk the Republican party back into power on a policy of do-nothing when the country cries out that something must be done? A bold measure of relief from this war-burden upon American industry is within reach. The Administration presents a plan which can admittedly be made effective in large degree. What is the opposition plan? Just filibuster?

If the Republicans persist in their present tactics, and by their filibuster make necessary an extra session of Congress, they will be held responsible for a double ill. They will bear the reproach of having kept from the country a sorely needed measure of relief and of having forced upon the country an extra session of Congress at a time especially inopportune. From a purely political standpoint, that would be plainly to the advantage of the Democrats; but as a matter of national interests and needs, it is to be hoped that the minority in the Senate will not be worse off than it was under Huerta.

What will be the outcome of the present hubub? Time alone can tell. It seems certain, however, that should the United States venture upon intervention, all the factions would unite in war against this country.

English parliament will very probably be in favor henceforth of keeping the English navy up to full standard.

Weather retrospective: Fine business yesterday and a good start Friday. On Saturday we shall furnish a definite forecast of Friday's weather. On Sunday there will be a long range review of the weather for the whole preceding week.

The great secret of succeeding in conversation is to admire little, to hear much; always to distract our own reason, and sometimes that of our friends; never to pretend to wit, but to make that of others appear as much as possible we can; to hearken to what is said, and to answer to the purpose—Bonjima Franklin.

Punishment if not prohibition of bachelorhood by taxation looms up every session in one or other of the forty-eight legislatures of these United States. New Jersey is the latest sovereign Commonwealth to propose a statesman who is convinced that the social ills of the times will be alleviated, if not eradicated, by forcing every unmarried man of thirty and upwards to pay $50 a year for the privilege of remaining single. Thus a bachelor would be classified with a corporation which is taxed specially on account of the privileges allowed it by law.—Philadelphia Press.

Miss Mary V. McAllister, 6 years of age, in a dress made of American flags to represent "Maiden America," went to the White House today with a speech all prepared to say to President Wilson. But Mr. Wilson smiled and she forgot the piece. She hesitated a minute—fumbled with an autograph album she carried and finally said:

"I'm awfully glad to see you, Mr. President."

Mr. Wilson was glad, too, and they shook hands warmly—New York Herald.

Shakespeare Says--

I have neither the scholar's melancholy, which is emulation; nor the musician's, which is fantastical; nor the courtier's, which is proud; nor the soldier's, which is ambitious; nor the lawyer's, which is politic; nor the lady's, which is nice; nor the lover's, which is all these; but it is a melancholy of mine own, composition of miseries, extracted from many objects, and indeed the sundry contemplation of my travels, in which my often ramification wraps me in a most humorous sadness.

"To Get By" Defined

Nearly all slang is language in the making. The Kentucky court of appeals recognizes the use of the expression "to get by" and construes it as deciding an important case. The opinion is written by Judge Hough, who says:

"To 'get by' means to do some act and escape the injurious consequences which usually attend such an act."

An excellent definition. The expression is in common use. If the lexicographers have failed to take note of it they doves upon a legal body to define it.

A man who stays out till 3 o'clock in the morning and tells his wife that he got by with it, is not a hero, but a scoundrel. The wife has heard the rather stale story in which the belated husband, called down by his wife after an electric light is switched on to show that the clock is 3 o'clock, says, "I got by with the time that I wanted, without getting into all relishy mathematics." A man who acknowledges that he owes the amount mentioned, but tells the bill collector to call next Saturday—when he intends to pay it back—has got by with it. The office "got by" with it. The politician who makes prodigious promises which he does not intend to carry out; the political party which wants a vote-getting platform intended to discredit the opposition party; the man who got by with having derailed it after the election, defeated at the next election; the cook who responds to the employee's timid and courteous suggestion that the steaks are overdone; the waiter who says he got by with the order of two hands of cards after telling the customer that he got by with the offer "get by" with it. Browning Signs Contract for the Coming Season

Fourteen Players Have Now Come to Terms—Hack Ebel Visit to Relatives in New York Additional Recruits From Browns Still Unknown

Frank Browning's contract for the 1915 season was received by his half-brother, Ebel, this afternoon, bringing the total number signed for the coming season up to ten. The other parchment received was that of pitcher Frank Browning. Browning has been laboring in Atlanta this winter, but has been striking pretty well in his own Biscayne, but ventured enough to come to send in

ENTERING THE ALIBI.

The Sportlight

BY GRANTLAND RICE

Ever and anon, if not often, we receive complaints from correspondents because we haven't answered certain queries or replied to letters. We are forced to admit the lamentable fact, and with a feeling of remorse, that every query should be answered, and every letter replied to. But in some way we never seem to catch up or we lose the letters or some other untoward event intervenes.

ENTERING THE ALIBI.

On the other hand, as has been said before, being remotely connected with the sporting industry at large, we have our alibi. For example, with a certain mischievous today, we could at once inhale at once the advance fragrance of the succulent statistic with attached vision of an afternoon totally destroyed. But we dug on in and we hereby offer the enclosed as a sample explaining our dereliction.

AS FOLLOWS.

Dear Sirs—
Can you please tell a young fan who plays some baseball also about how many chances big league ball players accept before they make an error on an average? I mean about how many put-outs and assists will they have to each error and oblige, gratefully.

At first glance nothing could sound simpler. And being anxious to do so I start to answer at once saying, "About one error to every..." and then you suddenly pull up. About one error to every what? Ohmarr you might say about one error to every ten chances for a guess. But it might be only one out of every seventeen errors, the details of which will be given on management's accuracy, the sum of two things to do—(1) Take the epistle aside without further worry, or (2) Dig deep enough into the sand-sacks to round up the answer.

ZIP-GOES AN AFTERNOON.

We decided to try out Number Two by way of variety. And the only response to the simple query above was to gather in the records and discover how many put-outs, assists and errors had been made in the 2,500 big league games played last fall.

At first glance nothing could sound simpler. And being anxious to do so I start to answer at once saying, "About one error to every..." and then you suddenly pull up. About one error to every what? Ohmarr you might say about one error to every ten chances for a guess. NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 29.—Hack Ebel, the half-brother of the Browns, has signed a contract for the 1915 season. He will be a valuable addition to the team.

He is a good player, but has not been used regularly.

He depends on his arm, and is not a good pitcher.

He is not being possessed of any unusual speed.

For this reason he is not the man to be expected in the opinion of most baseball men.

He should happen to be well along at the time. But Browning is not the man to be expected in the opinion of most baseball men.

He is to prove a valuable asset for the Browns.
