

ITCHY SALT RHEUM

Sometimes Called Eczema—Removed by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Itch, blisters, sores of the worst and most common of all diseases. How it reddens the skin, causes, dries and scales, and then does the whole body with it. It covers the whole body with it, burning patches and causes intense suffering, which is commonly worse at night.

Local applications may do some good, but they cannot penetrate to annoy, pain and perhaps agonize, until the whole blood has been purified and the skin healed.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla, the old reliable remedy. It gives relief and perfect satisfaction in thousands of cases. Insist on having Hood's Sarsaparilla, for no substitute acts like it. Get it today. (Advt.)

RUN-DOWN WOMAN

Made Strong By Our Vinol

Fort Edward, N. Y.—"I was a run-down, nervous and weak condition, so I could not do the housework for my little family of three. I had taken cod liver oil, tonics and various remedies without benefit. A friend told me about Vinol, tried it, and it soon built up my strength and energy. Now I am well, so I now am the mother of all my housework."—Mrs. ELMER GLIDDEN.

We guarantee final, the delicious cod liver oil tonic, for run-down, weak and debilitated conditions. Elkin Drug Co., Atlanta, Ga., and at leading drug stores everywhere. (Advt.)

Pimples Removed

With Our Saxo Salve

Amherst, Ohio—"I had a pimple on my face which grew until it was as large as a silver dollar. Doctors said it would not be cut out and would not go away. My druggist asked me to try Saxo Salve. I made fun of him but did so, and the pimple disappeared. I am still in praise of Saxo Salve."—M. R. CRANAHAM, Amherst, Ohio.

It was the same with skin trouble with our Saxo Salve and Saxo Soap. We will buy back the empty tube.

GOODBYE DISEASE

For over two hundred years a famous Dutch medicine, the National Remedy of Holland, has been the standard of the kidneys and bladder. Gout, rheumatism, rheumatism, uric acid and lead poisoning, gravel and stone, the blind, diseases of the eyes connected with the urinary tract, all find an irresistible enemy in GOLD MEDAL. It comes in small bottles from natural healing oils and herbs, this dependable remedy continues the progress in your health. All the "new" oil covers and patent "curealls" fail absolutely.

GOOD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules are a standard medical preparation. They are imported from every part of the world, containing the best oil. Oil Mfg. Co. 394 Water St., New York. Each shipment is carefully examined by a medical committee of prominent chemists before being admitted into the country. Therefore you can be sure that they are genuine. If they are not, you could not be harmed. The enemy sustained enormous losses. Corpses of their men were found in the woods, men who momentarily were able to advance down by our machine guns. Not one of them.

Tobacco Habit Easily Stopped

Mr. S. D. Lent, a railroad man, was an inveterate smoker for 30 years. He tried to give it up, but was unsuccessful.

After arising he would light a pipe and keep it hot for the rest of the day. He would smoke 200 pipes a day. Often he would get up in the middle of the night. The habit was doing him great harm, for which he followed and thereby freed himself from the habit quickly and easily. Anyone who uses cigar, pipe, cigarette, or tobacco, including tobacco and pipes, and who knows the injury being done through nervousness, insomnia, loss of memory, loss of vitality, etc., should write to Edw. J. Woods, 100 Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga., and the very interesting free book that will be sent promptly upon application. (Advt.)

GEN. HUERTA IS REPORTED
COMING TO UNITED STATES

Rumor Says Former Dictator's
Friends Plan to Start Campaign in Mexico

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 8.—Official announcement that Victoriano Huerta, once Mexican dictator, was on his way from Spain to the United States, has been received by the State department from the American consul at Seville.
Huerta is on the steamer "Antonio Lopez," due to arrive at New York Saturday. It will be his first visit to the United States.

The purpose of Huerta's visit is unknown to officials, but it generally is believed he intends to confer with prominent Mexicans associated with him in his administration who have gathered in New York since the triumph of the constitutional forces, or perhaps intends to make his residence there.

The state department has heard rumors that some of Huerta's followers are gathering strength to promote another military campaign in Mexico, to oppose both the Carranza and the Villista factions, and nothing tangible has developed, it is said, indicating any move in that direction.

Bauer has prevailed in official quarters here, however, on the later word that Villa's leader was apparently getting the upper hand in the present struggle.

General Obregon's Defeat
Hard Blow at Carranza

(By Associated Press)
MEXICO CITY, April 8.—The defeat of General Obregon's army in the last two days in central Mexico, officials of the Villa faction declared today, was a blow that should not be heeded, as it was struck at the Carranza cause.

Reports to Villa headquarters said Obregon's forces had been beaten back from a point midway between Cueravaro and Irapuato. Villa personnel is directing the pursuit.

Obregon's forces numbered 30,000 to 35,000 men, according to reports.

British mining men of the Durango district, including the Gold Spring Mine, British ambassador to Washington, a protest against the amendment to the Mexican mining law recently adopted by the Senate. The protest was drafted by the British vice consul at Durango City.

The protest maintained it would be impossible to comply with the law, which requires that all properties shall be held in trust, and that the miners confess as a penalty if such work is not performed. American mine owners already have protested to the state department, making a similar assertion.

BURGLARS ROB HOUSE
THEN SET IT ON FIRE

Prompt Action of Firemen Saves Home of Joe Jacobs
on Central Avenue

White Joe Jacobs, proprietor of the Central Pawn shop on Decatur street, was asleep in a Turkish bath establishment in his home, 374 Central avenue, was entered by burglars Wednesday night and afflicted with the fire they started.
Mr. Jacobs was unable to get out of the fire or the burglary until Thursday morning.

It is the belief of the fire department and the police who investigated, that the burglars set fire to the house to conceal their work, but the prompt arrival of the fire department would have succeeded.

Several hundred dollars worth of valuables are missing. The damage by fire and water will amount to several hundred dollars more.

The fire was discovered by a neighbor about 10 o'clock. No clue to the identity of the burglars was found.

ATLANTA CHILD'S HOME
INNATES HAVE EGG HUNT

The thirty children who are being cared for at the Atlanta Child's Home had the time of their lives Wednesday, when they romped over the grove which surrounds the home, hunting for Easter eggs and finding several hundred Easter eggs hidden there.

The hunt was given the children by Miss N. C. of which Mrs. F. P. Gaffney is chairman, and was witnessed by more than 100 visitors who gathered on the veranda of the Atlanta Child's home will be open to visitors throughout the present week.

BURGLAR FLEES WHEN FIRED ON IN HOUSE

A burglar entered the home of Mrs.
F. P. Elben, 115 Washington street, Wednesday night about 10 o'clock, and when first he was a noise he fled through the window he had entered, carrying with him part of the curtain.
Curtains made of the same material, but not clues to his identity was found. Nothing was missed from the house.

CHARTER IS ASKED FOR NEW CHRISTIAN COLLEGE

Christian Church Plans to Take Over Perry Rainey Institute

By filing a petition for a charter in Fulton superior court Thursday, the Christian church of Georgia took the first steps toward acquiring the Perry Rainey Institute at Auburn, Ga., in Barrow county, and converting it into the first Christian college in the southeast. The college will be co-educational.

Rev. John H. Wood, of Atlanta, a specialist of Christian Church Missionary Association of Georgia, is in charge of the movement. He states that arrangements have been completed for the transfer of the Perry Rainey Institute, which will open next fall.

By then, he says, $25,000 will be required to spend on the institution; he stated the amount will be given by the Christian church by the Master Peacock system on the agreement that the Christian church pay the debts of the school, and that the Perry Rainey Institute will be spent for this; the rest, amounting to over $15,000, will go for improvements.

Wood, a graduate of 180 degrees, stated Mr. Wood, theology will be taught in general its work at first will be to take pupils through what is equivalent to the first year of college. The University of Georgia.

Those who applied for the charter in the fall of 1914, said Judge T. O. Hattie, of the municipal court; Rev. John M. Wood, Dr. M. C. Patterson and Stanley G. Green, of Atlanta, will form the first or temporary board of trustees. R. W. & J. W. Crenshaw, attorneys, filed the petition.

CONFERENCE DELEGATES NAMED FOR GEORGIA

Delegates to represent Georgia at the forty-second annual convention of the National Conference of Charities and Correctional work, held in Baltimore May 12, 1915, were appointed Thursday by Governor Slaton. They are: Dr. L. M. Jones, Millington; Prof. W. O. Conner, Cave Spring; G. F. Oliphant, Macon; T. J. Parson, Gainesville; J. E. Moore, Milledgeville; W. W. ANOTHER TRAWLER IS SUNK IN NORTH SEA

(Associated Press.) LONDON, April 8.—The Grimsby trawler Zarina was sunk in the North sea today. It is feared her nine men were either killed by the explosion or drowned.

It is not known whether the Zarina was destroyed by a mine or a submarine.

NEGRO ON TRIAL FOR KILLING W. E. ORMOND

Following arguments by Senator Dorsey and Mrs. W. E. Ormond for the state, and John A. Boykin for the defense, the jury in Judge Hill's branch of the superior court Thursday afternoon returned a verdict in the case of Tom Ballard, colored, charged with murder.

Ballard, who is now residing a new home in Atlanta, was tried by Judge Hill's court a month ago of the murder of W. E. Ormond, forty-four years old, of Cooper street, New Haven, Conn. Mr. Ormond, a lawyer, was rushed to the defense of his wife and daughter, who were held up by a highwayman, and Ballard had not been sufficiently identified as the slayer, the new trial was granted. Ballard was sentenced to life imprisonment at his trial.

OUTLAW WINS SUIT AGAINST MRS. FRANCIS

Charles W. Outlaw, formerly of Atlanta, and now with her, has been awarded $2,500 damages in a suit against his mother-in-law, Mrs. I. H. Francis, for the alienation of his wife.

The suit was tried in the superior court at Baltimore, where Mr. Outlaw now lives; and, according to the Baltimore papers, ended in a unanimous verdict for him.

JUDGE GRUBB DISMISSES 34 SUITS AGAINST L. & N.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 8.—A special from Huntsville, Ala., says:

Judge Grubb, of the federal district court, has dismissed the four suits against the Louisville and Nashville railway that were instituted by English, French, German and other companies.

He did not agree with the bankrupt firm of Knight, Yancey & Co., of Huntsville and Decatur, which involved more than $5,000,000 in the plaintiff's losses to fix responsibility for their losses upon the railroad because of alleged negligence in the handling of bills of lading.

GERMAN MISSION TO ABYSSINIA IS HALTED

Italy Turns Back Party Said to Be Trying to Stir Up
Strife in Sudan

(By Associated Press)
ROME, April 8.—(Via Paris).—The German mission which tried unsuccessfully to penetrate to Addis Ababa to demand the return of the Legation to Abyssinia has just reached Rome on its way home. Italy did not permit it to pass through its ports but promised that mail from the minister would go forward in due course.

The members of the mission had been unable to get through, which included 23 days on the Red sea, in a native boat and an encounter with a French cruiser which forced them to turn back. It has been rumored the object of this mission was to induce the Abyssinians to join the British forces in the Sudan. This the Germans deny, saying their only purpose was to carry mail to the mission and a report of the death of Herr Frobenius, an explorer, described as an intimate friend of Emperor William, two secretaries and a nurse to the Legation's foreign office.

From Akabah, Asmilia, which the travelers reached via Roumania, Bulgaria and Turkey, they crossed the Red sea to Massawa, capital of the Italian colony of Eritrea, where this trip in a French cruiser overhauled them. The native boat chartered by the mission was thrown overboard by the crew. The Germans had so carefully hidden themselves they remained undiscovered.

Tremendous Demand Shown for This Opera—All the Others Are Selling Rapidly
This Week

Probably the "biggest money house" ever faced by a star of the Metropolitan Opera company will be that of Wednesday night, April 28, when Geraldine Farrar sings in the new role of Carmen at the Atlanta Coliseum.

The largest house from a standpoint both of numbers and cash, on record for the Metropolitan was that of "Carmen" last year. Last year, in the Atlanta season, more than 7,600 persons paying something over $18,000 to hear Caruso sing in the new role of Carmen.

As a result of the new company's more stringent regulations limiting the number of "standing room only" tickets, gold.

But this year, it is believed, the house will be even larger from a financial standpoint than last year.

"Carmen" has been such that it is now apparent there will not be an empty seat for the new opera.

And the figure since has been of more stringent regulations limiting the number of "standing room only" tickets, gold.

With the exception of this opera, the public seems to like all the works equally well. There has been a heavy sale for "The Merry Widow" at the May matinee, and out-of-town folk especially are buying big blocks of seats for this. The "Siegfried" will be in demand, "Madame Sans Gene," "Rigoletto," on Thursday afternoon, is having a trial run, and the "Puritans" will be in demand.

The sale of tickets is going on so rapidly that prospective purchasers are warned to get their tickets now without further delay. In a short time the choicest seats will be gone.

Driver of Jitney Bus

BLAMED FOR ACCIDENT

Recorder Johnson Dismisses

Case Against Motorman
R. C. Bryson

The case against R. C. Bryson, motorman of the Marietta street car which struck and killed a boy last Friday night, was dismissed Wednesday afternoon after a hearing before Recorder John W. Johnson.

It was ruled that G. W. Hammock, driver of the jitney bus, was running just ahead of the street car, when he attempted to stop to take two passengers who had hailed him. As he jammed on his brakes the street car ran into him, and he was killed before he was aware of the jitney's intention to stop.

Mrs. Bertha Campbell, 84 Poplar Hill, Marietta, and Mrs. G. W. Hammock, the driver, were painfully injured. Hammock contended that the street car was going at a rate of 40 miles an hour at the time of the accident, and gave the sign of his automobile to Campbell and the street car company had settled with her for $15.

A lawyer for the motorman appeared in behalf of the jitney bus driver, while C. E. Rosses represented the street car company.

GREENVILLE, S. C., SHERIFF DIDN'T FIGHT JOE JACKSON

Says Officers Didn't Visit Atlanta—No Charge Against

Ball Player

(Special Dispatch to The Journal)

GREENVILLE, S. C., April 8.—The story in the Atlanta newspaper Tuesday to the effect that the Greenville, S. C., sheriff was knocked out by Joe Jackson in Atlanta, Wednesday is entirely erroneous, declared Sheriff Rees of Greenville. The sheriff said that as far as he knew no officer had been to Atlanta to get Jackson. That is the reason he did not fight him.

The sheriff has consulted his lawyer to ascertain if there are grounds for civil suit against the paper. If so he aversed he would push the matter into courts.

Mr. Joe Jackson is in Greenville, but expects to leave in a few days to join his husband on his way to Cleveland.

PRIN' ETEL WILL BE INTERED AT NORFOLK

Crisier Decides Not to Face Court of Allied Warships

(Associated Press)
NEWPORT, Va., April 8.—With the sternness of day of the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich and its crew, the commerce destroyer crew and her spectacular war career, the Prinz Eitel became an interned at the Norfolk navy yard, where she will remain until the end of the war, were ordered, at a conference early today between Rear Admiral Fletcher, commanding-chief of the Atlantic fleet, Rear Admiral H. E. of the battleship Alabama, and Rear Admiral, commanding if the Norfolk navy yard, and Collector of the Port Hamilton.

Decision of Commander Thirchens, of the Prinz Eitel, to intern his ship follows the receipt by him of an imperative notice from the United States government early last night that the time limit for his stay in this port would expire at midnight. Had not asked to intern the 10 Captain Thirchens would have been allowed to remain in the American waters not later than April 1, as today.

In requesting permission of the Washington government to intern, Captain Thirchens explained that "failure of expected relief to arm" made the step necessary, rather than "deliver crew and ship to the British." The destruction of British and French warships, waiting on the "Virginia Capes." It was the American government's desire to arrive to him in the allies' warships.

On board the Prinz Eitel today, which up to the last meant before her time limit expired, he appeared to be ready for a date to sea, Captain Thirchens said, his ship in full trim. The captain declared that he was heartbroken because he had been forced to intern, as he had not intended doing so if it not been absolutely necessary.

Many Britons here we have seen today as refugees, and the decision to intern the Prinz Eitel, which apparently operated to lift the American embargo against the ships of the allies' European country.

With the taking of the Prinz Eitel to the Norfolk navy yard today, the break of the grip of the British removed and the connecting rod of her engines detached. The Prinz Eitel had been interned for 10 days, and she limped into port following her remarkable commerce raiding voyage from the Orient, during which he destroyed the American ship William F. Frye.

Daniels Gives Orders For Interiting Eitel

(Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 8.—Secretary Daniels today gave formal orders to Rear Admiral Beatty, commanding the Norfolk navy yard, to take the Prinz Eitel from the to the yard for internment.

Admiral Beatty will receive to what the ship will be a dilemma, but it was not thought there would be done than to remove her broad black band and the flag staff connecting rod of her engine. At first officers and men probably will be given the freedom of the Norfolk and its officers, at least probably will have unrestricting liberty, upon their promise not to violate the neutrality of the United States.

It has been customary to extend rather than curtail the liberty of interned bel-ligents.

Annie Louise Hill Went to Grandmother's Home After Writing Mother She "Would Never See Her Again"

Trailing her from her home to the Terminal station and thence to Hogansville, Ga., yesterday Thursday morning and returning little after noon yesterday Annie Louise Hill at her grandmother's home, whether she went after writing a note to her mother, saying she would never return.

Her New York brother of Annie Louise's mother, Mrs. Willie Sommer, of 35 Kuhne street, by diligent inquiry Wednesday night and Thursday found that the little girl had run to the Terminal station Wednesday afternoon by herself and bought a ticket to Hogansville.

According to grandmother, Mrs. C. P. Hill, who lives there, confirmed the belief that Annie Louise Hill was there.

Mrs. Sommer, a local department store, was going to work Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock, and as she was about to leave, a small child for which Mrs. Sommer scolded her.

"She seemed to take it terribly to hear that I had scolded her mother, tears, Thursday," and I told her that we would talk it over quietly when I and she would go to the street car. I and she walked to the street car. I thought she would go right to school and then be available for me when I came home. Instead, when I came back home I found this in her childish handwriting:

"You have been to me as a mother, ought to be. You have bought me music and candy, and oh, you have been so kind to me. I will never go to school again. I am going to stay home and do childish things for which Mrs. Sommer scolded her."

For a Full Season's Comfort Have Vudor Porch Shades and Awnings Put Up Now

We are ready to execute orders for putting up Vudor Porch Shades and Window and Porch Awnings—the new stocks have arrived.

Every satisfaction attends having this work done early in the season.

It costs no more now than later, and it means you will be ready and comfortable, let the weather do what it will.

We are the exclusive Atlanta agents for the Vudor shade, which is without question the most successful of all—if any proof were necessary the many imitations of it that are springing up would be conclusive.

And for awnings—we will make them as they should be made; first, to fit accurately and then so sturdily that they will last for years.

A telephone call will bring a man to measure your porches and windows.

DIVORCE AND MARRIAGE LAWS ARE DEPLORED

Judge Ellis and Jury Stirred by What They Hear in 96 Cases Acted On

Following the disposal of 96 divorce cases in three days, Judge Ellis, of the superior court, and his divorce jury and John A. Copland, foreman, all expressed their surprise at the number of cases to be disposed of in so short a time.

The trial of the cases, and mutually deplored the present laws governing divorce and marriage.

"Every time I finish a divorce docket I am overwhelmed with relief," said Judge Ellis to the jury. "I don't know what to do with all the cases in this country who has studied the divorce question at all from having the same feeling that he has had all the time in his mouth that he and I have after hearing the cases before us in the past few days. But you and I both have to carry out the laws as they exist, whether we like it or not."

The thing to do is to change these laws."

Judge Ellis asked Deputy Sheriff for a Fulton Daily Report. From it he read the names of four cases, "one every day of the year," said the judge.

John A. Copland, foreman, of the jury, suggested that a man should be punished as for a crime if he married a "woman" who was really a little girl.

"He should be punished as he was brought out of the case."

"Yes," said Judge Ellis, "if a man goes to the bank to put through a $100 business transaction, he has to be identified carefully before he can get away with it, but in the ordinary case he doesn't have to be investigated at all. He gives his name and address, and that's all."

"He has to be investigated in the case, and so it goes every day of the year."

Huerta and the Republican party may think they can come back. So did Jack Johnson.

Nature, lack of fertilizers, the war and a few other things are going to have some say-so about the size of the cotton crop.

Farm Market Bureaus.

The grower or shipper having large quantities of produce to dispose of can specify close a transaction with a commission merchant in New York, or any other Northern market, by telephone. The farmer finds a small amount for a nearby market more to his advantage and comes to town to sell it as a venture, not knowing in the uncertainty of times whether there is a demand for his goods. But this farmer would have the same advantage as the greater grower who produces for the larger market if this farm telephone, connecting with the city system, were in general use. Still more satisfactory would be the result, if a farm marketing bureau were organized under a competent manager who would act as agent for the farmers, supply them with needed information and find customers for them.

This interesting suggestion from the Florida

Times-Union, of Jacksonville, is especially applicable just now to Georgia. The establishment of market facilities for home-grown food crops is essential to the State's business and agricultural well-being. Georgia will raise more grain and vegetables this year than ever before. The farmer must be enabled to dispose of his surplus of such products if the broader system on which he is entering is to be sustained and carried duly forward. Many useful means to this end have been proposed, but the most comprehensive and trustworthy of them all is the market bureau.

Such an enterprise, of course, must be conducted by responsible persons who know what they are about and who are genuinely devoted to the common interest of all concerned. Adventurous or purely selfish schemes would be worse than futile; they would be ruinous to this great field of service. It is very gratifying, therefore, that the movement to establish a market bureau in Georgia is being directed by such dependable agencies as the State Chamber of Commerce, the State Department of Agriculture and other public-spirited institutions. Equally cheering is the response they have been accorded by railway and express companies, by the postoffice officials, the Fruit Exchange and by hundreds of merchants. This undertaking is of vast import to Georgia. It should be pressed swiftly to completion. Meanwhile there are interesting reports of plans to develop county and district market bureaus the farmers and business men of Pulaski county having already gone forward with such a project. These will be necessary to the State organization. They are to be commended and encouraged wherever they are undertaken in the right spirit and by proper methods.

The fact that Georgia spends more than one hundred and fifty million dollars a year in buying food staples from distant regions proves clearly enough that a potential market for such crops already exists. There is not the remotest chance of over-production of food staples, if means of connecting the producers and the consumers are provided. Cotton is not more valuable than food crops, intrinsically; indeed, it is much less valuable than many food crops. Cotton has monopolized the soil and energy of our farms largely for the reason that it could be marketed conveniently and converted quickly into cash, while food crops were without that assurance. The urgent problem, therefore, is to develop food markets that will be as adequate as those for cotton have been, and to give the small grower the same kind of facilities which the larger growers and shippers now enjoy. This can be done if all the interests concerned work loyally together.

Arrived in Mexico Huerta will have to determine whether to fight the presidents singly or blaze away into the covey.

Commencement oration generally contains good advice for the reason that the said advice has been approved by years and years of usage.

Reverting to the prophecy of our old friend J. J. Hill, we repeat that unless peace is declared or one side or the other wins a decisive victory in the next year or so, the war will probably last two or three years longer.

Senator Gallinger says that while he never smoked or drank, still he attributes his long life mainly to the fact that his parents and grandparents did. The thing to do, then, as Dr. Holmes says, is to select your parents.

Georgia's Diplomats of Trade.

Of all the conventions held at Atlanta, none receives keener welcome or brings together a more alert and enterprising body of men than the Georgia division of the Travelers' Protective Association. These builders of business and diplomats of trade are particularly close to the common interests of the State. Continually on the road, visiting scores of towns, talking to hundreds of people, they know what the public thinks and how the public feels. They know conditions, tendencies, needs and opportunities. Most important of all, perhaps, they are the keenest observers of human nature.

The manufacturer studies materials and processes. The merchant studies goods and accounts. The commercial traveler studies all these, and he studies men besides. His wits are sharpened by daily contact with practical problems. His sympathies are enriched by a wonderful range of associations. He is socially and mentally adaptable to an ever-changing environment. He must be an optimist, a bolder and truly a friend to those with whom he has dealt.

Atlanta is singularly honored in being host to a great company of such men. The Georgia division of the Travelers' Protective Association is a factor for the progress and development of the Commonwealth. The service of its members is valuable beyond measure, not only to the immediate interests they represent but to the communities from which they come and those into which they go. To everyone of these visitors and their comrades throughout the State, the Journal extends cordial greeting and good wishes.

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the clean-up campaign.

County Aid in Stock Breeding.

The Fulton county Board of Commissioners proposes to buy three registered beef-cattle sires and place them freely at the service of any farmer in the county who wishes to improve his breed of live stock. This is an admirable enterprise, which ought to be followed by county boards throughout the State.

Georgia cannot hope to develop profitable stock raising industries with scrub cattle. The Fulton county plan, if generally adopted, will work a wonderful transformation, and will do so without appreciable expense to individual farmers or to the county governments. There could be no surer investment of public funds; for, the encouragement of cattle raising on permanent, scientific lines means millions of new wealth and opportunity. Every Georgia county should follow the Fulton example, with reference to hogs as well as cattle, and should do so promptly.

The Elite's captain apparently decided that there was no use of his adding any dramatic situations to the German navy.

Brooks County Hogs.

The Quitman Free Press publishes the interesting fact that Brooks county, besides curing its usual amount of bacon for home consumption and for outside markets, has shipped forty-four cars of hogs to packing houses at Mobile, Augusta and other points. Of these exports, forty cars contained a total of three thousand, nine-hundred and forty-one head of hogs weighing five hundred and sixty-two thousand, one hundred and eighty-three pounds, and brought the farmers who raised them the sum of thirty-three thousand, eight hundred and fifty-two dollars. Other large shipments of hogs and of cattle are in prospect.

Brooks county laid a broad foundation for its live stock industry by planting an abundance of corn, peas and forage. It has raised cotton, but it has not allowed cotton to tyrannize its agriculture. Years ago, it learned the valuable lesson that dependence upon one crop is wasteful and perilous. As a result, Brooks county faced the cotton depression undismayed and undisturbed. Its farmers could afford to hold their cotton. They had "corn in the crib and meat on the rib." They had a diversity of crops which could be converted easily into cash.

What this county has done, the rank and file of Georgia counties can do, and must do if they are to escape another crisis such as befall them last autumn and are to move prosperously forward.

Spring cleaning time is at hand. Nearly everyone has some cleaning to do, whether it is the old-fashioned turning everything topsy-turvy for a week while the house is refreshed with new paper or paint, or just making vigorous use of broom and beater, scrub pall and soap. There are yards to be cleaned, rubbish to be got rid of, places to be made for planting flowers and vegetables. There are barns and fences and chicken coops to be repaired or made new and put in order generally. There is an inventory to be taken of old clothes, and more discarding of what is not useful and repairing of what is. With all this cleaning up going on, it's a good time to do a little spring cleaning of oneself—to see what friendly places can be found and mended. To see what is not worth the effort to be got rid of altogether and what only needs repair. To see what are one's aims and ideals, and see how near one comes to keeping them in sight. To sweep the dust from one's soul and the cobwebs from his spiritual vision. Clean up everything, even to your own heart; clear away malice and grudges and envy. The Frogs of Benzonia.

BEONZONIA, Mich., April 9.—The secret of the Benzonia frog's remarkable ability to withstand the entire winter, which has been heavy here, has been heard frogs croaking. Even in the severest blizzards, with the snow piling ten feet deep in the sand ridges and the lakes frozen solid, the "blip" of the old frogs and the chirrup of smaller ones have been heard.

Just before Christmas Fred Wallace, who lives near Benzonia was walking home after a trip to Traverse City. The snow was two feet deep, the thermometer near zero and a gale blowing. He heard the frogs croaking. When he got home he found his wife had suffered a severe shock. Later George Lucas heard them.

By the middle of January a score of persons claimed they heard frogs. But the neighbor laughed at them as much as anyone, quite hearing frogs save the elect. It took a great deal of pluck for a man to admit he heard a bull frog's croak.

Last week Bill Davis, who has been one of the loudest scoffers, went to look for his cow. Passing along the edge of a ravine he heard something croaking. When he threw a stone at it, it hit a large frog. He picked it up. It had fur but croaked. Bill dropped it and jumped. Then a big bull frog jumped out of the fur and hopped off onto the snow, turned over, shivered a few moments and croaked again.

Bill hopped around and stirred up fourteen more frogs, each one with a heavy fur coat.

It is believed that during the fall rabbits were skinned by hunters and the skins thrown near the swamp and that frogs crawled into them and kept warm and comfortable all winter.

Clear as the call of his favorite song sparrow came the voice of the old naturalist, the lion of literature, now ready to die from his daughter's home in West Park. The veteran naturalist and famous preacher of the simple life had tramped a mile and a half from his own home in West Park to see his grandchildren, whom he celebrates today his seventy-eighth birthday.

"How do I feel?" he asked, in response to the reporter's question. "I feel as chipper as twenty-five. And I put in a young man's day's work before I started out to see my grandchildren. I am in the best of health. This carlessness is responsible for the fact that the industrial accidents of this country annually range from ten to twelve times as many, per thousand inhabitants, as those of any other nation. Many of them are due to the carelessness of an armful of us."

So the old fellow fancied they had a special gift. "All the birds call and sing out I know you—the artless, voices speak so lovely I love so much; the pert and independent robin, the bluebird and the saucy blackbird. They're old friends of mine and probably a sentimental old fellow fancied they had a special gift.

"How do I feel?" he asked, in response to the reporter's question. "I feel as chipper as twenty-five. And I put in a young man's day's work before I started out to see my grandchildren. I am in the best of health. This carlessness is responsible for the fact that the industrial accidents of this country annually range from ten to twelve times as many, per thousand inhabitants, as those of any other nation. Many of them are due to the carelessness of an armful of us."

PATS WALT WHITMAN TRIBUTE.

"Then, too, I have a great pleasure in being a charming companion—my reflections of good friend Walt Whitman, the greatest poet and sincerest man I ever knew; of Emerson, and Dr. Holmes and Whittier, and ever so many more of old and tried friends, whom never I have forgotten. The voice of the poet is still the voice of all Europe combined. The need for that has been greater here. The speed-loving American was slow to recognize the "Safety first" principles which have always prevailed in Europe, and which have been adopted here.

This carlessness is responsible for the fact that the industrial accidents of this country annually range from ten to twelve times as many, per thousand inhabitants, as those of any other nation. Many of them are due to the carelessness of an armful of us."

Walt Whitman, the greatest man of his time, to my mind, was the greatest of all prose writers."

"And the greatest woman, Mr. Burroughs?"

"Mrs. Burroughs," said the naturalist instantly.

"And next to her, Mrs. Julia Ward Howe."

"And what?" asked the reporter, "does a lover of humanity think of the great war and of its probable endurance?"

THE WAR'S END IN AUTUMN.

"There is a question that all men are asking," replied Mr. Burroughs slowly and with a new note of seriousness in his hoarse voice. "What is the meaning of the war?" asked the reporter. "I think that Abraham Lincoln was the greatest all-round man, the greatest man of action, if I may so express it, that I ever knew. Whitman, of course, was the greatest poet. The world is beginning to recognize that fact. Matthew Arnold is to my mind, was the greatest of all prose writers."

MASONS TO PAY HONOR TO JUDGE WILKINSON

Funeral of Honored Citizen and Public Official Set for Friday Afternoon

Funeral services of Judge John R. Wilkinson will be held at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon at the First Baptist church. At 12 o'clock yesterday he will be buried with Masonic honors.

Judge Wilkinson, ordinary of Fulton county, thirty-third degree Mason, of the Grand Lodge of Georgia, widely known and universally loved during his long residence in Atlanta, died at 7:35 o'clock Wednesday evening at his home, 42 Dixie avenue, Inman Park.

The services at the church Friday will be conducted by the pastor, Dr. W. D. Daniel, and W. W. West, who will be in charge of the grand-lodge of Georgia, of which Judge Wilkinson was junior grand master. The services will be held at 12 o'clock Wednesday evening at his home, 42 Dixie avenue, Inman Park.

The services at the church Friday will be conducted by the pastor, Dr. W. D. Daniel, and W. W. West, who will be in charge of the grand-lodge of Georgia, of which Judge Wilkinson was junior grand master. The services will be held at 12 o'clock Wednesday evening at his home, 42 Dixie avenue, Inman Park.

There will be an honorary escort consisting of the judges and county officials of Fulton county, the officers and deacons of the First Baptist church, the pastmasters association of Gate City Lodge of Masonry No. 2 and all past-masters of the Lodge, the Knights of Pythias, Rite guard will form a guard of honor and the Scottish Rite choir, twenty male voices and twenty females, will be the escort of Knights. There are 12 Atlanta commandery, which will also act as escort to the grand commandery. The other 12 commandery of the grand commandery and of all grand bodies will attend the services.

All Masons are requested to meet at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Masonic temple. They will receive a special communication from Gate City Lodge and then march across the street to the church.

Out of respect to Judge Wilkinson's memory, Judge John R. Wilkinson, chief Judge of the superior court, ordered it closed all day Friday; Judge Andy Calhoun ordered the criminal court closed; Judge W. R. Roberts, of the city court, closed; and Judge E. D. Thomas ordered the municipal court closed.

Judge Wilkinson's death was sudden and it had been a shock to all his friends. He had been in poor health for some time, but only last Saturday was confined to bed. His condition at first was not proved, but his condition grew worse Monday and physician pronounced him unconscious from early Wednesday afternoon until he died.

There were few men in Atlanta more popular than Judge Wilkinson. Through his prominence in Masonry and long service as a jurist, he had made himself the friend of many. He was known for his stern integrity and loved him for the genial kindness and staunch loyalty he displayed on every occasion. He had a deep devotion to the city and to his brothers in fraternity, but it is a personal bereavement all who came under the spell of his winning personality.

Judge Wilkinson was fifty-eight years old. He was born in Newnan, Ga. June 19, 1853, and died April 6, 1911, at U. B. Wilkinson. His education was received at the Newnan schools and at Mercer university. For some time he was connected with the banking and business interests of his father, there, but over thirty years ago moved to Atlanta, and since then had resided here continually.

His career in Atlanta is a record of honest and successful achievements. He took an active part in city and county politics and so merited the confidence of the voters that he never failed once of being elected to any office, and had held for fourteen years, and had served three months of his new term which began in January.

Judge Wilkinson was one of the most prominent Masons in the United States, one of the highest ranking thirty-seconds of the number of lodges in the jurisdiction of Scottish Rite Masonry. He was a special deputy for the Scottish Rite in the Atlanta jurisdiction and held offices in the subordinate and grand bodies of Scottish Rite.

He was a charter member and past-master of the Atlanta Lodge No. 2 of Atlanta; past grand high priest of Royal Arch Masonry in Georgia.

For many years he had attended the annual sessions of the grand lodge and had been a leader in spirit in the work of the order throughout the country. He was one of the founders of Scottish Rite Masonry in the Atlanta jurisdiction, and was the first official representative for the Atlanta bodies in the supreme council, but had served as venerable master of the Lodge of Perseverance, and as wise master of White Eagle chapter No. 1, of Rose Croix. At the time of his death he was a member of the Atlanta Lodge No. 2 of the grand lodge of Georgia, having been unanimously elected to that office last October. At one of the meetings of the Atlanta Masonic Lodge, at the time of its erection and vice president and director of the Masonic Temple company, he took an active part in the interests of local Masonry and all its branches.

Judge Wilkinson was also a grand stonemason and a member of the Knights of Pythias of Georgia. He was past high priest of Mount Zion chapter of Atlanta; past master of the Order of the Eastern Star; past president of the Atlanta Lodge of the Knights of Pythias of Georgia.

He was a member of the First Baptist church and had been a deacon for years.

Surviving Judge Wilkinson are his wife, formerly Miss Anna Wood, of Newnan; two sons, W. W. and Mrs. H. C. Daniel; one sister, Mrs. M. C. Daniel, of Quitman, Ga.; three brothers, Mell R. Wilkinson, of Atlanta, president of the Atlanta School Improvement Association; T. J. Wilkinson of Newnan, Ga.; and Edward Wilkinson, of Texas.

JUDGE J. R. WILKINSON, ordinary of Fulton county, high in Masonry and one of Atlanta's most beloved citizens, who passed away Wednesday night.

CASES ORDERED AGAINST T. M. A. CLUB OPERATORS

Mrs. Tabarini and John McMillan Accused of Running Club for Gain

Police Chief Sawyer Thursday evening directed that cases be re-ordered against Mrs. Minnie Tabarini and John ("Buddy") McMillan on charge of violating city locker club ordinance in that they operated the T. M. A. club for personal gain, and that the city be directed to serve copies of charges upon them.

The police case is based upon the application for a receiver recently filed by Mrs. Tabarini in Fulton superior court, in which she alleged that she was not getting her share of the profits of the club, her rightful share in the profits of its operation, and asked the court to remove McMillan and place a receiver in charge.

Thus the court did, naming T. J. Ripley, receiver, and when it developed that in violation of the ordinance of the club Mrs. Tabarini had unwittingly laid herself open to prosecution under the city's ordinance, it directed that its operation be a locker club "for profit." Mrs. Tabarini filed a retraxit, setting up that her original application had been filed in error, a misapprehension had been made that the club was not in any way operating for profit, and that she was only seeking to regain from McMillan certain money due her.

SCOTCH ENTERTAINMENT PROVED BIG SUCCESS

The entertainment of the Scottish association Wednesday evening at the Anley hotel for the benefit of Scotch war widows was a big success.

After the singing of Scotch songs and Scotch dances the guests concluded the evening with general dancing.

The dances of Miss Dorothy Murray were particularly popular and were given many times. A number of songs were rendered by Miss Irma Toland, Robert Henderson, Jimmy Liddell and Miss Ord Thayer.

BLAZE ON PORCH ROOF IS QUICKLY SUPPRESSED

Quick work on the part of the fire department extinguished a small blaze on the roof of a porch at 163 Whitehall street Saturday evening at 7:45 p.m. Rosalie, in the house, which is rented by Mrs. G. M. Gentry, did not even wake up while the fire was burning.

Persons in Baunknights' furniture store, corner of Trinity avenue and Whitehall street, saw the fire on the roof and turned in the alarm. Chemicals put out the fire at once. It is a mystery how the blaze started.

Hen Lays Big Egg

It all began apparently after the one laid Tuesday by a hen, belonging to C. B. Laid, 60 Neal street, there would no longer be any such slogan as "The Hen Comes Laying an Egg." This is about three and a half times the weight of an ordinary egg. It measures just one and one-half inches over its greatest length, and six and an eighth inches at its smallest. (ADvt)

Dandruff Soon Ruins the Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will stain your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or ordinary hair brush to remove it, than you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid aroton; apply it at night when the scalp is cool enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most if not all, of your dandruff will be removed. Four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign. You will find too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get a jar of aroton at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

The WHITE —a masterpiece

In the Latest White Motor Car—so spontaneously admired for their beauty of form and finish, one will immediately recognize those rare qualities that have always made custom workmanship so plainly apparent and so eagerly sought.

Every vestige of former vogue in body design has vanished in a finally-perfect streamline body.

The conventional back of the front seat—always awkward in appearance—is absorbed in the center cowl, a gentle ripple in the streamline.

This is but one of the individual touches that distinguish every other feature and give the White a character all its own.

The creative treatment of the custom builder is admirably expressed in the richness of finish and equipment.

BEAUTIFUL WEDDING OF MISS CALHOUN AND MR. WITHAM

On Saturday Wednesday evening of Miss Harriet Calhoun and Mr. W. Stuart Witham, Jr., was of special interest on account of the prominence of both the families. Hundreds of friends witnessed the marriage, which took place at 2:30 o'clock at the Central Presbyterian church and were entertained later at a beautiful reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. A. W. Calhoun, on Peachtree street.

The distinctive feature of the decorations which were used was the myriad incandescent electric lights gleaming from the green garlands suspended overhead and the numerous green and white floral decorations covering the entire ceiling of the church was capped with festoons of amaryllis. The mass of white palms and ferns added to the organ loft was reflected in clusters of Easter lilies and at the base of the living green and white were hyacinths and tulips. The hyacinth was the predominant flower used. An spray of roses, lilies and hydrangeas was the chief floral arrangement, set in six tall white posts entwined with amaryllis through which gleamed tiny electric bulbs, shaded with green. A band of green, the wedding party grouped in a semi-circle about the bride and bridegroom.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Doctor H. Ordman, and the wedding attendants included the bride's two cousins, Misses Mary and Anna Calhoun, and Miss Martha Phinney, of Athens, maid of honor, Miss Passie May Orlfrey, flower girl, Misses Jessie and Anna Calhoun, Misses Ruth, Miss Katherine Calhoun, Miss Beatie Jones, Miss Louise Proctor, Misses Mary and Anna Calhoun, Misses Mary and Anna Calhoun, Mrs. Osborne, Mr. James Harris, Mr. Bowles Martin, Mr. Hubbard, Mr. Elton, Mr. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun, Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun, S. C., groomsmen.

The bride, in a gown in marriage by Dr. Pitkin Calhoun, and the bridegroom by Mr. Floyd McRae, Jr., was best man.

Miss Eliza Jones, invited from Baltimore Wednesday to spend several weeks with Mrs. Robert Alston at her home on Peachtree street.

Miss Dancy will be an attractive visitor at the dinner party to be given by Misses Mary and Anna Calhoun, and on Saturday evening will be honored guest in a party entertained by Dr. Pitkin Calhoun at the Piedmont club.

Wednesday afternoon, April 14, Mrs. J. O. Mathewson will entertain Misses Mary and Anna Calhoun at the Piedmont club.

SILVER BOWLS

Like a quaint silver of the hand-wrought silver of a past age are some of our newest specimens, and the "butler" finish increases this effect of ancient usage.

They form a distinctive line of wedding gift suggestions.

GOLD DUST

For every brightening and cleaning purpose in every home

Gold Dust is used at least three times a day in millions of homes everywhere.

Yet there are many thousands of housewives who think Gold Dust is only for one or two uses—

They would not use anything else but Gold Dust for washing dishes, for example—

Or for scrubbing floors and woodwork, washing windows, etc.

Gold Dust should be used for cleaning and brightening everything.

It is most economical; it is most satisfactory and it is most sanitary.

Cannot scratch or harm any surface, and it will dissolve and remove all dirt and grease.

The active principle of Gold Dust is so remarkably thorough that you rinse away the dirt and grease, leaving a newness, a cleanliness and a brightness which delights.

Gold Dust forces its way into the corners and crevices where neither fingers nor wash-cloth can reach. It truly works for you. Any woman who has washed dishes with Gold Dust knows what that means.

Gold Dust is the leading washing and cleaning powder in the world; it is indispensable once you know it.
