

DR. MEMMINGER INDORSES STAND OF DEAN ATKINSON

Scores Moral Cowards Who Tremble at Mention of Sunday Picture Shows

Dr. W. W. Memminger, rector of All Saints' Episcopal church, the speaker Sunday night at the Forsyth theater, came out vigorously in support of Dean John R. Atkinson, in the dean's recent plea for a "broader, more liberal moral policy" in Atlanta. Dr. Memminger scored the moral cowards who are afraid that the opening of Sunday afternoon picture shows will lead to something worse.

What is left for the poor man's amusement on Sunday? The rich, the well-to-do have their automobiles and they enjoy them, and they should. But to the man of moderate means all is closed.

"The only argument advanced against their opening is that perhaps it may lead to an open Sunday. If the churches keep busy at the urging of the main life, instilling cleanliness into the lives of men, they won't have to get on the street corners, in the mud holes or in the legislatures to make people good. And you can't legislate a people good any way.

And just here let me say that the Episcopal church is not the exclusive minority which so many in the south believe, but by far the largest English-speaking church. Because it does not denounce dancing and card playing and does not pry into politics and personal affairs, some say it's asleep. This is not true. When dancing becomes licentious; when card playing is turned into gambling, then the church does declare them wrong. We believe in temperance. Many things are not bad in themselves, but it is cowardly to be afraid of them. And the churches should denounce what denounces all pleasure and recreation are moral cowards.

The Atkinson is trying to build up a greater, better and nobler method and womanhood. He is a dreamer, a dreamer for our good. Let us stand solidly back of him."

Dean Atkinson is in New York for a short rest. He will return in time to conduct the service next Sunday night at the Forsyth.

JAPANESE NOT BUILDING NAVAL BASE IN MEXICO

Commander Irwin Reports Nothing Going on but Salvaging Stranded Cruiser

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, April 19.—Any doubt that may have existed in the minds of administration officials as to the purpose of Japanese operations on the Gulf of California, it was believed here today, had been set at rest by the report of Commander Noble Irwin, of the cruiser New Orleans, that there were no indications of any plan to construct a naval base on the stranded cruiser. Commander Irwin had been sent to Tule Bay by the navy department to investigate Japanese operations. The Japanese had established a permanent naval base there, and all along had expressed disbelief in the reports that Japan had intended permanent occupation. The Atlanta has been agitated in Tule Bay since December and reports had been that the presence of British ships was being used as a cloak for establishing a permanent base.

THE JOURNAL'S SCHOOL OF BASEBALL Hints for the Young Pitcher—No. 6 BY HUGH FULLERTON

Although the "out" curve has been used both since the spitter, with its combination of out and drop, came in, it's a handy thing for a young pitcher to have. It is the most natural of all the curves, and the most readily learned. Fig. 1 shows the position of the thumb and first finger; the second pair of fingers occupy the position shown in Fig. 2, without too much pressure. Fig. 3 indicates how the ball should leave the hand, being literally snapped out of the grasp by a powerful overhead swing of the arm.

W. E. DENDY IS HEAD OF EIGHTH DISTRICT SCHOOLS

Successful Meet Closes at Washington—Next Convention Goes to Monroe

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) WASHINGTON, Ga., April 19.—The high school meet, which was entered into by a dozen of the cities of the Eighth congressional district, closed its two-days' session here Friday evening with the announcements of the various winners in the literary and athletic contests, with the places for the next meeting and the officers for the ensuing year.

Beginning with the debate Thursday evening, which was entered into by teams from the Greensboro and Raton schools, Greensboro won the first place, taking the negative side of the question that "capital punishment should be abolished." During the interval for the judges to make their decision, Prof. J. B. Stewart, of Athens, head of the secondary schools of Georgia, made a splendid address upon the needs of the schools of today. In the music contest, also a feature of Thursday evening, Miss Kathleen Stanton, of Social Circle, won the medal.

In the morning session Friday the teachers went into executive session, discussing the problems and needs of the schools. Several papers were read, one of which was an able argument by Prof. Robertson, of Greensboro. In the school auditorium the young men from the cities of the district entertained the audience with several declamations. The medal went to Mr. Malcolm Sims, of Washington.

Friday afternoon was indulged in by the students in athletic contests, Washington wrestling the coveted silver cup from Greensboro after one of the most spirited of contests, gaining it by a single point, receiving 27. Athens won third place with a total of 14 points.

At the evening session Friday Miss Mary Payne, of Raton, won the medal for recitation. Misses Pearl Brown, of Union Point, and Ida Holloway, of Luttrell, tied in the spelling contest. In

APRIL 22 TO BE TAG DAY FOR SHELTERING ARMS

Society Will Raise Funds for Support of Five Nurseries maintained in Atlanta

To raise funds for the support of five nurseries in Atlanta, the Sheltering Arms society will hold its annual Tag day Thursday, April 22.

Every year, by selling tags to Atlantians, the many women workers of the society raise funds with which the nurseries are operated. Much good is done by these nurseries, which are in charge of competent matrons assisted by young women who volunteer for the work.

Revels of these young women will cover the city Thursday from West end to Buckhead, and the man who escapes being tagged will do so through hard-heartedness and not because he has been overlooked. The tags can be bought for any sum from one cent up to one million dollars or more, by purchasing a tag, which is pinned upon the coat, the wearer is insured from being asked a second time to contribute to the support of the society.

Mrs. William H. Kiser is president of the Sheltering Arms society, which was founded in 1894 by John Barclay.

Ready writing, Athens carried off the honors, Miss Virginia Newton winning for the girls and Mr. Edward Soule for the boys. Athens also won the loving cup for the greatest number of points in the literary contest, winning 14. Greensboro was next with a total of 11 1/2, and Social Circle third, with 5 1/2.

The next meeting place will be at Monroe. The following officers were named for the ensuing year: W. E. Dendy, Monroe, president; J. B. Duke, Raton, vice president; W. B. Gowan, Covington, secretary and treasurer. These gentlemen, with Prof. Burke, of Madison, and Prof. Perryman, of Washington, will be the executive committee.

Between 150 and 200 delegates and visitors were in attendance.

FIVE PERSONS GRAZED BY DEATH WHEN AUTO PLUNGES OVER A BANK

Miss Kate Badger, of Lebanon, Tenn., Guest of Miss Saphro Thrash, Is in Hospital With Broken Leg

Two young ladies and three young men had a close call Sunday afternoon when the automobile in which they were riding out Collier road threw a front tire on a curve and plunged over a steep embankment.

Miss Kate Badger, of Lebanon, Tenn., who is visiting Miss Saphro Thrash, daughter of Dr. E. C. Thrash, of 15 West Eleventh street, was thrown from the car and her leg was broken. Her injuries were the most serious of all, and she is in the Davis-Fischer sanitarium and is getting on nicely, although she will have to stay in bed several weeks.

Miss Saphro Thrash, the other young lady in the car, also was thrown out, and escaped with cuts and bruises which are not serious. She was taken to the Davis-Fischer sanitarium for medical attention and went home Sunday evening.

The young men in the car were Robert Ingram, son of Dr. R. F. Ingram, at 411 Washington street, who was driving the car, which belongs to his father; his cousin, Laurin Ingram, of Marietta, Ga., and Frank C. Lewis, student of the Atlanta Dental college, who came at the Y. M. C. A.

Robert Ingram, being at the wheel, was not thrown from the car, but was at several places by broken glass on the windshield and was bruised on the abdomen. He was up Monday morning.

Laurin Ingram was thrown out of the car against a telephone pole and was injured unconscious for a few minutes. He came around in time to give assistance to the young ladies, and Miss Lewis was little the worse for the accident.

Frank Lewis, thrown from the car, landed in soft ground and was practically unharmed. He was in school Monday morning.

The car, a new Premier Six, will need a radiator, a new hood, new fenders and a new windshield, while the wheels have to be repaired, but the engine and chassis were not badly damaged.

That the young people escaped with their lives was due to the moderate speed at which Robert Ingram was driving. He was going between twenty and thirty miles an hour, and when the tire blew out he threw the car, held it entirely to the road, and skidded to the outside of the curve, thus avoiding the steep embankment, and all partly on its side against a telephone pole.

DECATUR CHILDREN CLEAN TOWN OF ALL OLD CANS

Nine Thousand Gathered Up in Recent Clean-Up Campaign

The proverbial canine with the can strapped to his tail would flee in horror from the dumping ground of Decatur, should he chance that way, for there are 16,290 cans there that have been gathered by school children during the clean up week.

There are cans of every size and height that were picked up by the school children in their competition for the prizes as offered by the Decatur board of trade. Nine thousand odd cans were gathered by the pupils of the city schools and the Decatur board of trade also offered prizes for pledges secured by local children from cottages of the city.

The board agreed to observe clean up week as profitable as the week set apart by Decatur citizens have decided to change the slogan of clean up into a plan and have inaugurated a permanent cleaning period.

Mr. Nordica's Will Contested

DNEY, New South Wales, April 14.—Charles Hartlett, the American consul at Melbourne, has left for Sydney, Island as a special commissioner for the surrogate's court of the city of New York to examine witnesses.

Madame Nordica drew up a will at Friday Island in 1914. She died at Java, Java, May 14 of that year. The will is being contested by Madame Nordica's husband, George W. Young.

THE OPPORTUNITIES OF AMERICAN BOND BUYERS
By John M. Oakison.

Interest rates will stay up because the extraordinary demand for loans is all the countries involved. The recent issue of bonds amounting to $99,000 was put out by New York City. They bear interest at the rate of 1-2 per cent, and they were sold at a 4.08 per cent basis. Within the next ten years New York state has borrowed money on bonds at a rate of 2.36 per cent.

foreign government (Germany and Switzerland are examples) have lately approximately 6 per cent for money borrowed in New York to pay for war trade supplies bought in this country.

Canada is a heavy borrower in the United States, and during the next year will probably want even more; and most of the money loaned to Canada will get close to 6 per cent re-

competition with the borrowing instruments are the big corporations of country that must raise many millions (a fairly accurate recent estimate is $844,000,000) to meet debts coming due within the year. These will probably have to bid higher than the other governments, and certainly higher than New York state.
That our big corporations have done in the last few years to meet maturing

the foreign governments are largely now to raise money. They are issuing out short term notes, obligations falling due in one, two, or three years. Also, many of our corporations are paying their short-term notes by putting out more of the same sort. All this must mean that for three years at least there will not be any slackening of demand for capital. This is the investor's harvest time.

me when the rewards of the thrifty er are ample to encourage him. What ey he has on hand may find profit-employment in safe loans (bonds).
it is likely that an extra reward will ate for a number of years to come.
