CRITICS OF POLICE MUST GO ON WITNESS STANDPeople Quoted in Papers to Be Subpoenaed Before Police Board's Committee

Every person who has criticised the Atlanta police department in the news papers will be subpoenaed to appear before the committee of the police board and give the committee his or her reasons for such criticism.

Every person who is known by the committee to have expressed criticism of the department in private conversation with the subcommittee to appear and give the reasons for such criticism.

Every person who is a member of the police committee who carries the horses, will be subpoenaed to appear and tell the committee what he thinks the department is efficient or inefficient, and if so why.

In short, the committee is going to get every person who has criticised the department and is going to hear to the last, "Let the chips fall where they may."

All meetings of the committees will be in executive session, so that persons appearing before the committee can feel safe in what they say, and tell the committee what they think, without fear of embarrassing consequences.

The committee is determined to stand by its power to make and use of its power to issue subpoenas.

Mr. CRUCKSHANK, the police chief, has been interviewed at his office before the committee, and given only two acceptances of his criticism—e. g., Dr. Horace Grant and Dr. Kilburn, the committee decided to stand by its power to make and use of its power to issue subpoenas.

WILL COMPTEL WITNESSER

In other words, the committee decided that the people who are giving the police department a hard time will not voluntarily come and say why and wherein the department is not what it is, when they shall be compelled to come.

Dr. Grant's criticism of the department was laid by him before the committee Wednesday night, and was that the department should put up to the public a sign of plumbing out of your house. He made the assertion that $50,000 of plumbing had been stolen in the last month. He refused to be cross-examined by Chief Beavers on any member of the police force. In the end he said he has his way, (But every person here has his way,) and he will appear, the committee determined Wednesday night, will be put on the stand.

Earl M. Jones, critic of the department, said that it is given to complaints from people who report that their neighborhood are disorderly. He said that the police have made repeated complaints to the police force, and that on one occasion Chief Beavers told him he would do something.

After hearing from these witnesses the committee went into executive session. In a few minutes the session was adjourned, and the reporters heard Chief Beavers' answer to Mr. Jones' charge that the chief called him a crook. The answer was that he never used such language.

Then the committee went back in executive session, and upon the above stated program for conducting the investigation.

LETTER FROM CRUCKSHANK

A letter from Mr. Cruckshank, the police chief, describing the department's work, and citing the shortcomings of his officers, was read as evidence in an illustration of the inefficiency of the department, and the inefficiency of the department, and the inefficiency of the department.

The letter will come up again either this afternoon or tomorrow, when it is to go on record, and will either have to be withdrawn or will either have to be withdrawn.

Wardlaw says the letter is of a general nature, and that the committee will give it due consideration, when it is read.

The committee did not read Mr. Cruckshank's letter Wednesday night, as it was occupied with other matters, but will read it on Friday.

The letter, like all other communications, will be read in full, and will be considered.

The committee decided to stand by its power to make and use of its power to issue subpoenas.

Mr. Cruckshank in his letter is reported to have said that the situation in Atlanta is desperate as the result of the inefficiency of the department.

Mr. Cruckshank complains that his station is the most frequented in the city, and Fryor says a three-fourths glass door, yet it was robbed, while lights were burning in the store and on the street in front of it.

FEDERATION OF LABOR
FACES LIQUOR QUESTION

Resolution Opposing Strengthening of Present Prohibition Law is Introduced

(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
COLUMBUS, Ga., April 22.—An attempt was made this morning, in the convention of the Georgia Federation of Labor to pass a resolution framed by those alleged to be interested in the liquor traffic, which would make the Federation go on record as against the extension of the Georgia prohibition, as it now stands.

On the motion of Delegate Hollingsworth, of Augusta, and the backing of L. J. Kilburn, chairman of the committee, which recommended the adoption of the resolution, the motion was ordered reconsidered and withdrawn at a later time.

Kilburn stated that he had opposed to anything against prohibition, and that the recommendation went over his head.

The master will come up again either this afternoon or tomorrow, when it is to go on record, and will either have to be withdrawn or will either have to be withdrawn.

"MILL" PROPRIETOR SUES
DR. J. L. WHITE FOR LIBELA. K. Jones Asks $20,000 Damages For Alleged Remarks Against Theater

ASKING $20,000 DAMAGES FOR LIBEL.

Mr. W. A. Jones, proprietor of the Mill theater, Atlanta, Georgia, brought suit in the Superior Court of Fulton County against Dr. J. L. White, pastor of the Tabernacle.

The alleged statements of Dr. White were made in a sermon Sunday and published in the "Daily World" on Monday.

Dr. White is alleged to have accused the Mill as a place "indecent and vulgant."

Jones characterized in his suit Dr.

White's statements as defamatory, false and untrue, and asks actual and punitive damages.

The three nurses are Miss Mabel

Tucker, Miss Margaret Walter, Sister

Mary White.

The three nurses had gone up to the line of trenches during a period of quiet, and were asked by an officer to go to the front trenches to see what was going on. They found a sudden artillery attack by the enemy, and several Belgians were killed and wounded.

King Albert, in pinned the decoration of the day, and made a speech saying, "We are women."

The women were killed in the present war.

Then, and Now.

While Atlanta's bank clearings and postal receipts move upward, its record of bankruptcy shows an equally encouraging decline. From the first to the fifteenth of October last forty-eight bankruptcy petitions were filed in the Federal court, fourteen being mercantile.During the same period of the present month there were only fourteen petitions, and of those only four were mercantile. For the first fifteen days of last April, there were nineteen cases, of which a majority were mercantile. Measured by this standard, therefore, business conditions are not only sounder than they were last autumn but also sounder than at this time a year ago. Mr. Frederick L.
Beers, clerk of the bankruptcy division of the Federal court, to whom The Journal is indebted for these interesting figures, observes that even during the period of sharpest stress incident to the war there was no big failure, "nothing to compare with 1907, for instance," and he adds:"Reports show a similar falling off in bankruptcy cases at Athens, Rome and Columbus. It is also significant that in the same time, mercantile bankruptcies nearly all bankrupts are offering 'compositions,' which is another word for settlement. To offer a composition, the bankrupt must be in a position to pay the majority of his creditors cash for their claims."The dangers and uncertainties of eight months ago are past. Business breathes freely again and moves with normal stride. Throughout the nation, forces of prosperity are astir and nowhere are they more manifest than in the South.He who steals plumbing steals about the most costly thing there is.The buy-a-bale movement may now appropriately be converted into a sell-a-bale movement—at ten cents per.We are informed that grand opera will be a financial success. And yet there was talk last fall about the solid south being broke.

The Two Roads.

It is doubtful that any subject, since the days when Noah made ready to sail, has begotten more advice and conjecture than the South's cotton acreage for 1915. The time is at hand, however, when discussion will give way to proof. Everyone is watching the farmer—merchants, bankers, manufacturers and great interests in distant corners of America and of the world; and on what the farmer does a vast deal of economic history will depend. "There are two roads open to him," says the Moultrie Observer, which is always a spokesman for the farmer's wife. "He can plant a small cotton acreage and be assured of good prices next fall, or he can plant a large acreage and take a chance.""Every day the reports come from the cotton exchanges in New Orleans and New York that the traders are keeping a close watch on the farmer.
The bull market is not static, but tends to be a small acreage and are trying to above all prices higher. The bears are claiming that they have information from the cotton belt that farmers will plant their usual cotton acreage and they are pressing the market down. It will not be many weeks before it will be definitely determined what the farmers will do. If there is the usual acreage the world will know it and the bears will have the market their own way. If there is a small acreage the world will know it and the bulls will run away with the market."The danger to the farmer is that he will conclude that other farmers are going to cut their acreage and so force a downward movement for him to make a big crop and get a good price.This assumption comes to all of us and if they all take a shot at the big crop they will all suffertogether next fall. And then they will accuse the speculators of forcing down the price of cotton."A planter cannot control the sun and the rain; he cannot control the affairs of warring kingdoms across the sea; but he can control his own cotton acreage to the extent of keeping it within reasonable bounds.We are perfectly neutral in this war; we don't care how it ends and we shan't celebrate with the winner or condole with the loser.The news dispatches say that Colonel Roosevelt poured the deck, fumbled with his watch chain and in other ways behaved in his old-time statesmanlike manner.

America First.

Every line of President Wilson's speech to the members of the Associated Press is memorable, but the following passage rings with peculiar power:"Let us think of America before we think of Europe, in order that America may be fit to be Europe's tested friend when the day of tested friendship comes. The basis of neutrality is not indifference; it is not self interest. The basis of neutrality is sympathy for mankind. It is fairness; it is good-will at bottom; it is importance of spirit and of judgment."It is in no spirit of selfishness that the President sounds the motto, "America First." There are, to be sure, very urgent reasons of self-interest, business interest now and in the years ahead, that should constrain us to genuine neutrality. We shall go on living in a world in which all the Powers now at war will play a part; we shall have to deal with them everywhere, it behoves us, therefore, to deal with them all impartially at this time.But there is a higher interest at stake. It is America's interest in serving the cause of civilization, the cause of mankind; and to the degree that we keep our heads now, we shall be able to ennable our place in history by serving all Europe in the future.The main libel about the Roosevelt-Barnes suit is in calling such a tame affair a libel.

Another Ghost Is Laid.

"Hiss! The Japanese are establishing a naval base in the waters of Lower California. Turtle Bay is a warm with their battleships. They are mining the harbor and building camps ashore. They are preparing to attack Los Angeles and San Francisco."This terrible secret laid bare some weeks ago by yellow journals and eagerly devoured by persons who are never happy unless they are jingoistic was so persistently harped upon that Washington decided to investigate. The report of the naval authorities, who made a searching study of the situation consists of three short sentences: "The Asama is still aground in San Bartolome Bay. The only vessels present are one repair ship and two colliers. There are no indications, of either salvaging work."

Thus the latest "Yellow Peril" is to thin air.

The Asama, a Japanese cruiser, ran aground last December. Ordinary methods of floating her having failed, Japan sent a small naval salvage corps to her assistance, and the difficult task proceeded.

Thereupon the yellow journals put on their yellowed glasses, and straightway the repair ship and the two colliers multiplied to a hostile squadron. The fact that the Asama was to thin air.

OPERA SUCCESS CERTAIN; DIRECTORS ARE PLEASED

Plenty of Good Seats Left but They're Going Fast—But Few Days Remain

The grand opera season which begins next Friday night is an assured financial success, and there is no chance, barring providential reasons, that the guarantors will be called upon to pay a dollar. The directors of the Atlanta Music Festival association have audited the financials, found the receipts satisfactory, and given out the following statement:

"With the opening of the Metropolitan grand opera season in Atlanta, now only six days distant, we are gratified to be able to assure our dear friends that the advance sales are such as to indicate beyond any reasonable doubt the financial success of the 1915 season."

"In view of general business conditions we feel that this will be a notable season for the arts, and for the whole south, which has come generously forward as in past years to patronize this great annual event."

"The present good seats for separate performances remaining, but they are selling rapidly, and when the advance sales are deducted, there will not be many good locations left. Season tickets, at their reduced price, can no longer be had, and full price is being charged for individual tickets."

"Opera tickets may be purchased this evening at the music stores of the Phillips & Clegg Co., and the Cable Piano company, but the boxes will close there on Saturday. The advance sales transferred Monday to the auditorium. Booths will be opened in the windows of Taft Hall, and the public is invited to walk so there will be no lag in the entrance. Tickets laid aside to be called for later may be paid for and taken at the box office on Saturday."

Operagoers are reminded again to-day that performances will open at 2 o'clock, and that the doors will close at 8 p.m. and positively no late comers will be admitted until the close of the first act. The doors will open at 10 minutes of the opera mark the entrances of the stars, and come therefore immediately to the auditorium. Those who fail to arrive early will miss some of the most important numbers.

The Metropolitan company will arrive Monday morning on three trains, leaving New York at 10 a.m. after the close of the season there on Saturday night. Several of the principals who do not sing at the closing performances will be in Atlanta on Sunday. Geraldine Farrar, who appears first, "Wardrobe," on Wednesday night, is expected to arrive on Wednesday morning.

Reservations at the theater are so heavy that every room is filled to the opera house. Visitors are coming from every state in the south, and large parties are being made up in New Orleans, Birmingham, Nashville and in several Georgia cities.

COLQUITT MERCHANT IS HELD ON CHARGE OF ARSON

A. C. Bailey Accused by Employee—Four Fires in One Week Stir Community

COLQUITT, Ga., April 22.—About 8 o'clock the grocery store of A. C. Bailey was discovered on fire. During the fire the night watchman saw a white man, a negro woman, a negro, Fred Brown, on a bicycle and at the mucky court today Willie Colquitt confessed to having set fire to Bailey's store with the assistance of the negro. When asked why he did it, he said he was hired by Bailey to do the store work for $10 and the gift of a bicycle which Bailey used to deliver groceries.

Bailey, who had been left in his car and was stopped at Bainbridge, twenty miles south of here and brought back here, was given $100. His house is $1,000 which was promptly made and all three were bound over to the grand jury. The first of the four fires was the fourth fire within a week to occur at Colquitt, all of the other fires were set by the negro.

The G. F. & A. depot was burned, an ice house set fire and put out, an ice store set fire and plow tools, a horse and cow.

MISIONARY WORK IN MEXICO HAS SUFFERED

Woman's Council of M. E. Church Hears Reports on Chaotic Conditions

Associated Press.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 22.—Missionary work in Mexico almost has been abandoned as the result of the chaotic conditions there, it was learned. Reports made here today to the Women's Misionary Council of the Methodist church in Little Rock, Ark., stated that nearly the entire missionary force of the church had left Mexico, considering it no longer safe there.

Appropriations thus far have been made for mission work in Korea, Japan, India, China, Persia, the Balkan states, excepting Florida, Mexican work in Texas, mountain missions in America, and the work of the Foreign Missions of the Scarritt Bible college of Kansas City. These items total nearly $200,000.

BACK TO THE FARM FOR JOBLESS URGES MARKS

Stirring Report Made by Labor Head Held at Columbus Meeting

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

COLUMBUS, Ga., April 22.—President S. B. Marks, of the Georgia Federation of Labor, makes some sweeping recommendations in his annual report to the convention in session in Columbus this week. He urges the adoption of a plan providing for semi-monthly instead of weekly pay days; for an inspector in all cotton mills to see that the child labor acts are enforced to a letter; a law to prohibit the use of child apprentices; for alleged infractions of rules and other measures in the interest of organized labor, and he urges that closer relations be established between the Farmers and the State's Farmers.

He also urges the formation of a bureau of labor statistics to take care of the unemployed.

He had much to say of the subject of the child labor laws, and declared that the "back to the farm" movement would be the thing for these people, and if relations between the laborers and the employer returned to the farm during the past year, where they had "made good."

The report is full of interesting data and suggestions for betterment in the world of labor. It is of interest to labor, to the special interest to laborers, and to the people generally. It causes much comment in the convention hall following its reading.

HOT RACE FOR PRESIDENT.

The second day's session of the big convention has been devoted largely to routine work and much business was transacted. Early in the day it developed that Dr. W. O. McCarney, of Atlanta, was to be the leading candidate for the next presidency, the leading candidates being L. P. Marquardt, of Atlanta, and G. O. O'Farrell, of Macon. Dr. McCarney announced that President Marks would not accept the office again for another term, and friends of both men, who are well-known labor leaders, are active in their behalf and both claim a majority of the eligible voters. Some are still insisting that President Marks will be re-elected, but it is stated that he will insist on retiring at this time. The election will be held May 12.

NO STAR CHAMBER' SESSIONS.

It was announced early in the convention that no Star Chamber sessions would be held, that all business of the organization would be public and that the members would be invited to attend. It has been the custom of this and other similar organizations to hold executive sessions for the members, but the visitors have been completed and its resolution will show the hard work which went into the preparation.

SOCIAL FEATURE.

An interesting and enjoyable feature of yesterday afternoon was an automobile ride over Columbus and surrounding country.

The tour of the baseball park, where the visitors were entertained with the Columbus and Jacksonville teams. ## STOPS FALLING HAIR

This Home Made Mixture Stops Dandruff and Falling Hair and Aids Its Growth.

To a half pint of water add:

Bay Rum ..... 1 oz.
Barb Compound ..... 1 small box
Glycerine ..... 1-4 oz.

These are all simple ingredients that you can get at any drug store very easily, and mix them yourself, and put to the scalp once a day for two weeks, and every other week until the dandruff is gone. It should be enough to rid the head of dandruff and kill the dandruff germ.

Although it is not a dye, it acts upon the hair roots and will darken streaked hair, and when used every day it promotes the growth of hair and makes harsh hair soft and glossy.
