Atlanta Writers' Club

The Atlanta Writers' club held an interesting meeting on Monday afternoon, the program being devoted to club talent.

Miss Mary Brent Whiteside, who is having poems published in the leading magazines, read an original poem entitled "And David Danced." Mr. Malcolm Vaughan sent a poem to be read at the club meeting, entitled, "1917: The Wounded." Mr. Vaughan is leaving soon with an ambulance corps for France.

Mrs. Charles Davis read a poem of the hour, "To Thee—America, My Boy." A copy of this timely poem has been sent to President Wilson by the Daughters of the Confederacy.

Mrs. Roberts, of Kirkwood, read an original story, "The Cat's Back," the plot one of mining setting. Miss Lulu Vollmer read a one-act play entitled, "June," that has been produced in New York. "June" is a story of North Carolina mountain life and is well executed in plot, sustaining the atmosphere of plot and locale.

Miss Bret Harte has returned to Atlanta and is organizing a class in short story writing. An invitation was extended the Writers' club to take advantage of joining Miss Bret Harte's class.

Miss White Entertained

Two pretty parties were given Tuesday in compliment to Miss Lula Woods White, a charming bride elect.

Mrs. Oscar Palmour was hostess at a beautiful luncheon at 1 o'clock at her home in College Park. The tasteful decorations of the drawing room and reception hall, where the guests assembled, were of pink and white sweet peas. The daintily appointed luncheon table was graced with a large basket of sweet peas in the center, with two smaller baskets of the same fragrant flowers at each end. The handsome silver candelabra were shaded in pink and the place cards were hand-painted kewpie dollies bearing original toasts to the bride elect.

A large white cake, embossed in pink sweet peas, which was placed in front of the bride, contained silver bridal souvenirs.

Miss White wore a smart white satin sport suit with a becoming white hat, and the hostess was gowned in taupe georgette crepe richly embroidered.

Mrs. J. L. Ward and Miss Elva Crenshaw assisted in entertaining.

The guests were Miss White, Miss Mary de Garmo and Miss Marjorie de Garmo, of St. Louis; Miss Theodosia Williamson, Miss Dodo White, Miss Essie Roberts, of Fairburn, Miss Eleanor Sheaton, Mrs. Ashby Hill and Miss Claudia Potter, of Patterson, N. J.

Miss Essie Roberts, of Fairburn, entertained at a pretty tea later in the afternoon at the Piedmont club. The table, arranged on the terrace, had as central decoration a large basket filled with gladioli and sweet peas, and the guests included the bride elect and her attendants.

Flag Day to be Observed By Atlanta D. A. R.

Carrying out the annual custom of celebrating Flag day, the Atlanta chapter Daughters of the American Revolution will present an interesting program on Thursday afternoon, June 14th, at 4 o'clock.

The members of the Joseph Habersham and Piedmont Continental chapters will be special guests for the afternoon, and Mrs. Charles P. Rice, regent, has arranged a most delightful program.

The visiting and local military, the Daughters of the Confederacy, the Woman's Relief corps, Grand Army of the Republic veterans, Children of the Confederacy, Children of the Revolution, Boy Scouts, officers and their wives at Fort McPherson and others interested are invited to be present.

Before the address of Dr. Thornwell Jacobs on "The Flag," the Boy Scouts will give the pledge to our flag.

In the celebration of Flag day the Daughters of the American Revolution are anxious for every one who is interested to be present. The exercises will commence at 4 o'clock and will be at the Atlanta chapter house on Piedmont avenue.

Reception to Mrs. Brown

Mr. M. T. Toney entertained the members of the Woman's Pioneer society at a reception Tuesday afternoon, from 3:30 to 6 o'clock at her new home on North Boulevard in compliment to her mother, Mrs. M. L. Brown.

The decorations were quantities of ferns and daisies arranged in the rooms where the guests were entertained.

Miss Mamie Brown assisted in receiving and Mrs. J. W. Moore and Miss Jimmie Bones served punch.

Military Dance on Roof Garden Was Beautiful Event

Appropriate and patriotic souvenirs contributed to the beautiful military dance held on the roof garden of the Capital City club Monday evening, which was attended by General Leonard A. Wood and Mrs. Wood, prior to their departure for Charleston late in the evening following a day spent in Atlanta.

General and Mrs. Wood were honor guests in a group entertained by Mr. and Mrs. James D. Robinson, the party seated on the outer edge of the roof directly under the large flag of the Stars and Stripes. Three large bowls filled with red, white and blue carnations formed the artistic centerpiece of the table, each caught at the base with a bow of tulle in the patriotic colors.

Each small table held the same flower decorations and the guests were presented with paper hats in red, white and blue, and the ices were served in holders showing the national emblem.

A feature of entertainment was the artistic dancing of Miss Annie May Coleman and Miss Gertrude Kelly, who won the enthusiastic applause of those present.

Among the many guests attending were Colonel Charles R. Noyes and Mrs. Noyes, Colonel John T. Van Orsdale and Mrs. Van Orsdale, Adjutant General J. Hearing is Completed On Increase in Rates

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The interstate commerce commission today completed hearings on the 15 per cent increase asked by railroads of the country to become effective July 1.

With less than three weeks in which to make a decision involving a sum estimated by shippers at $300,000,000, the commission has before it for review hundreds of letters, telegrams and briefs, as well as a great mass of testimony, arguments and statistics.

Today's arguments were made by counsel for the western railroads.

R., are requested to attend the Flag day exercises.

Marines, Directed by Daughter of France, to Appear in Special Drill

Atlanta, though an inland town, will witness the marines in action this week.

A squad of "soldiers of the sea," clad in full dress uniform, will perform a series of their most spectacular drills on the stage of the Grand theater Thursday and Friday nights of this week in the interest of marine week.

An extra-added attraction of the drill performances will be the participation of a Frenchwoman, on whose native soil the drillers will soon be fighting, and who will take command of the squad for a number of snappy drills.

Liane Carrera, daughter of Anna Held, and herself a stage celebrity, who was born and reared in France, will, to the tune of "The Marsellaise," put the "soldiers of the sea" through a series of special drills. She will be attired in French costume.

The Grand drills will be held under the command of Sergeant Ernest E. Galloway, and the squad will be composed of the marines who are stationed in Atlanta to conduct recruiting.

Patriotic Women Selling Liberty Bonds

The patriotic women in the three Atlanta chapters under the leadership of Mrs. Charles F. Rice, Mrs. W. F. Dykes, Mrs. Minnie E. Hogan, regents, and Mrs. T. T. Stevens, president, and Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith, chairman, are doing splendid work in the sale of Liberty bonds.

Mrs. S. W. Foster, vice president general of the D. A. R., made addresses in Valdosta and Moultrie during the past week and her report of the sale in south Georgia is very encouraging.

Mrs. J. E. Hays, of Montezuma, who holds important offices in all three states organizations, the D. A. R., U. D. C. and federation, has organized the women of Montezuma and sends in a splendid report of this town. Mrs. Hays was appointed in the central committee by Mrs. P. J. McGovern, the general chairman for the southeastern section.

Mrs. McGovern as one of the prominent club women in Georgia, is in close touch with the working forces and her telegrams have aroused all organizations and many are busy in the interest of Liberty bonds.

Mrs. Thomas Polk, state regent, has communicated with Mrs. Howard McCall who was appointed as chairman of D. A. R. by Mrs. McGovern for the southeastern section, saying that every chapter in Tennessee had been reached by letter and all were enthusiastic.

Mrs. Richard P. Spencer, vice regent in Georgia, reports the sale of many Liberty bonds in Columbus through the activities of the women.

Reports from Mrs. John D. Green in Cuthbert show that every member of her chapter has already invested.

The community bond idea of Mrs. P. W. Godfrey was taken up by the city federation on Monday when $100 was raised for Tallulah Falls school.

Mrs. J. Hansell Merrill, regent of D. A. R., of Thomasville, and Mrs. Z. I. Fitzpatrick, former president of the federation, report activity among the organizations and the women who are doing splendid work.

Frank Trial Juror Is Sued for Divorce; Drunkenness Charged

Frederick V. L. Smith, a well-known manufacturers' agent who was a member of the jury that convicted Leo M. Frank, is being sued for divorce by his wife, Mrs. May Belle Smith.

Mrs. Smith's petition, filed Monday, alleges that he has been habitually intoxicated, threatening her and mistreating her. She says they separated last September.

Mr. Smith was known during the trial of Frank as "the bridegroom juror." He had been married but a short while at that time, the summer of 1913, and Mrs. Smith frequently attended the sessions of the trial.

BEAUTY AND TALENT IN "LA DANSE DE VIE"

One of the outstanding features of "La Danse de Vie" at the Atlanta theater Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock will be the individual work of several solo dancers who have frequently been seen by Atlanta audiences and enjoy a reputation for unusual grace and skill. In this fantastic performance of interpretative dancing and pantomime, which will be given for the benefit of the local Red Cross workrooms, one of the most charming figures to appear will be Miss Anna Mae Coleman, who is an exquisite type of petite blonde beauty and dances with an equal lightness of heart and of foot like a veritable fairy sprite. Miss Coleman's versatility will be displayed in several leading parts.

Miss Gertrude Kelly and Miss Jennie Johnson, who are recognized as dancers of rare ability, and whose work blends delightfully, will apear together as "Ponchinellos" in the carnival scene, and another spirited impersonation will be that of Miss Tinsley Harrison as "Folly." Miss Harrison exhibits a refreshing quality of animation, and brings to her interpretations a degree of intelligence and sympathy that distinguishes her art in every instance.

Miss Sara Wagstaff, one of Mrs. Spiker's most talented pupils, will take several prominent parts and her costumes are among the most artistic that have been designed for this production. Miss Frances Ellis, also wearing a number of charming costumes, will appear in several beautiful scenes, and others whose talents will contribute largely to the success of the performance will be little Miss Margaret Cochran and Franklin Carter who will impersonate "Jack and Jill Frost," in costume of novel design. Miss Margaret Vaughan, whose dancing will be featured in two unusual numbers; Miss Ruby Terrell, Miss Mary Garnett, Miss Elizabeth Little, Miss Frances Powell and little Miss Margaret Van Epps, a dainty and bewitching "Cupid."

The "God of War" will be impersonated by Mr. Stanley B. Mathewson, in a striking pantomime scene of the "Memorial to Americans Fallen in France." Miss Evelyn Lovett will appear as "Peace," and the "Dance of Peace," by Miss Regina Rambo will be an impressive detail of the last act. The representation of "Columbia" by Miss Adrienne Battey will be the concluding number of the program.

Many a man would be glad of an opportunity to pose as a retired captain of industry on half pay.

Hair Often Ruined By Washing With Soap

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—(Advt.)

When the Baby Can't Sleep

It's in the long, peaceful hours of sleep that your baby grows. When he can't sleep something is wrong. Probably his food is wrong.

Perhaps his little system is desperately struggling with the heavy curd of raw cows' milk, meant for the four big stomachs of a calf—not for the one tiny stomach of your baby.

Your baby will sleep as he should and grow as he should if you give him the food he needs.

Nurse him if you can. If you can't, give him the nearest thing in the world to mother's milk—

Nestlé's Food

(A complete milk food—not a milk modifier)

Because it has fresh cows' milk as a basis, it contains all the good that cows' milk contains.

Because all the dangers are removed, the tough curd modified and other baby needs added, it is just what your baby requires to build a healthy body.

Because it is purified and carefully watched in process—and reduced to a powder—and it comes to you in an air-tight can—it is as free from germs as mother's milk itself.

It is a complete food for your baby—you add only water and boil.

Remember, it is raw cows' milk that so often brings germs of diphtheria, scarlet fever and summer complaint to your baby. Keep those deadly germs away from him. Keep him safe on NESTLÉ'S FOOD.
