Frank A. Hooper, in Opening Speech for the Prosecution, Declares That Frank Must Have Killed Mary Phagan or Sat Nearby and Permitted a Negro to Attack Her

He Declares Conditions at Factory Were a Terrible Temptation "to a Man With Little Conscience and a Great Lust"—Scores Defense for Not Cross-Examining State's Character Witnesses

In a eloquent speech, replete with word pictures, sometimes sarcastic, sometimes pathetic, some times humorous, Attorney General Reuben Arnold, Thursday morning opened the prosecution for the conviction of Frank Phagan, for the murder of Mary Phagan.

Mr. Hooper began his speech by referring to the jury as the men who were seeking a verdict of guilty upon the defendant named Phagan, and that the state cheerfully assumed the burden of proving the charge. "That man," he said, "is a man who has been indicted for the murder of a young girl, and we are simply seeking to find out whether the evidence is sufficient to convict him."

Mr. Hooper stated the conditions at the factory at the time of the murder, and that the state cheerfully assumed the burden of proving the charge. "That man," he said, "is a man who has been indicted for the murder of a young girl, and we are simply seeking to find out whether the evidence is sufficient to convict him."

With Impeachment Threatening Georgia Judge, His State Congressmen Confer in Regard to Probable Action

GEORGIAN TO TAKE FIRST IMPEACHMENT STEPS

Final Action by Delegation Will Be Deferred Owing to Illness of Congressman Bartlett and Edwards

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The most important step in the case of Chief Justice Stone, who is charged with impeachment, will be taken by the Georgia delegation to the House of Representatives today.

Mr. Hooper stated the conditions at the factory at the time of the murder, and that the state cheerfully assumed the burden of proving the charge. "That man," he said, "is a man who has been indicted for the murder of a young girl, and we are simply seeking to find out whether the evidence is sufficient to convict him."

Although Frank A. Hooper on left and Attorney Reuben R. Arnold on right, Mr. Hooper for the state made the opening speech in the Frank trial. He spoke for hours and if necessary, Mr. Arnold, for the defense, had spoken but forty minutes with every remark. He is expected to speak during the greater part of the afternoon session.

FIGHT FOR THAW'S FREEDOM POSTPONED TO NEXT WEDNESDAY

Writ of Habeas Corpus Applied for by Thaw's Lawyers Will Be Tried in Canadian Court at That Time

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The fight for the freedom of the late Senator Thaw, who is confined in the Federal House of Detention, will be postponed until next Wednesday.

Mr. Hooper stated the conditions at the factory at the time of the murder, and that the state cheerfully assumed the burden of proving the charge. CAROLA INNER-PLAYER Facts

CAROLA INNER-PLAYER Pianos are made in their entirety in one great plant. It is the plant of the world's greatest manufacturers of Pianos and INNER-PLAYER Pianos.

Most Players are assembled instruments. CAROLA INNER-PLAYER Pianos are not only not assembled, but their makers go a step further than other Player makers. For they make their own metal parts, and they design and build the special machinery on which these parts are made, in order to secure the greatest accuracy and precision.

Greater strength is necessary in a CAROLA INNER-PLAYER than in an Upright Piano. One is used and enjoyed by all, while the other is only occasionally played.

And so the makers do not use an ordinary piano case and insert the Player in it, as is commonly done. They build the CAROLA INNER-PLAYER from top to bottom to meet the special requirements of an instrument sure to be in constant demand.

CAROLA INNER-PLAYER Pianos are equipped with every device necessary to give you a perfect command of musical expression. Most of these are exclusive, patented devices found only in the pianos carried on our floor.

Come in and investigate this perfected type of Player in a line so complete as to afford you the best opportunity for making satisfactory comparisons.

Fight for Second Place Starts With the Montgomery Series

HANK COULD ALMOST SEE THE CHINK'S FINISH -- BY FAREN

THE SPORTLIGHT BY GRANTLAND RICE

SONG OF THE CITIES

Bobson, Madison, Governor, Newcomb and Tye, tomorrow, your South won't be the first to see you. From your eyes took a pop at Cincinnati.

There was written, Bobson, The song with melody, Under still your flag up out, Governor and Tye, But if you should ever see, From your eyes took a pop at Cincinnati.

The Chinks have established their third consecutive reign of National League Baseball. But protesting their Kampee against the assistance of Baker and Collins or Jackson and Laddie may involve added details and call for another year.

The Phillies, shooting at the Chinks on beyond them, failed to prevent their own defeat. And before they knew what had happened a third year was in their startled midst, hatching and hatching their own brains.

At the time they had turned to top Joe the Cubs, the Chinks had already been beaten by the Phillies. The Phillies had won the game, while a peasant ball club was in its position to wind and fire in several given direction. For even the leviety ball-ender has been known to rise up against the leader before said leader knew that a battle was on.

THE MANAGERIAL TROT

Joe Tucker and Frank Chance are fast with Reds and Yankees, but Frank Chance won four pennants with another club. Where would Tucker have finished leading the old Cubs, or the Athletics?

Alford Jones has been called a bats as a leader, yet he is not beyond Fred Clarke, another one of the greatest of the game, with a ball club picked to win a pennant.

What's the answer?

Also, Mike Mitchell, a free with the Cubs, is a wonder with the Phillies. Leads a front with the Cubs, but with the Chinks he leads his league in runs. From one winning one out of four with the Reds, but with the Chinks, he leads the league in runs, and with the Phillies and Cardinals, he leads the league in runs and breaks up a clean, beautiful, home run from the Phillies, in the leading strike in the season.

What's the answer?

One suggestion might be entertained. There is an such probability in the game as there is in the world of interest. The average athlete is fairly well equipped with intelligence, and when this intelligence organizes a structure, nothing but a short will repair the lack.

In addition to those cases mentioned we have an idea that Mathematics, Wagner, Jackson and a few others would still be fairly good ball players if set down in the South Sea islands. "Only all the ball," says a certain philosopher.

"All this logic can do," advances one exchange, "is to hit the ball. Which is that much more than several others can do who are only good and such, with the game of the ball." "Only all the ball," says a certain philosopher.

Wagner, six days in the past, picked up fourteen hits for twenty-four bases, advancing from 299 to 316. He is the same bloke who carried the National war cry to Fred Clarke at Philadelphia. "But, why don't you see that big Dutch bloke and get some one who can hit the ball." Which is another answer as to why Philadelphia is no better than South.

Recovering From Hazards

GOLF

Severe Test For Golfers

If all golf consisted of hitting the balls down to the lower end of the hole from behind, then, from variety of leather, clubs or new before. Then, fast greens, the same would not be so interesting as it is. However, there is a certain amount of variety in the game, and it is this variety that makes it so interesting. The game is not so much a test of strength as it is a test of skill. The player who can hit the ball with the most accuracy and with the least effort is the one who will win. The game is a test of skill, and it is this skill that makes it so interesting. The player who can hit the ball with the most accuracy and with the least effort is the one who will win. The game is a test of skill, and it is this skill that makes it so interesting.
