STEALING THE REPUTATION

"ATLANTA MADE" GOODS

The FIRST MONCRIEF FURNACE ever made was made in Atlanta in 1898. It is the only furnace manufactured in the South and was originated by Mr. S. P. MONCRIEF. Hundreds of these furnaces have been placed in Atlanta homes, and the owners have all been pleased, not only because they are buying "Made in Atlanta" furnaces, but because they are as good value as can be found anywhere in the frade.

This business has grown until there are now more than 125 people in Atlanta dependent for their support on the manufacture of these furnaces.

NOW comes the T. E. Henry Furnace Co., of Cleveland, Ohio, and establishes a branch in Atlanta, on Walton Street.

on Walton Street.

We welcome homest competition as do all Atlanta manufacturers, BUT these people are trying to STEAL the name "MONCRIEF" as well as the business which has been built up. They are represented by R. A. JONES, who is stating that he is with the original Monerief Co., and that the firm is no longer on South Pryor Street, but is now on Walton Street.

IT IS NOTHING BUT A PLAIN STEAL. REMEMBER THAT THE ORIGINAL FIRM, MANUFACTURING THESE FURNACES IN ATLANTA, is the

Aun. Patry Ponitry Feed C. SAN PRANCISCO, CAL. April 19, 1913
Gentlemen.—My neighbor, Mr Townsen, formerly of Georgia, has a most beautiful flock of pountry. I never saw healthier, thirftier birds in my life, and the way he gets oggs is a sight. He tells me he reeds nothing but Ann Patry. Of course he keeps his premises clean, and his heas free of insects; so do i, and while I also use a mash, yet my poultry do not look a well nor have I been able to get results that ty neighbor does. Hence I have arrived at the conclusion that thing in its manufacture that the other mashes do not possess, and perhaps it is this special ingredient that orings the results. Any way I have cardied to try it and will thank you to either advise where I have cardied to try it and will thank you to either advise where I row memphis in ton lots.

A BETTER HOME

DOES your home give you all the comfort and satisfaction you would LIKE?

THERE'S a big difference in homes. Some have the cozy, inviting atmosphere which makes men want to hurry back. Others are pleasant enough, but they lack something.

pleasant enough, but they lack something.
THOSE little touches that make houses cozy and "home-like" are not hard to attain.
They are not the expensive things. A new chair with the right atmosphere here, a new dresser, a new davenport, a new sideboard, a new china cabinet, a new table—just a few things and your home is transformed. All these and lots of other good things can b lad at Ed Matthews & Co. from 15 to 25 per

Do You Want a Home?

At the corner of St. Charles and Highland Avenues, and a latest of an alley, we have a real home, built by men who have made building a life work, and have crowned all past endeavors with this masterpiece. House built along lines of old English country home, of buff brick with red tile roof, grantie steps and trimmings on front porch, which has terazon floor. Hardwood floors, beautiful fixtures, handsome mantlels, bath rooms equipped with shower, and have hectagon tile floors. Large and beautiful gratures, sleeping porch. Entire house screened with best grade copper screens. Lot commandingly situated, so as to overlook beautiful Atkins Park. This is an ideal home, and we say without fear of contradiction that there is no more select house, in all its appointments, in Atlanta. Garage on rear of lot. Loan on this property of $5,000, due in five years, at 6 per cent. You will be surprised at the low figures we can quote. Deferred payments at 6 per cent. It will afford us pleasure to show this home. Can we do so?

Monday---a Display of New Wooltex Suits

In which you can see the most advanced style ideas in fabrics, colorings and embellishments.

There is a great range of choice of materials, many of the smartest styles being made up of smooth finished cloths, while others of equal style value have been developed from rough fabrics.

The materials include eponges, zibelines, diagonals, cloths, matelasse, poplins, whipcords, Bedford cords.

cords.

Great variety in color effects marks the season's display, and one is not confined to the dull and somber hues usually found in tailored suits. There are rich, beautiful mahogany, plum, wistaria, bronze green, taupe, russet, blues and leather.

Bright colors appear on some as trimming on collar and cuffs.

Coats are Quite Long in Back
Cutaway style—long in the back and quite short in front, and the sharp slope gives a most graceful and becoming line to almost any figure.
There is a pronounced tendency toward more freedom in the lines of suits. Coat sleeve are larger, the skirts somewhat fuller than in recent years.

Notice, too, the skirts have the new knee drapery gathered into narrow plaits at each side of the skirt, giving the correct peg-top effect.

These new style notes are splendidly expressed in the showing of

"Know-How-Itiveness

Stick-to-it-Iveness"

These two words embrace the motto of the most successful manufacturing drug man in the country.

He is one of the largest advertisers in ne daily newspapers in the United States.

He began using them after a careful study of the best means of reaching the consumer and interesting the retailer. He knew how.

And he stuck to it.

He has got rich in a few years, and he has the most loyal following of retailers of any manufacturer in the world.

The retailers swear by him, because he has made money for them—and taught them how to sell goods.

That manufacturer and his retailers all over the continent are planning one of the greatest co-operative advertising campaigns ever undertaken.

And newspapers like THE JOURNAL will be the medium used in that campaign.

A Distinctive College for Women Which Offers Unex-celled Instruction in Literary Studies, Art, Music, Oratory and Domestic Science.

BRENAU is located conveniently near to Atlanta, Ga., which gives the college the advantages of a large city, while at the same time it enjoys the splendid climate and delightful so cial spirit of the smaller town in which it is situ-

GAINESVILLE is notable for its healthfulness, cleanness and crispness of its atmosphere being due to its nearness to the Blue Ridge mountains.

BEAUTIFUL furnishings and complete equipment make the college buildings homelike and comfortable; and the girls receive every attention while away from home.

THE table fare is wholesome and palatable. Brenau's source of supply is mainly its own farm and dairy, which insures pure milk and nourishing food.

THESE facts are important, for the girl's health and happiness must be considered as well as her intellectual advancement. Brenau takes care of all three.

Because The 400 is the best all wire spring made, and supplies ease and elasticity that is restful and refreshing to the sleeper who would be uncomfortable on the same bed if it was not equipped with The 400 Spring.

The 400 is made of the very best grade Premier wire. contains 88 oil tempered coils securely fastened by stiff cross wires and rigid frame wires so that the surface is smooth and even. The height of the coils are sufficient to support the heaviest person in perfect comfort, while the wire is at the same time gently elastic to the weight of a child.

The 400 is hand made by skilled workmen of long experience. There are no rough or uneven ends to tear mat-tress tick. The spring is heavily coated with durable black enamel which makes it noiseless, rustless and germ proof.

We sell The 400 under a five-year guarantee. Ask your dealer. He should be able to supply you. If not write us.

This "On-Air Cure" In No-Rim-Cut Tires Costs Us $1.500 Daily

No Other Maker Employs It

Done to Save Blow-Outs

Here is another reason why Goodyear tires hold the leading place in Tiredom. Another big and exclusive economy. No-Rim-Cut tires are falan-vulcanized on air-bags, shaped like inner tubes. All other tires are vulcanized on incores alone. We cure the tires on elastic air, because they are used on air. Thus the rubber and fabric adjust themselves to actual road constituons. Every part of the fabric bears its official constituence of the fabric bears its cutting impossible. The makes rim-cutting impossible. The related with bounds, which make feasible, are controlled by secrecy. No distinct the fabric bears its cutting involves a tremendous compression. When this is done on an iron core, the fabric often buckles, This wrinkled fabric escapes its share of the strain, and that leads to countless blow-outs.

We add to our cost $1,500 daily to save less blow-outs.

We add to our cost $1,500 daily to save those blow-outs by this "On-Air Cure."

And no other maker does that.

Our Treads Alone Are Rubber-Riveted

In the usual tire, another big item in tire upkeep is due to loos-ened treads. This occurs near the quarter-inch holes. The tread rubber is forced down through the se holes. Thus hundreds of large rubber rivets are made to prevent tread separation. Then the whole tire is vulcanized

End Rim-Cutting
Then we control the No-Rim-Cut tire, which makes rim-cutting impossible.
The braided wire bands, which make this feasible, are controlled by secrecy. No one else can make them.
With clincher tires—the hooked-base tires—rim-cutting ruins almost one tire in three. This is shown by statistics lately gathered by certified public accountants.
No-Rim-Cut tires end this waste entirely.
That we guarantee.

No Extra Price
We offer you tires that can't rim-cut—

No-Rim-Cut tires, with these costly features, used to cost onefifth more than clinchers. We brought the cost down by our multiplied output. Now no standard tire of any type costs less than NoRim-Cut tires. Some lesser tires cost more.
All these economies,

All these economies, which we alone employ, add not one renny to the price to you. That's why Goodyear tires outsell any other tire. Our dealers are every-

The Administration's Triumph In the Banking and Currency Bill.

In the Banking and Currency Bill.

The administration's banking and currency bill has weathered its roughest gale and will now move ampletously forward to enactment. For weeks past there have been illadvised though well-intentioned efforts on the part of a few House Democrats to burden this measure with amendments which, however commendable within themselves they might be, are not essential to the larger principles at stake, but would merely confuse the issue and delay, if not sefext, a sorely needed reform. These untimely proposals were rejected by the banking and currency committee but they were none the less vigorously revived in the westons of the Democratic caucus where, for a while, they threatened to split the parties well-ordered ranks. But on last Friday there came a decisive test from which the administration forces emerged stronger than ever and which, it would seem, virtually assures the passage of the banking and currency bill before the present session of Congress adjourns.

of Congress adjourns.

By a vote of one hundred and thirty-two to sixty the caucus decided that an amendment proposing to place in the currency bill a ban upon interlocking directorates should not be included in this meas place in the currency bill a ban upon interiods-ing directorates should not be included in this measure but should be referred to the judiciary committee as a basic for futur. Jedislation in regard to trusts. The question did not concern the rightness or vision of prohibiting interiocising directorates, which are generally conceded to be a blight upon normal and wholeonem vanisness competition; it concerned the advisability of encumbering currency and banking reform with an issue apart from the main purpose in view. It was a test to Democracy's clear-beadedness and workmanship, a test of whether the majority in the House would continue to do the right thing at the right time, all hands working together, or would full into jarring groups like the vain builders of habel.

The President I as stood armily by the House leaders in insisting that the banking and currency believed the control of the c dent in insisting that none of the vital principles of the bill be comprotaised. Mr. Bryan in his admirable and effective letter to Chairman Glass stated the case convincingly when he said:

the bill be comproacised. Mr. Bryan in his admirable and effective letter to Chairman Glass stated the case convincingly when he said:

"In altermying to secure remedial togistation care must be taken not to overload a good measure with amendments, however produced a good measure with amendments, however produced the merchandist. The President and Secretary Mcdalon, in conjunction with however calculate the merchandist. The President and Secretary Mcdalon, in conjunction with the chairman of the currency committee of the House and Secretary Mcdalon, in conjunction with the chairman for the currency committee of the House and Secretary Mcdalon, in conjunction with the chairman for the currency committee of the House and Secretary Mcdalon, in conjunction with the chairman of the currency committee of the House and Secretary Mcdalon, in conjunction with the chairs are prepared differ extensive investigation and comparison of views. It is embodies with the details or his minute of the minute of the with the details are unimportant but whatever mistakes may be made in details on he corrected easily and soon. A strong step in the matter of pranciple would be more difficult to retract. I take it for granted that no one who really is in favor of the bill will permit a difference of opinion on a matter of detail to jopardise the bill." That is the pith of the entire banking and currency Issue. The administration bill was not presented as ideal it, all particulars but it embodied three great provisions for advaute reform—public control instead of private control of the country's monetary system, a currency that will be elastic more and the proposed and the product of private control of the country's monetary system, a currency that will be elastic formation to the needs of sound credit instead of rigid and unresponsive as now and, finally, due of rigid and unresponsive as now and, finally, due of rigid and unresponsive as now and, finally, due of rigid and unresponsive as now and, finally, due of rigid and unresponsive a position in the House. The bill will now be spratified by the caucus and that means its p myany and the votes to put through the ling and currency bill.

The enactment of a thoroughgoing tariff no ure alone would be a monumental achievement the Wilson administration but when to this is an equally important currency measure, both with the same seasion of Congress, the record becturing marvelous.

Huerta will also find that the soldier, like every body else, doesn't like to miss a pay day.

Dispatches continue to indicate that the tariff bill will be passed; that the currency measure will meet a similar experience; that Japan is mollified and that Huerta is about to resign; and yet there are some who complain because Wilson uses good grammer and Bryan drinks grape juice.

The President's Mexican Policy.

The President's Mexican Policy.

If Huerta wer really thought, as he said he did, that President Wilmor's Mexican policy was "partisant" and not approved by public sentiment in the United States, he is now convinced of his serious misapprehension. The attitude of Congress, regardless of party alignment, and of representative mewspapers the country over clearly shows that the American people are of one mind in indorsing the President's course, not only in his refusal to recognize the lawbess Hugtra regime, but also in his partial to recognize the lawbess Hugtra regime, but also in his partial to the lawbess Hugtra regime, but also in his partial of the lawbess Hugtra regime, but also in his partial to the lawbess Hugtra regime, but also in his partial to the lawbess Hugtra regime, but also in separation, and red and really government in the neighboring republic.

If the would-be dictator of Mexice expected any sympathy or countenance from Americans who differ with the administration on political and domestic issues, his hopes were vain. The Mexican situation has been treated at Washington as entirely non-political and non-partisan. Mr. Wilson has taken all the members of the Senate foreign relations committee, Republicans as well as Democrats, into his counsel. His policy has been neither Democratic nor Republican in any narrow sense but distinctly and wholly American; and he deal. with this grave matter from first to last not as a party issue but as a national issue, and wholly Americas; and he deal, with this grave matter from first to last not as a party issue but as a national issue, "The country knows," as the New York Herald declares, "that the President tell not under any pretext plungs us into user, if user can be honorably avoided. It knows, too, that President Wilson would not stillingly pursue any policy that would result in a prolongation of the internal strip from which the Mexican people are so grievously suffering. It understands, in a word, that President Wilson's policy is a policy to the president wilson's policy is a policy to the president form of the internal strip from which the Mexican people heat toward flading some means to promote the restoration of order and trangulitity in Mexico." That this prudent and far-sighted course is about to bring desired results, there is abundant evidence to believe. It has not only arrayed the public sentiment and public judgment of this country squarely behind the administration but it has also won the hearty approval and support of foreign Powers. So there were not a support of the word of the president of the bending Government. of the Old World that they are bringing to bear all the diplomate pressure at their command to force Huerts into retirement. Thus deprived of all moral sympathy and of every means to replenish his exhausted treasury, this usurper who shall administer Mexican "fairs until a constitutional election can be held, or clee be crushed beneath the weight of his own crumbling regime. When Huerta is eliminated, as he seon will be, the Mexican problem, so far as the United States is concerned, will see practically solved. And it will be solved without forceful intervention, without the war that woult have burdened our country with incalculable lills; it will, be solved peacefully and howards, without the resident of the president Wilson will deserve chief crudit.

They will soon be melancholy days indeed at Pledanot Park.

They will soon be melancholy days indeed at Piedmont Park.

The Vital Need of The United States Army

The United States Army
"The vital need of the army of the United States is to have the people of the United States know more about it and care more about At."
Thus does Secretary of War Garrison, in a recent number of Harper's Weelty, sum up an issue in which thoughtful citizens are now particularly interested.
His point is well taken. Public ignorance or indifference is responsible for most public life. The Impeliing and guiding power behind Congress rises directly from the rank and file of the people; indeed, popular interest and support are essential to every sphere of government, if a nation's life is to be wholesome, efficient and secure. Congressmen cannot be expected to recognize the needs of the army unless their constituents recognize those needs; and, so, it is important above all-cles, as Secretary Garrison declares, that the average American citizen should know more about the army and care more about it.

His counsed in this regard is all the more trustworthy for the reason that he is pre-eminently a man of peace, with no tings of the alarmist and no sympathy for the professional warsecker. "Millitarism," says he, "with all its great financial and other burdens, is the last thing that I should advocate or that anyone connected with the war establishment advocates," Yet, he is none the less mindful of the wisdom, the absolute necessity of maintaining an army sufficient to uphold our national policies and provest or maintain linerests in any contingency that might dom, the absolute necessity of maintaining an army smificient to uphold our national policies and protect our national interests in any contineency that might strice; for, as he well any. "It takes two parties to keep the peace and, at best, any nation can control only one party, namely, itself."

The Secretary of War does not advocate a large standing army but he urges carnestly and soberly the maintenance of an efficient army and the development of a reserve force which could be drawn upon in the hour of need. Only thus, he emphasies, can our present small army "effectively act as a school or military instruction for the ration and as a nucleus for the expansion that will be necessary in time of war." The fact is cur one practical assurance against the cost and the burdens of a great army are the proper support and perfection of the present army, together with an adequate reserve force and an adoquate navy. The country must either be intelligently prepared for emergencies that may arise or pay the staggering bils which lack of timely preparation always entails.

The remotences of the United States from the two staggering bills which lack of timely preparation al-ways entails.

The remoteness of the United States from the tu-multions Old World, where clashing interests and ambilitions are a continual menace to peace, have preved distinctly a blessing. We have no neighbor whose power or polley requires us to maintain a big army in tranquil times. But, as Secretary Carrison remarks, the expanse of sea that separates us from other great nations are no longer the safeguard they once were.

news great nations are no longer the safeguard they note were.

"The occans furnish flac highways for the transportation of troops and supplies, and improvements in shipping have made it easily possible to utilize these highways over long distances. The distances, it is true, are still a protection; but it would be foolish to close our eyes the fact that of various points of the public domain of the United states we are still unlearned to adiack. The great benefit accruing to us by reason of our distance from other unitons is that it freez us from the necessity of maintaining an army upon vary fooling. We are free to count upon the time increasary to pass from a peace to a variety previous preparation for such passage has not been provided."

Americans are peace loving peoply; they have in Americans are per Americans are peace-loving peophy; they have no territorial greed to sate, no dollar diplomacy to ply, no entangling alliances to support; but they have certain national, deals that must be upheld and me-tional interests that must be conserved. If their nation would be permanently peaceful, it must be powerful, for, weakness in an open invitation to attack. Let the United States be so strong that it will not have to fight, and it will then not only be free from the menace of war but also mightily effective in its influence for peace.

have to fight, and it will then not only be free from the menace of war but also mightlity effective in its influence for peace.

This is a matter, as Secretary Garrison declares, that comes home to the business and bosom of all thinking citizens. The army should not be regarded simply as a machine maintained against remote or imaginary dangers, but as a branch of all the people's vital interests. Its value are in no wise limited to contingencies that may arise either in the near or the faraway future; on the contrary it is of imme-diate and continuous use. It was the army that solved the great problems in the building of the Panama canal and carried forward the vast engineering and civil and sanitary tasks involved. It is the army that comes to the people's aid in disasters of fire or flood or earthquake. It swerve in the field of sanitantian and medical progress is almost immeasurable. In deed, the army is fa great constructive as well as de-fensive force in our national life. Its claims should receive generous consideration both at the hands of Congress and the public. It is a part of the country's common interests of which the people "should know more and care more."

MR.DOOLEY

ON MAKING A WILL BY FINLEY PETER DUNNE

"Me sicond son, Ephraim, I have provided for already by lettin' h m git him elf a good job."

NIVER made a will," said Mr. Dooley.

"I didn't want to give mesilf a headache thinkin' iv somethin' to put into it. A will iv mine wide be a puny little thing annyhow, an' if anny wan thried to file it he'd be lible to be locked up for contimpt in the Yorke coort. Besides, I wuddint like to cause anny onseemly wrangles an' maybe lawsuits among me heirs about who wid pay fr th' expriss wagon to carry th' estate to th' city dump. An' annyhow I've always thought that if there's goin' to be ayether cheers or tears at me obsekees they shud spring fr'm th' heart, not fr'm mercinary metics. If anny fellow feels like cillybrait' me departure let him do it out iv his own pocket. Thin I'll know he's sincer. Twod grieve meif some wan broke into song at th' news if a sthranger was to ask, 'Is that wan iv his inmimise's' an' th' reply wud be, 'No, it's wan iv his heirs."

"So fr one reason or another I've niver made insight was to ask, 'Is that wan iv his innimies?' an' th' reply wud be, 'No, it's wan iv his herirs.'

"So f' one reason or another I've niver made a will, but I'll not deny it must be considirable spoort f'ç thim that has th' names an' the' imagination to injuje it. I'm putty sure I'd bust into tears whin th' lawyers wrote down th' directions f'r somebody else to set in me rockin' châr, an' I can't think iv amything that wud brighten th' wurruld with me out iv it. But that wud be because I wuddint go at it in th' right way. To be injyeable, a will must be at wan an' the same time a practical joke on th' heirs an' an advertisemint iv h' wan that made it. Mamy a man niver has his own way till he has it through his will. Afther he's dead an' gone he shoves his hat on th' back iv his head an' stalks üp an' down through th' house saying. I'll show ye whu's th' boss here. F'r th' fust time in me life, now that I'm dead, I'm goin' to be obeyed.' No wondher that manny meck millyonaires comfort their declinin' years with this amusemint; it is, as Hogan says, th' last infirm'ry f'r their noble mids; it's a chance f'r thim to tache th' fam'ly their proper place, an' blow their own horns without havin' anny wan intherrupt th' solo.

him in th' rough battle iv life at home or among his neighbors he mag've seemed hard, but we who knew him in th' quiet seclusyon iv th' bank, among his recreations, found another Dochney, a cherful soul' who always had a smile on his face, wrote little verses to th' promissory notes, an' cuddent keep his feet still whin th' goold

The general tendency among beginners is to overdo the feeding, both in quality and variation. With a few exceptions, once a day is often enough to feed the bunnies. The corect time for feeding is in the evening from 6 o'clock until 10 o'clock. By all means, however, make it the same time every day.

THE QUESTION OF FOOD.

Natural food and the best of natural food is the best that a rabbit

John D. at 72 Years

Uncle John D., chipper as a boy on his Forest Hill links at 75, has a eulogist announces, mace, for research hospitals, education and "the general good of mankind," donations which now approximate $145,000, 000.

It's nice of him, spite of an its, folks asy—don't you honestly that, so? For he might you know has sfuck it in some secret hole in the ground, where it wouldn't have done him, so or suphody a hit of good, or, were he the hold, scheming, willfully bad man that some foat think he is, he might have spent a sending poisonned candy through the mails or abducting little children.

If one man is to have $145,000, 000, with something over for his rainy day, we guess he coundn't do much better with it than Uncle John has done.

If you think he could, we wish you'd write and tell us how. For a lot of fellows have superfluous for tunes which are beginning to be uncomfortable and it might do them good to let them know improved ways of getting rid of the burden.

Besides, feeling sore at John Disselbert and the season is as he is because he is built that way. It's our full quite as med as his—we think rather more tan ind—that he has been permitted is has until the wad got foo hig has until the wad got foo hig for him to carry and he had to set her some of it back among the poor devils whose industry, pictones and docility made its conce tion by him possible.

Now Will Zimmer did not "keep a bee," so he carefully explained to the young lady that the barrel was used for tar and not honey, and that if bees were ever "kept" they were remerally nural in number.

Immer if he kept a rabbit, very probably he would have told her the isame thing; yet such a question would not have been ignorant in the least. Rabbits and even a rabbit are "kept," and that with such are and pains as generally marks the preservation of some rare and
